SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) Number 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 2005

8:30 A.M.

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney -and-
GERALD McC. FRANKLIN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
1112 Santa Barbara Street Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101

-and-

OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

Santa Maria, California
Monday, February 28, 2005
8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.
THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.
COUNSEL AT COUNSEL TABLE: (In unison) Good morning, Your Honor. Good morning.
THE COURT: There's two things we're going to do before we commence with the opening statement.

One of them is that I'm going to read the Indictment.

Remember, during jury selection, I generally told you what the Indictment contained, and it does contain that. But I want to read it specifically to you because it's a little more detailed than the general description.

The second thing I'm going to do is to give you some pre-trial jury instruction. And they're very brief, but they're meant to help you as you start to hear the evidence, and as you hear the opening statements of counsel.

What I'm going to do is, again, come down to where you are to talk to you. I just -- this distance between us is disturbing to me.

This is the Indictment:

The People of the State of California versus Michael Joe Jackson, Defendant.

Count 1: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 182, subdivision (a), sub (1), conspiracy, in that on or about and between February 1, 2003, and March 31, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did conspire with Ronald Konitzer, Dieter Weizner, and Frank Cascio, aka Frank Tyson, Vinnie Amen, Frederic Marc Schaffel, and other uncharged co-conspirators and co-conspirators whose identities are unknown, to commit the crime of a violation of Penal Code Section 278, child abduction, a felony; a violation of Penal Code Section 236, false imprisonment, a felony; a violation of Penal Code Section 518, extortion, a felony; and that pursuant to and for the purpose of carrying out the objectives and purposes of the aforesaid conspiracy, to wit: unlawfully controlling, withholding, isolating, concealing, enticing and threatening John Doe, James Doe, Judy Doe, all minor children, and Jane Doe, an adult, did commit one or more of the following overt acts in the State of California, at least one of them in the County of Santa Barbara:

Over Act Number 1: On or about February 4th, 2003, Michael Joe Jackson told Jane Doe that the lives of her children, John, James and Judy Doe, were in danger due to the recent broadcast on British television of the documentary "Living with Michael Jackson," in which John Doe appears with Michael Joe Jackson. And Michael -- excuse me, appears with Michael Joe Jackson, period. Michael Joe Jackson did tell Jane Doe that she and her three children would be flown to Miami to participate in a press conference, which press conference never took place.

Overt Act Number 2: On and between February 4th, 2003, and February 5th, 2003, the documentary "Living with Michael Jackson," in which John Doe appears, was broadcast in the United States. Michael Joe Jackson did personally prevent the Doe family from viewing the program, while at the Turnberry Resort Hotel in Miami, Florida.

Overt Act Number 3: On and between February 7th, 2003, and February 8th, 2003, Michael Joe Jackson did return the Doe family to Santa Barbara in a private jet. On the flight, Michael Joe Jackson did sit with John Doe and did give him an alcoholic beverage, concealed in a soft drink can. Michael Joe Jackson did then present John Doe with a wristwatch. Michael Joe Jackson did tell John Doe that the watch was worth $75,000. Michael Joe Jackson did tell John Doe not to tell anyone about them drinking alcoholic beverages together.

Overt Act Number 4: On or about February

8th, 2003, Michael Joe Jackson brought the Doe family to Jackson's Neverland Ranch, where John, James, Judy and Jane Doe remained for approximately five days.

Overt Act Number 5: On and between February 6th, 2003, and February 12th, 2003, in both Miami, Florida, and at Neverland Ranch in Santa Barbara County, Ronald Konitzer and Dieter Weizner did tell Jane Doe that there were death threats made against her and her children by unknown individuals. They did further tell Jane Doe that the only way to assure the safety of her family was for the Does to participate in the making of a "rebuttal" video favorable to Michael Joe Jackson.

Overt Act Number 6: On and between February 12th, 2003, and February 15th, 2003, after the Doe family had departed Neverland Ranch in the night, Frank Cascio, aka Frank Tyson, did telephone Jane Doe and did urge her to return with her children to Neverland Ranch and did say, quote, "I know Michael would love for you to come back to the ranch, for the safety of all concerned," unquote; and, quote, "Now is not the time to be out there alone," unquote; and, quote, "Never turn your back on Michael," unquote; and, "Michael wants to see you and the family," that's in quotes; and, quote, "You need to go back up to the ranch and see Michael, because he's very concerned," unquote; and, quote, "Even staying another night alone is not safe," unquote.

Frank Cascio, aka Frank Tyson, did tell Jane Doe that, "We would love for you to go on tape and just say something beautiful about Michael." Frank Cascio did assure Jane Doe and John Doe that Ronald Konitzer and Dieter Weizner would no longer be present at the ranch if they returned. He did state, "They are not there; I know that for a fact."

Overt Act Number 7: On and between February 2003 and March 2003, at Neverland Ranch, Frank Cascio, aka Frank Tyson, did threaten James Doe that Cascio did have ways to make James Doe's parents disappear. Frank Cascio did tell John Doe, "I could have your mother killed."

Overt Act Number 8: On or about February 14th, 2003, and February 15th, 2003, Michael Joe Jackson's personal chauffeur, Gary Hearne, did drive to Jane Doe's Los Angeles residence and did transport her and her children back to the Neverland Ranch in Santa Barbara County.

Overt Act Number 9: On and between February 14th, 2003, and February 15th, 2003, upon the Doe Family's return to Neverland Ranch, Ronald Konitzer and Dieter Weizner were, in fact, present; whereupon Jane Doe asked to leave with her children. Ronald Konitzer and Dieter Weizner did tell Jane Doe that she was free to depart, however her children must remain at the ranch.

Overt Act Number 10: During the month of February 2003, in Santa Barbara County, California, Michael Joe Jackson's personal security staff was directed in writing not to allow John Doe to leave Neverland Ranch.

Over Act Number 11: During the month of February 2003, Frederic Marc Schaffel, Christian Robinson and an unknown attorney did prepare a script of questions to be asked of the Doe family during the filming of the "rebuttal" video by Hamid Moslehi, Michael Joe Jackson's personal videographer.

Overt Act Number 12: On or about February 19th, 2003, the Doe children were transported by Hamid Moslehi from Neverland Ranch to Moslehi's home in the San Fernando Valley, and on the same date, Vinnie Amen did transport Jane Doe to Hamid Moslehi's filming of the "rebuttal" video.

Overt Act Number 13: On or about February 19th, 2003, in Los Angeles County between 11:00 p.m. and 1:00 a.m., the employees and associates of Michael Joe Jackson did tape the "rebuttal" video, an interview of the Doe family, in the presence of Vinnie Amen and Bradley Miller, a licensed private investigator. During the taping, previously scripted questions were asked of the Doe family.

Overt Act Number 14: On or about February 20th, 2003, Vinnie Amen did transport Jane Doe to Norwalk, in Los Angeles County, to obtain birth certificates of the Doe family for the purpose of obtaining passports and visas to travel to Brazil.

Overt Act Number 15: On and between February 25th, 2003, and March 2nd, 2003, Vinnie Amen did take the Doe family from Neverland Ranch to the Country Inn and Suites in Calabasas, Los Angeles County. Vinnie Amen did transport Jane Doe to public offices in Los Angeles County where passports showing the destinations of Italy and France and visas for entrance to Brazil for the Doe family were obtained. Frederic Marc Schaffel, business partner of Michael Joe Jackson and president of Neverland Valley Entertainment, did pay expenses in connection with this activity.

Overt Act Number 16: On or about February 25th, 2003, Frederic Marc Schaffel did make airline reservations for the Doe family to travel to Brazil on March 3rd, 2003.

Overt Act Number 17: On or about February 26th, 2003, Frederic Marc Schaffel and Frank Cascio, aka Frank Tyson -- excuse me.

On or about February 26th, 2003, Frederic Marc Schaffel paid Frank Cascio, aka Frank Tyson, $1,000 in connection with "vacation" expenses of the Doe family.

Overt Act Number 18: On or about February 23rd (sic), 2003, Frederic Marc Schaffel did pay Vinnie Amen the sum of $500 cash for costs related to the Brazilian visas of the Doe family.

Overt Act Number 19: On and between February 2003 and March 2003, at the Neverland Ranch, Michael Joe Jackson did have John Doe sleep in his bedroom and in his bed.

Overt Act Number 20: On and between February 2003 and March 2003, at Neverland Ranch, Michael Joe Jackson did house Jane and Judy Doe in a guest cottage on Neverland Ranch where Jane and Judy Doe slept.

Overt Act Number 21: On and between February 2003 and March 2003, at Neverland Ranch, Michael Joe Jackson did show sexually explicit materials to John and James Doe.

Overt Act Number 22: On and between February 2003 and March 2003, at Neverland Ranch, Michael Joe Jackson did drink alcoholic beverages in the presence of John and James Doe and provided alcoholic beverages to them.

Overt Act Number 23: On and between February 2003 and March 2003, Michael Joe Jackson did monitor and maintain control over the activities at Neverland Ranch by means of multiple interior door locks, proximity sensor alarm devices, and a keypad combination lock, as well as video and telephone surveillance equipment. Michael Joe Jackson did personally monitor telephone conversations of Jane Doe, without her knowledge or permission.

Overt Act Number 24: On or about March 1st, 2003, Vinnie Amen did pay the rent on the residence of the Doe family in Los Angeles County and moved their belongings into storage.

Overt Act Number 25: On or about March 6th, 2003, Vinnie Amen did go to John Burroughs Middle School in Los Angeles County and he did withdraw John and James Doe from their enrollment there, telling school authorities that the children were relocating to Phoenix, Arizona.

Overt Act Number 26: On or about March 9th, 2003, Michael Joe Jackson was told by John Doe that John Doe had a medical appointment the following day, at which time he was to give his medical staff a 24-hour-long urine collection specimen for laboratory analysis.

Michael Joe Jackson, in Santa Barbara County, did tell John Doe to cancel the appointment, because the sample would reveal that John Doe had been consuming alcoholic beverages while staying at the Neverland Ranch.

On or about March 10th, 2003, in Los Angeles County, after Jane Doe refused to cancel the medical appointment and while on the way to the medical appointment, Vinnie Amen did destroy most of John Doe's collected urine specimen, intended for laboratory analysis in connection with John Doe's follow-up treatment for the disease of cancer.

Overt Act Number 27: On and between February 2003 and March 2003, in Los Angeles County, and as revealed by a surveillance tape located on November 18th, 2003, in the office of Private Investigator Bradley Miller, an unknown co-conspirator conducted video surveillance of John Doe and various members of John Doe's family, including his grandmother and grandfather, his mother, his mother's boyfriend, his brother and his sister, at and near their respective residences and elsewhere.

Overt Act Number 28: On or about March 31, 2003, Michael Joe Jackson did direct Frederic Marc Schaffel to pay Frank Cascio, aka Frank Tyson, the sum of one million dollars, from "Petty Cash" of Neverland Valley Entertainment on behalf of Michael Joe Jackson.

Those are the end of the overt acts. We're now going to Count 2.

Count 2: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 288, subdivision (a), lewd act upon a child, in that on or about and between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did willfully, unlawfully, and lewdly commit a lewd and lascivious act upon and with the body and certain parts and members thereof of John Doe, a child under the age of 14 -- under the age of 14 years, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, and gratifying the lust, passions, and sexual desires of said defendant and the said child.

The further allegation that in the circumstances of the crime alleged in this count the crime constituted substantial sexual conduct with a child under the age of 14 years, within the meaning of Penal Code Section 1203.066, subdivision (a)(8).

Count 3: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 288, subdivision (a), lewd act upon a child, in that on or about and between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did willfully, unlawfully and lewdly commit a lewd and lascivious act upon and with the body and certain parts and members thereof of John Doe, a child under the age of 14 years, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, and gratifying the lust, passions and sexual desires of said defendant and said child.

The further allegation that in the circumstances of the crime alleged in this count the crime constituted substantial sexual conduct with a child under the age of 14 years, within the meaning of Penal Code Section 1203.066, subdivision (a)(8).

Count 4: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 288, subdivision (a), lewd act upon a child, in that on or about and between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did willfully, unlawfully and lewdly commit a lewd and lascivious act upon and with the body and certain parts and members thereof of John Doe, a child under the age of 14 years, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, and gratifying the lusts, passions, and sexual desires of said defendant and the said child.

The further allegation that in the circumstances of this count, the crime constituted substantial sexual conduct with a child under the age of 14 years, within the meaning of Penal Code Section 1203.066 (a)(8).

Count 5: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 288, subdivision (a), lewd act upon a child, in that on or about and between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did willfully and unlawfully and lewdly commit a lewd and lascivious act upon and with the body and certain parts and members thereof of John Doe, a child under the age of 14 years, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, and gratifying the lusts, passions, and sexual desires of said defendant and said child.

The further allegation that in the circumstances of the crime alleged in this count the crime constituted substantial sexual conduct with a child under the age of 14 years, within the meaning of Penal Code Section 1203.066, subdivision (a)(8).

Count 6: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Sections 664 and 288, subdivision (a), attempt to commit a lewd act upon a child, in that on or about and between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did willfully, unlawfully and lewdly attempt to have John Doe, a child under 14 years of age, commit a lewd and lascivious act upon and with Defendant Michael Joe Jackson's body and certain parts and members thereof, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, and gratifying the lust, passions, and sexual desires of the said defendant and the said child.

Count 7: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 222, administering an intoxicating agent to assist in the commission of a felony, in that on or about and between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did unlawfully administer to John Doe an intoxicating agent, to wit: alcohol, with the intent thereby to enable and assist him to commit a felony, to wit: child molestation, in violation of Penal Code Section 288, subdivision (a).

Count 8: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 222, administering an intoxicating agent to assist in the commission of a felony, in that on or about and between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did unlawfully administer to John Doe an intoxicating agent, to wit: alcohol, and with the intent thereby to enable and assist himself to commit a felony, to wit: child molestation, in violation of Penal Code Section 288, subdivision (a).

Count 9: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a felony, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 222, administering an intoxicating agent to assist in the commission of a felony, in that on or about and between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did unlawfully administer to John Doe an intoxicating agent, to wit: alcohol, with the intent thereby to enable and assist him to commit a felony, to wit: child molestation, in violation of Penal Code Section 288, subdivision (a).

Count 10: The Grand Jury of the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, by this Indictment, hereby accuses Michael Joe Jackson of a crime, to wit: a violation of Penal Code Section 222, administering an intoxicating agent to assist in the commission of a felony, in that on or about between February 20th, 2003, and March 12th, 2003, in the County of Santa Barbara, State of California, he did unlawfully administer to John Doe an intoxicating agent, to wit: alcohol, with the intent thereby to enable and assist him to commit a felony, to wit: child molestation, in violation of Penal Code Section 288, subdivision (a).

It is further alleged that Counts 2 through

5 are serious felonies within the meaning of Penal Code Section 1192.7, subdivision (c)(6).

As to Counts 2 through 5, it is further alleged, pursuant to Penal Code Section 1203.066, subdivision (a)(8), that the victim in the above offense, John Doe, was under the age of 14 years and Michael Joe Jackson had substantial sexual conduct with John Doe.

Pursuant to the provisions of Penal Code Section 293.5 the use of "John Doe" as it appears in the Indictment is for the purpose of protecting the privacy of the alleged victim.

This Indictment is signed by Ronald Zonen on behalf of Tom Sneddon, signed by Gordon Auchincloss on behalf of Thomas Sneddon, and is declared to be a true bill by the foreperson of the grand jury, who signed it on April 21st, 2004.

Up until this time the Indictment in this case has been sealed. It is hereby unsealed.

I'm now going to read to you a short two- or three-page statement of some jury instructions that I hope will help you as you begin to listen to the case. But I need some water.

And I want to remind you, after reading that entire Indictment, that Mr. Jackson has pled not guilty to all those charges. He's put every allegation in those charges at issue by pleading not guilty. And the Indictment is not evidence of his guilt.

Members and alternate members of the jury:

You have been selected and sworn as jurors and alternate jurors. I shall now instruct you as to your basic functions, duties and conduct.

At the conclusion of the case, I will give you further instructions on the law. All of the Court's instructions, whether given before, during or after the taking of testimony, are of equal importance.

You must base the decisions you make on the facts and the law. First, you must determine the facts from the evidence received in the trial and not from any other source.

A fact is something proved by the evidence or by a stipulation. A stipulation is an agreement between attorneys regarding the facts.

Second, you must apply the law that I state to you to the facts as you determine them, and in this way arrive at your verdict and any finding you are instructed to include in your verdict.

You must accept and follow the law as I state it to you, regardless of whether you agree with it or not. If anything concerning the law said by the attorneys in their arguments or at any other time during the trial conflicts with my instructions on the law, you must follow my instructions.

You must not be influenced by pity for the defendant, or by prejudice against him. You must not be biased against the defendant because he has been arrested for this offense, charged with a crime, or brought to trial. None of these circumstances is evidence of guilt. And you must not infer or assume any or all of them -- assume from any or all of them that he is more likely to be guilty than not guilty.

You must not be influenced by mere sentiment, conjecture, sympathy, passion, prejudice, public opinion, or public feeling. Both the People and the defendant have a right to expect that you will conscientiously consider and weigh the evidence, apply the law, and reach a just verdict, regardless of the consequences.

Statements made by the attorneys during the trial are not evidence. However, if the attorneys stipulate or agree to a fact, you must regard that fact as proven.

If an objection is sustained to a question, do not guess what the answer might have been. Do not speculate as to the reason for the objection.

Do not assume to be true any insinuation suggested by a question asked a witness. A question is not evidence and may be considered only as it helps you to understand the answer. Do not consider for any purpose any offer of evidence that is rejected or any evidence that is stricken by the Court. Treat it as though you had never heard it.

You must not independently investigate the facts or the law or consider or discuss facts as to which there is no evidence. This means, for example, that you must not, on your own, visit the scene, conduct experiments, or consult reference works or persons for additional information.

You must not converse among yourselves or with anyone else, including, but not limited to, spouses, spiritual leaders or advisors or therapists on any subject connected with the trial, except when all of the following conditions exist: A, the case has been submitted to you for your decision by the Court following arguments by counsel and jury instructions; B, you are discussing the case with a fellow juror; and, C, all 12 jurors and no other persons are present in the jury deliberating room.

You must not read or listen to any accounts or discussions of the case reported by the newspapers or other news media, including radio, television, the Internet, or any other source.

You will be given notebooks and pencils.

Leave them on your seat when you leave each day and at each recess. You will be able to take them into the jury room when you deliberate.

A word of caution: You may take notes.

However, you should not permit note-taking to distract you from the ongoing proceedings.

Remember, you are the judges of the believability of the witnesses.

Notes are only an aid to memory and should not take precedence over recollection. A juror who does not take notes should rely on his or her recollection of the evidence and not be influenced by the fact that other jurors do take notes. Notes are for the note-taker's own personal use in refreshing his or her recollection of the evidence.

Should a discrepancy exist between a juror's recollection of the evidence and a juror's notes, or between a juror's recollection and that of another, you have a right to, and may request, the court reporter read back the relevant testimony, which must prevail.

You will be permitted to separate at the evening recess. You must return following -- on the following days at such times as I instruct you.

During recess, you must not discuss with anyone, any subject connected with this trial.

As for the alternate jurors, you are bound by all these admonitions. You must not converse among yourselves or with anyone else on any subject connected with the trial or form or express any opinion on it until the case is submitted to you, which means until such time as you are substituted in for one of the 12 jurors and begin deliberating on the case.

This means that you must not decide how you would vote if you were deliberating with the other jurors, and that you must not form or express an opinion about the case unless and until you have been substituted in as a juror in the case.

You are not to visit or view the premises or place where the crime or crimes charged were allegedly committed or any other premises or place mentioned or involved in the case.

During the course of this trial, and before you begin your deliberations, you must keep an open mind on this case, and upon all of the issues that you will be asked to decide. In other words, you must not form or express any opinions on this case until the matter is finally submitted to you.

Before and within 90 days of your discharge as a juror in this matter, you must not request, accept, agree to accept, or discuss with any person receiving or accepting any payment or benefit in consideration for supplying any information concerning the trial.

You must promptly report to the Court any incident within your knowledge involving an attempt by any person either to improperly influence any member of this jury or to tell a juror his or her view of the evidence of the case.

At this time, the lawyers will be permitted to make an opening statement, if they choose to do so. An opening statement is not evidence. Because it is not evidence, do not take any notes during the opening statement.

Neither is it argument. Counsel are not permitted to argue the case at this point in the proceedings.

An opening statement is simply an outline by counsel of what he or she believes or expects the evidence will show in this trial. Its sole purpose is to assist you in understanding the case as it is presented to you.

Mr. Sneddon.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I understand there is a change in the way we're going to refer to the alleged victims in this case.

MR. SNEDDON: That's correct, Your Honor. And the change is that we are going to use the real names.

THE COURT: All right. Counsel agree.

MR. MESEREAU: Defense would agree to that, Your Honor.

THE COURT: And I understand the reason for this change in this case is that there is so much documentary, written evidence that has their names in it would be pretty much impossible to proceed without reaching this agreement.

MR. SNEDDON: That's correct, Your Honor. I discussed it with the family and explained to them the technical problems of trying to go through all the redaction process with every tape and video and everything else, and they understood. And they said that they were comfortable with it, the decision to change it back.

THE COURT: All right. I'll accept that agreement and request. And I will allow the names of the victims to be used in this case.

In doing so, I want to express to the members of the press who did not reveal the names of the victims in accordance with our law, how deeply appreciated that was by the Court.

And I want you to know that in other cases, it would remain very important to continue your policies that you expressed not revealing the victim's names in these type of cases.

Are you ready to proceed.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, there's one final thing that we discussed a long time ago, but I wanted to double-check with the Court. There is a motion to exclude witnesses; is that correct.

THE COURT: I don't remember. Yes, there was, during one of the hearings, a motion -- is there a motion to exclude witnesses during the trial.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, sir. I believe that was the request of both parties.

MR. MESEREAU: We would make a similar motion, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. The motion to exclude witnesses made by both parties is granted.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Does that require witnesses not to be present during your opening remarks or just during the testimony.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, I understand -- I'm sorry, Your Honor. My understanding would sort of defeat the proposition if they were allowed to remain in the courtroom during the opening statement, by either party.

THE COURT: All right. Then --

MR. SNEDDON: Other than the investigating officer, of course, who's been designated.

THE COURT: All right. Any witnesses that have been subpoenaed to testify in this case or who expect to testify, if you're in the courtroom at this time, you're required to leave the courtroom.

Seeing nobody leaving, you may proceed.

I am going to take breaks at the standard time, so -- just so you know.

MR. SNEDDON: Good morning.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.

MR. SNEDDON: On February the 3rd of 2003, Michael Jackson, the defendant in this case, world was rocked. And it didn't rock in a musical sense.

It rocked in a real life sense. And it was rocked by the fallout from the broadcast in the United Kingdom of the Martin Bashir video documentary, "Living with Michael Jackson."

And his life was rocked so badly that one of his long-time closest and most trusted associates, and co-conspirator in this case, Marc Schaffel described it as "a train wreck."

Now, I'm sure that some of you ladies and gentlemen are going to be a little surprised to learn, as the testimony and the evidence unfolds in this case, that actually for years prior to the Bashir video that the defendant in this case was heavily in debt. That his musical assets --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

MR. SNEDDON: -- and his real estate property --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, that's the motive for the --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, again, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The --

MR. MESEREAU: He's violating your order.

THE COURT: The final determination as to the financial evidence coming in has not been reached.

MR. SNEDDON: Very well, Your Honor.

Unfortunately, for Mr. Jackson, the effect of the Bashir documentary had just the opposite effect.

This case, in Count 1, is a case about conspiracy. It's about the train wreck situation caused by the Bashir documentary. It's about the world's reaction and how it created the motive for the once superstar's desperate attempt to salvage his once very powerful musical career.

This is also a case about Michael Jackson's exploitation of a 13-year-old boy and cancer survivor, Gavin Arvizo.

It's about how Jackson, after almost a year of having no contact with this young boy, reached out to the young boy and invited him to Neverland Ranch to participate in the Bashir documentary.

It's about how he never told this boy that the interview was anything other than an audition. That the boy nor any member of their family realized that the interview that occurred on the ranch that day was going to be broadcast internationally around the world and seen by millions and millions of people.

This case is about the defendant. It's about his manipulation of the young boy's adolescence through exposing him to strange sexual behavior and introducing him to sexually graphic adult magazines.

It's about how he traded on the boy's obvious and often expressed admiration for the defendant. And it's about how he exploited the knowledge of the fact that the child had no father in his life, and had had no father in his life for over a year, because of the separation and divorce of the parents, and the fact that there was a court restraining order prohibiting the father from seeing the children.

He exploited this paternal relationship and created another relationship with the child as a surrogate father, encouraging both the child, Gavin Arvizo, the mother, and other members of the family to refer to him as "Daddy" or "Michael Daddy."

You will soon see, as one of the first witnesses in this case, the Martin Bashir documentary. You will see Bashir's probing and incredulous questioning of the defendant.

And you will see the defendant's almost casual responses to his questions in trying to justify his admitted practice and long-standing custom and habit of sharing his bedroom, and his bed, with young boys.

You will soon hear the testimony from such witnesses as Ann Gabriel, Rudy Provencio, Ian Drew, and others close to the defendant in this case, that the Bashir documentary was deemed a disaster. And that the Arvizo family was a dangerous loose end. One that needed to be isolated, one that needed to be controlled, and one that needed to be convinced to participate in a pro Michael Jackson video that was planned to be aired later in mid-February.

As the trial unfolds, you will also learn that maintaining that isolation and maintaining that control became very problematic. And gaining the cooperation of the mother, Janet Arvizo, was very, very difficult. And you will learn the reasons why.

The evidence through the Arvizo family, and corroborated by tape-recordings and other witnesses, will show that when logic and reason appeals to trust, deceit, and lies and threats, failed.

That the defendant in this case and his co-conspirators were able to obtain the valuable interview that they needed from the Arvizo family through extortion. And it was done very simply.

As events turned out -- and I will explain to you in later detail during other parts of my opening statement here this morning -- that as a result of the things that occurred in this case, authorities from the school contacted the Department of Social Services in Los Angeles, and they contacted Mrs. Arvizo, and they wanted Mrs. Arvizo to produce the children for an interview on February the 20th in Los Angeles.

But Mrs. Arvizo had a problem. Because Mrs. Arvizo at that point in time was not on the ranch, and the children were. And she had refused to participate in the video that they desired on a number of occasions prior to this.

She placed a phone call to one of the co-conspirators in this case, Frank Tyson, who also goes by the name of Frank Cascio. And it was put to her quite simply: No children; no video. No children; no video.

She had no choice but to agree for herself and the children to participate in the video.

What followed was kind of a bizarre event in the sense that the children were taken from Neverland Ranch by Michael Jackson's personal videographer --

THE BAILIFF: Hit the switch.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, I know I've had some effects on people before, but I don't think I've ever had that one.

(Laughter.)

BAILIFF CORTEZ: Okay. Back on.

THE BAILIFF: Wait just one second.

MR. SNEDDON: I don't need it.

THE BAILIFF: You don't need it.

MR. SNEDDON: I told you, I don't need it.

I guess that gives new meaning to an electric personality.

I think we were at that point in time now where we're talking about the fact that the children are at the ranch. And the defendant's personal viedographer, Hamid Moslehi, is commissioned to bring the children from the ranch to his Calabasas residence where the filming is going to take place.

Another member of the co-conspirator's team named Vinnie Amen, who also goes by the name of Vinnie Black, picks up Janet Arvizo at a West Los Angeles apartment where she's staying with her future husband and fiance, Major Jay Jackson.

They meet at Moslehi's residence in Calabasas. And it's now approaching about 11:30 or almost midnight when everybody arrives. What results is a video that occurs -- and I'm going to speak more about later in my presentation -- but occurs and doesn't end until two o'clock in the morning. And the children are then taken back to West Los Angeles for a nine o'clock appointment with the Department of Social Services people, the very next morning.

Now, what I want to do is -- at this point, is I want to share with you just a few of the comments from the Bashir transcript. I want to share with you some of the things that caused the reactions and the movement of the people and the parties involved in this particular case that I've already discussed rather briefly.

And before I do that, though, I want to stop and tell you, in caution and in candor and in fairness, this video that you will hear is about an hour and 40 minutes long. And it's not my intention to lift from that -- from that video just a portion of it. But you will see from what I'm going to lift, that it is the parts that deal most specifically with this case.

This is the interview of Martin Bashir and the defendant. It's the interview that occurs towards the end of the eight-month journey in the filming of the life and "Living with Michael Jackson" video documentary.

"Martin Bashir: It was a great privilege to meet Gavin because he's had a lot of suffering in his life.

"Michael Jackson: Yeah.

"Martin Bashir: When Gavin was there, he talked about the fact that he shares your bedroom.

"Michael Jackson: Yes.

"Martin Bashir: Can you understand why people would worry about that.

"Michael Jackson: Because they're ignorant.

"Bashir: But is it really appropriate for a 40-year-old man to share a bedroom with a child that is not related to him.

"Michael Jackson: That's a beautiful thing.

"Martin Bashir: That's not a worrying thing.

"Michael Jackson: Why should it be worrying. Who's the criminal. Who's the Jack the Ripper in the room. This is a guy trying to help and heal a child. I'm sleeping in a sleeping bag on the floor. I give him the bed because he has a brother named Star, so him and Star took the bed and I'm on the floor in the sleeping bag.

"Did you ever sleep in bed with him.

"No, but I have slept in bed with many children. I sleep in bed with all of them.

"Bashir: But is that right, Michael.

"Michael: It's very right. It's very loving. That's what the world needs now. More love, more love.

"Martin Bashir: The world. The world needs....

"Michael Jackson: More heart.

"Martin Bashir: The world. The world needs a man, 44, sleeping in bed with children.

"Michael Jackson. No, you're making it -- no, no, you're making it all wrong. That's wrong.

"Bashir: Well, tell me. Help me.

"Michael Jackson: Because what's wrong with sharing a love. You don't sleep with your kids and some other kids" -- I'm sorry. "You don't sleep with your kids or some other kids who need love who didn't have a good childhood.

"Martin Bashir: No. No, I don't. I never dream of sleeping --

"Michael Jackson: Well, I would. I would. Because you've never been where I've been mentally."

Later on in the transcript, Bashir goes on:

"But isn't that precisely the problem, that when you actually invite children into your bed, you never know what's going to happen.

"Michael Jackson: But when you say 'bed,' you're thinking sexual. They make it sexual. It's not sexual. We're going to sleep. I tuck them in. We put -- I put a little, like, music on. We do a little story time. I read a book. It's very sweet. We put the fireplace on. We give them hot milk, you know, and we have little cookies. It's very charming. It's very sweet."

Ladies and gentlemen, this case begins with ten-year-old Gavin Arvizo. It begins in the year 2000. It begins when Gavin Arvizo is living with his mother, Janet Arvizo, and his father David, and his older sister Davallin, and his younger brother Star, in a studio apartment in East Los Angeles.

It begins with his diagnosis of stage four cancer at the age of 10. In an attempt to stem the cancer, a medicine-sized -- medicine-ball-size tumor, weighing 16 pounds, is removed from his abdomen. Lesions were removed from his lungs. His gall bladder was removed. Lymph nodes were removed. And one kidney was also removed.

For a year, he underwent chemotherapy. Long recuperative hospitalizations and long periods of recuperation at his grandparents' place. And in all candor, the doctors told the Arvizos and told Gavin Arvizo to prepare for his funeral, that he wasn't going to survive.

But, you see, Gavin's a fighter, and Gavin wasn't willing to quit. And because of a miracle, today Gavin is alive and his cancer is in remission and he's a freshman in high school. And he's an active member of a Navy Explorer unit and has gone through a boot camp in 2003 in Virginia. And he played football on his freshman high school football team this year.

During Gavin's fight for life, however, there were people actively involved in supporting him. And one of those people that you're going to learn about in this case is Jamie Masada.

Now, Jamie Masada you probably have not heard of, but you may have heard of the company that he founded. He started with The Laugh Factory on Sunset Boulevard in Los Angeles. He now has places in Hawaii and he has a place in New York City. It's for comedians. And as one of the things that Mr. Masada did, is he sponsored camps during the summer for underprivileged children.

And during the summer one year when the children were younger, the three children, Davallin, Star and Gavin, participated at The Laugh Factory in a summer program for underprivileged children.

Jamie Masada took a liking to the children. He particularly took a liking to Gavin. And when he heard that Gavin was -- had cancer, that it was serious and that he may not live, he began to visit Gavin on a regular basis.

And some of -- you know, unfortunately one of the things that happens to kids that are going to die from cancer, there are organizations and people and individuals, allow them to try to make a last wish, to make a wish.

And Gavin's wish, Gavin's wish was to meet some comedians and entertainers. And Gavin's wish was to meet Chris Tucker. And Gavin's wish was to meet Adam Sandler. And Gavin's wish was to meet the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson.

He actually met all of them. The first call came from the defendant while Gavin Arvizo was in the hospital recuperating from one of his chemotherapy sessions. Over the next several weeks, they exchanged television calls on a regular basis. The calls often lasted hours.

And during one of the recuperative periods when Gavin was at home, Michael Jackson invited the Arvizo family from East Los Angeles to the ranch of Neverland here in Santa Barbara County.

In August of 2000, the Arvizo family,

Gavin's -- Gavin, ten, and Star, nine, were picked up in a limousine with their mother and their father and their brother, and traveled to Neverland Valley Ranch.

It was here -- and you can imagine just about the excitement that must have been with the family, coming from an environment like that to the ranch and this beauty that we have here in Santa Barbara County. And the family was put up in the guest cottages at the ranch and they were there for several days.

Now, on the night before the last day that they were to leave, Michael Jackson, the defendant in this case, takes Gavin aside, and he says to Gavin, "Gavin, why don't you ask your parents if you can spend the night in my bedroom, at the dinner table tonight."

Well, obviously here's a little kid who's in the midst of a life-threatening disease --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

MR. SNEDDON: -- a chance to spend the night --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

THE COURT: Overruled. Go ahead.

MR. SNEDDON: -- the chance to spend the night with one of his idols. Gavin obliges. Gavin asks his parents at dinner, "Can I spend the night with Michael Jackson in his bedroom."

And the parents say, "Yes"; they agree. And it's agreed that Star will go along with them.

Now, what happens that night is this: The defendant, Frank Tyson, the defendant's children, particularly his son Prince, Prince Michael, and the two Arvizo boys are in the downstairs area of the Jackson bedroom suite. And after a few hours, they go upstairs to the bedroom. And when they get up into the bedroom, Tyson pulls out a laptop computer, and Jackson and Tyson are hooking the computer up to the Internet. And when they get on the Internet, they then place the computer with the boys there, and they take the boys, nine-year-old and ten-year-old, on a tour of sexually explicit websites. Naked ladies. They take them on a tour of a number of websites. And it lasts approximately 30 to 40 minutes.

And during the time that they travel through these websites, at one of the points in time when a female is shown to -- with her shirt up, exposing her breasts, the defendant turns and exclaims: "Got milk." And he turns around to the sleeping Prince on the bed and says, "Prince, you're missing a lot of pussy."

The Arvizo boys spent the night with Michael Jackson. They did not sleep in bed with him. They slept in the bed. And it is true, Jackson slept on the floor.

The Arvizo boys returned to the ranch a couple of times during 2000. Never with their mother or their sister again. Jackson was rarely there. And after several months, the relationship drifted apart. The number that Gavin had been given for the defendant was no longer good. There was no more phone calls and there was relatively no contact between the Arvizos and Michael Jackson.

However, the participation of Gavin Arvizo in the Martin Bashir video changed his life forever. Because, you see, Gavin Arvizo ended up being one of those boys who shared a bed with the defendant, Michael Jackson.

He didn't do it in 2000 on the first visit to the ranch. And he didn't do it, as many people suspected, when they saw the Martin Bashir video. But he did it in February and in March of 2003 at Neverland Valley Ranch.

I want to take you now back to some of the statements that we heard in the Bashir tape made by the defendant in this case. I want to take you back to the admissions that are found in that video about his public statements acknowledging sharing his bedroom and his bed with young boys, and to the circumstances of the explanation under -- in which he says he does so. Let's explore that for a moment.

You see, the private world of Michael Jackson is quite different from what he said on that video. As the testimony and the evidence unfolds in this particular case, you will learn that the stories he refers to in that video remark do not consist of children's books, but the Internet visits to sexually explicit sites, the exposure of children to suitcases, briefcases laden with sexually explicit magazines and centerfold cutouts from magazines such as Hustler and Playboy, with titles like "Barely Legal Hard-Core," "Barely Legal" and many others with far more offensive covers and cover titles.

You see, the private world of Michael Jackson reveals that instead of cookies and instead of milk, you can substitute wine, vodka, and bourbon.

Now, publicly Michael Jackson says he doesn't drink. But his private behavior and conduct is quite the opposite, as you will learn through numerous witnesses in this case.

First he's caught on film talking to Martin Bashir about wine. And he uses it and describes it as "Jesus Juice," the same exact expression that the Arvizo children told detectives in this case that Michael Jackson used in referring to red wine that he provided to them, and he referred to it as "Jesus Juice."

Former employees and security guards and maids of the defendant will tell you that he furnished alcohol, that he encouraged children to drink, and on occasion he was actually viewed to pour drinks for children.

Several airline stewardesses will testify in this case. They work for a charter jet organization. They are the stewardesses on chartered planes chartered by the defendant in this case. And they have, in conjunction with the work that they do, a profile of information as to what to take on the plane to satisfy the people that are going to be on the plane.

They will tell you that they have not only seen -- they have not only seen the defendant drink alcohol on the planes, they have furnished it. And they have furnished it in a method and a manner exactly like the Arvizo children told detectives in this case that the defendant does; and that is, that it is put in Diet Coke or soda pop cans.

Indeed, several employees, including his long-time security guard Chris Carter, and others, will tell you that they observed children on the ranch drinking, in highly intoxicated states on a number of occasions when Jackson is on the ranch.

Security Guard Chris Carter will tell you that he observed one incident one night where he encountered Gavin Arvizo. It was late. It was dark. Gavin was intoxicated, and he wanted to get into one of the little carts, electric carts that you can use to drive around the premises.

Carter stopped him. He saw that Gavin was in no condition to drive. And he told him that he couldn't do that. When Carter asked the boy why he was drinking, he replied, Michael Jackson told him that he had to be a man and drink.

In another incident, Michael Jackson's personal attendant and a long-time employee, Jesus Salas, will describe taking a full bottle of wine and a full bottle of vodka on a tray into Michael Jackson's bedroom with four glasses.

And when he got into the bedroom, he saw the defendant and three children sitting on the bed. And when he came back the next morning to clean out the bedroom, both bottles were empty, and the glasses had been used.

Another ranch employee, Kiki Fornier, is going to testify in this case. And she will tell you that on a number of occasions she saw three local Santa Ynez boys intoxicated, saw them at a time when Jackson was on the ranch and Jackson was with the boys. And she viewed this on a number of occasions.

The private world of Michael Jackson reveals that instead of bedtime discussions and children's books and discussions of Peter Pan, at the same time that this 44-year-old man is sharing with 13-year-old Gavin and 12-year-old Star and another 11-year-old boy his collection of sexually explicit magazines, that he's talking to Gavin about masturbation. And he's telling him that it is normal, and that it is okay, and that everybody does it.

That each of these acts are calculated to desensitize the boy, to change his moral antenna, and to add the trust and the admiration of an adult voice to the boy's conduct to convince him that what was being done was all right in the adult world.

And it worked.

Lastly, you're going to be able to peek into the defendant's private world, and you're going to hear Gavin Arvizo describe to you his molestation.

You will hear Star Arvizo tell you how, on other occasions, he happened upon seeing Michael Jackson masturbating himself with one hand while Jackson's other hand was inserted into the underpants of his brother, Gavin.

Your Honor, I think this will probably be a good place to take the morning recess.

THE COURT: All right. We'll take a 15-minute recess.

(Recess taken.)

--o0o--

THE COURT: Mr. Sneddon. Go ahead.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor.

Ladies and gentlemen, the scene for most of the events that occur in this particular case is going to be the defendant's home, Neverland Valley Ranch. And I think you'll get a very good feel for the ranch through videos that are going to be shown probably by both sides, as well as snippets of tape and footage that is shown in the Martin Bashir documentary.

But for just a moment, since probably most or none of you have an idea of what the ranch is like, I want to take you on a little visual tour of what it is.

And I want to say, first and foremost, that the ranch is something that is a beautiful thing. And it's been used for beautiful causes. For the children, the underprivileged children, for the children who have been suffering, who have been brought there to share a day or a weekend on the ranch. It's something very good.

But just like so many things in life, something very good can end up being, on another occasion, in another setting, something very bad.

And several of the witnesses in this case are going to tell you that some of the young visitors at the ranch, that stay on and that visit with Mr. Jackson, and who are there on a prolonged basis, begin to change because of the personality of the ranch. That it creates a no-rules, no-restriction, no-wants environment. And people who walk in there with manners walk out and can be described by some of the staff as hellions, rude, obnoxious. And what is there about Neverland that can do that to somebody.

What is there about Neverland Valley Ranch.

Well, first of all, for those of you who may not know where it is, I'll try to describe it to you briefly. It's at the foot of the Los Padres National Forest. It's about 2,800 acres. And it's about 4.5 miles from Los Olivos, or, better put, Mattei's Tavern, up Figueroa Mountain Road. It has a zoo with lots of animals. And you heard Mr. Mesereau talk about some of those animals during the questioning of some of you folks.

It has an amusement park with a ferris wheel and a merry-go-round and a lot of other rides for the enjoyment of children and adults.

It has a NASCAR-type racing track with small miniature NASCAR cars that people, even adults, can drive around the track. And it has a theater complex with a huge screen and a stage, where people can go to watch movies at any time of the day or night, with a snack bar with free popcorn, free ice cream, and free candy of just about any variety or sort that you may desire.

Neverland Valley Ranch, where selected guests are allowed to drive electric-powered golf carts out around the ranch's many acres into the back country on roads, paths, many times unsupervised. Complete with a two-story video arcade. Video arcade with just about every imaginable video game that you can think of, from the old traditional type to the most recent virtual reality type of video games. Two stories high, packed with these things.

The arcade also has a cellar. The cellar is hidden behind a juke box. Behind the juke box, you remove it, go down into the cellar. And in the cellar, wine and alcohol. And it's a place where special guests of Mr. Jackson are taken and they're invited into the cellar and they're treated to alcoholic beverages poured by Mr. Jackson himself.

Neverland Valley Ranch, where music is piped throughout the entire main residence area. The lawns are sprinkled with statues and figurines of kids and animals. An area that has a Disneyland-like replica train station, and a Disneyland-like replica train that takes people throughout the grounds, to the zoo, and to the amusement park, and the theater, and back to the main house residence.

The residence is complete with four guest cottages that are nestled down by two lakes that form a boundary to the house.

Neverland Valley Ranch, where the main residence has at least two rooms on the second floor totally dedicated to every imaginable toy that a child would ever want. Electric trains, games, figures. Lifelike figurines of R2-D2, Darth Vader, Superman, Batman, Daffy Duck. You name it. One whole room devoted to dolls and dollhouses in the main residence.

Next to the arcade and on the back side of the house is a swimming pool and a Jacuzzi. And on the other side is another part of the lake, a teepee, trees to climb, tree houses. You name it. It has everything.

Next to the main business -- main residence is another building that's attached to it by an arch. And in that arch, in that building, is a security office on one end. And at the other end is a personal office of the defendant, Michael Jackson. In that office is a small museum with figurines, a lot of lifelike figures in the back office, and six large-sized plasma T.V.'s.

It's in this room that during the course of the execution of the search warrant on November the 18th, 2003, that at least two sexually explicit magazines were found, one teenaged themed.

Neverland Valley Ranch, where the defendant reigns supreme in his own two-bedroom -- two-floor suite. One bedroom, two-floor suite. The bottom floor of the bedroom -- and let me take you on a little tour, if I can, visually. You'll see it through photographs during the course of the trial. And let me see if I can lay the foundation for that now.

The bottom floor is entered through -- you walk down a hallway. And when you come into the door, you turn to your left, you open up into the main part of the downstairs.

And what you will see, what you did see, if you were a visitor there at the time of the Arvizo boys, was a room that is cluttered. It's cluttered with figurines. It's cluttered with boxes. It's cluttered with video games. There's a piano. There's all kinds of things in a very small, relatively small area. And including king and queen chairs and figures, life-sized figures in the chairs and at other locations in the room.

There's a piano that plays different tunes and is electric, can be changed to different formats.

In this room, when you walk towards the back of it, towards what would be the back side of the room that fronts onto the back part of the house, you move to the right. As you move to the right, you walk into the master bathroom. As you move into the master bathroom, you see, at the far end of the master bathroom, a large Jacuzzi tub.

It was in this room on November the 18th that police officers seized at least 15 sexually explicit magazines and DVDs lining the tub at the time of the execution of the search warrant.

It's in this same room - right next to the tub is a briefcase containing correspondence private to the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson - that two more sexually explicit magazines are found.

In a drawer just above that are found numerous envelopes containing cards and letters and correspondence from the Arvizo family. Almost all of them are signed or salutated with the phrase "Michael Daddy" or "Michael," and with greetings and with love and admiration for the defendant in this case.

It's actually in this room and from some of the materials in this room that for the first time the boys were shown sexually explicit magazines during their visit to Neverland Ranch during February and March of 2003.

And let me pause for a second and let me tell you something that you will learn during the testimony and the evidence in this case about the defendant's master suite.

There will be maids, like Blanca Francia, Jesus Salas, other people who are responsible for serving the defendant and taking care of his private premises in this house, and that is, that the defendant, Michael Jackson, was pathological about not allowing people in there without his permission. And that entrance could only be secured by those who knew the secret password and that there was an alarm that went off when anybody approached the door, to give him knowledge of people approaching.

Neverland Valley Ranch, where the defendant's bedroom is located on the second floor of this master suite. It's a bedroom that can only be accessed by one entrance and exit. Only one. As you walk through the room into another vanity type of bathroom and you turn immediately to the left, there's a stairway. And as you walk up the stairwell to the top of the stairs, there are walls on both sides until you reach about two-thirds of the way up the stairwell. At that point the right side of the wall gives way to a banister and to pedestals that are separated about 18 inches apart.

Ladies and gentlemen, it's in this room and on the bed that you see when you reach the landing and you can see through the pedestals, that the defendant, Michael Jackson, on the second occasion, opened up his Samsonite briefcase and displayed to the boys numerous sexually explicit magazines, both adult and teenaged themed.

It's on -- in this room and in this bed that the defendant took a mannequin from the -- from the corner -- I forgot to tell you, when you reach the top of the bed (sic) and you look over to the far right-hand corner, there's a female mannequin. A young, 13-, 14-, 15-year-old-looking mannequin. And it's in this room and on that bed that the defendant, in the presence of these two boys, put that mannequin, put it on the bed, and began to simulate an act of sexual intercourse with this mannequin.

It's in this room and on that bed where the boys were sitting there watching T.V. one night, and all of a sudden, the defendant appears from the stairwell, absolutely stark naked, with an erection. And when the boys look at him - and Star will say he was grossed out - that the defendant says, "It's natural. It's okay. Why don't you boys do the same thing." Their response was to get up from the bed and go downstairs and pretend like they had to go to the bathroom.

It's in this room and on that bed that Gavin Arvizo was molested by the defendant in this case. And it's in this room and on that bed that Star Arvizo saw his brother Gavin molested on two separate occasions.

During the course of the execution of the search warrant in this case, at the foot of the bed was a box. And in that box, Sergeant Robel, from the Santa Barbara Sheriff's Department, found 17 more sexually explicit adult and teenaged themed pornographic, sexually-themed magazines.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

MR. SNEDDON: And --

THE COURT: Just a moment. Grounds.

MR. MESEREAU: You ruled that term not to be used.

THE COURT: Overruled. You may proceed.

MR. SNEDDON: Sexually explicit adult magazines and sexually explicit teenaged themed.

And by that, "teenaged themed," I mean, when you see them - and you will see them - it is clear that if these young ladies are 18 years old, which they're supposed to be, they sure don't look 18 years old.

Also found in his books -- in this box were 23 -- 23 '60s vintage nudist magazines whose common denominator is naked pictures of children.

As you will see from the photographs presented to you and from the testimony and the evidence of witnesses in this case, that in the room, the defendant's bed is in the center of this room. In the center of this room the bed is flanked by two nightstands on each side.

In the nightstand on the left, which was opened by Detective Zelis serving the service of the search warrant, he observed a photograph of the three Arvizo children. Next to the photograph were 53 more sexually explicit adult magazines.

The Samsonite briefcase that I described to you that was shown and laden with these materials was found by Detective Bonner downstairs in the master bedroom (sic).

Now, these materials, not only the ones from the Samsonite briefcase, but other materials found at other locations in the house, were obviously taken by the sheriff's department. And some of those materials, many of those materials, were sent to their forensic unit, and they were sent to the forensic unit for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not there were any fingerprints that could be identified with participants in this particular lawsuit.

So what they did was they attempt to find latent prints. And Sergeant Bob Spinner is going to testify in this case. Sergeant Spinner is actually retired and he was called back to do the work in this particular case.

Sergeant Spinner has been a long-time employee of the sheriff's department and has testified on numerous occasions throughout the courts in this county as an expert in fingerprint analysis. And he will tell you that the sheriff's department was able to recover from the magazines, not only the ones in the Samsonite briefcase, but others, latent prints. And it was the job and the responsibility of Sergeant Spinner to look at those latent prints and to compare them with the known prints of the defendant in this case that was obtained during his arrest and booking back in December of 2002, and the known prints of the Arvizo boys which were taken by the sheriff's department in this case.

Sergeant Spinner is going to tell you ladies and gentlemen that he was able to make identifications. He was able to match the prints of the defendant in this case with the latent prints recovered from some of those magazines in that briefcase and some in other locations.

He's also going to tell you that he was able to recover the latent prints -- he was able to identify the prints of the boys, both Star and Gavin, on some of those magazines. And, in fact, he was able to find at least one magazine where the prints of the defendant and the prints of Gavin are on the same magazine.

You will also hear testimony from both Star and from Gavin that at no time since their visit to that ranch have they ever had an opportunity to touch those magazines since they left, and that includes during the time that they testified at the grand jury.

Now, moments ago, you heard the Judge read to you the charges in this case involving the lewd and lascivious conduct with a child under the age of 14 and an attempt by the defendant to do the same thing, and that these molestations were accomplished during times when the child was fueled by alcohol.

You will learn from the testimony of Gavin Arvizo and Star Arvizo that these acts were acts of masturbation and acts of touching of the -- of Gavin. The Indictment covers the time period from February 20th to March the 12th. And the location of these crimes is Neverland Valley Ranch.

Now, you heard in the little pieces that I read to you other things from that Bashir video that the defendant said. You heard him say that sleeping with young boys is innocent, that it's a beautiful thing, and there's nothing sexual about it.

Ladies and gentlemen, again, the differences between his public statement and his private life could not be more different.

Through the testimony of Gavin Arvizo and Star Arvizo, you will see the molestations of Gavin. You will see it as the product of use of liberal doses of alcohol on a child with one kidney, the use of sexually explicit materials to whet the young boys' blossoming sexual awareness, and the defendant's conversations encouraging them to masturbate and describing it as normal and natural, and manipulating the trust and the loyalty bond that had been created, and the pacts of silence that you will hear about in the forbidden world and the forbidden conduct.

Indeed, Gavin Arvizo will tell you that it wasn't at Neverland, the first time that he was given alcohol by the defendant in this case. The fact of the matter is, that when they were taken to Miami in February, that Gavin Arvizo was given alcohol by the defendant on that occasion.

But the truth and the fact is, that when they got back to the ranch on the 7th of February, that continuously when the defendant was there, almost every night that they were there with the defendant, the boys drank alcohol. And the fact of the matter is, they will tell you that on virtually every night in which the defendant is there, from February 17th till March 12th when they left, that they shared a bed with the defendant, Michael Jackson.

Let me pause for just a second and talk to you a little bit about Gavin Arvizo's brother, Star. Star is a year younger. He was born on December 9th of 1990. But I think one of the things that will strike you when you see Star testify in this particular case, and also when you see photographs of Star depicted of what he looked like when he was nine years old and what he looked like when he was 12 years old when he visited the ranch in the year 2002 and 2003; that Star doesn't look anything like the boy in those pictures or the boy who visited the ranch at the time of these particular events.

Because what you will see is Star Arvizo walk in here, who is a 225-pound center on the freshman football team. He's a boy who's grown considerably since these events occurred. He's also a boy that has been active in the Navy Explorer unit, just like his brother Gavin.

Star Arvizo will describe to you what he saw one night. He was at the movie theater with other guests at the ranch, and his brother and the defendant were nowhere to be seen. And after the movie was over with, as was his custom, he went back to the main residence. And when he got to the residence, he walked down the hallway, he put in the code, he heard the "ding" go off of the little alarm. He walked back through the -- towards the stairwell, pushed on the door, the door was closed. The door was locked. It was latched from the top. He pushed again. The latches gave way. He went into the little bathroom and turned to his left and headed up the stairway.

Now, I described to you how those stairways work and I described to you how they open up to the right. And as he walked up those stairwells, when he got to the location where those banisters appear and the pedestals are located, and he turned to his right, he was frozen. And he was frozen by what he saw. And this is what he saw:

Lying on the bed directly in front of him was the defendant, Michael Jackson. The defendant was lying on his back. He had on a shirt, underwear, and socks. Lying next to Jackson was his brother Gavin dressed in underwear and a shirt.

Gavin was curled up, and Star thought he was sleeping. He wasn't moving. No motion.

What he saw at that particular point in time also was, on the nightstand directly to the right of the bed, which he had seen on numerous other occasions, were empty glasses and bottles of wine and Skyy Vodka that the three of them had shared on many occasions and were there that night.

Jackson on the left, Gavin on the right.

What he saw was Jackson's hand. He saw his left hand wrapped into the inside of Jackson's private parts, into his underwear. And he saw Jackson's left hand over the top of his brother and inside his brother's pants. And what he saw was the motion of Jackson's hand inside of his underpants rhythmically moving up and down and his body moving up and down while he masturbated with his hand under the underpants of the motionless Gavin Arvizo.

He stared for about five or ten seconds and then he ran off, and he went back into the guest cottages, and he never stayed in those bedrooms again.

There was a second occasion where Star Arvizo encountered the same thing. It was about a couple of days later, to his recollection. Again, this time he thinks it was between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning. And again, the defendant and Gavin were nowhere to be seen.

Star headed back up to the bedroom. And again, going up the stairway, and again when he turned to his right, he saw the defendant. This time things were just a little bit different. Not a lot. This time the defendant was still on the left. Gavin was still on the right. This time they were both laying on their backs. They were dressed in exactly the same way, except this time Gavin had on shorts instead of the underpants. At this time the actions were exactly the same, except that this time the defendant had his hand up underneath the pants of Gavin, and Star saw him masturbating Gavin at the same time that he was masturbating himself. And again, he ran off.

Star told no one of what he saw. He didn't tell his mother. He didn't tell his brother. And he didn't tell his sister. He told no one. The first person that Star Arvizo told about what he saw was Dr. Stanley Katz, a psychologist, who an attorney had referred the child -- the Arvizo children to see.

Now, let me just take a few moments to describe how this all came about.

You see, you will learn later on in my remarks here that there was a point in time where the possessions of the Arvizos were taken and put in storage and that -- at a location they knew nothing about. And when they eventually were able to get off the ranch, they were trying to get their belongings together.

And Jamie Masada, the family friend, again came to the rescue. Jamie Masada said to Janet Arvizo, "Why don't you contact my lawyer, Bill Dickerman. And why don't you ask Bill Dickerman to try to get your property back."

And you're going to see a number of correspondence between Mr. Dickerman and the attorney representing the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson, Mark Geragos, trying to get their personal property back.

You will also see correspondence indicating that one of the things that Mr. Dickerman was interested in doing was Janet Arvizo was angry, but not at the defendant. She was angry at Martin Bashir. She was angry because her boy was shown around the world without her permission. And she wanted something done about it.

Now, Dickerman, in turn, was aware of Mr. Feldman. It was Dickerman's idea to refer the family to Feldman. Mr. Feldman was aware from prior litigation of his relationship with the defendant.

And it was Mr. Feldman, without any consultation from the family, who made the decision to send these children to Dr. Katz.

And it was during the course of these conversations that both Star and Gavin Arvizo, for the first time, told Dr. Katz what happened at Neverland Valley Ranch, what Star Arvizo saw the defendant do to his brother, and what Gavin Arvizo experienced and told the doctor the defendant did to him.

At no time during this period did Janet Arvizo ever request either lawyer to file any kind of a lawsuit against Michael Jackson or to pursue any litigation against Michael Jackson.

Gavin Arvizo will describe to you his sexual experiences with the defendant, Michael Jackson. He will do it here. He will do it in open court. And he will do it with the whole world watching. He will describe to you with vivid particularity the two separate occasions he was molested by the defendant, Michael Jackson.

Gavin will describe to you how he was lying on the bed next to Mr. Jackson, how he was lying there in his underwear and a shirt, in much the same way that Star had described. How Jackson asked him, Gavin Arvizo, whether he masturbated, and Gavin said, "Number"

Jackson replied, "It's okay. It's normal. Everybody does it."

Jackson then reached over and inserted his hand up underneath Gavin's underpants. And he proceeded to masturbate Gavin for about ten minutes while he simultaneously masturbated himself.

The second occasion was pretty much like the first. The barriers had been knocked down. He again inserted his hand into the private areas of the young boy, masturbated him while he masturbated himself. But one thing happened on this occasion that didn't happen on the first occasion. On this occasion, the defendant, Michael Jackson, reached over and he grabbed Gavin's arm, and he grabbed Gavin's arm and he began to move it down to the area of Jackson's private parts. Gavin Arvizo immediately yanked his arm away, and that was the end of the event.

Now, one of the other things that you should know about the incidents that were described by Star and the incidents that were described by Gavin Arvizo from the witness stand that will be described is that both of those incidents, all of those incidents actually occurred after -- after the rebuttal video at Hamid Moslehi's place that I'm going to describe to you, and they occurred after -- after these children had been interviewed by the Department of Social Services and had said that the defendant had never inappropriately touched them. And interestingly enough, they occurred after all of the preparations had been made for this family to be taken to Brazil and isolated from the media.

Ladies and gentlemen, Count 1 of this Indictment does not involve lewd and lascivious acts. Probably some of you are saying that that's a relief.

It does, however, involve the defendant, Michael Jackson. It charges him with conspiring with five named individuals, Mark Schaffel, Dieter Weizner, Ronald Konitzer, Frank Cascio, who is also known as Tyson, and Vincent Amen, who is also known as Vinnie Black.

As the Judge read to you, you now know that Indictment also includes charges that -- of the conspiracy that it was -- the objectives of the conspiracy were to extort, to falsely imprison, and to abduct the children. It specifies, as you've heard now, 28 different acts that the conspirators hoped to achieve in that conspiracy.

And as you now know and see, the central focus of those -- of those acts was to isolate and to control the Arvizo family and to keep them away from the media, and to convince them to participate in a network planned rebuttal video to be produced by the defendant and his co-conspirators.

Who are these co-conspirators and what are their relationships to the defendant in this case.

Well, first of all, let's start with Marc Schaffel. The testimony will be produced, there's probably no dispute about this fact, that they were long-time friends, long-time business acquaintances.

Records found at Schaffel's house when a search warrant was executed showed that Schaffel was in business with the defendant in a partnership called Neverland valley Entertainment, and that Marc Schaffel was the president and was paid generously by the defendant for his partnership in that business. That, actually, the defendant had, as part of this partnership, deeded his residuals to a production that Schaffel was listed as the producer on, on a video called "What More Can I Give."

Schaffel's presence in Germany with the defendant during the Bashir documentary filming, you'll see it during the video. You can see him in the background there.

Schaffel, in turn, was a partner and business adventurers with Ronald Konitzer and Dieter Weizner. And Konitzer and Weizner both being German nationals, one living in Germany and the other living in Vancouver, British Columbia. Weizner, by the way, is also captured on the video with Schaffel and Jackson during the Bashir filming in Munich, Germany.

Now, the Neverland Valley logs that were seized during the course of the execution of the search warrant on November 18th show that during 2002, particularly during the last part of 2002, that Dieter Weizner and Ronald Konitzer and Frank Tyson Cascio were regular visitors at the ranch of Michael Jackson.

Documents further show that at the time of the events that are right at the heart and the crux of this particular lawsuit, that the defendant, Michael Jackson, Marc Schaffel, Dieter Weizner and Ronald Konitzer were involved financially and artistically in the production of the video that was going to derail the Bashir video, a video that was going to be aired and was eventually sold to FOX network to be aired in the United States on February the 20th.

E-mails, documents, press releases from the Jackson camp and the FOX network will show that an important ingredient that was put out to the public about this rebuttal film for the 20th for FOX was the participation of the Arvizo family supporting the defendant, Michael Jackson, who was under siege. The Arvizo family participation was very important to the success of this project.

Another important step occurred during this time of the crisis created by the Bashir tape, and that was an individual by the name of Ann Gabriel.

Ann Gabriel will testify -- she's actually going to be one of the first witnesses who testifies in this case. Ann Gabriel runs a business called Gabriel Media and she has a specialty. Her specialty is crisis management. And in crisis management what she does is she helps people, or people who have products, that are having a bad time with the media or the public, and that's her expertise.

She was first approached about this by Jackson's lawyer, David LeGrand, in Washington D.C. even before the video was shown and just before LeGrand left Washington D.C. to fly down to Miami to be with the defendant in late January, early February, at the time the Bashir tape was about to be shown.

As a member of the Jackson team - very short-lived member, I might add - Ann Gabriel will confirm to you the hierarchy and the way that the team operates. She will confirm to you that Dieter Weizner and Ronald Konitzer and Marc Schaffel were at the top and that they were in charge of public relations; that there was another firm in England called Bell Yard, which was the equivalent of what she did. Bell Yard was the crisis management team from Great Britain dealing with the outfalls of the Bashir video over there.

And she will confirm to you of being part of conversations, conference calls, decisions involving how to handle the furor created by the Bashir tape.

Not only that, ladies and gentlemen, we will produce witnesses in this case that will tell you that the defendant was intimately involved in the day-to-day discussions and decisions and planning of the response to the Bashir video.

Rudy Provencio was working for Marc Schaffel during this period of time. And Rudy Provencio will tell you that he was present during conversations, present when he overheard conversations involving the defendant and Marc Schaffel over all of the things that I just talked to you about.

There's also no disputing the relationship between the defendant in this case and Vinnie Cascio Tyson. Actually, Vinnie -- not Vinnie, Frank, was seen back in the 1990s, early 1990s, on film clippage traveling with Michael Jackson in Europe. Later, he went to work for MJJ Productions, which is the headquarters for the defendant's master -- overhead headquarters, handles his business projects, at a very, very generous monthly salary.

Now, on the other hand, Vinnie Amen's only connection with these people was that he was a friend of Frank Tyson's. And Vinnie came to California with Frank Tyson. And they came there in February, and he was hired by Schaffel and he was placed in an office right next to Schaffel helping with this crisis management project.

The decision for the defendant to participate with Martin Bashir on a video documentary, as you will learn during the testimony and the evidence, was well thought out. It was part of a comeback that he was trying to make. And in the course of agreeing to do that, there were four segments that were filmed. It was an eight-month project. Segment filmed in Munich, Germany. There was a segment filmed in Las Vegas, Nevada. There was a segment filmed -- the last segment in Miami, Florida. And there was a segment filmed at Neverland Valley Ranch in the fall of 2002.

Now, the defendant had had -- at this point in time, in the fall of 2002, had had little or no contact with the Arvizo family for a long period of time. Even though the kids had visited the ranch with Chris Tucker during the summer, the defendant wasn't there.

So it's rather strange, but understandable, why, in the fall of 2002, the defendant, Michael Jackson, arranges to have a call made inviting the Arvizo children to come to Neverland Valley Ranch.

And the plan is for Jackson to use cancer survivor Gavin Arvizo as part of his comeback attempt in the Bashir video, and to enlist him in an interview to take place on the ranch.

Understandably, the children were eager to renew their friendship and acquaintanceship with the defendant in this case and agreed.

The mother was not invited, nor did she insist that she come, and no releases for these children were obtained by either Martin Bashir or the defendant.

A limousine picked the children up at the apartment, brought them to the ranch. As soon as they arrived at the ranch, Gavin was taken aside from the other two children by the defendant, and he was taken into a small room and the door was closed, and he will tell you they were there for about five to ten minutes.

Gavin will tell you what went on inside that room during that five or ten minutes. And what he will tell you was that the defendant told him this was like an audition. The defendant already knew that Gavin wanted to be an entertainer. He said it was like an audition. He didn't tell him it was going on international T.V. It was an audition and he told him what to say and he told him what not to say. And after the rehearsal was done, they came out.

Gavin, for his part, was then placed on a couch next to the defendant. And during the course of the interview that occurred, that you will see in this courtroom, that's part of the reason that the Bashir video backfired on the defendant in this case. For in part of that video, you will see Gavin

Arvizo holding hands with the defendant, Gavin Arvizo affectionately putting his head on the defendant's shoulder. And the reaction, not only to people who saw it, but the reaction from Bashir, was instantaneous.

And you can see by the questions he begins to ask Jackson about his relationship not only with Gavin Arvizo but with other children, led to the questions that I read to you and to the defendant's answers in the follow-up interview in Miami, Florida.

Now, what happened was that after the filming, defendant left the ranch immediately. The children stayed around that night and then were taken home early the next morning. Between the time of the filming of that video and the time of the Martin Bashir video, there was no contact between the defendant and the family. Not a single phone call.

Marc Schaffel, through his contacts in the media, had received an advanced copy of the transcript of the Bashir documentary. And he immediately contacted Ronald Konitzer. And they immediately contacted Michael Jackson. And it was apparent to anybody who saw it that even though the video starts out in a very favorable way to the defendant, that the totality of the video was clearly not what the defendant anticipated, what he expected, but it was clearly a boomerang on a comeback attempt, and they saw it as a public relations disaster.

The entire video was broadcast in England for the first time on February the 3rd of 2003 to 17 million people in Europe on a show called "Trevor McDonald."

As I said, Bashir was less than complimentary, and he expressed open disbelief and concern about Jackson's admissions and his behavior with children, both his and others.

So there will be no argument about the fact that somehow Bashir had tricked the defendant into going into this topic or somehow misled him down a path. The defendant reiterated pretty much the same statements about sleeping with young boys in a follow-up conversation with Ed Bradley on 60 Minutes, two weeks later.

Through the testimony of insider Ann Gabriel, Rudy Provencio, Ian Drew, as well as documents, computer printouts seized at Marc Schaffel's residence, you will learn how Jackson and Jackson's own employees and the co-conspirators all felt that the Bashir documentary was like a moving landslide. And if it wasn't stopped, it was going to destroy everything in its path, including Michael Jackson.

Documents weekly show that the group went into a damage control environment, mentality. There are other parts of the Bashir tape that I haven't mentioned that you will see. And I'm not going to go into them in great detail, but also were of concern of the people involved in the crisis management of the situation for the defendant.

There were parts -- there were parts about scenes that were taken at the Munich Zoo with the trip with the kids. There were scenes involving incidents that occurred at a hotel. There were things that occurred in Las Vegas during a spending spree and again the outfootage and takes during the Gavin Arvizo interview.

The enormity of the furor, just to give you an idea of just how big it was, looked at from the side of Michael Jackson, is that Ann Gabriel, who was hired, was asked to give an opinion on a scale of 1 to 10 how bad things were for Michael Jackson. She said it was a 25. A 25.

Christian Robinson, a writer who was hired by the Jackson's co-conspirators to do commercials and documentaries, and who actually did the interview of the Arvizo family on the 19th and 20th of February, described the "Living with Michael Jackson" as a nightmare for Jackson.

For the Arvizo family, they had no idea. They didn't receive an advanced copy of the transcript. They were not able to see the documentary when it was shown in England. And the way they found out that their children were shown on this documentary was BBC reporters started coming around the house and pounding on the door, and more media came and then went to the schools asking for interviews. And, of course, the Arvizo family had no idea what was going on.

And the worst of it came because Gavin Arvizo and the Arvizo family had never seen the interview. They had never seen the context. They had never seen the Miami interview. And they had never seen the questions and answers with Bashir about sleeping with young boys.

But Gavin found out in a very difficult way about how his role played out in this video when classmates and friends came up to him and began calling him "faggot," and began calling him rude, crude, sexual remarks about his relationship with the defendant in this case. That's how Gavin Arvizo found out about this video.

Further documents from the Schaffel residence and e-mails that were exchanged between Konitzer and Schaffel and Weizner, and other people involved in this management situation, reveal that the idea was -- at this point in time the primary focus was to get the Arvizo family and to get them isolated and sequestered and away from the media in a way they would not make any statements to the media, and hopefully to enlist them, as I said, in this planned pro Jackson video.

When all of this public storm hit, and when Schaffel and Konitzer got the advanced copy of the Bashir tape in late January, the defendant in this case was in Florida. And he was in the Turnberry Inn. It's not an inn, it's a resort. It's a very swanky resort, actually. They'd be very upset if I called it an inn, I guess.

He was down there with co-conspirators Dieter Weizner, Ronald Konitzer. And he summoned Frank Cascio from New Jersey, who got down there immediately and was there about the time the Arvizo family arrived.

Now, it's February the 4th of 2003, and the Martin Bashir video has already been shown in England. It's already been seen by an international audience. On February the 6th, it's going to be rebroadcast in the United States on network T.V., on ABC, on 20/20. Barbara Walters was the commentator and Bashir was a guest to narrate some of the events of the documentary.

Before that documentary was broadcast in the United States on the 6th, Michael Jackson took the initiative. It was Michael Jackson, who, on the 4th of February, who had had no contact with the Arvizo family or children since fall, set forth -- actually called his office, MJJ Productions. And there are notations in Evvy Tavasci, his business manager's book, showing a request on the part of Jackson to try to locate the Arvizos and get telephone numbers so he can contact them.

There are not only the notations in the book, but the television records from the Turnberry Inn and his suite reflect those phone calls being made on the 4th. It also reflects that on the 4th, after that information is obtained, that the defendant twice tried to contact the Arvizos at Janet Arvizo's parents.

She wasn't there.

The next morning, again it's the defendant's voice who's heard in this, reasserting himself back into the life of the Arvizos. It's the defendant, as the records at the Turnberry Resort show, made a 27-minute phone call to the Arvizo family that was currently at that particular time in West Los Angeles with Major Jay Jackson, who was going to be the future husband of Janet Arvizo.

That phone call took place at 6:58 California time, 9:58 in Miami, Florida. It was Jackson who spoke to Janet Arvizo and Gavin Arvizo. And it was Jackson who told them that there were people out there who wanted to kill them, who told them that it was dangerous out there for them, and that Gavin was in danger. It was Jackson who wanted Gavin to join him in Florida. And it was Jackson who told them that he wanted Gavin to participate in a press conference. And it was Jackson who told them that a strong statement supporting him, Michael Jackson, would go a long way to making these killers go away.

Janet Arvizo refused. She wasn't going to let her boy fly on a plane all by himself to Miami, Florida. She refused. And there were arguments between Jackson and Janet Arvizo. And it finally was settled. Gavin Arvizo would go to Florida. But he would only go to Florida with his mother, and his brother, and his sister. Jackson was upset and he was angered, but he had to agree, because he needed Gavin in Florida.

Their airline records reflect they were made by MJJ Productions and through the travel agency characteristically and uniformly used by MJJ Productions to make reservations for this family to fly to Miami in the afternoon of the 5th, the very same morning, by the way, that the phone call was made. They were scheduled to leave out of Los Angeles Airport at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The flight never occurred. And the reason it didn't occur was because Chris Tucker, who was also planning a trip to Miami on a chartered jet, it was arranged the children would go with Chris Tucker later that night. And that was, in fact, what happened.

So on the night of February 5th, on the night of February 5th, the night before the 20/20 viewing, this family is on a chartered jet with entertainer Chris Tucker and his family flying to Miami, Florida. And they get there. It's probably after midnight by the time they get there, and they land at the Miami airport, and they're picked up by a limousine and they're taken to the Turnberry Resort. And they were put up in, what would be by any standards, a very, very nice room. But it's late. And after some conversations with Chris Tucker, they all go to bed. Everybody sleeps in until the next morning.

But, you see, the plan is working perfectly, because the family is now there, they're now under their control, and they're now isolated from the media and the public.

Now for a description for you about what happened in the next couple of days about the control and the attempts to convince the family to participate in the video.

Again, it is Michael Jackson's voice that is heard first and foremost in this attempt. On the 6th, when everybody got up, they went upstairs, and Jackson's suite was right above the room occupied by the Arvizo family. And they went into the room. It's a large room. It's the presidential suite. There was plenty of room and plenty of people there.

In fact, they were introduced to Ronald Konitzer and Dieter Weizner, who were also in the room. And by that time, Frank Cascio Tyson are also in the room, along with his brother and his sister.

It's at this point that the defendant, Michael Jackson, introduces Ronald Konitzer and Dieter Weizner to Janet Arvizo. And it is the defendant, Michael Jackson, who instructs Janet Arvizo to "Do everything that Ronald and Dieter tell you to do." It is Jackson who concludes by saying to Janet Arvizo, "These are the ones that are going to make the threats go away."

It was for that reason, trusting the defendant and trusting what he said, that Janet Arvizo agreed to the request by Weizner and Konitzer to sign two blank pieces of paper with her signature, one on the 6th and one on the 7th before they left.

Unbeknownst to her, and without her permission, that blank signature on the bottom of that page ended up having a typed part at the top saying that she authorized and joined in Michael Jackson's lawsuit or complaint to the British Standards Commission against Bashir. She had never been consulted on that and had never agreed to have her signature used in that capacity.

There was some other significant events that occurred on the day of the 6th and just before the evening of the 20/20 broadcast. It's clear from the testimony of a number of different people who will testify in this lawsuit that Michael Jackson was adamant about one thing: He was adamant that no one was going to watch the "Living with Michael Jackson" broadcast that night. They were prohibited. And they didn't. Except that at one point in time, Janet Arvizo decided she'd like to see it, and she went down to her room.

When they found out that she had left, they sent somebody down to get her, and brought her back up to Jackson's room so she couldn't see the documentary.

Another thing happened on the 6th. It was the beginning of the efforts by the people who would make this thing go away, Konitzer and Weizner, to convince Janet to participate in the rebuttal and to say nice things about Jackson.

And there's no coincidence that the same people who were involved in these efforts in Miami, you will learn in a few moments, or a few minutes, to be candid, that these are the same people involved in the attempts, once they're at Neverland Ranch, to get the same interview, and the same remarks, and the same support for Michael Jackson.

It began in Miami, but they weren't making any progress.

Konitzer and Weizner echoed the same words, almost word for word, that Michael Jackson said about there being threats, only this time they expanded the threat not only from Gavin, but to the entire family.

One of the other things that happened was during the time that they were in Miami, they released a press release quoting Janet Arvizo attacking Bashir and supporting the defendant.

Janet Arvizo will tell you she never was asked about that press release. She never gave authority and knew nothing about it. Ian Drew, another member of this, that was hired by the co-conspirators, who is also involved in production of videos, an interviewer of some note, will tell you that he was contacted while he was in Miami during the time everybody was there on the 6th and 7th. He was contacted by Weizner, and he was contacted by Konitzer and particularly Weizner. And Weizner told him, "Call Marc Schaffel. We want you to be a part of this network broadcast program as one of the interviewers," and that the Arvizo family was to be one of the key parts of it.

Ladies and gentlemen, there's another thing that happened in Miami, and this is where the attempts by the co-conspirators to enlist the support of the Arvizo family, to isolate them and to control them, converged with the infatuation of the defendant with Gavin Arvizo.

And you will learn that in addition to having Gavin Arvizo come to Miami, Florida, that on the day of the 6th, almost immediately when Gavin was in the presidential suite, that Jackson beckoned him, beckoned him to come back in his room. And he closed the door, and he began to reacquaint himself with Jackson, between Jackson and Gavin, and they were having conversations.

And he talked, and he remembered that Gavin wanted to be an -- in entertainment. And he said, "Why don't we pretend like this is an audition. And why don't we do this: Why don't we have a cussing contest, and we'll use cuss words. I'll use a cuss word, you use a cuss word. We'll just go back and forth. You pretend like it's an audition," and he did.

Well, the cuss words escalated until they involved very sexually graphic cuss words that I'm sure all of you have heard on a number of occasions, on the playground or the gym, or other places.

It was interrupted when one of the nannies walked into the room. It was the first step in desensitizing the boy. It was the first step in introducing him again to the no-rules, no-restrictions and no-wants world of the defendant and Neverland Ranch.

In addition to this, it was on this occasion and on this day and in that room that the defendant later took Gavin Arvizo aside and brought him into the room and offered him wine, wine that the defendant was drinking out of a Diet Coke can.

Gavin Arvizo will tell you that when he woke up the next morning, he had a stomachache and he had a headache. Doesn't that sound familiar.

And his brothers and sisters will tell you on that particular night, on the 6th, that Gavin was acting very weird. He was acting out of character, and he was very talkative.

Other things that happened during the next few days to cement this relationship were further furnishing of alcohol to not only Gavin, but to Star. And in the attempt to create this trust bond between the defendant and this child, who already, and had in the past, referred to him as "Daddy," and "Daddy Michael," he gave him presents. He gave him his jacket. He gave him a watch that was purportedly worth $75,000, which it wasn't. And it was cemented through other acts of kindness and generosity on his part to the child and to the child's family.

On the following day, everybody left Turnberry. So we're now, from the point where the video was shown for the first time on the 3rd, it was shown in America on the 6th, and it's now the morning of the 7th, and we're still at The Turnberry. And there's one final last thing that happened. Chris Tucker had arranged that the ladies, meaning Davallin Arvizo and Janet Arvizo, were taken down to the salon and were able to have a pedicure. And these boys, who were at this time 12 and 13 years old, were taken in and were given a massage. Having pedicured them and massaged them, they were told to pack and that they were leaving and they were taken to the airport.

And when they got to the airport, there was one final problem: Janet Arvizo was told she was not to be on the chartered jet taking the family back to California. She was to take a flight the next day.

I don't think it takes a whole lot of imagination to figure what your reaction would be to that, or what her reaction to that was. "It ain't going to happen." And it didn't happen.

So eventually one of the bodyguards had to get off the charter flight, Janet Arvizo was on it, and the flight left Miami.

Now, the flight itself was highlighted by a number of events. It was highlighted by the fact that there was more drinking. The stewardesses will tell you unequivocally, without hesitation and without contradiction, that on that flight with these boys, that she served alcohol in those cans full of wine. And the boys drank, especially Gavin. They will also tell you it was during this time that the defendant, as both the brother and the sister will tell you, would lean over and whisper in Gavin's ear, and Gavin would lean over and whisper in the defendant's ear, like a conspiracy. And that at one point in time after the leaning over and the whispering in each ear, the defendant gave him the jacket. And on another occasion, he gave him the watch.

And Gavin will tell you what all that was about was the defendant swearing him to secrecy not to tell anybody about the wine. The presents were, in effect, a bribe for that secrecy.

They'll tell you at least two other incidents during the time of the call -- during the time of this flight back to Neverland -- and by the way, I didn't say it, but I should, should tell you who else was on that plane. There were two other children, the brother and sister of Frank Tyson Cascio. There were nannies. There were Michael Jackson's children. And there was a physician by the name of Al-Farschian who was also on that flight.

During the flight, after the kids had consumed the alcoholic beverages, the defendant and Gavin began to make crank calls using the plane's telephone system. They would call people, just at random numbers, and make various crass and crude remarks and then hang up. That happened.

On another occasion during the flight, after Gavin had gone to sleep and put his head on Jackson's shoulder, both the mother and the brother observed Jackson to be caressing the face of Gavin Arvizo with his hands and to reach over and to lick his forehead with his tongue. They will tell you that they thought that at that point in time Jackson was also intoxicated.

The plane landed in Santa Barbara. Michael Jackson's chartered plane landed in Santa Barbara. It didn't take the family back to their home. A limousine was there, and the limousine took them to Michael Jackson's secluded and isolated ranch, not back to the apartment on Soto Street. There was never a press conference held in Miami. None.

Zero.

Once at Neverland Ranch, the experiences of the mother and the daughter and the two Arvizo boys were quite different. And they couldn't be more contrasting. For the boys, there was no school. There was no homework. They had free rein at Neverland. The arcade, the cars, the amusement park, the theater, the toys. They, in effect, had the undivided attention of Michael Jackson. They slept in his bed. They enjoyed his wine, enjoyed his magazines that I've described previously, and they dominated his attention.

And I don't think it takes a whole lot of imagination for you, or for anybody else in this world, to imagine that for young 12- and 13-year-old boys, it just doesn't get much better than that.

Meanwhile, Janet Arvizo and Davallin Arvizo, their experiences were quite different.

Now, let me pause for just a second and just give you a quick bio about Davallin Arvizo.

Davallin is the older sister of these two boys, and the first child of Janet Arvizo. Davallin, at the time of these events, was approximately 14 or 15 years old, and she was a high school student at Monte Vista High School in El Monte.

Now, Davallin now will tell you that she has graduated from high school. And that also at the time of these events back in the summer when some of the events were going on, that she was a member of the Los Angeles Police Department Academy, because she wants to be a forensic scientist, crime scene investigator, and that she's taking classes in that regard right now at City College and maintaining a full-time job.

Davallin and Janet Arvizo were placed in the guest cottages that I described to you. Janet will tell you, Janet Arvizo, that she rarely, if ever, left the guest cottage. That will be confirmed not only by her children, but by the ranch employees.

Janet became a recluse. She didn't leave the cottage on hardly any occasion.

Davallin, for her part, rarely saw the boys. They were off with Jackson, and it was a boys' thing and girls weren't invited. And they made it very clear that she wasn't to be invited.

On the one occasion that she was brought into -- she was able to follow the boys into Jackson's bedroom, she'll describe to you that incident and how eventually she had to leave, because it became very uncomfortable and very obvious that they did not want her around. She was a girl.

She'll tell you how this family that was so close and had bonded so much together because of the adversity that they had felt and experienced through so many things with their family, with their father, with the divorce, with the sex -- with the physical abuse of the father that was on both the children and on the mother that they witnessed and experienced, they were a close family. And she could see the boys being pulled apart and that she was no longer a part of their world.

At the same time now this family is at Neverland. This is the 7th, the 8th, the 9th, the 10th, the 11th and the 12th of February. At the same time, the co-conspirators begin to travel to California, they begin to travel to Los Angeles, and they begin to travel to Neverland Ranch. The first to arrive is Dieter Weizner. He arrives on the 8th.

He flies into LAX from Miami and he immediately goes to the ranch. And the ranch logs confirm that he's on the ranch, and he's there for days.

On the 10th, Ronald Konitzer from Vancouver, and Frank Tyson and Vinnie Amen arrive almost within like three or four minutes. Konitzer goes to the ranch. Tyson and Vinnie originally go to Schaffel's place. Vinnie Amen is put to work. He's hired. He's on the payroll for the conspirators.

Meanwhile, some other things are happening. And what's happening is we're now at the point in time, ladies and gentlemen, where the 20/20 program has occurred. We're now at the program where the Jackson team is planning the network production that was sold eventually to FOX T.V. for $3 million to be aired on the 20th. Now, between that period and the 20th of February, the crisis continues to get worse, not better. And not because of Bashir or the documentary.

What happens is kind of the things that Mr. Mesereau talked about in his statements to you during voir dire. The media sees the hot topic. CBS, not to be outdone by ABC, has an Ed Bradley program and an interview with the defendant. NBC, not to be outdone by either one of them, has a program called Dateline, which is another very, very, very bad piece about the defendant.

At the same time as that's going on during this two-week period, a website called smokinggun.com decides to publish documents involving some litigation involving the defendant --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. SNEDDON: I'm sorry.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. SNEDDON: It's about this time that Ann Gabriel is added to the team and about this time she begins to participate in conference calls with Schaffel, Konitzer, Mark Geragos, David LeGrand, and other people associated with this, the events that occurred here.

The other thing that was found during the course of the search warrant at Marc Schaffel's residence is the fact that I spoke to you about the FOX film that was going to be shown on the 20th. There are clearly documents which reflect the fact that the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson, was in partners with Marc Schaffel, Dieter Weizner, Ronald Konitzer in this production and the distribution of the shares of the moneys from that production.

There's another thing that the testimony and the evidence is going to show in this case that was different between the experiences of the boys, who were spending their time with Michael Jackson, and Janet Arvizo. During this time period, from the 7th of February till the 12th of February, Ronald Konitzer and Dieter Weizner were trying to convince Janet Arvizo to participate in the promised footage for the February 20th production. We know this not only from e-mails and records and documents, but we know it from Michael Jackson's own personal videographer, Hamid Moslehi.

The fact of the matter is, they attempted to try to encourage her, much as they did in Miami. And then it became quite confrontational. They had scripts that they showed her. They tried to convince her to participate, and she would not. They told her that people went out to the school, that they were in danger, and people were looking for the children at the school. They went out and said that these were the only people who could protect them from these fictitious killers or people who were threatening throughout the community and that they needed to stay at the ranch to be isolated from that danger. As I said, they were presented with scripts.

Now, you don't need, and you will not have to take the word of the Arvizo family that the eventual interview that took place on the 19th and 20th was scripted.

You will hear testimony from Christopher Robinson -- Christian Robinson that, in fact, he worked on the script with Schaffel and a lawyer, and that others saw the script and heard the conversations over the telephone, including Rudy Provencio. And Janet was refusing to participate.

On one day things came to a crisis and Dieter Weizner asked that Gavin Arvizo give him the watch back. He said they would put it in a safe place, they would keep it for him, and they would give it back to him later. They gave no reason for wanting to get the watch all of a sudden.

Gavin refused. And Janet Arvizo refused.

And things became so tense that the family was going to attempt to try to leave the ranch.

Now, this is probably a very good time to talk a little bit about the person you've heard so much about, and the person that I can tell you probably unequivocally will be on the witness stand in this case up there for a number of days during this trial. It's the mother of Gavin Arvizo and Star Arvizo and Davallin Arvizo, Janet.

And let me tell you a little bit about what I think that the testimony and the evidence in this case is going to disclose about Janet Arvizo.

She was married at 16. She had three children by the time she was 21. She was in a violently abusive, physically abusive relationship with her husband for 16 years. Not only physically abusive to her but to her children when they'd try to come to her defense.

I think you will see, through the testimony and the evidence presented here, that she presents as someone who's somewhat insecure, somewhat dependent, easily influenced, and at times can be adamant and quite emotional and determined. Heavily religious, and personally overly affectionate.

I think you will see and get a sense of Janet Arvizo from the tape-recorded conversations not only with Frank Tyson, but a later conversation I'll discuss with you in a few moments by a private investigator hired by the Jackson camp, Brad Miller.

That she speaks fondly of love and affection, that she desperately wants to be loved and her family to be loved, and to be part of a family that they weren't able to have because of the fact that there was no father in the particular family at this time.

That she's taught her children to do something which, to a lot of people, kind of sets them off, and that is that when they greet you, instead of giving you their hand, they like to hug you and say they're glad to meet you. Some people are not used to, on a first occasion or encounter, to that kind of a greeting. But that's the kind of person that Janet Arvizo is and that's the kind of things that she instills in her family.

The testimony and the evidence in this case will show you, like virtually every one of us in our life, that she's made mistakes, that she's done things that were wrong. The testimony will show in this particular case that, in fact, on one occasion during the lawsuit that she lied in a deposition. She was asked whether her husband ever beat her, and she lied. Because she knew at that point in time nobody knew it except for her and the children. And that if she had to admit the truth, she most certainly would get another beating. She lied under oath.

It's true also that she obtained welfare funds when she wasn't entitled to them. She's going to tell you that, and she's going to admit that. It's not a large amount of money. But she did it. And it was wrong. And she knows it was wrong.

She's not a person, as you will see from the testimony and the evidence in this case, that made necessarily the kinds of decisions that you, or you, or you would have made during the facts or circumstances of this case. But none of us can put ourself in her place.

But we're going to help you -- we're going to help you in that respect, by having an expert come in and testify to you to what it's like to be a person -- to be in a relationship that's abusive for 16 years, and how that affects their judgment system and the reaction to certain things.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, you approved that.

THE COURT: No, I didn't. I haven't ruled on it.

MR. SNEDDON: I think one of the things that also will be shown throughout this trial about Janet Arvizo is that on these same tapes that I referred to with Frank Tyson and Vinnie Amen, that she, without hesitation, over and over and over again during the events and the times that these things happened, expressed open admiration for the defendant, open love for the defendant and appreciation for what the defendant had done for the family; that she trusted him; that she loved him in that kind of a respectful way.

She never talked about suing Michael Jackson. And she will tell you today on the witness stand here that even though her attitude towards Michael Jackson is no longer loving and no longer respectful, or no longer does she feel him the father figure in her life, that she's bitter about what happened, she will tell you that she wants not one penny from the defendant in this case. She will tell you, "I do not want the devil's money."

As I told you, the situation degenerated pretty badly. And on the 12th, Janet Arvizo went up to Jesus Salas and, speaking in Spanish between the two of them, she asked Salas if she could take them, the family, from the ranch. And he said, "Yes."

She had asked to leave before, but was denied by Dieter and Ronald the ability to leave. Jesus grabs a car and takes them down to Los Angeles. It isn't until the following morning that the co-conspirators and Michael Jackson learn that the Arvizo family has fled the ranch. And the second explosion occurs within the Jackson camp.

Ann Gabriel will tell you about a conversation early in the morning that she received by an agitated and concerned Marc Schaffel about the fact that he described the Arvizo's flight from the ranch as a disaster.

She will later tell you about a second conversation where Schaffel called and was much relieved to say that the situation -- that they had contained the situation.

You will soon learn, after we take -- I think, Your Honor, we're going to take a break at 11:30; is that correct.

THE COURT: Correct.

MR. SNEDDON: -- after the break, just exactly what it meant to have the situation "contained."

But let me tell you that the evidence that will be presented in this case through the telephone records that have been subpoenaed and obtained through search warrants will show you that the lines burned off their hooks between the co-conspirators, Michael Jackson, Neverland Ranch, and some of the parties involved in the conspiracy.

THE COURT: All right. We'll take our 11:30 break.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Mr. Sneddon.

MR. SNEDDON: We're now at that point in time where the Arvizo family is off of the Neverland Valley Ranch premises. And they're at, originally, their grandparents, where they were taken by Jesus Salas. And then eventually Janet Arvizo and the boys end up over at Major Jay Jackson's apartment in West Los Angeles.

The first contact between the co-conspirators and Janet Arvizo in their attempts to get the Arvizo family to come back to the ranch occurred in the early morning hours of the 13th out here and the 14th in New Jersey. And they occurred between Frank Tyson Cascio and Janet Arvizo. And there were three calls that were placed at right around 1:45 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Between that call on that date and that time and February 17th, when the Arvizo family finally returned to Neverland Valley Ranch, there were over 40 telephone calls between Janet Arvizo and Frank Tyson Cascio, with Cascio trying to convince Janet Arvizo to return to the ranch.

Now, there is one particular conversation that probably will be of interest to you. And the reason that we can provide this information to you was that it was a tape that was found in Private Investigator Brad Miller's office when the sheriff's department executed a search warrant. And it is obviously a surreptitiously tape-recorded conversation between Frank Tyson, on one end, who is in New Jersey at this point in time, and Janet Arvizo, who is in Los Angeles at this point in time, and the family, who is not on the ranch at this particular point in time.

The conversation lasted approximately 19 minutes. And I'm not going to go into the whole conversation itself, because you will hear it played here in the courtroom and you can make of it what you want. But the highlights of that conversation, I believe, are as follows:

Frank Tyson acknowledges the high pressure and threatening tactics of Dieter Weizner and Ronald Konitzer over and over again on this tape. Janet Arvizo is heard to complain about those two individuals. And Frank Tyson is over and over again heard to say, "They're businessmen. They're businessmen. They don't know about family. Don't take it that way."

Tyson promises Janet, and he promises Gavin, when Gavin complains about these two individuals, he promises that if they come back to the ranch, that neither one of them will be there. In fact, he goes farther than that. He says, "They're already gone, and you won't have to deal with them, so please come back to the ranch, Janet."

The third part of the conversation you will hear, that he is so willing and working so hard to try to get Janet back to the ranch during this conversation, that when he asks her what she's going to do this weekend, and she says, "I'm going to go to church," he says to her, "Oh, whoa, come back to the ranch. I'll take you to church here in Santa Ynez." He's in New Jersey, and he's telling her that.

Tyson implores Janet Arvizo to do the video. "Do the video and say beautiful things about Michael Jackson." He reiterates the scare tactics that we've heard from Miami and from the ranch, from Dieter and from Michael Jackson, from Ronald Konitzer; that it's dangerous out there for the family to be away from the ranch; that there are evil people out there; and only they and only the ranch can protect them. "Come back to the ranch."

He expresses to Janet, on behalf of Jackson, how much Jackson misses them, how much he feels that they're family, how much Jackson loves them and how much Michael Jackson wants this family back on the ranch. You betcha.

He goes further than that. He reminds Janet Arvizo that when the tape is done, the tape they want, that there will be a trip to Brazil, and there will be pleasure for everyone. And that Michael Jackson, the defendant in this case, will join them there.

Well, it doesn't work. She's not convinced.

But they are persistent. There are more calls. There are 21 calls between Michael Tyson and the other co-conspirators, including Marc Schaffel. And between Tyson and Brad Miller, there's another 15. And there's numerous calls between Schaffel and the ranch, and the ranch and other people involved in this conspiracy.

That the defendant is actively involved in this counteroffensive. I think I've mentioned to you already the testimony of Rudy Provencio about him being present during conversations between Marc Schaffel and the defendant.

There are other indications of that. The fact that the defendant himself was the one who called his ex-wife and surrogate mother to his children, Debbie Rowe. And it was Michael Jackson that asked Debbie Rowe to participate in part of the FOX network interview.

Chris Carter, Jackson's own security guard, and Davallin Arvizo will tell you that during this period of time, often they observed the defendant, Michael Jackson, Dieter Weizner and Ronald Konitzer huddled up in meetings in Michael Jackson's office. And that this was a consistent thing that was going on during this period of time when the crisis was raging uncontrolled.

Debbie Rowe will testify to some interesting evidence in this case. She's going to tell you that her interview was also scripted, only a little bit different from the Arvizos, because they took her upstairs and did a complete rehearsal before they ever brought her down to be interviewed. And when she's doing the interview, when they didn't like her answers, they would stop the tape and they would tell her how to answer that.

If you don't believe Debbie Rowe, you don't have to, because her attorney, who was present during the entire time, is going to testify that that's exactly what they did. They scripted that interview, just like they scripted the Arvizo interview.

As part of the attempt to get Janet back to the ranch and part of the attempts to provide statements from the Arvizo family, Private Detective Brad Miller was sent over to the Arvizos' house on the 16th. This is now Sunday. And she is -- and he is let into the house by the Arvizos, because Frank Tyson has told them that he's coming.

When he arrives, he has a cell phone, and he has Frank Tyson on the phone. And Frank convinces Janet to give him a statement. You'll hear that. Because that statement is also on a tape that was seized during the search warrant of his office.

It's kind of an interesting conversation, because what you'll see and what you'll hear from experts that are going to be called, when that tape was sent out to be examined by experts, that that tape has all kinds of blanks in it, and that it was edited, and that it was stopped and it was started, which is entirely consistent exactly with what the Arvizo family will tell you. When Brad Miller didn't like an answer, he would stop it, he would erase it, he would go back, and he would tell them what to say.

It's now been what must seem like an eternity to you, but it's only been two weeks in the life of the Arvizo family, because it's the 17th. And -- but the school officials are getting very antsy. They're also getting pressure by the media. "What are you doing about this. What are you doing about this."

So the principal of John Burroughs Middle School, where the Arvizo boys were students, contacts the Los Angeles Department of Child & Family Services and lodges a complaint and asks them to look into the allegations of whether Janet Arvizo is a fit mother and what -- what is the nature of their relationship between the defendant in this case and the Arvizo boys.

On the 17th, the social workers from that department called up Mrs. Arvizo and said that they wanted a meeting, and they wanted to see the boys and the family. And the meeting was set for Thursday, and it was set for the 20th.

Shortly after that, one of Michael Jackson's employees picks up the Arvizo family. She's finally decided to go back to the ranch. They take her back to the ranch. And when she gets to the ranch that evening, she gets out of the car, and who do you think she sees. Dieter Weizner and Ronald Konitzer.

She's been deceived. She's angry. She's upset. She insists that they want to go home. They don't want to be at the ranch. They don't want to be around these people and they want to leave. And Weizner and Konitzer tell her flat out, "You can go wherever you want, but your children are not leaving this ranch."

And that's what happened. Security Guard Chris Carter then took her in one of the ranch vehicles back to Los Angeles and back to Jay Jackson -- Major Jackson 's apartment. And he will describe to you the trip. And he'll tell you that Janet was upset, that she was crying. She had her head down, and she was praying almost the entire way to Los Angeles.

During the time that the mother is in the car being transported back to Los Angeles, of course the boys gravitate right back to the defendant, Michael Jackson. They begin drinking. They begin sleeping in his bed.

For Davallin, it becomes an isolation now. She's the only woman on the ranch and she's by herself in one of the guest cottages.

What happens next is, when Janet gets back home, she then calls, a few days later, Frank Tyson Cascio and says to him, "I need the boys and Davallin for the meeting with the social workers on Thursday, the 20th." And it's at this point in time that the conversation occurs that I referenced earlier this morning. "No children; no video. Give us the video; we'll give you the children." She agrees. And that's when the video is done.

Now, let me talk to you a little bit about the video itself. Shortly before the children -- now, you have to understand the children are at the ranch, and she's in West Los Angeles.

And shortly before Hamid takes them to his house in Calabasas for the filming, they are brought into the residence and one last time Dieter Weizner shows them a script, a written script, and tells them what they have to say about Michael Jackson, the good things that need to be said about Michael. They're told -- Janet is told by Tyson that if the family does a really good job in the interview, and if they do a really good job in talking to the social workers, that the family can leave the ranch. "Do a really good job."

All right. So what happens.

They do the video. And you're going to see the video. And let me tell you a little bit about the video right now. There are parts of the video that you can see are over the top. You will see Janet Arvizo and the children, particularly Gavin, very flattering, very bubbly, very out of character for the situation they're in. You will see the children say things about Michael Jackson that they will tell you are lies, that are not true. They will tell you that they said on the video that Michael Jackson -- that they had his phone number at all times and could contact him any day or night. They'll tell you that's not true, they didn't have his phone number, and hadn't had his phone number for a long, long, long time. They'll tell you that's a lie.

That Michael Jackson helped them do their homework. They never did any homework when they were there. In fact, their books were found, during the search warrant, up in a video room which is adjacent to the house. They never did any homework, much less have Michael Jackson help them with it.

They will tell you that Michael Jackson never really helped Gavin with his cancer. That, in fact, Michael Jackson, after a short time period, had had very little contact with Gavin during his fight with cancer.

In the beginning he was and did support Gavin. But in the later months, he wasn't around. He'll tell you that's a lie.

What is the truth, though, is that both -- at least insofar as Janet Arvizo is concerned, but at least insofar as Gavin was concerned especially, that Gavin's statements on that video probably express his feelings towards Michael Jackson at this particular point in life.

And exemplary of that is the fact that you will hear that what happened when they left the ranch on the 12th and they got to their grandparents' house, that he blew up, that he threw a tantrum, that he raged, that he didn't want to be there, and he wanted to be back on the ranch, and he wanted to be with Michael Jackson.

That was his attitude. And that was the pervasive effect of the defendant on this child of 13.

As I told you before, the video was completed sometime in the early morning hours of the 20th. We're now at February 20th. We're now taking these children over to the residence of Major Jay Jackson and we're now talking about a fact that the social workers are going to be there on the 20th.

Let me tell you what happens on the morning of the 20th at this apartment.

First of all, before the social workers show up, one of the first people who arrived is a security guard named Asaf Vilchic. Big, hulking guy. And he's there to represent the Jackson team. And he's identified as a security guard. He's really there to make sure what happens. Also in the room at that time are some friends of the Arvizos. Actually Chris Tucker's girlfriend, who Miss Arvizo calls and asks to come over for support.

There is a period of time in the room where the security guard tells Janet Arvizo that he wants the interview tape-recorded, and asks her to hide the tape on her person, and goes farther than that, and he tells her, "Don't turn it off, because there's another one in the room and we're going to hear what went on anyhow."

And you're going to hear parts of that tape. Not very much. Enough to confirm and to corroborate what Janet Arvizo tells you about what happened in that room, and tells you about that investigator, and tells you about that tape-recorder.

Now, the social workers arrive, and they're ready for their interview. And at that point, they're introduced to this private investigator, who's there on behalf of Michael Jackson. And they say to the people who are there, "All of you folks have to leave, except for the family and the mother."

And Janet Arvizo says, "No, no, I want them to stay." And the social workers say no, because that's what she was told to say beforehand.

Now, they're told to leave and they do leave, and then the interview proceeds. But before the interview proceeds, there's a disk, a DVD, and it's a DVD of when Gavin Arvizo visited Michael Jackson back in the year 2000. And you'll see that DVD. I'll play that DVD and you'll see what Gavin looked like at that time. And it's not a pretty sight. He was in the ravages of his cancer, full-blown, at that particular point in time.

The social workers begin their conversations with the family. And there are two aspects to the conversation. The first aspect is simply for them to determine whether these kids are being cared for properly by the mother in this case, Janet Arvizo. That is put to rest almost immediately. I mean, these are social workers from Los Angeles. They see that these kids are well kept. There's no bruises, there's no scars. They're articulate. They're satisfied. And they write that in their report. "Well taken care of. Fit mother."

And then they get to the part where they ask about what happens at Neverland Ranch and they ask about the kids' relationship with Michael Jackson. And the family repeats a lot of the things that were said during the video the night before, but they add some things to it this time, because now for the first time they're asked to give explanations for why the boys would be sleeping with Michael Jackson in his bedroom and in his bed that were never asked on the tape the night before.

Now, for their part, the Department of Social Services workers apparently were not alarmed by the fact that there was an investigator there, and nor were they alarmed by the fact that when the children spoke, they spoke almost the same exact words each time in describing Michael Jackson.

But then what happened was the addition of this information that dealt specifically with the inappropriate conduct. And here's where the family added some things that were pretty preposterous, if you know anything about the way Neverland Valley Ranch operates, and they could have been objectively determined to be not true, like the logs and the employees of that particular ranch.

Statements by the family were the children were never alone with Mr. Jackson. There was always an adult with them. The children never shared a bed with Michael Jackson. Mrs. Arvizo specifically told the social workers she was usually up walking around the house all night. Not only was she not walking around the house, she was never in the house. She was in a guest cottage. And the Neverland Valley Ranch logs show that.

Gavin Arvizo stated that his mother went in and out of Jackson's bedroom all the time and was always around to know what was going on. And Janet Arvizo, in fact, has never been in Jackson's bedroom, ever. Both Star and Gavin deny ever sleeping in Jackson's bed with Jackson or ever having any inappropriate contact with him. Star added to this, that his mother was always present in Michael Jackson's bedroom.

Davallin Arvizo, for her part, added that she stayed in the house and that she had a friend of hers from school staying there in the main house in a room down the hall, and that her mother always knew what was going on.

Well, as I said, the Neverland Ranch records and the employees who were Jackson employees, by the way, will confirm that the truth, like so many things in this case, is quite different.

The truth is that they never stayed in the house. The truth is that Janet Arvizo rarely left the guest cottage, much less walked around the house at night. And the truth is both Janet Arvizo and Davallin rarely saw the boys, because they were with Michael Jackson. And the truth is that Janet Arvizo was off the ranch between the 17th and the 20th, and between the 10th and the 12th of March. And the truth is that the boys will testify that they were constantly spending the night in Michael Jackson's bed, and Davallin will tell you they were not staying in the guest cottage.

After the social workers left, the children got in the car, and they were taken back to Neverland Ranch. And Mrs. Arvizo was with Vinnie Amen. And Vinnie Amen placed a call to Frank Tyson to find out whether the video was acceptable and whether the interview with the social workers was okay. And she was told no, it wasn't enough. It wasn't good enough. "And now you folks are going to Brazil."

Well, on the very day, the 20th, records will show that Vinnie Amen took Janet Arvizo to Norwalk to get duplicates of birth certificates, and pay the money for that and pay for the expedited process of that. Those certificates, birth certificates, were picked up on the 20th.

Detective Craig Bonner of the Santa Barbara Sheriff's Department is going to testify in this case, and he's going to tell you about being present during the execution of the search warrant at Marc Schaffel's. And he's going to tell you about what he found there. And he's going to tell you that he found a black binder. And in that black binder, he found information about the -- and this is not me -- this is the Arvizo "vacation," in quotes, expenses. There's also a floppy disk. And the floppy disk contains a complete printout of probably seven or eight pages of all the money that was expended --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Objection.

THE COURT: Reason.

MR. MESEREAU: No visuals.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I'll take it down, Judge. That's --

THE COURT: That's all right. You were just waving a paper. That's --

MR. SNEDDON: It's a seven- or eight-page expense account. You're going to see it. You don't need me to tell you about it, but I can tell you that it outlines virtually every movement, every movement of this family with Frank Tyson and Vinnie Amen that was being directed from Marc Schaffel's residence in nearby Calabasas.

Because you see what happens was, this family was taken from the ranch on the 25th of February, and they were put up in the Calabasas Inn, and they were put up under the watchful eye of Amen and Tyson, and a security guard was placed in the lobby to make sure they didn't go anywhere. That security guard is the same security guard that was present when the DSS workers from L.A. arrived on the 20th at Jay Jackson's place.

Let me tell you about a few of the things that happened - quickly - between the 25th and March 2nd on the preparation of this trip of the Arvizos to go to Brazil, because I think you'll find some of it quite interesting.

One of the things that was done is that Vinnie Amen goes to school, to the John Burroughs School, and checks the children out. And he pays $123 for missing books. And he puts on the checkout form that the family's moving to Arizona.

And then on another day, he goes down and gets passports for the family. He has to pay extra money to get expedited passports. And when he goes to fill out the passports, he tells the government officials, the United States government officials, the custom officials, that the family is going to Italy or France.

And then, when he later goes over to the Brazilian consulate, of course he tells them they're going to Brazil. And, in fact, the Brazilian consulate would not issue visas for them to go to Brazil without confirmed airline tickets, which were procured by MJJ Productions, through MJJ Productions' Heir Apparent, the company they always do business with.

And you'll see those records. You don't have to take my word for it.

You will find out that during this same period of time, the family's possessions, what little possessions they had, were put in storage. They were taken to Dino's Storage. They didn't where know they were taken. They just know they were taken. They were moved, lock, stock and barrel, out of their apartment and the rent that was due for two months was paid by Vinnie Amen, the moneys that were advanced by Marc Schaffel out of the Neverland Valley Entertainment business account on the partnership between the defendant in this case and Marc Schaffel.

You'll also learn when you see this document that the family was treated to some movies. They were treated to meals. That, in fact, Janet Arvizo was taken to a beauty shop for whatever you lovely ladies do at beauty shops. And that the boys and Davallin and Janet were bought clothes, because they didn't have any clothes because all their stuff had been put in storage. And there was probably over $2,000 in suitcases, because they didn't have any suitcases, and new clothes for the trip to Brazil.

All during this time that they were at the Calabasas Inn, with the security guard in the lobby and Vinnie Amen and Frank Tyson there.

Well, the mission was accomplished and all arrangements were made, ready to go to Brazil. And by the way, they didn't want to go to Brazil. You'll learn that. It was not their idea. And they are taken back to the ranch. And this is March 2nd.

And the logs show they were brought back to the ranch. I don't think there will be any dispute to that.

Now, let me just back up a bit, because I think you're going to find it interesting what the evidence will show in this respect.

On the -- on the 28th of February, the defendant, Michael Jackson, is in the Los Angeles area, and the ranch. He actually flies on the 28th to Miami, Florida. Now, it's only 28 days, so we're now talking about March 1st. On March 1st, his family, with Security Guard Chris Carter, flew from Los Angeles to Miami, okay. We have records to prove it. We can show who went on the plane. We can show the cancelled tickets. We can show all these were booked through MJJ Productions.

The interesting part about it, however, is that Chris Carter, the security guard who flew with the family on the 1st and arrived in Miami around six o'clock in the morning on the 2nd, an hour and a half later gets on a plane with the defendant, Michael Jackson, and flies back to L.A, and they go to Neverland Ranch where the Arvizos are.

I believe that the records from the ranch logs and the testimony from individuals involved here will show that from basically March the 2nd to March the 5th, that the defendant and the Arvizos were on the ranch together. That again, from March 9th until March 12th, when the Arvizos left for the last time, that the Jackson -- Michael Jackson, the defendant in this case, was present.

Let me tell you how this all comes to a head. The boys are back at the ranch now. Janet Arvizo is back at the ranch. And many of the things that I told you earlier in the morning that I talked about - and I'm not going to go into repeating all those things - the things that had to do with the display of the magazines and the unusual sexual conduct and some of those other things, occurred during this period of time.

And one of the things that I think that you're going to want to ask yourself in connection with the allegations in the Indictment alleging that the alcohol was used in the commission of these offenses is, why would any adult give alcohol to a minor. But more importantly, why would any adult give alcohol to a cancer survivor with one kidney.

And I think the answer is rather apparent, based upon what I've indicated to you the testimony and evidence will show occurred on that ranch between the boys and Michael Jackson, and what the ultimate effect and impact of it was on their lives in terms of their being molested, or Gavin being molested.

One final crisis occurred on the ranch, if you could believe that. On the 9th, when everybody's back at the ranch, Gavin tells the defendant, "I'm worried."

"Why."

"Because I got a doctor's appointment tomorrow. And I have to take to the doctor one of these two-quart urine specimens so they can check and see if my kidney's working okay."

I'm sure you're thinking what he was thinking. Well, if you're going to show urine and they're going to do tests, it may show that he had alcohol in his system. And both the defendant in this case and Gavin were worried that that urine specimen was going to show that this child was being provided with alcohol.

The defendant tries to talk Gavin into not going to his doctor's appointment, and Gavin says, "It won't do you any good. My mother is adamant. I will be going to that appointment." He's worried. So he calls his mother, and he confesses to the alcohol. She's irate. Just livid. And she sends Davallin over to try to get the boys from Jackson's room.

Davallin goes to the door and she pounds on the door and pounds on the door and nobody answers. She goes back and tells the mother she can't get through or nobody's there.

The following morning, Vinnie Amen is directed to take Gavin, Janet Arvizo, and the urine specimen to the Kaiser Hospital. When they make a stop on the way and they come back to the car, Vinnie Amen says that the urine specimen has been tipped over, the lid came off and it's been spilled. And there's now only a small amount of the urine left in the bottle. Of course Janet doesn't believe that because she's seen these jars and she knows how the lids go on 'em, and they don't fall off that way. If you've ever been in a hospital bed, you'll know they're the ones they put on the side with the caps. This is not something that comes off.

So she's had enough. They take the child -- and maybe for you, or some of you, it may have been enough a long time ago. But at least for her, it reached the point that, after the Kaiser visit to the hospital, she asks Vinnie Amen -- in fact, she didn't ask. She insisted that Vinnie Amen take her to the beauty parlor. Not because she wanted to get a manicure or pedicure or anything else. But it was a beauty parlor that was located very close to the place where Major Jay Jackson worked for the United States Army.

And the first thing she did was she got there, she got on the phone, and she called him and asked him to come down immediately. And he did. And she refused to go back to the ranch. And she didn't want Gavin going back to the ranch. And there were a number of calls between Frank Tyson and Vinnie Amen at that time.

And I can tell you, frankly and candidly, that Gavin wanted to go back to the ranch. And it was finally decided that Gavin would go back and she would not. And it was decided between -- as you will learn through the testimony and the evidence here, that it was at this point that the plan was made and discussed to try -- on how to get those kids off the ranch permanently. And that will unplay over here in the next couple of days.

Now, the other thing that happened on the 10th after the visit, after Vinnie Amen takes Gavin back to the ranch, is before they leave, Janet Arvizo says, and reminds him, "Listen, I have a court appearance tomorrow. I have a court appearance in my divorce with my husband. I need the kids in court. Will you bring the kids to court." He says, "Sure."

The next morning on the 11th when they show up to court, he's there; there's no kids.

She's really insistent now. What happens then is, although the kids are still back in the ranch and the same things are going on, and some of the events that I described to you previously are occurring right during this particular point in time, the fact of the matter is, they're serious about what they're going to do about this now.

So what they do is, Janet Arvizo calls Frank Tyson, and she says, "Listen, I'll agree to go to Brazil. I'll agree to cooperate. I'll make this an easy thing for all of you guys. But my father's sick and these children need to see their grandfather before this trip. So if you agree, let the children come over for one night to see the grandfather, I'll agree to come back to the ranch and we'll go to Brazil and this thing will be a done deal." And Tyson bit.

So what happened was on the 12th, the children were told to pack their bags and they packed their bags. And it's around noon, give or take a few minutes, or 15 minutes or 20 minutes, but it's around noon and the children are waiting to get in the car to leave.

But one last thing happens. Frank Tyson comes out and he says to Gavin, "You can't take your suitcase." And they say, "Why." He says, "You're not taking your suitcase. We'll give it to you later." The children get in the car, they're taken back to the home of the grandparents in Los Angeles.

Later, when that suitcase shows up, all of his underpants are missing and his tap dancing shoes.

Now, the family at that point is back away from the ranch. And they're not going back and they don't go back. But it doesn't stop there. Because what happens over the next few days is private investigators are sent down, telephone calls are made. They video-surveillance the kids coming and going from school. They had to involve the security officer from Davallin's high school because of the activities. Notes are slipped under the door, "Call Vinnie," all these kinds of conduct and behavior over the next few days. But Janet was adamant, "They're not going back to the ranch."

I think the way to conclude my remarks to you this morning are simply to talk to you about what Davallin Arvizo will tell you about her brother Gavin, and about what Davallin will tell you about Gavin's conduct after they left the ranch.

She will tell you it was like having a stranger for a brother. She will tell you that a family that used to love and hug and touch and be with each other, that he wouldn't let anybody in the family touch him. He would go like that (indicating); "Don't touch me. Don't touch me."

That he was explosive, that he was frustrated, and his conduct was not like the Gavin Arvizo that she knew before all of this stuff happened with the trip to Miami. She will tell you how he was silent and he was indifferent and how she wanted to have her brother back, and that it's taken a long time for her to get her brother back.

I'd like to conclude by thanking you for your patience and for your attention to what even in a profession which is known to be long-winded, was a very lengthy opening statement. It's extraordinary in its length, but this is an extraordinary case.

And the lives of these people will be affected forever. And the fact of the matter remains that no matter how complicated the events that I have unfolded to you here this morning and as they unfold over the next several months in this trial or how tragic it is to everybody involved in this situation, there's only one person responsible for the conduct and the consequences of what happened, and that person is sitting right here in the courtroom, and that's the defendant, Michael Joe Jackson.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you, Mr. Sneddon.

Mr. Sneddon, would you and Mr. Mesereau approach.

(To the jury) Which means you can talk to each other.

(Discussion held off the record at sidebar.)

THE COURT: That's a little more formal than me saying, "Cut it off."

All right. Mr. Mesereau, are you ready to proceed, or do you need another minute to gather --

MR. MESEREAU: Could I take one more minute, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You certainly may.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

I'm ready, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you very much. Good afternoon.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good afternoon.

MR. MESEREAU: I think it's afternoon. I get mixed up with this no break for lunch.

Ladies and gentlemen, as you know, my name is Tom Mesereau. And it is my honor and privilege to speak to you on behalf of Mr. Jackson. The prosecutor has outlined some very serious charges and made some very serious allegations, as you well know.

If he is to be believed, Mr. Jackson conspired to imprison a family, abduct children and extort. If he is to be believed, Mr. Jackson molested children, and gave a cancer-patient child alcohol to reduce his inhibitions and molest him. And I'm here to tell you that these charges are fictitious, they're bogus, and they never happened.

Now, an opening statement, as I think you all know, is generally thought to be an outline or a preview of what's to come. It's often described as a blueprint of what the evidence will be like in court.

I want to take it a step further, and I want to let all of you know that I think an opening statement is a contract. You make promises in an opening statement, you better fulfill them. Because at the end of the trial, the jury's going to know whether you did or didn't. And I say to you right now, I am going to make some promises in this case, I am going to fulfill them, and I want you to judge me accordingly at the end. These charges are fake, silly, ridiculous --

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object as argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Ladies and gentlemen, I have an organized opening statement for you. I'm going to take you through various topics. Who Mr. Jackson is, what Neverland is, how he met these people, what kind of lives they have led.

But I've decided, in light of what was just said, to start off with a couple of issues that I'd like you to think about throughout the trial. Because I'm going to prove exactly what I'm going to tell you now.

First of all, the Arvizo family is from Los Angeles. We are going to bring in witnesses to tell you about their behavior. For example, Janet and Gavin called Comedian Jay Leno and tried to get money from Mr. Leno. Mr. Leno has told the Santa Barbara police, "Something was wrong. They were looking for a mark. It sounded scripted. The mother was in the background, and I terminated the conversation."

Comedian George Lopez was approached by Gavin and Janet. He was asked for money. He didn't want to give money, and then they accused him of stealing $300 from Gavin's wallet.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object to that statement. The Court has a 403 ruling.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: An actress named Vernee Watson, who has appeared on Fresh Prince of Bel Air and the movie Antoine Fisher, met this family at a dance school. As soon as she met Janet and Gavin, they wanted to move into her house and wanted money. She refused.

A comedian named Louise Palanker was approached by Janet, told they needed money for medical bills and living expenses. She was not told that insurance was covering all the medical bills. She gave them $20,000, two $10,000 checks.

She then went to the home to check out the room she thought she was contributing to, to redo for Gavin when he came home to heal. She knew of a builder who had gone to the home and redid the room. She found out the builder had been stiffed, not paid, and the money had been used for a huge T.V. and DVD player. And she was upset.

This kind of behavior, we will prove to you, went on and on and on. Michael Tyson was approached. Efforts were made to reach Adam Sandler. Jim Carey. A number of celebrities.

And we will prove to you that the best-known celebrity and the most vulnerable celebrity became the mark: Michael Jackson.

Who is Michael Jackson. You're going to learn a lot about him in this trial. Because Michael Jackson, as you know, has been the subject of so much speculation, so much false reporting, so much embellished documentary, so many shows for so many years, the question you're going to be asking is, "Who is he." And you're going to learn.

You're going to learn that Michael Jackson was born in Gary, Indiana, in a large family, a very famous musical family. They didn't have much in those days. Michael Jackson had to work hard from the age of five to develop his musical talents and his musical genius, and he did so. He went to school, he came home, he did his homework.

And instead of having the freedom that many young people had, he then had to rehearse, and rehearse, and rehearse. And on weekends, there were performances in various cities, Chicago, Detroit, and he worked very hard. And a success that you know about has come about through a combination of genius, and very, very hard work.

Michael Jackson has often said, "I missed some of my childhood. I didn't have as much freedom as other kids. I couldn't be as spontaneous, because when I wasn't in school and I wasn't doing my homework, I seemed to be rehearsing into the wee hours of the morning." And he's always taken an interest in his own childhood and how it relates to the world, his career, and his life.

The prosecutor has presented to you a picture of Neverland. He purchased Neverland in 1988. It's approximately 2,800 acres in Los Olivos. The prosecutor presented a picture of Neverland being some haven for crime, some lure for despicable conduct. It is not.

Neverland was created by Michael Jackson for a number of reasons. If you go into Neverland, you are struck by the childlike, Disneylike, fantasylike atmosphere. You'll see statues of children. Boys and girls playing in various ways. You'll see a train. You'll see a lake. You'll see a zoo with elephants and giraffes, with tigers and all kind -- alpacas and all kind of animals. You will see a theater. You'll see rolling hills. And you'll see an invitation to play and be childlike. And as I think you already know, children come there all the time. Most of them inner city children from poverty, drugs, violence, problems. They go there for recreation. It is an invitation for them.

You will also see the main street named after his mother. You will go into the main house and see beautiful antiques that he has purchased and you will see pictures of his beautiful children and his family all over. Some of them painted. Some of them photographs. He created Neverland for particular reasons. He felt that his childhood had been somewhat deprived by all the work I just described. And he wanted a place where children, particularly these kinds of children from the inner city with problems, could come and have fun and be free and spontaneous, innocent, have a wonderful time.

He did it in honor of his family. As I said to you before, the main street's named after his mother, whom he loves very much. He did it because this is where he wanted to live. In this community, in this fashion. And that's why he chose Los Olivos. It could have been anywhere in the world.

Michael Jackson met the Arvizo family because he was contacted and told a young boy had cancer and wanted to meet him and needed his help. And unlike others who spelled the ruse, he didn't. He contacted the child. They talked on the phone. He sent toys and favors to the family. The mother was extremely eager to meet Michael Jackson. Because we will prove to you, the mother, with her children as tools, was trying to find a celebrity to latch on to. They were trying to find a celebrity to create their life and give them advantages they didn't have. And they were looking far and wide for that celebrity. And unfortunately, for Michael Jackson, he fell for it. That's where it all begins.

Now, Michael Jackson, you will learn about in court. You will learn that the person who's not on stage is really a very shy person, a very private person, a person who in some ways shuns the limelight when he's not on stage, and a person who has chose to live his life as he wants to live it, based on his background, what he thinks he was deprived of, and his dreams.

He has written of the importance of dreams, not only as a creative process, but as the basis for living your life. And he has tried to do that at Neverland. And Neverland, we will prove to you, is not a haven for criminal activity, a lure for molestation, a magnet for crime. It is none of the things the prosecutor tried to tell you it is.

We will prove that in this case.

Michael Jackson wanted to help Gavin Arvizo. He let them come to Neverland. He sang songs to Gavin. His parents were around, his brothers and sisters were around. And he tried to help Gavin in ways he thought might work. The child was described to him as having very serious cancer, as having had rounds of chemotherapy, various organs removed. He was told, Michael, that is, that this child was on his last legs.

He took him around Neverland. He showed him the animals. He showed him the kind of Disneylike atmosphere that he thought and believes and knows children like. He did things that were unusual.

Michael is a voracious reader. He loves to read books and all subject matters. He has close to a million books at Neverland. And he tried to use techniques that he had read about to help cancer patients.

For example, he asked Gavin to envision he's playing Pac Man, and the cancer cells are being gobbled up by the good people. He had gotten that from studies of visualization techniques that were perfected in England years ago for cancer patients.

Their theory is that if you will visualize and imagine in your mind a way to beat a disease, if you will visualize the good cells going after the bad cells - they're sometimes described as fish, the good fish eating the bad fish - if you will visualize healing, if you will visualize through imagery how you can beat a disease, the studies show it sometimes succeeds. And he taught that to Gavin.

He taught him to climb trees when he was well. He did the kinds of things his mother and father had asked Michael Jackson to do. He took a lot of time away from his career to help this child and help his family, never knowing that the trap was being set. And I'm going to tell you how the trap was set.

First of all, ladies and gentlemen, I am going to prove to you in this case that there is a pattern by Janet and her children of ensnaring people for money.

First of all, the prosecutor alluded to a deposition where he said she admittedly lied. He didn't tell you the details. Let me tell you some of them.

Janet Arvizo sued J.C. Penney in West Covina in Los Angeles County. She was living in Los Angeles with her family at various locations, which will become important, and I will tell you why.

She claimed that she was the victim and her children were the victim of battery, false imprisonment and infliction of emotional distress. This was in July of 1999.

Almost a year later, she amended that complaint to add sexual assault by a security officer. What did she say the security officer had done in the J.C. Penney public parking lot.

She said her breasts were fondled, her nipple was squeezed 10 to 20 times, she was punched with a closed fist by a J.C. Penney security guard, she was molested in her vaginal area, and she was called racial slurs. That is the case where she was testifying under oath. That is the case where the prosecutor says she lied. She has admitted lying in that case.

Her son was ill. The lawsuit was settled. The family got a total of $152,500. That's the Arvizo family.

Janet Arvizo's ex-husband, David, says Janet coached her children in that case what to say. A witness named Mary Holzer, an employee for a law firm that represented Janet Arvizo, Gavin Arvizo, Star Arvizo, and David Arvizo in the J.C. Penney case, has come forward to testify that Janet admitted she lied.

Let me take this a step further: Miss Holzer says that Janet said her husband had a cousin in the Mexican mafia and this woman says she never came forward because she feared harm.

This is the first pattern I want to identify for you with respect to this family. Let's go to the second example of this pattern.

On December 18th, in the year 2000, in the deposition in the J.C. Penney case, Janet Arvizo said her husband David never assaulted her. She now says she was assaulted for 17 years, every year of their marriage.

On September 29th, 2001, Janet Arvizo told the Los Angeles Police Department she was assaulted by David Arvizo, her husband. Less than a month later, she filed for divorce. Exactly a month after she filed for divorce, she filed a welfare application that said her husband had assaulted her.

And incidentally, we will prove the 152,000 I just talked about never appeared on her welfare application, and that application was under penalty of perjury.

On November 26th, 2001, Janet Arvizo told the LAPD, the Los Angeles Police Department, for the first time that David Arvizo, her soon-to-be ex-husband, molested her daughter 12 years earlier.

She had never raised that allegation before.

Again, she claimed false imprisonment. She said she was the victim of terrorist threats. And she claimed that her ex-husband had willfully harmed her children.

The allegations against Michael Jackson are the third claim of false imprisonment she has made. They are, by our count, approximately the fourth claim for sexual assault she has made.

On November 26th, 2001, Davallin Arvizo, parroting her mother, claims her father physically abused her brothers and threatened to kill her mother.

Ladies and gentlemen, we will call witnesses who will tell you that Mrs. Arvizo in the past often says people are trying to kill her.

On November 26th, 2001, Janet Arvizo filed a copy of an arrest report on her husband with the Social Services agency in Los Angeles to expedite the aid, the public assistance she wanted. That's the public assistance that she applied for without disclosing assets, bank accounts, the J.C. Penney settlement, and other things she had, and other things she was required to disclose. And I repeat, those forms are under penalty of perjury.

In the current case, she claims that her former husband, David, struck her and the children for many, many years. As the prosecutor suggested to you, she's claiming that she's the victim of a whole lifetime of abuse. What he didn't tell you was that she also claims other relatives are in the drug business and abused she and her kids as well.

Let me tell you a little bit about the evidence that we're going to present to you about her efforts to get money from celebrities by claiming she's destitute, when she's not.

You have heard a description from the prosecutor about that little apartment in East Los Angeles, where that furniture allegedly came from, that he says Michael Jackson somehow wanted to arrange to steal through others. I guess the implication is that Michael Jackson needed her furniture.

That was a studio apartment in East Los Angeles where her family had lived from time to time, but generally not often. That was a studio apartment which had a few furnishings, was sparsely decorated, looked like it really hadn't been used because, for the most part, it wasn't.

For the most part, she lived with her parents in El Monte. And when she became engaged to her current husband, she moved in with him and the family.

But when she wanted celebrities to contribute money to her, after she told them her son had cancer, and they were destitute, and they needed money for medical bills, guess where she took them. The studio apartment in East Los Angeles. She kept it even when she was living in other locations.

Her husband worked at Von's. He was a Teamster. And he had all the medical benefits the Teamsters provide, including full medical coverage. Gavin was treated at Kaiser Hospital on Sunset in Los Angeles. There were no co-payments. There were no deductibles. His medical expenses were paid in full. But Janet Arvizo put into effect a program to take her son and try and use him to obtain money.

She approached the Mid Valley News, an El Monte newspaper. She said she couldn't pay her son's medical bills. She told them it was $12,000 per chemo treatment. Those treatments were being paid by the insurance company. She asked them to help her raise money. She wanted an ad in the newspaper. They did put an ad in the newspaper. But she was kind of squirrelly about the account, because the people at the newspaper said, "If it's for your son, and we are raising money for your son, you have to have an account in your son's name."

And she said Number

We will prove that she went to one woman to help her set up the account. This woman's sister was an attorney and offered to help. This woman wanted Gavin's Social Security number. Janet said Number she wanted an account with her name on it, and we will prove to you eventually she found a clever mechanism for doing this. She set up an account in her name, with she being the signatory, and she said it was for Gavin's benefit, and she put money in the account and she withdrew money from the account.

The people at the newspaper will tell you that they were so moved by the story of Janet and Gavin, that they brought her a turkey on Thanksgiving day, thinking they were engaging in an act of goodwill, good fortune. They knocked on the door. Janet answered, and was upset. She didn't want a turkey; she wanted money.

On June 15th, the year 2000, Janet received $10,000 from Mrs. Louise Palanker. I mentioned her. She's a comedian and an actress who used to hang out at a place called The Laugh Factory in Los Angeles.

Janet Arvizo wanted her children to be actors. She made no secret about that. And she took them to acting school in Los Angeles. They performed at The Laugh Factory. The check that they -- that Mrs. Arvizo received from Louise Palanker was then deposited into Janet's mother's account, so she didn't have to disclose it to welfare authorities and didn't have a paper trail that they actually had money as she made and pursued her efforts to con people out of funds.

On June 10th, 2000, David Arvizo, her husband, received $10,000 from Mrs. Palanker again. Mrs. Palanker will testify that she was told they were destitute. They needed it for medical bills and living expenses.

On July 19th, 2000, almost a week after she hid this money, Gavin requested to meet Michael Jackson. Now, there's a bit of a dispute over exactly who contacted Michael Jackson first, because a hairdresser friend of his, Carol Lamir, has indicated that she arranged the contact through Mr. Jackson's assistant when she heard about Gavin. And she learned about Gavin because her son was at the same dancing school that Gavin was at, a dancing school at Olympic and Fairfax in Los Angeles. That is the dancing school where Janet approached Actress Vernee Watson and asked for money and wanted to move in.

Michael Jackson learned about this child's illness and was very upset and very concerned. He arranged for a gift basket, toys, to be sent to the hospital.

In August of 2000, August 27th, the Arvizo family first came to Neverland. And again, that was all part of Michael Jackson's attempt to help a family, he was told, was destitute, with a seriously ill child.

By all accounts, during these early months, the Arvizo children were pretty well behaved. Nobody seems to have had a problem with them on the premises. That later changed, as I will explain to you in my opening statement.

On September 21st, 2000, the Arvizos visited Neverland. They enjoyed the rides. They stayed over. It was the whole family; the mother, the husband, and the three children. The mother stayed in a particular guest quarters at Neverland. This is the guest quarters where she later claims she was falsely imprisoned. It is a beautifully decorated room that Elizabeth Taylor and Marlon Brando always requested when they visited Neverland. It is one of the most beautiful rooms you'll ever see. She says she was falsely imprisoned there on a future date.

She also says that she was prevented from knowing time, couldn't see a clock anyplace. Prevented from just determining when she could leave and not leave.

You will learn in this trial that overlooking Neverland, on one of the most prominent hills with one of the most prominent views of Neverland, is a huge clock. It's lit at night. It's prominent in the daytime. You can't miss it.

To the right of that huge clock is another huge clock. And throughout Neverland are clocks, many of them with a Disneylike type of style to them. Big, ornate clocks.

In the fall of 2000, just as they were visiting Neverland, they hustled Jay Leno, George Lopez, and Weatherman Fritz Coleman in Los Angeles. I've explained to you the approach to Jay Leno, who, by the way, doesn't associate with Michael Jackson at all. And he told the Santa Barbara police something was wrong. The conversation was recorded. They got on the phone. Mr. Leno says, "I'm actually easier to reach than a lot of people think, particularly if I hear somebody's in need." It was Gavin calling him, not Janet. But he said, "I could hear the mother in the background. And the way he approached me, saying, 'I love you, I watch you late at night,'" suggested to him something was wrong. And he terminated the conversation fairly quickly. He told the police they were looking for a mark.

I already mentioned the problem with George Lopez. See, The Laugh Factory is a magnet for comedians in Los Angeles. Many have started their careers there. And accomplished comedians like Jay Leno and George Lopez once in a while like to drop by again, and they maintain their contacts in the world of comedy.

Fritz Coleman is a newscaster, a weatherman in Los Angeles, very well known. He was approached by Janet and Gavin Arvizo. Janet told him her son was seriously ill with cancer. He arranged a fund-raiser at The Laugh Factory. And we will prove to you that as you entered The Laugh Factory for the fund-raiser, there was Gavin with his hand out in the lobby, with Janet prodding him on.

Now, The Laugh Factory is owned by someone named Jamie Masada, who was mentioned in the prosecutor's opening statement. Masada claims that he's the one who contacted Michael Jackson to talk about Gavin. We believe Carol Lamir. But they both make that claim.

When questioned about where the money went, Mr. Masada first said, "Well, we delivered it to the hospital." But the hospital has no record of cash being paid, because you didn't need to pay anything. The Teamsters insurance policy paid every medical expense.

Fritz Coleman doesn't know where the money went either. It has disappeared in thin air. Where do you think it went.

This was the time when they accused George Lopez of ripping off 300 bucks from Gavin's wallet --

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object again.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh, I'm sorry. I'm not supposed to --

MR. SNEDDON: That's twice.

MR. MESEREAU: In October of 2000, Janet, through Gavin, approached Michael Jackson, and said, "We have no means of transportation. We're poor. We can't do it." And Michael gave them an SUV.

We will prove to you that Janet didn't want her name on the registration, because she never disclosed it in her welfare applications and other requests for public assistance, including disability. Nor did she itemize her disability income on her welfare application as required.

When she met with the police at a later date, one of her major complaints was she wanted her car back. The car was severely damaged. No one knows exactly how. There are varying stories about it. It went back to Neverland for repairs. And one of the first things she said to the police were words to the effect, "Where's my SUV."

Janet Arvizo never directly went to Michael Jackson and asked for money. She always used Gavin and the children. They were always coming to him and saying, "We need this, we need that. Can you help us." And they were helped. Not as part of some criminal conspiracy to abduct a family, imprison a family, extort a family, molest a family, intoxicate a family. Number they were done because he had concern for what they had told him and he had concern for Gavin's health.

One month after Michael Jackson gave the SUV to the Arvizos, that incident with the El Monte newspaper happened. I just told you about the turkey. Her request to an ad. She was very angry at the publisher, because the ad about her family needing money didn't mention the Washington Mutual bank account. She expressed her anger on numerous occasions that they hadn't put the name of the account to deposit money into. That's the account where she had the argument about Gavin's Social Security number.

On November 29th, 2000, the El Monte newspaper reported that it was costing the Arvizos $12,000 for treatment of chemotherapy. All of that was being paid by the Teamsters insurance.

In late 2000, you had the fund-raiser at The Laugh Factory. You had a number of fund-raisers at The Laugh Factory. Where the money went, nobody knows.

THE COURT: Counsel.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Can we take a break.

MR. MESEREAU: Yeah.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Mr. Mesereau.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes. Thank you, Your Honor.

Ladies and gentlemen, when I began my opening statement, I told you that I was going to begin by concentrating on who these people are and what they have done. And I'd like to continue that little journey for the time being.

We left off when I told you we would prove that in late 2000, there was a fund-raiser at The Laugh Factory, which is a comedy club in Los Angeles owned by Jamie Masada.

On December 22nd, the year 2000, the Arvizos successfully hustled $2,000 out of Actor Chris Tucker --

MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object to the term "hustled." It's argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: December 22nd, 2000, the Arvizos obtained $2,000 from actor and comedian Chris Tucker, claiming they were destitute and needed the money for medical bills. I think you know who Actor Chris Tucker is. He was in Rush Hour 1 and Rush Hour 2, the movies.

On October 1st, 2001, Janet Arvizo reported her husband to the police claiming assault, terrorist threats, et cetera. She told the police in Los Angeles that Michael Jackson, Kobe Bryant and Fritz Coleman will help her in her suit against her ex-husband.

Kobe Bryant doesn't know who she is.

On the same day that she made that statement to the police and they put it in a report, the Arvizos convinced police in Los Angeles that they were destitute and had nothing.

On October 4th, 2001, Janet Arvizo brought a video and photos of celebrities she knew to show the police. The police then tried to raise money for she and her family. And they did.

On October 31st, 2001, Chris Tucker took them to Knott's Berry Farm. They had asked him for help because of Gavin and their being destitute.

On that same day, Janet Arvizo went on disability so she could receive $104 per week, didn't disclose the money she'd raised, didn't disclose the J.C. Penney settlement. And as I said before, she never disclosed the disability that she was receiving to the welfare authorities who were paying her as well.

That's the 31st, 2001. She starts getting $104 a week, and almost ten days later, November 9th, 2001, she buys a new car for $23,000.

A week after she buys the car for $23,000, she applies for welfare and food stamps. She reports no assets. She omits her disability income.

She never mentioned her Washington Mutual Bank account, her City National Bank account or the $152,000 J.C. Penney settlement, and those applications are under penalty of perjury. We'll call this the second act of perjury.

On November 20th, 2001, five days after she applied for welfare and food stamps, she filed her arrest report on her husband with L.A. welfare to help her get expedited public assistance. And in December of that year, the LAPD, the Los Angeles Police Department, had a drive to get Christmas presents for the Arvizos because they were destitute and can't pay their medical bills.

In January of 2002, Michael Jackson continued to give gifts to the Arvizos, all kinds of gifts.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, on January 12th, Janet receives a welfare check. On January 31st, she receives a welfare check. December 8th, she gets a welfare check. March 20th, she gets a welfare check. April 6th, she gets a welfare check. In October of 2002, she reapplies for welfare, falsely claimed she has not received any assistance in the prior three years and has no assets.

This is the person making these claims against Michael Jackson.

On December 2nd, excuse me, of that year, the Arvizos moved into a new home on St. Andrews Place in Los Angeles with Mrs. Arvizo's fiance, who she has since married. His name is Jay Jackson. He is in the Army. He has paid her rent, she has not disclosed the rent, and she was taking her welfare checks and depositing them into his account to hide them.

On December 22nd, moving along that year, she signed an income and expense statement under penalty of perjury in her divorce action, and she omitted any assistance her boyfriend/fiance was giving her from that declaration, which was under penalty of perjury.

On January 3rd, moving along, her boyfriend paid her back rent at the Soto Street address, which is the studio apartment I described to you before where she brought people to show them how poor they were living. She kept it for that purpose. The family wasn't living there at all.

On January 10th, 2003, she signed a welfare eligibility report under penalty of perjury. She falsely claimed she had not received cash or other benefits, and as I've just told you, we will prove she most certainly had. It goes on and on.

I am going to go through the events of what happened at Neverland and elsewhere so I can prove to you in this trial there was never any molestation or any crime of any kind committed by Michael Jackson. But before I do that, I think it might be wise to tell you a little bit about the purchases she made, care of Michael Jackson, while she claimed she was falsely imprisoned at luxury hotels and Neverland.

Now, keep in mind Ms. Arvizo and her children are claiming that they were falsely imprisoned, that Mr. Jackson masterminded a conspiracy to falsely imprison the entire family at Neverland, where he lives and where he has approximately 40 or 50 employees, many of them ex-police officers, others licensed in day care and things of that sort. She says she was falsely imprisoned on a flight to Florida with Chris Tucker, not with Michael Jackson. She says she was falsely imprisoned at the Turnberry Resort in Florida, a luxury hotel where Michael Jackson was staying. She says she was falsely imprisoned at the Calabasas Inn, a very nice hotel in Calabasas, and she says that she was falsely imprisoned three times at Neverland and went back every time. She has said that under penalty of perjury.

Let's go through what she was buying and what was ultimately billed to Michael Jackson during this terrible period of false imprisonment:

February 14th, 2003: Full leg wax at Bare Skin Salon for $50; a lip wax; a bikini wax. Has her face done at Aromatherapy Day Spa. The total is $140.

February 21st, Lisa's Beauty, hair products for Janet Arvizo are purchased for $28.91. The same day, she buys bras and Jockey bikinis at Robinson-May, a total of $92.24, all billed to Michael.

On February 25th at Anchor Blue, she buys clothing for $448.04 for she and her children. She also goes to Robinson's-May, buys bras, thongs and bikinis for $115.83 in care of Michael Jackson. She buys cosmetics at Lisa's Beauty for $34.29.

On February 26th, during this period of alleged false imprisonment, she buys clothing at Pacific Sunwear for $26.80. She buys socks, bras, and underwear at the Jockey store for $454.64. At Banana Republic, she buys shirts and boxers for a total of $416.18. She spends $64.32 on clothing at Gap. She spends $436.77 at the Levi's outlet, same day, during this period of alleged false imprisonment.

She spends $74.69 at Abercrombie & Fitch; $88.06 at Robinson's-May for junior clothes; $160.58 at Robinson's-May, again for bras and shorts; and she goes to Foot Locker and spends $91.44 for shoes for her son Star.

The next day, February 27th, another day of alleged false imprisonment by this grand conspirator called Michael Jackson, Robinson's-May cosmetics, day-wear treatment, $129.36; cosmetics, facial soap and lotion for Janet, $30.85; slippers, $28.12. Spends over $63, care of Michael Jackson.

She goes to Rite-Aid during this period of false imprisonment. She buys a mechanical pencil, body spray, feminine hygiene products, Chap Stick and gum for $62.09. She goes to Anchor Blue and spends $92.01.

Gavin gets a haircut the next day at Hsong's Barber Shop for $20. She gets a manicure and a pedicure for $51.

March 3rd, Anchor Blue, more clothing for Janet, $29.23. Then we go to Robinson's-May, cosmetics for Janet, $71.86.

And finally on March 10th, Lovely Nails, a manicure and pedicure for Janet Arvizo, $115.

The total of what I just read to you is $3,312.05 for Janet Arvizo while she's falsely imprisoned at luxury hotels and Neverland.

Ladies and gentlemen, I'd like to address the issue of the Bashir documentary, which the prosecutor has dramatically suggested to you led to incredibly bizarre criminal and frantic behavior by Michael Jackson and others. Before I do that, however, I'd like to put this in perspective a little bit.

You heard the prosecutor tell you that when the Bashir documentary aired, there was panic, a frantic reaction. The media was everywhere. And they were. The Department of Children & Family Services in Los Angeles was investigating what happened. I will represent to you that we'll prove the District Attorney's Office in Santa Barbara was investigating what went on, and Michael Jackson knew about it.

It all starts really getting going in February, January and February 2003. You have, from all sides, the following: Media everywhere; the D.A's Office looking into what all this means; the Department of Children & Family Services looking at what all this means; the people around Michael Jackson allegedly panicked and concerned. And there was concern, but I'll tell you what it was all about.

The networks start negotiating to have a responsive show to the Bashir documentary, which ultimately happens. So they're converging on Neverland. They're converging on Michael's people and his advisors and himself to try and do something to respond to the Bashir documentary. And guess what happens, they say, in the middle of all of this. That's when they say the child molestation begins.

I submit to you we will prove it never, ever happened.

Can you imagine a more absurd time for it to ever happen. Because what the prosecutor said to you about the media was true. They were everywhere. They were following the Arvizos to their home. They were trying to get interviews. And the Arvizos were asking for money from the media, just like they wanted money to do a production with Michael Jackson.

We will bring in witnesses who will tell you Janet Arvizo wanted distribution rights. She was on the phone with attorneys trying to get distribution rights. Her fiance wanted millions of dollars. He said, "A house, a son's education, none of this is enough. We want a piece of this action."

And when they weren't going to get it, the molestation allegations started to form, just like the pattern I outlined to you before at J.C. Penney and with the ex-husband David. They don't start right away. They end up developing over a period of time, just when they think they're not going to live at Neverland forever, Michael's not going to be a father as she always referred to him everywhere, just as they realized they're probably not going to get rich off a production involving Michael Jackson, just as they realized documents were not going to be executed because Gavin had been in the Bashir documentary that would give them some piece of the net or gross profits.

Just as they realize all of this free ride, this party was ending, did they go to the police with the molestation allegation.

Number they went to a lawyer. And then they went to another lawyer, never to the police, until they had worked out all their legal rights and opportunities. And I will get into that a little more deeply in my opening statement.

And by the way, we will prove to you that down the line, when Janet Arvizo realized it didn't look too good, if there really was a molestation that went on, that you would go to a lawyer and not the police, guess what she started to say. "I learned it from the police."

This was after her lawyer went to the police to report the alleged molestation. We will prove this to you.

Let me tell you how the Bashir documentary happened. It didn't happen exactly as the prosecutor told you.

A journalist, British journalist, named Bashir, Martin Bashir, wanted to do a documentary on Michael Jackson. He wanted it to be scandalous, and he wanted to get rich. And that's what he did. But he knew that getting close to Michael Jackson may not be easy.

After all, so many people around the world want to get near him. They want opportunities they believe he carries with him. This has been an ongoing issue with Michael Jackson his whole life. Because he's a musical genius, because he's so well known, because he's perceived as being so successful, people are always buzzing around him trying to get a hook into his business, trying to just grab something that will give them fame and fortune. It's an ongoing reality. It's an ongoing problem.

And as Michael Jackson has said many times, "I am very lonely because of it." He has written that in his autobiography and he has said it; "Everybody wants a piece of me."

Martin Bashir was no exception, just like the Arvizos were no exception.

So Martin Bashir decided the best way to get to Michael Jackson is a form of flattery. "I will misrepresent to him my true intentions, and I will find that little point of vulnerability that will get him to me so I can work with him and get this project that's going to make me wealthy."

Bashir had interviewed Princess Diana of England sometime previously. He knew Michael Jackson was a great fan and friend of Princess Diana. To any of you who know anything about Princess Diana, you can understand why.

She had the opportunity to simply live in wealth, pomposity, a rigidity in the social structure in England, and she didn't want it, she wasn't happy with it, and she branched out on her own and offended people. And she went to Africa and she worked with children with AIDS, and she made a crusade out of trying to stop land mines around the world which explode and hurt children, mines for civil war. And she decided she was going to live her life the way she chose. She and Mr. Jackson had a friendship and a camaraderie, because he saw that he had pursued a similar life.

Bashir concluded that, "I'll get to him through his love and affection for Princess Diana."

Bashir knew that a psychic in England named Uri Geller, who's been on T.V. doing things, he thought Uri Geller could get to Michael Jackson. And it turns out he could.

He called up Uri Geller and he was gushing with flattery. He said he admired what Michael had done for children around the world. He specifically referred to Michael's visits to sick children in hospitals around the world. He said, "I so admire this. We need to promote it better. We need to do a documentary that will show the world what kind of a person Michael is, and we will focus on children."

And he had some specific ideas. He told Uri Geller that Michael Jackson has always wanted an International Children's Day, much like Mother's Day or Father's Day. And he told Uri Geller that he wanted to bring Michael Jackson to meet Kofi Annan, the Secretary General of the United Nations, and he was hoping by doing so, that Michael would visit Africa and help children with AIDS.

He told Uri Geller, "I can accomplish that," and Geller was very interested.

Geller arranged a meeting between Michael Jackson and Martin Bashir in London. And Bashir gave the same routine that I just described: "You are misunderstood. What you've done is so phenomenal. The world needs to know. I'm the one best positioned to do this project so the world really will understand who you are and what you've accomplished."

And he showed him a letter, somewhat crumbled up letter, from Princess Diana commending him for the way he had conducted her interview.

Everything was sugar and spice and everything nice. Unfortunately, it was false. It was deception par excellance.

The meeting was arranged. Michael met with Mr. Bashir. He agreed to do the documentary because he believed what I just told you.

Michael had some conditions. He didn't want his children's faces to appear on the documentary.

Michael loves his children. They're beautiful little kids. They live with him at Neverland, and they were living there throughout these alleged events, these so-called crimes that didn't happen.

But nevertheless, Bashir wanted to follow him around, and he did follow him to various cities, Berlin, et cetera.

Michael was terrified that his children's faces would be on that documentary. He is perpetually terrified that something will happen to his children. They'll be kidnapped; there will be extortion; there will be a ransom request; they'll be injured, or worse. Bashir agreed. "Their faces will never appear. They will not be recognizable on that documentary." And that was false.

Michael asked him if he could see the footage before it was broadcast, because Michael has been in this business his whole life. He has seen what the media can do to anybody. They can take footage and remove it. They can take footage and connect it. They can take words and replace them. They can do whatever they want and make you look terrible if they want, and it had been done to him often throughout his career. He didn't want that to happen in this documentary.

Martin Bashir assured him he would have full editorial control, and that was a falsehood.

Michael wanted any money he received to go to charity. Bashir assured him it would. Uri Geller also wanted money to go to charity, but he also wanted a personal service fee. He wanted a percentage of the net proceeds, and he worked that out with Bashir, not with Michael.

Let me give you a flavor for what Bashir said to Michael Jackson to induce him to do this project:

On July 23rd, 2002, he sent a letter to Michael's assistant. He had a plan of action for filming at Neverland. He said on July 29th, they wanted to feature Michael with a large group of children, around 50, welcoming them and sharing with them his extraordinary home so that, for one day, their lives can be enriched seeing Michael with the children on the rides and then taking them into his movie theater to watch a film.

The next day, Tuesday, July 30th, "I was hoping that Mac Culkin will be available to visit." He is an extremely close friend of Michael's and has provided support throughout the years. That's Macauley Culkin, the actor.

Wednesday, July 31st, this would be a day spent working with Michael, the musical genius, listening to the song he has written for the international children's holiday, and also viewing some tapes from his extraordinary career, reflecting upon 30 years of success.

Thursday, August 1st, a walk around Neverland, the zoo and all the other attractions that have been built both for Michael and the benefit of others. The beautiful landscape encouraging all of us to become "as little children again," quote, unquote.

Friday, August 2nd, late-night drive through L.A, how Michael still connects with the inner city, and how he has drawn inspiration for his dance scenes from the ghetto kids.

"I shall give you a call tomorrow to check through this, but hope that it will be possible. Obviously, the trip to Africa, plus the U.N. visit are in the early stages of planning, but I shall certainly give you full details as soon as matters are confirmed."

You will learn, ladies and gentlemen, what Bashir said to Michael face to face, as he did this project, a project designed to humiliate, degrade and deceive, he said to him at one point with respect to Michael and children, "I saw yesterday, just to explain, a very special interaction between you, and it was a privilege to see it. I've got three children, and to be honest, it was a bit of an education to watch," referring to Michael and children.

He said to Michael, "You know, nobody ever asks you these questions about how you approach children, how you love children, what you do for children, and how you raise your own." He said, "Nobody ever asks Michael any of these questions. They all ask these ignorant things," and he called those people "scum."

He told Michael, "Neverland is an extraordinary, a breath-taking, a stupendous, an exhilarating, an amazing place. I can't put together words to describe Neverland," flattering Michael, trying to lead him to his destruction.

He said, "One of the things that puzzles me, that I find difficult to understand, is why an artist like yourself, who has brought such beautiful music to the world, who has written the melody of most of our lives, my life - my romantic development was partially shaped by your records - why I find it so difficult to understand is why is it that, having brought this to the world, people are quick to criticize."

He said being with Michael and children was like a beautiful journey. He said to Michael Jackson, "One of the things I noticed about you over the last year is your relationship with your children. Your relationship with your -- and I have to say to you that I didn't know you before, but your relationship with your children is spectacular. It almost makes me weep when I see you with them, because your interaction is so natural, loving, so caring, and everyone who comes in contact with you knows that."

As the prosecutor has told you, he will show you that documentary. Keep in mind, if you will, what I just told you when you see it.

Ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Bashir traveled with Michael through Europe and the United States, spent time at Neverland. Took about eight months to put it together. And on that documentary, Michael Jackson makes very clear, "I don't do anything sexual with children. I don't commit crimes."

Gavin Arvizo is on that documentary.

But ladies and gentlemen, Janet wanted her children in films. She always said that. We have witnesses who will confirm that, and the children all went to acting schools. They wanted to be actors. In fact, while they were visiting Neverland, Michael tried to assist them. He let Star do his own video, called it "The Neverland Channel." They were trying to get him to help them break in. And he did help them.

She knew exactly what was happening when her children went to Neverland and when Gavin was in that documentary. But she had one problem: She wanted money, and she didn't see it coming.

We will prove to you, throughout this trial, that her reaction to this film was primarily, "How do I profit. How do I get distribution rights. What documents should I sign. How do I negotiate the documents." In fact, one witness will tell you that before the family filmed what has been called the rebuttal show that the prosecutor talked to you about, she not only appeared happy as can be about filming it, but she delayed it because she was on the phone with a lawyer trying to figure out what her rights were. And when presented with what is called a model document to deal with distribution rights, she complained, didn't want to sign it, wanted to get advice.

Her main complaint was she didn't profit from the Bashir documentary that became world famous. She did have media following her around. There is no question about that. They did follow her to her house. They followed her everywhere.

There also is no question that we will prove she wanted security with her because she said the media were hounding them so badly. And this stuff about security from Michael Jackson somehow being there to imprison her we will prove is false. She wanted security. She didn't want the media just hounding them, but she did want money from the media. That we will prove also.

Her fiance, now her husband, has testified that they didn't want money, but we have a witness who will tell you that he approached them at their home, and Jay Jackson wanted $15,000 for a photo and article. We will also prove to you that he made the statement, "Michael Jackson can give us a house. Michael Jackson can pay for college. Michael Jackson can pay for benefits. That's not enough. We want big money."

Davallin told a friend of Michael Jackson, "We're getting a home in the Hollywood Hills."

The statements designed to get something of a financial benefit are endless, and we will prove them in this trial.

July of 2000 was the first contact between Gavin Arvizo and Michael Jackson, as I said before. And in August, the Arvizos visited Neverland for the first time. They then came with their father David, they stayed a number of nights, and in October Michael gave them an SUV.

In June -- in the year 2000 -- excuse me, the year 2001, there was very little contact.

Now, I've told you about some of the financial stuff that was going on during the year 2001, but Michael Jackson didn't really see these people in the year 2001. They surfaced again in 2002, but I have already explained to you all the efforts to latch on to other celebrities that they tried, and it didn't completely work.

Michael Jackson, as I said before, did everything he could to help this family overcome cancer, and they repeatedly commended him for doing so. They repeatedly make public statements that Michael had helped save Gavin's life; that the friendship, the warmth, the encouragement, what went on at Neverland helped save him from cancer. I will read from transcripts to you words to that effect. The accolades were endless until they realized he wasn't going to support them forever, and that's when everything changed and this nightmare of false allegations started.

Bashir arrived at Neverland and he did film Michael Jackson and he filmed Gavin, and he took statements from both. Nobody expected any of this to be secret or quiet. Everyone knew it was for worldwide distribution. What Michael said on that documentary he expected to be publicized throughout the world. It wasn't meant to be a private thing. It was meant to be a public thing, and that needs to be understood as you watch it and hear his words.

And I repeat, he repeatedly says, "Nothing sexual happens with me and children, ever."

He does display some idealism on the film.

He talks about children coming to school with guns and why they need love, why they need caring, that there's got to be a way to change this. He talks about children who need attention and affection, and something must be wrong with all the violence in the world. Yes, that's Michael Jackson's idealism, some might say, to some extent, naivete. Certainly naivete when it comes to making yourself vulnerable to false claims.

At this point, I would like to go through some of what was said in Bashir.

Much of what was said did not appear on Bashir. Fortunately, Mr. Jackson had his own videographer filming while Bashir filmed, and as you can imagine, and this is not unusual with eight months of work, it had to be condensed down into a show. Much of what Michael said about his view of the world, his view of the need for peace and love, his desire to see more creativity in the world and his great belief in children as a cause was left out, and in its place what you will see is commentary by Bashir designed to create a scandal, and he did.

In September of 2002, ladies and gentlemen, the Arvizo family made numerous visits to Neverland, one of them with Actor Chris Tucker. As Gavin says on the Bashir documentary, on one occasion he slept on Michael's bed and Michael slept on the floor. Nowhere in that documentary does he say, "I had sex with Michael Jackson." In fact, months afterward, he was saying in various recorded statements, "He saved my family. He saved me from cancer. He's never done anything wrong."

Now Janet's spin was, "That was because we were falsely imprisoned."

I'm going to go through those statements also.

Incidentally, the prosecutor talked about a videotaped interview with the family, and he used the word "scripted." He used the word "scripted" to suggest that everything you're going to see - because if they don't play it, we will - was somehow memorized, forced, false and fabricated.

Not only is that not true, I invite you to watch it. Watch their facial expressions. Watch their demeanor. Watch the spontaneous answers. Watch how long those answers go on for, and watch the point where Janet doesn't think she's on tape. And when you see that stuff, you ask yourself, "Is this all memorized, or is something wrong here."

Yes, it was a show designed to show the good side of Michael Jackson, to commend him, as Bashir told him he was going to be commended. And, yes, it was designed to show what he had done for Gavin. And, yes, before it, there was a sheet of questions, and everybody pretty much knew, kind of, what was going to be asked. But the responses, just watch them.

Davallin cries as she praises Michael Jackson of what he did for her brother. Janet goes on and on, calling him a surrogate father, the father to her children, says they had no father, and then goes into a long tirade of what victims they have been throughout their lifetime, that you really need to see. She says, "We were spat on because of our race. Nobody would help us. We ate cereal together. Department of Children & Family Services in Los Angeles did nothing for us." And you'll see the anger and you'll see the "I'm a victim" type of mentality throughout. She says, "We were destitute, had nowhere to turn, and Michael Jackson rescued us."

Look at the film, and see if it's memorized. And look at the part where she doesn't know she's on film. The reality is, ladies and gentlemen, she did her own makeup. She had a little curl over the top of her head so she'd look like Michael's well-known sister, Janet Jackson. She wanted to be on film.

Christian Robinson will tell you that she was happy as a lark before it, was eager to do it, was on the phone with someone he thought was a lawyer talking about how much money she could make from it. The notion that this family was falsely imprisoned with some gun to their head and forced to make all those statements is absolutely false.

Gavin Arvizo, as you know, appeared in the Bashir film. It aired in the United Kingdom, England, in February, on February 3rd, 2003. The next day, the media were in a frenzy. As I said before, they began to track down the Arvizo family to follow them around. They were actually camped in front of their home.

That was the day Jay Jackson, her boyfriend, demanded $15,000 for a tabloid interview. He has since denied under oath that he did that. We will prove that he did.

Two days later, on February 6th, 2003, the Bashir program aired in the United States, and Prosecutor Sneddon began an investigation. And Mr. Jackson knew that. Of course, the allegations now are a few weeks after the media frenzy, and the D.A. investigation, and the DCFS investigation, and Michael suddenly starts molesting Gavin.

By the way, we're going to prove something else. Initially when the prosecutors charged Mr. Jackson, they said the molestation began in early February. Later on, they learned that during a DCFS interview, Department of Children & Family Services, the family had all said Mr. Jackson did nothing but help them. Never hurt them. Never did anything wrong.

They later learned that on that video which the prosecutor referred to where he says they had essentially a gun to their head, or words to that effect, and they also praised Mike Jackson and said nothing bad was done, ever, and guess what. That Complaint went by the wayside. An Indictment was returned that changed the dates of the alleged molestation to begin after those statements. And that's a fact.

And incidentally, we will prove to you that after learning how important those statements could be, where you're recorded twice, actually more than twice, you're recorded over three times saying Michael never did a thing wrong, never molested, never touched, never did anything like that, Gavin changed his story as well. Suddenly it all started later on after the statements made to the Department of Children & Family Services.

How are we doing timewise, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Five more minutes.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

It's important, ladies and gentlemen, that I talk about these dates, because the progression of what develops and who gets involved, and the amount of activity going on everywhere is critical to understanding how utterly absurd these dates of child molestation are. And I ask you to consider that as you look at the evidence in this case.

As I said before, the Bashir program aired in the United States on February 6th, 2003. The same day Prosecutor Sneddon announced he was going to investigate, because people were talking about the way Bashir handled this issue of boys allegedly being in the bed. As I said before, Michael said he slept on the floor one time. It wasn't at all the way Bashir was trying to make it look.

The next -- two days later, February 8th, 2003, Ed Bradley of the T.V. show 60 Minutes arrived with a film crew to Neverland. Also present were Jack Sussman, the president of CBS Entertainment, and attorneys David LeGrand and Mark Geragos.

Various networks were trying to compete for the right to do the rebuttal show, the show that was supposed to be a response to Bashir's scandal show.

And there was a lot of activity going on at Neverland and among people associated with Mr. Jackson because, yes, there was great dislike for what Bashir had done and the way he tried to hurt Michael's reputation. But there also were, to a lot of people around Michael, a great business opportunity, because they saw the opportunity to make millions of dollars in a production that never could have happened if Bashir hadn't aired. It was called by everybody a rebuttal piece.

So, yes, there was concern, and, yes, there was elation by certain people around Michael because they thought they could make money. And networks were approaching Michael and people around him to try and benefit from that opportunity. And ladies and gentlemen, millions were made by certain people on the rebuttal film.

On February 16th, 2003, Janet Arvizo and her family were taped by Investigator Brad Miller saying, "Michael's wonderful. He never did anything improper." Now, that's supposed to be part of this, I guess, false imprisonment thing, that apparently they're being forced to do that.

They're living at Jay Jackson's apartment.

Jay Jackson is in the United States Army. Excuse me.

Nobody calls the police, calls the United States Army, complains that, "We're falsely imprisoned. They've got -- they're forcing us to make statements. They're forcing us to testify.

They're forcing us to say certain things complimentary to Michael Jackson." Nobody does because there was no reason to. And the security people were requested by Janet because of all the media frenzy. This may be a good place to end, Your Honor. Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. We'll take our afternoon recess. We'll reconvene tomorrow morning at the same time. Remember my admonitions. Don't discuss the case. Don't form any opinions or conclusions. See you tomorrow morning.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) Number 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify: That the foregoing pages 3 through 170 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on February 28, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California, February 28, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 2005

8:30 A.M.

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney -and-
GERALD McC. FRANKLIN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
1112 Santa Barbara Street Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL (Continued):
For NBC-Universal; CBS Broadcasting Inc.; Fox News Network, LLC; ABC, Inc.; Cable News Network, LP, LLP; The New York Times Company; The Los Angeles Times; USA Today; The Washington Post; and The Associated Press:

GIBSON, DUNN & CRUTCHER, LLP
BY: THEODORE J. BOUTROUS, JR., ESQ. 333 South Grand Avenue
Los Angeles, California 90071

Santa Maria, California
Tuesday, March 1, 2005
8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.

COUNSEL AT COUNSEL TABLE: (In unison) Good morning, Your Honor. Good morning.

THE COURT: Mr. Mesereau.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor. Good morning.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.

MR. MESEREAU: Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, I would like to clarify some statements I made yesterday, correct a couple of statements, and talk a little bit more about a few other things I mentioned.

First of all, the prosecutor, in his opening statement, made an allegation that Mr. Jackson had intentionally, knowingly provided alcohol to a child on a flight from Florida.

You will learn in the trial that on that private flight were Mr. Jackson, two of his children, his physician, security personnel, and other guests, as well as the Arvizos. And you will hear from his physician that he was in a seat on that plane where he could see everything and never slept. And he never saw anything like this so-called licking that the prosecutor described.

But in that regard, you need to understand that the charges in this case involving alcohol are not charges like a bartender giving an underaged kid alcohol. The charges are that Mr. Jackson gave alcohol for the purpose of molesting.

The alcohol charge is directly tied into allegations of molestation. One doesn't exist without the other in those alcohol charges. And Mr. Jackson absolutely denies that.

In that regard, we will prove to you, through witnesses, people who worked at and visited Neverland, that the Arvizo kids, at times, were out of control, broke into the wine cellar, were caught drinking alcohol themselves, without Mr. Jackson even being present or knowing about it. They also were caught breaking into the refrigerator in the kitchen, drinking alcohol, and they were caught grabbing alcohol from a cupboard. There is one witness who will tell that you Mr. Jackson ordered some alcohol for he and guests and the children stole it. They were caught intoxicated. They were caught with bottles. Mr. Jackson was nowhere around.

We will prove to you that they are now trying to say that he was behind all of this. And it's false.

We also will prove to you that the Arvizo children, as I said before, initially seemed very well behaved, but that changed. And it changed radically. For example, there are workers who are in charge of the amusement rides. There is a ferris wheel. There are other carousels that children, when they visit Neverland, ride on and play on.

One of the workers in charge of those rides will tell you that he's not sure how this happened, but they appeared to have memorized the codes to start those rides. And he was shocked and horrified to find the kids on a ferris wheel up at the top throwing objects at elephants and people.

They also, we will prove, did that with various codes in the house. They somehow found a way to roam around the house at will when Mr. Jackson wasn't even in town and were actually caught in his room. Those witnesses will testify to those facts. They were out of control.

The prosecutor told you that there were girlie-type magazines and sexually explicit material in Mr. Jackson’s home, and there were. Mr. Jackson will freely admit that he does read girlie magazines from time to time. And what he does is he sends someone to the local market, and they pick up Playboy and they pick up Hustler, and he has read them from time to time. He absolutely denies showing them to children. And, in fact, the magazines the prosecutor referred to were in a locked briefcase. And Mr. Jackson will tell you he found those kids going through his magazines, and grabbed them from him and locked them in his briefcase. That will be proven at trial.

I want to emphasize that Mr. Jackson was paid nothing from Bashir. The original negotiations were that money would go to charities in England. They were talking about 250,000 pounds, British pounds they are.

That, from Mr. Jackson’s point of view, the incentive for doing that documentary was that he trusted Mr. Bashir was going to present him in an appropriate and honorable and honest light. And that’s not what happened.

Yesterday, I mentioned Mrs. Arvizo, while she said she was falsely imprisoned, going for a body wax treatment. I checked the receipt, and I mistakenly said February 14th. It’s February 11th, for the body wax. What is particularly significant about that, other than the fact that it’s hard to believe while you’re being falsely imprisoned you’re going for a local body wax. The significance is this: She, at her own request, was driven from Neverland to a salon. She was gone for about three hours. She was left at the salon alone. She was there for over an hour getting a treatment, when she says she was falsely imprisoned and couldn’t communicate with anyone. That is the significance and that is absurd.

On that particular day, some very odd things happened. Her boyfriend and now her husband, as I mentioned, was a Major Jay Jackson, who’s in the Army Reserve, and he was making approximately $8,000 a month while she was accepting welfare. And he was allowing her to deposit her welfare checks into his account. And as I said to you yesterday, she was not disclosing his income or support in any of her requests for public assistance, which were under oath.

On that particular day, Major Jackson spoke to her on the phone, and something strange happened. In between the body waxes and whatever else she was doing at Neverland, she claims and he claims that she said she had trouble at Neverland and that he called 9-1-1. But when he told her that he had called 9-1-1, she said, “I’m not having trouble. We don’t need 9-1-1.” So the opportunity to call 9-1-1, to call the police, to call the military police, was always there. She says she was kept from these people during all of this false imprisonment by some conspiracy she claims was engineered by Michael Jackson. And that’s false.

On that note, we will prove to you, ladies and gentlemen, that during the period she says she was falsely imprisoned, she had access to the Los Angeles Police Department, and was, in fact, in contact with police officers in the Los Angeles Police Department who she associated with, and never raised an issue about false imprisonment. She was in contact with Major Jay Jackson, who also had access to the military police, and no complaint was made.

She went to a federal building in Los Angeles to get a passport for the trip to Brazil. That federal building was loaded with federal employees, federal agents. Nobody was told there was a problem.

She had access to the Department of Children & Family Services in Los Angeles because they interviewed her. Where. At Jay Jackson’s home. Did she complain, “We’re being falsely imprisoned. We’re being abducted. We’re being pressured. We’re being defrauded. My children are at risk”. No, never.

All of this during the period that the prosecutor says the family was being abducted, falsely imprisoned, children were being harmed, et cetera.

I told you yesterday that Michael Jackson flat out denies these molestation allegations. They are false.

Now, the prosecutor told you that Ms. Arvizo and her children will come in and say there was molestation. They gave you this lurid discussion of masturbation and things of that sort. Well, ladies and gentlemen of the jury, the Santa Barbara Sheriffs raided Neverland. Approximately 70 officers showed up --

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, Counsel. I’m going to object as argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Ladies and gentlemen, the Arvizo children’s DNA was never found in Mr. Jackson’s bedroom after searching and testing. Their DNA isn’t there. Because the molestation claims are fiction.

I did mention yesterday that Mr. Jackson owns approximately a million book. He does, but I think I may have suggested that they were all in his house. Actually, a lot of them are in storage. So I want to make sure that’s clear. But he is a voracious reader and book collector.

I also indicated to you that the prosecutors initially had filed a Complaint against Mr. Jackson alleging that molestation had occurred, based on what the Arvizos told them before the Arvizos did the rebuttal tape praising Michael Jackson saying he never did anything wrong. And you’ll see it in the trial. And also before they were interviewed by the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services where they repeated their absolute denials that he’d ever done anything wrong. They did nothing but praise him to the hilt.

And what I said to you was after the reality of those statements set in, the prosecutors changed the dates of the alleged molestation and now they’re supposed to have occurred after those interviews.

And as I said to you, this is a time when the media and Mr. Sneddon’s investigating, and everybody is talking about this Bashir documentary, and the networks are coming out to see if they can vie for the ability to do a rebuttal tape. This is when they’re claiming these acts of molestation occurred. They didn’t.

Now, Mr. Sneddon, the prosecutor, said to you, “Janet Arvizo doesn’t want money. She’s not doing this for money.”

Well, we will prove to you the following:

As I said yesterday, when she allegedly learned of these molestation claims, she didn’t go to the police, she went to a lawyer. And I just mentioned to you that she was in touch with various members of the Los Angeles Police Department during this period of so-called false imprisonment, this period of a so-called conspiracy by Michael Jackson and his associates.

One of those police officers will testify that Janet said to him, “Something big is happening, and I got a lawyer.” That’s number one.

Number two, as I said to you yesterday, she realized at some point that going to a lawyer first doesn’t look too good. And that’s when she began to claim that she learned about it from the police, not the lawyers. The problem is, that the lawyers are the ones who eventually went to the police. So you’ll have to figure that one out.

Janet Arvizo told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs in one of her interviews, “You know, my kids have till the age of 18 to file civil suits.” And she was correct, because someone underage who has a claim is not held to what is called a statute of limitations the way adults are.

A statute of limitations, as many of you know, is a certain period of time you have to sue if you have a claim, or your claim gets stale. It gets thrown out, because they don’t want -- basically the law says that people can’t go sitting around forever waiting to file claims, or the whole system would be chaotic.

So the statutes of limitation have been defined by the legislature. And they give time periods during which somebody can sue.

For her children, the alleged victims of molestation, they have till 18. And she told that to the police, just as she told the police that she had hired lawyers. Why did she tell that to the police. And why in her police interviews, as we will prove, did she repeatedly say, “I need money, I want money,” or words to that effect.

Ladies and gentlemen, we will prove to you the relationship between a criminal prosecution and a civil claim for damages based upon the same type of alleged conduct. What am I referring to. I think some of you know this already, but we’re going to prove it to you anyway.

Here’s what it is: There is what is called a burden of proof in a criminal case; and that is, you must prove beyond a reasonable doubt the allegations are true and that the defendant’s guilty.

In a civil case what is called the burden of proof is lighter. It’s easier. It’s called preponderance of the evidence.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to this.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Ladies and gentlemen, we will prove that Janet and her children are using this case to win a civil case.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object to that as argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: We will also prove that her lawyer, Larry Feldman, who the prosecutor acknowledged had sued Mr. Jackson a long time ago, a lawyer very well known in Beverly Hills, California, we will prove to you that this lawyer was having lunch with CNN talk show host Larry King and told him, "She wants money."

Ladies and gentlemen, the prosecutor yesterday alleged that acts of molestation occurred during certain dates. We will prove to you that most of those dates, not all of them, but most of them, Michael Jackson wasn't even near Neverland. Based upon our investigation, we can find four approximate dates where he was at Neverland. But a lot of the dates you heard the prosecutor identify, he isn't even near the place.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, I'd like to talk to you a little bit about these conspiracy allegations, particularly as they relate to the so-called co-conspirators that Mr. Jackson is supposed to be aligning with for the purpose of committing felonies.

The first thing you need to know is what they're saying is that Mr. Jackson committed crimes by agreeing with others to commit crimes, so-called co-conspirators. And the prosecutor identified who those co-conspirators are supposed to be. And indeed, in the charging document, Judge Melville read you their names. Schaffel, Dieter, Konitzer, Cascio, Amen. You know that none of them have been charged. Do you know that the only one they charged with conspiracy is Michael Jackson.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object as argumentative.

THE COURT: Counsel, it is really -- the way you're saying what you're saying is argumentative form of -- you're not saying, "We're going to prove this, we're going to prove that."

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.

We will prove to you that none of those so-called co-conspirators have been charged with any crime. The only one these government prosecutors have pointed out is Mr. Jackson when it comes to these conspiracy allegations.

As I said to you yesterday, Mr. Jackson has a certain lifestyle and presence that attracts all kinds of people on a continual basis who seek to profit at his expense. It's an ongoing problem. It's an ongoing issue. He is one of the world's best known megastars. He's known as a musical genius, one of the greatest in the world. And he's known around the world as someone who's made lots of money. This is the reputation people come to him with and they want to profit from it.

And you can just guess at the characters who show up trying to get their nose under the tent with an idea. An idea for a concert --

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object again as argumentative.

MR. MESEREAU: I will -- I will change that, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Rephrase it.

MR. MESEREAU: We will prove to you that Mr. Jackson, because of his presence around the world in the music industry, continually attracts people who seek to profit.

We will prove to you, ladies and gentlemen, that this creates a problem in his life. And here is the problem we'll prove to you exists: Mr. Jackson is an artist. That is what his primary work is. He's an artist. He is called a musical genius. He is a creative person who dances to a creative drummer.

Mr. Jackson was interviewed by Mr. Bashir about how he lives, how he feels, and how he works. And among other things, he responded to Mr. Bashir's questions along those lines. He said, “I have to be inspired. I can’t wake up each day and say, ‘You know, today I have a goal. I’m going to create music. I’m going to create choreography. I’m going to create a video. I’m going to find the message. I’m going to translate it into music and choreography. This is what I’m going to do today.’” He told Mr. Bashir, “I can’t do that. That’s not the way it works. I have to be inspired. I don’t know when I’m going to be inspired. I have to make myself open for inspiration in order to do the kind of work I do.” And to do that, he has to live a certain way.

For example, Mr. Bashir expressed surprise when he said to him, “I have a tree on my property. And lots of times I go up and I sit in the tree alone. And I’m peaceful and I’m still, and I meditate. And very often God gives me that creative spark that I need to do the work that I excel in.” We will prove to you that Mr. Jackson will often wake up at 3:00 in the morning at Neverland. He will walk out of his house alone, and he will take a walk alone under the stars, under the moon, under the sky. He will meditate in his own way, and wait for ideas and inspiration to come. And he often says when it comes to dance or music, “I can’t think my way to the result. It has to come to me, and I have to feel it.” This is his lifestyle, we will prove. And one of the problems, we will prove, is that if you’re going to be that kind of a creative genius, it doesn’t always leave time to sit down with lawyers and accountants and business advisors on a regular basis. In fact, he has said, “When I spend time in those areas, I create less.” What does that mean, ladies and gentlemen. It means he’s vulnerable to being taken advantage of financially and legally. And we will have witnesses tell you, they have observed him presented with documents, and he signs them without reading them. And these types of behavior -- this type of behavior has caused problems in the past for him. But he is the creative spirit he is, and he has to live the way he lives. And he doesn’t live like a criminal, as they have told you.

At one point, a number of individuals approached him, were able to actually get face to face with him and convince him that they could help him out with his affairs. Of course, this has been going on for years. This has been going on, we will prove to you, since he was a child. Because he began performing at the age of five. And by the age of eight was being recognized for his genius and his talent. That’s an early age.

And he was, and his family, were working with studios like Motown, where they got a big break. And as part of the business of music, they were told, “We have publicists, press people, agents, managers. They will tell you what to say. Image is business. Image is critical. You can’t just walk out there and freely discuss your feelings, your life, what you do, what you like or don’t like. We’ll tell you what to say, and you’ll say it.”

And things like personal habits, personal fears, personal idiosyncrasies, were hidden, because, after all, this was big business.

You heard the names Konitzer and Dieter. They did arrive, and they did claim they were going to somehow rescue Michael Jackson from this world of charlatans and profiteers, and would-be do-gooders with a hand in his pocket.

They also revealed who they were during the course of his experience with them. The prosecutor would have you believe that Mr. Jackson was somehow involved with these people on a daily basis, getting all kinds of information from them and knew everything they were doing. He did not.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object as argumentative.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. MESEREAU: He didn’t. This is what Dieter and Konitzer were planning to do with regard to Mr. Jackson: Now, as for his involvement, referring to Michael Jackson, Michael is an entertainer and not a businessman. He does not like business. He does not care about any formalities, proper procedures, detailed briefings, et cetera. Any one of those elements kills his creative energy. He wants to stay out of that. That is the reason why he gave us an extensive power of attorney.

Do you know what a power of attorney is, ladies and gentlemen. I’m sure some of you do. Maybe you all do. It’s giving away to somebody an ability to sign for your affairs and represent you in signing things and doing things from a legal point of view. It’s a very serious act when you give someone a power of attorney. But they got one out of Michael.

They said further, “His intention was definitely not being bothered with signatures here and there, every other day, and with personal meetings with each and every member of the team. We realized that some might feel insulted, but it’s not personal. Signatures and meetings with Michael will, in general, not happen. Only in very special cases, exceptions will be made.”

We will prove to you that these so-called business advisors made a concerted effort to keep Michael Jackson away from a lot of what they were trying to do on his behalf and to control his affairs, particularly the music business.

On January 11th, 2003, this is what one of them wrote: “Yes, I and Mr. Weizner, whom you met in Las Vegas, are authorized to engage you. We shall gain control of financial affairs, records, documents, agreements, and also operations, anything else belonging to Michael Jackson in their possession or control.”

They identified two phases of activity they were going to pursue: One, take-over. Two, cleanup operation, clean up old business. And they said they were going to create what they called “The Michael Jackson Universe.” This was their business proposal for managing and controlling all of Michael Jackson’s business, while he spent his time creating and writing and choreographing and the things he loves to do.

We will prove to you that, unlike what you were told, he didn’t know a lot of things they were doing, because they intended that he not know what they were doing. And they weren’t telling him a lot of what was going on.

We will also prove to you that a lawyer named David LeGrand was, at one time, retained to help Mr. Jackson. David LeGrand had been a securities law prosecutor. As a securities law prosecutor, we will prove that he had prosecuted people for financial crimes, stock fraud, not following proper procedures and disclosures if you’re selling stock or securities. Things of that sort.

David LeGrand began to smell that something was wrong, and he confronted Dieter and Konitzer with his suspicions, even writing to them and saying, “Why are you withdrawing money. Who told you to do that. Who gave you permission. Where’s it going. What are you doing with it.”

They then were able to convince Michael Jackson to fire LeGrand. But before that happened, David LeGrand commenced an investigation into the activities of these alleged co-conspirators, Dieter, Konitzer, Schaffel and others. He hired a top-flight investigative firm in New York to check out their backgrounds, to check out what they were doing, to see if they were hiding things overseas, to see if Mr. Jackson was being, as he said, defrauded, and to see if they were engaging in acts as what he described as self-dealing.

But they were able to get to Michael and stop the investigation by getting him to fire LeGrand, because they convinced him that LeGrand was doing something wrong.

An investigative report was prepared. It wasn't completed, but it was prepared. It was printed and it was given to Mr. LeGrand.

Marc Schaffel, the prosecutor told you that Mr. Jackson was a partner in his business. We will prove to you he was never a partner in his business.

Marc Schaffel was a film producer who had met Mr. Jackson in the early '90s. And at one point Mr. Jackson said he wanted nothing to do with him. That was in writing from his attorneys.

Marc Schaffel, like so many others, wanted to do business with Mr. Jackson. And typically, as we will prove, when people are on the outs, they band with other people on the outs and look for a way to get back in. They look for a way to glom onto somebody who has Mr. Jackson's ear during the limited time he has to deal with these things. And Mr. Schaffel came forward with a proposal that a rebuttal show be done with FOX.

Mr. Schaffel travels to Brazil all the time. Mr. Schaffel has friends in Brazil and production facilities in Brazil. And Mr. Schaffel convinced Janet Arvizo that she should come to Brazil, because Michael Jackson was going to be with them in Brazil. And she was all for it. We will produce witnesses who will tell you that Janet Arvizo was very excited about going to Brazil. Her children, apparently, weren't excited, because they wanted to stay at Neverland.

But we will prove to you through witness testimony that she was very happy about going to Brazil until she concluded that Schaffel and Dieter and Konitzer and others were somehow trying to profit off Michael Jackson and keep her out of the profits. That's when all these new claims began to surface.

And when she decided not to go to Brazil, she didn’t go to Brazil. When she decided not to go to Brazil, Marc Schaffel went to Brazil anyway.

Because that’s where he was planning to go all along.

We will produce witnesses who will tell you that she was excited about this vacation. She thought she was going to be with Michael Jackson.

And one of the constant themes I’ve been articulating to you is that when she realized Michael wasn’t going to be there taking care of the family the rest of their life, her attitude suddenly changed. And when she realized she couldn’t make millions of dollars one way, she looked for another way. And here we are.

I was going through a chronological description yesterday of events, and we were into February of 2003. I told you that the Bashir program had aired in the United States on February 6th, 2003. I also told you, ladies and gentlemen, we would prove that that’s the day that Prosecutor Sneddon announced he was investigating. And according to this prosecutor, a little over a month after he starts investigating, and Michael Jackson learns about it, he suddenly begins to molest. It’s false and absurd.

I told you that two days later, on February 8th, 2003, Ed Bradley at 60 Minutes arrived at Neverland with his film crew. Also present was the president of CBS Entertainment, Jack Sussman; Attorney David LeGrand, whom I just mentioned to you, the one who began investigating the backgrounds and the activities of these alleged co-conspirators; and Attorney Mark Geragos.

Now, Attorney Mark Geragos you’ve heard about because he’s been in some high-profile cases in California. And he had been contacted by Mr. LeGrand because Mr. Sneddon had started an investigation. He was at Neverland that day also. That's February 8th.

On February 13th, Janet Arvizo has a phone conversation with Frank Cascio that is recorded, without her knowledge. And I'd like to tell you a few of the things she said in that phone conversation February 13th.

She didn't like those German people, she said, and of course she was referring to Dieter and Konitzer. She said to Frank Cascio, "I love you so much. You don't know how much I love you. Your little sister and your little brother."

Janet Arvizo: "Yeah, it's like we're family, you know, Frank."

Frank tells her, "And to protect Michael, because we've been in this situation many times, Janet. And you know what, it ends up hurting the kids, and we don't want -- and Michael does not want Gavin to be hurt."

Janet, as I said yesterday, has been complaining that the media are harassing her. And that her son, who was in the Bashir documentary, is being hassled at school. She has requested security help and she has gotten it. We will prove to you now she has converted all of this into this notion of being imprisoned.

Janet: "Oh, I know, I know. That's why I'm getting all those information. Oh, for example, ahh, there was like a year and a half ago, a year and a half ago they did an investigation of me and David." David, of course, is her ex-husband.

"We understand that Michael Jackson and Chris Tucker are involved with you and the kids."

And they said -- and the kids spoke up and they said, "They're family to us. If we didn't have Michael, if we didn't have Michael, we wouldn't have a father, a father figure in our life."

And then the social worker, referring to the Department of Children & Family Services: "Okay. I'll give the person here a call. Name, David Arvizo. And she documented it and everything. So I'm returning the note paper so you can have all these papers."

She continually says, "Michael is our father." Ladies and gentlemen, Michael Jackson will tell you one time at Neverland he got a very bad feeling and intuition. They were in the theater that you've heard about. There is a theater at Neverland, where you can just go in, and kids can have their seats. It's on an incline. You got a stage and you got a big screen.

He was there with Janet Arvizo and the three kids, Gavin, Star and Davallin. And all of a sudden, Janet Arvizo grabs Michael's hand and has her children all hold hands, and she says, "Let's all kneel down and pray with our Daddy Michael."

And Michael Jackson got a very bad feeling.

And after that, he concluded, "I got to get away. I got to get away. I love helping this child, but something is wrong."

And we will prove to you that he was warned by others, "Get away."

Janet Arvizo continues in that recorded phone conversation, "I know we're family, Frank. Me -- you, me, my kids, are family. You, Marie Nicole, my kids, Baby Rubba, are family. Michael, Marie Nicole, you, me, are family, and my parents, that's all I got."

"So that's why these German people" -- and it's inaudible what she says, but presumably it's not too kind.

She is sensing that Dieter and Konitzer, the ones who wanted to take over Michael's business, are keeping her away from Michael, the daddy figure, the one who's supposed to rescue her family from all of their troubles.

Further on, she says to Frank Cascio, "So he's -- I told him, I told the German people, 'But you don't understand. He's family to us and we're family to him.' And oh, ahh..."

And he goes, "Your kids are unimportant, you know."

"Michael's family to me. My kids call him 'Daddy Michael'."

Yesterday the prosecutor told you he would prove that Michael wanted this. Nonsense.

Frank Cascio: "Michael wants to see you."

Janet Arvizo: "Tell him he's our family."

Frank Cascio: "You don't have to talk to him."

Janet Arvizo: "I thought, like everything, my family was in jeopardy."

Frank Cascio: "No."

Janet Arvizo: "Meaning us being with Michael and Michael being with us."

She fears that relationship is ending.

Ladies and gentlemen, we will prove that three days later, the Arvizo family are interviewed by Brad Miller, a licensed California investigator, employed by Attorney Mark Geragos.

Now, Mr. Geragos at this point was concerned about who the Arvizos were, and what they were up to, and what they really were trying to accomplish.

During this period of alleged false imprisonment, the investigator visits them at their home. Does Major Jay Jackson of the Army Reserve call the police.

No. They have an interview with the investigator that is tape-recorded. Again, three days after that phone conversation with Frank was recorded and she didn't know it was being recorded.

Okay.

She starts talking about her son's cancer.

Janet Arvizo: "To this day it's an unknown cancer. And it's been declared that by multiple laboratories and a team of 12 doctors."

And she talks about her son's internal organs that have been removed. Left adrenal, kidney, tip of his pancreas, spleen, lymph nodes, et cetera.

The investigator says to her, “Okay. Thank you. And what was Mr. Jackson’s role in his recovery.”

Janet Arvizo: “Like a -- like a father to him.”

Investigator: “What would Michael do.”

Janet Arvizo: “Everything a loving father -- unselfish, kind” - inaudible - then “exhibits unconditional love.”

She goes on: “And that’s one thing the role Michael was -- there’s not -- he wasn’t just a father figure to Gavin, he also was to Star and Davallin, because he knew all three of them needed him. And he was, um, is family to me and he also realized that I needed him.”

This is when she’s living with her boyfriend, whom she later married.

Janet Arvizo - we go on further - “Yes, and all -- David’s role - her ex-husband - to make sure he appeared to be a good father to people, because he knows of the harm that he placed on me and my children for years.”

“How long were you married to David.”

“17 years. I’m living -- we’re legally separated, pending divorce.”

And then she talks about her being the victim of domestic violence by the ex-husband.

I remind you, in the J.C. Penney deposition, she said he had never touched her, under oath.

She talks about her ex-husband committing acts of child endangerment and terrorist threats.

Sound familiar.

Then Gavin says about his father, “He hit me while I -- during my cancer treatment. Even when I had surgery, he hit me a lot.”

Star Arvizo: “He used to hit me in the head a lot and used to always kick me.”

Davallin: “He would throw us against the wall and he would yank us by the hair.”

Davallin: “My mom has bald spots resulting from my father.”

Then Janet talks about how he would abuse their dog and their pet ferret.

Continuing with Janet Arvizo in this conversation that she knew was recorded: “No, I’m just a regular person, Brad. I had to live with him for 17 years. And for 17 years I wished that one day me and my children were going to be delivered from this evil. And when Michael came into the picture, I knew that Michael was kind and gentle and a loving person, and he too had to be delivered from him.”

Continuing; Janet Arvizo: “Yes, he went -- they had filmed. When they had filmed the beautiful story about Michael and my son, David was there, present.”

That’s the Bashir filming. “And he no longer allowed me to be around Michael because he was afraid that I was going to tell Michael about everything. Everything that the children had -- were undergoing by his -- his -- I don’t know how to classify it -- evil demonic ways.”

She calls the ex-husband demonic. Didn’t Mr. Sneddon tell you that she refers to Michael as “the devil”.

Continuing in this interview; Janet Arvizo: “And that one day the kids and me were going to tell Michael. So only one time I went with David up there when he was the -- and me and Michael were dancing. Just dancing. We were approximately -- maybe like 20 feet from each other and we were dancing to the same song. And when I -- and when we were taken back into that room, that’s why the rest of the trip Michael never saw me again. I was beaten up.” She says she was beaten up inside the guest room by her ex-husband at Neverland.

Were police called. No. Were complaints made. No. Did anyone hear about it. No. Were security yards contacted at Neverland. No. Kitchen staff, zookeeper, management, administration, fire truck operator. No.

“And me, because I knew that Michael was going to help us. I knew he was going to protect us, as any loving father would, as any head of household. Because that’s how I see Michael, as a family man. He’s a family man.”

The investigator looks at Gavin, and he says, “Gavin, tell me about when you would spend the night with Michael. Where would you sleep.”

“I spent the night with Michael one time when he slept on the floor.”

He says his brother and he slept on Michael’s bed. Michael slept on the floor. And “Michael slept on the floor. Michael slept on the floor.”

“When I had cancer, he would sleep on the floor. And my brother would be there with me.”

“Was there ever anything inappropriate with Michael.

Janet: “Never.”

Davallin, the sister, says the following:

“He’s a bigger father to all of us. He’s given us safety. He’s given us love. He’s given us everything we’ve ever wanted. He’s been our father figure. He’s the only thing we know to be a father.”

Michael Jackson is being sucked in. And look what happens when you try to sever the connection and not take responsibility for this family for the rest of your life, after you were kind enough to help them when they were in need.

Janet Arvizo: “And being what I endured for 17 years, I would be the most sensitive to any little thing. And Michael has never, absolutely never made me feel, in any way, form or shape or matter, that anything was different, other than Gavin, as a son to Michael, Star as a son to Michael, Davallin as a daughter to Michael. And Michael father, like a father to all three of them. And to me, family. We, my kids and me, no rejection. We know neglection. We’ve been rejected, neglected, spit on, fried, tried, burned, abused, the door shut in our face, opportunities lost. And Michael said -- took us from way behind in the line and pulled us up to the front, and said, “You matter to me. You may not matter to many people, but you matter to me. And that’s what’s important.’”

The prosecutor wants you to think this was all scripted and done through force at the Major’s home. The Major in the United States Army.

Janet talks a little bit about her life, ladies and gentlemen. That obviously is going to be an issue in this courtroom. She says David, her ex-husband’s older brother, is a convicted drug dealer. She says she would get beatings “because I wouldn’t participate in drug activities or drug sales. I got beat up for things I stood for.”

Always leading up to “Michael has rescued us from destruction. We are his family. He is responsible for us.”

As I mentioned to you, that was February 16th, 2003, three days after the recorded phone conversation.

Now we go to February 20th, four days later.

We will prove to you that Janet and the kids did a video, freely, voluntarily; they wanted it. The kids wanted to be on camera. They wanted to be actors. The mother wanted to be on camera. The hitch was they wanted lots of money.

They arrived at the home of the videographer in Los Angeles. We will produce witnesses who will tell you that Janet seemed happy as a lark, excited and interested; but delayed it so she could talk to someone whom she thought was an attorney. She didn’t want to sign a document releasing rights. She wanted rights. She wanted money if they were going to be filmed. So they went through a lot of discussion like that.

No false imprisonment, no abduction. No force. Nothing like that.

She was laughing and giggling throughout the video, as you will see. You will see her laughing during the filming. And you will see her laughing with her kids when they think they're not being filmed.

She goes through the same routine I just read to you. The same victim routine. "We were spat on because of our race, our poverty. Nobody would help us. We shared cereal. We were going nowhere," words to that effect. "And Daddy Michael rescued us. Took us into his fold, became the surrogate father." And they all praise him to the hilt. This is February 20th. They praise him for all he has done to help Gavin with his illness. They praise him for all he has done to help them enjoy life. But implicit in everything she says is, "We are now his family. He is now our dad."

Again, while she's living with Major Jay Jackson of the United States Army. Again, she says, this is all part of the false imprisonment. And as I said to you yesterday, when you see this tape - and if they don't show you, we will - just watch the responses. Watch the facial expressions. Watch the spontaneity in the Arvizos. Watch Davallin shed tears about wonderful Michael is. Watch Gavin praise him for being a father figure; and say to yourself, "Is this whole family rehearsed because there's a gun to their head." Absolutely, positively no.

She does bring religion in; I'll tell you that. She says that, "God's grace as God works through people, so does the devil. But God elected to work in Michael to breathe life into Gavin and to my two other children, and to me a much necessary love in a very traumatic time in our life." On, and on, and on.

The next morning, she's interviewed by the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family

Services. Now, the prosecutor told you that this was all under the gun too, because there was some security guy imprisoning them or stopping their movement or stopping them from calling someone on a telephone. Did they ever tell the interviewers from the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services, “We’re being held against our will, my children are being abducted, I’m being falsely imprisoned, we are prisoners of Michael Jackson”.

No. They sang his praises again.

And you know something. Actor Chris Tucker, from the Rush Hour Series, girlfriend was there too. Did they ever look at her and, say, “Please, sneak a call to the police. Call 9-1-1. Do something. Help us. We’re being restricted”.

No.

After they realized the effect of these interviews, after they realized it might be a tough sell, that this is all scripted and done by force, that’s when the dates of the alleged molestation changed to after these interviews. Gavin has said to the police on one occasion it was before the DCFS interview, and then changed it to it was after. How come.

How come.

The day after those interviews, Ms. Arvizo went to a lawyer named William Dickerman. She had concluded that she had been duped by Schaffel, Dieter, Konitzer, Frank, Vinnie. She had concluded she was not going to get a piece of the action from any rebuttal show, which, as you know, was supposed to be a response to the Bashir documentary.

And as I said to you yesterday, yes, there was concern over Michael being placed in a false light, and Bashir. But also these people saw great money-making opportunities, because you could do another show and the networks were bidding for the other show.

She decided she wasn’t going to be able to obtain what she wanted and now it was time to take legal action. She had the lawyer send a series of letters to Geragos. And they started coming. First of all, she was upset that she was joined with Michael as a complainant, a plaintiff in a British lawsuit against the company that produced the Bashir documentary. Because as I said to you yesterday, we will prove Michael was duped by Bashir, didn’t want his children revealed so you could recognize them on the show, thought he had editorial control, and trusted Bashir.

Janet claimed to be upset that her son was on the show. In reality, we’ll prove, she wanted money from the show. That was the problem. She had joined Michael Jackson in a suit in England with Michael Jackson paying the fees. And it was done through LeGrand, his lawyer who I mentioned before, who had obtained legal counsel in England.

She decided, “I’m not going to get much out of any of this.” So she went to this lawyer and he starts writing letters to Mr. Geragos, saying she wants her property back, which is in storage.

At her request, her property was taken from the studio apartment, put in storage. Her back rent was paid by these people who were helping her out, because she wanted to go to Brazil, and she always complained, “I want to live in a nicer place.”

In fact, her daughter stated to one witness, “We’re going to get a nice home in the Hollywood Hills.” Her fiance and now husband complained, “We want more than a house out of this. We want more than a college education out of this. You guys are making millions. What are we getting.”

She wanted out of that location. What she decided to do when she thought she couldn’t make money the friendly way was to make money through lawyers the hostile way. And Dickerman started sending letters, “We want her furniture back, we want her possessions back,” as if Michael Jackson wanted to steal her furniture and possessions. But nevertheless, he also said, “We don’t want Mr. Jackson’s people hassling her, harassing her.

Interestingly enough, the letters keep coming, and there’s never any mention of child molestation. Not in any of these letters.

Those claims evolved with time.

In late March, Janet Arvizo bumped into one of the Department of Children & Family Services workers who had interviewed her at a hamburger place, late March 2003. Never mentioned sexual misconduct, false imprisonment, extortion, child abduction, giving alcohol to minors for sexual purposes. Never mentions any of this stuff. Sees her at a public place.

March 26th, Lawyer Dickerman contacts Mark Geragos and never mentions sexual misconduct. It’s in April of 2003 that Janet Arvizo goes to Lawyer Larry Feldman.

On April 16th of 2003, the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Department closes their case investigating Michael Jackson. They conclude no criminal activity has gone on.

In May of 2003, that’s May 15th, Larry Feldman, who, as you know, has sued Michael Jackson before, gets Janet and the children to talk to a psychologist that he uses as an expert witness in other cases. In other words, lawyers often will have experts they want to use and the experts get paid, and they’re kind of in bed together.

Not until May 29th, 2003, does this psychologist suddenly claim he has a reasonable suspicion there was molestation. I repeat the date. May 29th, 2003. She hires Attorney Feldman in April. It’s not till the very end of May that they come up with these false claims.

On June 5th, 2003, the psychologist meets with Lawyer Feldman and Lawyer Dickerman. They’re all collaborating. Doesn’t go to the police. Janet doesn’t go to the police. The kids don’t go to the police.

Psychologist Katz and Lawyer Feldman go to the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services on June 13th to report this.

I’d like you to hear this one, ladies and gentlemen: On September 30th, 2003, Lieutenant Klapakis from the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Office calls the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services and doesn’t want them to interview the Arvizos. I repeat, doesn’t want them to interview the Arvizos. They already had.

On March 29th, 2004, Janet Arvizo testifies under oath before a grand jury in Santa Barbara and says she learned for the first time about the molestation from the police. That, we will prove, is false.

Ladies and gentlemen, it’s going to be a long trial and you’re going to see and hear lots of evidence. We are extremely confident that, when you do, you are going to find Michael Jackson absolutely not guilty of any of this.

Thank you. `

THE COURT: Thank you, Mesereau.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: We’ll take our morning recess. Remember the admonition.

(Recess taken.)

--o0o--

(An off-the-record discussion was held in chambers.)

THE COURT: All right. Is there a stipulation reached.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, Your Honor, between counsel.

MR. SANGER: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Would you state, briefly state the stipulation.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, Your Honor. The stipulation is that there are certain exhibits lodged with the Court in connection with the grand jury proceedings, and there’s a stipulation that those exhibits can be released to us, to the People, and that -- for mutual use by both sides.

MR. SANGER: So stipulated, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I’ll approve that stipulation and release the exhibits.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Leslie, is the unit on here. Is this on.

THE BAILIFF: You need to --

THE COURT: No, I just asked if the --

THE BAILIFF: It takes about ten seconds to heat up.

THE COURT: You may call your first witness.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor. Call Martin Bashir.

Mr. Bashir, come forward, please.

THE COURT: Come forward to the witness stand. And when you get to the witness stand, remain standing, face the clerk here, raise your right hand.

MARTIN BASHIR

Having been sworn, testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: I do.

THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Martin Bashir. M-a-r-t-i-n; surname, B-a-s, as in “sugar,” h-i-r.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. Mr. Bashir, I'm going to ask you if you'd scoot a little closer to that microphone, if you can.

A. I'm not particularly tall. I'm sorry.

Q. That's all right.

Mr. Bashir, what is your profession or occupation.

A. I'm a television journalist.

Q. And how long have you been involved in that occupation.

A. I've been involved in journalism for 20 years, and I've been a television journalist for around 18 years.

Q. Could you just --

THE COURT: Somehow you need to get closer to that mike. Can you swing it towards you a little bit.

BAILIFF CORTEZ: It's bolted down.

THE COURT: It moves this way.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry.

THE COURT: Okay.

THE WITNESS: Sorry.

THE COURT: You'll have to move to it. It doesn't --

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry. I've been working as a journalist for 20 years, and I've been working as a television journalist for around 18 years.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Tell us a little bit, to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, if you would, a little bit about what a television journalist does.

A. A television journalist is somebody who performs the task of journalism, which is, in effect, to report, to research, to investigate, to report stories. The distinction would be that a television journalist, as opposed to a newspaper journalist, would use the medium of television so that -- when I started my career, I would write for newspapers, do stories for newspapers, did some sports reporting, some general news. And then when I moved on to television, it was the same core task of reporting, but it was done using the medium of television.

Q. And then how does the profession -- how does the way that you practice that profession differ, if it does in any respect, from those that we see on the nightly network news stations reporting the news as a journalist.

A. There would be no distinction as to what I’m doing. I’m covering stories and reporting. I suppose the distinction would be that news journalists would tend to file shorter reports. My career has tended to be fixed around long-form films. I mean by that documentaries, half-hour, one-hour, and in some cases two-hour films, current affairs programs. So I would tend to be described in the United Kingdom as a current affairs specialist, somebody who does long-form film as opposed to nightly news.

Q. Now, in the practice of your profession, where is it that you’ve worked professionally.

A. As a television journalist.

Q. Yes, sir.

A. I began at the BBC with what we call regional broadcasting. That would be like a local affiliate to you.

Q. Now, what is the BBC.

A. The BBC is the British Broadcasting Corporation. It is a state-funded broadcasting organization which does everything from drama, comedy, to news and current affairs, light entertainment, music, and I joined a local regional station in London covering news that was breaking in London. I did that for three years. Then after that, I was promoted to a network position on a current affairs program called “Public Eye." And there I did a variety of domestic stories, everything ranging from car crime, to stories about violent attacks and racist attacks on immigrant groups in London.

After that -- I did that for about three years, and then after that I moved on to a program called "Panorama," and that was in 1992. "Panorama" is the BBC's flagship current affairs program. And whilst on that program, I did a number of important stories, and the first film I did for "Panorama" was actually a film about allegations of satanic abuse. I did a film which investigated whether there was such a thing. There was so-called satanic covens --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Narrative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: In the year of 2002 -- excuse me just a second.

(Brief interruption.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right, Mr. Bashir, let's jump forward in your career to the year 2002, if we could.

A. Sure.

Q. Where were you employed professionally in the year 2002.

A. I was employed by the United Kingdom's biggest commercial television network ITV.

Q. And what does "ITV" stand for.

A. Independent Television.

Q. And in connection with your professional responsibilities there, did you do video documentaries.

A. What do you mean by "video documentaries".

Q. All right. Then obviously you didn't, if you don't know what it's called.

When you do programs, what do you call them.

A. I call them films.

Q. Films.

A. Yeah. Current affairs films.

Q. Current affairs films, so we can talk about the same thing.

Now, could you give me just two or three or maybe four, just by name, of individuals that you’ve done current affairs films for over the years.

A. Sure. I did a one-hour special on a notorious serial killer called Harold Shipman, who is alleged to have murdered 273 people and was found guilty in court and in fact committed suicide quite recently. I did an hour on that.

I did a special hour on an extraordinary story featuring a Maltese couple who came to the United Kingdom, and the mother was --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Relevance.

THE COURT: The qualifications is overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did you do a current affairs piece on Princess Diana.

A. I did, yeah. That was not in 2002. That was in 1995.

Q. All right. So you did do that.

A. I did.

Q. And how long was that production.

A. I think the total duration was around an hour and 50 minutes, an hour and 45 minutes.

Q. All right. Now, in connection with your current affairs occupation or business during the year 2000, did you do a current affairs film on the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson.

A. I did.

Q. And could you tell me when it was that you commenced that, in what year.

A. 2002.

Q. And when did you finish it.

A. The broadcast date was the 3rd of February, 2003.

Q. When did you actually complete the project, the filming of it.

A. The filming of it, I think the last day of filming was the 14th of January, 2003, in Miami.

Q. Now, during the time -- and you have -- let me ask you this: Did you review the actual film that was used in connection with the broadcast you just mentioned in Great Britain.

A. I’m sorry, what do you mean, did I “review” it.

Q. The one that was shown on the television.

Excuse me, let me just go back for a second if we can.

What was the name of the program in which the current affairs film on the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson, was shown in the United Kingdom.

A. It was titled, “Living with Michael Jackson.”

Q. And what program was it connected with.

Some individual program, or just --

A. It was made by a team. The current affairs team that supplied the weekly output for ITV was called “Tonight.” The show was called “Tonight.”

Q. That’s what I was after, what the show was called.

A. Forgive me, I’m sorry. The program itself, because it was longer than a normal “Tonight” show, was actually broadcast on a different night in the evening for a longer duration, so it was given its own specific title for that reason.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Your Honor, at this time I have two exhibits I’d like to have marked as People’s 1 and People’s 2 for identification purposes.

Actually, if you would excuse me, I will make my way over to the clerk.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, the exhibits that I’ve just had the clerk mark for identification purposes, People’s 1 is a custodian of the records declaration from a Phillip Lunt, L-u-n-t, from Granada Productions as the declarant, as the custodian.

And the second exhibit is the -- I’m opening the package and removing from it the film. That’s been marked as People’s Exhibit No. 2, which according to the authentication, is a copy of the program that was shown in Great Britain on February the 3rd, so I'd like to have both of these moved into evidence as People's 1 and 2, and I intend to then show the video to the jury.

THE COURT: All right. They're admitted.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Mr. Bashir, one last question before we actually show the video.

During the time that you were in production of the video "Living with Michael Jackson," were you aware of the fact that Mr. Jackson also had one of his videographers accompanying you during the filming of your footage.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection.

Your Honor, I should probably introduce myself. I'm Mr. Bashir's counsel, Theodore J. Boutrous, Jr., and I'm joined here today by Henry Hoberman, who is a senior vice-president and the head of litigation for ABC News, and pursuant to the Court's prior order, I'm going to object to this question on the grounds that it calls for unpublished information that's protected by the California Constitution's journalist shield law which is meant to protect the independence of journalists from being called to testify.

And I'd like to renew our objection to Mr. Bashir being called today and also would rely on the First Amendment, First Amendment privilege for journalists.

Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Mr. Boutrous, the objection you raise, it's not a privilege. It's a shield from contempt. So from the standpoint of sustaining your objection, I won't sustain the objection.

The question's been asked. Are you going to answer the question.

MR. BOUTROUS: Your Honor, the First Amendment privilege is a privilege, so I would request that the Court enforce that privilege. This is unpublished information gathered in the newsgathering process, and it's important for journalists to have that freedom to gather news and report it without intrusion of the courts. And I would ask the Court to enforce the First Amendment privilege.

We have great respect for the Court and don't want to go into contempt, but we would ask the Court to preclude that type of questioning. And based on some of the arguments, I'm concerned that this will become a side issue, and it could really do harm to the ability of journalists to gather information that's of important public interest and concern and disseminate it to the public.

So I'd ask the Court to at this point limit the questioning to published information and background information about Mr. Bashir on both sides, because I'm concerned about where the --

THE COURT: The rights are different on both sides.

MR. BOUTROUS: They are, Your Honor, and in fact it's an absolute privilege with respect to -- yes, it's an absolute privilege with respect to the District Attorney, and on that ground, I would ask the Court to enforce it absolutely and preclude this question, and Mr. Jackson's lawyers have not made any showing thus far that they have any ability --

THE COURT: True. We're not at that issue.

MR. BOUTROUS: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The question, though, has been asked. The objection is overruled. And I'm asking the witness if he's going to answer the question. Would you like it read back to you.

THE WITNESS: I would, yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: The answer to the question is yes, but the individual concerned --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

THE WITNESS: -- only filmed on two occasions.

THE COURT: Wait. You answered the question, and there’s an objection. The question is answered.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay.

THE COURT: And the answer was “Yes.”

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Your Honor, I understand you have a button that has to be activated before we can show the VCR.

THE COURT: That’s true.

MR. SNEDDON: And my second question is, Your Honor, we do have a transcript of this if, in the Court’s discretion, you would like to have the jurors have them at this time. If not, that’s fine.

THE COURT: Because I’m not sure at this point that the transcripts are transcripts of this, and you couldn’t make that representation to me, I’m not going to allow the transcript to be passed around.

MR. SNEDDON: That’s perfectly understandable, Your Honor. All right.

THE COURT: Now, I think I pushed the right button.

MR. BOUTROUS: Could I make a request. Would it be possible for Mr. Bashir to come down so he can watch the broadcast rather than -- I can vacate my seat if that would --

THE COURT: Oh, yeah, absolutely. But I didn’t want to have him come down yet until we’re sure that -- I think we’re at that point.

MR. BOUTROUS: No problem.

MR. MESEREAU: If I may lodge an objection, Your Honor; no transcripts. The rules of Court require them before you show a tape.

THE COURT: Audiotape. They require them on videotape.

MR. MESEREAU: I believe so, Your Honor. They also require that the jury have the transcript.

THE COURT: I don’t think that’s the case.

MR. SNEDDON: I thought that what it required was that the record on appeal requires a transcript, not that it’s required at the time.

THE COURT: You have to lodge the tape with the Court, which I didn't prevent him from doing. He wanted to hand the jurors copies, and you weren't in chambers, but it was represented in chambers that he hasn't had the opportunity to compare his transcript to this tape. So I'm not -- you know, I'm not having that. I wouldn't want to hand it to the jury at this point.

MR. SNEDDON: Because it just got here.

THE COURT: Yeah, this tape just got to my office last Friday.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, sir, at the court.

MR. MESEREAU: Could I request, Your Honor, that we get a copy of their transcript.

THE COURT: Certainly.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

THE COURT: Now, I'm going to let Mr. Bashir sit down, if you're sure you don't have any other questions to ask him.

MR. SNEDDON: I better quit while I'm ahead, Your Honor. I guess we'll have Mr. Bashir come down here, I'll give him my chair, and he can watch.

THE COURT: I can't see. Is there any room. There's someone nodding affirmatively. He can sit next to that individual.

Mr. Bashir, you may step down now.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

MR. BOUTROUS: Just to be clear, too, this is Mr. Hoberman, who I identified in passing.

MR. HOBERMAN: Good morning, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The individual shaking his head was co-counsel.

MR. HOBERMAN: Good morning, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Good morning.

Whenever you're ready. I have a button here that also allows me to have the screen go blank, and if counsel is concerned, any of the attorneys is concerned -- huh.

MR. SNEDDON: I thought you were still talking.

THE COURT: If you’re concerned, tell me and just say, “Blank it,” and I’ll do that.

MR. SNEDDON: All right.

THE COURT: That would only be because it shows something I don’t anticipate.

(Whereupon, a portion of a videotape, People’s Exhibit No. 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

THE COURT: You know, would you hold it a second.

There’s one admonition that I want to make to the jury before we watch this, and I’m going to give you a more detailed instruction on this later, but I just want to prepare you for this right now:

That the video of “Living with Michael Jackson,” which is this video, at this point is not offered for the truth of anything said or shown in the program, with the exception of certain passages that will later be identified.

You will receive additional instruction with regard to these identified passages. The rest of the contents of the video is hearsay and not -- and cannot be considered by you to prove anything other than the fact that the program aired in February of 2003.

You may now go forward.

MR. ZONEN: Your Honor, we’re ready.

THE COURT: Yes.

(Whereupon, a portion of a videotape, People’s Exhibit No. 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

MR. SNEDDON: There’s about a 30-second break, Your Honor. Or 45 seconds.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: We’re missing the commercials.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, I can try and fast forward through this if you’d like.

THE COURT: Whatever you’d like.

(Whereupon, a portion of a videotape,

People's Exhibit No. 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

THE COURT: Well, it's almost time for the 11:30 break, so let's take the 11:30 break.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: All right. You may proceed.

(Whereupon, a portion of a videotape, People's Exhibit No. 2, was played for the Court and jury to its conclusion.)

THE COURT: Do you anticipate needing the screen again for a while.

MR. SNEDDON: No, sir. I have no further questions, Your Honor.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MESEREAU:

Q. Mr. Bashir, my name is Thomas Mesereau, and I speak for Mr. Jackson.

A. Thank you.

Q. At some point in time, you made an effort to contact Mr. Jackson about doing this show, correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. And approximately when was that.

A. I think it was around April 2002.

Q. And you contacted someone named Uri Geller, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor. I think Mr. Mesereau is now straying directly into the areas covered by the California shield law and the First Amendment, and we would ask the Court to rule that that kind of inquiry is off limits.

THE COURT: Before we rule on that objection, I think we need to discuss the scope of the examination here. As I see it, the prosecution put him on simply to authenticate the tape. I suspect you would like to examine him at length, based on your opening statement, about a lot of things.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor. But he does give special thanks to Mr. Uri Geller at the end of the tape. And the prosecution played that tape, and I think they've opened the door on that one.

MR. SNEDDON: It's not even in for the truth of the matter stated, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I think I'll -- do you have him under subpoena.

MR. MESEREAU: No.

THE COURT: What I think I should do is to limit your examination of him at this time as to the foundation of the tape. So that's what I'm going to do.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, in order to produce the show we've just watched, you had to speak to Mr. Jackson, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor. Again, this is unpublished information. It's clear from the face of the tape that Mr. Bashir talked to Mr. Jackson, and that's published material and that's the limits of the proper examination.

THE COURT: I'll overrule the objection for the same reason I stated earlier.

Would you be more comfortable to be at counsel table where you have a microphone.

MR. BOUTROUS: That might be helpful, Your Honor. It might be better for the jury, and they won't have to see me jumping up and down. I don't want -- I'm a little uncomfortable taking one side or the other.

THE COURT: Well, I think you need to take a chair. We won't assume you're taking anyone's side.

MR. BOUTROUS: Okay. Thank you.

And, Your Honor, may I just inquire on the procedure that the Court is following. Because the approach the Court took, the initial objection was to ask Mr. Bashir to decide whether to answer. And I'm reluctant to have him make that decision without knowing that I'm going to be able to argue against a potential contempt finding based on the shield law.

So if the Court could clarify the procedures that it's following, that would be very helpful.

THE COURT: Well, the procedure I was following was to let you make your objection. Then I'll ask the witness if he wishes to answer the question, and we will go from there.

MR. BOUTROUS: Will I have an opportunity, if the witness declines to answer based on the constitutional shield law protecting journalists, to then argue that the material's protected and the Court should not hold Mr. Bashir in contempt.

THE COURT: Of course.

MR. BOUTROUS: Thank you, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, the prosecution did go into Mr. Bashir's qualifications. May I cross-examine in that area.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. First of all, Mr. Bashir, I did ask you a question, and that question I'll repeat: In order to produce what the jury has just seen, you had to make contact with Mr. Jackson, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And you made numerous attempts to contact Mr. Jackson, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Again, Your Honor, I object on the grounds that that's unpublished information, and it's also unclear from the face of the tapes that he had contact with Mr. Jackson.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I have correspondence from Mr. Bashir. It's pretty obvious that, in a nonprivileged context, he was trying to make contact and say what he wanted to do.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

Do you wish to answer that question, Mr. Bashir.

MR. BOUTROUS: I'm going to leave it to Mr. Bashir. It puts him in a difficult position. Because there's a very important legal principle that's taken. It does not matter whether Mr. Mesereau claims to have correspondence or that there's other documents. That's the limits of the permissible --

THE COURT: I think I understand the legal parameters.

MR. BOUTROUS: -- information.... I just want to make sure I preserve the record and that the --

THE COURT: You are doing an excellent job.

MR. BOUTROUS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE WITNESS: Your Honor, my preface is to simply stand by the film as you've seen it and to testify as to its contents.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MESEREAU: I'll object, Your Honor, and move to strike his comments. They were not in response to any question.

THE COURT: Well, actually they were a response to my question if he wanted to answer the question.

THE WITNESS: Sorry, sir. That --

THE COURT: So I won't let you strike that. All right. He is following his counsel's advice and he's not answering that question. Next question.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I would move for sanctions against the witness. Or I would move to strike all of his testimony, including the prosecution's playing of this tape, if he refuses to be cross-examined.

THE COURT: The way I would like to proceed with this is that he -- he does have some protection under the shield law that his counsel has been pointing out. That protection is against contempt of court.

What I think I'll do is let you ask him the questions, let his attorney make the objections, let him decide whether he's going to answer. And then I'll make a record -- we have a record of those questions, and then I'll review them later to determine whether or not I feel a contempt charge should be issued. It’s really a ticklish area of the law.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q. Mr. Bashir, you outlined some qualifications you have in the world of journalism, correct.
A. I didn’t outline any qualifications, sir. I just referred to the chronology of my career.
Q. Did you mean, when you did that, to explain that you’re a qualified professional journalist.
A. I meant simply to explain my career chronologically, sir.
Q. Do you consider yourself as a professional journalist.
A. I do, sir.
Q. Do you consider yourself a professional journalist because you’ve had certain experience in journalism.
A. I do, sir.

Q. Do you consider yourself to be a professional journalist because you’re educated in the world of journalism.
A. My academic studies were not in journalism. They were in the arts and humanities. So I don’t have a formal qualification, if that’s what you’re asking, sir, but I have the experience that comes with working in the profession.
Q. Now, as a journalist in England, you are regulated by a certain administrative agency, correct.
A. Could you repeat the question.
Q. Sure. Is there an organization or an administrative agency that goes by a title somewhat like British Broadcasting Standards Board.
A. There is an organization called the Broadcasting Complaints Commission. Would you be referring to that.
Q. I think I am. Do you work with that organization in any capacity.
A. That organization doesn’t employ journalists.
Q. Have you been sanctioned by that organization.

A. Could you repeat the question.

Q. Have you been sanctioned by that organization.

A. By the Broadcasting Complaints Commission.

Q. Yes.

A. The answer to that question is, three complaints were made against me. Two of the key complaints were entirely rejected, and they were to do with balance and fairness. One of the three was upheld. This is -- sir, just so I can explain so people understand, because they --

Q. Certainly.

A. -- because they may not understand.

The Broadcasting Standards Commission is not a legal body, and it has no particular merit in a legal setting.

Q. Nevertheless, a complaint against you as a journalist was upheld, true.

A. As I said, sir, three complaints were made. The two key complaints were entirely rejected. One complaint was upheld of the three.

Q. Let's talk about the one that was upheld, sir. There was a complaint against you that was upheld by that agency, correct.

A. There was, sir, yes.

Q. And what did they complain about, Mr. Bashir.

A. The complaint related to -- to what -- to what -- to how I described what I was doing with the story that I was working on.

Q. And what were you doing, Mr. Bashir.

A. I was doing journalism.

Q. Could you put a little teeth on that and just tell the jury what we're talking about.

A. In relation to.

Q. You don't know what we're talking about.

A. Do you mean the specific program. Sorry, I don't know whether -- sorry, I apologize. Are you asking me about the complaint, or are you asking me about the story, the reporting that I was doing.

Q. Why don't you tell the jury about both.

MR. BOUTROUS: Your Honor, I'm going to object. Mr. Mesereau is now inquiring about unpublished information or unbroadcast information about another matter. Same objection.

THE COURT: Well, it's a compound question. Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

Q. Please describe for the jury the subject matter of the complaint you just identified, Mr. Bashir.

A. The story was about a teenaged prodigy, a mathematics genius, who had run away from university, had legally emancipated herself from her family. And the story was to describe what had happened from both sides.

Q. You were accused of misrepresentations, true.

A. No, that's incorrect.

Q. You were not accused of misrepresenting anything in that complaint.

A. I was accused of unfairness, which was entirely rejected. I was accused of breaching an agreement, which was entirely rejected. I was accused of not representing the entirety of what I was doing with that broadcast to one of the individuals.

Q. Kind of what you've been accused of here, right.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection.

MR. SNEDDON: Argumentative, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, how long was the film you did on Mr. Jackson.

A. The total duration.

Q. Yes, please.

A. I'm afraid I don't know in exact terms. It's some time -- it's over two years since the film was broadcast. I think it was around an hour and 15 minutes.

Q. And how many hours of footage did you obtain during the time you spent with Mr. Jackson.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor. Unpublished information, covered by the shield law and the First Amendment.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Do you wish to answer.

THE WITNESS: No, I don’t.

THE COURT: Next question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You don’t know at all. Can’t even estimate.

THE COURT: He doesn’t --

THE WITNESS: That’s not what I wish to answer.

THE COURT: He chose not to answer.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I would move that the entire testimony be stricken and the prosecution’s evidence be stricken.

THE COURT: That’s denied.

MR. MESEREAU: I would ask for contempt, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The procedure that I’m going to follow I already outlined.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Okay. For the record, Your Honor, could I have a running objection if he refuses to answer a question, or shall I make my request each time.

THE COURT: No, you don’t need to do that. Let me just understand what we’re having a running record about.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes.

THE COURT: If he -- if his attorney objects, and he declines to answer based on his attorney’s advice, I will review that question for contempt proceedings without further necessity on your part to request that. Your motion to strike his entire testimony and evidence is denied.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Your Honor, could I have that be a running objection as well.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Thank you.

Q. Mr. Bashir, you communicated with Mr. Jackson's assistant by letter before you began filming this show, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Again, Your Honor, I object. It's unpublished information created and prepared in the course of news gathering and covered by the shield law and the First Amendment.

THE COURT: Do you wish to answer.

THE WITNESS: No.

MR. MESEREAU: Same objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: And I'll review the record.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, you wrote to Mr. Jackson's assistant and said you would very much like to feature Michael with a large group of children, around 50, welcoming them and sharing with them his extraordinary home so that, for one day, their lives can be enriched, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Do you wish to --

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor -- excuse me. Could I add an objection to that also. Beyond the scope of direct examination.

THE COURT: Sustained as to beyond the scope of the direct examination.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, you interviewed Mr. Jackson and repeatedly asked him questions about his desire for an international children's holiday, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objection, Your Honor, in that would seem to be beyond the scope of the direct examination as well.

THE COURT: Sustained as to beyond the scope.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, will the Court permit me to ask questions about what's actually on the tape.

THE COURT: No, because the tape's being introduced not for the truth of the matter asserted, but for a different purpose. There are some areas, however, that I didn't instruct the jury on about the assertions that they wish to have considered for the truth of the matter. And those would not be out of bounds, because -- well, let me ask the District Attorney.

You do not intend to offer any other evidence of those statements that were the subject of the motion to have the Court consider the statements for the truth of the matter.

MR. SNEDDON: No, I think we outlined in our motion, and the Court made its ruling last week. Is that what you're referring to, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Well, I'm asking you, this is the only evidence you're going to have of those statements, so --

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Then those statements open cross-examination as to those statements.

Do you understand what I'm saying.

MR. MESEREAU: I think I do, Your Honor.

The statements you had us isolate for purposes of constituting admissions --

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: -- is what you're talking about.

THE COURT: That's correct.

MR. MESEREAU: May I take a second just to obtain those.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

While we're getting those, Your Honor, if I may, I'll just continue.

THE COURT: Sure.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, you had Michael Jackson sign an agreement without a lawyer present, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Again, Your Honor, beyond the scope of the direct and covered by the shield law.

THE COURT: I'd overrule that objection.

Will you answer that question.

THE WITNESS: Mr. Jackson signed two agreements in which he asked for no conditions whatsoever and agreed that I was free to make the film with him. And the first of those agreements was signed in November 2002, and the second agreement was signed in January 2003, just about two weeks prior to broadcast of the British version of the film that you've just seen.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I would move to strike the answer and request that the Court order the witness to answer the question.

THE COURT: All right. It's stricken. And I'll ask the court reporter to read back the question so that you understand the question.

(Record read.)

MR. BOUTROUS: I renew my objection, Your Honor. That goes to news gathering and relates to information prepared in connection with news gathering.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Do you wish to answer that.

THE WITNESS: I think I agree with my attorney that I have protections under the shield law, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MESEREAU: Same objection would be noted, Your Honor.

MR. SANGER: I'm sorry, Your Honor, it's hard for Mr. Jackson and for us to hear the witness.

THE WITNESS: I apologize. It's my fault. Sorry. I'm sorry.

THE DEFENDANT: Speak up.

THE COURT: And, yes, you don't need to. I'm going to review all of the questions.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Bashir --

THE COURT: If you want to, you can.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

Q. Mr. Bashir, you have been accused in England of forging signatures, correct.

A. Incorrect.

Q. No one has ever made that accusation, sir.

MR. BOUTROUS: I’m going to object, Your Honor. Hearsay; lack of foundation; beyond the scope of direct examination.

THE COURT: Sustained on beyond the scope of direct.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, to qualify as a professional journalist, do you have to fulfill any particular educational program.

A. In the United States or in the United Kingdom, sir.

Q. Anywhere.

A. I’m frankly unsure about how that applies in the United States. And in the United Kingdom, there would be different ways of progressing your career. Some people would do it through the route of experience. And others would do it through some kind of academic qualification. I think others will have a mix of the two.

Q. How did you do it.

A. A mix of the two.

Q. Could you please explain that.

A. I was given training during my employment at the BBC. And I also took opportunities to work in print and radio journalism, so I combined the experience part with the training.

Q. You are currently a paid legal analyst for ABC, correct.

A. Incorrect, sir.

Q. Are you a paid employee by ABC in any capacity.

A. I am, sir.

Q. Could you please tell the jury what that is.

A. I’m employed as a correspondent for ABC News, which is owned by Disney.

Q. How long have you been paid as a correspondent for ABC.

A. My contract began on the 1st of September, last year.

Q. Are you covering this case as a correspondent who is paid.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor, beyond the scope; and again, requiring him to cover news gathering activities is covered by the shield law.

THE COURT: Overruled. Do you wish to answer that question.

THE WITNESS: No, I don’t, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Same objection. Thank you.

THE COURT: Noted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, if you look at the two documents you referred to that you say Mr. Jackson signed, his signature appears to be different from document to document, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objection, Your Honor. And -- same objection on the shield law, Your Honor; and beyond the scope of direct.

THE COURT: Sustained; beyond the scope.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, did you request that Michael Jackson bring Macauley Culkin so you could film him at Neverland.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objection under the shield law and the First Amendment, Your Honor. And beyond the scope of direct.

THE COURT: Sustained on beyond the scope.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: In the process of putting this film together, Mr. Bashir, did you write to Michael Jackson’s assistant and say you wanted to film the beautiful landscape encouraging all of us to become as little children again.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object as beyond the scope.

THE COURT: You must let him finish his question before you interrupt. Don’t interrupt is what I’m saying.

MR. BOUTROUS: Could I just object, though.

The scope of the direct is very clear. Mr. Mesereau knows what the scope of direct is. And now he’s just knowingly asking questions that are beyond the scope of direct. And I would ask the Court to ask him to refrain from doing that. That would truncate the examination.
THE COURT: I would like to be able to hear the question he’s asking so that I can make a reasoned ruling on his question.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir --
THE COURT: You had not finished the last question.
Would you read back his answer as far as you got it. His question.
(Record read.)
THE COURT: Is that the complete question.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes.
THE COURT: And the objection.
MR. BOUTROUS: Same objection. Beyond the scope of direct; shield law; First Amendment.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, did you, in the process of getting -- making contact with Mr. Jackson so you could make this film, misrepresent that you were putting together a trip to Africa for Mr. Jackson to visit sick children.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objection, Your Honor. Beyond the scope of direct; shield law; First Amendment.
THE COURT: I’ll sustain the objection; beyond the scope of direct.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, did you allow Mr. Jackson any editorial control over this film.
MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor.
THE COURT: The objection beyond the scope is sustained.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, before this film was shown - and I’m talking about the actual film itself, not generally speaking. I’m talking about what the prosecution has used in this courtroom today, all right. - did you watch that actual reel.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections. Beyond the scope; shield law; First Amendment.

MR. MESEREAU: I think we're discussing authentication, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Do you want the question read back.

THE WITNESS: Yes, please, Your Honor.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: I don't wish to answer the question. The question is -- is protected under the shield law.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I would --

THE COURT: Maybe you didn't understand the question. I hope I did. The question is, did you watch this reel right here, just before we showed it.

THE WITNESS: Today.

THE COURT: Today.

THE WITNESS: Oh. I'm happy to answer that question, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Is that your question.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

THE WITNESS: No, I did not.

MR. MESEREAU: Move to strike the prosecutor's evidence and testimony as being unauthenticated.

THE COURT: I'll take that under advisement. I'll have to go back and look at it.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Before you testified today, did you discuss your testimony with Prosecutor Sneddon.

A. I did not.

Q. Before you testified today, did you discuss your testimony with anyone.

A. I had private discussions with my attorney.

Q. Other than your attorney, before you testified today, did you discuss what you were going to say with anybody.

A. No.

Q. No one with your company.

A. No.

Q. Never mentioned it to any other journalists, Mr. Bashir.

A. Today.

Q. Yes, sir.

A. I haven’t been with any other journalists, sir.

Q. How about yesterday.

A. I wasn’t with any journalists yesterday, sir.

Q. Have you discussed with any other journalist at any time what you were going to say in this courtroom in this case, Mr. Bashir.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, what’s the materiality of this question. That has nothing to do with the direct examination.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: The only -- I’ve discussed this case with my attorney.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: To your knowledge, when did you receive a subpoena in this case, Mr. Bashir.

A. At the beginning of this year.

Q. Are you telling this jury, under oath, that since you received a subpoena, or since you knew you received a subpoena, till today, you’ve never discussed what you were going to say with anyone other than your attorney.

A. I’m trying very hard to remember so that I can be accurate, sir.

Q. You can take your time.

A. Thank you.

As far as my recollection goes, I recall discussing the matter with my attorney.

Q. Let me state the question again, because you may not have understood it. You learned you had received a subpoena when.

A. At the beginning of this year.

Q. Since you learned you had received a subpoena, have you ever discussed the fact that you were going to be a witness with anyone other than your attorney.

MR. BOUTROUS: Your Honor, I'm going to object. That's a different question than discussing what he was going to say. I'm not sure how he could discuss what he was going to say before the trial.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, Your Honor. These are speaking objections. This is improper form.

THE COURT: The objection's overruled.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You're free to answer.

THE COURT: And I can have it read back for you.

THE WITNESS: That's okay, Your Honor. Thank you.

I'm happy to state that I discussed the matter with my attorney.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You may be happy to say that, sir, but would you please answer the question.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, that's argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Read the question back to him, please.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: I discussed the matter with my attorney, sir.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, could I ask that the witness be ordered to respond to the question.

THE COURT: You haven't quite answered it.

THE WITNESS: I understand, Your Honor. The difficulty is I want to be completely accurate in my answers, unequivocal and clear. And what I know for certain is that I have discussed the matter with my attorney.

THE COURT: And no one else.

THE WITNESS: I'm pretty sure that's the case, but I can't -- I can't be as unequivocal as I'd like to be, and that's why I'm hesitant.

THE COURT: Okay. Next question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Correct me if I'm wrong, Mr. Bashir - and I might be - you do not have a clear recollection of telling any other journalist, since you learned you had a subpoena, that you’re going to be a witness in this case, right.

A. No.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to that question. That was not the question that was asked.

MR. MESEREAU: It’s another question.

MR. SNEDDON: Then the framing of the question is improper.

MR. MESEREAU: It’s not improper, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled. I’m going to have the question read back. Whenever there’s an argument like that --

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

THE COURT: -- we lose the question.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: The fact of my subpoena, sir, was published in various forms of media, so that everybody knew that I had been subpoenaed as a result of that. It is possible that during my work for ABC, I may have mentioned that I had been subpoenaed.

If you are suggesting that I had a detailed discussion about what I was going to say, that is completely untrue. But it is possible -- as I say, I wish to be as clear as I can, but it is possible that I mentioned the fact of my subpoena to my colleagues.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: But as you sit here today, you just don’t remember ever mentioning it to any particular colleague, true.

A. That’s not what I said.

Q. What are you saying.

MR. BOUTROUS: Asked and answered; and argumentative.

THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll restate it, Your Honor, if it will make it easier.

Q. Mr. Bashir, are you telling this jury, under oath, that you don’t have a clear recollection of ever telling any journalist that you were going to be a witness in this case.

A. Sir, what I said was, that news of the subpoena was published broadly and wide, internationally. And as I returned to my core task at ABC News, I may have mentioned the fact that I had received a subpoena.

Q. Are you telling this jury that you don’t have a clear recollection of ever telling any particular journalist that you were going to be a witness in this case; yes or no, Mr. Bashir.

A. Sir --

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object to that. It’s argumentative.

THE COURT: I’m going to sustain the objection, only because you said, “Are you telling this jury,” as opposed to just asking a question.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it.

THE COURT: Everybody is telling this jury everything. They’re sitting right there.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, do you recall telling any particular journalist that you were going to be a witness in this case.

A. As I’ve said, news of my subpoena was published. And I’m quite sure that it’s possible that I may have mentioned the fact that I had received a subpoena in relation to these proceedings.

What I am -- your earlier question, which slightly confused me, was that you were suggesting that I may have had a discussion with individuals about the content of what I would say.

Q. Mr. Bashir, please tell us if you don’t understand the question. Okay.

A. Thank you.

Q. Do you recall ever telling any journalist that you were going to be a witness in this case; yes or no.

A. I've answered the question.

MR. MESEREAU: May I ask that the witness be instructed to answer the question, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You have not answered the question. Would you answer the question.

THE WITNESS: My answer to the question, Your Honor, is that I cannot specifically recollect a time, a day, and an individual with whom I had a detailed discussion about the subject of my subpoena. What I am saying is it is perfectly possible that it was mentioned to me, or by me, as I returned to work.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, I'm not asking you about day or time. I'm just asking you if at any time you told any journalist that you're going to be a witness in the case.

A. It's possible.

Q. Are you saying under oath you don't recall any specific individual that you spoke to about that.

A. That's what I'm saying, sir.

Q. And you don't recall any specific journalist you ever told, "I'm going to be a witness in the Michael Jackson case".

A. I just can't be specific, I'm afraid, sir.

Q. Is your office in New York with ABC.

A. It is, sir.

Q. Are there other offices near your office at ABC.

A. There are, sir.

Q. Are there journalists who occupy those offices at ABC, Mr. Bashir.

A. There are, sir.

Q. Do you tend to chat with those journalists from time to time, sir.

A. I have a private office. And I tend to spend a large amount of time out on the road. So opportunities to talk like that are not very frequent.

Q. Whose office is next to yours at ABC.

MR. BOUTROUS: Your Honor, I'm going to object on relevance grounds and beyond the scope of direct, and asked and answered, and many things.

THE COURT: The problem is, Counsel, that he said that he only spoke to his attorney about this, and he has a privilege which we all understand. The reason I have not sustained objections is, counsel has been exploring whether or not he spoke to anyone else about that besides his attorney.

But guess what. It's time for a break.

THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: You may proceed.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Bashir, I'd like to ask you some questions about some statements of Michael Jackson that Judge Melville has deemed to be legal admissions. They are statements that were contained in your show.

To obtain those statements, you told Michael Jackson he was underappreciated, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor.

Covered by the shield law; beyond the scope of direct; and covered by the First Amendment.

THE COURT: Just so you know, I was going to allow him to go outside of direct for these issues rather than have your client come back on some other date. There have been hearings outside the presence of the jury concerning these statements.

MR. BOUTROUS: Your Honor, then I would request that Mr. Mesereau be limited to nonleading questions, since he will be handling this as a direct witness. And I'll continue to make my objections, but if he's going outside the scope, I would request that.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, I have a further comment. In fairness to Mr. Bashir, perhaps he should have the statements in front of him, so he knows which ones they are, since we’ve just watched an hour and a half of the video. He has the disadvantage from us, I think.

THE COURT: Well, I think the witness right now is Mr. Mesereau’s. I’ll allow him to conduct the examination as he chooses.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. I’ll repeat the question, Mr. Bashir. To obtain statements from Mr. Jackson, you told him he was underappreciated, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor. Plus, leading question.

THE COURT: The Court will sustain the objection for ambiguity.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, to obtain an interview with Mr. Jackson, you told him you were a friend of Princess Diana, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection being, when you say “same objection” --

MR. BOUTROUS: First, impermissible leading question; beyond the scope of the direct elicited by the District Attorney. In addition, it seeks unpublished information connected to news gathering prepared and gained during news gathering. Conversations with the source is news gathering. So I would invoke the California shield law and the First Amendment.

THE COURT: Here’s the problem, Mr. Mesereau: You’re back to the general question on the whole tape, the whole thing. And my prior statement that the question was ambiguous is that he doesn’t know what statements you’re talking about. So --

MR. MESEREAU: I will --

THE COURT: -- if you would --

MR. MESEREAU: I could refer to some statements, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MESEREAU: Sure.

Q. Mr. Bashir, in the show you prepared, which we've just seen, Mr. Jackson made statements to the effect that nothing sexual was going on in his bed, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. To obtain the interview you had with Mr. Jackson when he made that statement, you told him that he was underappreciated, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor, on the shield law grounds and First Amendment grounds, unpublished information, and the tape that the jury has seen speaks for itself.

THE COURT: All right. The objection is overruled.

Do you wish to answer that question.

THE WITNESS: I'm standing on the broadest privilege and the shield law, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection noted, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

Q. Mr. Bashir, in the show about Michael Jackson, Mr. Jackson says that nothing sexual went on in his bedroom. To obtain that statement, you told Mr. Jackson that your romantic development was partially shaped by his records, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor. Same grounds. First Amendment; shield law.

THE COURT: Do you wish to answer that question.

THE WITNESS: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. The objection is noted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, on the show we just saw in this courtroom, Mr. Jackson says that nothing sexual goes on in his bedroom.

To obtain that statement from Mr. Jackson, you told him that when you looked at his relationship with children, it almost made you weep, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor. California shield law and the First Amendment. And I object to that question as being ambiguous as well, the first phrase, “to obtain that statement.” Object to that.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Do you wish to answer that.

THE WITNESS: I don’t, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection noted, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, on your show, Mr. Jackson says that nothing sexual ever went on in his bedroom.

To obtain that statement from him, you told him that you believe in his vision of an international children’s holiday, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor. The shield law and the First Amendment.

THE COURT: Overruled. Do you wish to answer that question.

THE WITNESS: I don’t, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection noted, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Noted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, in this interview you did of Michael Jackson, he says that nothing sexual went on in his bedroom.

To obtain that statement, you told him, “Neverland is an extraordinary, a breathtaking, a stupendous, an exhilarating and amazing place. I can’t put together words to describe Neverland.” True.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor. First Amendment and the California shield law.

THE COURT: Do you wish to answer that question.

THE WITNESS: I don’t, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Noted; objection noted.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Bashir, to prepare the show you’ve just shown the jury where Michael Jackson says nothing sexual went on in his bedroom, you told him that you had an abiding sense that he is selfless and a most generous person, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Do you wish to answer that question.

THE WITNESS: I don’t, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Noted.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you.

Q. Mr. Bashir, to obtain the statement from Mr. Jackson that nothing sexual goes on in his bedroom, you described Neverland as a beautiful landscape encouraging all of us to become as little children again, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor, and I want to repeat my objection on the leading question ground, and I believe the improper form of the question, and again, reassert the California shield law’s protection of unpublished information prepared and gathered in news gathering, and the First Amendment.

THE COURT: The objection’s overruled.

Do you wish to answer.

THE WITNESS: I don’t, Your Honor.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, to obtain Michael Jackson’s statement that nothing sexual goes on in his bedroom with children, you complimented him for what he does for disadvantaged children from the ghetto, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Do you wish to answer.

THE WITNESS: I don’t, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection is noted.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

I just need to get one notebook, if I can, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Bashir, to obtain the statement from Mr. Jackson that nothing sexual went on in his bedroom with children, you told him that you were going to arrange a meeting with Kofi Annan, the Secretary General of the United Nations, and would plan a trip to Africa with Mr. Jackson and Kofi Annan to help African children with AIDS, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Do you wish to answer.

THE WITNESS: I don’t, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection is noted.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes. Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Bashir, to obtain Mr. Jackson’s statement that nothing sexual ever went on in his bedroom with children, you told him that you had great admiration for his visiting sick children in hospitals in England, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection’s overruled. Do you wish to answer.

THE WITNESS: I don’t, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection’s noted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, I would like to ask you further questions about how you obtained Michael Jackson’s statement that nothing ever goes on in his bedroom that is sexual with children. Do you intend to not answer any questions along those lines.

MR. BOUTROUS: Let me just say that I intend to continue making the same objections, if Mr. Mesereau is seeking to short-circuit the process - the First Amendment, the shield law - if that’s helpful.

THE COURT: Do you intend to follow your counsel’s advice on those issues.

THE WITNESS: I do, Your Honor.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, I would like to ask you questions about other statements Mr. Jackson made in your interview, and I would like to ask you about how you got face to face with him to obtain those statements. Are you saying that you are not going to respond to any such questions.

A. I'm --

MR. BOUTROUS: Just to make clear, he's doing so based on my assertions of the California shield law protecting the independence of journalists, as well as the First Amendment.

THE COURT: You would continue to object on those questions.

MR. BOUTROUS: I would indeed, Your Honor. Thank you.

THE COURT: Would you continue to follow your counsel's advice.

THE WITNESS: I would, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection noted, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Noted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, in the process of attempting to obtain statements from Mr. Jackson, you called him "the boss," didn't you.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections.

THE COURT: The objection's overruled. Do you wish to answer that.

THE WITNESS: I don't, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection's noted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, do you intend to not answer any question I ask you on cross-examination in this trial.

MR. BOUTROUS: To preserve the record, Your Honor, I will continue to object on the grounds which we believe are well-founded. And Mr. Bashir is acting on my instruction and my objections under the California Constitution and the U.S. Constitution.

THE COURT: Do you intend to follow his advice on all questions relating to this interview and the trial.

THE WITNESS: I do, Your Honor.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, have the answers you actually have given been 100 percent truthful.

A. I believe so.

Q. Do you know for sure.

A. I think so.

Q. Okay. Now, while you were obtaining statements from Mr. Jackson, someone named Hamid Moslehi was present, true.

MR. BOUTROUS: I reassert the objection I made during direct, Your Honor, which was First Amendment and California law. It’s unpublished information. Observations of a journalist during the journalistic process is protected under the California shield law, including people who are in public places.

THE COURT: Do you wish to follow your counsel’s advice --

THE WITNESS: I do, Your Honor.

THE COURT: -- and not answer the question.

THE WITNESS: I do, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection’s noted.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Bashir, in preparing for your testimony today, did you discuss what answers you would give with anyone other than your lawyer.

A. No.

Q. To your knowledge, has anyone from the District Attorney’s Office ever tried to contact you about your testimony in this case.

A. No.

Q. To your knowledge, has anyone from the District Attorney’s Office tried to get -- excuse me, to communicate with any representatives -- any representative of yours regarding your testimony in this case.

MR. BOUTROUS: Your Honor, I will object, to the extent that calls for the attorney-client communication or attorney work product.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, have you discussed your testimony today with any representative of the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Office.

A. I have not, sir.

Q. Have you provided any statements to anyone associated with the prosecution.

A. I have not, sir.

Q. Among the journalists you associate with at ABC, have you ever discussed with any of them what you were going to say in this courtroom.

A. I don't believe so.

Q. You don't think so. Mr. Bashir, do you know for sure whether or not you ever discussed with any journalist at ABC what you were going to say in this courtroom.

MR. BOUTROUS: Asked and answered, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I'm not sure it is. I'll have to go back to that series of questions. But I'm willing to do that, if you want.

MR. BOUTROUS: I think he asked this question many times, if I'm hearing it correctly.

THE COURT: I think -- I think it's a little different, but let me look.

MR. BOUTROUS: Okay.

THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer, but I'll have the question read back. It's been a while.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: As far as I can recollect, I don't think I discussed what I was going to say in this courtroom, sir.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You used the words "as far as I can recollect." Is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Are you saying you have no present recollection of ever speaking with any journalist about what you were going to say in this courtroom.

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. Is it possible you had a recollection at some other point in time about who you had spoken to.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, that calls for speculation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, did you review any documents to prepare for your testimony today.

A. No, I did not.

Q. To your knowledge, has anyone from the District Attorney’s Office sent you any documents regarding this case.

A. No, they have not, sir.

Q. Okay. Have you ever spoken to District Attorney Thomas Sneddon.

A. Never.

Q. Never said hello to him.

A. I think I may have said hello to him today.

Q. When you arrived at court this morning, were you taken to any office associated with the District Attorney.

A. I was taken -- I was taken to an office. I don’t know if it was the District Attorney’s Office, but I was taken with my attorneys to an office where we waited, because you were in session this morning. So we were waiting.

Q. And when you got here today, did you meet anyone from the District Attorney’s Office.

A. Not to my knowledge. We were -- we were -- we were given access by a female member of staff. We were left in a room. And when we were required to come down, we were invited to do so.

Q. When you arrived, to your knowledge, did you meet anyone associated with the District Attorney’s Office.

A. To my knowledge, no.

Q. Okay. Did anyone come up to you and introduce themselves as from the District Attorney’s Office.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Have you met any of the prosecutors who are sitting here today on a prior occasion.

A. No.

Q. Did you meet them today for the first time.
A. I did, sir.
Q. Okay. Have you ever spoken to any of them on the telephone.
A. Not the prosecutors, no.
Q. Okay. How about the sheriffs.
A. I received a phone call from a police officer sometime ago.
Q. Who was that.
A. Detective Paul Zelis.
Q. Did you speak to him on the telephone.
A. I did, sir.
Q. And approximately when did you speak to Detective Paul Zelis on the telephone.
A. It was prior -- it was prior to my arrival at ABC, so it would have been during 2004.
Q. Where were you when he called you.
A. I was in England.
Q. Did you speak to him in England.
A. I did, sir.
Q. How long was the phone conversation.

A. Very brief.
Q. Okay. Have you ever spoken to him since.
A. No, but he did call again. He did call and leave a message, sir.
Q. Is he the only person from the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Office you’ve spoken to.
A. I believe so.
Q. Do you know for sure.
A. Yes, I think so.
Q. Okay. Has anyone from the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Office, to your knowledge, sent you any documents to review.
A. Never.
Q. Who made arrangements for you to come here today, to your knowledge.
MR. BOUTROUS: Objection to the extent it’s an attorney-client communication or work-product issue, Your Honor.
THE COURT: To the extent it is, I’ll sustain the objection.

MR. BOUTROUS: I made his hotel reservation.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, in how many locations did the filming take place that appears in your show.

MR. BOUTROUS: Objection, Your Honor. Again, the film speaks for itself. It was on screen. The jury's seen it. Anything else is unpublished information covered by the shield law.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Do you wish to answer that.

THE WITNESS: The evidence of where we were filming was clear from the film, from the documentary which has just been shown.

MR. MESEREAU: Could I ask that the witness be instructed to answer, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You did not answer the question. Do you wish to answer the question.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. BOUTROUS: I will reassert my objections under the shield law, Your Honor. Again, it's just classic unpublished information. The film speaks for itself.

THE COURT: All right. Your objection is overruled. Do you wish to answer the question.

THE WITNESS: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection's noted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you fly to these locations with Mr. Jackson.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objection, Your Honor. First Amendment; shield law.

THE COURT: The objection's overruled. Do you wish to answer.

THE WITNESS: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection's noted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you travel by car to any of the locations where you filmed any footage that appears in this documentary with Mr. Jackson.

MR. BOUTROUS: Same objections, Your Honor. And I think in the last series of questions Mr. Mesereau's has veered back into being far beyond the scope of direct, so I will again assert that that question was beyond the scope of direct examination, as were the last several.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Bashir, after this show appeared, you were sued by Mr. Jackson in England, correct.

MR. BOUTROUS: Again, Your Honor, beyond the scope of direct and --

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. BOUTROUS: Thank you.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, in light of the refusal to answer questions, I'm going to terminate my cross-examination. But I would ask that the Court order this witness back to appear as a defense witness.

THE COURT: I will order you to return at a time when the defense requests that you return. Is that a satisfactory -- I'm assuming -- I don't mean to say, "Is that satisfactory." I mean, is it a satisfactory way of handling -- if you're willing to have your client appear and he's willing to appear on notice by the defense, then I'll release him under our normal convenience-type subpoenas. If not, I'd have to have him appear at a certain date to retain jurisdiction.

MR. BOUTROUS: Your Honor - if I may step up here. Thank you - I guess two things: The defense has known for several weeks that the prosecutors had subpoenaed Mr. Bashir. And they had indicated they had put Mr. Bashir on their witness list, and I argued that the defense had not made the showing. I put them on notice that I planned to invoke the shield law and the First Amendment and that there were standards for them to meet. And they knew Mr. Bashir was going to be here.

And for them now -- he lives part of the time in the United Kingdom, part of the time in New York. To now make him come back seems unfair and burdensome, particularly without the defense making the requisite showing that they need to make in terms of necessity of his testimony, lack of alternative sources, the tests that they would need to make to justify piercing the reporter's privilege. So I would ask the Court to reject that request.

THE COURT: I'll modify my order. I will order him to return. However, I will require the defense to file the appropriate application for subpoena, with the reasons, and allow you to file an opposition to that.

But to just short-circuit the problem of actually serving him, I'll order him to appear under those conditions I've previously announced, unless we advise him otherwise, if you succeed on your motion.

MR. BOUTROUS: That makes sense, Your Honor. And just to clarify on the questions today, I think there were a number that he declined to answer on the shield law grounds. And I wanted to clarify that my objections also go to the questions being beyond the scope of direct testimony and wanted to clarify and make sure that we would have a chance to brief these issues, before the Court makes a contempt ruling, to try to either --

THE COURT: Oh, absolutely.

MR. BOUTROUS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The procedure I would intend to follow would be as indicated. I'll review the transcript and the law. If it appears that he's in contempt or -- I will issue a contempt citation, and then you'll have your opportunity to be heard.

MR. BOUTROUS: I just would like to have the chance to persuade you that the information was protected and no contempt citation should be issued before any contempt finding.

THE COURT: I will give you that opportunity.

MR. BOUTROUS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I think we're talking about the same thing. There's a difference between citing him so you can speak to me through your written pleadings, and holding him in contempt. I'm not going to do the latter without giving you an opportunity to be heard.

MR. BOUTROUS: Thank you, Your Honor. And my apologies to the jury for not having more creative or different objections every time. But thank you very much, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Do you have further questions.

MR. SNEDDON: I think not, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you. You may step down. You're not excused. You're on call subject to the arrangements that I've made with your counsel. Should you no longer need this counsel, you have the direct personal responsibility to me to return if I ask you to. Do you understand that.

THE WITNESS: I do, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BOUTROUS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Call your next witness.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Thank you, Your Honor. Our next witness will be Ann Kite, and she is on her way down from our office.

THE COURT: When you get to the witness stand, remain standing. Face the clerk and raise your right hand.

ANN KITE

Having been sworn, testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.

THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Ann Marie Kite, K-i-t-e. But I use Ann Gabriel as my professional name.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS:

Q. Good afternoon, Ms. Kite.

A. Good afternoon.

Q. Can you tell me who you work for, please.

A. Currently.

Q. Currently, yes.

A. I am the president of an organization called the Webcaster Alliance.

Q. What is Webcaster Alliance.

A. Webcaster Alliance is a group of webcasters who play music on the Internet.

Q. How long have you been employed with Webcaster.

A. Well, the organization's been in association for about two years, since 2002.

Q. And in what capacity are you employed.

A. President.

Q. And what are your duties as president of Webcaster Alliance.

A. To help move forward legislation to make it easier for people to be able to produce music and information on the Internet. Also to help people produce programming.

Q. At sometime prior to -- well, maybe at the same time. At some point previously, were you the president of an organization called Gabriel Media.

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. What was Gabriel Media.

A. Gabriel Media was a public relations firm and a marketing firm.

Q. And what was your role in Gabriel Media.

A. To help people and products get their information out to the public.

Q. Basically PR.

A. Yes.

Q. Public relations.

A. Yes.

Q. Have you had a background in public relations.

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Can you describe that for me, please.

A. Sure. For about the last 20 to 25 years I’ve been involved in a number of different businesses, all with the intention of helping people meet, take their products and move them to the public, to help them look better, to help them market themselves better.

Q. Do you have a background that qualified you for that position.

A. Life experience. A lot of life experience. I’ve worked in a number of different businesses, specifically with products, to help people and their products reach the public.

Q. All right. So when you say 20 years of experience in public relations, can you elaborate on that for me a little bit.

A. Certainly. I’ve had a number of different clients. For example, I went through a period where I did a lot of things with technology, high technology. Consumer products; both Sony and JVC, Panasonic. Those types of things. Then I also worked with some people who might be considered personalities, where I helped them to define their image to the public. I helped them if they got into a difficult position with their image in the public, and helped them make a plan to move themselves forward.

Q. When you say “personalities,” does that include celebrities.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Can you tell me what the term “crisis management” means.

A. Well, crisis management is a different type of public relations. Crisis management comes about when you have someone, or a product or a person, who gets into a situation that is unexpected. And in the case of crisis management, you have to do a couple of different things. First of all, you want to try to analyze the assets of the client or the product, and then also their vulnerabilities, what areas might they be attacked on.

And so crisis management is the - for lack of a better term - the difficult part of public relations, the difficult part of trying to help someone present themselves or their product to the public.

Q. What do you mean when you say “the assets of a client”.

A. Well, any client or any product has assets, the things that are good about them, the thing that the public perceives good about them.

Q. In general terms, can you tell me what the goal of a public relations specialist is.

A. In general terms, on the best days, it is to make sure that your client’s product, or their person, the personality, is always presented in the best light to the public.

Q. And the purpose for that would be.

A. So that they can create things for themselves, whether they want to create more assets as far as dollarwise, entertainment value, or whatever it is they’re trying to sell.

If it’s themselves that they’re trying to sell, you want to make sure they’re always presented in the best light.

Q. Is it fair to say that a celebrity’s image is his stock in trade for purposes of marketability and selling whatever entertainment that that particular celebrity is involved in.

A. Oh, yes, absolutely.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, leading.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It’s foundational, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Overruled. The answer was yes.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. Do you know an individual by the name of David LeGrand.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Ms. Kite -- Ms. Kite, I show you People’s Exhibit No. 3. Can you identify that for me, please.

A. Yes, that’s David LeGrand.

MR AUCHINCLOSS: Move to admit People’s 3, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection.

THE COURT: It’s admitted.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: How do you know David LeGrand.

A. David and I met in March of 2002, and we worked together on several projects.

Q. What is Mr. LeGrand’s occupation.

A. He’s an attorney.

Q. How did you meet him.

A. We met through a mutual friend.

Q. Okay. And what projects did you work on.

A. Well, we worked on Webcaster Alliance together. David had a client that had some products that they were looking to sell, and he wanted me to look at their business plan and see how I could help them move forward with it, do some public relations with them on that.

And then, of course, with Michael Jackson.

Q. Okay. Was Mr. LeGrand affiliated with Webcaster Alliance.

A. Yes, he was.

Q. In what capacity.

A. He was a director.

Q. And what were the other associations you had with him in a business sense.

A. Well, we worked together in Washington D.C. to put together legislation for webcasters.

Q. Was that it.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Did you have a personal relationship with Mr. LeGrand.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And when did that begin.

A. In July of 2002.

Q. And did that end at some point.

A. Yes, at the end of January of 2003.

Q. Okay. Was that a dating relationship --

A. Yes, it was.

Q. -- something of that nature.

A. Yes.

Q. I'm sorry, I didn't write down the date. When did you say it ended.

A. At the end of January of 2003.

Q. In January of 2003 -- well, let me back up. You mentioned an affiliation with Mr. LeGrand concerning Michael Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. When did that begin.

A. I don't understand your question. When was the first time that he mentioned anything to me about Michael Jackson.

Q. When did you -- well, let me back up. Did Mr. LeGrand himself become associated with Michael Jackson at some point.

A. Yes, he did.

Q. When was that.

A. Officially.

Q. As far as you know. In any fashion, let's start there.

A. As far as I knew --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, hearsay and foundation.

THE COURT: Foundation's sustained.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. At some point, did David LeGrand recruit you to go to work for Michael Jackson.

A. Yes, he did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I can rephrase.

Q. At some time did Mr. LeGrand ask to employ you, to come work for Michael Jackson.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: Yes, he did.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. And when was that.
A. At the end of January of 2003.
Q. And did you go to work for Michael Jackson.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. When you say the end of January 2003 was when Mr. LeGrand approached you, do you have the approximate dates.
A. It was around the 27th -- the 26th, the 27th of January.
Q. In what capacity were you -- were you employed.

A. Public relations.
Q. And at some point did you actually go to work for Michael Jackson.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. When was that.
A. February 9th of 2003.
Q. As a public relations employee for Michael Jackson, what was your -- what was your job. What were you hired to do.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Misstates the evidence.
THE COURT: The preamble to the question.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: What were you hired to do.
A. To help with image management.
Q. Okay. And was there a specific reason why Michael Jackson’s image needed to be managed.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Were you informed as to what your duty was to manage Michael Jackson’s public relations image.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading.
THE COURT: The objection’s overruled. But you can only answer yes or no to that question. Do you want the question --

THE WITNESS: Yes.
THE COURT: Oh, you answered.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay. And what were you told.
A. I was told that there would --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay.
THE COURT: Still foundation also as to who told you.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay. And that's where we're -- okay.
Q. Who told you what your assignment was to be as a public relations employee for Michael Jackson.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation and hearsay; it misstates the evidence.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: Initially it was David LeGrand.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. And what did Mr. LeGrand tell you your duties were.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: To help with the fallout from the Martin Bashir video.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. What did you understand your duties were at that point.

A. To immediately begin protecting Mr. Jackson's reputation.
Q. Did you research the issue, the problem.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Did you evaluate the problem.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Did you come up with a plan of attack.
A. Yes, I did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading and privilege.

THE COURT: The leading is overruled. The other one I don’t understand.

MR. MESEREAU: She’s retained by a law firm. She’s not supposed to be --

THE COURT: You’re raising that privilege.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes. She’s not supposed to be violating her duty of confidentiality.

THE COURT: Do you want to address the attorney-client privilege.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: The attorney-client privilege has already been divulged to us, number one. Number two, counsel has not established that she was acting as an agency on behalf of the law firm in a legal capacity. This is an area that probably, if counsel wants to make that objection, he should have it briefed and address the Court with points and authorities on it.

In addition, Your Honor, I can --

MR. MESEREAU: She says she was hired by an attorney for Mr. Jackson, Your Honor. Mr. Jackson’s never met her.

THE COURT: All right. The objection’s overruled. You may proceed.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. So, my last question, if I can recall it correctly was, what was the plan that you formulated to approach -- well, let me back up. Let me just start at the beginning here.

You said you formulated an assessment of the problem. How did you go about doing that.

A. Well, I took a look at a lot of the press that was coming out, the information that was out in the media. I looked at what was being played most prominently, and figured that that was probably the most vulnerable area of attack for Mr. Jackson at that point.

So I began to formulate a plan, based on my information of things that had come out in the press in the past, and to immediately try to take the focus off of Mr. Jackson’s frailties as a human and put them back on his genius as a musician. That was my plan.

Q. Okay. Did you sign a contract to come on as a PR specialist.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. When did you do that. When was that contract signed.

A. In the afternoon of the 14th of February.

Q. Did you become familiar with any other individuals who were also hired to work on the same problem.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did you communicate with them.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Who were these people.

A. Ronald Konitzer. Marc Schaffel. Stuart Backerman. Melanie Riley. And Richard, I think it’s Eldon, from Bell Yard. And a team of some other attorneys in the United K -- United Kingdom.

Q. During the course of your employment for Mr. Jackson, did you communicate with these individuals.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did you communicate directly with Ronald Konitzer.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. In what fashion. In what medium.

A. Both by e-mail and by telephone.

Q. Did you contact and speak directly with Marc Schaffel.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did you also communicate with him by e-mail.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. How about Mr. Backerman.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did you ever talk to an attorney by the name of Mark Geragos.

A. Yes, I did.
Q. Who did you report to. Who did you report to in terms of the hierarchy of this team.
A. Well, I spoke to David. I spoke to Marc Schaffel. I spoke to Mr. Geragos. And I spoke to Ronald.
Q. So would it be fair to say, you reported to all of those four individuals.
A. Yes, at different times.
Q. And Mr. Konitzer, did you have an understanding of what his function was in relation to Michael Jackson.
A. I understood that Mr. Konitzer was the lead --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading; and foundation.
THE COURT: Foundation; sustained.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It’s a yes or no question. I would follow with foundation.
MR. MESEREAU: Same objection.
THE COURT: All right. I’ll allow a yes or no answer.
Do you want the question read back.
THE WITNESS: Yes, please.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay. The question --

THE COURT: The court reporter will read it back. Thank you.
(Record read.)
THE WITNESS: Yes.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. And what was it that you based that opinion on, or that assessment on.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading and foundation.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: On information that David had given me.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay. Did you also base it on information that you obtained in the course of conversing with Mr. Konitzer.

A. Yes, I did.
Q. And Mr. Schaffel.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Did you base it on information that you obtained by way of e-mails from other members of the team.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And from Bell Yard.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Was it clear from -- clear to you -- well, did you also base it upon the conduct of all of these individuals on the team that you previously mentioned.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading; foundation.
THE COURT: Sustained; leading.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you consider conduct as part of this assessment.
MR. MESEREAU: Same objection.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: Yes, I did.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay. And based on all this information, did you form a belief or an understanding as to what Mr. Ronald Konitzer’s role was in relation to Michael Jackson and this team that you’ve described.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. What was that.
A. That he was the leader.
Q. Also based on all that information that I’ve asked you about, were you able to form an opinion as to what Mr. Schaffel’s role was in this team.
A. Yes. Yes, I did.
Q. And what was that.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: That he was in charge of the public relations effort for Michael Jackson.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Same question as to

Mr. Backerman. Based on all the information you obtained during the course of your employment, were you able to form an assessment or did you obtain an understanding of what Mr. Stuart Backerman’s role was.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And what was that.

A. That he was the spokesperson for Mr. Jackson.

Q. What’s a spokesperson in the PR realm.

A. Well, in Mr. Backerman’s case, it was my understanding that he would be the one that would, for the most part, get out and speak in front of the press.

Q. So the actual face person that would be in front of the camera.

A. For the most part, yes.

Q. All right. You previously said that you assessed the problem based upon your review of what.

A. The information that was coming out in the press.

Q. Uh-huh.

A. The information that was coming from the Bashir documentary.

Q. Uh-huh.

A. And the bombardment of questions that were coming from people in the press that were looking to delve into other aspects of Mr. Jackson’s empire.

Q. All right.

THE COURT: All right. We’re going to stop for the afternoon.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay.

THE COURT: I have a couple of points I want to address.

One is that the District Attorney must lodge a transcript of the videotape that was played today with the Court as soon as you can.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, in order to do that, I’ll need permission of the Court to withdraw the exhibit so I can have it -- have a transcript made perfect.

THE COURT: Any objection to that.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.

THE COURT: The second thing is that even though we are not redacting documents anymore, sealing documents, California Rule of Court 2073, which relates to the filing of documents on the Internet, which we do in this case, has some restrictions that you cannot put on the Internet. For example, addresses, phone numbers of parties. I'm not going to read the whole statute to you, but that's what I'm talking about.

So when you file a document, you must file it -- file a redacted version in compliance with California Rule of Court 2073 so that may be placed on the Internet.

I don't intend to do any separate sealing orders, because they're just -- it's a statutory requirement that you redact those.

Any questions about that.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: No, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. We'll recess until tomorrow morning. I'll see you tomorrow at 8:30.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 175 through 296 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 1, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 1, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

TUESDAY, MARCH 2, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 298 THROUGH 336)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney
-and-
RONALD J. ZONEN,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and-
GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and-
GERALD McC. FRANKLIN,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney
1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU
BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and-
SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700
Los Angeles, California 90067

-and-

SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ.
233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK
BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard
Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

I N D E X

Note:
Mr. Sneddon is listed as "SN" on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as "Z" on index.
Mr. Auchincloss is listed as "A" on index.
Mr. Franklin is listed as "F" on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as "M" on index.
Ms. Yu is listed as "Y" on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as "SA" on index.
Mr. Oxman is listed as "O" on index.

PLAINTIFF'S WITNESSES	DIRECT	CROSS	REDIRECT	RECROSS
KITE, Ann Marie (cont'd)	306-A

E X H I B I T S

PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
403	February 2003 e-mails - page 17, Marc Schaffel's Fire Brewing file from Kite to Konitzer	331

Santa Maria, California
Wednesday, March 2, 2005
8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.

COUNSEL AT COUNSEL TABLE: (In unison) Good morning, Your Honor. Good morning, Your Honor.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.

THE COURT: Sorry we kept you waiting a short time this morning. This is going to occur -- is the mike -- can you hear me? Is that better?

A VOICE: Can't hear you.

THE COURT: Should be on now. They can't hear. What I'm going to do --

Would the witness step down for a moment, please?

Can you hear me now?

THE JURY: (In unison) Yes.

THE COURT: I sound like one of those commercials for the cell phone; "Can you hear me now?"

I want to talk to you a little bit about the reason we were late this morning. We were -- we really weren't late. The attorneys and I were working on a legal problem that arose at the end of the day yesterday.

And that's the nature of a lawsuit. It's a work in progress. And it's not all determined before you get here, and then it just happens. It happens in front of you. And so there's a couple of things that I want to tell you. And I think perhaps the best thing to do is to talk to you about the co-conspirator statements. And the best way to talk to you about that is to read the law to you, as you will hear again at the end of the case.

Evidence of a statement made by one alleged conspirator other than at this trial shall not be considered by you as against another alleged conspirator unless you determine, by a preponderance of the evidence; one, that from other independent evidence that at the time the statement was made, a conspiracy to commit a crime existed.

Two, that the statement was made while the person making the statement was participating in the conspiracy, and that the person against whom it was offered was participating in the conspiracy before and during that time.

And three, that the statement was made in furtherance of the objective of the conspiracy. The word "statement" as used in this instruction includes any oral or written, verbal expression or nonverbal conduct that a person -- intended by that person as a substitute for an oral, written, verbal expression.

So what is going to happen in this trial is that certain statements are going to come in. And you will later not be able to consider those statements unless you determine, in accordance with this instruction, that there was a conspiracy and that those statements were in the furtherance of an objective of the conspiracy. But the law allows the parties to present statements before and after they think the conspiracy is proved or disproved. So it would be very difficult to handle the case in another way. So you're going to hear statements and later determine your use, as a jury, of those statements in accordance with the law.

So I'm going to conditionally admit some statements this morning and the condition is that you will later determine how you're going to use those statements.

Along those same lines, during the course of the trial, the attorneys make objections. I rule on those objections, and I'm following rules of evidence.

Quite often it's not necessary that you know why I make a ruling. If I sustain an objection, you just -- you reject the question. You don't consider the answer, if part of it came in or all of it. If I overrule an objection, that doesn't mean that I'm favoring that evidence. All I'm saying is that side has the right to give you that evidence for you to consider, and it has nothing to do with my feelings about it. Okay?

In that regard, yesterday, the witness, who just stepped down, her name --

MR. SNEDDON: Miss Gabriel.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Gabriel Kite.

THE COURT: Ms. Kite, Miss Gabriel, said -- the question was asked, "And did you go to work for Michael Jackson?" And the answer was, "Yes, I did."

Earlier, the question had been asked, "At some time did Mr. LeGrand ask to employ you and come to work for Michael Jackson?" And there was an objection as hearsay.

Well, I overruled that objection, and the reason I did is that the -- at that point in the proceeding, it is my opinion that wasn't offered for the truth of the matter; i.e., that she worked for Michael Jackson. It was offered only to show you why she came to work and what she thought she was doing. So it wasn't the truth of the matter, that she worked for Mr. Jackson. That, in fact, you will have to determine whether or not she did. I don't know the answer to that. That will be your decision. But each side will present evidence on that.

So as to yesterday, the question, "At some time did Mr. LeGrand ask to employ you to come to work for Michael Jackson?" She said, "Yes, he did." The instruction I'm giving you is that's to be considered only -- at this point only to show what she thought she was doing. Not for the truth of the matter that she was working for Michael Jackson. Okay?

Very complicated. But I'll continue to instruct you, as needed, to help you with this. Very difficult area of dealing with statements and conspiracies. Okay?

You may resume the witness stand.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: When you take the witness stand, I'll remind you that you are still under oath.

ANN MARIE KITE

Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified further as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Continued)

BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS:

Q. Good morning, Ms. Kite.

A. Good morning.

Q. Yesterday, when we left off, we were talking a little bit about your history, the chronology of events in your employment. And let me revisit the question of who you believed you were working for.

First of all, who was it that actually hired you for this work that you did for Michael Jackson?

A. Who asked me to come to work for Michael Jackson?

Q. Yes.

A. David LeGrand.

Q. Okay. And when did you -- was there a period of time in which you discussed with Mr. LeGrand working for Michael Jackson?

A. Yes --

Q. Prior to your employment, actual employment?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. And when was that -- when did that discussion begin?

A. About the 27th of January.

Q. Okay. Were there further discussions -- when were you actually hired?

A. On the 9th of February, Mr. LeGrand sent me an e-mail along with other people that were working on the MJJ working group that said, "Welcome to the team."

Q. Okay. And between that period of time when you began discussions with Mr. LeGrand and the time that you actually became a member of the team, did you continue to have discussions with Mr. LeGrand about the issues involved in being a PR person for Michael Jackson?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Were you paid for your employment?

A. Yes, I was.

Q. How much?

A. $10,000.

Q. Was that payment in advance or arrears of your employment?

A. Well, it was supposed to be $20,000 for the month. When I signed the contract on the 14th of February, David gave me a $10,000 check, so that was an advance.

Q. So you began your work on the 9th?

A. Yes.

Q. You signed your contract on the 14th?

A. Yes.

Q. What time did you sign that contract?

A. Late in the afternoon. It was between three and four o'clock.

Q. And where did that take place, the signing?

A. At Mr. LeGrand's law office.

Q. And where is that?

A. In Las Vegas.

Q. Okay. As far as your background as a public relations person, what do you consider to be your greatest assets in that field?

A. I believe it's crisis management. Being able to see a problem, and determine what needs -- steps can be taken to correct it.

Q. Are there any contacts or other qualities that you possess that enable you to conduct that type of work?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Well, I can be a little more specific.

Q. What is it that enables you to conduct crisis management in terms of any abilities, any -- well, let me just leave it open. Let me leave it open-ended. What do you do -- how do you go about conducting crisis management work?

A. Well, other than being neurotic, which comes in very handy, I think I have a very good grasp of the media as a whole. Internet, television, radio, newspaper. And an innate ability to be able to size up the client or the product that I'm representing, find out where their assets are, the best aspects that they have to represent themselves to the public, or the product, and to be able to move them forward from there.

But regardless of if it's a crisis management client or if it's just a client that you're trying to do public relations for, I think probably my greatest asset is being able to see the total product or the total person, and to explore other avenues of being able to bring them to fruition.

Q. Do you have a philosophy about how to approach crisis management?

A. Absolutely.

Q. What is that?

A. Very proactive.

Q. And what do you mean by "proactive"?

A. Being out in front of the media, having a crisis plan just in case something happens. A lot of times when people begin to promote themselves or to promote a product, they like to think of the good -- the upside, the good things that can come out of promoting themselves or their product, and they don't like to analyze the bad things that might happen.

I have an ability to be able to do both before I start with the client, so that they can be comfortable and not panic if something happens. I want them to know that I've been able to thoroughly research both the ups and downs of everything they do and that, you know, I can cover them on either side.

Q. Is it important to confront the bad things?

A. Absolutely.

Q. Why do you believe that?

A. Because if you don't confront it, somebody else is going to confront it for you, and then you're going to be caught in a downward spiral.

Q. All right. When you were first in discussions with Mr. LeGrand in late January, what did you perceive to be Michael Jackson's status issues, what have you, regarding public relations?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: When you began discussions with Mr. LeGrand concerning working with Michael Jackson or working on his behalf, did you do some research into news media, Mr. Jackson's background, anything of that nature, to better understand the public relations issues involving Mr. Jackson?

A. Yes.

Q. And based on that research, were you able to form an opinion as to what PR issues needed to be addressed or should be addressed if you were called to become an employee?

A. Yes, I was.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, she is testifying in some capacity as an expert witness in this area.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

THE WITNESS: Yes, I was.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. How did you evaluate Mr. Jackson from a PR point of view at that point, late in January?

A. What was my evaluation and recommendation, is that the question?

Q. Yes.

A. I believed that there was too much negative exposure on Mr. Jackson's actions, and not enough exposure on his strength as a musician. And so I told Mr. LeGrand that I felt immediately the focus needed to be taken off of him as a person, as a man, and the things that the public may or may not like about him, and put back on all of the years of wonderful music that he had given to the public.

Q. Okay. And sometime between the time when you were recruited and the time that you actually became an employee, did something occur that changed your perspective as to what the necessary issues were dealing with PR?

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, Your Honor. May I 402 the witness on her credentials, the basis for her opinion?

THE COURT: No.

Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question?

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: The question was, between late January and the time that you were actually hired, I believe you said it was the 9th of February, did something happen that changed your perception of Mr. Jackson from a public relations standpoint?

A. Yes.

Q. What was that?

A. The Martin Bashir documentary.

Q. All right. What -- how did that -- the Martin Bashir documentary present itself as an issue for you, from a public relations standpoint?

A. As an absolute disaster.
Q. Why do you say that?
A. I felt that the documentary was put together in a way that portrayed Mr. Jackson in an extremely negative light.
Q. Were there particular issues with that documentary that you believed presented problems for Mr. Jackson from a PR point of view?
A. Yes, there were.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation; relevance; 352.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: What were those issues?
A. I believed that Mr. Jackson was portrayed in a very negative light in his actions as far as the shopping spree, as far as climbing the tree, as far as statements made portraying himself as Peter Pan, and the interaction that he had with the person that was on the video.
Q. The young boy?
A. Yes.
Q. And how did -- did you monitor the international media during this period of time?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Is that part of your job?
A. Yes, it is.

Q. And what was the reaction of the international media at this point?

A. Well, there was an immediate reaction, and they jumped on exactly what I believed that they would, which was to --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive.

THE COURT: The question was, "What was the reaction." And I'll sustain the objection.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. I'll reask the question.

Q. In terms of the reaction of the international media, how did you evaluate in your role as a public relations person?

A. That it was extremely negative.

Q. All right. Was there any positive media?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Okay. You have -- have you ever been asked to characterize or measure this crisis on a scale of 1 to 10?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. And how did you characterize it?

A. A 25 --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: A 25.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: So you perceived this to be a big problem?

A. Absolutely.

Q. Did you formulate a plan to deal with this problem?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did you work with other people in formulating this plan?

A. Somewhat, yes.

Q. Okay. Were they other members of the team?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Specifically, who?

A. Specifically Melanie Riley from Bell Yard.

Q. And tell me a little bit more about Bell Yard, if you would.

A. Bell Yard is a crisis management public relations firm in the United Kingdom.

Q. Are they a small firm, large firm, medium?

A. I don't know.

Q. And was there just Melanie that you dealt with from Bell Yard, or other people as well?

A. I believe Richard was the other gentleman that I dealt with from Bell Yard.

Q. Do you know their last names?

A. Melanie is Riley. And I don't remember Richard's last name.

Q. Okay. So in the beginning, when you were formulating this plan, what was your -- what was your idea, what was your goal?

A. Well, my goal was to immediately speak with someone and assess all of the negative impacts from the Bashir documentary, addressing each one. Because my fear was that while one media source might pick up on one thing, another media source would pick up on another thing, so there would be multiple angles coming at us.

And I felt and believed that unless we had a clear plan of attack to be able to address each one of these issues, we were not going to be as proactive on Mr. Jackson's behalf as we needed to be.

Q. Were there any other goals other than attacking the current media problem?

A. Yes. My goal was to begin an immediate rehabilitation on his image.

Q. So how did you plan to go about these goals?

A. Well, I needed to address, first of all, the negative items that were coming out in the press. And then once that was taken care of, I wanted to begin to do the rehabilitation on his image.

Q. So in terms of the nuts and bolts of public relations, how do you go about doing that?

A. How would I personally go about doing that?

Q. Yes.

A. I would write out a list of questions, decide how people wanted to respond or to react. I would look at what was potentially coming up in the media. Because you have to understand, with the media, they don't call you up politely and say, "We're going to write a story about your client, and we'd love to give you an opportunity to respond and please tell us your side." They send you a very short e-mail or give you a call and say, "Look, this is what we're printing about your client, and I'm on a deadline, so if you don't get back to me, too bad." I mean, that's pretty much what it was.

And so I believed that we needed to immediately sit down and assess all of the negative things that could have come out of this documentary for Mr. Jackson, and decide how we wanted to respond so that we didn't get stuck in a downward spiral of people printing things because they didn't get a response quickly enough.

Q. Did Martin Bashir figure in in any way to your plan of attack?

A. Yes.

Q. In what way?

A. I wanted to look at the credibility of the other documentaries that he had done.

Q. Was Bell Yard in agreement with that?

A. Yes, they were.

Q. Generally speaking, was Bell Yard's approach to the problem of Mr. Jackson's PR consistent with your own?

A. Yes, it was.

Q. Did you participate in conference calls with Bell Yard with any of the members of the team?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Which members?

A. I believe one or two times Mr. Geragos and Mr. Konitzer were on the calls. The other times it was mostly the team from the UK; Andrew Hochhauser, Hamish Porter, Peter and Janie Castle.

Q. Okay.

A. John Genga, too, also was on those phone calls. And then David LeGrand.

Q. What was Mr. Castle's and Genga's duties? Who were they?

A. They were other attorneys. I don't know specifically what their duties were, other than I believe they were involved in the litigation that was -- that Mr. Jackson had undertaken against Granada and ITV.

Q. So I believe yesterday you testified that one of the people you reported to was Marc Schaffel?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. Did you also report to Ronald Konitzer?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And what about Mark Geragos?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. When did Mark Geragos become part of the team?

A. I believe it was around the 7th of February.

Q. Okay. During the time -- or the month of February, early February, did the problem of Mr.

Jackson's PR become exacerbated in any fashion?

A. Yes, it did.

Q. Specifically why?

A. Besides the documentary?

Q. Yes.

A. There was some information released about Mr. Jackson in the public that I felt also negatively impacted his image.

Q. Okay. What? What was it?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. 352; foundation; and hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: This is also offered to explain her conduct as well as the conduct of the team and the level of the crisis.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I would object. She's not qualified as an expert.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: She's not offering an opinion at this point.

THE COURT: I'm not considering her testimony as expert testimony. She's a percipient witness as to what happened during this time period, and that's the only way that I'm considering her testimony. That's why I denied your 402 request, because she's just a percipient witness.

So -- and on your 352 objection, was that over a time -- I'm not sure -- which of the many specific areas were you objecting under 352?

MR. MESEREAU: Well, Your Honor, she worked for less than two --

THE COURT: No, which of the legal subsections of 352 are you relying on --

MR. MESEREAU: All of them.

THE COURT: -- for your objection?

MR. MESEREAU: All of them.

THE COURT: All right. Overruled.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay.

Q. So I'll back up a little bit. You've said that there were additional problems that arose in the media. Did you have to perceive it as your duties to deal with these problems as a PR representative for Mr. Jackson?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. So these problems became your problems?

A. Absolutely. I felt it was my position to address anything that affected Mr. Jackson negatively.

Q. So what was coming out in the media at this point?

A. There were documents that were released on a website, thesmokinggun.com, that, in conjunction with the Bashir documentary, I felt was just absolutely beyond a disaster for Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. And what did those documents concern?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation; 352.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: As reported in the media, is the question.

MR. MESEREAU: Same objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I'll overrule the objection, but advise the jury, again, that this area is not being offered for the truth of the matter asserted; that whatever she's going to testify to that appeared on The Smoking Gun is being offered strictly to show why she took her next action.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: And I'm not asking you specifically what was written in those documents. I'm just asking in general terms, what was that document about?

A. It addressed another PR issue that Mr. Jackson had in 1993.

Q. What was that PR issue?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: That's my question.

MR. MESEREAU: 352; foundation; hearsay; no personal knowledge.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I believe she has personal knowledge --

THE COURT: I've already ruled on this. The objection is overruled. Go ahead.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: You may answer the question.

A. They involved Mr. Jackson having inappropriate actions with a young boy.

Q. Okay. The '93 case?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. What else was there? What other problems, other than the '93 case, did you -- that came up? You said there were several.

A. Besides the documentary, the things that were contained in the documentary?

Q. Yes, uh-huh.

A. Well, the media then began to pick up on any number of things about Mr. Jackson. Pediatricians were weighing in about the way that he fed his baby on the documentary. There was just several -- they were attacking him personally from every angle.

Q. Okay. Were there any other news -- purported news programs that were coming?

A. Yes, there were.

Q. What was that?

A. NBC was doing a program about Mr. Jackson's purported plastic surgeries.

Q. Just that, or did that include other things?

A. Also included other things.

Q. Okay. Was that actually aired?

A. Yes, it was.

Q. Was that positive or negative for Mr. Jackson, in general terms?

A. In general, I felt it was very negative.

Q. What about members of the team specifically? Were there ever any members of the team that became problems or burdens in terms of the media and Mr.

Jackson's image?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. Who?

A. Mr. Schaffel.

Q. Marc Schaffel?

A. Marc Schaffel, yes.

Q. And why was he a problem?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. 352; foundation; hearsay.

THE COURT: Vague; sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: What was it specifically that was reported in the media? And I'm just asking you -- well, let me just say generally, why was Mr. Schaffel a problem in the media concerning Mr. Jackson?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation; hearsay; vague; 352.

THE COURT: The objection's overruled.

THE WITNESS: Mr. Schaffel had a very negative image and I felt very strongly that that image might taint Mr. Jackson.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. Who else had a problem?

A. With Mr. Schaffel?

Q. No. Was there any other member of the team that presented a problem for Mr. Jackson, I should say?

A. Not of the team per se. But there were -- there was someone else that Mr. Jackson's name was associated in the press that I felt would be a problem.

Q. Okay. Who else was that?

A. Mr. Malnik. Al Malnik.

Q. Okay. You say you were hired by Mr. Jackson. Have you ever met Mr. Jackson?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. And why did you believe that you were working for him?

A. Because David LeGrand told me that I was. And the contract that I signed said "MJJ Productions" on it.

Q. All right. And did you, in fact, work on Mr. Jackson's behalf?

A. Yes, sir, absolutely.

Q. Okay. Who did you understand was paying your $10,000 retainer?

A. Mr. Jackson.

Q. What proactive measures, if any, did you want to take to address these issues?

A. Well, I believed that immediately there should be a very strong on-camera statement from Mr. Jackson himself. I wanted to be able to explore the documentary that Mr. Bashir had created to see if there were any technical inconsistencies. I wanted to be able to use everything at my disposal to try to find a way to address the issues that

Mr. Jackson was experiencing and give the other side of the story.

Q. Have you ever heard of the organization called "Fire Mountain"?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. What is Fire Mountain?

A. Fire Mountain is a corporation --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Was there a film that was being prepared to help address the PR issues?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. Whose idea was that?

A. I don't know the answer to that --

Q. Okay.

A. -- specifically.

Q. But it wasn't your idea?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was there a member of the team that was preparing this film?

A. Yes.

Q. Who was that?

A. Mr. Schaffel.

Q. Do you know what the subject matter of this film was?

A. It was to be a rebuttal to Martin Bashir's documentary.

Q. Did you have any discussions with the team concerning what network or what broadcast medium would be used to show this film?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Do you know whether it was ultimately aired?

A. Yes, it was.

Q. On which network?

A. FOX.

Q. Do you know why FOX was chosen?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Why is that?

A. Because they would give Mr. Schaffel an element of creative control.

Q. Were there any other networks that were bidding for it?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. Who?

A. NBC.

Q. Did you have any input into whether or not certain people would be included on this rebuttal film?

A. I had a discussion with Mr. Schaffel about the rebuttal film, yes.

Q. Did you provide him some -- your insights as to what should be presented?

A. He told me some things that he thought -- some people that he thought he was going to put on the film and asked me what I thought. And I told him --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: This is offered to explain conduct and -- actually, I can -- I can move on and get more to the point. So I'll withdraw the question and allow the striking of the answer.

THE COURT: I'll strike the answer. But she never got to say anything about what was said.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Very well.

THE COURT: Go ahead.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you have -- did you have a discussion about Mr. Jackson's ex-wives with Mr. Schaffel?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did you have a suggestion for him about whether one of these -- one or both of these ex-wives should be presented on the rebuttal film?

A. Yes, I did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. 352; foundation.

THE COURT: The question calls for hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: The question -- Your Honor, I haven't asked for a statement. I've just asked whether she had a discussion.

THE COURT: All right. I'll overrule the objection.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. Did you have a discussion with Mr. Schaffel about that?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And did you make a suggestion?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. What did you suggest?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. 352; foundation.

THE COURT: Calls for hearsay.

MR. MESEREAU: Hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did Mr. Schaffel ever make any comments to you concerning his influence over Debbie Rowe?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading; foundation; hearsay; 352.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I'll be happy to give you an offer of proof, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The leading is sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Ms. Kite --

(Laughter.)

THE COURT: Go ahead.

BAILIFF CORTEZ: Try it again?

THE COURT: Yes.

BAILIFF CORTEZ: It's back on, Judge.

THE COURT: All right. Go ahead.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you have a discussion with Mr. Schaffel about proposed -- any proposed individuals that would appear on the rebuttal film?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading; foundation; hearsay; 352.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Hardly leading.

THE COURT: Objection is overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes, I did.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay. Who did you discuss?

A. Debbie Rowe.

Q. Okay. And did you have a feeling about whether or not, from a PR standpoint, she would be a good candidate for this rebuttal film?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation; 352; leading.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: The question is, did she have a feeling.

MR. MESEREAU: Relevance; and vague.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, you're going to have to ask again after all that.

THE COURT: I'll have the question read back.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yes, I did.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: What was that?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. 352; relevance; foundation; hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry.

THE COURT: I can have it read back.

THE WITNESS: Please.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yes, I did.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: And what was that feeling?

A. I didn't think she was the strongest candidate.

Q. And what was Mr. Schaffel's response?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; 352.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: This is offered in furtherance of the conspiracy.

MR. MESEREAU: Foundation.

THE COURT: All right. I'm taking the -- this testimony subject to the proving up of the conspiracy. I'll allow the question.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: What did Mr. Schaffel tell you?

A. He said that he could get Debbie Rowe to say whatever he wanted her to say.

Q. Thank you.

This notebook is coming apart, Your Honor. If I can have just a moment.

During the course of your work with the team, I believe you testified that you used the Internet to communicate through e-mails?

A. Yes, that's correct.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I previously provided counsel with copies of all these documents, Your Honor, that I'm going to be showing the witness.

And for the record, this is document number -- from original exhibits, Schaffel files, and appears to be a document itemized under 403, page 17. It appears to be a three-page e-mail from Ronald at High Tech America to Marc in L.A. dated 2-16-03.

THE COURT: Is it marked?

MR. MESEREAU: May we see that for a second, please? Thank you.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I provided you with copies.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

THE COURT: Now, this is a formally marked exhibit?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It is, Your Honor.

THE COURT: 403 is the exhibit number?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It is the exhibit number. and it is beginning on page 17 of Exhibit No. 403.

Q. If you could take a moment and just look at page four -- or Exhibit No. 403, what I've identified, pages 17, 18, and 19.

MR. SANGER: Could we just have a moment?

MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me. We don't have the second page of that exhibit. Maybe we could --

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It's in the packet I gave you.

MR. MESEREAU: It's in the back?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It's in the packet I gave you yesterday. Do you have that?

MR. MESEREAU: It's not in the binder. Is it somewhere else?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: It appears to say page one of two, but there's no page two.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Is it in --

MS. YU: The individual packet?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Yeah, it's in there.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Have you had a moment to look at that?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you identify that for me?

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: I'm not blaming anybody. We don't seem to have page two of the exhibit.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I'm sorry. I'll take a moment and show counsel.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. Have you had a chance to look at that?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Can you identify it for me?

A. Yes, it's an e-mail that I sent to Ronald Konitzer with --

Q. Okay. What was the date of the e-mail that you sent to Ronald Konitzer?

A. It was the 14th of February.

Q. And what was -- I'm not going to ask you to read it to the jury at this time. We're going to lay some additional foundation with this exhibit at a later time. But I'm going to ask you to tell me what was the substance of that e-mail, and what was your purpose in sending it. And let's start with, what was -- what was the concern you expressed in that e-mail?

A. I expressed great concern that there were many things that were preparing to break negatively against Mr. Jackson over the next 72 hours, which would have been between the 14th of February and the 17th. And I just did not understand why there wasn't anyone --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Narrative and nonresponsive.

THE COURT: Sustained as to the last sentence is stricken.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay.

Q. So I was asking you what your concerns were. What concerns specifically did you express in that e-mail?

A. That --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, this is offered to show knowledge on behalf of the co-conspirators, the reasons for the part of the motive of this case, the nature of the crisis, and the action that were taken on behalf of this witness to alert --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. That is a speaking objection, Your Honor.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Goes to the objection.

THE COURT: Are you offering this -- are you offering this to explain a response from the recipient of this e-mail?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I am offering it, Your Honor, to explain -- it's offered to explain the conduct as well as the information that was conveyed by this witness to the co-conspirators regarding the degree of the crisis that existed at that time.

Now, it is not being offered into evidence at this time, but I'm laying foundation for its offering that will provide additional foundation at a later date.

MR. MESEREAU: May I object, Your Honor?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Her purposes in sending this e-mail and the fact that she did send it to Mr. Konitzer and provided him with this information is relevant as to Mr. Konitzer's knowledge of the events.

MR. MESEREAU: I object on hearsay and foundation. And there's no evidence whatsoever Mr. Jackson's involved in any conspiracy.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: That remains to be seen.
THE COURT: Any of the conspiracy evidence is being received subject to the proving up of the conspiracy, as I've indicated.
The Court will allow the question here with the admonition that the information that is being conveyed in the e-mail is not offered for the truth of the matter asserted, but to show that the recipient received this information. Or not that he received it; that it was sent to him.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.
THE COURT: Go ahead.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: So, back to my question. I'll rephrase it. Why don't we -- what was your purpose in sending this e-mail? Why don't I ask it that way.
A. To advise Mr. Konitzer that over the next 72 hours Mr. Jackson was going to face another barrage of extremely negative publicity, and it needed to be addressed immediately.
Q. Were the --
THE COURT: All right. Let's take our morning break.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.
(Recess taken.)

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 302 through 335 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 2, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California, March 2, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 337 THROUGH 528)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney
-and-
RONALD J. ZONEN,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and-
GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and-
GERALD McC. FRANKLIN,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney
1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU
BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and-
SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700
Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ.
233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101

-and-

OXMAN and JAROSCAK
BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard
Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

I N D E X

Note:
Mr. Sneddon is listed as "SN" on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as "Z" on index.
Mr. Auchincloss is listed as "A" on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as "M" on index.
Ms. Yu is listed as "Y" on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as "SA" on index.
Mr. Oxman is listed as "O" on index.

PLAINTIFF'S WITNESSES	DIRECT	CROSS	REDIRECT	RECROSS
KITE, Ann Marie		363-M	490-A	513-M
LAFFERTY, Albert	516-S

EXHIBITS

PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
4	Map of Santa Ynez Valley	520	521
5	Map of Los Olivos, Figueroa Mountain Road and Ranch location	520	521
6	Aerial photo showing Neverland Ranch
7	Aerial photo showing security office, arcade, main house and guest house on Neverland Ranch	520	521
8	Aerial photo showing main house, guest house, train station at Neverland Ranch	520	521
9	Aerial photo showing theater, race track and amusement area at Neverland Ranch	520	521
10	Aerial photo showing theater at Neverland Ranch	520	521
11	Aerial photo showing zoo at Neverland Ranch	520	521
12	Aerial photo showing train station at Neverland Ranch	520	521
405	2-8-03 Bell Yard embargoed statement of Janet Arvizo	341
410	List of phone numbers	343
412	Appearance, Consent and Release form	345

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Thank you, Your Honor.

Madam Reporter, could I have a read-back on the last question? I think we left on a question.

(Record read.)

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. Thank you.

Q. Showing you at this time Exhibit No. 405, page one. It appears to be a statement from Bell Yard regarding Janet Arvizo, dated February 8th, 2003.

Ms. Kite, did you prepare that statement?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Did you have anything to do with the preparation of that statement?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Are you familiar with that type of statement in the capacity of being a PR --

A. Yes, I am.

Q. -- person?

What does it mean when a statement is embargoed?

A. It means that the statement is prepared and sent out to the news wires, but that the media isn't allowed to release the statement until the time that's stated on the press release. That's what embargoed means. It means we'll send you the information, but you need to hold it until the time we've specified before you can put it out.

Q. So this statement would be -- it would not be allowed to be printed in the media until what time, according --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Assuming this statement is a statement for -- that is embargoed until February 8th, midnight.

A. 22 --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading and no foundation. She's not familiar with the document, Your Honor.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: These are expert questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I haven't been accepting her testimony at this point as an expert.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Well, I do think she had familiarity sufficient to talk about the nature of embargoed documents when they are released to the media.

THE COURT: And she has. But the question now you asked was specifically as to this document.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I can talk hypothetically, if you'd like.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. Hypothetically speaking, if a document was embargoed for a date, let's say January 1st, at twelve noon, what does that mean in terms of its production in the media?

A. Well --
MR. MESEREAU: I'm going to object, Your Honor. She's not qualified as an expert.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: This is an area where she has knowledge, Your Honor. It's beyond the -- it's beyond the scope of a layperson's understanding in these areas.
THE COURT: The objection is overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: What it means is that the person producing the document puts the information together, and sends it out to the media. The media has it in their hands, but they cannot release it for public consumption until the time that's stated on the document.
Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. Moving on to Exhibit No. 410, page one. It appears to be a list of phone numbers. First name is Mark Geragos, Criminal Lawyer, in the upper left-hand side.
Is your name on that list of phone numbers?
A. Yes, sir, it is.
Q. Are there any other members of the team on that list of phone numbers?
A. Yes, there are.
Q. Which ones?
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation; hearsay.

THE COURT: The foundation is sustained. And what I'm thinking of -- I'm not sure what Mr. Mesereau was thinking of, but what I'm thinking of is "the team" is vague.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: As to members of the team.

THE COURT: You said that, yes. That was your question. And I don't know what you're referring to.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. You mentioned that there was a number of people that were on a PR team; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. To deal with the issues, the PR problem that you previously identified, regarding Michael Jackson?

A. Yes.

Q. Are there any other members of that PR team that are on that phone sheet that is before you?

A. Yes, there are.

Q. Which ones?

A. Mark Geragos, Ronald Konitzer, Richard Elsen, Stuart Backerman, David LeGrand, and myself. And these are the people that I dealt with directly.

Q. Is there a phone number associated with your name?

A. Yes, there is.

Q. Is it correct?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. Are there any other names on that list that were the subject of the PR issues that you were addressing?

A. Yes, there is.

Q. What names?

A. Gavin Arvizo.

Q. Any others?

A. Yes. Debbie Rowe.

Q. All right. Is that it?

A. Yes, as far as I can tell.

Q. All right. Thank you.

Finally, I'll show you what appears to be a release form, Exhibit No. 412, page number two. Have you ever seen that document?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Did you prepare that -- a portion of that document?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Was there a portion of that document that was not prepared by you?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. Where did you get that document from, that portion that you're describing?

A. David LeGrand.

Q. Okay. First of all, describe for me what they have here as that exhibit.

A. This is an appearance, consent and release form.

Q. And it came to you from David LeGrand?

A. Yes, it did.

Q. On what date; do you know?

A. I believe it was around the 10th of February.

Q. And were you instructed to do something with this document?

A. Yes, I was.

Q. What was that?

A. I was instructed to take out the words "MJJ Productions Inc." and put in "Gabriel Media, Inc."

Q. Did you do that?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. What did you do with the document then?

A. I sent it back to Mr. LeGrand.

Q. Do you know what the purpose of that action was?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It's a yes or no question.

MR. MESEREAU: Foundation for elements.

THE COURT: Foundation; sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. During your work for Mr. Jackson, at some point, did you become aware of a problem involving the Arvizo family?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. How did you become aware of that problem?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation; 352.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered in furtherance of the conspiracy.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Mr. Schaffel called me.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Do you remember the approximate date or the date that that call took place?

A. Yes, it was the 13th of February.

Q. And what did Mr. Schaffel tell you?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered in furtherance of the conspiracy.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: He told me that Janet had taken the kids and left the ranch either late at night or early in the morning.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you express any concern to him?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: At that time?

THE COURT: You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Well, I didn't understand what it was that he was trying to say to me. I mean, I knew what he said, but I wasn't understanding where he was going with it.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Was Mr. Schaffel -- what was his demeanor when he was telling you this?

A. He was extremely agitated.

Q. Did you understand what was the source of his agitation?

A. Yes. That Janet had taken the kids and left the ranch.

Q. Sometime later, did you receive another phone call or have another phone conversation with Mr. Schaffel concerning this subject?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. When was that?

A. It was later that day.

Q. And what was said?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered in furtherance of the conspiracy.

THE COURT: All right. The objection's overruled.

THE WITNESS: He said that the situation had been contained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did that concern you?

A. Yes, it did.

Q. Okay. Why?

A. Because I believed that if somebody had taken their children and left the ranch, there must be some type of problem. And the way that he answered me by saying the situation was contained made me very uncomfortable.

Q. Did you ask him any other questions about that?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Did you have any further conversations with Mr. Schaffel about this subject?

A. During the -- one of the two conversations, and I believe it was the last one when he said the situation had been contained, he told me that he --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: You can answer the question yes or no, first of all.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: And what was said in that conversation?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered in furtherance of the conspiracy

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: That he was going to fax me a letter; that he wanted me to put it away for safekeeping.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you ask him any further questions about that?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Did he ever say anything to you about the ranch, about the family?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered to refresh recollection.

THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. Did he make any further statements to you about the Arvizo family?

A. Yes, he said that they had been brought back to the ranch.

Q. Did this conversation concern you?

A. Yes, it did.

Q. Why?

A. Because I didn't understand why he would be so upset about them leaving the ranch and then telling me the situation had been contained and that they had been brought back to the rather all within a span of approximately 12 hours or so.

Q. Did you have any conversations with other members of the team regarding this issue?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Who else?

A. David LeGrand.

Q. When did that conversation take place?

A. It was later that same day, on the 13th.

Q. Did you call him or did he call you?

A. I called him.

Q. And what did you ask him?

A. I said, "Did I hear right, what Marc Schaffel said to me; that Janet left the ranch?" And I said, "Don't make me believe --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I said, "Don't make me believe that these people were hunted down like dogs and brought back to the ranch."

THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to strike that answer in response to the nonresponsive objection. The jury's to disregard the answer.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay.

Q. When did you tell Mr. LeGrand -- well, let me rephrase that.

Did you tell Mr. LeGrand -- express to Mr. LeGrand your concern about the Arvizos?

A. Yes, I did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: What did you say?

THE COURT: Just a moment. Overruled.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: What did you say? How did you express your concern to Mr. LeGrand?

A. What words did I use?

Q. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: It's hearsay, Your Honor.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: The response is what is being offered. The responses to the question is being offered in advance of the conspiracy.

THE COURT: All right. I'll allow the answer.

Do you need the question read back?

THE WITNESS: Yes, Your Honor. I don't understand the --

THE COURT: All right. She doesn't understand. You need to rephrase your question. We won't read it back.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I need you to answer this question one more time for me. What did you say to Mr. LeGrand concerning -- well, you previously said that Mr. LeGrand -- well, no. Let me strike that.

What did you say to Mr. LeGrand expressing your concern about the Arvizos, specifically? What did you say?

A. Do you want my verbatim?

Q. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Hearsay and foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I said, "Don't make me believe that these people were hunted down like dogs and brought back to the ranch."

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did Mr. LeGrand answer your question directly?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. What did he say?

A. He said, "I can't discuss this right now."

Q. Then what happened?

A. Um, we continued to discuss what happened on the morning conference call with Bell Yard, and hung up.

Q. Did you ever express your concern or ask any questions about this subject to any other members of the team?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Who was that?

A. Ronald Konitzer.

Q. How did you express your concern to Ronald Konitzer? Let me back up.

First of all, when did this conversation take place?

A. It was later in the day of the 13th.

Q. And how did you express your concern to Mr. Konitzer?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Same purpose, Your Honor.

THE COURT: To explain the response that's --

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Yes.

THE COURT: -- that's in the furtherance of a conspiracy?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Yes.

THE COURT: All right. I'll overrule the objection.

THE WITNESS: I asked him about Marc Schaffel's comment about the situation being contained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: And do you recall specifically what you asked him?

A. Yes. I said, "What was" -- "What was the situation with Janet and Gavin leaving the ranch?"

Q. And what did he tell you?

A. He told me that --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered in furtherance of the conspiracy.

THE COURT: The objection's overruled

THE WITNESS: He told me that the situation had been taken care of.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did he offer any other explanation?

A. No, sir, he did not.

Q. Did anyone ever provide you with any further explanation of the Arvizo issue?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did this cause you concern?

A. Yes, it did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I'll rephrase.

THE COURT: I'll sustain the objection.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: How did you feel about that?

A. Very concerned.

Q. Okay. So during your tenure working with the team, how did you feel, or did you agree with how the team was conducting itself in terms of the PR --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: -- addressing the PR issues that you were hired to address?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.

THE COURT: Compound. Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you agree with the team, how the team was handling the PR problem?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Why not?

A. Because I believed that they were leaving Mr. Jackson exposed in a way that was extremely negative for him.

Q. How were they leaving him exposed?

A. By not addressing the issues that were being raised by the press.

Q. Were they being proactive?

A. No, not at all.

Q. When were you terminated as a PR representative?

A. On the 15th of February.

Q. Were you given an explanation as to why you were terminated?

A. I received an e-mail, if that's your question.

Q. Did they explain why -- the reason for your termination?

A. No. There was no explanation. I can tell you what the e-mail said.

Q. What did the e-mail say?

A. The e-mail said Ronald --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay. I'll go back to the question. Did the e-mail explain -- it didn't explain the reason for your termination?

A. No, sir. It didn't.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It's not a statement.

THE COURT: It's not a statement. It's an unstatement. Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you -- were you ever provided, by anybody, with an explanation --

A. No, sir, I was not.

Q. -- as to why you were terminated?

A. No, sir.

Q. At some point did you prepare to make a statement, while you were still employed, on television?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. What was the television show?

A. Access Hollywood.

Q. And when was that?

A. When was it scheduled?

Q. Yes.

A. For the 14th of February.

Q. Were you ever told to clear such appearances before any member of the team?

A. Not when the preparations for Access Hollywood were being made, no.

Q. Did you clear your appearance on Access Hollywood with any member of the team?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who?

A. I spoke with Mr. Schaffel, I spoke with Mr. Geragos and I spoke with Mr. Konitzer.

Q. Did you tell them what you were going to say?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did they agree with you to go ahead?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did you go to Access Hollywood and prepare to make that statement?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. I take it this was a pro Jackson statement on Mr. Jackson's behalf?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did something unusual happen while you were on the set?

A. Yes.

Q. What was that?

A. I was pulled off the set by Mr. Geragos.

Q. In what fashion?

A. He called Access Hollywood and told them to not do the interview with me.

Q. How much time before the expected filming of the set were you pulled off?

A. I was actually miked and sitting on the set with Pat O'Brien.

Q. Okay. Did that cause you some concern?

A. Yes, it did.

Q. Why?

A. Because I was of the belief that Mr. Jackson had been barraged by so much negative publicity, and I wanted to be able to get back into a proactive cycle for him.

Q. Did Mr. Geragos's involvement in this action cause you any concern?

A. Yes, it did.

Q. Why?

A. Because he was a criminal attorney.

Q. Why would that cause you concern?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Relevance; hearsay

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you subsequently have a conversation with Mr. Geragos about your employment --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: -- for Mr. Jackson?

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, I don't understand your question.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: After you were pulled off the set of Access Hollywood, did you subsequently have any conversations with Mr. Geragos about your employment with Mr. Jackson?

A. I had a conversation with Mr. Geragos, yes.

Q. When did that take place?

A. On the set of Access Hollywood.

Q. So you spoke to him then?

A. Yes, on the phone.

Q. All right. And what was that conversation about?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered in furtherance of a conspiracy.

THE COURT: I'll sustain the objection, because it's vague, "What was the conversation about?" It calls for a conclusion of the witness.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I can be more specific.

Did Mr. Geragos make any request of you?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. What was the request?

A. He --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered in furtherance of the conspiracy.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: He asked me to stay in town overnight and come into his office the next morning and meet with him.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: For what purpose?

A. To sign a private --

MR. MESEREAU: Same objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: To sign a private investigator's confidentiality agreement.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Are you a private investigator?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you understand what that would have done to you if you had signed such an agreement?

A. I had an idea, sir.

MR. MESEREAU: Calls for speculation, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you have an understanding as to the effect, the legal effect of that agreement, if you signed it?

MR. MESEREAU: Foundation; speculation.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Goes to her intent as to whether she wanted to sign the agreement or not.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I can ask another foundational question.

THE COURT: All right. Go ahead.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did you sign that agreement?

A. No, sir.

Q. Why not?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Relevance; hearsay; foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Because I believed that it would negatively impact me.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Why? In what way?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Speculation; relevance; foundation; hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: I believed it was designed to shut me up.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Based on your performance as a PR person for Michael Jackson, how would you evaluate your attempted performance or your attempt to help him in a PR sense?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; relevance, foundation; calls for speculation; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: How is this hearsay? I don't see any -- this is her evaluation. This is a spurious objection.

MR. MESEREAU: An opinion.

THE COURT: I'll sustain the objection and relevancy. An opinion of her own performance.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay.

Q. Did you ever form an opinion, based on everything that happened during this period of time that you were working for Mr. Jackson and the time immediately preceding it, as to why they terminated you? Based on all the conduct of the parties, based on all you knew about this case and your job, did you ever form an opinion as to why you were terminated?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. What was your -- what's your opinion on that?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Opinion; relevance.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Not a proper lay opinion?

THE COURT: The objection was sustained.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. After your termination, Ms. Kite, did you have a conversation with David LeGrand about Janet Arvizo?

A. Yes, I did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading; hearsay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It's -- it's a yes or no question. It is not hearsay. And it's hardly leading. It's just an open-ended question, whether she had a conversation.

THE COURT: Objection is overruled. She did answer. She said, "Yes, I did."

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. When did this conversation take place?

A. Approximately a week to ten days after I was terminated.

Q. Were you in a room with him? Telephone? You tell me.

A. We were on the telephone.

Q. And did he convey some information to you about Janet Arvizo?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. What did he say to you?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation; relevance.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Offered in furtherance of the conspiracy.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

THE WITNESS: He said that they no longer had to worry about Janet Arvizo because they had her on tape and they were going to make her look like a crank whore.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Thank you, Ms. Kite. No further questions.

THE COURT: Cross-examine?

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, please, Your Honor.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MESSEREAU:

Q. Good morning.

A. Good morning.

Q. Ms. Kite, my name is Thomas Mesereau and I speak for Mr. Jackson.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I'm going to object to counsel's preamble concerning who he represents.

THE COURT: Overruled.

(Laughter.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Ms. Kite, I'd like to refer you to Exhibit 410, which is a document the prosecutor showed you, which has names and phone numbers on it. Do you see that document? I think it's labeled as 410 in the book you have.

A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And just for the record, that is a document you referred to while the prosecutor was asking you questions, correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it's a document that appears to have names and phone numbers on it only, correct?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And you looked at that document when you were testifying and you gave the names of people who were on the team, correct?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And this was the team that you worked with for purposes of public relations, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Does Mr. Jackson's name appear on that document?

A. No, sir, it does not.

Q. Does Mr. Jackson's phone number appear on that document?

A. No, sir, it does not.

Q. And while you were working with this team, you never met Mr. Jackson, correct?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. And you never spoke with Mr. Jackson, correct?

A. No, I did not, that's correct.

Q. You never met any of the Arvizos, correct?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. And at that time you never spoke to the Arvizos, correct?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Have you ever been to Neverland?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. How long were you employed by this team?

A. From the 9th of February to the 15th of February.

Q. So you were brought on board on the 9th?

A. Officially, yes.

Q. You were terminated on the 15th?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. So you worked for less than a week?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. Now, while you worked on this team for less than a week, did you have other clients?

A. Yes, sir, I did.
Q. How many other clients were you working for during this six-day period?
A. Just one.
Q. Okay. Who was that?
A. Webcaster Alliance.
Q. And you have represented that client for a long time; have you not?
A. At that time, no, I had not.
Q. Well, did you have a position with that client as well?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. What was your position with that client?
A. The president.
Q. Okay. You were president of the Webcaster Alliance, correct?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Would you please tell the jury what the Webcaster Alliance is?
A. The Webcaster Alliance is an organization that supports Internet-related webcasters, support services, manufacturers, anything to do with broadcasting music over the Internet.
Q. And how many people are members of that -- or excuse me, let me rephrase that.
How many people were members of that alliance at this particular time?

A. At that time I don't remember specifically. I think it was a little bit over 100, but I'm not sure.

Q. In the six days that you represented Mr. Jackson, as you described it, and were president of this alliance, did you think you became an expert on Mr. Jackson's life?

A. Oh, no, sir, I would never profess to be an expert on anybody's life.

Q. Please answer my question.

A. No, sir.

Q. During the six days you claim you worked for this team, did you think you became an expert on Mr. Jackson's music?

A. No, sir.

Q. Okay. During the six days that you worked with this team, and at the same time were president of the Webcaster Alliance, you didn't really become an expert on anything associated with Mr. Jackson, did you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Okay. Now, you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you were very concerned that these people were ripping off Mr. Jackson, didn't you?

A. I don't remember saying that, sir.

Q. Did you ever tell anything to the Santa Barbara sheriff that suggested you thought these people were taking advantage of Mr. Jackson?

A. I don't remember saying anything like that, sir.

Q. Okay. You met with the Santa Barbara sheriffs approximately when; do you know?

A. I believe it was in March of 2004.

Q. Okay. It was approximately March 11th, correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you gave them a lengthy statement, did you not?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. To your knowledge, was that statement recorded?

A. Yes, I believe it was.

Q. And were you told that your statement was going to appear in the form of a police report?

A. I don't remember, sir.

Q. Have you discussed your statement with anyone on the prosecution team at any time?

A. The statement in the police report?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And when did you last discuss that with any member of the prosecution team?

A. I don't remember. Sometime probably in the last couple weeks.

Q. Who did you talk to about that?

A. To Gordon, Mr. Auchincloss.

Q. Okay. And that's the prosecutor who just asked you questions, correct?
A. Yes.
Q. Did he give you a copy of that police report to look at?
A. Yes, he did.
Q. Did you read it?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Did you discuss its contents with Mr. Auchincloss?
A. I don't understand your question.
Q. Did you discuss the contents of that police report with Mr. Auchincloss?
A. I discussed --
Q. Let me rephrase the --
A. Okay.
Q. Maybe I'm being --
A. Yeah, I'm sorry. I'm not trying to be stupid.
Q. No, you're not. Don't worry.
Mr. Auchincloss gave you a copy of the police report, correct?
A. Yes, that's correct.
Q. He asked you to read it, correct?
A. Yes, he did.
Q. And it's a pretty long report, isn't it?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. And, in fact, it goes for many pages,

correct?

A. Yes, it does.

Q. And it is a narrative summary about what you told the police, true?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. What you told the sheriffs?

A. Yes, it is. That's correct.

Q. And it actually -- you had an approximately 90-minute conversation with the sheriffs in March when you were interviewed, true?

A. Yes, somewhere around there. I don't remember the time. But it was lengthy.

Q. You told them a lot of things you haven't said today, correct?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. You told them a lot of things that you felt about the way the so-called team was handling Mr. Jackson --

A. Yes, I did.

Q. -- correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay. Now, you are referred to as Ann Gabriel in the report, correct?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. That was your name at the time, right?

A. That's the name I used professionally.

Q. Okay. Was your name Kite at the time, your legal name?

A. My legal name is still Kite, but I go professionally by Ann Gabriel.

Q. Okay. And your understanding was that you would be referred to as "Gabriel" in the police report, true?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You told the sheriffs that you are the owner of Gabriel Media, Inc., right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were asked how you got involved in this matter, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Okay. And you told the police that you were hired by Attorney David LeGrand, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And you had previously dated David LeGrand, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't tell that to the police at that time, correct?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Okay. Now, correct me if I'm wrong, did you stop dating Mr. LeGrand when you were hired by the team?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Okay. So you and LeGrand had a professional relationship only at that time?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And are you telling the jury that you ended the dating relationship just as you began this professional task?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Okay. Did you and Mr. LeGrand talk about the fact that it might not look good if you guys were dating while you took this job?

A. No, sir, we did not.

Q. Did you ever disclose to other members of this team that you and Mr. LeGrand had dated before?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. You both agreed to keep that hidden, right?

A. No, sir. We never agreed on anything. We never discussed it. We never agreed or disagreed or talked at all about hiding it or not hiding it.

Q. Okay. Now, let me just explore that a little bit. You and Mr. LeGrand are dating, and suddenly you decide to be hired as a professional public relations person, true?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You and Mr. LeGrand were dating right up until the very moment that you were hired as a professional by this team?

A. No, sir, not right up until the very moment.

Q. Okay. How much time was there between your relationship ending and you being hired to do public relations for this team?

A. My relationship with Mr. LeGrand on a personal level --

Q. Yes.

A. -- stopped for that moment at the end of January, but it was always hanging out there.

Q. Okay. And I'm not trying to pry into the nature of your relationship at all.

A. No, I have no problem answering your question. I just want you to understand specifically, that for that moment in January, when we decided not to see each other personally anymore --

Q. Right.

A. -- it had nothing to do with any professional performance that he may engage me in in the future.

Q. Okay. Now --

A. We were involved in other projects together on the professional side.

Q. When you were dating up until -- is it the 9th of January, is that what you said?

A. No, the end of January.

Q. The end of January. When you were dating Mr. LeGrand up until the end of January, did you ever discuss the possibility of your being hired to do public relations for this team?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And at some point, you must have both agreed, '"We're going to terminate the relationship and I'm going to be hired on the team," right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; argumentative.

THE COURT: It's asked and answered. Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Needless to say, you never told Mr. Jackson that you had had this prior relationship, right?

A. Oh, no, sir, I never spoke to Mr. Jackson.

Q. Never wrote him either?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Okay. Okay. Now, when the prosecutor was asking you questions about the people you were working with, remember you said you thought Mr. Jackson was at the top?

A. I don't remember the prosecutor asking me anything about if I thought Mr. Jackson was at the top.

Q. Well, during his questions of you yesterday, do you remember he sort of tried to emphasize that Mr. Jackson was at the top of some structure?

A. I don't remember him bringing Mr. Jackson's name up at the top of a structure. I believe he asked me about the team that I worked with.

Q. Well, at no time when you were interviewed by the police or the sheriffs did you ever say Mr. Jackson was on this team, right?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Because based upon your experience, Mr. Jackson wasn't on this team, correct?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. You described the team to the Santa Barbara sheriffs as composed of the following individuals: Mr. LeGrand, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mark Geragos, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Stuart Backerman, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Ronald Konitzer?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Dieter Weizner, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs there were also attorneys from the UK, correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But you told them you had not spoken with them or met them, true?

A. No, I never said I had not spoken with them. I'm sure I had said I had not met them since they were in the UK. But I couldn't say I had not spoken with them when I had been on conference calls with them.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you this page in the report?

A. Sure. Absolutely, you can.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. May I approach, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Oh, yes. I had not spoken with them or met them up until the point that Mr. LeGrand sent me the e-mail welcoming me to the team. That's what that's about.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Doesn't say that there, does it?

A. Yes, that's what that paragraph says.

Q. Let me just -- for the record --

THE COURT: Counsel, you've showed her something to refresh her recollection.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

Q. Mrs. Kite, early in your interview with the Santa Barbara sheriffs, you told them you had not spoken with or met with attorneys from the UK, true?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you had been brought in by Mr. LeGrand because Mr. LeGrand was not PR savvy, true?

A. That's correct. Yes.

Q. And you told them there was a huge media crisis due to the Martin Bashir interview, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you believed you had the ability to read what was going on, in connection with the press, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. You thought your connections with the press were pretty good, correct?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you had been involved in public relations for approximately 20 years?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. And that's correct, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Excuse me, it was at the time, right?

A. Yeah. I'm a little older now, yes.

Q. All right. And you also told them you had done broadcasting, right?

A. That's correct, that's correct.

Q. What broadcasting had you done?

A. I had done Internet broadcasting.

Q. Can you please explain what that is?

A. Sure, absolutely. It's just like television, but it's done over the Internet.

Q. How long had you done that at that time?

A. At that time, since 1997. So whatever year it was that I spoke with the police. 2004.

Q. Were you doing Internet broadcasting while you were working with this team?

A. No, sir, I was not.

Q. Okay. Please tell the jury what you were doing as president of the Webcasters Alliance?

A. Well, at that point, we were working toward legislation for webcasters to help them be allowed to play music on the Internet. It was more working on the political side.

Q. Now, who was opposing your efforts to play music on the Internet?

A. The Recording Industry Association of America.

Q. Okay. And who does that comprise, if you know?

A. That comprises the five major labels -- well, there were five at the time. There's three now, so....

Q. And are you saying it's composed of record labels?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. What record labels were opposing you at that time?

A. The ones that belonged to the Recording Industry Association of America.

Q. Okay. Do you know who they were?

A. I can give you the majors, which would be Warner Music, Universal, BMG, Sony.

Q. Okay. They were opposing you, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now --

A. They were opposing webcasters.

Q. Webcasters. All right. Okay.

A. Yes.

Q. They were opposing them pretty vigorously, right?

A. Yes, sir, they were.

Q. Do you know why they were opposing you so vigorously?

A. Are you asking me personal opinion or are you asking what they said to the public? They're two different things.

Q. Okay. They gave -- actually, in the course of your work to get legislation passed, the record labels hired lobbyists, didn't they?

A. Yes, they did.

Q. And the lobbyists went around to various politicians opposing what you were trying to do, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. To your knowledge, they did that because they felt it would hurt the music industry, at least as far as they're concerned, if you could play this music on the Internet, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. In fact, they made a pitch that they could lose a lot of money if this music was played on the Internet, right?

A. That was their pitch, yes.

Q. And you felt, and the members of your organization felt, that you should be free to take these songs generated by these music companies and play them on the Internet, right?

A. Well, no, sir, not the way that you're stating it, that's not correct.

Q. How would you state it?

A. We felt that Internet broadcasters should fall under the same realm as traditional terrestrial radio stations did. And we believed that Internet broadcasting was every bit, if not more so, valuable to performers and artists, especially independent artists who might not have a chance to be heard on traditional terrestrial radio stations.

Q. Now, you certainly knew, while you were doing this, that Mr. Jackson had business arrangements with some of these major record labels, right?

A. I knew that Mr. Jackson had spoken out vigorously against the labels earlier. And I knew that he also still had an existing contract or believed that he still had an existing contract with Sony.

Q. But your position as president of the Webcasters Alliance was against Sony, right, at least as far as that issue was concerned?

A. Well, I wouldn't market against Sony. Our position was to try to explain to the labels that we could be every bit as friendly to them as a terrestrial radio station would.

We certainly didn't want to be against them. We wanted to help them promote their artists' music and sell more music.

Q. You knew Mr. Jackson had a relationship with Sony at that time, correct?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Did you ever make any effort to advise Mr. Jackson that you might have a conflict of interest, if you were taking this position against Sony while Mr. Jackson was in a business relationship with Sony?

A. No, not Mr. Jackson. But Mr. LeGrand was aware of it because Mr. LeGrand was working on the legislation with me.

Q. Did he tell you there was no problem?

A. Well, if Mr. LeGrand was working on the legislation with me and went to the Recording Industry Association of America with me while he was also representing Mr. Jackson, I wouldn't have any reason to think there would be a conflict on my part.

Q. So correct me if I'm wrong. What you're saying is you never actually discussed a possible conflict, but you assumed, because Mr. LeGrand hired you, it must be okay with Mr. Jackson, correct?

A. Yes, sir, you're absolutely right.

Q. All right. All right. You told the Santa

Barbara sheriffs that you were contacted by telephone by Mr. LeGrand regarding your being hired to do public relations work, correct?

A. That was not my initial contact with Mr. LeGrand about doing public relation for Michael Jackson; nor was that how I found out that Mr. LeGrand hired me.

Q. Didn't you tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you had actually spoken with LeGrand in Washington D.C., but you were contacted by telephone regarding the public relations work?

A. I had spoken face to face with Mr. LeGrand about doing public relations for Mr. Jackson in Washington D.C.

Q. Okay. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the report?

A. Yes, you can show it to me. That's fine.

MR. MESEREAU: May I, Your Honor? Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that report, Ms. Kite?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. And is the report accurate or inaccurate?

A. Yes, I did speak with Mr. LeGrand in Washington D.C. about working for Mr. Jackson. But my recollection is -- as I sit here right now, was receiving an e-mail from Mr. LeGrand on the morning of the 9th of February that said, "Welcome to the team."

Q. Okay. But -- I showed you the report. Does that appear to be slightly inaccurate, as far as you're concerned?

A. I don't -- I don't know, sir.

Q. Okay.

A. I'm telling you, sitting here right now, my recollection is that I received an e-mail from Mr. LeGrand --

Q. Okay.

A. -- on the morning of the 9th.

Q. Well, you received an e-mail welcoming you to the team, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. But you told the police that you were contacted by telephone before that about taking the job, right?

A. I guess so, sir.

Q. Okay. Sound right to you?

A. I guess, if you say so.

Q. No, I'm asking you.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Had you represented any celebrities before?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Who had you represented?

A. Well, I'm sure you wouldn't consider him a celebrity, but he considers himself one. Would be Mr. Sylver, Marshal Sylver, who lives in Las Vegas.

Q. Who is he?

A. He's an entertainer. He also has done a lot of commercials, infomercials. And he did, you know, television. He was very much into self-hypnosis and things like that.

Q. Okay. Any other celebrities?

A. I have interviewed celebrities, yes.

Q. Correct me if I'm wrong. The question was --

A. No, sir.

Q. The question was, "Did you represent any other celebrities?"

A. No, sir, not in the way that I did Mr. Sylver.

Q. Really, I think what you're saying, he was the only celebrity that you had actually represented as a PR spokesperson --

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. -- before you joined this team?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Okay. Now, you said you were an expert at media crisis management, right?

A. Are you asking me what I believe?

Q. Well, I'm asking you what you said.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Correct me if I'm wrong --

A. Yes, sir.

Q. -- didn't you tell the jury you were an expert on media crisis management at this point in time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. All right. Did you do media crisis management for Mr. Sylver?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. So, actually, you had only done media crisis management for one person you consider a celebrity before you joined this team?

A. For one person that I would consider a celebrity, yes, sir.

Q. Okay. You really weren't very experienced in handling media crisis management for celebrities, were you?

A. Are you asking me what I believe or are you making a statement?

Q. I'm asking you to answer a question. You really weren't very experienced in handling media crisis management for celebrities before you joined this team, right?

A. I believed I was.

Q. Because you represented one?

A. Because I've seen a lot.

Q. I'm not asking you what you've seen; I'm asking you what you've done. Okay?

A. Yes, I have represented one person that was a celebrity, sir.

Q. Okay. His name was Sylver?

A. Marshal Sylver, yes. S-y-l-v-e-r.

Q. To your knowledge, is he on television a lot?

A. He had been at the time. I don't believe he is anymore, no.

Q. He had been in television in what capacity?

A. He had produced infomercials.

Q. Did he appear himself on television?

A. Yes, sir, he did.

Q. Where did these info commercials appear, do you know?

A. I don't remember. This was several years ago, and I don't -- I mean, they appeared in a lot of markets.

Q. Okay. And were you helping him do the infomercials?

A. I was helping him promote himself on the Internet. He had an Internet radio talk show. I was helping schedule other appearances for him on television shows. And we were working on another book for him, and other infomercials that he had in the future, yes.

Q. Okay. And just how long did your representation of Mr. Sylver go for?

A. I think it was about a year, but I don't remember. This was a while ago.

Q. And what year was that?
A. Maybe around 98 or '99.
Q. Okay. So before you joined the team to handle crisis management for Mr. Jackson, you had done this kind of work for one person you considered a celebrity for one year, right?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And you believed that one of your duties was to help the team put together a plan, correct?
A. Yes, sir, that's correct.
Q. And it was supposed to be a plan that would be consistent with your philosophy of being proactive, right?
A. I don't understand your question.
Q. Okay. I'll break it down.
Correct me if I'm wrong, you testified that you wanted to be proactive?
A. Yes, sir, that's correct.
Q. With respect to the response to the Bashir recording, correct?
A. Yes, sir, that's correct.
Q. And that also was just your general philosophy when it comes to dealing with crisis for celebrities, correct?
A. Yes, sir, that's correct.
Q. Had you been proactive with Mr. Sylver?
A. Yes, sir, I had.
Q. Okay. Did he have a crisis?

A. Yes, sir, he did.

Q. And did you feel that you handled the crisis pretty well?

A. Did I feel that he handled it very well?

Q. That you did.

A. Yes, I felt that I did. I didn't believe that he did, but I felt that I did.

Q. Okay. Is there any reason why you only spent a year with him?

A. Yes, I moved on to other things.

Q. Like what?

A. More Internet broadcasting. I began to get into more technical aspects of promoting products and services.

Q. Okay. And out of crisis management?

A. No, never out of it. But just -- technology was very fascinating for me, and so I began to do a lot of productions from conventions in Las Vegas. Consumer electronic show, the National Association of Broadcasting. Those types of things. Comdex.

Q. But your proactive philosophy meant what?

A. Did you say "meant what"?

Q. Yes, please.

A. The proactive philosophy meant that I would -- in terms of taking care of a client, is that what you're asking me?

Q. Yes.

A. That I would assess their assets and vulnerabilities and map out a plan for them to be able to address any issues that might come up in the future and to be able to promote themselves in the manner that they aspire to.

Q. Now, with all due respect, how do you assess the assets and vulnerabilities of Mr. Jackson if you've never met him?

A. Mr. Mesereau, there are millions of people in the world that have never met Mr. Jackson and judge him based on what they read in the media.

I believe, for myself, as someone who handles public relations - and I'm not going to term myself as an expert in deference to you - what those people read in the media directly reflects to them who Mr. Jackson is. They have never met him either. So what better way to try to connect with the public's thinking than to read what's printed in the media about him and try to counteract it to his benefit?

Q. But -- let me repeat my question: You can't really know a person if you haven't met them, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you put this plan together, you didn't know the person called Michael Jackson at all, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; asked and answered numerous times.

THE COURT: Asked and answered; sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that one of the goals of the team was to put together a plan of action, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you said another goal of the team was to sue Granada, the company that had produced the Martin Bashir program, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And, to your knowledge, Granada was a British company, right?

A. Yes, sir, to my knowledge.

Q. And it was your understanding that there was a lawsuit going on in England, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Now, was that lawsuit going on when you were hired for those six days, or were you discussing filing a suit?

A. I believe it had already been filed, sir.

Q. Okay. And is that why you were on the phone call with the British attorneys?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Okay. And did Mr. LeGrand want you on that phone call?

A. Yes, sir, he did.

Q. Were you mostly reporting to LeGrand at this period of time?

A. No, sir.
Q. Okay. Well, you're hired for six days, right?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And during those six days, you're talking to various members of the team, right?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Now, what members of the team did you speak to during those six days you were hired?
A. You want me to rename them to you?
Q. Yes, please.
A. Mr. Backerman. Mr. Schaffel. Mr. Konitzer. Mr. Geragos. David LeGrand. And the team in the UK. And you if allow me to look at one of these e-mails, I can read their names off to you, too. Okay?
Q. Okay. Sure. Thank you.
A. I'm sorry, I'm looking for the three-page e-mail here.
Q. That's all right. Take your time. As long as Judge Melville doesn't mind.
A. I'm sorry. This is a thick book. Do you have a copy of that three-page e-mail that Gordon showed me earlier? Because the names were listed on there.
Q. Let me see. I think I do.
MR. SNEDDON: It's 43, Gordon. Page 43.
MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

Q. All right. You mentioned Backerman, Konitzer, Geragos, LeGrand? And who else? Schaffel?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the British lawyers, correct?

A. Yes, sir, and the British -- and the UK crisis management team, Bell Yard.

Q. Okay. Okay. And Bell Yard, you had mentioned one woman's name, right?

A. Melanie Riley and also Richard. I believe Richard's name is on that e-mail too.

Q. These are all members of the team that you worked with, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. For those six days?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have any conference calls where every member of the team was on the phone?

A. No, sir, I can't remember that we had any conference call when every single member of the team was on the phone.

Q. Did you have face-to-face conversations with the various team members?

A. With Mr. LeGrand.

Q. Anyone else?

A. No. Not that I remember.

Q. Have you ever personally met Mr. Schaffel?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. Have you ever personally met Mr. Konitzer?
A. No, sir, I have not.
Q. Never personally met Mr. Geragos?
A. No, sir, I have not.
Q. Never personally met any of the British lawyers?
A. No, sir, I did not.
Q. Ever personally met Mr. Backerman?
A. No, sir, I did not.
Q. So one member of the team only you had face-to-face conversations with, right?
A. Yes, sir, because Mr. LeGrand was in Las Vegas.
Q. Okay. That's where you were?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Okay. Now, is your office near his?
A. It was about 20 minutes away. 25 minutes away.
Q. Okay. During those six days, did you have a lot of meetings with Mr. LeGrand face to face about the team?
A. No, I did not.
Q. How many meetings did you have with Mr. LeGrand during those six days regarding the team?
A. Face to face?
Q. Yes, please.
A. Just one.
Q. Did you have a lot of phone calls with Mr.

LeGrand during those six days?

A. Yes.

Q. About the team?

A. I did.

Q. How many phone calls do you think you had with Mr. LeGrand during those six days where you discussed the team?

A. I don't understand your question. Are you talking about where we discussed the team as -- as far as it relates to what the team has discussed or where we discussed the team as far as it relates to my objections to things that were going on?

Q. Well, anything what have so far about the team. So let me restate the question.

A. Oh.

Q. During the six days you were on this team, you've indicated Mr. LeGrand is the only person you ever saw face to face, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you've indicated that you had a lot of phone calls with Mr. LeGrand during those six days to discuss team business?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Approximately how many phone calls do you think you had with Mr. LeGrand during those six days to discuss team business?

A. Probably more than 50.

Q. Okay. How many phone calls did you have with Mr. Backerman during those six days, if you can guess. Or not guess; if you know.

A. As few as possible.

Q. How many?

A. Maybe seven. Between five and seven.

Q. Okay. Mr. Backerman really was a competitor of yours, wasn't he?

A. No, sir. He wasn't.

Q. He was in the public relations business, was he not?

A. Mr. Backerman was hired as the official spokesperson. It was my understanding that Mr. Backerman was hired as Mr. Jackson's spokesperson.

Q. Okay. What was your official title while you were a member of the team?

A. I never asked for an official title, sir.

Q. What did you consider yourself to be?

A. Just someone who would handle public relations for Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. Okay. Did you ever speak to the media directly during those six days?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Who did you speak for?

A. I don't remember. I couldn't tell you. I do remember that I was on a couple of phone calls with people from the media. Overflow calls I got directed to me, or calls that Stuart wasn't answering and Bell Yard was concerned about, they wanted me to speak to them directly. And I did speak with Claudia Eaton with NBC.

Q. And when you spoke to these people, you must have identified yourself as having some role involving Mr. Jackson?

A. I believe I just said I handled public relations for Mr. Jackson. I couldn't -- I mean, I couldn't tell you exactly. But I am pretty sure that I didn't identify myself with a grandiose title.

Q. Did you have any business cards printed up --

A. For Mr. Jackson?

Q. -- that identified you as a spokesperson for Mr. Jackson?

A. No, sir, never.

Q. Any kind of stationery printed up to identify yourself as a spokesperson for Mr. Jackson?

A. No, sir, never.

Q. Any kind of name tag or anything?

A. No, sir, never.

Q. Okay. Did you have any role in the lawsuit against Granada?

A. I don't understand your question.

Q. Well, you've indicated you were on a phone conversation with British lawyers, correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that concerned the lawsuit against

Granada, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have any role in that lawsuit, of any kind?

A. In how the lawsuit was being portrayed in the press, yes, I did.

Q. And what did you do during those six days about that?

A. I don't understand your question. What actions did I take during those six days, or what considerations were had?

Q. Well, wham did you ever do during the six days you were on the team to effect the Granada lawsuit?

A. Spoke with the other members of the team as far as the public relations were concerned, to put out information about the lawsuit with Granada.

Q. Did you actually put out information, yourself?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Did you ever issue any press release yourself?

A. No, sir, I wasn't allowed to.

Q. Ever issue any type of statement anywhere during those six days?

A. Not that I can remember, no.

Q. Did you think during those six days you had learned enough to really understand that litigation in England?

A. I wasn't trying to understand the litigation in England, sir.

Q. Now, you were asked by the Santa Barbara sheriffs if you had any say-so in the decision-making of the team. And you said, "Yes and no." Do you remember that?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And you reviewed this report before you came in to testify today, right?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. When did you last review it?

A. I don't know. It was probably about a week or so ago.

Q. Do you have a copy in your possession?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Were you sent a copy and given an opportunity to read it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then did you have to return the copy?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. Where did the copy go; do you know?

A. Yes, it's in Louisiana. I didn't bring it with me.

Q. Someone sent you the police report in Louisiana?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know who did that?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Did Mr. Auchincloss do that?

A. I'm not --

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you shown that report to anyone?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. All right. Have you discussed your testimony today with anyone before you came in?

A. I don't understand your question. The testimony that I'm giving right now?

Q. Yes.

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. You haven't discussed it with anyone before testifying today?

A. I don't understand you. Are you asking if I spoke with Mr. Auchincloss? You need to ask me specifically, because I don't understand your term of "anyone."

Q. You don't know what "anyone" means?

A. I do know what "anyone" means, but I don't know what you mean by -- when you say it.

Q. Let me break it down slowly.

A. Okay.

Q. Did you discuss what you were going to say in court today with anyone before you came in and testified?

A. No one had told me what to say in court. But Gordon did tell me in general what to expect of the questions from him.

Q. How long was your meeting with Gordon?

A. Yesterday, when I was here?

Q. Yes.

A. You didn't give him much time. I don't know, maybe ten minutes. I don't remember. I don't remember.

Q. How long was your prior meeting with Gordon?

A. The night before?

Q. Yes.

A. A couple of hours.

Q. And in a couple of hours with Gordon, the night before, you never discussed what you were going to say in this courtroom?

A. No. Mr. -- Gordon told me generally what questions he was going to ask me.

Q. Okay.

A. He said that it would be about the same type of things that he went over with me in the grand jury testimony, and that was it.

Q. Okay. So why did it last two hours?

A. Well, I think probably because I had a lot of questions for him also.

Q. So you were discussing what you were going to say today, right?

A. No. That doesn't mean that I was trying to ask him questions about what we were going to discuss today. I was very curious about this whole process and the process of the lawsuit.

Q. Did you ever tell Mr. Auchincloss what you intended to say in this courtroom during that meeting that lasted a number of hours the day before yesterday?

A. No, sir, I don't remember that I ever told him what I intended to say during any of my testimony.

Q. So, Prosecutor Auchincloss told you what he was going to ask you, and you never commented on what you were going to say at any time during that meeting which lasted a couple of hours, right?

A. I wouldn't have needed to, sir, because he told me basically it was the same questions that he had already asked me in the grand jury testimony, and I knew what my answers were.

Q. So why did it take so long, if you know?

A. Because, like I said, I was curious about the whole process of the lawsuit. I was asking questions about what the courtroom looked like, and that type of thing.

Q. Okay. So you didn't ever respond to any of his questions, true?

A. Any of what questions?

Q. When Prosecutor Auchincloss met with you and

I said, "I'm going to ask you," whatever the question was, you just didn't comment, right?

A. There was no need for me, sir, because he said it would be basically the same questions that he asked me in my grand jury testimony.

He didn't say that he was going to ask me anything different, and he didn't say that it was going to deviate.

Q. Well, let's take the timing. Prosecutor Auchincloss meets with you for a couple of hours. He tells you, "I'm going to ask you the same questions I asked you for the grand jury," which takes about five seconds. What else did you talk about?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; this is argument.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Ms. Kite, you did discuss with Prosecutor Auchincloss things you were going to say in court today, didn't you?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; these questions have been asked and answered numerous times.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: How many conference calls with attorneys from the United Kingdom did you have -- excuse me. Let me rephrase that.

How many conference calls did you participate in with attorneys from the UK during the six days you were hired?

A. With just the attorneys, or with the Bell Yard also?

Q. Just with the attorneys.

A. I don't know. Maybe five or six. One a day.

Q. And how many conference calls did you have with other people employed in the United Kingdom during those six days?

A. At least double or triple that, because I talked to Bell Yard several times a day.

Q. Okay. Now, were you giving Bell Yard your ideas about public relations issues in England?

A. Is your question was I giving Bell Yard information about how I felt they should handle public relations issues in England? No, sir --

Q. Sure.

A. -- I did not.

Q. Were they calling you for advice on what to do in England?

A. No. They weren't calling me for advice on what to do in England. We were talking together to be able to coordinate the same type of public relations effort between the United Kingdom and the United States.

Q. Was it your understanding that Bell Yard was issuing press releases in England during those six days?

A. I believe they issued one or two, but I don't know how many. They -- I don't know.

Q. Did you ever see the one or two statements that they issued?

A. Yes, I believe I did.

Q. Did they fax them to you?

A. E-mailed them to me, I believe.

Q. Did they ask you for your thoughts on the content?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you give them the thoughts on the content?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you feel they followed your advice?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. So you never had any dispute with Bell Yard in England with respect to public relations, correct?

A. No, sir. Bell Yard and I agreed very much on how we felt that the public relations effort should be handled for Mr. Jackson.

Q. Now, correct me if I'm wrong, you've testified that you thought these team members -- not including Mr. Jackson, because he wasn't on the team -- these team members overruled your ability to be proactive; is that correct?

A. Yes, sir. That's correct.

Q. But you felt they didn't overrule Bell

Yard's efforts to be proactive, correct?

A. No, sir, that's not correct. I believed that they did overrule Bell Yard also.

Q. Did you think the statements that you saw issued by Bell Yard during those six days were proactive?

A. There was an issue with Bell Yard when I was brought on.

Q. And you had an issue with them?

A. No, there was an issue within the team with Bell Yard when I was brought on.

Q. Here's what I'm getting at: And if I misstate something, just tell me.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. You told the jury you were overruled in your desire to make a public statement on behalf of the team, right?

A. Okay. Then I understand where you're going. And let me answer you this way: The press releases that were put out by Bell Yard during that time mainly had to do with the lawsuit against Granada, and didn't at all affect the crisis issues that I felt were negatively impacting Mr. Jackson's reputation.

Q. But the crisis involving Bell Yard was a crisis concerning the Bashir program, right?

A. It was concerning the program itself. It didn't concern the attacks that were being launched against Mr. Jackson about everything else.

Q. The lawsuit was filed by attorneys for Mr. Jackson, true?

A. Yes, that's correct, sir.

Q. And Mr. Bashir was sued, correct?

A. I don't remember, sir. I believe so.

Q. And Granada was the company that produced the Bashir show, correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. To your knowledge, the lawsuit had to do with their not meeting their obligations --

A. To my --

Q. -- to Mr. Jackson, right?

A. To my knowledge, I believed that the lawsuit was launched to stop the distribution of additional footage. Not to attack the integrity of the lawsuit, or the integrity of the documentary.

Q. Did you ever read any of the legal documents filed in the lawsuit?

A. I don't remember, sir. I don't remember.

Q. After your conference calls with the attorneys in England, did anyone ever send you copies of the legal documents that were filed in that lawsuit, if you remember?

A. I don't remember if there were copies that were sent to me. But I do believe that there were snippets of issues that needed to be addressed or things that were going to be put into the lawsuit, yes.

Q. Okay. When were you first -- let me strike that.

Did you have a conference call with those attorneys the first day you were hired?

A. I don't remember. I remember having several calls, but I don't remember if it was the attorneys that were on the call or not. That short six-day period of time, as you classify it, was basically 24 hours a day for me, and there was so much that happened. And I couldn't tell you exactly if there was anything that first day.

Q. Okay. Now, you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you were on a conference call with Mr. Konitzer and Mr. Geragos, correct?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you were on two conference calls to the United Kingdom that included Konitzer and Geragos, right?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you believe you were reporting to Mr. Geragos?

A. I believed that Mr. Geragos was one of the persons that I did speak to. But as far as the hierarchy is concerned, Mr. Konitzer told me that Mr. Schaffel was in charge of public relations for Michael Jackson. There were times that Mr. Geragos called me and spoke to me about certain issues regarding public relations; there was times that Mr. Konitzer called me; and there was times that I spoke with Mr. Schaffel or I spoke with Mr. LeGrand. So, I mean, there wasn't a direct pecking order that I had to report to. It depended on what it was that they were looking for.

Q. Well, was it your understanding, if Mr. Geragos asked you to do something, that you were supposed to do it?

A. Yes.

Q. Was it your understanding, if Mr. Konitzer asked you to do something, that you were supposed to do it?

A. Generally, if Mr. Konitzer asked me to do something, I called Mr. LeGrand.

Q. Okay. Let me just rephrase the question. Was it your understanding -- and either it was or it wasn't -- that you were supposed to do what Mr. Konitzer asked you to do?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Was it your understanding that, during those six days, you were supposed to do what Mr. Schaffel asked you to do?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was it your understanding that you were supposed to do whatever Mr. Backerman asked you to do?

A. No, sir, never.

Q. Did you ever feel you reported to Backerman?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Did you ever try to replace Mr. Backerman?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Okay. Did you think you were supposed to do what the British lawyers asked you to do during those six days?

A. The British lawyers never asked me to do anything. We -- again, on the conference calls that we had, we were discussing how the public relations effort between the UK and the United States would mesh together, so there was never a directive from the British lawyers. It was more of a summation of the day's events and how they would be handled in the press.

Q. Okay. Now, a sheet of names and phone numbers that you were presented by the prosecutor is Exhibit 410, right?

A. Yes, I believe so.

Q. Do you have that in front of you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, is that a sheet that you used during your work?

A. It may -- they sent me several different iterations of contact numbers. This isn't anything that was ever typed up that I saw.

Q. Okay. So when did you first see this document?

A. I don't remember when I first saw it.

Q. Did the prosecutor show it to you?

A. They very well may have. I don't remember.

Q. Well, before you came into court to testify and began to answer questions from Prosecutor Auchincloss, have you ever seen the document?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; asked and answered.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I may have. I just don't remember. There was several different iterations of documents that were sent, of e-mails that were sent to me with names and phone numbers on them. This may have been one of the iterations. I don't remember.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you met with Prosecutor Auchincloss, did he ever show you this document and say he was going to ask you about names and numbers on the document?

A. No, sir, he did not.

Q. To your knowledge, is the first time you ever saw this thing when you were shown it in court?

A. To my knowledge, yes.

Q. Okay. Well, what makes me curious is your own name and number is on that document, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection to the form of the question.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You didn't have a document of phone numbers and names that had your own on it, did you?

A. Yes, sir, the iterations of information that I was sent contained everyone's phone number. We would include mine too.

Q. And were you sent Exhibit 410?

A. I don't know, sir. I was sent several iterations.

Q. Now, there's a number for Gavin Arvizo on that document. Do you see that?

A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. Did you have a document with Gavin Arvizo's number?

A. I don't remember, sir. I was sent several iterations of documents. I don't remember.

Q. Well, you certainly know who Gavin Arvizo is, right?

A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And if you had been carrying around a document with his name and number, you'd probably remember that, wouldn't you?

A. I didn't carry it around. It came to me in an e-mail and I only accessed the numbers that I needed.

Q. Okay. But certainly you're testifying that Mr. Auchincloss didn't go over this document before you testified?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. The questions just came out fresh and cold, as far as you're concerned, right?

A. As far as I'm concerned, yes, sir.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection. Argumentative; asked and answered.

MR. MESEREAU: I withdraw it.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Mr. Geragos had the final say-so on everything, did you not?

A. I told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that I was told that Mr. Geragos had the final say-so, yes, sir, I did.

Q. And who told you that Mr. Geragos had the final say-so on everything?

A. Mr. LeGrand and Mr. Konitzer.

Q. And during those six days you were employed, you operated with the understanding that essentially the buck stopped with Mr. Geragos, right?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that on major things, you were to answer to Schaffel, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And did you answer to Schaffel during those six days?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Okay. How many times do you think you spoke to Schaffel on the phone during those six days?

A. It would be very hard for me to estimate. Maybe ten, maybe 15.

Q. Okay. And was it your understanding that Mr. Schaffel was in charge of Mr. Jackson's public relations?

A. That's what Mr. Konitzer told me, yes, sir.

Q. Konitzer told you that?

A. Yes, sir, he did.

Q. And obviously Mr. Jackson never told you that?

A. No, sir, he did not. I never spoke to Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you thought Mr. Schaffel answered to Konitzer, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And why did you think that?

A. Why did I think that?

Q. Yes.

A. Because Mr. Konitzer told me to -- that Mr. Schaffel was in charge of Michael Jackson's public relations. And obviously Mr. Schaffel would have to answer to someone and to me. That someone would be Mr. Konitzer.

Q. Okay. When did you last talk to Mr. Schaffel?

A. It was either the 13th or the 14th of February. I don't remember.

Q. And that would be that year?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you talked to Mr. Schaffel since you were terminated?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you talked to Mr. Konitzer since you were terminated?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you talked to Mr. Geragos since you were terminated?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you last talk to Mr. Geragos?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Can you tell me approximately when it was?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Was it this year?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was it last year?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was it the year before last, if you know?

A. It would have probably been shortly after I was terminated. Maybe, you know, a few days or something. And then -- I don't remember.

Q. Do you consider yourself to be on good terms with Mr. Geragos?

A. I wouldn't consider myself either way, to be on any terms with Mr. Geragos.

Q. Okay. When did you last talk to Mr. Backerman?

A. On the 14th of February.

Q. Okay. So you've not been in touch with him since you were terminated?

A. No, sir.

Q. Now, did you include someone named Dieter Weizner as a member of the team?

A. I never met Dieter, sir.

Q. Did you ever talk to him on the phone?

A. No, sir, I never did.

Q. So no contact with him ever?

A. Never.

Q. Okay. Now, you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you knew that Konitzer had obtained a power of attorney over Michael Jackson, true?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. How did you know that Konitzer had obtained a power of attorney on behalf of Michael Jackson?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection. Hearsay, unless this witness has personal knowledge.

MR. MESEREAU: I asked how she learned, Your Honor. State of mind.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

You may answer the question. Do you want it read back?

THE WITNESS: No.

Mr. LeGrand told me.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. And approximately when did he tell you that Konitzer had gotten a power of attorney over Michael Jackson?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Same objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Are you asking me when he actually physically signed the power of attorney or when Mr. LeGrand told me that it was going to be signed?

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: I'm asking you when you learned that Konitzer was going to have a power of attorney over Michael Jackson.

A. At the end of January.

Q. Okay. When you first heard about it, was it your understanding that it had already been signed or was it about to be signed?

A. It was about to be signed.

Q. Okay. And do you remember why -- excuse me. Let me rephrase.

In what context did Mr. LeGrand discuss that with you, if you know? Why did it come up?

A. David had been telling me for a while that he was preparing to take on a new client, that he had been working on it for a number of months. I think it was probably close to a year. And he was excited about it. He never told me who the client was until he told me about the power of attorney and who the client was.

Q. And was it your understanding that David LeGrand prepared that power of attorney?

A. Yes, it was.

Q. Okay. Did you ever learn that David LeGrand had commenced an investigation of Schaffel, Konitzer, Dieter, Geragos, Malnik?

A. I asked Mr. LeGrand to start an investigation.

Q. And you did that because you thought they were stealing from Michael Jackson, correct?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; argumentative.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: No, sir. I did that because I couldn't understand why they would allow Mr. Jackson's reputation to fall into total ruin in the press.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Well, didn't you tell the police that you had learned that Konitzer used the power of attorney to embezzle $980,000 from Michael Jackson?

A. I told --

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection. Hearsay; multiple hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: I told the police that Mr. LeGrand told me that.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Well, correct me if I'm wrong, didn't you say to the Santa Barbara sheriffs Konitzer had power of attorney and he embezzled $980,000 from Michael Jackson?

A. Yes, sir, that was my statement. But your're phrasing it in a way that I didn't say it. I did say that he did have power of attorney, and he embezzled $980,000, but that was told to me by Mr. LeGrand. I had no personal knowledge of Mr. Konitzer take the money from Mr. Jackson.

Q. So your source was strictly David LeGrand, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Do you know approximately when he told you that Konitzer had used that power of attorney to embezzle $980,000 from Mr. Jackson?

A. It was somewhere in the beginning of March. But I don't remember the exact date.

Q. So that was after you were terminated, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Now, after you were terminated, you --

THE COURT: Counsel, can we take our break?

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: You may proceed.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor. It's almost noontime.

Q. Okay. When you had your interview with the

Santa Barbara sheriffs, you were asked by Detective Zelis if you knew if Michael Jackson was aware of what the team was doing, do you remember that?

A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And you told him you had no idea whether Michael knew anything about it, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection, Your Honor. Calls for speculation; no foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer.

THE WITNESS: As you said, I have never talked to Michael Jackson.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: But you told Detective Zelis you had no idea whether Michael Jackson knew what this team was doing, correct

A. That's correct. Because I never spoke with Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. You tried to speak to him, didn't you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't you tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that on one occasion you asked Mr. Konitzer to get Michael Jackson on the phone to find out about the contract with Martin Bashir, right?

A. No, sir, that wasn't me that asked to get Michael Jackson on the phone. That was an attorney from the UK. That's -- that's the incident that I was relating to the police.

Q. Didn't you tell the police - correct me if

I'm wrong - you asked Konitzer to get Michael Jackson on the phone to find out about the contract concerning the Bashir interview, and you told him that Konitzer would say, "He's busy," referring to Jackson, correct?

A. No, sir, I don't remember saying that.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the report?

A. You can show me the report. But the incident that you're talking about, I remember very vividly. And it didn't have anything to do with me telling Mr. Konitzer to get Mr. Jackson on the phone. It was an attorney from the UK who was very upset at the lack of responsiveness from Mr. Jackson about his not being on these conference calls that he felt were extremely important.

Q. You actually said you tried to get him on the phone and the attorney in Britain tried to get him on the phone, and you both failed, correct?

A. No, sir, I don't remember saying I tried -- I didn't have a phone number for Mr. Jackson. How would I try to get him on the phone?

Q. Well, you asked Mr. Konitzer to put him on the phone, didn't you?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; argumentative.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the report?

A. You can --

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection. He's asked the witness if it would refresh her recollection, and she said it would not.

THE COURT: No, actually she did say that, but she said something else, too.

Would it refresh your recollection to be shown that report?

THE WITNESS: You can show me the report, but I remember the incident very specifically. And I would never tell Mr. Konitzer to get Mr. Jackson on the phone.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor?

THE COURT: No, she says that she remembers specifically.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: In other words, if the report of the police officer, which I remind you was recorded, says you told them, "I asked Mr. Konitzer to get Mr. Jackson on the phone, and he told me he was busy," that would be wrong?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you believed Konitzer, Schaffel and Weizner created an environment that allowed Jackson to pursue his other interests while they ran the day-to-day operation of his business matters?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Did you ever ask any member of the team at any time if you could get Mr. Jackson on the phone?

A. Not to my knowledge, sir, no.

Q. You were asked by the Santa Barbara sheriffs if you had ever met Dr. Farshshian, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's right.

Q. And you said you had not?

A. No, sir, I had not.

Q. You also told him you had never met the Arvizo family, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Okay. And you've described what Schaffel told you had happened with Janet Arvizo at the ranch, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But your knowledge of that only came from Schaffel, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And it goes without saying, Mr. Jackson was not involved in that conversation, correct?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. Schaffel also told you that Janet Arvizo was going to sell her story to a British tabloid, correct?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you tell the police that Schaffel told you Janet was selling a story to a British tabloid?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Same objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: As part of your work during those six days, you had to consider what to do if Ms. Arvizo sold a story to a British tabloid, right?

A. At that -- are you asking me at that point, or are you asking me before that?

Q. I'm not talking about any point. I'm asking you if you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you were considering what to do if Janet Arvizo sold her story to a British tabloid.

A. I don't remember that.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the report?

A. Absolutely, sure.

MR. MESEREAU: May I show her the report?

THE COURT: You may.

THE WITNESS: That's what I said.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at your report?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Does it refresh your recollection about that issue?

A. Yes, it does.

Q. Okay. In the course of your duties during those six days, did you take into consideration what to do if and when Janet Arvizo sold her story to a British tabloid?

A. I didn't know what story Miss Arvizo could sell to a British tabloid.

Q. Did you ever, during those six days, as part of your work, discuss the possibility of Ms. Arvizo selling a story to a British tabloid with any member of the team?

A. No, because no one would go over the crisis plan with me. I couldn't discuss anything with anyone because they all had different agendas.

Q. So you never discussed it with Schaffel, correct?

A. I never discussed what the team would do if Miss Arvizo sold a story to the British tabloids, no.

Q. Did you ever tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Schaffel told you he was going to fax you a letter about that?

A. Yes, sir, I certainly did.

Q. And did you tell them anything else about that issue?

A. That I never received a letter from Mr. Schaffel.

Q. But you told them Schaffel told you he was going to fax you a letter about Janet Arvizo selling a story to the tabloids; is that correct?

A. No, sir, that's not what I said.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection, hearsay.

THE WITNESS: That's not what I said.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: What did you say?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I have an objection pending.

THE COURT: Just a moment.

The objection's sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you ever discuss with the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Schaffel had told you he was concerned that Janet Arvizo was going to make a deal with the British tabloids?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Same objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir, I did.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Now, the only knowledge you ever had about the Arvizos leaving the ranch was through Schaffel, right?

A. No, I discussed it later in the day with Mr. Konitzer.

Q. Okay. But you first learned about it through Schaffel, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Okay. And did you discuss it with Schaffel and Konitzer?

A. Not at the same time, sir.

Q. At any time?

A. On separate occasions on the 13th, yes.

Q. Okay. And at some point you learned the Arvizo family had returned to the ranch, right?

A. I was told that.

Q. Was that by Schaffel?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And you testified that Schaffel told you "the situation is contained," correct?

A. Had been contained, yes.

Q. Okay. Is that after he told you the Arvizos had returned to the ranch?

A. No, sir, that was in the same conversation.

Q. So he told you they're back at the ranch, the situation's contained; is that right?

A. I think he told me it the other way around, but, yes, that's pretty much the way I remember it.

Q. And was that after Schaffel told you that he thought Janet Arvizo was selling a story to the British tabloids?

A. Yes, sir, it was.

Q. Okay. Okay. You told the police the first thing you wanted to do was laugh, because it sounded like something out of a bad "B" movie, correct?

A. Yes, I did, sir.

Q. You told the police you remember these dates because you had a rental car you were driving, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. And you had to renew the rental, the weekly rental agreement, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. You told them the rental office opened at 7:30 a.m., and that was the time you received the call on your cellular phone from Schaffel, correct?

A. It was -- I received the call on my phone from Schaffel as I was driving into the parking structure --

Q. Okay.

A. -- yes.

Q. Now, the next day is when you flew from Las Vegas to Hollywood to film the show Access Hollywood, right?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. And you told Detective Zelis you never asked Schaffel what the story was that Janet was supposedly going to sell to the British tabloids, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. And after Schaffel told you "The situation is contained," you called David LeGrand, correct?

A. Later that day, yes.

Q. Okay. And you were concerned about what Schaffel had told you, true?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. You told David LeGrand you were concerned about Schaffel, Backerman, Konitzer and Weizner, correct?

A. I don't think I said Weizner, because I didn't think at the time that I even knew that Dieter was part of the group.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the report?

A. Certainly.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: May I see it, Counsel?

MR. MESEREAU: Sure.

That's what he's referring to. That's her interview.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Well, that's his impression.

MR. MESEREAU: We'll see.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Okay.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, may the record reflect that the document that was shown the witness in this case had parentheses around the names that were provided by --

THE WITNESS: I didn't say those names. I said the word "they."

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: So when the police officer said, referring to those names, he just pulled that out of someplace?

A. I did not say those names. And I know I wouldn't have said Dieter's name, because I -- I hadn't spoken to Dieter.

Q. Okay. Well, at this point you were concerned about what the team was doing; is that right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Would the team refer to all of the people that you had previously identified as members of the team?

A. Except for Bell Yard and the attorneys on the UK side, yes.

Q. So Geragos, Konitzer, Schaffel?

A. Schaffel, Backerman.

Q. Were you concerned about what LeGrand was doing?

A. No, I felt that David was under a lot of pressure, and, you know, I had no reason to suspect that at that time he would be doing anything wrong.

Q. But at that point, LeGrand was telling you he was suspicious of the other members of the team, wasn't he?

A. No. Not at that point.

Q. At some point he did, didn't he?

A. At some point later, yes, he did.

Q. Now, when you arrived in Los Angeles to go on Access Hollywood, did you talk to any member of the team on the phone after you arrived?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Who did you talk to?

A. David LeGrand.

Q. Did you ever talk to Konitzer that day?

A. Not that day, I don't believe so, but I don't remember, sir.

Q. Okay. Who told you to appear on that show?

A. Well, initially the decision came from Marc Schaffel. And then I spoke -- Access Hollywood sent the questions to me. I forwarded them to Mr. Geragos. We went through them together and created the replies. And then I spent about an hour and a half or so on the phone on Thursday, the 13th, with Mr. Konitzer going over everything for it. So there were -- and then, of course, Mr. LeGrand was aware -- actually, I believe I was in his office on the 11th when I talked to Access Hollywood to initially set something -- to do something up with them, so --

Q. But you've told the police that you thought Geragos didn't want anybody to do public relations work for Michael Jackson, correct?

A. I don't remember saying that specifically. I mean, I don't -- no, I don't remember saying that specifically, that Geragos didn't want anybody to do public relations work for Michael Jackson.

Q. Didn't you tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs in that interview that you had a theory as to why you were pulled off the Access Hollywood show, right?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. You told them that you were told by Geragos that you were pulled off the interview because he did not want anyone to do PR work for Michael Jackson, right?

A. When I was on the phone with Mr. Geragos when I was on the set of Access Hollywood, that was one of the things that he told me at that time. He didn't say anyone ever, he just said for that day. He wanted me to stay around, to stick in town, he wanted to talk to me. He wanted me to come in the next day, sign a private investigator's agreement, and then he would -- he would fill me in on the rest, is exactly what he said to me.

Q. Again, let me just rephrase the question. You told the police you were told by Geragos that you were pulled off the interview because he did not want anyone to do PR work for Michael Jackson, right?

A. Well, as you said, that's a summary of my tapes --

Q. Okay.

A. -- and I don't remember saying those words exactly.

Q. Didn't you tell the police that this made no sense to you?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. It made no sense that Geragos would not want you on the show for that reason; is that correct?

A. It made no sense that no one on the team would try to do anything publicly to refute the absolutely horrible things that were coming out about Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. And you told the police you thought Michael Jackson was being slammed by this team, correct?

A. Yes, I believe I did.

Q. The word you used was "slammed," right?

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. You thought they were not doing their job to help Michael Jackson, right?

A. Well, they were there longer than my six days, so maybe I was wrong.

Q. I'm not asking maybe. But, basically, your opinion at that point was that this team is not out to protect or help Michael Jackson?

A. That was absolutely my opinion, yes.

Q. You told the police that Access Hollywood had a fax from Mr. Geragos saying, "Don't interview Gabriel," right?

A. That's correct, yes, sir.

Q. Did you actually see the fax?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. You told the police that LeGrand and Geragos clashed over several things, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And you were getting your information about that from LeGrand, weren't you?

A. Yes, sir. That's correct.

Q. And you told the police you thought Konitzer brought Geragos in because Konitzer had power of attorney, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; hearsay. And --

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: -- speculation. No foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question? I'm sorry.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Yes. You told the police that you believe Konitzer brought in Geragos because Konitzer had a power of attorney, right?

A. I believed that because Mr. Konitzer had the power of attorney that allowed him to make the decision to bring Geragos into the team, yes.

Q. Now, did you discuss that with Mr. LeGrand at any time?

A. Did I discuss Mr. Geragos being brought in?

Q. Yes.

A. And that Mr. Konitzer had brought him in?

Q. Yes.

A. I don't remember. I mean, I'm sure that we did, but I don't remember in specifics. I just remember that David was not happy with Mr. Geragos.

Q. Okay. Did you ever see this power of attorney that Konitzer had --

A. No, sir, I never saw it.

Q. -- over Mr. Jackson? You never saw it?

A. No.

Q. You learned everything about that from Mr. LeGrand, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Okay. And you were fired through an e-mail by Konitzer, right?

A. Well, no. It was through an e-mail by David. David sent me the e-mail.

Q. Well, you told the police that you were fired on February 15th by an e-mail from Konitzer, didn't you?

A. David sent me the e-mail. I'm sure that I said that David sent me the e-mail.

Q. Okay. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the report?

A. You can show me the report, but the e-mail didn't come from Ronald. The e-mail came from David. And I can tell you what it said, if you would like me to.

Q. No, that's okay. But you're saying you didn't tell the sheriffs Konitzer sent it. You told them David sent it, is that right?

A. I don't remember if I said specifically David sent it. But the e-mail said that Ronald made the decision, so that may be why it reads that way.

Q. Okay. You told the police you had sent an e-mail to Konitzer, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. And you told the police you sent an e-mail to Konitzer saying, "Schaffel, Backerman and Weizner have no plan of action and that Michael Jackson is going to get skewered on national T.V.," right?

A. Again, I would have never said Weizner, because I never heard Dieter's name during that time. And, yes, I probably did say that Michael was going to get skewered. And that was -- one of my major concerns was that there was no plan of action to protect his interests from scurrilous accusations.

Q. Okay. Okay. Was there ever any discussion between you and members of this team about getting rid of Backerman and Schaffel?

A. In the e-mail that I sent to Ronald, I detailed reasons why I thought that he needed to get rid of Mr. Backerman and Mr. Schaffel, yes.

Q. Did you actually tell him he ought to do that?

A. I put it in the e-mail to Mr. Konitzer, yes, I did.

Q. And why did you think Mr. Backerman should go?

A. Because he had done things that I felt were detrimental to the positive public relations effort we were trying to move forward.

Q. Okay. To make a long story short, you thought you had a better plan to protect and represent Mr. Jackson than this team, right?

A. I believed that I had Mr. Jackson's public relations interests at heart much more than Mr. Backerman or Mr. Schaffel, yes, absolutely.

Q. What about the other members of the team? Did you think you had more of an interest in doing a good job for Mr. Jackson than the other members, like Mr. Geragos?

A. I didn't know what Mr. Geragos's position was. So I can't speak to their intentions. I don't know. I can only speak to what I know.

Q. Okay. You told the sheriffs that when you saw the Bashir interview, it disgusted you and made you ill, right?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And you told them, the police -- pardon me, I keep saying "police" -- the sheriffs that Konitzer and Weizner have a record of making very bad business deals, right?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. You told the sheriffs that Konitzer and Weizner have scammed people out of millions of dollars, right?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. You told the sheriffs that after you were fired by Konitzer, Mr. LeGrand hired you to do public relations work, right?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. Now, was that for his law firm?

A. No, that was for him personally.

Q. Him personally?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. To your knowledge, was he a partner at a law firm then?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. You told the sheriffs LeGrand ran a background check on Konitzer, right?

A. I didn't hear your question, I'm sorry.

Q. You told the sheriffs that LeGrand was doing a background check on Konitzer, right?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. Did you encourage him to do that?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Because you were suspicious of what Konitzer was up to, right?

A. I was suspicious of everything, yes.

Q. On that team?

A. On that team, yes.

Q. Did you tell that to Mr. LeGrand?

A. Yes, I did. Many, many times.

Q. Okay. You told the sheriffs that it was your understanding that LeGrand and Konitzer had been casual friends for about nine years, right?

A. That's what David told me, yes.

Q. And you told the sheriffs you thought Konitzer hired LeGrand because he thought LeGrand would be quiet and just do his job, correct?

A. Yes, that's correct, that's what I said.

Q. But at some point you learned that LeGrand started an investigation of Konitzer, right?

A. At some point I pushed David to go in that direction, yes.

Q. And you pushed David to investigate a lot of other people, didn't you, besides Konitzer?

A. Who?

Q. Malnik.

A. No. I didn't push David to investigate Al Malnik.

Q. But you learned that he was investigating him, didn't you?

A. I don't remember David ever telling me that he was investigating Al Malnik.

Q. How about Schaffel?

A. I don't remember David ever telling me he was investigating Marc Schaffel either.

Q. Okay. So you don't know anything about that investigation, if it existed, right?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Never seen any documents that LeGrand showed you about those people being investigated?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Okay. You told the sheriffs that LeGrand would not have investigated if you had not put these questions in his head, right?

A. I believe that to be true, yes, because he told me in the beginning that I was overreacting.

Q. Okay. And you told the sheriffs that once LeGrand started doing his investigation and background checks on Konitzer, he spoke with accounting people and found out Konitzer had embezzled $980,000 from Mr. Jackson, right?

A. That was the total figure that he told me, yes.

Q. You told the sheriffs that one thing of value that Michael Jackson has is a Sony catalog, correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. How did you learn about the Sony catalog?

A. Through several sources.

Q. Can I ask you who they are?

A. Well, first of all, public knowledge. And of course David told me.

Q. And what is your understanding of what the Sony catalog is?

A. It's a collection of music, copyrights on music.

Q. And what kinds of music are you talking about?

A. Popular music. But basically music from The Beatles and other artists.

Q. You told the sheriffs your understanding was that Sony had an interest in that catalog, along with Mr. Jackson, right?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And you told the sheriffs that you thought Konitzer was being paid to isolate Michael Jackson, create Michael Jackson's downfall so Sony can get the catalog back, didn't you?

A. No, that's not what I said.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the report?

A. You can show me the report, but that's not what I said.

Q. Did you ever say the following, Ms. Kite: "Gabriel said it makes sense to her that Konitzer and Weizner were being paid to isolate Michael Jackson and let him do his own thing and let him create his downfall so that Sony can get the catalog back"?

A. No, sir.

Q. Never made that statement?

A. Not in that way, never, sir.

Q. Okay. Did you ever tell the sheriffs you thought the recording industry was just as bad as Al

Malnik?

A. I probably did, yes.

Q. Okay. Now, you read this report before you came in to testify, right?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Did you ever point out to anyone that you thought some of the statements were not accurate?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Who was that?

A. To Gordon.

Q. When was this?

A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember? You talked to him for a couple of hours two nights ago, correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you talk to him about the report then?

A. No, I don't believe I did talk to him about the report then.

Q. Okay. You told the sheriffs you're not saying that Sony is paying Konitzer and Weizner, but if you could prove it, you'd love to?

A. Yes, I said that as a facetious remark. Absolutely. I did say that.

Q. You told the sheriffs you have a lot of sources inside of Sony, correct?

A. That's correct, yes.

Q. And you told the sheriffs that those sources inside of Sony have told you that they've been waiting for years to get the Sony catalog back from Michael Jackson, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And you told the sheriffs that if you look at Konitzer and Weizner's track record, they're not the type of people that should be managing anything for Michael Jackson, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's what I believed, yes.

Q. Told the sheriffs, "If you look at their track record, they're not good business people," right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. You told the sheriffs that they caused Michael Jackson to lose his logo in the United Kingdom?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct, I did say that.

Q. How did you know that?

A. I read that through news reports and I believe David confirmed that for me.

Q. And you thought -- you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you thought Konitzer and Weizner were tight with Schaffel, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct, I did.

Q. And you thought they all were hurting Michael Jackson, right?

A. Yes, sir, I do, absolutely.

Q. And you still believe that, right?

A. Yes, absolutely.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you think somewhere down the line Konitzer and Weizner were going to get a payoff, right?

A. I don't remember -- you know, I don't remember using those exact words, and I don't know what context I would use it in.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the report?

A. Sure you can.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at the report?

A. Yes, sir, I have.

Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you said?

A. Yes, it does.

Q. And regardless of where you got your knowledge, I'm just asking if you said this to the sheriffs.

A. Yes, I believe I did say that, yes.

Q. So you told them it made sense to you that down the line Konitzer and Weizner were going to get some kind of payoff?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct. But that payoff could have been from a business interest; it could have been from any number of things.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you believed that Konitzer, Weizner and Schaffel concocted the business with Janet Arvizo, right?

A. Again, I wouldn't have used Dieter's name, because I had no knowledge of Dieter at the time. That I believe they concocted the business with her? Meaning --

Q. That they were doing something with Arvizo --

A. Yes.

Q. -- that was harmful to Michael Jackson, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And you were concerned that Schaffel and Konitzer had done something to Janet Arvizo as well, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. So, basically what you were telling the sheriffs was, you think Michael Jackson's a victim and Janet Arvizo is a victim of these guys, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; that's argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, again, you have no personal knowledge of what happened at the ranch with Miss Arvizo, right?

A. You're absolutely correct, sir, I have no personal knowledge of that.

Q. And you have no personal knowledge of really anything Michael Jackson's done in his lifetime, because you've never been there to watch him, right?

A. That's absolutely correct, sir.

Q. And how many times did you talk to Schaffel about what he said happened to Janet Arvizo at the ranch, do you know?

A. After the first phone call in the morning?

Q. Uh-huh.

A. I don't know. Maybe two times, three times total that day. Not many.

Q. Uh-huh. Did he ever really describe to you what had happened at the ranch?

A. Other than telling me that they left the ranch, no.

Q. And he told you they returned, right?

A. He told me that the situation had been contained.

Q. And he also told you they returned.

A. That they had returned, yes.

Q. Did he ever give you any details about that?

A. About how they returned?

Q. Yes.

A. No, sir, he did not.

Q. So Schaffel never gave you any details about how they left or how they returned, right?

A. No. He just said they left in the middle -- in the middle of the night --

Q. Right.

A. -- or sometimeearly in the morning.
Q. Right.
A. And due to his level of agitation, I assumed they didn't go out in a chauffeur-driven limousine.
Q. Do you know how they went out?
A. No, sir, I do not.
Q. Did anyone ever tell you it was a chauffeur-driven car?
A. No, sir.
Q. Ever discuss that with Prosecutor Auchincloss?
A. No, sir, I did not, ever.
Q. Okay. But at one point you used the word "kidnap," didn't you, to the sheriffs?
A. Yes, sir, I absolutely did.
Q. But you didn't know she was kidnapped.
A. No, I didn't.
Q. You knew none of the details at all, right?
A. No, that was my own personal feeling based on Marc Schaffel's level of agitation.
Q. I guess it goes without saying, you didn't trust Mr. Schaffel very much either?
A. No, sir, I did not.
Q. You didn't trust Mr. Konitzer either?
A. No, sir, I did not.
Q. Did you trust Mr. Geragos?
A. I didn't trust or distrust Mr. Geragos.
Q. Okay. The ones you were most suspicious about were Schaffel and Konitzer, right? Would that be accurate?

A. An accurate reflection would be to say that I was most suspicious about anyone who was taking their eye off of the devastation that was happening to Mr. Jackson at that time.

Q. Okay. And I guess it goes without saying, you were concerned about Mr. Jackson's welfare as a public relations professional?

A. Absolutely, sir, yes.

Q. You thought he was mistreated and misadvised, right?

A. Yes, sir. For the six days I was there.

Q. You've told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Mr. Geragos was being paid by Al Malnik, right?

A. I don't remember saying that specifically. You can show me the report, and I remember reading that in the report, but I don't remember saying that specifically to them.

Q. Well, you told them that he was being paid by Malnik, but when they questioned you, you said it was just an assumption, didn't you?

A. I believe the context of that comment came from when Mr. Jackson was -- from when the ranch was raided in November, and Mr. Jackson was taken from Las Vegas back to L.A., or back here.

Q. Well, in referring to this interview, the one I've been asking you all the questions about --

A. Right.

Q. -- you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you assumed Mr. Geragos was being paid by Al Malnik, correct?

A. The fee for Mr. Geragos at the time to represent Mr. Jackson. Not during the public relations period that I worked there --

Q. Okay.

A. -- but after, later in the month. Yes, that's what I said.

Q. Okay.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Let me just get it straight so I understand: You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you thought Mr. Geragos was being paid by Al Malnik, but you're referring to a period after the six days you had worked?

A. Yes, sir, that's absolutely correct.

Q. Okay. Thank you.

Now, you made some statements about what you think a proactive public relations effort is. But you knew that a rebuttal film was being prepared that was supposed to be a public relations response to the Bashir tape, correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. And you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that somebody was getting $3 million for that rebuttal video; right?

A. That's correct.

Q. Was it your understanding that Schaffel was getting that money?

A. No, it was my understanding that it was going into a corporation.

Q. Okay. Do you know what corporation?

A. Fire Mountain, I believe.

Q. Okay. So realistically, you knew that something was being done to respond to the Bashir video, right? Or, excuse me, the Bashir show?

A. Realistically, I knew that something was being done. Whether or not it was something that I agreed with or thought was the level that Mr. Jackson deserved is a totally different question.

Q. Did Schaffel or Konitzer really include you in the production of that rebuttal video?

A. What do you mean by "include"?

Q. Well, during the six days you worked with this team, did they ask you for any advice on how to do a rebuttal video?

A. Not on how to do the video. But Mr. Schaffel did call me to discuss with me who would appear on the video. And I told him that I felt very strongly that Mr. Jackson needed to appear on it to refute, himself, the claims that were being made against him.

Q. Okay. And were you asked anything else about what your thoughts were on that rebuttal video?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Is that the only suggestion you gave, that you can recall?

A. That I can recall sitting right here right now, yes.

Q. Okay. Did you feel in some way that they were cutting you out of the development of that rebuttal video?

A. No, I didn't, because there were so many other fires going on and so many other things that needed to be done. And the way that that video was being structured wasn't really anything that I felt that I could give input to anyway.

Q. Did you think that video was being prepared with Mr. Jackson's interests in mind?

A. I believed that Mr. Konitzer and Mr. Schaffel were preparing -- were preparing it with Mr. Jackson's interests in mind, yes.

Q. But you thought they could do a better job, is that it?

A. Absolutely, yes, sir.

Q. Did you think they had a profit motive in trying to put that video together?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I'll object and move to strike just as to foundation. And speculation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You told the sheriffs that Schaffel was part of an agreement with FOX Television regarding a rebuttal video, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. You told them that it was your understanding Schaffel had reaped some of those profits, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And you told the sheriffs that, if you saw it, you could identify Schaffel's agreement, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. Did you actually see the agreement at one time?

A. Yes, I believe I saw a draft copy of the agreement.

Q. Now, you never met Schaffel personally, right?

A. No, sir.

Q. How did you end up seeing Schaffel's agreement with FOX Television?

A. Because the initial agreement, David LeGrand called me and asked me to have a friend of mine in Chicago, who had done entertainment work, help him prepare it.

Q. Okay. And who was that?

A. Don Hancock.

Q. Okay. Did you help Don Hancock put that agreement together?

A. No, he did it pretty much on his own, because I was busy with other things.

Q. Okay. And it was your understanding the agreement was strictly between Schaffel and FOX; is that correct?

A. No, sir, that --

Q. What was your understanding in that regard?

A. It was my understanding that the agreement was being done on behalf of Mr. Jackson, but that there were stipulations in the agreement that Mr. Schaffel could and would profit from.

Q. Okay. At the time this was all being done, you thought Schaffel was trying to make a large sum of money on this, didn't you?

A. I didn't know how much money Mr. Schaffel was trying to make on it. I don't know.

Q. Did Schaffel ever discuss that with you?

A. How much money he would make on it?

Q. Yes.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. Did you ever discuss that with Konitzer?

A. How much money Mr. Schaffel would make on something like this?

Q. Yes.

A. Not that I remember, no, sir.

Q. Was it your understanding that Mr. Konitzer was going to make money on this video?

A. No, sir. That wasn't my understanding of why the video was being made.

Q. All right. Let me explore that for a second. You certainly believed people were trying to make money on this rebuttal video, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. You thought Schaffel was one of them, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. Did you think anyone else was making money on it?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct, I did.

Q. Was that Konitzer?

A. No, it wasn't.

Q. Who was it?

A. Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. How did you know that?

A. Because David LeGrand told me.

Q. Okay. Did you think LeGrand was going to make any money on it?

A. I didn't ask him. I had no idea.

Q. Okay. Okay. Did you look at the draft of the agreement?

A. I don't remember. I may have, but I really -- after I spoke with Don initially, I put him in touch with David, and they pretty much took care of it.

Q. But you never discussed, obviously, with Mr. Jackson any role he had in this video at all, right?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. And you never actually watched Mr. Jackson play any role in this, did you?

A. No, sir, I did not. No.

Q. You told the sheriffs that there were two deals with FOX, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. One was for a $3 million deal and one was a $2 million deal?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. The first was a videotape that Schaffel or someone named Christian had videotaped, right?

A. They were involved in it, yes.

Q. And the second had to do with Michael Jackson home videos, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct, sir.

Q. Did you play any role in the development of these home videos?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever seen the rebuttal video that was telecast by FOX?

A. Yes, I believe I did.

Q. When did you see it?

A. I don't remember. I don't remember. It may have been around the time that it was shown or it may have been later. I truly don't remember.

Q. Did you ever see the home videos you referred to?

A. I believe I did, but I don't remember.

Q. Were you asked advice on the development of the home videos?

A. David and I had discussed that before when we talked about a plan to -- to rehabilitate Mr. Jackson's image, but that was before it actually came into being.

Q. Okay. You told the sheriffs that Geragos was paid money by Malnik, right?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. And you learned that from Mr. LeGrand; is that correct?

A. I don't remember who I learned that from. And I believe, again, you're talking about the time after I was there for the six days. And I don't remember if it came from Mr. LeGrand or not. I don't remember.

Q. You told the sheriffs that you were told by LeGrand that the remaining money owed to Geragos was paid by Al Malnik, to, quote, "keep this thing going," correct?

A. Yeah, that's probably true.

Q. Okay. You told the sheriffs you did not know what the connection was, if any, between Malnik and Michael Jackson, right?

A. That's correct, yes.

Q. Because you've never seen Mr. Malnik with Mr. Jackson, right?

A. Just in the newspaper like everyone else, that's correct.

Q. And you never met Mr. Malnik personally, right?

A. No, sir, I never did.

Q. You told the sheriffs you kept quizzing Mr. LeGrand about Malnik and the video and what this team is doing, right?

A. After -- when I went to work for David public-relations-wise? Is that your question?

Q. Yes.

A. I mean, I'm asking you timeframe-wise.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And he would often give you information, right?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. Okay. And you told them that Mr. LeGrand is scared of an attorney named John Branca, right?

A. That's what he told me, yes, sir.

Q. And you told them that he was scared of Branca because he had fired Mr. Branca, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. "He" being LeGrand?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And you told the sheriffs that Mr. Branca had worked for Mr. Jackson off and on for approximately 20 years, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And you told them Mr. Branca gets a percentage of music deals that Michael Jackson signs; is that correct?
A. Yes, sir, that's correct.
Q. How did you know that?
A. Mr. LeGrand told me that.
Q. And you told them that Branca has an account that this money goes to, right?
A. Yes, that's correct.
Q. And Mr. LeGrand told you he was scared of Branca because he knew a lot about what Branca was doing with Michael Jackson's money, correct?
A. I don't remember that I phrased it that way.
Q. How did you phrase it, if you know?
A. I just remember saying that Mr. LeGrand was afraid of Mr. Branca.
Q. Did Mr. LeGrand tell you he was suspicious of what Mr. Branca was doing with Mr. Jackson's money?
A. I don't remember him using the word "suspicious." I don't remember specifically what he said about it.
Q. Okay. But based upon your conversations with LeGrand, you formed the conclusion that LeGrand was suspicious of what Branca was doing with Mr. Jackson's affairs, true?
A. I can't answer that, because I can't speak to what was in David's mind. I don't have -- you know, I don't know how I could form an opinion at that point.

Q. But you told the sheriffs that LeGrand told you that he was physically afraid of Branca, right?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Mr. LeGrand would refer to Al Malnik as "Uncle Al," correct?

A. That's correct, he did.

Q. Did he tell you he was afraid of Uncle Al?

A. No.

Q. Okay. Didn't you tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Mr. LeGrand told you, "Mr. Malnik has connections, and I don't want to see anyone end up dead in an alley"?

A. He didn't say it in that context, sir. Not at all.

Q. Okay. I'm not asking you in what context he said it, but didn't you tell the sheriffs that LeGrand told you that?

A. I did not make a statement like that, no.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the report?

A. You can show me the report, and I know what you're referring to, and I did not make a statement like that.

Q. You were misquoted, do you think?

A. I think so, yes. I know exactly what that statement was referring to.

Q. Just correct me if I'm wrong. You didn't tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that LeGrand told you words to the effect, "I know Malnik has some connections and I don't want to see anyone end up dead in an alley"?

A. You're taking it totally out of context. No. Mr. -- Mr. LeGrand never said anything to me or words to those effect, using it the way you are in the statement, no.

Q. Okay. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs words to the effect that you thought Konitzer and Schaffel and others were conspiring against Michael Jackson, correct?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; foundation. Also requires hearsay to form that opinion.

THE COURT: The objection's overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: I don't believe I said words to the effect that I believe they were conspiring against Mr. Jackson. What I did say was that I believed that their actions were not beneficial to Mr. Jackson.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: But you certainly discussed with Mr. LeGrand Mr. LeGrand's concern about what these individuals were doing to Mr. Jackson, correct?

A. It was my concern about the way that Mr.

Jackson's public relations image was being handled, and I took that concern continuously to Mr. LeGrand.

Q. But I'm not asking you about that. You and Mr. LeGrand repeatedly discussed his concerns and your concerns that these characters were taking advantage of Mr. Jackson, correct?

A. My concerns, which David told me several times that I was overreacting, until I continued to press him on it, and he began the investigation.

Q. Okay. Thank you.

You told the sheriffs that Konitzer told you Michael Jackson hadn't seen Mr. Schaffel for months, right?

A. That's correct, yes.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Konitzer said, "Schaffel's a good guy"; is that right?

A. That statement is in the report, but it wasn't Mr. Konitzer that said that about Mr. Schaffel.

Q. He never said that to you?

A. Not to my recollection.

Q. Okay. And you told the sheriffs you felt that Konitzer, Weizner and Schaffel manipulated Mr. Jackson to get whatever they wanted, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection. Calls for a conclusion; speculation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I don't believe I said they manipulated Mr. Jackson. I believe I said they manipulated the situation.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: But the situation had everything to do with Mr. Jackson's welfare, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You told them Mr. LeGrand would continually talk to you about what was occurring with Michael Jackson and seek your advice?

A. That's correct.

Q. And did he do that?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. You complained about Al Malnik, correct?

A. I complained about -- well, I don't know if "complained" is the right word. But I told Mr. LeGrand that I was afraid that a high-profile public association with Mr. Malnik, compounded with everything else that Mr. Jackson had going on, would be very detrimental to him, yes, I did.

Q. Did you discuss with Mr. LeGrand that Al Malnik had connections with Sony?

A. I don't remember ever discussing that with Mr. LeGrand.

Q. Did you and Mr. LeGrand ever discuss Al Malnik's connection to the catalog?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Now, you indicated to the sheriffs, and I believe you testified today that Mr. Geragos wanted you to sign a private investigator's nondisclosure, correct?

A. That's correct, sir.

Q. And was it your understanding that he wanted to call you a private investigator?

A. I had no understanding. I can just tell you what he said to me. That's all.

Q. But, I mean, was your reaction to this, "He's trying to make me look like a private investigator so everything is confidential"? Is that the idea?

A. Um --

Q. Is that what you thought? Let me rephrase the question. It's an awkward question.

I gather Mr. Geragos told you he wanted you to sign this form, true?

A. That's correct.

Q. And your understanding was it was a nondisclosure form, right?

A. I -- I don't think "nondisclosure" would cover it. I think it was ratcheted up -- you know, a step up from a nondisclosure.

Q. Well, correct me if I'm wrong, you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Mr. Geragos wanted to bring you in under a private investigator's nondisclosure. Does that sound right?

A. Yeah. I don't remember using the word "nondisclosure," but, yes.

Q. And when he talked to you about this, was it your belief that he wanted you to sign something that pledged you to confidentiality?

A. It sounded to me like it was pledging me to more than confidentiality.

Q. Well, and it was going to be under the guise that you were somehow an investigator, right?

A. I don't know what it would be under the guise of. I just --

Q. Well, let me just ask you this: What did he tell you about that?

A. He said to me exactly what I said. He asked me to stay in town overnight. He wanted me to come into the office the next day. He wanted me to sign the private investigator's agreement, and then he would fill me in on everything that was going on.

Q. Okay. And you didn't feel good about that, right?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Something seemed wrong with that?

A. Yes, sir, it did.

Q. Because you're not a private investigator, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. You didn't like the idea you'd sign something that said you were something you're not, right?

A. That was part of it.

Q. Okay. You also didn't want to be "gagged," as you used the word with the sheriffs, right?

A. That's correct.

Q. You wanted to be free to discuss your work with anyone you wanted?

A. No, that's not true. I put together the situation that happened the day before with Marc Schaffel calling me about Janet Arvizo. 24 hours later, Mr. Geragos is telling me that -- after I had already spoken to Ronald and asked him about the situation, spoken to David, and David said he couldn't talk to me about it right now. Then Mr. Geragos is asking me to stick around 24 more hours and come in and sign something and he would talk to me. I didn't know what it meant.

But obviously I wasn't -- obviously I didn't go around talking to the press about it, because it didn't get out, so....

Q. Actually, you had signed an agreement at some point to be a public relations person with the team, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. That actually had a confidentiality clause, didn't it?

A. I don't believe it did, sir.

Q. Didn't have any?

A. No.

Q. So when you signed an agreement, you thought you were free to say whatever you wanted that you heard from that team?

A. I did not have a confidentiality agreement in that agreement. But that didn't mean I was seeking to actively breach a confidence.

Q. Well, you talked in your direct examination about an agreement.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you signed a consulting agreement, didn't you?

A. Yes, I believe so.

Q. And you probably sign them in your work quite often, true?

A. Yes, I do. But I remember looking at this one at Mr. LeGrand's office and there wasn't anything in there about confidentiality, in that agreement.

Q. Okay. Did you have further discussions with Mr. Geragos?

A. After that day?

Q. Yes.

A. No.

Q. Now, you don't know how often Mr. Geragos spoke to Mr. Jackson, do you?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. So if Mr. Geragos hardly ever saw Mr. Jackson or talked to him, you wouldn't know one way or the other, right?

A. No, sir, I wouldn't.

Q. Mr. Geragos told you, "I want to see if I can keep you on the team," didn't he?

A. Yes, he did, sir.

Q. And when did that discussion happen?

A. I don't remember.

Q. You told Mr. Jackson you were concerned about Konitzer, Weizner, and Schaffel, right?

A. Again, I wouldn't have said Dieter's name. But, yes, I believe I told him that.

Q. As I think you know in this report --

A. I understand it says that. I know. I just want to make sure that you know.

Q. Okay. But you told Mr. Geragos you were concerned about what Konitzer and Schaffel were doing, right?

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. And you arranged to meet with Mr. Geragos on some future dates, right?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And they never happened, right?

A. No, they did not.

Q. To your knowledge, why did they get cancelled?

A. Mr. Geragos told me that he was in court.

Q. Any other reasons?

A. Not to my knowledge, no.

Q. Didn't you tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you quit pursuing a meeting with Mr. Geragos because there were more things that LeGrand was telling you and you had more distrust for Mr. Geragos?

A. That's correct. I thought you were asking me about on Mr. Geragos's part why they didn't happen. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And your understanding was that Mr. LeGrand didn't trust Mr. Geragos, correct?

A. That's what he told me, yes, that's correct.

Q. And one of the reasons he told you he didn't trust Mr. Geragos was he thought Mr. Geragos was tight with Mr. Malnik, true?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Well, he told you that he thought Mr. Geragos was being paid by Al Malnik, correct?

A. But that was after. You're taking two instances and juxtaposing them.

Q. Okay.

THE BAILIFF: Mr. Mesereau, is your microphone on?

MR. MESEREAU: I haven't looked.

THE COURT: Oh, has he been talking?

(Laughter.)

THE BAILIFF: We'll fix it at the break.

MR. MESEREAU: We'll start again, Your Honor.

(Laughter.)

THE COURT: Did you hear that? Screams of protest from the jury.

MR. MESEREAU: Doesn't work at all.

THE BAILIFF: Do you want me to fix it now or wait till the break?

THE COURT: Actually, he's heard quite well, I think. Do people in the back hear him?

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: No.

THE COURT: You should signal if you can't hear.

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: We did; we have.

THE BAILIFF: They have been, and I turned the air conditioner off.

THE COURT: You've been working on it, okay.

(Discussion off the record.)

THE COURT: Why don't you call.

THE BAILIFF: I did call.

BAILIFF NARRON: She did. I thought in the meantime they could use that one.

THE COURT: Why don't you say something so we can see if they can hear you in the back.

MR. MESEREAU: "Hello; hello."

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: Very good.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

Q. Ms. Kite, you told the sheriffs that, from the outside looking in, your opinion was that Michael Jackson did not know the things that Konitzer and the team were doing around them, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; requires speculation. She's never met Michael Jackson. There's no way she could have knowledge of what Mr. Jackson knows.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir, that's correct. I said that.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, did you say before that you had never issued any press releases while you worked for the team?

A. I wrote a press release, but I don't believe it ever went out on the wires.

Q. Okay. Didn't you tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you personally wrote various press releases that went out and got the approval from Schaffel?

A. I don't believe -- I wrote press releases and I sent them to Marc Schaffel for approval, but they did not go out.

Q. None of them went out?

A. No. Not to my knowledge, no.

Q. Did you tell the police that some went out?

A. I don't believe that I said that they went out or they didn't. I remember saying that I wrote the releases and I got -- you know, sent them to Marc Schaffel for approval.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the report?

A. You can show me the report, but I don't -- if that's what it says, I don't remember saying that they did or didn't. I distinctly remember writing the releases and sending them to Mr. Schaffel for approval, and Mr. Konitzer.

Q. And you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you don't think Michael Jackson even knew about these releases, correct?

A. That's correct, yes, I did.

THE COURT: Just a moment.

(To a sound technician) Why don't you just wait till the break. And then you'll be better able to -- 15 minutes.

Go ahead.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh. I thought we were taking a break. Excuse me, Your Honor.

THE COURT: No, I wanted -- I didn't want him to try and fix that while you were trying to ask questions. We have sound right now, so --

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you know someone named Jermaine Jackson?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Who is Jermaine Jackson?

A. Jermaine is Michael's brother.

Q. Do you know him personally?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. How do you know him personally?

A. I met with him.

Q. Approximately when was that?

A. I believe in April of 2003.

Q. And did you arrange that meeting?

A. Mr. Jackson and I, Jermaine Jackson and I, spoke on the phone and arranged it together, yes.

Q. Did you call him?

A. He called me initially.

Q. Okay. Do you know how he got your number?

A. Yes, from Rita Cosby at FOX.

Q. Did you meet with Jermaine?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Where did you meet with him?

A. At his home in Encino, California.

Q. You told Jermaine Jackson that Al Malnik and other people pretended to be Michael's friends, but were not, true?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: I don't remember saying that to Mr. Jackson.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You met with Jermaine Jackson for approximately six or seven hours, right?

A. For several hours, yes.

Q. And you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs about that meeting, true?

A. Yes, that's correct. I did.

Q. And you mentioned Al Malnik, correct?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. You mentioned Konitzer, correct?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. You mentioned Geragos, correct?

A. I don't remember if I mentioned Geragos. I don't remember.

Q. You mentioned Schaffel, didn't you?

A. Yes, absolutely I did.

Q. You told Jermaine Jackson, "These people are not your brother Michael's friends," right?

A. I don't remember that those were my exact words.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the report?

A. Sure you can.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: That's not what it says. It says I told you about him and other people that were not Michael Jackson's friends, but it doesn't say -- it doesn't quote me as saying that --

THE COURT: Wait. When he shows you to refresh your memory, just look at it, and then you can tell him whether or not it does refresh your memory.

THE WITNESS: Okay. Okay.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that police report?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. And did you tell Jermaine about Al Malnik and other people that were Michael Jackson's friends but were really not?

A. I did not say it in those terms. I told Mr. Jermaine Jackson about people that were associated with Mr. Jackson, but I don't -- and I did not say and it does not quote me in there as saying that these people were Mr. Jackson's friends but were really not. That's not what it quotes me as saying.

Q. Well, I want to ask you if this is a correct quote: "Gabriel said she told Jermaine Jackson about Al Malnik and other people that were Michael Jackson's friends but were really not." Did you say anything to that effect?

A. That is not a direct quote from me. That's not how it reads.

Q. Did you say words to that effect?

A. I told Mr. Jermaine Jackson about people that were associated with Mr. -- with Mr. Michael Jackson that I felt were detrimental to him. But I don't believe I ever said they were pretending to be his friend, but they're really not.

Q. So these words are wrong that I just read you?

A. The exact word using them as a quote is wrong, yes.

Q. Yes. Yes. Now, Mr. Jackson's mother was at the meeting, correct?

A. Mr. Jackson's mother was at the house.

Q. Was she at the meeting?

A. No, she wasn't.

Q. Did you ever speak to her that day?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And how long did you speak to her?

A. Just for a minute or two.

Q. Did Mr. Jermaine Jackson introduce you to Michael's mother?

A. Yes, he did. And to his wife also.

Q. Okay. Is it true the meeting went six or seven hours?

A. I was there for about six hours, yes.

Q. Okay. And you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs Jermaine was in a complete state of denial about the people around Michael Jackson, right?

A. That's what I felt, yes.

Q. And you told Jermaine words to the effect, "These people are taking advantage of Michael Jackson," true?

A. I told Jermaine Jackson that I believed, especially Marc Schaffel and his continued association with Mr. Michael Jackson, was going to be very detrimental to him, yes. And Mr. Jackson told me that his brother didn't associate with those type of people.

Q. Okay. You told Jermaine Jackson you thought Michael needed to be around his family and away from these people, right?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And you felt frustrated that you weren't getting through to Jermaine about your concerns, right?

A. I don't believe "frustrated" would -- I felt sad.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you thought that Michael Jackson's lawyers would just shut you up if you complained to them, correct?

A. I told them that I didn't believe it would do me any good to talk to Mr. Jackson's lawyers about what was going on, because they wouldn't want to hear anything I had to say, yes, that's correct.

Q. And when you say "Michael Jackson's lawyers," are you talking about Mr. Geragos?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you talking about Mr. LeGrand?

A. No. I mean, David always listened to what I had to say, so, no.

Q. How long after this meeting with Jermaine Jackson did you learn that Mr. LeGrand had started a private investigation of whether or not these people were defrauding Michael Jackson?

A. The investigation was started before the meeting with Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. And did you discuss that investigation with David LeGrand.

A. The investigation that he started?

Q. Yes.

A. As it was ongoing?

Q. Yes.

A. Not to my knowledge, no.

Q. Did he tell you that he had suspicions that these people were stealing from Michael Jackson at some point?

A. He told me that he had called the accountants and got them to give him some information without Mr. Konitzer's knowledge, and that's how he figured out that there was an amount of money missing.

Q. Okay. But at some point did he say to you words to the effect, "I'm hiring a top-flight investigative firm to investigate all of these people, because I think they're stealing from Michael Jackson"?

A. No.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: No, he did not. We were on the phone. And he told me to call his managing partner and ask him to begin an investigation into these people.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

A. And I sent an e-mail to the managing partner and said, "David asked me to e-mail -- to contact you and," you know, "begin an investigation."

Q. Okay. Okay. Now, you considered going to the police to tell them what was being done to Mr. Jackson, didn't you?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Well, you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you didn't go to the tabloids or the police to tell them your story, right?

A. That's correct. Yes.

Q. But you had considered it, right?

A. Oh, no. I had no information or hard knowledge to go to the police with. And I certainly would never go to the tabloids with a story.

Q. When you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs you were concerned about what these people were doing to Michael Jackson, you also mentioned the names Frank and Vinnie, correct?

A. Yes, I believe I mentioned the names.

Q. And you told them you had heard Frank and Vinnie were involved with these individuals who you thought were defrauding Michael Jackson, correct?

A. No, I said I had heard the names. But I don't -- don't remember specifically commenting on the capacity of their involvement with Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. You told the police you had no further information on Frank and Vinnie?

A. That's correct, I did.

Q. You also told the sheriffs that Stuart Backerman was brought in by Konitzer and you thought he would do anything Konitzer wanted, right?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. So clearly, you thought Mr. Backerman was harming Mr. Jackson, right?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Okay. Did you think he was dishonest?

A. I -- I believed that anyone who would put out a press release on himself above serving the press interests of Mr. Jackson at a critical time was just not someone who would serve Mr. Jackson in the capacity that he deserved.

Q. Okay. I guess it goes without saying, you thought that Mr. Backerman's public relations efforts were harming Mr. Jackson; does that make sense?

A. I didn't believe they were helping Mr. Jackson.

Q. Okay. You felt he was putting his personal interests ahead of his client Michael Jackson?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Okay. Did you ever tell that to Backerman directly?

A. No, sir. I did -- Stuart and I had a conversation a few days earlier. He was extremely upset because someone had quoted -- used my name in a newspaper and quoted me as being Mr. Jackson's spokesperson. And he called me to yell at me about that.

And I told him that this was not the time to nitpick about stuff like that; that I never asked to be called Mr. Jackson's official spokesperson. And that when the fire was burning, it was time to roll up the sleeves and pitch in and not worry about such petty things.

Q. When you met with Jermaine Jackson, Michael's brother, at the home, how long after you had been terminated did this happen?

A. Several weeks. Maybe six weeks. I don't remember. Four weeks. Somewhere around there.

Q. So it was pretty close to the time that you were terminated?

A. Yes, uh-huh.

Q. But in this six-day period that you were working with this team, you appear to have obtained an awful lot of information about the team, correct?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. Your information came a lot -- excuse me. Your information about this team came from many discussions with David LeGrand, true?

A. Yes.

Q. And those discussions preceded your joining the team, right?

A. Not -- David didn't really discuss information with me about the team per se before I joined the team. So I had no preconceived notions when I joined the team.

Q. After you left the team, you continued your discussions with David LeGrand, true?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. About the team, right?

A. In a manner of speaking, but not specifically.

Q. After you left the team, were you and LeGrand still close friends?

A. Yes, we were.

Q. Okay. And you're close friends today, correct?

A. No, we're not.

Q. You're not close friends at all?

A. No, sir.

Q. Are you antagonists?

A. No, I wouldn't -- no.

Q. How would you describe your relationship? Just not a friendly one now?

A. The last time that David called me was the day that the Santa Barbara Police came to interview me. And he left me a message and I didn't call him back. I didn't return the call. And -- because I didn't -- I didn't want to be put into -- in a bad position.

Q. Did the Santa Barbara sheriffs tell you not to speak to anybody about the interview?
A. Not to speak with anybody at all?
Q. About your interview, yes.
A. No, I don't remember that they said that to me, no. No, sir.
Q. Okay. So correct me if I'm wrong, he tried to reach you on March 11th, 2004, and you didn't return the call, right?
A. That's correct.
Q. And you haven't talked to him since, right?
A. No, sir, that's correct.
Q. Okay. Do you still do any public relations work for his firm or him?
A. No, sir.
Q. When did your public relations work for him stop?
A. Visibly, I would say probably sometime around the beginning of April. But throughout the summer and, you know, even up to around the time of the raid of the ranch, he would send me e-mails and ask me to check things out for him, or I would send him articles.
Q. Okay. You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Backerman was more concerned with his own public relations than taking care of Michael Jackson, right?
A. Yes, I did.

Q. And you still believe that, right?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Now, did Backerman ask you to help him with his own press release about what a great guy he was?

A. Oh, God, no, he didn't.

Q. Did you see that -- did you see that press release by surprise, or how did you learn about it?

A. I saw it in the newspaper, yeah.

Q. Was this during the six days you worked for Michael?

A. Yes, sir, it was. I believe it was the 13th of February.

Q. And was it announcing that Mr. Backerman will be doing PR for Michael Jackson?

A. Yes, sir, it was.

Q. And you don't know if Backerman's ever met Michael Jackson, do you?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Certainly in any discussions you had with Mr. Backerman, Michael wasn't there, right?

A. That's correct. If he was, I think he would have been very upset.

Q. Now, you told the police that Backerman was upset that there was an article about you in the New York Times saying that you represented Michael, right?

A. That's correct. It wasn't an article. It was a quote. I had received an overflow, what we called an overflow call from a reporter who was looking for a quote on a story that he was going to run. I did not identify myself to that reporter as his spokesperson, and -- but when the report was printed, that's how it quoted me. And Mr. Backerman was extremely, extremely annoyed about that.

Q. Okay. What did he say to you?

A. He said, "How could you go around telling people that you're Mr. Jackson's spokesperson? I'm his official spokesperson, not you."

Q. And what was your response?

A. I won't give you my verbatim response. But my response basically was, "Stuart, it was a call that I took. I never told anyone that I am Mr. Jackson's official spokesperson. This -- our client is in severe trouble and this is not the time to be wasting an hour or so on the phone arguing about something so petty as this."

Q. And did you tell the sheriffs where Backerman was staying at that point in time?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Where did you tell the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Backerman was staying?

A. At Mr. Schaffel's house.

Q. How did you learn that?

A. From Mr. Backerman and from David LeGrand.

Q. You've indicated that you thought Schaffel -- excuse me, not "you thought." You were told Schaffel's in charge of public relations at one point, right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Backerman told you he's in charge of public relations at one point, didn't he?

A. No, Backerman never said he was in charge of public relations.

Q. What did he say his role was?

A. He was Mr. Jackson's official spokesperson.

Q. And he told you that he was Mr. Jackson's official spokesperson while living at Mr. Schaffel's place; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And, of course, you don't know if -- if Backerman even cleared anything ever with Michael Jackson. You don't know?

A. I have no idea if Mr. Backerman ever spoke with Mr. Jackson, no.

Q. Your suspicion was he was issuing press releases without Mr. Jackson even knowing about it, right?

A. Stuart never, to my knowledge, during the time I was there, issued a press release either. No releases except for Bell Yard's went out at that time.

Q. Okay. And you told the sheriffs that you didn't think Konitzer even filled in Backerman about all the information he had?

A. That's correct. Yes, I did.

Q. So you thought Backerman was being left in the dark about what Konitzer was doing, right?

A. I believed that there was an intense lack of communication among the team that could have worked to Mr. Jackson's benefit to help quench some of the fires.

Q. So what you wanted was a better team, a team with more integrity, correct?

A. What I wanted was a team that would be extremely proactive on Mr. Jackson's benefit.

Q. And you felt this team was putting their own interests ahead of Mr. Jackson's?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

THE COURT: Let's take our break.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Counsel?

MR. MESEREAU: Yes. Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Ms. Kite, you told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that you have no personal knowledge of anything Michael Jackson has done, correct?

A. That's correct, yes.

Q. You told them you had no personal knowledge that any molestation ever took place with Michael Jackson, correct?

A. That's correct, yes.

Q. You also told them you had no personal knowledge about Janet Arvizo ever being kidnapped, correct?

A. Other than what I heard from Marc Schaffel and my own feelings.

Q. You told the police that you may be wrong, you may have overreacted, and maybe there was no kidnapping, right?

A. That was always a possibility, but that's not what I believed.

Q. Well, you told the police that, in your mind, maybe you're wrong; maybe you overreacted; maybe there was no kidnapping at all, right?

A. That's what I said, yes.

Q. Okay. For obvious reasons. You weren't there.

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay. You told them you can't imagine what it's like to be in a cage and watched all the time, right?

A. That's correct, yes.

Q. You told the sheriffs that you were on the phone with LeGrand and Schaffel when NBC was negotiating for footage regarding the rebuttal tape, right?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. And that's the footage that eventually went to FOX, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. That's the footage that was produced in response to the Bashir documentary, correct?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.
Q. And you said that LeGrand issued a statement to the press that Geragos ordered to make NBC look bad, right?
A. No, that's not what I said. That's -- that's not what I said. If you'd like me to explain that incident to you, I'd be glad to.
Q. Is that wrong, what I just said? I'm just looking at the report. Is that wrong?
A. You're taking it out of context. Yes, it's wrong.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the paragraph?
A. You can show me the paragraph. I know what it's referring to, and it's a summary of what I said, and it's not correct.
Q. Okay. I didn't summarize it.
A. That's okay. I'm just letting you know.
Q. Okay. Okay. Did you complain that Mr. Geragos wanted to make NBC look bad?
A. No. I didn't say anything about Mr. Geragos trying to make NBC look bad, no.
Q. Do you know where the sheriffs got that remark?
A. I said it about Mr. Schaffel, not about Mr. Geragos.
Q. Okay.

A. And Mr. Geragos gave the okay to release the information.

Q. Okay. Did you tell the sheriffs that Mr. Geragos gave the okay to release information that was damaging to NBC?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And correct me if I'm wrong, I think what you're saying is that Schaffel prepared that information, right?

A. What I'm saying is that Schaffel spoke with Mr. Geragos and Mr. LeGrand and pushed for the information to be released.

Q. Okay.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you object to releasing that information?

A. I didn't know about it when it happened. But when I found out, I objected vigorously, yes.

Q. Was that because you didn't want to make NBC look bad?

A. It was because I felt it was bad precedent, period.

Q. Okay. Was it your understanding that Schaffel and Mr. Geragos were trying to make NBC look bad?

A. It was my understanding that Mr. Schaffel in particular was trying to make NBC look bad.

Q. But you thought Mr. Geragos had okayed it?

A. David LeGrand told me that the okay came from Mr. Geragos.

Q. Okay. And you said you wanted to publicly exonerate NBC and CBS, true?

A. I remember saying NBC, but I don't remember saying CBS.

Q. Okay. You wanted to somehow make up for the fact that NBC ended up looking bad?

A. No, I didn't want to make up for it. I felt terrible for the fallout that NBC received based on the memo that Mr. Schaffel arranged to have released. It wasn't right and it wasn't fair.

Q. Okay. And did Schaffel tell you why he wanted to do this?

A. I knew why he wanted to do it. He didn't have to tell me.

Q. What did he tell you about it?

A. Well, he was upset because NBC was producing another special about Mr. Jackson and they were referring to Mr. Schaffel's past.

Q. Okay. Okay. And Mr. Schaffel also was upset that he wasn't getting any profit from that show, correct?

A. I don't know if he would have gotten profits from the NBC show or not. I don't know.

Q. Okay. All right. Did you believe Mr. Backerman was involved in that effort?

A. In what effort?

Q. The effort by Schaffel and Geragos.
A. To NBC?
Q. Yes.
A. To release that memo?
Q. Yes.
A. No, I don't believe so.
Q. Okay. Now, at some point you told the sheriffs that Geragos brought in another PR firm; is that right?
A. That's correct.
Q. Who was that?
A. Eric Dezenhall.
Q. From Washington D.C.?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Did you ever speak to him?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. When did you last speak to him?
A. Probably in April of that same year, 2003.
Q. And did you speak to him about the work he was going to do?
A. I spoke to him -- David had asked me to speak to him about several different things.
Q. Okay. And you complained that Mr. Dezenhall told you that Mr. Jackson is not socially relevant?
A. Yes, he did say that.
Q. And you were upset that a public relations spokesperson would ever say that about a client, right?

A. Yes, I was.

Q. You were particularly upset that he would say that about his new client, Michael Jackson, right?

A. I was upset because I didn't believe, no matter what, that there would ever come a time that Mr. Jackson wasn't socially relevant.

Q. And you don't know if Mr. Dezenhall ever met or spoke to Mr. Jackson, do you?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Your understanding is simply that Mr. Geragos hired him?

A. Yes, sir, that's correct.

Q. You complained that Mr. Dezenhall shouldn't make a statement like that about Mr. Jackson, true?

A. I don't know that I complained, but I -- I would never make a statement about that about a client of mine, no matter what.

Q. You accused him of doing nothing and saying nothing, right?

A. I didn't accuse him. I believed that he would be a very good fit for the team because he had the same hunker-down philosophy, the same philosophy of "Don't say anything. Don't put anything out. It doesn't matter what bad press is out there, we can't refute it. We're already behind the eightball."

Q. Did you complain that you thought Mr. Dezenhall was throwing his client to the wolves?

A. I don't remember saying that about Mr. Dezenhall.

Q. Did you use words to that effect?

A. I believe I said "the team," or I felt that basically that's what the team was doing to Mr. Jackson by not being proactive and responding for him in the press.

Q. Okay. You complained that Mr. Konitzer wanted to build a website called "MJJ Invincible," right?

A. I didn't complain. I stated that when I was hired, Mr. Konitzer asked to put up a website, and the URL that he wanted to use was "MJJ Invincible." And I told him I thought that was highly inappropriate, given the backlash that was out there with all of the -- with the Bashir documentary and everything else going on. I didn't believe that Mr. Jackson should put himself in that position to be subject to more ridicule from the press by having a website domain of that name.

Q. But you don't know if Mr. Jackson even knew about this idea, right?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. You said Konitzer was "out of his mind," right?

A. Yes, I did. I did.

Q. You said, "That's the last thing they should do," correct?

A. That's absolutely what I said.

Q. Okay. You thought that Mr. Schaffel was saying things to the press to get himself back in Michael Jackson's good graces, correct?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Because you knew that Mr. Schaffel was not in Michael Jackson's -- Michael Jackson's good graces, right?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; requires speculation as to what she knew about Mr. Jackson's intent or knowledge.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did someone tell you that Marc Schaffel was not in Michael Jackson's good graces?

A. No one told me that specifically.

Q. Well, but you did tell the sheriffs you thought Schaffel was trying to get back into his good graces, true?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection; argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You told the Santa Barbara sheriffs that Michael Jackson has a lot of talent but never matured past the age of 12, right?

A. I didn't say it that way, no, sir.

Q. You said something to that effect, didn't you?

A. No, what I said to him -- to the sheriffs, when they spoke to me, was that I felt that Mr. Jackson was very talented, extremely talented, but the way that he was portrayed was that he hadn't matured past the age of 12.

Q. Okay. And clearly, you didn't think this team was helping him deal with any of this, did you?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. You thought they were actually hurting him, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Now, clearly you have never personally observed Mr. Jackson do anything wrong --

THE COURT: Counsel, you've asked that question ten times today. I want you to look at the jury and realize that they're tired of listening to this.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

THE COURT: You know, the -- you need to grasp the evidence and present it, not keep repeating it.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Yes, Your Honor.

Just a few more questions.

Q. Did you send the team a series of letters that appeared to have favorable responses to the Bashir documentary by e-mail?

A. I don't know what you're referring to.

Q. Well, did you ever send to -- just one second.

May I just take a second, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you first were retained, you were sending various e-mails to the team, correct?

A. Sending and receiving, yes.

Q. And you were trying to educate the team about responses to the Bashir documentary, correct?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Okay. Do you remember what the subject of those e-mails was?

A. I don't remember, sir. I sent a lot of e-mails during that time.

Q. Did you ever send an e-mail that basically said -- showed letters where people were saying they thought Mr. Jackson was being exploited in Bashir?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Okay. Do you remember ever discussing that?

A. We may have discussed it as a way to attack Mr. Bashir. But I don't remember. I mean, part of the plan was to try to get Mr. Jackson's image rehabilitated. So obviously anything that could show Mr. Bashir had ill intent towards Mr. Jackson would be very helpful to us.

Q. Did you investigate Mr. Bashir's background yourself?

A. No, sir, I didn't have the time.

Q. Did you plan to do that?

A. Yes, sir, I did.
Q. Did you take any measures to do that at all?
A. No. Not at the time, no.
Q. Did you hire anybody to do that?
A. No, sir, I didn't.
Q. Do you know Mr. Bashir?
A. No, sir, I do not.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay. No further questions.
THE COURT: Thank you.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS:

Q. Ms. Kite, you mentioned when you were referring to Mr. Dezenhall you had that hunker down approach?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. What did you mean by that?
A. Don't say anything to the press. Don't talk. If negative publicity comes out, you just brush it off and move on.
Q. Is that an uncommon philosophy in PR?
A. I think it's more uncommon, yes.
Q. Is it a nonexistent philosophy? I mean, is it very rare, I should say?
A. I would think that it would be more rare than common.
Q. Okay. Do some PR firms implement that philosophy?

A. Yes, they do.
Q. Was it evident to you that that was the philosophy of the team?
A. Yes, it is. Yes, it was.
Q. Including Bell Yard?
A. No, not Bell Yard.
Q. Okay. Everybody with the exception of Bell Yard?
A. Yes, that's correct.
Q. And did you have an impression as to whether or not the team thought that was the best way to go about these things, whether or not --
A. Whether to hunker down or not?
Q. Yes.
A. My impression was that they didn't want to do anything. They wanted to hunker down, because anything I asked to be able to do on behalf of Mr. Jackson I was told not to.
Q. Did you ever develop an impression as to why they wanted to hunker down?
A. My impression was that there was obviously something more important than Mr. Jackson's public relations going on.
Q. Okay. You said that you've never met Mr. Jackson.
A. That's correct.
Q. And do you know if anybody from Bell Yard, that you dealt with, ever met Mr. Jackson?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. And Mr. Backerman, you said, never met Mr. Jackson?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Okay. There was some -- a statement made to you by Mr. Schaffel concerning Janet selling her story to the tabloids.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall talking about that?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Did you ever have any information or knowledge that Janet wanted to sell a story to the tabloids?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Did you ever have any information that Janet even had a story to tell the tabloids?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Did you question anybody about that? "What's this story about?" Did you ever --

A. I thought it -- when Mr. Schaffel said that he was afraid she was going to sell her story to the tabloids, my first thought was, "What story?" But I never really questioned anybody about it.

Q. You said that one of the witnesses, I believe it was -- well, I can't recall. I believe you stated that Schaffel -- someone told you Schaffel hadn't seen Jackson for a couple of months.

A. Yes. Mr. Konitzer told me that in a telephone call.

Q. Do you know if that's true?

A. I have no direct knowledge of that.

Q. What was the context of that conversation?

A. I was, again, extremely concerned, because the media was raising questions about Mr. Schaffel's background, and I wanted to be able to answer them. And Mr. Konitzer, I kept telling him, "This is not a good thing to have Mr. Schaffel continuously linked with Mr. Jackson in the press. We need to stop here this." And he told me at that point that Mr. Schaffel hadn't seen Mr. Jackson for a couple of months.

Q. Okay. But you have no idea whether that's true?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Do you know anything about Mr. Schaffel's relationship with Mr. Jackson?

A. Not personally, no.

Q. As to how many times he talks to him or sees him or any of that?

A. No, I don't.

Q. What about Mr. Geragos's relationship with Mr. Jackson? Do you have any knowledge as to how often they talk or dealt with each other during this point?

A. No, sir.

Q. Mr. Konitzer, same question.

A. No, sir, I don't. I know that Ronald portrayed to me that he stayed at the ranch, that he talked directly to Michael, but I couldn't tell you if that's true or not.

Q. No personal knowledge. What about Mr. LeGrand? Did he tell you whether or not he talked with Mr. Jackson?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. What did he say about that?

A. Told me that he had talked to Mr. Jackson; that he met him in Miami when he went to do the power of attorney; that he went to Neverland to be there on a day that they were supposed to tape a special with CBS that got cancelled. And I don't remember the times after that, but I know there were other times after that.

Q. Did Mr. LeGrand have Mr. Jackson's phone number; do you know?

A. I'm sure he did. I never asked him.

Q. Did Mr. LeGrand -- you stated that Mr. LeGrand expressed some concerns to you about these people that were around Mr. Jackson. Did Mr. LeGrand ever express those concerns to Mr. Jackson, according to Mr. LeGrand?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. So he told you he did talk to Mr. Jackson about it?

A. Yes.

Q. And informed him of the problems?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. When did this happen?

A. In March. Mid March.

Q. You said that Mr. Konitzer had a power of attorney at some point?

A. Yes, that's correct.

Q. And do you know anything about the power of attorney?

A. The only thing that I know is David told me that it could be overridden at any time by the client and that it required two signatures.

Q. Okay. So, two signatures; what does that mean?

A. I don't know. That's just what he said.

Q. So the power of attorney required two signatures. Could you tell whether or not he was talking about actions taken under the power of attorney or the power of attorney itself?

A. I couldn't tell you.

Q. Okay. The FOX special. First of all, who is Fire Mountain? You testified briefly about Fire Mountain.

A. Fire Mountain is a corporation that David set up in Las Vegas.

Q. And who are the parties, the principals in that corporation?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay.

Q. There was this NBC memo that Mr. Schaffel was upset about. Do you know what that was all about?

A. What the memo was about?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, the memo was --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: You said that the FOX rebuttal program produced -- or there was a contract for that program to produce $3 million, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And you also said you believed some of that money went to Mr. Jackson?

A. Yes, I believe that.

Q. What did you base that on?

A. I just -- I guess based on what David said and -- I mean, I never saw money actually transferred into Mr. Jackson's hands, so --

Q. Did this transaction take place while you were working as a PR person?

A. Yes, it did.

Q. Were you upset about it?

A. Yes, I was.

Q. Why?

A. Because I said that I didn't believe that Mr. Jackson should have to sell the proof of his innocence.

Q. Was that a PR move on your behalf?

A. Yes, absolutely.

Q. Did you express your concern to anybody?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. To whom?

A. To Mr. LeGrand. To Mr. Schaffel. To Mr. Konitzer. To Bell Yard.

Q. Do you know why they didn't take your advice?

A. Yes, I did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; calls for speculation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did they tell you why they wanted money for this?

A. Yes, they did.

Q. What did they say?

A. Because there was no money.

Q. What do you mean?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; the Court's ruling.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Was there any information -- you mentioned a number of fires burning, right? What did you mean by that?

A. Attacks on Mr. Jackson in the press.

Q. Okay. Were there any attacks on Mr. Jackson in the press concerning finances --

A. Yes.

Q. -- his finances?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; the Court's ruling.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I believe this door has been opened.

MR. MESEREAU: I don't think it has, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The question, as presented, I'll allow, and the answer that was given. "Were there any attacks on Mr. Jackson in the press concerning finances?

"Answer: Yes."

That's as far as you can go at this time on that subject.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right.

Q. Who did Mr. LeGrand -- he was an attorney. Who was he an attorney for?

A. Mr. Jackson.

Q. Anybody else, as far as you know? I mean, in this relationship with Mr. Jackson, was he an attorney for a corporation of Mr. Jackson's, or any other entity involving Mr. Jackson?

A. I don't know. I don't know.

Q. And as an attorney, who did he report to, as

Mr. Jackson's attorney?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: If you know; if you've been told.

THE COURT: Just a moment. I'm not quite sure what the question was.

I'll sustain the objection.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: You mentioned that the power of attorney at some point was revoked?

A. Yes.

Q. You were I believe referring to the power of attorney for Mr. Konitzer?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know when that was?

A. In mid March of 2003. I believe it was sometime around the 12th of March.

Q. Do you know if that terminated Mr. Konitzer as an employee or from working for Mr. Jackson?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, she was asked a portion of statements.

THE COURT: That's true.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: This is the full statement.

THE COURT: You're correct. I understand that. Just let me --

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. The foundation objection is sustained. But do you want the question read back so you know what I'm ruling on?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Sure. Thank you.

(Record read.)

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. I'll rephrase the question.

Q. Did you learn from anybody that Mr. Konitzer was continuing to work for Mr. Jackson after the power of attorney was revoked?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It's establishing the foundation. It's a yes or no question.

THE COURT: Well, it calls for hearsay, too. It's a little more complicated than that.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Well, I can limit it some more.

THE COURT: Okay.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: When you learned that -- well, let me back up. When did you learn that the power of attorney was revoked?

A. Around the 12th of March.

Q. From?

A. David LeGrand.

Q. Okay. And do you know whether or not that power of attorney, when it was revoked, terminated Mr. Konitzer's employment by Mr. Jackson --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: -- based upon these conversations with Mr. LeGrand?

MR. MESEREAU: Foundation and hearsay.

THE COURT: All right. I'm going to let you answer that question yes or no. The question is just whether or not you know, not what the result was.

THE WITNESS: Yes, I know.

THE COURT: Then the rest of the foundation would be how does she know that, without telling us the answer.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Okay. How do you know the answer to that question?

A. Mr. LeGrand told me.

Q. And what did Mr. LeGrand tell you?

A. He told me that the power of attorney had been terminated; that Ronald didn't have any more control over Michael's finances, but that he was still going to continue to do business with him.

Q. When you went and spoke with Jermaine Jackson, can you tell me how that meeting came together?

A. I had been speaking with Rita Cosby from FOX. She suggested that I might want to call Jermaine Jackson because he was very concerned about his brother. She gave Mr. Jackson my telephone number.

He called me. We spoke. He asked if I'd be willing to come and meet with him. And I told him yes, I would. And I went.

Q. And you expressed concern about some of the team members to Mr. Jermaine Jackson?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did you express any other concerns about Mr. Jackson to Jermaine at that time?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. What did you tell him?

A. I expressed concern about his --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Relevance; 352; foundation.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: The full conversation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I expressed concern about Mr. Jackson's financial situation.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: In what respect?

A. Um --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, Your Honor. The Court's ruling.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Did Mr. Jermaine Jackson indicate whether or not he was close to his brother during this conversation?

A. I don't think he ever said he was close to his brother, but he didn't say he was distant either. He indicated great concern about his brother.

Q. Did he indicate whether or not he had communications with his brother?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. You also mentioned that Mr. Konitzer and Mr. Weizner had a history of bad business decisions.

A. Yes.

Q. What did you base that on?

A. Information from David and information that I'd read in the press.

Q. Okay. And as far as these bad business deals that you had read about in the press, can you give me an approximate time frame as to when these things were published?

A. No. I'm sorry, I can't. They were -- some of them were before my employment with Mr. Jackson --

Q. Okay.

A. -- and some of them after.

Q. It was published in the press, these bad business dealings?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you, in your dealings with Mr. Schaffel, ever receive any information from him, direct information from him, that he intended to hurt Michael Jackson?

A. Never.

Q. What about with Mr. Konitzer?

A. No.

Q. Mr. Backerman?

A. No.
Q. Mr. Geragos?
A. No.
Q. Or Mr. LeGrand?
A. No.
Q. Did you ever have any information that they intended him any malice, this group of people? Well, that's compound.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I'll strike that.
Q. Your assessment that they were hurting Michael Jackson, is that based on your professional experience in the public relations field as far as what was going on, or based on something else?
A. It was based on what I saw in the public relations side, the lack of action.
Q. You felt that the hunker-down approach was all wrong here?
A. Yes, I did.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, there's two areas that I feel are relevant at this point regarding Mr. Schaffel and Mr. Malnik concerning the cross-examination. However, I don't want to go into these areas without the Court's permission.
THE COURT: All right. Counsel want to approach?
(To the jury) That means you can talk. Not only that, you have to talk.

(Discussion held off the record at sidebar.)

THE COURT: All right. Thank you for talking.

Counsel, proceed.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Thank you.

Q. Ms. Kite, with respect to the public relations problems associated with Mr. Jackson that you've identified, the fires specifically - and I'm talking only about issues that had made their way into the media - was there any negative PR associated with Mr. Jackson specifically regarding Marc Schaffel?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. What was it?

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: You may answer the question.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, the basis is hearsay; 352.

THE COURT: The hearsay objection's overruled. The 352, again, if you're talking about undue use of time, it's overruled.

This is more evidence, though, it's more evidence that isn't being offered for the truth of the matter asserted. The witness has testified that she was trying to help put out fires - for lack of a better word, I'll use that word - concerning Mr.

Jackson, and then there was some cross-examination. And I've now agreed to let the attorney cover two more areas that she might -- or she'll testify. We'll see what she testifies to about those things.

MR. MESEREAU: We object on foundation also, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Huh?

MR. MESEREAU: We object on foundation also.

THE COURT: All right. Go ahead.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: So I think you previously testified you researched the Internet, you researched the news services, television, et cetera, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Based on that, what specific problem did you identify involving Mr. Jackson's association with Marc Schaffel?

MR. MESEREAU: Vague as to time, Your Honor.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I'll be specific.

Q. As to during this month of February in 2003.

A. David told me, and I discovered, that Mr. Schaffel -- am I allowed to say?

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Let's focus specifically on what came out in the media during that month.

A. What came out in the media during that month was that Mr. Schaffel was a gay pornography producer.

Q. All right. And let's move on to the -- and did you perceive that as a negative public relations association?

A. With respect to Mr. Jackson, yes, absolutely.

Q. Let's move on to Mr. Malnik. Was there any negative -- same question. Based upon all your review of the different news services, was there ever any negative public relations issues presented in the media by virtue of Mr. Jackson's association with Al Malnik?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. And what was that?

A. There were --

Q. Speaking about the month of February 2003 again.

A. There was articles about Mr. Jackson's association with Mr. Malnik as he was reputed to be a known mobster.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: All right. Thank you. I have no further questions.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Any cross?

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MESEREAU:

Q. Ms. Kite, you have no knowledge whatsoever that Mr. Jackson has ever been involved in anything related to gay pornography production?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. And you have no information of Mr. Jackson himself ever being involved in mobster-type activities?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. In fact, you were repeatedly complaining, "You've got to get these people away from Mr. Jackson"?

A. Absolutely, I was.

Q. And you complained they were exploiting him, correct?

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Objection. Vauge as to who "they" are. Argumentative as to the word "exploiting."

THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Can you read it back? I'm sorry.

THE COURT: Yes.

(Record read.)

THE COURT: I think the answer came in before the objection, but I overruled the objection.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: And you went to Mr. Jackson's mother's home, and you met with Jermaine and his mother to tell them that these people were taking advantage of Mr. Jackson, and Mr. Jackson appears to be nowhere to be seen, right?

A. I went to tell them that I was concerned about the association between these people and Mr. Jackson, yes, I did.

Q. And you never saw these people with Mr. Jackson, did you?

A. No, sir, I did not.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you. No further questions.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Nothing further.

THE COURT: Thank you. You may step down.

Is this witness excused?

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You're excused.

Call your next witness.

MR. SNEDDON: Do you want to keep going, Your Honor?

THE COURT: What time --

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, can we make it subject to re-call?

THE COURT: Excuse me?

MR. MESEREAU: We would like to make the witness subject to re-call.

THE COURT: All right. You're not permanently excused. You may leave, but you may be recalled. Is that all right?

THE WITNESS: Okay.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, could we approach for just five, ten seconds?

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SNEDDON: I promise it won't be longer than that.

(Off-the-record discussion held at sidebar.)

MR. SNEDDON: Call Al Lafferty, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Come forward. When you get to the witness stand, remain standing. Raise your right hand. Face the clerk.

THE CLERK: Please raise your right hand.

ALBERT LAFFERTY

Having been sworn, testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: I do.

THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record.

THE WITNESS: Albert Lafferty. A-l-b-e-r-t, L-a-f-f-e-r-t-y.

THE CLERK: Thank you.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. Good afternoon. Good afternoon, Mr. Lafferty.

A. Good afternoon.

Q. How are you employed?

A. I'm employed by the Santa Barbara County Sheriff's Office.

Q. How long have you been a deputy sheriff?

A. 18 years.

Q. And directing your attention back to November of 2003, okay?

A. Yes.

Q. What were your duties and assignments at that time?

A. At that time I was assigned to the forensics investigation unit, the criminal investigation division.

Q. Could you just take a moment and explain to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that job with the forensics unit involved?

A. It was our job to respond to crime scenes, document those scenes, search for evidence, collect and preserve the evidence, and process any evidence which was within our capabilities.

Q. With regard to November 18th of 2003, did you participate on the execution of a search warrant on Mr. Jackson's ranch at Neverland Valley Ranch?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And what particular duty assignments were you assigned on that day?

A. I was assigned to shoot video and photographs of the main residence.

Q. Now, was there some significance attached to the manner in which you shot your footage in relationship to the chronology of the events that day?

A. Yes.

Q. Would you explain that to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury?

A. I was initially tasked with photographing the interior of the main residence before any search had been conducted.

Q. And the purpose for that?

A. To document the scene as it was before anything had been disturbed by any of the searching members.

Q. Now, did you also participate in the production -- or did you also videotape the premises that day?

A. That was my purpose, yes, that was to videotape.

Q. So you did video and not still photography?

A. I did several still photos, but my primary assignment was for video.

Q. And when you did video, were you assigned to a particular location at the ranch premises?

A. Yes, I was.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where you were assigned?

A. It was the main residence located on the ranch.

Q. Now, were you also assigned responsibility subsequent to that time to take some aerial photographs?

A. Yes, I was.

Q. And what specifically was your assignment?

A. To document the ranch property, overall views and specific views of the buildings located on the ranch.

Q. And do you recall when you did that?

A. That was on March 2nd of 2004.

Q. And in that connection, were you also assigned to do some research on just some basic information on the location of the ranch?

A. Yes.

Q. And the purpose of that?

A. To be able to identify in the photographs which buildings they were.

Q. Now, were you also -- can you tell us whether or not you were involved in the preparation of an exhibit which was used for purposes of court demonstration, actual map location of the premises --

A. Yes.

Q. -- and the ranch itself --

A. Yes, I was.

Q. -- in relation to other places in Santa Barbara County?

A. Yes.

Q. Could you describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what you did in that connection?

A. In that connection what I did was use the Microsoft Streets and Map Program, which our unit had at the time, to display a map showing the surrounding area of Santa Ynez Valley and the location of the ranch.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, at this time I've had four -- I'm sorry, Exhibits 4 through 12 marked for identification purposes. I'm going to show them to counsel for their examination. I believe they have a copy of them already, but....

Your Honor, I intend to lay the foundation and ask for their admission. And I want to make sure the procedure's okay with the Court ahead of time and then display what I have here on the board --

THE COURT: That's --

MR. SNEDDON: -- as we go through them.

THE COURT: That's how I would like to do that.

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, I have no objection if it will save time, he can put them on the board and show the witness at the same time, if that's all right with the Court.

THE COURT: Yes, it is. If there's no objection, that would save time.

MR. SNEDDON: Can we move these admitted into evidence at this time, then, Your Honor?

MR. SANGER: In this case, that's fine, Your Honor. We'll do it that way.
THE COURT: In this case, they're admitted.
MR. SNEDDON: In this case, I'll accept it.
Q. All right. Deputy Lafferty, let me just hand you those. And let's start with the first exhibit. Could you indicate what People's Exhibit No. 4 is?
THE COURT: See, what he was suggesting, he agreed they come into evidence, so you could just put them right on the --
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: We have it set up with the computer, Your Honor.
THE COURT: You do.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: If you could activate the PC button.
THE COURT: The PC button? Okay.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It takes a few minutes for the projector to warm up.
THE COURT: It's on, isn't it?
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It's coming.
MR. SNEDDON: Maybe we could dim the lights.
THE BAILIFF: Do you want all of them dimmed?
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Deputy Lafferty, could you explain to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what People's Exhibit No. 4 is?

A. This is the map I made using the Microsoft Streets and Maps showing the Santa Ynez Valley area, community, and the ranch location.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, may I approach the witness?

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.

Q. All right. I've handed you a little laser pen to help with some of the directions here.

Could you locate, for instance, the town of Solvang on there for us?

A. The City of Solvang is located right here in the lower center portion of the map.

Q. All right. And Los Olivos?

A. Los Olivos is directly north of that. Right in this area.

Q. Right under the word "California"?

A. That's correct.

Q. Now, I notice that towards the top of the exhibit, People's No. 4, and in the middle toward the top is a little red arrow; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Could you indicate to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that red arrow -- and could you find it with the laser? There you go.

A. This right here?

Q. Yes. What is that?

A. That's a small push pin used to identify the entrance location of the ranch.

Q. All right. Let's move to the next exhibit, People's 5, if we could.

With regard to People's 5, it's in evidence, could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that is?

A. This is a closer-in view of the area, with the town of Los Olivos being located in the center lower portion of the picture. The yellow line highlights Figueroa Mountain Road as it proceeds north from the town of Los Olivos and ends again at a red push pin indicating the ranch entrance.

Q. All right. Now, let's go to the next exhibit, People's No. 5 -- or No. 6.

Could you explain to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what People's No. 6 is?

A. This is an overall aerial photograph showing the ranch property.

Q. Now, with regard to the information that's been placed on this exhibit, the writing that's on there in yellow, did you do that?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And from what sources of information did you put those letters and designations on there?

A. That was information provided by Sergeant Robel and yourself.

Q. You've been to the ranch yourself, though, have you not?

A. Yes, I have.
Q. So you recognize the areas depicted up there, correct?
A. Yeah, that's correct.
Q. Now, with regard to this particular exhibit, People's No. 6, there's an arrow that points back towards Los Olivos?
A. Yes.
Q. And the road just to the bottom on the diagram, that's marked Figueroa Mountain Road?
A. That's correct.
Q. Do you know approximately what the distance is from the gate where it says "ranch entrance" to -- back to, say, where 154 -- Highway 154 is?
A. It's just over five miles.
Q. Could we go to People's No. 7?
Now, People's No. 7 is another aerial photograph that you took?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. And with regard to the designation of the -- of the areas of buildings located on this exhibit, did you put those on there?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Is that based on your personal information and observations?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. While you were at the ranch?
A. That's correct.

Q. All right. Let's go to the next number, if we could, which I believe is 8?
A. That's correct.
Q. All right. And People's No. 8 is another aerial you took, correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. And with regard to the information placed on there, did you place that information on there?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And is that information you gathered while you were personally at the ranch on the occasion that you were there?
A. Yes.
Q. Now, I notice on this particular photograph, this particular exhibit, that there's a road that runs in the upper top of the photograph, about in the middle. Do you see that?
A. This road here?
Q. Yes, sir. Do you know where that road goes to?
A. That was the road leading from the main gate entrance on Figueroa Mountain Road that we came in on.
Q. So that's the road that takes you from the main gate to the house?
A. Yes.
Q. And to the areas depicted on this photograph?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Why don't we go to the next exhibit, then. This is No. 9?

A. That's correct.

Q. And with regard to People's No. 9, did you place the designations on these particular areas?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And this is another aerial that you took?

A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever been in the theater itself?

A. No, I have not.

Q. All right. Let's go to the next exhibit, which would be People's No. 10. And 10 is just a wider view of 9 but has more information; is that correct?

A. Yes, slightly different angle.

Q. And it just shows the theater and the amusement park?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Let's go to People's No. 11.

People's No. 11 is another aerial that you took; is that correct?

A. It is correct.

Q. And the designation that's on there is the zoo?

A. Correct.

Q. That's the zoo area, as you know it to be?

A. Yes.

Q. Or at the time you took these photographs?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. I believe there's one last photograph there, Deputy. What is that?

A. This is an aerial view of the train station area.

Q. And that's the -- okay. And that's another -- in this particular photograph, there is a road that runs directly into the train station where the clock is and goes to the bottom of the photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know where that road leads to?

A. That's the road that leads past the main residence.

Q. Okay. Thank you.

Your Honor, I do have more questions for this witness, but it will take considerably more than the two minutes we have left.

THE COURT: All right. We'll recess for the afternoon.

Court's in recess.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 341 through 527 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 2, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California, March 2, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 529 THROUGH 580)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney -and-
1112 Santa Barbara Street Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU
BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ. -and-
SUSAN C. YU, ESQ. 1875 Century Park East, Suite 700
Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-

SANGER & SWYSEN BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ.
233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C Santa Barbara, California 93101

-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK
BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ. 14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard
Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

I N D E X

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES	DIRECT	CROSS	REDIRECT	RECROSS
LAFFERTY, Albert	534-S	547-SA (cont’d)
ARVIZO, Davellin	579-S

E X H I B I T S

		FOR	IN
PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	I.D.	EVID.
336	DVD	538	539

Santa Maria, California
Thursday, March 3, 2005
8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.

COUNSEL AT COUNSEL TABLE: (In unison) Good morning, Your Honor. Good morning, Your Honor.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.

THE COURT: I told you that when I knew that we were going to have a day that you weren't going to be here, I would let you know as soon as I could. And I'm going to do that right now.

BAILIFF CORTEZ: I'm sorry, Judge, they can't hear you in the back, sir.

THE COURT: That's because my microphone's off.

Next Friday, not this Friday, the 11th of March, the jury will not come in. We are going to have a day just of motions outside the presence of the jury. So we've set up a whole day to do that. And that will give you a nice break.

In addition to that, on Tuesday, next week -- I don't have the date in front of me.

THE CLERK: It would be the 8th.

THE COURT: The 8th, we're going to stop one hour early. And I have a meeting that afternoon, so we'll go to -- we'll probably go to close to 12:00 and then stop. So it's not a day off, but it's an afternoon off, I guess you'd say.

All right. Those are the only times right now that I know that I can give to you.

Let's see, where were you. Are you ready to proceed.

Do you want me to show the screen now.

MR. SNEDDON: I have a few questions first, Your Honor. But we are going to use the DVD player, so we can alert the Court to that.

ALBERT LAFFERTY

Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified further as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Continued)

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. Good morning.

A. Good morning.
Q. Deputy Lafferty, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury yesterday that you were involved in the execution of the search warrant on Neverland Ranch on the 18th of November, 2003, correct.
A. That’s correct.
Q. Now, can you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, what time was it when you arrived on the ranch that morning.
A. I arrived on the ranch property at approximately 9:07 that morning.

Q. And I think you told us yesterday one of your main responsibilities was to photograph the interior of the main residence; is that correct.
A. To videotape the --
Q. Videotape.
A. That’s correct.
Q. And did you keep time -- track of the time in which you actually started your responsibilities of videotaping the inside of the residence.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Did you note that in a report.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And what time was it that you started the video of the interior of the main residence at Neverland Valley Ranch.
A. I would have to look on my report to find the exact --
Q. Do you have it with you.
A. I do have a copy of it.
Q. All right. Go ahead. See if that refreshes your recollection.
A. At approximately 0955 hours I began the video of the main residence.
Q. Now, later that same day, were you assigned responsibilities in connection with documenting the status of the inside of the interior when the sheriff’s department left.

A. Yes, I was.

Q. Would you explain to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what your responsibilities were.

A. It’s basically the same as I had done the prewarrant service video. I retraced my steps the same way, going back through the residence, showing the condition of the residence after the search had been completed.

Q. And do you recall what time you started doing that particular video documentary.

A. If I could refer to my report for --

Q. Please. If you could.

A. At approximately 8:40 p.m., I was told that the search had been completed in the main residence, with the exception of the master bedroom area, and I began the video of the residence at that time.

Q. Now, at some point that evening, did you actually go up and video-document the main bedroom.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. The defendant’s bedroom.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. What time did that start.

A. That was at approximately 10:38 p.m.

Q. And do you have in your notes the time that you actually finished that project.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. What was that.

A. That was at 10:55 p.m.

Q. Now, after you left the defendant’s bedroom, did you do any more video-documenting before you left the house.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what it was you did.

A. Prior to leaving the residence, I went back into the dining room, I believe what would be the formal dining room area of the residence, and videotaped copies of the search warrant and the property, itemized list of the items that were taken from the residence during the search warrant. They were laid out on the dining room table and videoed the fact that they had been left at the residence.

Q. Were there people actually present when you did that.

A. Yes, there were.

Q. Who was present, to your knowledge.

A. I believe it was Sergeant Robel and Lieutenant Klapakis.

Q. Were there any representatives of Mr. Jackson there.

A. Yes, there were.

Q. Do you remember her name, or their name.

A. I believe her name was Violet. I don't recall the last name.

Q. Okay. And then did you prepare a report documenting the times at which you performed the various functions you've told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury about.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. You incorporated that into an official Santa Barbara Sheriff's Department report.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Now, with regard to the film that you took on the occasion of the 18th, what did you do with that film.

A. That evening, when I returned to the station, it was secured in a locked locker within our forensics unit property area. And then at a later date, it was booked into evidence.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I have an exhibit which I've had marked -- premarked, with the help of the court clerk, as 336. It's a DVD. And counsel has a copy of it, but -- may I approach the witness for just a second with this, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to stay here because I'm going to ask you a few questions and walk back.

The particular exhibit marked as 336, the DVD inside of that container there, have you had an occasion to view that before you came to court.

A. Yes, I did.
Q. Does that contain the product of your walk-through of the ranch on the 18th of November of 2003.

A. Yes, it does.
Q. All right.
MR. SNEDDON: Move that People’s Exhibit 336 be admitted into evidence.
MR. SANGER: No objection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. It’s admitted.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I propose to play this for the jury now, with the Court’s permission.
THE COURT: All right. How long is it.
MR. SNEDDON: It’s, I would say, 12 minutes, something like that. Between ten and 12 minutes, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Thank you.
MR. SNEDDON: And -- don’t start it.
With the Court’s permission, we may stop it from time to time to ask the officer a comment on certain locations.
THE COURT: Of course.
MR. SNEDDON: Can you do that.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, Deputy Lafferty, what is being depicted on the scene up there on the screen right now.
A. This is the view from just outside the main entry door of the main residence on the ranch.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead.
Your Honor, for purposes of the record, when we stop it, we have a recorder, we can reference the point on the tape for the Court for the record. Would that be appropriate.
THE COURT: You may do that.
MR. SNEDDON: This would be at 00.17. Thank you. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, Detective Lafferty, do you recognize the area on the video where we've stopped it at this point.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And what is that.

A. This is just inside of the main door, looking to the right as you would face the door from the exterior. And it's a view looking down the hallway towards the master bedroom area.

MR. SNEDDON: This would be at 00.29. All right. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, do you recognize what's at the still at this particular point on the documentary.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. What's that.

A. This is an area that had a large number of items in reference to where it is in the residence. It's -- as you enter through the front door, if you would proceed straight through the foyer to that, and then turn to the left.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. That's at 00.39. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: Stop it right there.

Q. Now, we're at a point on the video, which is 01.40. Can you tell us what this shows.

A. This is the hallway leading from the foyer area towards the master bedroom.

Q. Do you see in this photograph the master bedroom doors.

A. There's a small portion of it visible, yes.

Q. Would you show that to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury.

A. It's the dark brown door here to the -- to the right of the screen.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: Stop.

Q. Now, we're at 01.44. Could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what's depicted here.

A. This is a view looking down. It's just the inside of the door, the prior stop, the master bedroom door, just inside there.

Q. So we're at the entrance of the master bedroom.

A. Just inside of that, yes.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Stop.

Q. All right. Deputy Lafferty, we're at 02.19 on the video. What is depicted where we stopped it.

A. This is a staircase leading up to the bed area and the master bedroom.

Q. We're still inside the suite, the bedroom area.

A. That's correct.

MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead. Play it.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead. Keep going. All right. Stop it there.

Q. Now, we're at a point on the video which is 03.07. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where you're located approximately in the bedroom at this point.

A. This is just up at the top landing of the stairs starting to turn to the right.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: Stop.

Q. Now, we’re at a point at four -- 04.48. Can you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where we are in that particular portion of the house at this point in the video documentary.

A. This is still in the master bedroom suite back down on the first level. Just inside, actually behind us, would be the main entry door, just starting to go towards the left.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Deputy, could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where we are at this point.

A. This is the doorway leading into the master bedroom/bath area.

MR. SNEDDON: And this is at 05.14. All right. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Stop it.

Q. Now, where are we on the documentary at this point.

A. This is just exiting the bathroom area back into a sitting area, which is the first room you come into as you enter the master bedroom suite.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. We’re at 06.54. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: Stop.

Q. Now, Deputy Lafferty, with regard to the documentation of the search of Neverland Valley Ranch on November 18th, did you also have other responsibilities after you had completed the video documentary.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. What was that.

A. To assist Detective Clark in taking still photographs of items that was requested by the searching people at the location.

Q. Would you describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury how that process worked.

A. We stood by and the people who -- when the warrant was executed, there were different teams that were assigned to search various locations. When those people would conduct a search and find an item that they would like to have documented, they would contact us, and we would go and take still photographs of that item before it was collected.

Q. When you say to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury “before it was collected,” does that mean where it is before it’s either touched or picked up.

A. To the best of our knowledge, yes.

Q. And then you would take a photograph of that.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And with regard to the area that we’ve just seen in the photograph that you’ve described as the master bedroom and the - the first floor and second floor, okay. - were you involved in photo-documenting the location of items that were taken from this particular area of the house.

A. There were only a few items that I took photographs of. The majority of that was done by Detective Clark.

Q. So there were two of you there doing that.

A. Yes.

Q. But you were responsible for taking some of the photographs.

All right. Go ahead. Move on.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

Q. Let’s stop right here. That’s a good place right away. Do you recognize this room.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen what this room is, where it’s located in the house generally.

A. This room was a room that we refer to as the doll room. It consists of a lot of dolls in there. It's located on the second level of the main residence outside of the master suite. As you enter the end of the foyer, there was a staircase to the right-hand side as you followed the stairs up. When you reached the second story, you went to the left side, which the room is located on the -- what would be the northwest area of the floor.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Stop.

Q. Now, we've obviously moved into another room. And we've stopped it at 08.14. Could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what this particular room is.

A. This is a room that we referred to as the toy room. It is located off of what we referred to as the doll room. It would be on the west side of that location. As you went through shortly before this picture, you entered a rest room area, and would proceed to the right. It went through another door which led into this room.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 336, was played for the Court.)

MR. SNEDDON: That's it. Don't go back.

Q. Okay. I just have one last final question. With regard to the video footage that we've just -- that the ladies and gentlemen of the jury have just seen, was that part of the footage from the -- when you first got there, or was that from the footage before you left that evening.

A. This was the prewarrant service footage.

Q. So it's the condition of the house as it was when you arrived there on the morning of the 13th of November of 2003.

A. November the 18th.

Q. Thank you. I just wanted to see if you were still awake.

No further questions.

THE COURT: Cross-examine.

MR. SANGER: Thank you, Your Honor.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. SANGER:

Q. Is it Detective or Deputy.

A. At the time that this was, I was a detective. I have since been reassigned and it’s Deputy now.

Q. You prefer “Deputy”.

A. That’s fine.

Q. There you go. All right. Deputy Lafferty, why don’t we just pick up where we left off - that’s always a good place - and we’ll go to some of the other areas.

First of all, the video that we just saw -- and I’m going to go back over some of the parts again. But the video that we just saw, Exhibit 336, was taken on the day of the search of the ranch, correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And it was November the 18th, 2003; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. Now, prior to that search, you were briefed along with quite a number of other officers about what was going to take place; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And you received a briefing outline, briefing memo of some sort; do you recall that.

A. Not all of us were given that. But teams were assigned, and there was a packet given to each team leader.

Q. Did you get a packet.

A. No, I did not.

Q. You were aware of the purpose of the search; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were aware that this arose out of allegations by the Arvizo family; is that correct.

A. I do not know who the victim was.

Q. Do you recall that the allegations were with regard to activities that may or may not have occurred in February and March of 2003; is that correct.

A. I don’t recall.

Q. All right. In any event, what you have shown here on the video is part of the tape that you did that day, right.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And the tape you did that day documents what the premises looked like on November 8 -- I’m sorry, November 18th, 2003, correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And it does not document how the premises looked in February or March of 2003.

A. That’s correct.

Q. All right. Now, how many officers came out to the Neverland Valley location.

A. I’m not aware of the total number.

Q. Was it about 45 or so.

A. I don’t know.

Q. You indicated that you arrived at the ranch at 9:07, and you started your video at 0955 hours; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. That’s about the same time that Chris Pappas -- what’s -- what’s Mr. Pappas’s rank.

A. Sergeant.

Q. Sergeant. That’s about the time that Sergeant Pappas issued a press release to the press; is that correct.

A. I don’t know. I wasn’t aware what time he did that.

Q. You were aware he did that, though, is that right.

A. At some point during the day, yes.
Q. And the officers -- well, you don't know how many, but there were quite a number, were there not, sir.
A. Yes, there were.
Q. You've been trained in the academy before you became a sheriff's deputy, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And part of your training in the academy is to observe and document what you see at a scene; is that correct.
A. Correct.
Q. All right. And you were not responsible for counting the number of officers, I take it.
A. No, I was not.
Q. But as a trained deputy, you can tell me generally how many people were out there, can't you. More than, say, 30.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. And this was Mr. Jackson's home, that was your understanding; is that correct.
A. That's correct.

Q. And it's a home that he appeared to live in; is that right.
A. Yes.
Q. With his family.
A. It appeared so.
Q. And he had, at that time, and has three children; is that correct.
A. I believe so. I don't know the total number.
Q. When you went through the house, you saw that there were bedrooms for his three children; did you not.
A. There were three bedrooms upstairs, yes.
Q. And they actually had name tags on the door, didn't they.
A. There were tags on the doors, yes.
Q. Okay. And each of those bedrooms for the children had a key pad to keep people from coming in without a combination if the door was locked; is that correct.

A. I do recall seeing key pads on the doors.

Q. And Mr. Jackson’s suite, the part that you showed on the video there, where you go through the double doors, had a key pad to restrict access; is that correct.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. Okay. Now, we’ll go back over it so everybody has a clearer picture, but just to do a word picture first, when you come into the house -- you showed some pictures. You come into the house, there’s a -- what you might call a living room area; is that right.

A. There’s the foyer area where the stairs are. There’s a hallway leading north from where the front door area is.

Q. And if you go north, there’s an area that has a castle.

A. That’s correct.

Q. But it also has chairs and a television set and clocks and that sort of thing; is that correct.

A. I don’t recall any seating areas in the areas with the castle.

Q. Okay. We’ll go back and look at the pictures again. But you also showed an area that had sort of a blue plaid -- or a sitting area with a fireplace or -- a fireplace; is that right.

A. Right.

Q. And that’s sort of a family room area; is that right.

A. Yes, that’s just off of the kitchen.

Q. That’s off that big kitchen area that you showed with the copper hood and all that.

A. Correct.

Q. Next to that is a dining area; is that correct --

A. Yes.

Q. -- with a dining table. Something you didn’t show on the video, if you were going to the right of what I’m calling the living room area, is a library; is that right. Do you remember that.

A. Yes. If you walk through the foyer area, and go to the right, there was what appeared to be a library or a study area.

Q. So when you go into -- let me withdraw that. When you’re in that part of the house that we’ve just described, that’s all pretty open. In other words, you can walk freely from the back door through the kitchen, to the family area, the living room, the study, or library, the dining area, the front foyer and the front door, right.

A. Right.

Q. Correct. The actual living areas for Mr. Jackson and his children are accessible by using the key pads; is that right.

A. When I was in the residence, those doors were all open. But there were key pads next to the doors.

Q. Okay. So to get to the children’s room, you would go upstairs, off the foyer to the right, you’d go upstairs, and the children’s rooms are all up in that area; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. That’s the same place where you saw what you described as the doll room; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And the area you called the toy room, we might call it a craft room, but that’s in the same area where the children’s suite is; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. Okay. And, in fact, above that -- you didn’t show us a picture of this -- but above that or in that area is a classroom. Remember the classroom.

A. There was another -- appeared to be another toy room. There were numerous toys, things in that area, yes.

Q. And there were little desks and sort of a little mini classroom, don’t you -- do you recall that.

A. There were a number of things in there. I don’t specifically remember desks.

Q. Remember there was a train set.

A. I do remember the train.

Q. In one end -- and if you go in the other end, there’s a more open area. There may or may not have been desks there; is that what you’re telling us.

A. I don’t specifically recall a desk. But --

Q. All right. Going back -- just doing this with a word picture so the film will make a little more sense, hopefully. When you -- if we go back to the front door, and instead of going up the stairs to the children’s area we go to the right, there’s a hallway. That I think you showed on there; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And that’s where the double doors are to Mr. Jackson’s private area; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And that’s where he has a key pad, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And inside of that area he has what you called a sitting room, but it’s like a living room on the first floor; is that right.

A. Correct.

Q. There’s a grand piano.

A. Yes.

Q. There are books.

A. Yes.

Q. Lots of books.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. There’s a big screen T.V..

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And while you’re in that first floor area, you showed us on the video something that you referred to as the bathroom; remember that.

A. Yes.
Q. And that had that Jacuzzi tub in there.

A. Yes.
Q. Now, if you walk through the door, and you do a right face, you would be facing that big screen T.V.. If you walk through the door, get in the middle of the room, do a right face, you're facing the big screen T.V., correct.
A. It would be 90 degrees to the T.V.
Q. Okay. Half right.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Do a half right face. Point is, on that wall with the big screen T.V., you then have a door to the left.
A. Correct.
Q. And that goes into what you call the master bathroom, is that correct, or you call it a bathroom. Whatever you call it.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. That has a Jacuzzi.
A. Right.
Q. And that area with the Jacuzzi actually has a number of books, there's writing materials, there's VCRs, there's all sorts of things in there; is that correct.
A. That's correct.
Q. There's a place to sit that -- perhaps when the house was designed it was a vanity, but there's a place to sit, which appears to also include stacks of books and VCRs and things like that, correct.

A. Yes.
Q. The actual water closet, as they say in England, but the toilet area is in a separate room off to the right of that; is that correct.
A. That's correct.
Q. And there's a closet in there that has even more books and other things in it; is that correct.
A. That's correct.

Q. And, in fact, right there, there's a back door to go out the back of the house, is there not.

A. Yes, there is.

Q. Okay. And then if we back out of there and we come back, having done that half right, we're facing the big screen T.V., on the right side there's another bathroom area; is that correct.

A. Yes, there is.

Q. Okay. And there's a lot of stuff stored all over the place there, is that right, when you were there.

A. Yes, there was.

Q. A lot of movie memorabilia.

A. Yes.

Q. And you saw, you know, original things that appeared to be signed by all sorts of celebrities.

A. Yes.

Q. Walt Disney, Shirley Temple, Steven Spielberg, people like that.

A. Yes.

Q. And as you go in that bathroom area, there is an actual water closet or bathroom sink area that's off of that; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And then you go up those stairs, up to the area where the bed is that you showed us; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, what kind of equipment were you using to film this.

A. I was using a Sony DVCAM.

Q. Okay. And how do you operate that.

A. It's a basic camera used by a lot of the media that you see outside. It's a larger format camera.

Q. Okay. Do you put it on your shoulder.

A. It's a shoulder-mount-held, yes.

Q. And you're looking through at -- your eye level is roughly the level of the lens; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay. And how tall are you, sir.
A. Five-ten.
Q. Okay. So when you walk up the stairs, you’re walking up the stairs shooting at your eye level for a five-ten person; is that correct.
A. That’s correct.
Q. All right.

All right. Let me venture into the unknown and try to work this, if I may, Your Honor. What I propose to do is -- with the approval of the Court, and if there’s no objection from the People, I propose to fast forward and just go to the particular points that I want to highlight, if that’s all right.
THE COURT: I think that would be good.
MR. SANGER: All right.
(Laughter.)
MR. SNEDDON: I better not have any objection.
MR. SANGER: And Mr. Sneddon’s free to play it all again, if he wants.
MR. SNEDDON: I’m not that stupid.
MR. SANGER: Did you turn it off. It’s already -- okay. Okay. I’m actually going to pause here quickly.
Q. There’s a little shot right at the beginning, the first few seconds, when you put this in the machine, it shows this area. And I don’t think you commented on this.
There appear to be some big video games and some arcade kind of games in the picture here. I stopped it at 07.
A. Yes, that’s correct.
Q. Where is that located.
A. I have been informed that this was the arcade room, which was a building behind the main residence.

Q. Now, when you say you’ve been informed, does that mean you took this.

A. I did not shoot this video, no.

Q. Were you in that building.

A. No, I was not.

Q. Do you know who shot this footage.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Who do you believe shot this.

A. Detective Wittenbrock.

Q. Okay. Now, your official designation at the time you were doing this was as a forensic deputy, is that -- or what was the official title that you had.

A. I was a detective assigned to the forensics bureau.

Q. Forensics bureau. Now, there’s what’s called crime scene investigators, or sometimes referred to as CSI crime scene investigator. I’m not talking about television. I’m talking about in your department. Unlike television, in your department, a CSI may not be an actual forensic deputy; is that correct.

A. That is my job, crime scene investigation.

MR. SANGER: Oops. Need to get closer. I didn’t know what the bailiff was doing to me right then.

(Laughter.)

MR. SANGER: I’m glad it was a friendly gesture.

THE COURT: She wasn’t going to hug you.

MR. SANGER: I knew she was armed. I was afraid it might be something else.

Q. The -- okay. So at least at some point in your department, they might have a sergeant go out and be a CSI for a particular crime scene; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. But you now have a forensics bureau, and the forensic -- the officers, the deputies assigned to the forensic bureau are supposed to be the crime scene investigators, forensic experts or specialists in your department; is that correct.

A. Correct.
Q. All right. And you were one of them.
A. Yes.
Q. How many forensic people did you have on November 18th, 2003.
A. I believe there were seven of us.
Q. How many of them were detailed to this particular case.
A. All of them.
Q. Okay. Were they all out there that day.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, we were talking about who was out there. Besides however many police officers there were, there were a number of D.A.'s investigators; is that correct.

A. Correct.
Q. Those are people who work for the District Attorney's Office as opposed to the sheriff or the police department; is that correct.
A. Correct.
Q. In addition to that, Mr. Sneddon actually came out and walked through Mr. Jackson's home; is that correct.
A. Correct.
Q. And Mr. Franklin came out and did the same, is that correct, Deputy D.A. Franklin.
A. I recall seeing him outside the residence. I don't know if he walked through.
Q. Now, let's go through this quickly, if we can.
So we have some footage here -- let's see, I've got to point this right at it, I guess. There we go.
We have some footage that fades out, and now the rest of this film is what you shot; correct.
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. So, we've been over it, but that's the front door leading into the foyer. And in the distance you can see an area that has -- well, let's see, you have your pointer there.

A. Yes.

Q. Is there a big clock right in there; do you recall.

A. The pillar directly in this area, yeah.

Q. That’s a big clock right there. All right.

Oops. I’ll point that there.

Now, we just saw off to the left -- this may or may not work the way I’m -- there we go.

Okay. There’s a fella standing there.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that a real person.

A. No, it’s not.

Q. A mannequin.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. There are a number of mannequins all over Neverland.

A. Yes, there are.

Q. Some down by the -- by the big gates, when you come through the big gates --

A. Yes.

Q. -- in a little house there.

They’re all over the house in various places --

A. Yes.

Q. -- correct.

That one appears to be a butler and he’s holding a dish with cookies in it; is that right.

A. That’s correct.

Q. Did you go into Mr. Jackson’s office.

A. No, I did not.

Q. Let’s see if I can fast forward here.

Okay. And then that’s a double door to the right of the door that we talked about. You go down a little hallway. There are books in the bookcases there; is that right.

A. That’s correct.

Q. That’s not the actual library we talked about, though, is it.

A. No, it’s not.

Q. If you go to the left through the double doors that you can see in the picture there, can you point that out to the --

A. There is a set of double doors right here, which led into that library area also.

Q. Okay. And there’s a library of books all over the place in there on bookshelves, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And if you go down this little hallway, that’s where the double doors are to Mr. Jackson’s suite --

A. Yes.

Q. -- that you described.

Okay. And just to the left of that -- so we don’t take too much time, I’ll fast forward. But just to the left of this is the stairway. Outside the picture, there’s a stairway that goes up to the children’s suite.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, this is the area here at .38, .39. See the sitting area there.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Okay. This is what I was referring to as the living room. Does that make sense.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And then this is the family room. I said plaid -- there’s plaid on the wall, blue couches there.

A. Yes.

Q. Family room.

And that’s -- if you turn right around and did an about face from where you were just showing the family room, you do an about face, you’re looking at the kitchen.

A. Yes.

Q. And it’s open, this counter is right in between the two, right.

A. Yes, there is.

Q. And when you were there, when the -- when the sheriffs arrived, there were a number of employees in this area; is that correct.

A. I was told that there were, yes.

Q. Okay. And so this is an open area where employees are, guests might come in, that sort of thing; is that your understanding.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. All right. I'll fast forward again.

Okay. Back to the -- that's down the hallway. And that's going into Mr. Jackson's area. We're at 153. That's going into his first-floor area.

And then to the right, this is -- this is that right-hand area that we talked about. It actually -- you got into the closet here, I guess. We're looking at the screen at 203.

A. Yes.

Q. But there's the right-hand bathroom. And you said if you face that big screen T.V. on the right side, the half right there, the big screen T.V., on the right side is the bathroom area and closets, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. There's the stairway. And you're coming up the stairway there with the camera up to your eye, and you get up to the top there, and you look in; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object to that question. It's not at the top. The video speaks for itself in relationship to where it is.

THE COURT: Overruled. Go ahead.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.

Q. We're going to fast forward here.

Now, we're back down -- this is the area that you did the half right to the video screen, a big screen T.V. And you go to the left and you go into this area, correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. And this you described as a bathroom. It does have that Jacuzzi tub at the end, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. And I'll try to fast forward. Can you show us where the door to the back is.

A. It was behind the curtains in this area.

Q. If you go by that safe and you go to the right, and that's the actual door; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And those curtains are -- the curtains fit outside to the garden, I would suspect; is that right.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. There are curtains over windows to the outside. All right. And then if you go to the right, there's a safe there.

A. Yes.

Q. With a picture of a little girl on the thing. And if you go to the right there, that's an area -- sort of a closet area, has a lot of books and other things in it; is that correct.

A. Right here, this area, is that what you're referring to.

Q. Yes.

A. That is the area that has the toilet in it.

Q. Are there two doors, or just one there.

A. There's two doors on that side of the room.

Q. And you believe that's the one that goes to the toilet area.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. Okay. Could that be the one that goes to the toilet area, the one on the right.

A. The one on the left is the one that goes into the toilet area.

Q. You're right. There's a toilet; how about that.

So the other one is the one that goes into the closet that has books and other memorabilia and stuff.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And here we have the sort of living room. There's a couch. There's a fireplace. To the left, you can’t see it, but there’s a big screen T.V., which we’re about to see. There it is, with the movie cut out in front of it. And then you go back out the door.

All right. I’m going to stop it. And we can turn it off, I think.

THE BAILIFF: Can you just hit “black screen”.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: Now, how long was the actual video that you did in this -- on this location. I mean, you did one video before the search. How long was that video.

A. It was approximately an hour.

Q. Okay. And then you did more documentation afterwards. About how long was that.

A. I did a total of three tapes. The post-search video was approximately an hour also.

Q. All right. So out of the first hour, you selected so many minutes that we just saw there; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, you did take some still photos, you said, of various items. Did you take any still photos in one of the bathroom areas, which you’ve described as the bathroom.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you take photos of a briefcase.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. All right. Now, at some point, as the forensic investigator in this case, did you take charge of the materials that were inside of that briefcase.

A. The initial collection was done by the detectives who were conducting the search. It was later turned over to us, which was secured in our lab.

Q. All right. What -- do you know the sheriff’s number for the materials that were inside that briefcase.

A. No, I do not.

Q. Does 317 ring a bell.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Okay. Did you bring your reports with you.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Can you tell by looking at your various reports what the number of those items was.

A. I do not show -- I’m sorry. I do have one report that refers to No. 317.

Q. Okay. So the contents of the briefcase were Sheriff’s Item 317; is that correct.

A. I was not involved with the assignment of the number. I don’t know what number it was assigned at the time.

Q. Let’s talk about numbers just for a second. We have exhibit numbers in court here that are assigned by the clerk. There may be reference to exhibit numbers from another proceeding; for instance, the grand jury. But when the sheriff -- when your department seizes evidence, you mark down a number on an inventory sheet, and then you put that number on a tag, and you put that on the actual item that’s seized; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. So you can keep track -- no matter what numbers the Court gives, or, say, the grand jury gives something, there’s also the sheriff’s number. And we can go back to that, and you can say that’s the item, because it was given that number; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, do you remember checking the contents of the briefcase out of the sheriff’s lockup; in other words, sheriff’s evidence lockup to take to the lab.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object, because there were several briefcases taken. And I’m -- it’s unclear as to which one he’s talking about. He has no personal knowledge as to what the itemization of the number was, so lack of foundation would be the short way of putting it.

THE COURT: Foundation; sustained.
MR. SANGER: Okay.
Q. All right. And you can’t tell -- you can’t tell us from your reports what items you took out of the sheriff’s lockup to do testing on.
A. Yes, I can.
Q. Do you want to tell us what numbers those were.
A. The original ones which I was assigned to begin with was 304, 306, 307, 309, and 313.
Q. Did you eventually take 317.
A. The only involvement that I had with that initially was I picked up Item 317 from the Department of Justice Lab and took it back for photo documentation at our lab.

Q. All right. And what date was that.
A. That was on 5-20-04.
Q. Do you recall on January 30th assisting Deputy Herman. Is that Lisa Herman.
A. Hemman.
Q. Sorry. Hemman. Do you recall assisting Deputy Hemman in going through various evidence items.
A. Yes, I do.
Q. And among those evidence items was 317, one of those items.
A. It may have been. I don’t recall the specific number.
Q. And when you were working with Deputy Hemman -- when you were assisting Deputy Hemman, what were you doing. Were you doing fingerprints.
A. That was an alternate light source search.
Q. So you weren’t looking for fingerprints.
A. No.
Q. You were looking at the items to see if there was some other substance, fluid, blood, semen, something on them; is that right.
A. Correct.
Q. And you didn’t find anything on 317.

A. I don’t know.

Q. All right. Okay.

Can I have -- and I suppose the clerk has them now -- the exhibits that this witness referred to. And I think it was 4 or 5 through about 12. The photographs. Okay. Thank you.

Now, venturing into yet another area, with the Court’s permission, I’m going to try to use the overhead projector. And let’s see here. I think we hit that button.

THE BAILIFF: And you hit the “black screen” button. And is it on.

MR. SANGER: Yes, it is. How about that.

Q. I want to direct your attention -- okay. If you put the lights on it there’s a little more light, but then there’s glare.

If you look at Exhibit 8, which has been received in evidence - and I put it up on the overhead camera - that’s one of the pictures you told us that you had taken, and then you put the labeling on to show what the various parts of the ranch were, correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And with your laser there, if you could, show us where the lake is. I think we can see it. But just to orient, because it’s a little dark.

A. The dark area, beginning in the center of the photograph, extending up and to the left, around. That area there.

Q. Okay. And right there where it says “Guesthouse,” those are the guest units on the property; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And they’re right on the lake; is that right.

A. That’s correct.

Q. Did you determine what the numbers of the guest units were. 1, 2, 3, 4.

A. No, I do not.
Q. There are four, though, four units in that area, correct.
A. I’m not aware of how many there are.
Q. In any event, there’s a guesthouse that appears to have more than one unit. Would you grant me that.
A. Yes.
Q. There you go.
And then the main house is depicted. You can see the main house from the guesthouse, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And, in fact, you just walk -- how far is the main house from the guesthouse.
A. 75 yards.
Q. Oh. Now, see the train station there.
A. Yes.
Q. And the train station is actually up on a hill; is that right.

A. Yes.
Q. And there’s a road that leads -- in the picture that’s going up, but actually goes downhill towards the main house and the guesthouse; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Can you show the jury where that is, please.
A. This is the building of the train station here. And this is the road that leads up past the main house.
Q. So the main house is on the left and the guesthouse is on the right.
A. Correct.
Q. And there’s a clock that -- a large decorative clock that is located right in front of that train station; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And I’m going to put up No. 12, which has been received into evidence.
No. 12 is an aerial shot of that clock; is that correct.
A. Yes, it is.

Q. And of course, from the air, everything looks flat on the ground. You don’t really see the contours of the hills and so on; is that right.

A. Correct.

Q. And, in fact, the clock itself is created on about a 45-degree angle; was it not.

A. I was not in that area, so I couldn’t say.

Q. So you took the picture from up above.

A. Yes.

Q. And how high were you. What was your elevation when you took that picture.

A. We were about 1200 to 1500 feet.

Q. Okay. So this clock would be visible from thousands of feet in the area; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. And it tells time. It’s a working clock, correct.

A. I do not know that.

Q. When you -- when you were on the ground there, you didn’t look over and see that clock.

A. I did see the clock.

Q. So when you’re on the ground, by the house and the guest units, you could look over and see that clock, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And when I said “45-degree angle,” I’m not trying to quibble. I don’t know. I didn’t measure. Okay. But it’s not on the ground flat, facing into space.

A. Correct. It is at an angle.

Q. It’s at an angle so you can see it from the property.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you notice that there were a number of other clocks that were positioned in various place on this property.

A. The only area that I was on the property was at the main residence.

MR. SANGER: Okay. Let me just have one moment, Your Honor, please.

I have no further questions. Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: No questions, Your Honor.

Your Honor, I --

THE COURT: You may step down, Officer. Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: I have the next witness ready. It’s five minutes to break time. Do you want to take the break five minutes early before we start that witness.

THE COURT: No, we can start the witness.

MR. SNEDDON: It will take two minutes to get her here.

MR. SANGER: Let me use ten seconds of the two minutes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Well, the witness is on its way. You can go ahead.

MR. SANGER: I was just going to say before Deputy Lafferty leaves, that we would like him to remain on re-call. And I think we will have to call him back when we have other officers to testify to the chain of custody on the items we’re talking about.

THE COURT: All right. Officer, you’ll remain on call, please.

MR. SANGER: Thank you, Your Honor.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, I’m sorry. My understanding was that the witness was right behind your door, right off your room in the anteroom there, and it would take less than 20 seconds to get here. It’s one of the children in this case. I apologize, but that was my understanding. It’s not -- she’s not up in my office.

Jill. Right off your room in the anteroom there, and it would take

THE COURT: Come forward to the witness stand, please. Remain standing. Face the clerk, over here, raise your right hand.

DAVELLIN ARVIZO

Having been sworn, testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: Yes.

THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Davellin Arvizo. D-a-v-e-l-l-i-n, A-r-v-i-z-o.

THE BAILIFF: You’re going to have to scoot real close.

//

//

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. Good morning.

A. Good morning.

Q. You’re going to lean right into that and talk to it so everybody can hear what you have to say. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Miss Arvizo, how old are you.

A. I’m 18 years old.

Q. And you currently go to school; without giving me the name of the school, but a school.

A. Yes.

Q. And what level are you in the school.

A. I’m a freshman in college.

Q. And do you have a full-time job.

A. Yes, I work full time.

THE COURT: Just a moment. Just a moment. Mr. Sneddon, they can’t hear. It is time for the break. Maybe you could work with her on the mike for a moment after we take our break. We’ll take our break.

(Recess taken.)

--o0o--

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 529 through 579 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 3, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 3, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 581 THROUGH 766)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney -and-
1112 Santa Barbara Street Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU
BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ. -and-
SUSAN C. YU, ESQ. 1875 Century Park East, Suite 700
Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ.
233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK
BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ. 14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard
Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

EXHIBITS

PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
13	Photo of Fritz, Davellin, Star and Gavin	588	588
14	Photo of Davellin, Star, Gavin and Chris	605	606
17	Photo of Dieter Weizner	648	648
18	Photo of Ronald Konitzer	648	648
19	Photo of Vincent Amen aka Vinnie Black	712	714
20	Photo of Frank Cascio aka Frank Tyson	647	648
21	Photo of Aldo Cascio	647	648
22	Photo of Marie Nicole Cascio	647	648
23	Photo of Brad Miller	712	714
28	Photo of Jamie Masada	586	587
29	Photo of Hamid Moslehi	720	720
30	Photo of Jesus Salazar Salas	712	714
31	Photo of Janet Arvizo	617	618
35	Photo of David Gavino Arvizo	617	618
43	Photo of Grace Rwaramba	646	648
48	Photo of Jay Jackson	646	648
49	Photo of Davellin, Gavin, Star and Louise	605	606
125	Photo of Calabasas Country Inn and Suites	713	714
135	Photo of kitchen of Calabasas Inn, Room 200	713	714
138	Photo of Room 200 looking toward entrance and hallway	713	714

EXHIBITS

PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
194	Photo of View of living room of Hamid Moslehi's residence	713	714
199	Photo of Star, Gavin and Kobe Bryant	605	606

337	Photo of Gavin and Star	606	606
338	Photo of Davellin, Gavin and Star	618	618
339	Photo of interior of the private jet from Miami	669	670

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, just to forewarn the Court, we may be wanting you to go to Input 1, to hook up the computer to --

THE COURT: I’ll be ready.

MR. SNEDDON: I hope so.

Q. So how we doing on the mike.

A. Fine.

Q. Lean into it.

A. Sorry.

Q. All right. Talk loud. Okay.

Now, you’re a full-time student at a college as a freshman, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you have a job.

A. Yes. I work full time.

Q. Now, let’s go back in time a little bit.

A. Okay.

Q. All right. And let’s go back to the year of 1999.

A. Okay.

Q. Okay. Where did you go to school then.

A. It was either eighth grade or the beginning of freshman year in coll -- no, high school.

Q. And let's talk about the eighth grade in 1999. All right. Where did you go to the eighth grade; what school.

A. Hollywood Middle School.

Q. Then you went to high school as a freshman in the same year, '99.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. You have to say "Yes" or "No."

A. Yes.

Q. And what high school did you go to.

A. I went to Hollywood High School.

Q. Where were you living at this time.

A. In East L.A.

Q. How is it that you ended up at Hollywod High School when you lived in East Los Angeles.

A. The school bus would come pick me up because I was a magnet student.

Q. Could you explain to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what a magnet student means.

A. You have to have good grades. And they have, like, special extracurricular activities.

Q. And what particular extracurricular activities were you involved in.

A. Performing arts.

Q. And were you doing that as like a -- what aspect of that.

A. Like fixing the stage and stuff like that.

Q. So you were the technical person, huh.

A. Yeah.

Q. You weren't the performer.

A. No.

Q. Now, how long were you at Hollywood High.

A. For about two years.

Q. So it would be through your freshman and sophomore years.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, during the time that you were at Hollywood High, during your time that you were there, where were you living. Specifically, what address.

A. Um, it was on Soto Street. It was a bachelor’s apartment.

Q. Could you describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what the size of the interior of this apartment was.

A. About from here to that other wall. It wasn’t very big at all.

Q. “From here,” do you mean from the railing of the jury box.

A. Yeah.

Q. To the far wall of the courtroom.

A. No, the end of that wall.

Q. Where the sign says “Lorna Frey”.

A. Uh-huh.

MR. SNEDDON: I wanted to get you on the record.

(Laughter.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, how many people were living in this apartment or --

A. At the beginning, five.

Q. Five. And who would that be.

A. My father, my mother, and me and my brothers.

Q. All right. Let’s go back. Your father’s name is.

A. David.

Q. And his last name.

A. Arvizo.

Q. And your mother’s first name.

A. Janet.

Q. And your brother’s first name.

A. Gavin.

Q. Is Gavin younger or older than you.

A. He’s younger.

Q. And do you have another brother.

A. Yes.

Q. And that brother’s name.
A. Star.
Q. And is he younger or older than Gavin.
A. He’s younger.
Q. And you now have another brother; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And his name is.
A. Jett.
Q. And how old is Jett.
A. He’s seven months.
Q. So at that time, there were the five of you living in this apartment.

A. Uh-huh. Yes.
Q. Now, during the -- sometime in 2000, did something happen with regard to one or more of your brothers.
A. Yes. Gavin was diagnosed with cancer.
Q. Do you remember approximately when that was.
A. Before I was a freshman in high school. During the summer of eighth grade.
Q. Now, what happened when Gavin was diagnosed with cancer. Where did -- did they have to take him somewhere for treatment or --
A. Yeah, he would go to Kaiser Hospital.
Q. Did you ever go with him to the hospital.
A. I would visit him once in a while. As much as I could. Because I was in school at that time, too.
Q. At some point -- at this time, the family unit, your father, your mother and your brothers, are still living with you; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. All together.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, when Gavin was in the hospital - okay. - to your knowledge, did Gavin know at that time a person by the name of Jamie Masada.
A. Yes. We already knew him before then.
Q. All right. Now, could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury how you knew Jamie Masada.

A. In the summer of 1999 we were in a comedy camp.

Q. Okay.

A. At his club.

Q. Do you know the name of the club.

A. The Laugh Factory.

Q. And you say “we” were, who was in the camp.

A. Me and my brothers.

Q. And you met Mr. Masada at that time.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you meet any other people, comedians, at that time.

A. Yeah. Every time we had a meeting, a new star would come and just teach us little techniques and stuff.

Q. And who were some of the people that came to that camp.

A. Fritz. Paul Rodriguez. One of the -- Shawn Wayans went. George Lopez. That’s all I can remember right now.

Q. Okay. I’m going to show you a photograph.

MR. MESEREAU: May I see what that is.

MR. SNEDDON: I’ll bring it over.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I have a photograph that’s been premarked as No. 28 for identification purposes.

Q. Miss Arvizo, do you recognize the person depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. And who is that.

A. Jamie Masada.

Q. Is that an accurate representation of Mr. Masada.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Move it be admitted, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection.

THE COURT: It’s admitted.
MR. SNEDDON: Display that for the jury, if you could.
THE COURT: Just show the jury.
MR. SNEDDON: No, we’re going to do it up here.
Q. Can you see that, Miss Arvizo.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that Jamie Masada.
A. Yes.
Q. And this is the person from The Laugh Factory.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did I hear you say something about somebody named Fritz.
A. Yes.
Q. Who is that.
A. He’s the weather guy from Channel 4.

Q. You met him at this camp.
A. Yes, he did host in one of the little classes.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I have an exhibit marked as People’s 13 for identification purposes. And I’m showing it to counsel.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to hand you People’s 13 for identification. Go ahead, you can grab it. I’m sorry, excuse my bad manners.
A. That’s okay.
Q. Now, with regard to that particular photograph, do you recognize the individuals in that photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that an accurate depiction of the people in that photograph.
A. Like accurate how.
Q. Is that the way you looked.
A. Looked back then.
Q. Back then. That’s the way Mr. Coleman looked.
A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Move that be admitted, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: It’s admitted.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, the person on the far left of the photograph, who’s that.

A. That’s me.

Q. How old were you when this was taken.

A. About 13.

Q. And the person just below you with your hands on their shoulder.

A. That’s Star.

Q. And that’s your brother.

A. Uh-huh, yes.

Q. And do you recognize the person in the middle.

A. Yes.

Q. Who’s that.

A. Fritz.

Q. And the person with his arm on Fritz’s shoulder, who’s that.

A. That’s Gavin.

Q. Okay. And do you recall when this was taken.

A. Yeah. That was during the comedy camp.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Go ahead and put the lights back on, Your Honor.

Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen that your brother was sick, that he had been diagnosed with cancer.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Now, did -- to your knowledge, did you know about any of his wishes to meet certain people while he was in the hospital.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you recall the names of any of the people that he wanted to meet.

A. Yes.

Q. Who were they.
A. He gave a list to Jamie Masada. It was Chris Tucker, Adam Sandler, and Mr. Jackson.
Q. To your knowledge, did he meet those people.
A. He met two of them, yes.
Q. Which two.
A. Mr. Jackson and Chris Tucker.
Q. And were you -- have you ever been with Mr. Tucker.
A. Yes.
Q. On how many occasions.
A. Lots of occasions.
Q. Did he kind of become a friend of the family.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, with regard to your brother and Mr. Jackson, do you know of your own personal knowledge whether there were any contacts -- when the first contacts between your brother and Mr. Jackson occurred.
A. It was on a telephone call. He called Kaiser.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation; hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Were you present when that conversation occurred.
A. No, I wasn’t.
Q. So you heard about it from somebody else.
A. Gavin had told me when I got there later on.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. MESEREAU: Move to strike.
THE COURT: Stricken.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Were you ever present at your grandparents’ house when Mr. Jackson called.
A. Yes.
Q. And were you present during the conversation.
A. No.
Q. But you were at the house.

A. Yes.

Q. Was there a point in time when you and your family went to Neverland Valley Ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you remember approximately when that was.

A. It was at the beginning of Gavin's cancer, so around 2000.

Q. Were you in school at that time.

A. Yes. I think so. I don't remember. I had either -- I had to be in school, yeah.

Q. Do you remember who all went to the ranch.

A. It was me, my father, and my brothers and my mom.

Q. And do you recall how you got to the ranch.

A. A limo came and picked us up.

Q. And where did they pick you up.

A. At the Soto apartment.

Q. Do you remember what day of the week it was that they picked you up.

A. No.

Q. Now, when you got to the ranch, could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, as the limousine got onto the ranch and up to the main residence, what happened.

A. We were greeted by the cooks. And then we were brought into like the dining room area, like it's right in front of the kitchen area, and then Mr. Jackson came and greeted us.

Q. Did you spend the night.

A. Yes, we did.

Q. Where did you spend the night.

A. In one of the guest rooms.

Q. And do you know where your brothers spent the night.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Sustained. Actually, I'll allow her to answer that "Yes" or "No" as part of the foundation.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.

Q. Do you know -- do you know where your brothers stayed.

A. Yes.

Q. At least the first night.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Were you ever in their room.

A. With them. No.

Q. Did you go -- not did you sleep there, but did you ever go into their room.

A. No.

Q. Did -- were your parents -- do you know where your parents stayed that night.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you go into your parents' room.

A. Yes.

Q. And where did your parents stay that night.

A. They stayed in another guest room.

Q. And where was that guest room in relationship to where you stayed.

A. Right next to mine. Well, kind of towards the back area, facing the lake.

Q. Facing the lake.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. And you were in the front of that.

A. Yeah.

Q. During the time that you were at Neverland, when you first got there, after you were greeted by Mr. Jackson -- by the way, do you recognize Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Can the record so indicate that, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: When you were greeted by Mr. Jackson, after that, what did you do. What did you do.

A. Just went out and went to the arcade and drove around the little carts.

Q. Did you do that by yourself.

A. Yeah.

Q. Was there anybody else with you.

A. Well, during that visit, me and my parents would go out and -- occasionally, but I was mainly by myself.

Q. And where did you drive in the carts.

A. Towards the movie theater and to the zoo and stuff.

Q. You’re going to have to lean into it.

A. Towards the movie theater and the zoo.

Q. So you just took a tour.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Now, during the time that you were there, was there ever an incident that occurred between your mother and your father.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you present.

A. Yes.

Q. Who else was present.

A. Star was.

Q. Tell us what happened. And let me ask you this: Let’s go back just a second, if we can. Do you remember about what time it was when you arrived at Mr. Jackson’s Neverland Valley Ranch on the first occasion when you arrived there.

A. It was daytime. I don’t know when.

Q. Do you remember what time it was in relationship to dinner.

A. Oh, it was far from dinner.

Q. So it was in the afternoon hours.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Did you go to school that day; do you recall.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. So that -- the incident that I’m about to ask you to describe, did that occur on that day or another day.

A. I think it was another day.

Q. Do you recall when it was in relationship to when you first got there. Like was it the next day, or the next day, or what.

A. Probably the next or a couple days after.

Q. What happened.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; and vague.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, I already laid the foundation that she was there and she was in the room.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: What happened.

A. My parents were arguing back and forth, and my dad threw a soda can at my mom.

Q. And what happened after he threw the can at her.

A. He ran, like walked -- stormed out of the room.

Q. And what was your mother’s reaction.

A. She just started crying.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled. The answer is, “She started crying.”

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, during the time that you were living with your father and your mother and your brothers at the Soto Street residence, did you ever see your father strike your mother.

A. Yes.

Q. On how many occasions.

A. Too many to count. So many.

Q. Did he ever strike you.

A. Yes.

Q. How about your brothers.

A. Yes.

Q. On how many occasions.

A. Lots.

Q. Has your mother ever struck you.

A. Never.

Q. Now, when you were at the ranch -- go back to the ranch for just a second. You were at the ranch, and you’re visiting. Do you know -- were you present during a conversation, at any time while you were on the ranch, concerning whether or not the boys would stay with Mr. Jackson in his bedroom.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation.

MR. SNEDDON: I haven’t asked for the --

THE COURT: All right.

You may answer that “Yes” or “No.”

The objection is overruled.

THE WITNESS: What was the question again.

THE COURT: I’ll have the court reporter read it to you.

MR. MESEREAU: And leading, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Overruled.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: And where did that conversation take place.

A. In the main dining room.

Q. And who was present when the conversation took place.

A. Me, my father, my brothers and Mr. Jackson.

Q. And what was going on at the time that it took place.

A. We were eating.

Q. Who brought up the subject.

A. Gavin did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I’m sorry, I don’t think we heard your answer. Who brought it up.

A. Gavin.

Q. Gavin did.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. In response to his request --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Misstates the evidence; leading; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: I haven’t even finished the question yet.

THE COURT: But I think you caught yourself.

MR. SNEDDON: No, I --

THE COURT: I'll sustain the objection as leading. It's --

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: As a result of the conversation that particular night, do you know, of your own personal knowledge, where your brother slept.

A. Yes.

Q. Where.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation; hearsay; relevance.

THE COURT: Foundation; sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: With regard to your -- I asked you of your own personal knowledge.

A. Yes.

Q. And what was that based on.

A. Gavin telling me -- well, no --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; move to strike.

MR. SNEDDON: I'll rephrase it this way, Judge:

Q. As a result of the conversation that -- without telling us what was said, as a result of the conversation that occurred at the dinner table, did your brothers sleep in the guest room that night.

A. No.

Q. Now, after this visit to Neverland Valley Ranch that you've described to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, to your knowledge, only based on your knowledge, when was the next time that you went back to the ranch.

A. Not for a while. It was -- the next time I went was with Chris.

Q. Chris who.

A. Tucker.

Q. Now, let me see if I can put that in relationship to something.

Do you remember a time -- can you tell us whether or not you ever visited the ranch in conjunction with a filming.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, was the time that you went to the ranch with Mr. Tucker before or after that.

A. Before.

Q. And do you recall approximately how long before that.

A. A while. Months.

Q. A couple of months. It's the same year, or a different year.

A. Pretty close, I think.

Q. How many different times did you go to the ranch with Mr. Tucker.

A. Two.

Q. Was the defendant, Mr. Jackson, present during the times you went to the ranch.

A. No.

Q. Was he present during the time that you went there for the Bashir filming.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, the time that you went to the ranch with your mother and your father and your brothers, that was the first time you went, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. The one you described to the jury.

A. Yes.

Q. The times that you went to the ranch with Mr. Tucker that you've described --

A. Yes.

Q. -- can you tell the jury whether or not your mother went with you on those occasions.

A. She didn't.

Q. On the occasion of when you went there for the Bashir filming, was your mother with you.

A. No.

Q. Between the time that you went to the ranch on the very first time that you've described to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, the incident involving your mother and father, let’s put it that way, until the time you went back with Chris Tucker, do you know, of your own personal knowledge, whether your brother and your father went back to the ranch.

A. Yes.
Q. Do you know how many times.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: Quite a bit of times. I don’t know exactly how many times.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did your mother, to your knowledge, ever go with them.

A. No.
Q. Now, during the time that your brother Gavin was hospitalized with cancer -- okay. We’re going to start talking about that now.
A. Okay.
Q. Did you ever attend -- to your knowledge, were there ever efforts to raise money to help the family offset some of the expenses for the --
A. The only one I know about was a benefit at The Laugh Factory.
Q. Okay. And did you go to that.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And who else went to it from your family.
A. My father, my two brothers.
Q. Did your mother go.
A. No.
Q. And do you know who was sponsoring the benefit.
A. Jamie Masada or Chris. It was like a graduation of other com -- like little kids, like we did.
Q. So that was a graduation ceremony.
A. Yeah.
Q. And you said Mr. Masada. I heard you say Chris. Chris who.
A. Chris Tucker. He was there also. But I don’t know whether he was sponsoring it or not.

Q. And you were present at that particular benefit.

A. Yes.

Q. During the time that your brother was undergoing his treatments for cancer, was it required for the family to make some adjustments in the living conditions for your brother.

A. Yes.

Q. And where was he living during that time.

A. He was living with my grandmother.

Q. And could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what adjustments had to be made.

A. They had -- they had to be very, very clean; no dust. It had to be very cool. He couldn’t be in hot conditions or he would either go into a seizure or he would pass out. He was very, very delicate.

Q. All right. What -- were there any special things that had to be purchased or changes made in the room in which Gavin stayed at your grandmother and grandfather’s.

A. Yes.

Q. Could you describe that to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury.

A. In that room, the carpet was totally torn out, and they put linoleum down. Because his bones, they ache a lot. And then my mom bought an orthopedic-type bed. And then all the walls were repainted. They bought an air conditioning -- like a little unit, tore a hole through that wall, so the -- like the bad heat would go out through the air conditioning.

Q. Were there any sort of little treats that were bought for Gavin during this time.

A. Yeah, his --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Yes, because we constantly wanted to make him very happy because of the things that the doctors were telling us. So my mom bought him a T.V., a DVD player, a stereo. That's all I remember right now.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, the things that you just described, what room in the house were those items located.

A. In one of the bedrooms in my grandmother's house.

Q. The one that Gavin occupied.

A. Yes.

Q. And with regard to this T.V. that was in the room that Gavin was in, how big was this T.V..

A. About 25 inches or so. Not -- it was only about -- the screen -- the screen's only about that big.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, at this time I'm going to show counsel some more photographs.

Q. The first photograph I'm going to show you is People's 14.

Your Honor, would it be all right for me to stay here to lay the foundation and then go back to ask the questions.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Do you recognize the people depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate representation of those individuals as they were at that point of time.

A. Yes.

Q. We'll go through who they are in just a second.

I'm going to show you a photograph marked as Exhibit 199. Do you recognize that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize the people depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate representation of those people at that particular point in time.

A. Yes.

Q. And with regard to Exhibit No. 49, ask if you recognize the people depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that photograph an accurate representation of those people at that point in time.

A. Yes.

Q. And lastly, I’m going to show you a photograph marked as 337 for identification. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of how those individuals looked in that photograph at that particular point in time.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, if you could just go back and put them -- yeah, that’s good. I’ll -- all right.

Move they be admitted into evidence, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: They’re admitted.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. And we’re going to use the display again, Your Honor, with the Court’s permission.

Q. Miss Arvizo, do you recognize the people depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Who are the people in that photograph.

A. Me, Star, Gavin, Chris; and the baby, Dustin. And Aja.

Q. And do you recall --

BAILIFF CORTEZ: It’s back on.

THE COURT: Give us the exhibit number that’s being shown to the jury.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m sorry, Your Honor. This would be Exhibit No. 14, Your Honor.

Q. I think I was about to -- I think I was about to ask you, do you recall when this particular photograph was taken.

A. Yes.
Q. And where were you.
A. We were at Chris Tucker’s older brother’s wedding.
Q. So he invited you to a wedding with him.
A. Yes.
Q. And do you recall approximately what -- like what year was it.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Do you remember what grade in school you were in.
A. I know I was still in high school, but I don’t remember.
Q. All right. Now I’m going to ask you to pick up the exhibit that has the number “199” on it.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recognize the people depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.
Q. And with regard to the person in the upper left-hand side with the blue shirt on, who’s that.
A. That’s Star.
Q. And the person that has the little visor --
MR. SNEDDON: I don’t need this, Your Honor.
THE BAILIFF: They’re on their way, Judge.
BAILIFF CORTEZ: Should I put -- turn it back on.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: With regard to the person with the little visor on that says “Raiders,” who is that.
A. That’s Gavin.
Q. And from the photograph, can you tell whether or not this was taken during the time that he was having this battle with cancer.
A. Yes.
Q. And of course I think we all recognize the person with his arm draped around him; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that.

A. That’s Kobe Bryant.

Q. And that jersey that’s depicted on the table there, did Gavin end up getting that jersey and wearing it.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, if you could pick up the photograph marked as 49 for us, if you would. Do you have that.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Okay. Now, who are the people -- who are the people in that photograph.

A. Me, Gavin, Star, and Louise.

Q. Do you know Louise’s last name.

A. Palanker.

Q. And do you recall when this was taken.

A. This was during the comedy camp.

Q. Is that when you first met her.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, after you met Louise Palanker, did you stay friends with her.

A. Yes.

Q. Could you describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what the nature -- nature of the relationship was between you and her, the family.

A. She would come over to our house. She was just very loving. Very sweet lady. She cared about us a lot.

Q. When Gavin was diagnosed with cancer and during the time that he was being treated for cancer, was she still coming to see the family.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know about, during that period of time, how long it was that she was with you and the family.

A. Like --

Q. That’s a bad question. That’s a bad question.

How often did she come to see Gavin.

A. Very often.

Q. Would she come to the house.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were there when she came.

A. Yes.

Q. And to your knowledge, did she give money to your family.

A. Yes.

Q. All right --

THE COURT: Do you want to just wait a minute.

MR. SNEDDON: I guess I can. I didn’t know how long he was going to be, Your Honor. I guess we don’t want his head popping up when I show the photographs.

THE SOUND TECHNICIAN: My apologies.

THE COURT: Thank you, Peter.

MR. SNEDDON: Try it again.

Q. All right. Now, if you could take the next photograph, which I believe is marked as 337. Do you see that one in front of you.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, who is the person in the middle of that photograph.

A. That’s Gavin.

Q. And can you tell -- who’s the person over on the right-hand side.

A. That’s Star.

Q. Now, do you recognize the room in which this photograph is taken.

A. Yes.

Q. Could you tell the jury what it is, what room it is.

A. It’s the room that we fixed up for Gavin in my grandma’s house.

Q. And is that what Gavin looked like.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, do you, of your own personal knowledge, know where the money came to fix that room up.

A. Yes.

Q. Who.

A. Louise.

Q. She gave you the money to do all that.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you talked about an air conditioning unit that had to be put in the room so that he wouldn’t go into seizures. Do you see that air conditioning unit in that photograph.

A. Yes. It’s right behind Star’s head.

Q. There’s a little laser up there. Do you see that little black, long thing that looks like a pencil. Well, I guess it’s not up there.

MR. ZONEN: Right there.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Could you turn around to the exhibit that’s been displayed on the board there. And this is Exhibit 337. And can you point out the air unit you were talking about.

A. It’s right there.

Q. Okay. That’s right behind Star’s head. And is the -- Gavin appears to be seated on a bed.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that the bed that you bought, or was that bed in there before.

A. No, that was the new bed.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I think we can take the photograph down, Your Honor, and put the lights back on.

Q. Did you ever meet an individual by the name of Carol Lamir.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you meet her.

A. We met her at a dance studio.

Q. Did you -- how did that come about that you met her at the dance studio.

A. Well, we just started a dance -- well, we went to Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy’s dance studio.

Q. I couldn’t get that, so I’m sure the jury didn't. Say it again.

A. We went to a dance studio. Mr. and Mrs. Dance Studio -- Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy's dance studio.
Q. Was that before or after you had attended the comedy camp.
A. This is way before.
Q. And you say "we." Who's "we".
A. Me and my brothers.
Q. What kind of a dancing school was it.
A. Kind of everything. But mostly, like, tap was focused on.
Q. Now, did you, as a result -- let me ask you this: Ms. Lamir, was she working there, or how did you meet her.
A. Her grandson was taking a class there.
Q. So you met her through a mutual acquaintance.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you ever stay with Miss Lamir.
A. Yes.
Q. And when I say "stayed," where did you stay with her.
A. At her house.
Q. And do you recall on how many occasions that was.
A. A couple, three maybe. I don't remember. But I would stay about a week or so.
Q. And do you remember anything in particular about your stays with Mrs. Lamir.

A. They weren't that pleasant.
Q. I'm sorry.
A. They weren't that pleasant.
Q. Why.
A. Because I'd mostly clean and do stuff for her.
Q. Now, was there a time when your mother and your father became separated.
A. Yes.

Q. And do you recall approximately when that was.

A. That was during my sophomore year.

Q. And during that year, do you remember about whether it was in the spring part of that year or the fall --

A. The beginning.

Q. Now, when your father and your mother separated, where did the family -- where did you stay. Where did you live after that.

A. Me and my mom and my brothers stood at the East L.A. apartment.

Q. So he moved out.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember what school you were in at the time your father left.

A. I was still in the Hollywood High School.

Q. And so that would have been -- how many years did you go to Hollywood High School.

A. Two.

Q. And that would have been what years. I mean, in terms of the four years --

A. 2000. Or -- 2001.

Q. But is it like senior-junior. Junior-sophomore.

A. Well, when he left.

Q. Well, how many years did you go to Hollywood High.

A. Two.

Q. Okay.

A. Freshman and sophomore.

Q. Okay. That’s what I was trying to get at. Now, after Hollywood High School, where did you go your junior year.

A. Roosevelt High School.

Q. And how far is Roosevelt High School from the place where you lived at Soto Street.

A. Three lights. It’s four blocks or so. It’s not that far.

Q. And how -- this would have been your junior year now.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you complete the whole junior year at Roosevelt.

A. Yes. Well, most of it. I finished my sophomore year there.

Q. All right. So you didn't complete two full years at Hollywood.

A. No, I left right before my sophomore year ended at Hollywood High School.

Q. And then the next year, you took up at Roosevelt.

A. Yes.

Q. And this would have been your junior year.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at the time that you -- that your father left, you folks still lived at Soto Street, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. At the time that you went to school at Roosevelt, where did the family live.

A. We still lived at the East L.A. apartment.

Q. Is that -- what's the address there, the street at least.

A. Yeah, the Soto Street apartment.

Q. Let's just refer to it as the Soto Street apartment.

A. Okay.

Q. So everybody knows what you're talking about when we talk about that. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Now, during the time that you were living at the Soto Street apartment, during the summer, did you ever go to any academies.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, I'm going to show you another picture.

A. Okay.

MR. SNEDDON: I think what I'll do, I'll save us some time here, Your Honor.

Q. All right. I have three more photographs. And let’s take these and put them up here out of the way, so we don’t get them mixed up. And, first of all, let’s just start with these three.
A. Okay.
Q. And I’m just going to ask you a couple of questions. Do you recognize the person depicted in that photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of what she looks like.
A. Not right now.
Q. Not right now. But I mean --
A. Not her hair.
Q. Not her hair right now.
A. But, yes.
Q. Okay. And the next person -- the next photograph, which is 35.
THE COURT: What exhibits are you referring to.
MR. SNEDDON: I think I mentioned it was 31, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: And the next one is 35.
Q. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that an accurate depiction of the person.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And let’s go to the next one, which is -- move your hand back a little -- 338. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the people depicted in there.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Move they be admitted into evidence.
MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Admitted.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. If we could have the lights down for just a second.

Q. And I want to direct your attention to the exhibit marked as 31 in evidence. No, not that one. I'm sorry, my fault. There. 31.

Do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that.

A. That's my mommy.

Q. It's your who.

A. Mommy.

Q. You say she doesn't look like that now, because her hair -- what's different.

A. Her hair is darker and shorter.

Q. Other than that, it looks like your mom.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. The next one, let's go to 35.

All right. Who's that.

A. That's David.

Q. David who.

A. My father.

Q. All right. Let's go to the next one.

All right. Do you recognize that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. And what was the occasion for this particular photograph; do you remember.

A. Just taking pictures of each other. And I had my Explorer uniform on. So we just went and took pictures.

Q. Okay. What -- you say your "Explorer uniform on." What do you mean by that. What is an Explorer.

A. I worked with the Los Angeles Police Department.

Q. And how long did you work for them.

A. For about a year.

Q. Did you have to go to some kind of training before you could work for the department.

A. Yes.
Q. And what kind of training did you go to.
A. It was a little academy. It was about 12 Saturdays during the summer.
Q. And then at the end, there’s a --
A. A graduation.
Q. And then you get a uniform.
A. Yeah.
Q. Is that what you wore to work when you went to work.
A. Yeah.
THE COURT: What exhibit number is it.
MR. SNEDDON: 338, Your Honor.
All right. You can take that photograph down, and we can get the lights back on, Your Honor.
Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that at some point in time you had gone to the ranch, Mr. Jackson’s ranch, Neverland Valley Ranch. Did -- to your knowledge, did Mr. Jackson ever give the family any presents.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, with regard to your going to the police academy, were any of those presents used in connection with that.
A. What do you mean.
Q. Well, just what I said. Were there any things that Mr. Jackson gave you that were used in --

A. Yes.
Q. What.
A. It was a white Bronco.
Q. So Mr. Jackson gave you folks a car.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember when that was.
A. That was during Gavin’s cancer.
Q. Do you remember when it was in relationship to the academy, how much before you started the academy.
A. How long did we keep it.
Q. Let me go back and ask you another question.

When you went to the Explorer’s academy --

A. Yes.

Q. -- was this during the summer or was it during the school year.

A. It was during the summer.

Q. And do you remember between what grades it was.

A. Freshman -- freshman and sophomore, I think it was. Yeah, because I was -- I graduated in 2001. The academy was in August. It ended in August. I started it -- I joined the Explorers in May. The academy ended in August.

Q. And who took you to the academy on Saturdays.

A. My mom did.

Q. And how did you get there.

A. We would take the white Bronco.

Q. Do you know how long you’d had that Bronco before you started the academy.

A. It was given to Gavin like in the middle of his cancer, so like six months or so before that.

Q. And do you know what happened to the Bronco.

A. It started stalling and started breaking down, and just wouldn’t turn on anymore.

Q. Okay. Did you keep it at the house.

A. Yes.

Q. What happened to it after that.

A. Somebody came and picked it up and took it away.

Q. Did you ever see it again.

A. No.

Q. Now, were there other things that you did with Chris Tucker, other than going to the Neverland Valley Ranch with him.

A. Yes.

Q. What other things did you do with Chris Tucker.

A. He took us to the Oakland game. We went --

Q. Oakland --

A. Raiders game.

Q. Okay.

A. And we would just go to his house. And sometimes I would go sleep over Aja's house.
Q. Who is Aja.

A. That's Chris Tucker's fiancee.
Q. Any other occasions you recall being places with Mr. Tucker.
A. Not that I remember right now.
Q. At some point in time, you went back to the ranch on another occasion; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Other than the first one you've talked about.
A. Yes.
Q. Tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury about that.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Do you recall approximately when it was you went back to the ranch.
A. About a year.
Q. What time of the year was this, now.
A. I think it was during the summer. I really don't remember.
Q. Okay. Let me ask you this, because that was probably a bad question on my part: When you went back to -- to the ranch with regard to the Bashir filming that you've described to us --
A. Yes.
Q. -- do you remember when that was. What time of year was that.

A. That was in November. The Bashir taping.
Q. Who went.
A. Me and my brothers.
Q. And how did you get there.
A. A limo came and picked us up.
Q. And when you got to the ranch, could you tell the jury, what was the first thing that happened after you got out of the limo.

A. We walked to -- in the entrance, in the back entrance. Then Mr. Jackson came and met us.

Q. All right. What part of the house were you in.

A. In the back of -- right before you get to the kitchen. There's like refrigerators and stuff right there.

Q. Now, when you went into the house, did your brothers go with you.

A. Yes. We all three went in at the same time.

Q. Could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what happened when Mr. Jackson appeared.

A. He told me and Star -- he told me and Star to excuse him, that he needed to talk to Gavin for a couple minutes.

Q. And did you see where Mr. Jackson went.

A. They walked into the main dining room.

Q. You say "they." Who is that.

A. Gavin and Mr. Jackson.

Q. And is that an enclosed area.

A. Yeah. It has a swinging door. You can close it.

Q. So they went on the other side of the swinging door.

A. Yes.

Q. And how long were Mr. Jackson and your brother gone.

A. About five, ten minutes.

Q. Now, after -- after they -- after that, what happened.

A. They did the taping.

Q. All right. When you say "They did the taping," will you tell them what you saw. Where were you.

A. I was standing inside the kitchen. And they were sitting down in the little sitting area right in front of the kitchen.

Q. So you could see what was going on.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you see your brother interviewed.

A. Yes.

Q. Was there another part of the time that you were there that -- where you were filmed.

A. Yes.

Q. And where did that occur.

A. Inside the kitchen.

Q. What was going on.

A. Gavin and Star were doing their little Navy marching thing. And I was standing there talking to Mr. Jackson.

Q. Now, when the three of you went to the ranch that day, you were picked up on the limo and taken to Mr. Jackson’s ranch, did you know what the purpose of the trip was.

A. No.

Q. Did you discuss it with your brothers at all.

A. No.

Q. Did you know there was going to be a film that day.

A. I think I remember just -- when we got there, we saw -- we thought it was just one of his, like, personal tapings.

Q. What do you mean by “personal tapings”.

A. Well, because there had been a previous video that he taped of him and Gavin and Star.

Q. After the filming was completed, did you stay at the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. Did your brothers, to your knowledge, stay at the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. How long did the three of you stay.

A. Just that night.

Q. And so you left the next day.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, Mr. Jackson; did you see Mr. Jackson after that.

A. After they were done with the taping, he left.

Q. So how long, in your estimation, were you there in Mr. Jackson’s house with Mr. Jackson from the time that you first walked through the door to the time that Mr. Jackson walked out. How long do you think that was.

A. Half an hour, 45 minutes.

Q. Did your mom go with you.

A. No.

Q. Now, at the time that you were called by Mr. Jackson -- strike that.

At the time you were called and you went to the ranch for the Bashir filming --

A. Yes.

Q. -- where were you living.

A. We were living at the East L.A. apartment.

Q. And who was living there.

A. Me, my mom and my brothers.

Q. And where were you going to school.

A. Roosevelt.

Q. After the time that you -- well, let me just ask one other thing here. Are you familiar or acquainted with a person by the name of Jay Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. And who, to your knowledge, is Jay Jackson.

A. He’s my stepfather.

Q. And do you remember approximately when it was you first met Mr. Jackson, Jay Jackson.

A. It was after the Bashir taping, I think. I don’t -- yeah.

Q. And to your knowledge, what is Mr. Jackson’s profession or occupation.

A. He’s a major in the Army.

Q. And was he a major in the Army at the time that you first met him.

A. Yes.

Q. And to your knowledge, did Mr. Jackson and your mother begin to date.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, after the Bashir filming, did something unusual happen with regard to people coming around the house.

A. Yes.
Q. Would you tell us what happened.
A. Well, a couple of British reporters came to the East L.A. apartment.
Q. Do you know of your own personal knowledge -- well, were you there when they came.
A. Yes.
Q. And who did they want to talk to.
A. They wanted to talk to Gavin.
Q. Was your mother there when they came.
A. Yes.

Q. Who else was there.
A. Me and my brother and Jay.
Q. Did anybody actually do an interview with them that day.
A. No.
Q. Now, where do your grandparents live.
A. They live in El Monte.
Q. And in relationship -- I know this is kind of -- but just give us a rough estimation. How far is it from where they live in El Monte to where you lived on Soto Street in East Los Angeles.
A. Without any traffic, about 20, 30 minutes.
Q. Now, were you ever present at your grandparents when any reporters came.
A. Do you mean during that time that --
Q. Yeah.
A. No.
Q. During that time.
Now, at this point in time, where the reporters came to the Soto Street apartment - okay. - what high school were you going to.
A. Roosevelt.
Q. Still at Roosevelt.
A. Yes.
Q. And still living in the apartment.
A. Yes.
Q. Shortly after that -- let me go back. Do you -- do you have a cell phone.

A. Right now, yes.
Q. Did you have a cell phone then.
A. No.
Q. And so if you wanted to call your mother, how did you do that.
A. I would call her from the pay phone.
Q. Did you have a practice or a custom of doing that.
A. Yeah. I would always call her probably during my lunch or right before I would get on the bus to go home, just to say hi or tell her I’m coming home, or see how the boys are doing.
Q. Do you consider your family a close family.
A. Very close.
Q. And what do you mean by that.
A. Well, me and my brothers especially were very close because of what we’ve gone through with my father and stuff.
Q. When you -- when you meet somebody, how do you greet them.
A. We hug them.
Q. Even if it’s the first time.
A. Yes.
Q. And you did that to me, didn’t you.
A. Yes.
Q. You do it to everybody.
A. Yes.
Q. Who taught you to do that.

A. My mom did.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I -- it’s eleven o’clock. Is that not the right time. I’m sorry. Okay. I just want to make sure.
THE COURT: You sure like those breaks, don’t you.
(Laughter.)
MR. SNEDDON: Well, when your stomach starts growling, it’s telling you something. You don’t, so....

Q. All right. Now -- one of your better ones. Did you at some time talk to your mom on the phone and learn that you were going to be going on a trip.

A. Yes.

Q. Could you tell the jury about that.

A. I called my mom, just a regular phone call, and then she said that --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: So you called your mom on the phone.

A. Yes.

Q. And without telling us what was said, did your mom talk to you.

A. Yes.

Q. And as a result of what your mom told you, did you do something.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. What did you do.

A. Went -- we went to the East L.A. apartment and then Adrian came and picked me up.

Q. When you went to the East L.A. apartment, was your mother there.

A. No, she wasn’t.

Q. Were your brothers there.

A. No.

Q. And do you know who Adrian is.

A. Yes.

Q. Who’s Adrian.

A. He’s kind of like Chris Tucker’s assistant/friend.

Q. And before you got in the car with this Adrian, did you do anything while you were at the house.

A. Tried to gather some things. I didn’t really have that many clothes there.

Q. Why did you do that.

A. Because we were going on a trip.

Q. Did you understand where you were going.

A. Yes.

Q. Where.

A. Miami.

Q. Okay. So you packed some clothes. And then Adrian took you where.

A. He took me to Chris Tuck -- Chris Tucker's house.

Q. Do you know where Chris Tucker lives.

A. Yes.

Q. Or lived at that time.

A. Yes.

Q. Where.

A. He lives off Reseda Boulevard. I don't know what city it is. All I know is the street we get off to go to his house on the freeway.

Q. And when you got to Chris Tucker's, who was there.

A. My mom, my brothers, Chris, the bus driver. I don't -- I don't remember.

Q. All right. When you all -- when you arrived at Chris Tucker's, at any point in time did you leave.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go.

A. We left in Chris Tucker's private bus and he took us to a jet.

Q. Took you where.

A. To a private jet.

Q. And you say "us." Could you tell us who "us" were.

A. Me, my brothers and my mom.

Q. All right. Was there anybody else on the bus.

A. Chris.

Q. Any of his family.

A. No.

Q. And do you know where -- you ended up at an airport somewhere. Do you know where it was.

A. No. I don't remember. It was dark.

Q. So you got into -- now, was this like a commercial airline, plane.
A. It was a private jet.
Q. All right. And who got on the plane.
A. Me, my brothers, and my mom and Chris.
Q. Were there any other people on the plane.
A. Besides the pilot and the flight attendant, no.
Q. So there was a flight attendant.
A. Yes.
Q. Was that a male or a female.
A. Female.
Q. Now, about what time is it when you finally got to the airport.
A. It's nighttime. Like early night.
Q. Was it light or dark.
A. Dark. Starting to fade.
Q. And you flew -- how long did the flight last.
A. Five, six hours.
Q. And do you know where you were when you landed.
A. Miami.

Q. Is that the first time you'd ever been in a private jet.
A. Well, we went to Oakland in a private jet, too, when he took us to the Oakland game.
Q. Mr. Tucker.
A. Yes.
Q. So that's the second time you've been in a private jet.
A. Yes.
Q. On this particular occasion when you were flying with Mr. Tucker, by this time, how long had you known him.
A. For a while.
Q. Had you already been to his brother's wedding.
A. Yes.
Q. And you'd already been to his house.
A. Yes.

Q. Did you consider him a good friend.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, tell us what happened when you got to Miami.

A. We got off the plane. We went to Chris Tucker's room for a while. We chatted. And then we went to our room.

Q. Do you remember the name of the place that you stayed at.

A. I just know it was a resort.

Q. Was it a nice resort.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, in relationship to where your room was, where was Mr. Tucker's room.

A. I don't know. In a totally different building.

Q. And do you remember, in terms of the building that you were in with your room, on what floor it was.

A. I don't remember. I think it was the sixth floor. I'm not sure. I don't remember.

Q. It wasn't the bottom floor.

A. No.

Q. And on -- after you visited with Mr. Tucker, you said you went back to your room. When you say "you," who was with you.

A. My mom, my brothers and me.

Q. Were you all in the same room.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you got back to your room that night, what did you do.

A. Went to sleep.

Q. And then the next morning, what did you do. Do you remember what time you got up.

A. Early afternoon. And we got up and we went to go see Mr. Jackson.

Q. Now, when you went to see Mr. Jackson, where did you go in that building.

A. One floor up.

Q. And where was your room in relationship to his room. I mean, it’s one floor up, but do you --

A. Pretty much right on top of ours.

Q. When you got into Mr. Jackson’s room, can you describe what the room looked like.

A. It was very big. It had a kitchen, a living room, bedroom, a little dining room area. And then there was another room connected.

Q. With regard to the bedroom, was there a door that led from the open area in the living room area that you described to the bedroom.

A. Yes.

Q. So you could close the door.

A. Yes.

Q. It isn’t like a regular hotel where there’s just a bed there and everyone’s all in the same room with the bed.

A. Yeah, it’s different.

Q. Now, when you were in Mr. Jackson’s room, did you meet some people there for the first time.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I’m sorry, I didn’t hear your answer.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you first got there, were you introduced to some people, you personally. Were you introduced to some people.

A. Yes.

Q. Was Mr. Jackson there when you got there.

A. Yes.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson introduce you to anybody.

A. Yes.

Q. Who did Mr. Jackson introduce you to.

A. To Dieter and Ronald.

Q. Do you know Dieter’s last name.

A. No.

Q. Do you know Ronald’s last name.

A. No.

Q. Did he introduce you to anybody else.

A. Two younger kids that were there too.

Q. Just using their first names, do you know the first names of those children.

A. Marie Nicole and Aldo.

Q. Now, did you at some point meet anybody who was related to those two children.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was that.

A. Frank.

Q. And do you remember Frank’s last name.

A. Yes.

Q. What is it.

A. Tyson.

Q. And where was it that you met Mr. Tyson.

A. There, but I had heard of him before.

Q. You what.

A. I had never officially met him until being at the resort.

Q. At the time that you met the people you referred to as Dieter and Ronald, was Mr. Tyson in the room at that time, or did he come in later.

A. I think he came in later.

Q. And who introduced you to Mr. Tyson.

A. I think it was just a hi to each other and introduce ourselves. I don’t remember.

Q. Okay. Were there any other people in the -- in Mr. Jackson’s room other than Mr. Jackson and the people you’ve just described.

A. When we first got there, there was the two nannies and the three kids.

Q. Okay. Now, the two nannies. Did you ever learn their names.

A. I just know one of their names.

Q. And who was that.

A. Grace.

Q. You don’t know Grace’s last name.

A. No.

Q. And you say “the three children.” Are you talking about Mr. Jackson’s children.

A. Yes.

Q. And did -- were they -- they were in that room at the time you got there.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, if we can just go back just a moment. Do you remember about what time it was when you first got to Mr. Jackson’s room and you entered the room and were introduced to Dieter and Ronald and saw the children.

A. Yes.

Q. What time was it.

A. Early afternoon.

Q. So you guys slept in, huh.

A. Yeah.

Q. And do you recall -- what was the first thing that occurred there after the introductions.

A. We just sat down, just -- I don’t remember really. We just sat down or played around, like with the kids and stuff.

Q. You played with the kids.

A. Yeah, just --

Q. What kids.

THE COURT: She needs to speak up, Counsel.

THE WITNESS: Prince and Paris.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, were your brothers with you.

A. Yeah, they were in the same room.

Q. Did you at any point in time see the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson, and your brother Gavin go back into Mr. Jackson’s bedroom.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Move to strike.

THE COURT: Stricken.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Could you tell us whether or not at some point in time on that particular day, when you were in that particular room with those particular people, that the defendant went anywhere with your brother.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Would you tell us where.

A. He pulled him aside into his room.

Q. I couldn’t hear you.

A. He pulled him aside into his room.

Q. Can you tell us whether or not the door was open or closed after they went into his room.

A. It was shut.

Q. To your knowledge, did anybody else go in the room with them at the time that they went in the room and closed the door.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. Do you recall how long they were in there.

A. For 15, 30 minutes. I don’t -- for a while. I don’t know approximately timewise.

Q. Were there -- were there any other times while you were in the room that day that the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson, and your brother Gavin went into that room again.

A. A couple of times.

Q. So how many times in total do you think it was that your brother Gavin and Mr. Jackson went back into his bedroom.

A. About two, three times.

Q. And on those occasions, can you tell us whether or not, like the first time, the door was closed or open.

A. It was closed.

Q. And like on the first occasion, to your knowledge, did anybody else go in there with them.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. Now, how long did you stay in Mr. Jackson’s suite.

A. All day.

Q. Do you remember about what time it was you left.

A. Nighttime, when we were going to go to sleep.

Q. So was it light or dark outside.

A. Dark. We don’t really know, because all the windows were shut, all the curtains were closed.

Q. But you were tired, huh.

A. Yeah. It was -- it had to be night.

Q. Now, at any time on that particular day when you were in Mr. -- let me just go back and make sure we lay the foundation of this correctly so everybody understands.

You got there at some time in the afternoon, and you don't leave till sometime at the night.

A. Yes.

Q. Correct. Did you ever leave that room.

A. No.

Q. Mr. Jackson's complex there.

A. No.

Q. To your knowledge, did Gavin ever leave that room.

A. No.

Q. And to your knowledge, did Star ever leave that room.

A. No.

Q. Now, at some time during the time that you're in Mr. Jackson's complex and the rooms that he has there, did you see your brother Gavin act in what you considered, in your opinion, to be peculiar.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading; vague.

THE COURT: It's leading.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Could you the tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury whether or not you observed anything unusual about your brother's behavior that night.

A. He was just very hyper.

Q. Describe what you mean by that.

A. Very talkative. Running around. Very, very playful.

Q. Why did you consider that noteworthy.

A. I don't know. It was just more than usual. Like more talkative, more jumpy and stuff.

Q. Now, on that particular evening -- let me strike that.

During the time that you were in Mr. Jackson’s suite, did Mr. Jackson -- can you tell us whether or not Mr. Jackson ever said anything with regard to any of the programs that were going to be seen on the television that night.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. What did he say.

A. For us not to watch it.

Q. Watch “it”; what’s “it”.

A. The Bashir documentary.

Q. How do you know he was talking about the Bashir documentary.

A. Because he said, “The Bashir tape.” Well -- yeah.

Q. Do you recall what his attitude was towards that at the time that he said it, or his demeanor.

A. Kind of like upset about it; didn’t want to see it.

Q. At any point that night -- I’ve talked to you about you and your brothers. At any point while you were in Mr. Jackson’s room that night, did your mother leave.

A. No. Well, yeah, at one point she did.

Q. Okay. When was that.

A. During the Bashir taping.

Q. How do you know it was during the Bashir taping.

A. Because Mr. Jackson already had said for us not to watch it.

Q. And then she left.

A. Yeah, she went downstairs to our room.

Q. And what happened. When your mother left, did anybody else leave after that.

A. Well, they came and asked where she was. And then I told them that she was downstairs, because she had a headache. And they went down and got her.

Q. And she came back up to the room.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember who it was specifically who went to get her.

A. I think it was Frank.

Q. Mr. Tyson.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Let's show you some more photographs at this point.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh, I'm sorry. Beg your pardon.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I have a series of photographs that I've shown to counsel and I'd like to be able to show them to the witness. I'll identify them by number.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to put these down here for just a second. And before I ask any questions, I'm going to move these others up here. All right. With regard to the one that's in front of you, that's People's No. 48 for identification, do you recognize that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of that particular individual.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Why don't you just turn that over on top of that binder right there for just a second.

A. This.

Q. Not that way. No, no, no. All right. There you go. Okay. The next one is People's No. 43 for identification. Do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. And who is that. Don't tell me who it is. With regard to that, is that an accurate depiction of that individual.

A. Yes.

Q. Flip that one over the other way. Flip them this way so the jury doesn't see them.

A. Oh.

Q. With regard to the next one, which is

People's 22, do you recognize the person depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of that person.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Perfect.

And the next one is People's 21. Do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of that individual.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And People's No. 20 for identification, is that an accurate depiction of that particular person.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Flip that one over, if you would.

And do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of that particular person.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Let's go on to the last one.

THE CLERK: Judge, we need a number.

THE COURT: What's the number on the last one.

MR. SNEDDON: 18. Sorry.

Q. And with regard to the next one, which is People's 17, do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of that particular person.

A. Yes.

Q. And why don't you flip them over and take them all and put them right side up, and I'm going to ask you some questions about it. Perfect.

Okay. Let's start with the one that has -- it's probably on the bottom, but People's 17.

And, Your Honor, if we could have the -- I move that those be admitted into evidence.
MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: They're admitted.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. We're now -- People's 17. Do you recognize that person.
A. Yes.
Q. Who is that.
A. That's Dieter.
Q. And where was that person -- when were you first introduced to that person.
A. In Mr. Jackson's hotel room.
Q. And where, in what town.
A. Miami.
Q. Okay. Turn that one over, if you would.
Now, with regard to the individual -- I'm sorry, Gordon.

All right. With regard to this particular individual that you know by the name of Dieter -- okay. -- after you were introduced to this person Dieter, did you -- could you tell us whether or not he remained in the suite that day.
A. He came in and out.
Q. And when he came in and out, did you see whether or not he had any interaction with the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. What kind of interaction.
A. They would go in the room and close the door.
Q. In which room.
A. Mr. Jackson's room.
Q. The same one Gavin went in.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember on how many occasions that occurred.
A. Several. I don't know.
Q. How many is "several".
A. Two, three.
Q. Okay. Now, let's go to the next one, which is I believe 18. It’s probably on the bottom. I think I -- there you go.

All right. Do you recognize the person in People’s 18.

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that.

A. That’s Ronald.

Q. That’s the person you were introduced to as Ronald.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at the time you entered the suite, did you see this person Ronald that day and did he stay, or leave, or what.

A. He would go in and out also.

Q. When you say “in and out,” do you mean in and out of the --

A. Of the hotel room.

Q. Do you know whether or not he ever had any interaction that day with Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. And what kind of interaction did he have.

A. He would go in the room also and close the door.

Q. Now, when you said he would go in the room and close the door with Mr. Jackson, were there any other people that would go in and out with them.

A. Dieter.

Q. So it was the three of them.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Let’s go to the one that’s marked as People’s 20. Do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. And who is that.

A. That’s Frank.

Q. Do you know his last name.

A. Mr. Tyson, yes.

Q. That’s how you knew him by.

A. Frank, yes.
Q. Now, with regard to this particular individual, was he in the room also during that day.
A. Yes.
Q. Was he there the entire time or did he come and go.
A. He would come and go also.
Q. Was he ever -- did you ever see him interact with Mr. Jackson that day.
A. Kind of talking, but I don’t remember really.
Q. Can you tell us whether or not --
MR. SANGER: I’m sorry, Your Honor, it’s hard to hear the answer.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Can you lean in and tell us again. Did he have any interaction with the defendant that day, Mr. Jackson.
A. Yeah, they would talk, but I don’t really remember.
Q. Did Mr. Tyson go back in the room when Mr. Jackson would go in the room with this person Dieter and this person Ronald.

A. I don’t remember if it was with them, but I think I saw him once. I don’t remember.
Q. All right. Let’s go to the next one, which would be 21 for -- right. Do you recognize the person depicted in that photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. And what is that person’s name.
A. Aldo.
Q. The first name.
A. Aldo.
Q. And did he have a nickname that he went by.
A. Yes.
Q. What was it.
A. Baby Rubba. Baby Rubba.
Q. Okay. And was this person in the suite that day.
A. Yes.
Q. And do you know whether or not this particular individual left that day.

A. No.

Q. He was there the whole time that you were there.

A. Yes.

Q. At the time that you first met this person Aldo, do you recall what age he was.

A. Around Star’s age. I don’t remember.

Q. All right. Let’s go to the next photograph, which would be 22. Do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. And who is that.

A. Marie Nicole.

Q. And with regard to this particular person, was she in the suite -- did she remain in the suite after you were introduced to her.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you know whether or not she left at any time before you did.

A. No.

Q. And we have one left.

A. Two left.

Q. Two left, okay. And with regard to -- what’s the number on this one.

A. 43.

Q. 43. With regard to 43, who is that.

A. That’s Grace.

Q. That’s the person you knew as Grace.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you know what Grace’s responsibilities were for Mr. Jackson.

A. She was the nanny.

Q. And by “nanny,” what do you mean.

A. She took care of the kids.

Q. And this lady depicted in the photograph, People’s 43, was in the room that day.

A. Yes. For a moment. Yeah.

Q. For a moment.

A. They didn’t stay the whole time.

Q. And we have one last one. And the number on that is.
A. 48.
Q. All right. And People’s 48, who’s that person.
A. That’s my stepfather, Jay Jackson.
Q. All right.
I think we can turn the lights back on, Your Honor.
The night following -- well, let me go back.
Did you see any other activities on this -- the day we’re talking about, okay, when you were in the suite and you got there in the afternoon and you stayed there till late at night, just so we know we’re talking about the same day, did you see any other occasions where your brother Gavin would go somewhere with Mr. Jackson.
A. No.
Q. So --
A. We stood in the suite the whole day.
Q. Okay. Now, after that evening, you left. Where did you go. Where did “you” go.
A. Straight to my room.
Q. And did anybody else go with you.
A. Well, me, my brothers and my mom.
Q. So you all left at the same time.
A. Yes.

Q. When you went back to your room that evening, did you leave the room at any time.
A. No.
Q. Now, the next day when you got up, what did you -- what was the first thing you did, if you recall, of significance.
A. Just went straight up to Mr. Jackson’s room.
Q. I’m sorry.
A. We just went straight up to Mr. Jackson’s room.
Q. All of you.
A. Yes.
Q. Or just you.
A. All of us.

Q. Now, on this particular day, did you get some kind of a treat.

A. This is the last day that we were there. This is the last day, we got -- I got a manicure and pedicure.

Q. And how did that come about.

A. Well, me and Chris Tucker and Gavin, Star, went to, like, the spa area.

Q. You have to speak up.

A. Me and Mr. -- Chris Tucker and my brothers, we all went to the spa area.

Q. Okay. And you got --

A. I got a manicure and pedicure, and the boys and Mr. Tucker got massages.

Q. Now, on this particular day, after that, did you leave.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go.

A. We went to the ranch. Neverland Ranch.

Q. How did you get there.

A. On a private jet.

Q. And who was on the jet.

A. Me, my brothers, Paris and Prince, and Prince the II, Mr. Jackson, Grace, another nanny, Marie Nicole, Aldo, and I think Mr. Jackson’s doctor.

Q. And was Mr. Jackson on the plane.

A. Yes.

THE COURT: Is this a good place for a break.

MR. SNEDDON: I want to keep going, Judge.

THE COURT: We’ll take our morning break.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Go ahead.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Before we start talking about the plane ride from Miami, I want to go back and -- go back, if we could.

A. Okay.

Q. From the time that you left - okay. - till the time that you left with Chris Tucker on the plane to Miami, did you have any contact with your father.

A. Yes.

Q. On how many occasions.

A. Once or twice.

Q. I'm sorry.

A. Once or twice.

Q. Was there on one occasion that led to a situation where you ended up talking to law enforcement authorities.

A. Yes.

Q. And you ended up having to go to court.

A. Yes.

Q. And testify against your father.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were the victim.

A. Yes.

Q. Since the time that that occurred until you left to Miami, have you ever seen your father, had any contact with him.

A. No. Not personally.

THE COURT: Counsel, I'm sorry to interrupt you, but my feed isn't working here.

(Brief interruption.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Just moving to another event now, and just going back and filling in some details I left out while you and I were talking earlier this morning, you recall earlier that you testified that there was a point where some media people came to your door at your apartment.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember how -- how that -- how many days that was before you left for Miami.

A. A couple of days before.

Q. I'm sorry, I couldn't hear the answer.

A. A couple days before.

Q. Did it happen on more than one occasion.

A. My grandma had called us and said there was media at her house, but other -- to the apartment, no.

Q. Now, one last thing, and then we'll get back on the plane there in Miami.

Your senior year in high school, where did you go to high school.

A. Mountain View High School.

Q. What community is Mountain View High School located.

A. In El Monte.

Q. Where did you live while you were going to Mountain View High School.

A. With my grandmother.

Q. And they live in where.

A. El Monte.

Q. Now, after you graduated from high school, where did you -- where did you live. With your grandparents or somebody else.

A. We went back to live with my parents.

Q. With your parents meaning.

A. Jay Jackson and my mom.

Q. Have you lived there continuously since that time.

A. Yes.

Q. How would you describe your relationship with your stepfather.

A. Very nice relationship. Very, very loving. I love him a lot.

THE COURT: Mr. Sneddon. This is a good place to interrupt.

I'm not sure if it's catching up. It's going back through the -- this morning.

THE REPORTER: It will eventually catch up.

MR. SANGER: It's doing the same for us, if that's of any consolation.

MR. ZONEN: Us too.

THE COURT: That's no consolation.

I'd like to wait a minute, if we could, so we catch up.

(Brief interruption.)

THE COURT: All right. I think we can go forward now.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Okay. We're going to go back now and we're going to start talking about the part of Miami where you're flying, you're getting on a plane in Miami. Okay.

A. All right.

Q. Now, you told us who was on the plane before.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, I want to ask you something. Was there an incident that occurred before you guys got on the plane.

A. Like -- incident how.

Q. Was your mother on the plane.

A. Yes.

Q. And was your mother supposed to be on the plane.

A. No.

Q. Okay. What happened.

A. They didn't want my mom to go on the flight, on the same flight that we were on.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Were you present when your mom was having a discussion about who was going to go on the plane.

A. Yeah, she was on the phone.

Q. She was on the phone.

A. Yeah.

Q. And who else was present.

A. I think my brothers were. But it was in our room, but it's when we were getting ready to leave.

Q. Do you know who she was on the phone with.

A. Probably --

Q. To your knowledge, without --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Not something that somebody told you, but to your knowledge.

A. I don’t know.

Q. And how long did that discussion take.

A. They were on the phone for like ten minutes.

Q. And at the end of that conversation, did your mom get on the plane with you.

A. Yes.

Q. Was -- were any people identified to you as security guards on that plane when it left.

A. When it left, there was no security guards on the plane.

Q. On the plane -- where -- let’s just do it this way: You’re on the plane. Where are you seated on the plane in relationship to your brother Gavin.

A. Right across from him.

Q. And who’s sitting next to you, if anyone.

A. Paris is.

Q. Paris.

A. Yes.

Q. And with regard to the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson, where is he.

A. He’s sitting next to Gavin.

Q. And is there anything in between you and Paris and Gavin and the defendant.

A. We were sitting at, like, a dining room -- like a little table. There were, like, cupholders and stuff.

Q. Now, during the flight, during this flight, did you at any time see Gavin drinking anything.

A. He had a Diet Coke can.

Q. Do you know where he got it from.

A. Mr. Jackson passed it to him.

Q. Did you see him actually drink from the can.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember on how many occasions.

A. They were sipping it back and forth.

Q. Now, when they were sipping this -- what kind of a can was it.

A. A Diet Coke can.

Q. When they were sipping this Diet Coke can, passing it back and forth, was there anything else going on between your brother Gavin and the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: They were whispering.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I’m sorry.
A. They were whispering back and forth.
Q. At any time during the time that they were whispering back and forth, did you see Mr. Jackson do anything.

A. He would pass the Diet Coke, they would whisper, and then at one point Mr. Jackson took off his watch and gave it to Gavin.
Q. Did you see Mr. Jackson do that.
A. Yes.
Q. Can you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, when he took the watch off and gave it to Gavin, whether he said anything to him at that time.
A. He was whispering in his ear and then Gavin put it on.
Q. During the course of this flight, did you see Mr. Jackson give Gavin anything else.
A. Yes.
Q. What.
A. The jacket he had on.
Q. Can you describe the jacket.
A. It’s black and it’s sparkly on the back.
Q. Now, do you recall how long the plane ride took from, say, Miami to where you eventually landed.
A. Six, seven hours.
Q. Did you -- were you awake during the whole trip.
A. No, I fell asleep at one point.
Q. Now, your brother Star was on the plane; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And where was your brother Star located on the plane.

A. There was a bench behind Mr. Jackson and Gavin. I'm -- not exactly behind, but like to the back, my left-hand side, there was a bench. And he would go from right there into a chair that was right in front of them. He would go back and forth.

Q. So this was a plane you could get up and move around on.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was your mom.

A. My mom was sitting behind me in one of the four chairs that's behind us.

Q. During the time that you were on this plane, did you see whether or not the plane had any kind of a telephone on it.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was the telephone located.

A. Right on my right-hand side, on the wall.

Q. And during the time of this ride on the plane, did you see -- can you tell us whether or not that telephone was ever used.

A. I saw Gavin use it once. He was calling one of his friends.

Q. All right. Did you see that on any other occasions.

A. No.

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me just a moment, Your Honor.

I have an exhibit. This will be 339, I believe, for identification purposes.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. I'm going to hand you People's Exhibit No. 339 and ask you if you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. Can you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that is.

A. The -- how -- the plane, the private jet.

Q. Is that the interior.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. I’m going to hand you this pen. And just hang on to that for a second. Does that diagram accurately represent the interior of the plane as you recall it.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: I move that it be admitted into evidence, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: I’m sorry, Your Honor. I didn’t hear.

THE COURT: It’s okay. He moved that exhibit into evidence. She identified it.

MR. MESEREAU: There’s still a foundational problem, Your Honor, as to whether that is actually an accurate depiction of the interior of that plane. I don’t think the foundation has been laid.

THE COURT: I’ll admit it. I think that’s a subject of cross-examination.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. We’re going to display something up on the Elmo, Your Honor. And what we’re going to display is 339.

Q. Now, you have the exhibit in front of you, okay. What I want you to do is, I want you to take a felt tip pen, if you would, and I want you to put your initials in the seat in which you were located. Well, first of all, let me do this. Take that light, the black thing with the light, okay, and show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where you were seated.

A. Right there.

Q. All right. And where was your brother Gavin.

A. Right there.

Q. And where was the defendant.

A. Right here.

Q. And where was Paris.

A. Right here.

Q. Okay. Now, what I want you to do is on the exhibit that you have in front of you, I want you to take that red pen I gave you, and I want you to put your initials in your seat.

Okay. What did you put.

A. “DA.”

Q. That figures.

Now, would you please put the initials for your brother in the seat that he was in on Exhibit 339.

And then put just like an “MJ” for where Mr. Jackson was sitting.

And a “PJ” for where Paris was sitting.

Now, would you show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury with the light again, if you would, where your mother was sitting on the plane.

A. She was sitting in one of these four seats.

Q. So you’re not sure which one of those four.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. So why don’t you just put your mother’s initials right in the middle on the diagram. And you put a what.

A. “JJ.” “JJ.”

Q. “JJ”.

A. Yeah, that’s my mom’s initials.

Q. Oh, Janet Jackson. You threw me for a second. Way ahead of me.

All right. Now, your brother Star, when the plane took off, do you recall where he was.

A. Yes.

Q. Would you show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury.

A. He was either sitting right here or he would go to this seat.

Q. So he moved back and forth between those seats.

All right. The two seats that you said he moved back and forth between, would you put his initials in those seats on the Exhibit 339. Would you put them in both of them.

Now, I want to direct your attention to where you believed that you saw the telephone. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Would you point that out to the jury.

A. Right here.

Q. Okay. And would you put -- you can put -- on the white area, put “TFC,” and then the arrow to where it was located on the exhibit. Would you do that. Good. Thank you.

Now, on the exhibit that looks like a blue series of chairs, do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. What is that.

A. That’s like a couch.

Q. And you told us that one of those seats was occupied from time to time by your brother Star.

A. Yes.

Q. Who, if anyone, occupied the other seat.

A. Aldo and Marie Nicole were sitting in that area, too.

Q. Do you remember which seats they were in.

A. No, they would switch around.

Q. Why don’t you just go ahead and put their initials, just Aldo and Marie Nicole, in those two seats, just -- and an arrow back and forth. How’s that. Okay.

Now, you told us -- who else was on the plane.

A. Mr. Jackson’s doctor and the two nannies.

Q. Do you know the doctor’s name.

A. No.

Q. Do you know where he was seated.

A. He was in one of the four chairs.

Q. Show us.

A. In one of these chairs.

Q. Okay. Who else was up in that four-chair area besides your mother and this doctor.

A. The two nannies.

Q. Okay. So why don’t you just put “Doctor,” just put a “DR,” just -- and “2-nannies.”

Okay. Now, if we could just move the exhibit a little bit farther to the right, so it shows all the way to the front, or all the way to the end.

Okay. Now, from this particular exhibit, 339, the one that's in front of you, looking at the far left-hand part of the exhibit that's on the board above you, do you see that. What end of the plane is that.

A. This is the back of the plane.

Q. Okay. Could you just write in the white space above it “back” and put an arrow down to that.

Can you tell us, what are the areas depicted in this particular part of Exhibit 339.

A. This is the bathroom. There was an area back -- I don't know. It was an area back here where the flight attendant would make the food and stuff.

Q. Okay.

A. And then the luggage is way in the back.

Q. Okay. So show us the bathroom again.

A. Right here.

Q. Okay. So that little white box that's on the screen there, do you see the little white box. Is that part of the bathroom, on the lower part.

A. Yeah.

Q. Why don't you write “BR” in there.

Okay. We're going to slide the Exhibit 339 all the way to the other end. Okay.

So I take it that would be the front part of the plane.

A. Yes.

Q. So could we just write “front” on there, if you would.

Do you remember where the door to the plane is where you got on.

A. It's right there.

Q. Okay. Do you want to write “door” in that space.

All right. I think we're done with that exhibit. Thank you.

May I have a moment, Your Honor. We can turn the lights back on.

All right. Now, that exhibit that you put in front of you, that's 339, the plane.

A. Yes.

Q. Would you please just write your name on it. Because we're going to have several of those, and we want to make sure that we have your name on it.

Thank you. Now, one other thing that I think that I probably forgot to ask you that needs to be asked: You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that your brother had been diagnosed with cancer.

A. Yes.

Q. And that he had had a battle with cancer, and had been going to the hospital and out of the hospital from time to time.

A. Yes.

Q. How long was it before -- how long did it last. How long did that illness last.

A. A year.

Q. And what happened at the end of the year.

A. He was in remission. There was no more -- they couldn't find no more cancer cells.

Q. So it was a year from when it first happened to when it went into remission.

A. Yes.

Q. Can you peg that for us in terms of where you were in your schooling when he actually went into remission.

A. My sophomore year.

Q. Was your father still in the house at the time that he -- that Gavin -- Gavin went into remission.

A. No.

Q. He was already gone.

A. Yes. He had left the month before.

Q. I'm sorry.

A. He had left the month before.

Q. Okay. Let's move back to where we were chronologically. And we're talking about on the plane coming from Miami.

Now, when the plane landed, did you know where you were.

A. We were back in -- near the Neverland Ranch.

Q. And when you got off the plane, where did you go.

A. We got picked up in a limo and we got took to the ranch.

Q. Now, could you tell us, when you got off the plane and you got into the limo, was it night or day.

A. It was night.

Q. Do you remember about what time it was.

A. No. It was just pitch black.

Q. So you got into the limo. And were there any stops between the airport and the ranch, to your knowledge.

A. No. No.

Q. And when you got to the ranch, where did you go.

A. I went to the guest room.

Q. Was it the same one you were in before or a different one.

A. It was the same one.

Q. And do you know -- did you go in your mom's room, wherever your mom was staying.

A. Not that night. Just to say goodnight, but not to stay there.

Q. So you went in there to say goodnight.

A. Yeah.

Q. Where was she staying.

A. She was staying next to me.

Q. Okay. In the guest quarters.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, with regard to your brothers, did you see where they went when you got back to the ranch and got out of the limo.

A. I just seen -- I saw them run off with Mr.

Jackson.

Q. I couldn’t hear you.

A. I just saw them run off with Mr. Jackson.

Q. Did you see in what direction they took off.

A. Towards the main house.

Q. Did you -- how far did you see them go before you went and did something else.

A. I just saw them go into the main house.

Q. So you actually saw them go into the house.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you see them at all the rest of that night.

A. No.

Q. Now, while you were at the ranch now, had you missed school.

A. No, because I was off track at that time.

Q. What does that mean.

A. I go to -- at that time I was on a year-round school. So I would go to school for three months; get three months off; and go to school for three months.

Q. Now, you told us that when you were -- when you heard about the trip to Miami, you called your mom on a pay phone.

A. Yeah, it was like a couple days before the vacation.

Q. But were you in school at that time.

A. I was in summer -- in like -- they have two intersessions. One like summer school, but they had it during the winter.

Q. Okay.

A. And I think I was -- I had some classes. That’s why I was at school.

Q. Okay. And were your brothers, to your knowledge, in school.

A. I think they were.

Q. Do you remember which school they were going to at this time. By “this time,” I mean when you’re at Neverland Valley Ranch after you’ve come back from Miami.

A. I think they were in Hollenbeck. But I couldn’t remember. I don’t remember really.

Q. Okay. At any time after you arrived back at the ranch that night, did the person you described previously as Dieter, the one you met in Miami at the hotel --

A. Yes.

Q. -- did you ever see him on the ranch.

A. Later on.

Q. Okay. How many days later was it.

A. I think it was the next day or the following day.

Q. Did you ever see the person that you named as Ronald and identified in the photograph, did you see that person come to the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember when that was.

A. Around the same time as Dieter.

Q. And during the time that you got to the ranch, and when these two individuals arrived at the ranch, did you know whether or not they were staying at the ranch.

A. Yeah. I think so. Because they were there all day from -- I’d see them.

Q. When you saw them, can you tell us whether or not you ever saw them with Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. On how many occasions during those first days.

A. Well, anytime I’d really come into the main house --

Q. You have to speak up.

A. Anytime I really, like, passed by the main house, I would see them occasionally talking with each other. But I really don’t remember.

Q. Okay.

A. It was a couple of times.

Q. Did you ever see them meeting and talking in any other places on the location there.

A. No, not that I remember.

Q. Okay.

A. Like later on they would meet in the guest quarters, but -- like Mr. Jackson and Ronald. But not at the beginning.

Q. I couldn't hear that.

A. Like later on --

Q. Okay.

A. -- like Mr. Jackson and Ronald would meet in the guest quarters. But other than that, no.

Q. Okay. That was later on, though.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, did you personally have any contact with the people -- let's say Dieter first. Let's start with the person you described as Dieter. Did you ever have any conversations with him.

A. Couple times.

Q. What were the subjects of the conversations.

A. On the rebuttal film and us going to Brazil.

Q. All right. Let's talk about the rebuttal film, all right. What did Dieter tell you about the rebuttal film. And first of all, let's go back. Where did -- excuse me. Where did that conversation take place.

A. There was one conversation in one of the guest quarters with me and my mom and my brothers.

Q. All right. Anybody else present.

A. No, it was just Dieter and us.

Q. And how many days do you think it was that you'd been there before that conversation occurred.

A. Less than a week. Three days, four days.

Q. And what was the subject matter of the conversation.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: It's offered under 223.

THE COURT: I'll accept it conditionally. Excuse me. I'll accept the testimony conditionally under the instructions I gave you earlier.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead.

A. It was about the watch.

Q. All right. What about the watch.

A. He wanted it back.

Q. Who wanted it back.

A. Dieter wanted it back from Gavin.

Q. And what was said.

A. That he wanted it back; that he could put it in a safe and take care of it for him and he might lose it, and he just wanted it back.

Q. All right. And did he get it back.

A. No.

Q. Why.

A. Gavin didn’t want to give it to him.

Q. What was your mother’s attitude towards that.

A. Just -- she didn’t see no point in it. She just -- whatever Gavin wanted.

Q. Now -- I got it. It’s all right.

Now, you told us that the other conversations that you had with this gentleman Dieter involved the rebuttal film.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, when you talk about a rebuttal film, what do you mean by that.

A. They said they wanted to do another video, and they wanted it to just be of us.

Q. Who’s “they”.

A. Dieter and Frank talked about it.

Q. Now, when -- let’s talk about Dieter first of all, okay. When did you have a conversation with Dieter about this rebuttal film.

A. I think it was in -- near, like, the kitchen area. In that area. Like in the sitting area.

Q. Okay. And do you recall how long you’d been at the ranch before -- when that conversation took place.

A. It was after the watch incident, so five days or so. I think.

Q. What did he say about -- what did he say to you about the rebuttal.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.
MR. SNEDDON: Offered for the same purpose, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. I’ll accept it conditionally.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead.
A. It was just -- we were supposed to say nice things about him and just -- and he offered us -- to give us a paper.
Q. A paper. What do you mean by “a paper”.

A. It was kind of like a script, just of things to say.
Q. Did you read it.
A. Yeah.
Q. Do you remember what was on it.
A. Just nice things of Mr. Jackson, and that’s it.
Q. Now, at some point in time after you arrived at the ranch from Miami, and you’re on the ranch, okay --
A. Yes.
Q. -- did you leave.
A. From --
Q. From Neverland. I’m not asking you how long. I’m just asking did you leave.
A. We left at -- just to do the rebuttal.
Q. Okay.
A. And there was -- that’s all I remember, yeah.
Q. Do you remember meeting a man at the ranch by the name of Jesus.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Who is Jesus.
A. He’s one of the security guards there or just one of the head people around the ranch.
Q. And did you ever leave the ranch with Jesus.
A. Yeah. Now I remember, yeah.
Q. Do you recall with regard to that particular incident -- between the time that you arrived at the ranch at Neverland and the time that you left with Jesus, okay. We’re talking about that time.

A. (Nods head up and down.)

Q. Where did your mother stay on the ranch.

A. She stood in the guest quarters.

Q. And could you tell us, under your personal observations and opinion, did your mother come out of the room very often.

A. Never.

Q. Why.

A. She just never came out, and then --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Calls for speculation; hearsay. And no foundation.

MR. SNEDDON: Let me see if I can go back and cure it a little bit, Judge. I think I can do that without any problem.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. During the time that you got from Miami and you got to the ranch --

A. Yes.

Q. -- to the time that you left with Jesus, okay --

A. Yes.

Q. -- where were your brothers.

A. They were running around with Mr. Jackson.

Q. Did you see much of them.

A. Not really.

Q. So the only person that you know on the ranch was your mother.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you spend time with your mother.

A. Yes.

Q. And where did you spend time with your mother.

A. In her room.

Q. And your room was next door to your mother’s room.

A. Yes.

Q. So, do you have an opinion with regard to how much your mother came out of her room.

A. Hardly never. Not really at all.

Q. During the time that you were there from -- you got back from Miami and before you left with Jesus - okay. - how long was that; do you recall.

A. I’m sorry, repeat the question. I was thinking about me and my mom in the room.

Q. Did I forget to ask you something about you and your mom.

A. No, just thinking about the whole situation. Can you repeat the question.

Q. Sure. From the time you arrived at the ranch till the time you left with Jesus, okay, how many days do you think that was.

A. I don’t remember. Close to a week or less. I don’t remember.

Q. Okay.

A. It had been a while, though.

Q. Now, had -- can you describe your mother’s demeanor and attitude during the time that she was at the ranch between the time you got there and the time you left with Jesus.

A. She seemed kind of worried and just didn’t really understand the whole situation, what was really going on. And she was kind of scared.

Q. Now, when -- when you left with Jesus, do you remember what time of the night or day it was that you left.

A. It was night.

Q. How do you know that.

A. Because it was really dark out.

Q. And do you remember the circumstances under which you left.

A. Yeah, we were scared and we just --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation; calls for speculation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead.

A. We were kind of scared and we just really didn’t -- the way the conversations with Dieter went, they were real aggressive and just -- we were scared, so -- of course Gavin didn’t want to leave.

But my mom and me, mainly my mom wanted to get us out of there.

Q. All right. And then do you recall how Mr. Salas -- I’m sorry, how Jesus got involved in this.

A. My mom asked him to take us to home.

Q. Were you present when she did that.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. So at some point you were told what, by your mom.

A. By my mom, that we were leaving.

Q. And you gathered up your stuff, I take it.

A. Some little things. Not really. We just really wanted to get out of there.

Q. And then what did you do.

A. We left.

Q. And who went.

A. Jesus, me, my brothers and my mom.

Q. Now, I don’t want you to speak for anybody else, okay. I want you to speak for yourself. Why was it that you felt that you were scared.

A. Just the whole situation. The whole secrecy. The -- just real aggressive. I was just scared. I didn’t understand what was going on and why it was like this. I was just scared.

Q. Did you -- during this time, when you first got to the ranch and before you left with Jesus, did you have any interaction with the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson.

A. Just little interaction, yeah.

Q. All right. And can you describe that.

A. Hi; a hug; there would be times where I’d walk in where Mr. Jackson and the boys and Aldo would be and just say hi and stuff like that. But I would leave immediately.

Q. Why.

A. Because they would tell me, “Oh, don’t you want to go do that.” And just felt uncomfortable, like if they didn’t want me there.

Q. So, just to fill in the rest of it for the jury, the people that you’ve identified in those photographs as Aldo and Marie Nicole, did they go to the ranch at the same time that you folks did. From the limo, from the plane, to the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. And they were there.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you know where Marie Nicole was staying.

A. She stood in the main house.

Q. And how do you know that.

A. Because we would talk and stuff. And then I stood in the room with her at one time, just sitting and talking.

Q. To your knowledge, at any time did the boys come back and stay in the guest cottage.

A. One time Star did.

Q. Between the time that you arrived from Miami till the time you left with Jesus, did the boys come back and stay in the guest cottage.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: To your knowledge, based upon what you saw and observed, did you ever see the boys stay the night in the guest cottage before you left with Jesus.

MR. MESEREAU: Same objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Um, I think that was after, after we came back.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: What was after.

A. The incident with Star coming to sleep in the room. It was after we had come back.

Q. Come back from.

A. I don’t know where it was placed. All I know, there was one incident Star came and slept with me in the room.

Q. Okay. So there was one time.

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. Can you tell us whether or not, from your own personal observation -- strike that. Did you see your mother interact with Dieter and Ronald.
A. There was one incidence I saw him coming out of my mom’s room, but -- I don’t remember. She would tell me --

Q. Don’t tell us what she said.
A. Okay.
Q. It’s not your fault.
A. From what I saw, no.
Q. You weren’t present during those conversations.
A. No.
Q. But there were occasions when you saw Dieter and Ronald coming out of your mom’s room.
A. Yeah.
Q. Did you go into -- don’t tell us what she said. But after that, did you go in to see her right away.
A. Yeah.
Q. Could you tell us whether or not she was upset.
A. Yes. She seemed upset.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection.
I’ll withdraw the objection.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, when you left with Jesus, do you remember where you were taken.
A. Yes.
Q. Where were you taken.
A. To my grandmother’s house.
Q. And was your grandmother still living in El Monte.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, after -- I’m sorry. Now, after you got to -- got to El Monte, do you remember what time it was.

A. It was night.

Q. Still night.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. So that night, did you spend the night there with your grandparents.

A. Yes.

Q. At this point, was -- to your knowledge, was your mother still seeing Major Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. And, in fact -- let me put it this way: At the point before you left for Miami, okay, for the trip to Miami, was she still seeing Major Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. At that point in time, was your mother staying at the Soto Street address or with Major Jackson.

A. Um --

Q. If you know.

A. At the very beginning we were still staying at the Soto apartment.

Q. Okay.

A. And then would go sleep over at his house, but we were still living at the Soto apartment.

Q. When you got back from Neverland Ranch, you're back at your grandparents' place, all right. Now, did you remain at your grandparents' or did you go somewhere else.

A. We went to Jay Jackson's house.

Q. And do you remember how many days you were there.

A. We didn't sleep over that night.

Q. How about the next night.

A. I think that's the day that the ladies came over from -- the social workers.

Q. Do you ever remember --

MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me.

THE COURT: She's not speaking loud enough. You need to speak up.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay.

THE COURT: Would you like the answer read back.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, please, Your Honor.

Thank you.

THE COURT: Please.

(Record read.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Do you remember an incident at Jay Jackson’s apartment where a private investigator came to the apartment.

A. Yes.

Q. Was that before or after the time you went to talk to the social workers.

A. This was before.

Q. Was it before -- well, was it after you left the ranch with Mr. Jesus.

A. I think it was after. I don’t remember.

Q. Do you remember what day of the week it was.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Describe the meeting to us, if you would.

A. Mr. Miller came in and --

Q. You knew his name.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. What was it.

A. Mr. Bradley Miller.

Q. Okay. Go ahead.

A. Mr. Miller -- we all sat on the -- Jay’s couch, and -- me and my mom and my brothers and Jay and Mr. Miller. And Mr. Miller just told us to say what we thought about our father and say how we felt about Mr. Jackson.

Q. Did -- did you remain during the entire time that Mr. Miller was there.

A. Yes.

Q. To your knowledge, did you ever see a tape-recorder.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was the tape-recorder.

A. It was placed on the glass table.

Q. Whose tape-recorder was that.

A. That was Mr. Miller’s.

Q. And during the course of the conversations between you and Mr. Miller, did he ever turn it off.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember how many times he did that.

A. It was several times. But he would turn it off and say “Um, that’s not necessary. You don’t need to talk about that. Let’s start over. I want to talk about this now,” and he would restart the tape.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

THE COURT: Just a moment. Overruled. Go ahead. Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Go ahead.

A. He would start to rewind it and say, “That’s” -- “You don’t need to say that.”

Q. Do you remember how long the conversation with Mr. Miller lasted.

A. Half an hour, I think.

Q. Now, at some point after this tape-recorded conversation with this person you knew as Mr. Miller -- okay. -- did you go back to the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. And who did you go back to the ranch with.

A. My brothers and my mom.

Q. And how did you get back to the ranch.

A. Someone came and picked us up.

Q. Now, do you remember the name of the person who picked you up.

A. I don’t remember who it was.

Q. When you were picked up, do you remember where you were when you got picked up.

A. At Jay’s apartment.

Q. You’re going to have to speak up.

A. At Jay’s apartment.

Q. That’s great. Just keep it right like that. Okay. At Jay’s apartment. And where did you go.

A. To Neverland Ranch.

Q. Were there any stops made between the point you left Major Jackson’s place and you got to the ranch, to your knowledge or recollection.

A. I think there was a point that we stopped at Jamie’s, The Laugh Factory.

Q. You have to --

A. I think that was the point that we stopped at The Laugh Factory.

Q. You remember there was an incident that you stopped at The Laugh Factory.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. You got back to the ranch at some point, correct.

A. Yeah.

Q. And when you got back to the ranch, did you see anybody at the ranch that you recognized that had been there before, when you first got there.

A. Frank was there. And I met Vinnie.

Q. Can you tell us whether or not Dieter was there.

A. I don’t think he was. I don’t remember.

Q. When you guys got back to the ranch on this occasion, did your mother stay with you.

A. I think she did. I’m trying to place where I was at.

Q. All right. Take a second and place it, okay.

A. Okay.

I think so.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me just a second, Your Honor. It will take me just a second, Your Honor.

Q. Let me ask you something else while I’m looking for this. Let’s go back just a moment in time.

At the time you were at the ranch before you left with Mr. Salas, with Jose -- Jesus, did you hear anybody threaten you or any member of your family.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Sustained.

THE WITNESS: Um --

THE COURT: Just a moment. He’ll have to ask you another question.

THE WITNESS: Oh.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Well, can you tell us whether or not you personally ever received any comments from somebody that scared you.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

MR. SNEDDON: It's not a leading question. It's an open-ended question.

THE COURT: All right. Overruled.

THE WITNESS: There was one point that Frank had told us that there was death threats on us.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Okay. Do you remember a point in time where you -- let me ask this question: Have you ever been to the residence of Hamid Moslehi.

A. Yes.

Q. And what was going on when you went to his house. Why did you go there.

A. That's where we did the rebuttal at.

Q. And where had you been prior to going to his house.

A. The ranch.

Q. And who was at the ranch at that time.

A. Frank -- no, Frank wasn't there. Vinnie was --

Q. Let me ask it this way: How did you get from the ranch to his house.

A. Hamid came and picked us up.

Q. Who did.

A. Hamid.

Q. Who was in the car with you.

A. Me, my mom and my brothers.

Q. Okay. And you went to where.

A. To his house.

Q. Okay. And what was the -- what was the -- why were you there.

A. To do the rebuttal film.

Q. Now, before you left the ranch that particular night, did you have a conversation with anybody about the film.

A. Yes.
Q. And who was that.
A. Dieter.
Q. And what did Dieter tell you.
A. To say nice things.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.
MR. SNEDDON: Same purpose, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: To say nice things and to not talk about what goes on around the ranch.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I'm sorry.
A. What goes on in the ranch.
Q. I didn't hear you. You're going to have to lean in there and talk --
A. To say nice things about Mr. Jackson.
Q. And you said something else.
A. And to not talk about what goes on in the ranch.
Q. Where did this conversation take place.
A. I think it was the main house.

Q. What -- what time was it when you left the ranch.
A. It was night.
Q. Was it dark outside.
A. Yeah. It was late night.
Q. When you got to Hamid's house, who else was there.
A. Frank was there. Vinnie was there. And another male, younger male was there. And Bradley was there, Mr. Miller was there.
Q. Okay. And that night, you eventually ended up in a video; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. An interview.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember the name of the gentleman who actually did the interviewing.
A. No. I don't remember. He was a young male.
Q. Can you describe him at all.

A. Thin face. White skin. He was young-looking. I don’t remember.

Q. Now, before -- when you got to Mr. -- when you got to Hamid’s house and before the filming took place, what were you doing. You personally, what were you doing. Where you were in the house.

A. In Hamid’s house.

Q. Yes.

A. Standing, facing the -- like the area where we filmed it.

Q. Did you see where your mother was in the house.

A. She was getting ready, like in the rest room, like --

Q. Did you see your mom have any conversations with anybody.

A. Don’t remember.

Q. Okay. Now, who participated in the video.

A. Me, my mom and my brothers.

Q. And how long did it last.

A. Very long time. We were there until, I think it was like 4:00 in the morning.

Q. Now, during the interview -- I want you to speak for yourself, okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Nobody else. During the interview, you were depicted at one point crying on the interview.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And why were you crying.

A. I was crying for my brother.

Q. And why were you crying for your brother.

A. Because I was talking about things about him.

Q. What was so upsetting about that.

A. Because Gavin had heard, like, people say that he was a faggot. And he would cry to me about that. And that hurt me, being his older sister. I wanted to protect him any way I can.

Q. Were there any other things that you had heard that were upsetting you when you were talking on this video that made you cry.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE WITNESS: No.

THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer.

THE WITNESS: The only thing that hurt me was things about my brother. There was no other reason to cry.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Didn’t have anything to do with the defendant.

A. No.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

THE COURT: Leading; sustained. The answer is stricken.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: On the video, there are some statements with regard to Mr. Jackson helping -- helping you kids with homework. Do you remember those statements.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

MR. SNEDDON: Just foundational, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: And hearsay.

THE COURT: Yeah, the objection is overruled. You may answer the question. I’ll have it read back for you.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did Mr. Jackson ever help you with your homework.

A. No.

Q. Why are you smiling about that.

A. Becasue they took us out of school. There was no homework to help us with.

Q. On the video, there are statements to the effect that Mr. Jackson was always there and you had a phone number where you could call him.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Do you remember that.

A. Yeah.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Was that statement true.

A. No.

Q. Why.

A. Because any phone number we had of him, that Gavin had of him, it would get disconnected.

MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me, Your Honor. I didn’t quite hear that. Could I have it read back, please.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

(Record read.)

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: At this particular point in time, with regard -- I only want you to speak for yourself, not for anybody else on that video. Okay. There are statements on that video that -- about people thinking of Mr. Jackson as family.

A. Yeah.

Q. And as your dad.

A. Yeah.

Q. Or daddy. Only speaking for yourself at this point in time, were those sentiments that you shared.

A. At the beginning, I found him like a close friend, but they started changing, my feelings towards him.

Q. Why.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive.

THE COURT: Just a moment, please. Sustained; nonresponsive. Do you want the question read back.

MR. SNEDDON: I do, because I thought it was. Maybe I can look at it on the screen or read it back.

(Record read.)

THE COURT: I sustained the objection. I didn’t mean for you to read the answer.

THE REPORTER: I’m sorry.

THE COURT: The question was -- just rephrase the question so we can move on.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: With regard to the statements about considering Michael Jackson, the defendant in this case, as “Daddy” or “Michael Daddy,” did you share those sentiments.

A. No.
Q. Did you share them at one time.
A. As a close friend, yes.
Q. Pardon.
A. I felt him as a close friend, yes.
Q. When was that.
A. At the beginning.
Q. Now, after this -- before you went up to the -- let’s go back, now, before you’ve gone to the filming, okay. What was the atmosphere like for you personally at the ranch before the filming.
A. It was just a lot of secrecy. I was mainly by myself. Or other times I would go in my mom’s room. Just -- I don’t know. It was weird.
Q. Did you have any interaction with Dieter, with the person you’ve identified as Dieter.
A. Not by myself, no.
Q. Not by yourself. With you and others.
A. Yeah, with my brothers. Like he would pull us aside and talk to us and he would say, “I need to talk to you guys.”
Q. And what would he talk to you about.
A. Well, during the time of the rebuttal film, he had told us about the death threats.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: Same offer, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Conditionally admitted.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Could you start over again about what Dieter told you.
I don’t know why I’m leaning into this.
It’s not on.
A. Other than the rebuttal film, it was that he told us there was death threats on us. And that’s why we needed to leave.

Q. All right. After the filming took place, where did you go. After you filmed at Hamid's house, where did you guys go that night.
A. Vinnie took us -- we stood at a hotel in Calabasas, I think. I think that was a period of time.
Q. Did you remember a situation where you met with some social workers.
A. Yes.
Q. And when did that occur. Before or after the rebuttal film.
A. That was after the rebuttal film.
Q. Do you remember when in relationship to the rebuttal film, in terms of time.
A. After.
Q. Okay. Bad question. How long after.
A. I think it was the next day. Next morning. That morning. Because we did -- we slept -- we didn't really get that much sleep, and then the ladies came that morning.

Q. Okay. Where did the interview occur.
A. At Jay's house.
Q. How did you get to Jay's.
A. Vinnie took us.
Q. From where.
A. From Hamid's house.
Q. From Hamid's house.
A. Yeah.
Q. Now, were you a part of that conversation.
A. Yes.
Q. And prior to the time -- let's just try it this way. What time -- do you remember what time it was when everybody started to arrive at the apartment.
A. It was early. Late morning, early -- yeah, it was early afternoon.
Q. Okay. So who's at the apartment.
A. Um --
Q. Before anybody arrives, who's at the apartment.
A. Jay -- no. Jay wasn't there. It was me, my mom, my brothers.

Q. Who's the first person to arrive.
A. Aja is.
Q. And Aja is who.
A. Chris Tucker's fiancee.
Q. Okay. And when they arrived, did she bring somebody with her.

A. She brought her little baby, Dustin.
Q. And who arrived after that.
A. One of Mr. Jackson's security bodyguards.
Q. Can you describe this guy for us.
A. He was a big man, light skin, blondish-type hair, orange, I don't know. And he was just -- big arms.
Q. Called "buffed".
A. Yeah.
Q. All right. Now, had you ever met him before at this point in time.
A. No.
Q. And were you present when he actually came into the apartment.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you answer the door.
A. No. I think the door was open.
Q. And did you hear him identify himself.
A. Yeah. He talked to my mom.
Q. Okay. Now, did anybody else arrive before the social ladies -- social workers.
A. Other than Aja and the bodyguard, no.
Q. Now, do you recall what happened when the social service ladies arrived.
A. They asked everybody to leave. They only wanted to talk to me and my mom and my brothers.
Q. How many ladies came.

A. Three ladies.
Q. Do you remember their names at all.
A. No.
Q. Now, did anything happen before, or at the time that the ladies asked everybody to leave.

A. Yeah.

Q. What happened.

A. There was a time that Mr. Jackson’s bodyguard pulled my mom aside into her room -- well, Jay’s room.

Q. So you couldn’t hear what was going on inside that room.

A. No.

Q. Could you see anything.

A. Well, after he left --

Q. No --

A. Not after he left, but like the door --

Q. Let me rephrase the question. At that time, when your mother and the bodyguard walked into the bedroom, could you see anything at that point in time.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, later, did you go into that bedroom.

A. Later I could see into the bedroom.

Q. Okay. And what did you see.

A. There was, like, a black little square thing on the bed. And I saw my mom grab it and put it on top -- inside the closet, on top.

Q. Okay. Now, did -- were there any other things that occurred before you started your interview with the ladies.

A. No.

Q. Did you see a video played at any time.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. All right. Tell us what happened during the interview. Who’s present during the interview.

A. Me, my mom and my brothers and the three ladies.

Q. And were you interviewed all at the same time or at separate times.

A. All together.

Q. And how did that occur.

A. They just asked us what were the sleeping arrangements, how we felt about Mr. Jackson, and that's what I remember.

Q. Do you remember what you said during that time.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Were you present during the entire conversation. All of you stayed there the whole time.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, how long did that conversation take.

A. About 30 minutes. It wasn't that long.

Q. And you guys -- when I say "you guys," you and your brothers and your sister and your mother -- all remained in the same room through the entire conversation.

A. Me and my brothers and my mom, yeah.

Q. Yeah, your sister. I apologize.

Now, after that conversation with the social ladies - all right - where did you go.

A. Aja took us back to the ranch, because --

Q. Took "us." Who is "us".

A. Me and my brothers. My mom stayed. But the bodyguard wanted to take us, but we asked Aja to take us.

Q. So the bodyguard was still there when you guys finished the meeting.

A. Afterward. We didn't know where he went. And then he showed up afterwards. And we were, like, near Aja's car, and we were saying bye to her.

Q. And where did your mother go, to your knowledge.

A. She stood there at Jay's apartment.

Q. So you went back to the ranch, and did you stay there, that night, at the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I want to show some photographs at this point.

All right. We've had a little break here.

I'll just move this over. All right. You ready.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: I didn't want to start --

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: The photograph you have in front of you is People's 19 for identification. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. I'm sorry. Do you recognize that. Is that an accurate depiction of the person it represents.

A. Yes.

Q. Just flip that over, if you could. Now, turn that one sideways. No, the other one, the new one, so I can see the number. All right. That's People's 30 for identification. Do you recognize the person in this photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of that person.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Why don't you turn that one over. And People's 23, do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction.

A. Not really.

Q. Okay. He's a little different than when you saw him, right.

A. Yes, he's --

Q. We'll go into that in just a second. But you recognize the person.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, the exhibit that you have there, that you just turned sideways, is 194. And do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Is that an accurate depiction of what it represents.

A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Turn that over.
135. And do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that an accurate depiction.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And 138, do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that an accurate depiction.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. The last one, which is 125, do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that an accurate depiction.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Why don’t you flip those back over in the same order, and I’m going to ask you some questions about them. And we’re going to show some photographs.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Can we go to Input 1, Your Honor. Thank you.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. The photograph that’s on the board there -- first of all, I’m sorry, Your Honor, I apologize. I don’t think there’s any issue, move to admit these exhibits that have just been identified.
MR. MESEREAU: There’s no objection.
MR. SNEDDON: I’m sorry.
THE COURT: They’re admitted.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: What is the number of the exhibit that’s on the board up there.
A. 19.
Q. Do you recognize that person.
A. Yes.
Q. Who is that.
A. Vinnie.
Q. Do you know Vinnie’s last name.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Why don’t you turn that one over, then.
Do you remember where it was that you met

Vinnie for the very first time.

A. It was at the ranch.

Q. All right. The next -- what's the number of the next one in front of you.

A. That's Jesus. No. 30.

Q. No. 30. Okay. And would you look up on the -- that's No. 30.

A. Yeah.

Q. Who is that.

A. Jesus.

Q. Okay. Where did you meet Jesus for the first time.

A. At the ranch.

Q. Okay. And the next one. What number is that.

A. 23.

Q. 23. And who is that.

A. That's Bradley Miller.

Q. And you said that there's something about this photograph that's a little different than you remember about this individual at the time.

A. He's bigger. He's --

Q. I'm sorry.

A. He's not as thin any -- he's not as thin. He's fuller in the face.

Q. Now or then.

A. Now he's fuller in the face.

Q. Okay. So he looks skinnier in this photograph.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. And where was Mr. Miller the first time that you met him; do you remember.

A. At Jay Jackson's apartment.

Q. All right. Why don't you turn that over and we'll get to the next one.

All right. What's the number on that.

A. 194.

Q. 194. Okay. And what is one -- not that one. Keep going. No, keep going. Okay. Is that 194 that’s on the board there now.

A. Yes.

Q. And with regard to that particular photograph, what is that.

A. That’s Hamid’s house.

Q. And --

A. That’s where we filmed the rebuttal.

Q. In that room.

A. In that area.

Q. Okay. What part of the area. Take the light. Take the light, that little meter, and show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where it is.

A. Right here. They moved the couch and they put a screen behind us.

Q. Okay. Hold on just a second. The next number that you have there.

A. It’s 135.

Q. Okay. What’s 135.

A. It’s -- it’s a -- it’s the kitchen of the --

Q. Tell us what’s in the photograph.

A. It’s the kitchen of the suite.

Q. All right. All right. There we go. Now, do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And you say, “The kitchen of the suite.” Where was this.

A. In Calabasas.

Q. Now, let’s -- that’s all right. Just leave it up there. Now, did you stay in the room in Calabasas.

A. Yes.

Q. How long were you there.

A. Couple days.

Q. And who was -- who stayed in that room with you.

A. Me, my mom and my brothers.

Q. Were there any other people staying at the same -- at the same time at that place.

A. Yes.

Q. Who.

A. Frank and Vinnie were. Well, at first it was Vinnie and then Frank came later on.

Q. Do you know, of your own personal knowledge, where their room was.

A. If you -- if you were to go out the door, there was a hallway of just rooms. And we couldn’t get to the elevator unless we passed by their room.

Q. And how -- what floor were you on.

A. I think it was the second or third floor.

Q. Okay. Could you see the lobby from your -- outside your room.

A. If you walk out our door and go to the right, you can look down into the lobby.

Q. When you went into the lobby area, did you see anybody you recognized.

A. Yes.

Q. Who was that.

A. It was one of the bodyguards.

Q. Had you ever seen him before.

A. Yeah. I think he was the same one that gave us the -- he was the one that came during the ladies, with the meeting with the ladies from -- the social workers.

Q. How often did you see him down in the lobby.

A. Anytime we looked down there.

Q. And were there times when you would walk down the hall towards the elevator.

A. Yeah.

Q. You and your brothers.

A. And either -- they would have their door open if they were there.

Q. Who’s “they”.

A. Frank and Vinnie.

Q. And what happened.

A. Just -- they would ask us, “Where are you going. What do you need to do. We’ll get it. Just stay in your room.”

Q. All right. The next photograph is -- do you recognize what’s depicted in that photograph in front of you.
A. Yeah.
Q. And what’s the number.
A. 138. That’s the room that I stood in.
Q. The one that’s on the board now is 138, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. That’s the one you stayed in.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you have a room all by yourself.
A. Yes.
Q. And then the next one is 125.
A. Yes.
Q. And that’s -- what’s 125.
A. That’s the outside of the hotel.
Q. And this is the hotel you stayed in.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, when you say this is the hotel you stayed in, it’s the one that has the kitchen and the bed that you just talked about for the ladies and gentlemen of the jury.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Now, I have one last photograph, Your Honor, I neglected to get marked, or identified. It’s People’s 29.

Q. Okay. Now, do you recognize the person depicted in that photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. People’s 29 for identification.
A. Yes.
Q. And with regard to the person depicted in that particular photograph, is that an accurate depiction of the individual --
A. Yes.
Q. -- as you recall them.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Move that it be admitted, Your Honor.
MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: It's admitted.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Well, let's just put it this way: Who is that person.

A. Hamid.

Q. All right. So that's the individual who picked you up and took you to his house.

A. Yes.

Q. And did the filming.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. There we go. So that's Hamid.

A. Yes.

THE BAILIFF: Judge, it's 1:15.

MR. SNEDDON: You can take that down. We're not going to ask any more questions on that.

Q. Now I want to ask you some questions about your time at the ranch. Okay.

A. (Nods head up and down.)

Q. During the time that you were staying at Neverland Ranch, did you ever see your brothers drink.

A. Yes.

Q. On how many occasions.

A. Once.

Q. Could you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, where was that when you saw it.

A. It was in the arcade. It was -- if you move a jukebox out of the way, it leads into a staircase. You go down the staircase, you make a right, there's another room and it has like sleeping bags and stuff. And you go into a little tiny room that's -- if you go into that room, make a right, there's a little tiny room and then that's the wine cellar.

Q. Okay.

A. That's where Mr. Jackson, my brothers and Aldo were.

THE COURT: Would you like to take a break.

MR. SNEDDON: (Nods head up and down.)

THE COURT: All right. We'll take one.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, may I make a request of the Court.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: I understand there may be some difficulty with some of the people being able to hear the witness, and that if that's the case, maybe somebody -- if it's a lawyer or the jury, they could raise their hand and let us know so we can take action accordingly.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Thank you.

THE COURT: We're working on that problem. We're going to try and get a different mike for them.

MR. SNEDDON: That would be great. Thank you.

Q. I think where we left off was at Neverland Ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. And you had described to us the arcade and the cellar inside the arcade.

A. Yes.

Q. And I think what I asked you was, did you ever see your brothers drink at the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. On how many occasions.

A. Once.

Q. And where.

A. It was in the wine cellar under the arcade.

Q. And who else was present at that time.

A. Mr. Jackson, Gavin, Star and Aldo.

Q. And what was going on when you -- did you walk down there with them, or did you join them there.

A. No, I had always seen people walking down there and they would come up with cups. But I never knew what was really down there until one time I walked in, and I just followed them when they were going down.

Q. And this is the one time you're talking about.

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. When you followed them in there, tell us what you saw.

A. When I walked into the wine cellar, I saw Mr. Jackson pouring wine into cups.

Q. Into what.

A. Into cups.

Q. Lean forward. I'm sorry, we got to do that. And how many cups.

A. I don't know. They were just cups. I don't remember how many there were.

Q. Did everybody have one.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you see anybody drink out of it.

A. Yeah.

Q. Who drank.

A. Well, I saw Gavin, Star and Aldo drinking.

Q. All right. Anybody else.

A. Well, Mr. Jackson was drinking also.

Q. Did you get offered something to drink.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you take it.

A. Yes.

Q. And what was it.

A. It was wine.

Q. What makes you think it was wine.

A. I don't know. Because it was clear and -- I don't know anything about liquor, so I don't know.

Q. How did it taste.

A. Funny and, I don't know, weird.

Q. All right. Is that -- were there any other occasions while you were at the ranch that you saw your brothers drinking with Mr. Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Were there any other occasions at the ranch where you drank.

A. No.

Q. How long were you downstairs in the wine cellar.

A. Ten minutes.
Q. Did they all leave in ten minutes or did just you leave.
A. Well, we all went up.
Q. Where did you go.

A. Back up to the arcade.
Q. Did you take your cups with you, or did you leave them down there. Tell me what you did with your cup.
A. Well, I drank some, and then we went upstairs and I just left it on the counter.
Q. A counter where.
A. In the -- in the arcade there's a counter, and you could just put it -- I just put it right there, and there's like a slushy machine there next to it.
Q. A what.
A. A slushy machine next to it. It's kind of like -- I don't know how to describe it. It's just a counter, and then behind it there's like a fake cash register and stuff.
Q. You put your cup there.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Now, with regard to the other individuals that were in the cellar, let's talk about them one by one. Okay.
A. Yes.
Q. You came up the stairs and put your cup on the counter there.
A. Yeah.
Q. With regard to the defendant, Michael Jackson, did he come up the stairs at the same time as you.

A. Well, yeah, one after another.
Q. And so everybody came upstairs.
A. Yeah.
Q. Everybody at the same time.
A. Yeah.

Q. Did -- when you all got upstairs and you were all back in this arcade area, what went on then.

A. They just listened -- well, we all listened to music and then they were playing some games.

Q. By “they,” who do you mean.

A. Well, all of us. Gavin, Star, and then Mr. Jackson was listening to music.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson stay there.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, with regard to the cups that everybody had downstairs, can you tell us whether anybody besides yourself brought their cups upstairs.

A. Everybody did.

Q. When you were up there, did you see whether or not the people who brought their cups upstairs continued to use those cups and continued to drink.

A. I saw them sipping on it and drinking it. I don’t know when they stopped or -- but from what I saw, they kept drinking it.

Q. Did you see your brother Gavin drinking upstairs.

A. Yeah.

Q. And your brother Star.

A. Yeah.

Q. And Aldo.

A. Yeah.

Q. And how about the defendant.

A. Yes.

Q. How long were you up there in the arcade with them that time.

A. Not very long because it was already night and I was tired, so I didn’t stay there very long.

Q. When you left the arcade that night, can you tell us whether or not anybody left with you.

A. No, they stood there.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. No, they stood there.

Q. Now, when -- when you came up the stairs out of the cellar --

A. Yeah.

Q. -- okay. - is there a door to that cellar.

A. What do you mean, like “door”. Like when you walk down the stairs, I don’t remember seeing a door. That’s not the actual wine cellar. You got to go to the right, and there’s a little room and that’s where the wine bottles are at.

Q. Okay. When you came back up out of the wine cellar into the other room and up the stairs into the arcade - okay. --

A. They just put the juke box back.

Q. Pardon.

A. They just put the juke box back. That’s what blocks the staircase.

Q. That’s what I’m asking. You’re way ahead of me. So there is a juke box up there.

A. Yeah.

Q. And where did it go.

A. It blocks the staircase.

Q. Okay. And did they put it back.

A. Yeah.

Q. Do you remember who put it back.

A. No. I don’t remember. I just remember it got put back.

Q. Now, during the time that you were at Neverland Valley Ranch, did you ever go into Mr. Jackson’s bedroom.

A. During the stay at Neverland Ranch, yes, I did once.

Q. How many times.

A. Once.

Q. And do you remember when it was that you went into his bedroom, in terms of how long you’d been there once you got back from Miami.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Misstates the evidence; leading question.

THE COURT: Sustained as to misstates the evidence. Just rephrase it.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that you had been in Mr. Jackson’s bedroom on one occasion.

A. Yes.
Q. This is at the ranch.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. When, in point in time, was it that you went into his bedroom. Was it in the daytime or in the nighttime.
A. It was in the nighttime.
Q. And was it before -- was it after you arrived back from Miami.
A. Yeah.
Q. So it was during that time frame.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, would you tell us the circumstances under which you got into Mr. Jackson’s bedroom.
A. I went after the boys, because there’s no way I could get into the room unless it was after them.
Q. Why is that.
A. Because there’s a code to get into his room.
Q. Did you have the code.
A. No.
Q. And you said the boys went -- you followed the boys.
A. Yes.
Q. Was there anybody with the boys.
A. Aldo was there, I think. I think Mr. Jackson was already in the room. I’m not sure.

Q. So you followed them into the room, in any case.
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. Describe what you saw when you got into the room.
A. There’s a couch.
Q. Lean into the mike. Nice and loud, please.
A. There’s a couch there. There’s a music thing. There’s a little game that -- that’s all I remember. And then if you go straight back, there’s his bathroom, and then right up next to the door of the bathroom there’s, like, a desk and it has a phone on there.

Q. Now, when you followed the boys into the room, what part of the room did you go into at first.

A. Just that front area. I guess it’s like a living-room-type.

Q. And how long were you there.

A. Ten minutes. Not that long.

Q. And Mr. Jackson was there.

A. Yeah. I don’t remember. I just remember us like sitting and me looking around, like, because I’d never been in there before.

Q. Okay. Did you ever go upstairs.

A. Yes. I went upstairs after.

Q. And when you got upstairs, describe the upstairs to me.

A. There’s a bed in the middle and then there’s a little nightstand. There’s a bunch of figurines. When you first walk up the stairs, like, a bunch of like toys and like figurines right here. And then there’s a screen that can be pulled down to watch movies. That’s all I remember.

Q. Do you remember whether the screen was down or up at the time you went in.

A. I think it was down already.

Q. Now, who was in the bedroom.

A. Mr. Jackson, Gavin, Star, Aldo and me.

Q. Okay. Where was Mr. Jackson in the room.

A. Well, after we all got settled, Mr. Jackson was laying on the bed, and then Gavin was next to him, and then Star. That’s what I remember.

Q. Do you remember where Aldo was.

A. I think he was sitting on like the corner of the bed. And I was sitting on a chair.

Q. Go ahead.

A. I was sitting on a chair.

Q. When you walked into that room that time, did you see any alcohol in the room.

A. Yes. I saw empty bottles or half full bottles.

Q. Of what.

A. Of alcohol -- I know the shape of bottles, but I don't know what they were, like the names.

Q. Where did you see it.

A. Some were on the nightstand. Some were on the desk, like a stand where the computer was. Some were on that, where the figurines were.

Q. Okay. I've got a couple more photographs I'm going to show you before you get to step down. People's 75, do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what the room looked like.

A. Yeah. It's real -- messier.

Q. So we'll talk about that in just a moment. And People's 76, do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction.

A. Yeah. There's some extra things, but that's pretty much how it was.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Move that 75 and 76 be admitted into evidence, Your Honor.

THE COURT: They're admitted.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I'd like to have 75 put up on....

Q. All right. With regard to the exhibit, People's 75, do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And what is that.

A. That's where I kept saying where there was figurines there.

Q. Lean into the mike.

A. That's where I kept saying there was figurines at, like in that area.

Q. Now, do you see things that are different in that photograph now than when you were there, that you recall.

A. I don't remember seeing that T.V. It wasn't as messy.

Q. Okay. Now, do you see locations in that photograph, People's 75, in which you saw the bottles that you thought were liquor.

A. Like there was some right here. There was some, like, where there was enough stability to put them. Like anywhere there was, like, stability to put one, there -- because it looks different. I don't know.

Q. Go ahead and put the light on where you put it the first time, and let's talk about that.

A. Like, they were on the nightstands.

Q. Okay. And leave the light on. Okay. On the nightstand on the left-hand side of the bed.

A. And there was some on the other side nightstand, too.

Q. Were there any bottles located on this side of the room that's depicted in People's 75, that you recall.

A. Yeah. There was some -- well, when -- this was not as messy. There was some right here, and then there was one or two right there.

Q. Okay. Let's go to the next exhibit. That exhibit is People's 76. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, is there anything that's in that photograph that wasn't there when you were there.

A. The crib and this was -- I don't remember seeing that.

Q. So by "this," do you mean there's a little object that looks like it has a screen that's directly underneath a lamp or between a lamp and the crib.

A. Yes.

Q. And that wasn't there, to your recollection.

A. I don't remember.

Q. And what was the other thing.

A. The crib wasn't there.

Q. All right. Now, indicate to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury -- could you indicate where it was that Mr. Jackson was inside the room when you saw him.

A. Right here.

Q. And where was Gavin.

A. Next to him.

Q. So let's go back to Mr. Jackson. If you'd put the red light up there again. On People's 76, you're indicating on the far left-hand side of the bed.

A. Yes.

Q. And next to him was Gavin.

A. Yes.

Q. And then where was your brother Star.

A. He was on the other end, but I'm trying to remember. I think his son was there too. Like in between Star and Gavin. I'm trying to remember.

Q. All right. Go ahead.

A. Yeah.

Q. And where on that exhibit, People's No. 76, did you see bottles.

A. There was some more on this nightstand, and then if you face the other way.

Q. Lean into the microphone. Go ahead.

A. If you face the other way, like, facing that way, there was a computer to the left of the T.V. screen. It used to be a computer right there. There was some right there.

Q. And what was the computer on.

A. On a stand, I guess. I don't remember.

Q. All right. Do you remember how long you were there in the room with Mr. Jackson and the boys before you left.

A. 30, 45 minutes.

Q. Couldn't hear you.

A. 30, 45 minutes.

Q. Do you remember what was going on.

A. Well, we started watching a movie.

Q. Do you remember the movie.

A. No. It was just -- I remember it had subtitles. I just remember it had subtitles.

Q. And how were you watching the movie. Was it on the --
A. On that big screen that you pull down.
Q. Okay. Now, when you left Mr. Jackson’s room, did the boys leave with you or did you go by yourself.
A. I left by myself.
Q. Did anybody else leave with you at that time.
A. No.
Q. Where did you go.
A. I went to my room.
MR. SNEDDON: Now, we can take that down now, if you want. And turn the lights on, would be fine, Your Honor.
Q. You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that there was a time that you went to that Calabasas hotel that you identified in those photographs.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, while you were at that particular hotel - okay. - did you go anywhere with Frank Tyson or Vinnie Amen.
A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go.
A. They took us to go get passports.
Q. Did you go with them.
A. Yes.
Q. Where else.
A. That’s all I remember right now.
Q. Did you ever go shopping.
A. Oh, we did go shopping one time.
Q. Where did you go.
A. We went to like an outlet place to go pick up some luggages. And then we went to the mall and picked up some clothes.
Q. And what was the reason you went shopping.
A. They told us we were going to Brazil.
Q. I’m sorry, I couldn’t hear you.
A. Because they told us we were going to Brazil.

Q. Who told you that.
A. Frank. And then earlier on Dieter had already said that.
Q. Did they say why you were going to Brazil.
A. Because they said that -- to get us away because there was death threats on us.
Q. Who told you that.
A. Dieter. And then Frank told me another time, also.
Q. And you mentioned earlier in your testimony that you had made a trip to The Laugh Factory.

A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Where is The Laugh Factory; do you know.
A. It's in Hollywood.
Q. And do you remember -- was it during the time you were at Calabasas or some other time.
A. I think it was during that time.
Q. Now, who went to The Laugh Factory.
A. We all -- Vinnie, my mom, my brothers and me went to The Laugh Factory. But my mom and Gavin were the only ones that got off.
Q. "Got off." What do you mean, "got off".
A. Got off the car and went to go see Jamie. Because Vinnie told us to stay --
Q. Just slow down. Let's take it one at a time. Okay. Make sure we got all the characters here.
You got into a car. You left from Calabasas, and you went to The Laugh Factory.
A. Yeah.
Q. Who's in the car.
A. Vinnie, me, my mom, and my brothers.
Q. All right. Now, you get to The Laugh Factory. Who leaves the car.
A. My mom and my brother Gavin.
Q. Okay. Now, did Vinnie tell you something at that point in time.
A. He told me and Star to stay.

Q. Did he say why.
A. No.
Q. So your mother and Gavin went inside.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, did you ever go inside during that trip.
A. Yes, because Vinnie -- sorry.
Q. That's all right. We'll take it one step at a time. So you went inside.
Now, how long had it been before -- how long were you in the car with your brother and with this Vinnie person that you've identified in the photograph before you went inside.
A. About 15 minutes. About 15 minutes.
Q. Okay. Now, what happened.
A. Um --
Q. Why was it that you went inside.
A. Because Vinnie kept saying, "Where's your mom. Where's your mom. Go get her." Because he was, I don't know, impatient. He wanted us to leave.
Q. Did he know, to your knowledge, who your mother was meeting with.
A. Just Jamie.
Q. Now, when you went -- you told the jury you went inside.
Do you want some water.
A. Yeah.

Q. All right. Did Star go in with you.
A. No.
Q. Why.
A. Vinnie told him to stay.
Q. So he let you go, but he kept Star.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Now, you went inside. And when you went inside, who did you see.
A. I saw Gavin, my mom and Bill.
Q. Did -- okay. Anybody else.
A. That was it.

Q. Now, the person you’ve identified as Bill --
A. Yes.
Q. -- had you ever met him before.
A. Never.
Q. This is the first time you met him.
A. Yes.
Q. How long were you inside with your mother and Gavin and this person you’ve identified as Bill.
A. Five minutes, because I just ran and told -- I just ran in and told my mom what Vinnie told me to tell her.
Q. So after that, did you leave The Laugh Factory.
A. Yes. And I went back outside.
Q. Who came with you.
A. My mom and Gavin stood there a little bit longer and then they came out.

Q. Did -- while you were at the Laugh Factory that day, did you ever see Jamie Masada.
A. Yeah, he was sitting right there.
Q. Right where.
A. With my mom and Gavin and Bill.
Q. So he was there.
A. Yeah.
Q. So how long do you think in total that it was that your mother was indeed with this person Bill and Jamie Masada.
A. I think about 30 minutes.
Q. Now, after you came out of The Laugh Factory, where -- did you get back in the car.
A. Yes.
Q. And your mother and Gavin came out at some point, I would assume.
A. Yeah.
Q. You all got in the car.
A. Yeah.
Q. And where did you go; do you remember.
A. I think we went back in the hotel in Calabasas.
Q. Now, let’s talk about the Calabasas hotel for just a moment. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Do you remember any of the buildings or locations that were around the Calabasas hotel.

A. There was a shopping center across the street, I think. It had like a Ralph's in it, I think. I don't really remember. I just saw it when we were driving by.

Q. Did you ever go over to the shopping center.

A. No.

Q. Why.

A. We were -- didn't leave the hotel room.

Q. Why.

A. I don't know. Vinnie and Frank said to -- not to leave.

Q. Did you ever go down -- does the Calabasas -- does it have a swimming pool.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you ever go down swimming.

A. No.

Q. Why.

A. Just -- we couldn't leave the room, so -- we didn't even bother to ask, because we know it would be "No."

Q. Does the -- to your knowledge, does the lobby of the hotel have like these machines where you can get Cokes and candy or treats or stuff in it.

A. They have like -- set out on a counter, like coffee and little muffins and stuff.

Q. And did you ever go down to get any of that.

A. Yeah. Yeah.

Q. And is that when you saw this person sitting in the lobby.

A. Well, when we had first got there, Frank -- Vinnie introduced us to him and said that he was supposed to be there to keep us safe and stuff.

Q. Did you ever go downstairs to try to get anything.

A. Yeah. We did one time.

Q. What happened.

A. They just said not to leave the room. They seemed kind of irritated about it.

Q. Who's that.

A. Frank.

Q. And when you say that they took you to get a passport, did you actually physically go with somebody to do that.

A. Yeah. Vinnie's the one that took us.

Q. And do you know where you went.

A. No. All I know was it was an office place. I don't know.

Q. And were there any other places that you went; do you recall.

A. Other than to go get clothes and luggage, no.

Q. All right. In that big binder that's right there in front of you -- why don't we just clear the area --

Your Honor, if you don't mind, I could just --

Counsel.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, there have been -- I will direct the Court's attention to the book that it has, and in particular to Exhibits 260 and 261 that have been premarked for identification purposes.

THE COURT: I have them.

MR. SNEDDON: And 262, Your Honor, is a series of passport applications that have been duly certified by the United States Government. And, in fact, they've been signed off by Colin Powell. May those be admitted into evidence.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: They're admitted.

MR. SNEDDON: And then with regard to the second set, Your Honor, they are a set of documents of visas from the Republic of Brazil. And those are also accompanied by the certification of the Brazilian consulate. And I ask that those be admitted into evidence as 262.

MR. MESEREAU: May I just see those for a second.

MR. SNEDDON: Sure.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: It's admitted.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Now, why don't you let me have these.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, with the Court's permission and counsel's permission, I would like to use the originals of these documents to be displayed on the Elmo, rather than copies. Because the copies, you know, the Xeroxing --

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

MR. SNEDDON: Is it okay -- I would ask some questions to the witness, and perhaps I could give the witness the Xerox copies which I've shown to counsel with the Bates stamp numbers.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection to that.

THE COURT: I have a question about my numbers on the exhibits. Lorna, is it --

THE CLERK: I have a question also, Judge.

THE COURT: According to our premarked exhibits, 261 and 262 are not --

MR. SNEDDON: No, it's 260 and 261. If I misspoke myself, I apologize.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

MR. SANGER: Excuse me. Just for bookkeeping purposes, Your Honor, what has been admitted is 260 and 261 and not 262.

THE COURT: Correct.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: With the Court's permission,

I wanted to use the Elmo. I don't know if you need to use a toggle switch or do something --

THE BAILIFF: Input four.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. We have up on the board Document 260. Yes, 260. All right. Do you recognize that document.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize the photograph of the person on that document.

A. Yes.

Q. That’s you, huh.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, with regard to the writing that is on that particular document, is that your handwriting.

A. No.

Q. With regard to the signature where it says “Applicant” underneath the photograph, is that your handwriting.

A. I don’t remember signing it.

Q. Does it look like your handwriting.

A. No.

Q. With regard to -- do you see on the document the -- just a moment. Looking on the document, 260, right over in this area here; do you see that.

A. Yeah.

Q. Does it indicate the destination there, where you’re going.

A. Yeah.

Q. What’s it say.

A. Italy and France.

Q. Did you ever put that in there.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever heard you were going to Italy or France.

A. No.

Q. Did you see this document filled out.

A. Yeah.

Q. Who filled it out.

A. Vinnie did.

Q. Did you give him the information to put in there.

A. I don’t remember. I think he asked my mom for it.
Q. And do you know why you were making this application.
A. Well, they told us we were going to Brazil.
Q. Were you interested in going to Brazil.
A. Not really.
Q. Okay. Now, why don’t you direct your attention to 261 for just a second, if you would, the other document. Okay. Do you have that in mind.
A. Yes.
Q. That’s your photograph again, correct.
A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember having that photograph taken.
A. Yeah, now I remember. They took us to Walgreen’s to take pictures.
Q. When you say “they,” who took you to Walgreen’s.
A. Vinnie did.
Q. So it was just Vinnie.
A. Yeah.
Q. And where was the Walgreen’s.
A. It was near Calabasas. I don’t remember where.
Q. And who did they take to get the photographs.
A. Me, my mom and my brothers.
Q. All at the same time.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Now, on this particular information, the -- on this particular document that we’re referring to, 261, there’s lot of printing on it. Is that your printing.
A. No.
Q. You didn’t fill that out.
A. No.
Q. And the information for this, do you know where it came from.
A. Um --

Q. Were you present when it was put on there.

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. And how did that information get conveyed onto this document. Who wrote it.

A. Well, Vinnie wrote it, but he was asking my mom.

Q. He didn’t ask you; he asked your mother.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. All right. I think we can --

Wait just a second, Your Honor. We’re going to move the document up just a little farther.

Okay. Do you recognize the signature at the bottom by the seal. Right there. And we’re talking now about the lower left-hand portion of the document, if you’re looking at it from the top.

A. I think that’s Vinnie’s signature. I’m not sure.

Q. I couldn’t hear you.

A. I think that’s Vinnie’s signature. I’m not sure.

Q. Okay. All right.

Let’s turn the lights on now, Your Honor.

Now, you said that during the time that you were at Calabasas, that you recall at least one trip where you went shopping for clothes and a suitcase, something like that.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. Now, from -- did you have clothes with you at the ranch.

A. Yeah, but -- a couple. Not really anything.

Q. And where were your belongings.

A. They were in my guest room. Where I was staying at.

Q. All right. And then with regard to your other belongings that weren’t at the ranch, where were they.

A. They were at my -- some of them were at my -- at the Soto apartment. And most of them were more at my grandmother’s house.

Q. Now, why would some of them have been at your grandmother’s house.
A. Because I had to stay with my grandmother, because she needed me.
Q. So you were still going to school at --
A. Roosevelt.
Q. Okay.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Why did your grandmother need you.
A. Because she had gotten surgery on her ankle. They had to move something - I forgot what it was - and she couldn’t really walk. And my grandfather’s a truck driver, so she didn’t have anybody but me. Her other granddaughter, she lives too far. And I’m her only other granddaughter.
Q. Speaking of your grandmother and your grandfather. Your grandfather’s a trucker.
A. Yeah.

Q. Who does he work for.
A. He works for Ralph’s.
Q. How long has he done that, to your knowledge.
A. Since he was 18 years old.
Q. And your grandmother.
A. Yes.
Q. Does she speak English.
A. No. Not at all.
Q. But your grandfather does.
A. Yeah, he speaks English and Spanish.
Q. Now, when -- do you remember how many days it was that you stayed at the Calabasas Inn.
A. Three days. Four days. I don’t remember. About that.
Q. I’m sorry.
A. About three days, I think.
Q. Do you remember whether you were in the same room the entire time.
A. No, we went to another one.
Q. So do you remember the room numbers at all.
A. No. I just remember one was on top of the other.

Q. So one was on a higher floor. They were not on the same floor.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Let’s do it this way: With regard to the first room you went into, was it on the lower floor or the higher floor.

A. I think it was on the one on the higher floor.

Q. And then you went to the one on the lower floor.

A. The next floor.

Q. Were one of the rooms bigger than the others.

A. Yeah.

Q. What was the difference.

A. One of them had one more bed. Yeah.

Q. Did they both have kitchens.

A. Yeah, they both had kitchens.

Q. And do you know, when you moved floors, whether or not, to your personal knowledge, Vinnie or Frank changed their room.

A. Yes.

Q. And how did they change their room. I don’t mean how. They didn’t go downstairs. But, I mean, were they on the same floor as you folks.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you go back -- after Calabasas. You’re finished at Calabasas. Okay. Let me just ask you a few more questions about Calabasas. You’re at Calabasas. And I saw in that photograph that you identified that it has a kitchen unit.

A. Yes.

Q. Did your mom cook while you were there.

A. No.

Q. So you didn’t use the kitchen unit.

A. No.

Q. So how did you get your meals.

A. They would either bring it to us -- I think one time we did go out to eat. But most of the time everything was brought to us by the bodyguard guy.

Q. So you were in your room and they brought the food.

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. Now, after Calabasas - after you left the Calabasas Inn, okay. - tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where you went.

A. We went back to Neverland.

Q. Back to where.

A. Neverland.

Q. And how did you get there.

A. They took us. Vinnie did.

Q. Now, during the time -- let me go back to just one point. During the time that you were at the Calabasas Inn, you've told us that Vinnie was there. Was Frank Tyson ever there.

A. Yeah, he came at one point.

Q. Do you remember how long he was there for.

A. I don't remember. I think a day or two.

Q. So it was not on a consistent basis.

A. No, it was mostly Vinnie that stood there.

Q. Okay. When I asked that, I mean, was he there all of that day, or was he in and out that day. To your knowledge, what you saw.

A. I don't know. We were in our room.

Q. Okay. Fair enough. So you were taken back to the ranch by Vinnie.

A. Yes.

Q. And when you get back to the ranch, do you remember whether it's dark or whether it's daylight.

A. I think it was daylight.

Q. And when you got to the ranch, where did you go.

A. Went to go put our stuff away. And I went to put my stuff in the room, guest room.

Q. So you were back in the guest room.

A. Yeah.

Q. And your mother.

A. She went back to her same room.

Q. Now -- and during that period of time, and during that day at some point, did you see Mr. Jackson.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Do you remember where your brothers were when they got back to the ranch.

A. I don’t remember seeing them.

Q. They weren’t with you, in any case.

A. Yeah.

Q. And you were where. In your room.

A. Yeah.

Q. The entire time.

A. No, I went out to go, like, eat and stuff, but -- and go drive around and go to the arcade.

Q. Did you see them during that time.

A. I don’t really remember.

Q. Okay. Do you remember an occasion after you came back from Calabasas -- I’ll get away from that. At any time while you were at Neverland Ranch, did you ever go on a trip to Toys R Us.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember, in relationship to your time that you spent at Neverland Valley Ranch, when that was.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. I mean, was it like early on, late on, in the middle; do you remember.

A. In the middle. And later on. Like somewhere in there.

Q. Do you remember who you went with.

A. Mr. Jackson. Aldo. Marie Nicole. Gavin. Star. Me. Frank went. Chris, the bodyguard went also, I think.

Q. Who.

A. Chris, Mr. Jackson’s bodyguard also.

Q. A guy by the name of Chris.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay.

A. And we had picked up some fans also.
Q. Where did you pick up some fans.
A. Driving down the road, like before we made a turn. They were on the corner.
Q. Is this on the ranch premises or off the premises.
A. Off.
Q. And how many of them went with you.
A. I don’t really remember how many there were. I just -- I just remember that one boy.
Q. And then you went where. Do you remember what town you went to, to go to Toys R Us.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. How far it was.
A. 20 minutes. I don’t remember. It wasn’t close by, though.
Q. I’m sorry.
A. It wasn’t close by, though.
Q. And how long were you there at the store.
A. 45 minutes. 30 minutes.
Q. What was going on.
A. They were just getting toys and we were just shopping.
Q. Who was.
A. Everybody that went.
Q. So everybody was buying things.
A. Yeah.
Q. What did you buy.

A. I think I got some roller skates. I think I got roller skates.
Q. So after this trip to the toy store, where did you go.
A. Back to the ranch.
Q. Now, with your brother -- his cancer’s been in remission, you said.
A. Yes.
Q. And to your knowledge, does your brother still have to go back and see the doctor periodically.
A. Yes, he does.

Q. How often.

A. Well, now that they --

Q. Let me --

A. Back then.

Q. Yeah, back then.

A. Okay. He would have to go every so many weeks. Because they were monitoring his kidney.

Q. And was there something that he had to do in connection with that monitoring.

A. Yes, he did.

Q. What was that.

A. He would have to pee in a bottle for two days or 24 hours, something like that.

Q. And have you ever seen this bottle.

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Could you describe it to us.

A. It's about this height, of this.

Q. Of the water container there.

A. Yes. And then it has a thick handle, it's plastic. And it's got a real secure, like, top.

Q. Now, while you were at the ranch, did you receive any information - don't tell me what it was - that caused you to go looking for your brothers about the trip to the hospital.

A. Yes.

Q. From who was it that you got the information.

A. My mother.

Q. And did you do something as a result of that information.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did you do.

A. I went to Mr. Jackson's -- because there's two doors. A door that goes straight into the room and there's a door that goes into a hallway that goes into his room. That door, I was knocking and pounding on.

Q. Okay. When you say "that door," I'm not exactly clear yet. Talk about that again.

A. Because there's a door that goes straight into his room. That's the one that has the code on it.

Q. Right.

A. Then there's a door down -- that's on the hallway, in the front of the hallway. That door was locked.

Q. Okay.

A. So I was pounding on that door.

Q. You were pounding on that door. So you never got into the hallway.

A. No, it was locked.

Q. And did anybody ever come to the door.

A. No.

Q. Did you go back -- where did you go after that.

A. I went to my mom and told her that, "They're not letting me in"; that, "They're not answering."

Q. Now, after the -- after -- the day after the incident where you were pounding on the door - okay. - did you see your mother leave the ranch.

A. Yeah, her, Gavin and Vinnie were taking Gavin to his doctor's appointment.

Q. Did you actually see them leave.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know whether it was in the morning or the afternoon or --

A. It was in the morning.

Q. And did you actually see them get into the car.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you see whether or not at that point in time Gavin had his bottle full of urine.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was actually physically carrying the bottle at that point.

A. I think Gavin was carrying it at the beginning, but he passed it to my mom.

Q. Now, did you see where they were seated in the car.

A. Gavin was sitting in the back and my mom was in the front and Vinnie was driving.
Q. And was it at this point -- when your mom was in the front of the car, could you tell us whether or not she had the bottle at that point.
A. I think she did, because right before they got in the car, that’s when Gavin passed the bottle to him -- to my mom.
Q. So I take it you just saw them drive off.
A. Yeah.
Q. Now, later that day, did you see your brother Gavin.
A. Yes.
Q. After he had gone to the hospital.
A. Yes.
Q. Was he back on the ranch.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you see him drive up or --
A. Vinnie drove him up.
Q. Did you see that.
A. Yeah.

Q. So where were you when you saw Vinnie and your brother come back.
A. I was in front of the main house.
Q. Was your mother with them.
A. No.
Q. All right. When your brother got out of the car, where did he go.
A. I think he went to go look for Mr. Jackson.
Q. I’m sorry.
A. I think he went to go look for Mr. Jackson. I don’t remember.
Q. But your mother wasn’t there.
A. No.
Q. Now, during the time that you were at the ranch, and the boys were at the ranch, and Mr. Jackson was at the ranch --
A. Yeah.
Q. -- talking about that period once you come back from Miami. All right. Just speaking for yourself. Okay. Was there a difference in the relationship between you and your brothers.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: You’ve described yourself to the jury already as a close family, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Was there anything that changed with regard to that description that you’ve given the jury about the closeness of the family between you and your brothers.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what it is.

A. Me and my brother are very, very close. When -- during this all, it just felt like he didn’t want to be near me. He didn’t really want to really talk to me. He didn’t really want to talk to me. He didn’t want to be near me. It just felt weird. And me being his older sister, I just knew something. I don’t know. I don’t know. Just felt weird.

Q. Anything else about his behavior that changed, that you noticed.

A. He didn’t really want to talk to me. He was very distant. He just didn’t want to even see my mom. He just thought differently.

Q. Now, after your brother and Vinnie came back from the hospital trip - okay. - at some point in time after that, did you have a telephone conversation with your mother.

A. Yeah.

Q. And as a result of the telephone conversation with your mother, did you do something.

A. Yes.

Q. What did you do.
A. I packed all of our stuff and I just threw everything together. My stuff was pretty much already together. Just the boys’ clothes were everywhere.
Q. And what did you do with the boys’ clothes.
A. Put them back in suitcases.
Q. Now, when you talked to your mother on the phone - okay.
A. Yeah.
Q. - was anybody present with you.
A. No.
Q. And at any point in time, were you present when your mother was talking to anybody else at the ranch on the phone before you packed your bags.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Now, when you come out after packing your bags, do you know where you’re going.
A. I’m going to my grandparents’ house.
Q. And did anything -- did anything happen when you came out.
A. Came out of the ranch, or --
Q. No, no, no. You packed your bags, you’re going to get a ride, and you’re going back to your grandparents’ house, right.
A. Uh-huh.

Q. Before you left, did anything happen.
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. Tell the jury what happened.
A. Well, Vinnie came -- or I think it was Frank came up to me and said, “Just leave that suitcase.” And --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.
MR. SNEDDON: It’s offered under 223, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. It will be conditionally accepted.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Lean into the microphone.
A. Well, Frank had told me, “Just leave that suitcase.” And Gavin said, “Yeah, just leave it.”

It was Gavin’s things in there.

Q. And did you leave the suitcase.

A. Yeah.

Q. And to your knowledge, did you ever get that suitcase back.

A. No.

Q. You didn’t see it come back.

A. I don’t remember getting it back.

Q. When you left the ranch, who left.

A. Me and my brothers.

Q. Do you know who took you.

A. Either Frank or Vinnie. I don’t remember.

Q. Where did they take you.

A. To my grandparents’ house.

Q. When you got to your grandparents’ house, who was there.

A. My mom and my grandparents. I think Jay was there, too.

Q. Who.

A. I think Jay was there, too.

Q. Now, did you ever go back to Neverland Valley Ranch after that.

A. No.

THE COURT: Take our afternoon break now.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.

THE COURT: See you tomorrow morning. Remember the admonitions.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 585 through 765 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 3, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 3, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 2005

8:52 A.M.

(PAGES 767 THROUGH 780)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney -and-
1112 Santa Barbara Street Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU
BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ. -and-
SUSAN C. YU, ESQ. 1875 Century Park East, Suite 700
Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-

SANGER & SWYSEN BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ.
233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C Santa Barbara, California 93101

-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK
BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ. 14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard
Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

INDEX

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES	DIRECT	CROSS	REDIRECT	RECROSS
ARVIZO, Davellin	772-S

E X H I B I T S

		FOR	IN
PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	I.D.	EVID.
340	Rebuttal Film (Two DVDs)	773	774

Santa Maria, California
Friday, March 4, 2005
8:52 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.

MR. MESEREAU: Good morning.

THE COURT: I'll tell you how my day started out so you get a picture of this. Every morning my research attorneys come in and meet with me to see if there's anything that needs to be done. And they came in this morning at eight o'clock. And I said, "Oh, don't worry about a thing, you know, we're ready to go." And then I was told we have motions. So -- and I had to spend some time and that's why you had to wait. So my -- "Okay, everything's all right, it's a go," went like that.

(Laughter.)

THE COURT: So I apologize for keeping you waiting and we'll get started right now.

Are you ready to proceed.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, Your Honor. I am. Thank you.

THE COURT: We'll let you use that until it squeals at you.

MR. SNEDDON: It does have a mind of its own, I'll tell you that.

//

DAVELLIN ARVIZO

Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified further as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Continued)

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. Good morning.

A. Good morning.

Q. You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that you and your mother and your brother and your sister (sic) were part of a film that was done at the house of an individual by the name of Hamid Moslehi, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you remember that incident.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, on that particular evening, do you remember the filming of the -- the actual interview that was done of the family.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you participate in all of the interview.

A. No.

Q. What happened -- about how much of it were you involved in; do you recall.

A. 20 minutes, half an hour.

Q. And was that the first part or the last part.

A. I think that was the first part.

THE COURT: You need to speak a little louder.

THE WITNESS: I think that was the first part.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: That's just perfect. If you can just keep that -- just like that. We can all hear.

And when you were no longer a participant in the interview, what, if anything, did you do.

A. I don't really remember, but I was just there for like a couple minutes. Like standing on the side.

Q. And then what.

A. I don't remember. But I don't remember being right there watching.

Q. So you didn't stick around and watch it.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you have seen the footage, the film of the interview itself, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Of you and your family.

A. Yes.

Q. You were asked to review that in connection with your testimony, correct.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, at this time I'd like to have marked as People's Exhibit No. 340 for identification, there's two CD disks, or DVD disks, I’m sorry, of the rebuttal, what’s called the rebuttal, or the Hamid interview. And I think counsel and I would both agree it should come into evidence. Correct.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, the whole tape, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. It’s admitted.

MR. SNEDDON: There are two disks in that, Your Honor, and I look the liberty of preloading one of them in the -- and we’ll need the Court to activate the “DVD” switch up there on the bench.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, may I inquire as to what is coming into evidence. Is it one DVD. Is it the entire exhibit.

THE COURT: They can’t hear you in the back.

THE BAILIFF: Nobody can hear you.

MR. MESEREAU: I’m sorry, Your Honor. Your Honor, I’m inquiring as to what exactly Mr. Sneddon is proposing to put into evidence. Is it the entire interview, as recorded, or is it part of it.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, at this point, Your Honor, the only part of it I can lay the foundation for is the part involving this witness, because she was not present, as she just indicated, during the latter part of it.

THE COURT: At this time you’ll just put in the part she can identify.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: We’ll deal with the other part later.

MR. SNEDDON: It’s my -- just to satisfy the Court and counsel, it is my understanding that the first DVD that is in the machine now involves the entire family. And that the second one ends somewhere around -- maybe eight or nine or ten minutes into it, it stops, and she is no longer a participant in it, so everybody knows. The first one would be the -- entirely is the family, all of it.

MR. MESEREAU: That's not our understanding, obviously.

MR. SNEDDON: Well --

MR. MESEREAU: Is Mr. Sneddon proposing to use as an exhibit the first DVD and just ten minutes into the second, or is he proposing to use, as an exhibit, both. I don't understand that, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I don't either.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm only proposing to use what I can personally lay a legal foundation for. And that is the first part of the first tape of the DVD and that portion in which this witness was a participant and knew something about. I can't ask her to authenticate something she's never seen.

THE COURT: You aren't answering the question, though.

Does that involve all of the first DVD and part of the second DVD.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Does that answer your question.

MR. MESEREAU: It does, Your Honor.

MR. SNEDDON: I apologize if I didn't make that clear.

All right. At this time, Your Honor, with the Court's permission and counsel's permission, I propose to play the first of the DVDs.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, excuse me just a second.

THE COURT: Yeah.

MR. SNEDDON: Should we have the witness come down to view it, like we did Mr. Bashir, or would you prefer she just stay there.

THE COURT: Depends on how well she can see it from --

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Why don't you try looking at it. If you have a hard time seeing it, let us know. Okay.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

THE COURT: Are you going to question her while it's being played.

MR. SNEDDON: I am not. I am going to allow the thing to play in its entirety that involves her.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SNEDDON: There will be one break simply to change the CDs.

THE COURT: Which input should that be.

THE BAILIFF: Four.

(Whereupon, a portion of People's Exhibit No. 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me, Your Honor. We can't hear what's said. Can we request it be started again.

THE COURT: All right. I couldn't hear it either. Do you want to start it over.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Apparently the volume would need to go up louder, but the technician told Mr. Auchincloss if he turned it up any louder that we'd get a lot of screeching.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I can try it, Your Honor.

THE BAILIFF: I'm calling right now the technician.

THE COURT: Well, we can't hear it.

MR. SNEDDON: I understand that. I had no way of knowing that before we activated it.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: I think if we turn off these microphones, it stops the feedback loop and we can turn it up.

THE COURT: All right. Everyone turn off your mikes.

(Whereupon, a portion of People's Exhibit No. 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I believe what happened, there's an overlap between the first and the second CDs and that this is the overlap. This did not appear in the home version.

Your Honor, may the record reflect that we have stopped the first disk at 3106 and I would propose to put the second disk in at this time.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm willing, if counsel, which I think he does, would waive the foundation for the second part. We'll just play this whole disk all the way to the end.

MR. MESEREAU: That's acceptable, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. I'll approve that stipulation. And the whole second disk will be played without further foundation.

(Whereupon, a portion of People's Exhibit No. 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

THE COURT: Can you cut it there. We'll take a break.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, for the record, that would be at 9.39 on the tape.

(Recess taken.)

--o0o--

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 771 through 779 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 4, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 4, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION

DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 2005

8:52 A.M.

(PAGES 781 THROUGH 959)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067

-and-

SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101

-and-

OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

INDEX

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES DIRECT CROSS REDIRECT RECROSS

ARVIZO, Davellin 798-M

E X H I B I T S

DEFENDANT'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
5000	Audiotape of Bradley Miller interview	933	934

THE COURT: All right.
MR. SNEDDON: We'll continue with the tape at this point.
THE COURT: All right.
(Whereupon, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played to its conclusion for the Court and jury.)
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, may the record reflect that it ends at 30:28.
THE COURT: All right.

MR. SNEDDON: I think we can clear the --

THE BAILIFF: Can you turn the microphone back on.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Miss Arvizo, with regard to the tape we just saw, the exhibit, People’s 340 - okay. --

A. Yes.

Q. -- I asked you about when you were in Miami. Remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. At the hotel there.

A. Yes.

Q. And I believe you told us yesterday that you were not allowed to watch the Bashir tape in Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, prior to seeing this film itself -- let me put it this way: From the point that this was made at Mr. Moslehi’s house on the night that you videoed it - okay. - between the time you were in Miami and the time that you went for the filming of this particular thing, had you ever seen the Bashir documentary.

A. Never.

Q. And from the time -- when was the first time that you saw it.

A. I’ve never seen it to this day. I’ve only saw what, like, the press has aired, like the one little spot. But I’ve never seen it.

Q. Now, to your knowledge, in your presence, from the time that you were in Miami to the time that this film was made that we just saw, did your mother ever see the Bashir documentary.

A. No.

Q. There’s a statement in this video that says that you had full access to Michael Jackson, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Is that a true statement.

A. Me. No.

Q. Let me ask you a few other questions about Miami, so we can go back and focus on Miami. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Just a couple.

When you left to go to Miami, did you have an understanding with regard to how long you were going to be gone.

A. No.

Q. When you packed your belongings to go on the trip, how many days' clothing did you take; do you recall.

A. A couple of days.

Q. Now, when you got to Miami, you told us that on the day after you arrived, you were in Mr. Jackson's room all day that day. Correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Did anybody at that time tell you that you couldn't leave.

A. Well, they just had us in the room. They didn't really say, "You go anywhere." We had asked to go to the beach one time, and they just kept saying, "We'll do it later; we'll do it later."

Q. And who said that.

A. We'd ask Frank, and that's all I remember who we would ask.

Q. "Frank" meaning Frank --

A. Tyson. Mr. Tyson.

Q. Now, let's go back to the time that we're talking about; you were at the ranch, at Neverland Ranch. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Were you, at any time while you were on the ranch, you personally - okay. - told anything about any threats.

A. Like --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Vague; and hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: I didn't ask her what they said, Your Honor. I'm just trying to lay a foundation, there was some conversations.

THE COURT: The question is ambiguous. I'll sustain the objection.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: From the time that you got back to the ranch, Neverland Valley Ranch, after you left Miami - okay. - until the time that you left to go to your grandparents’ house - okay. - did you ever have a conversation with anyone at the ranch about threats.

A. Yes.

Q. And with whom did you have that conversation.

A. With Dieter and Frank.

Q. All right. With regard to Dieter, do you recall when those conversations took place.

A. They were before the rebuttal video, but I don’t know when.

Q. And do you recall what Dieter told you about threats.

A. He said there were death threats on us.

Q. Do you recall what else he said, if anything, about that.

A. I don’t remember. It’s too long ago.

Q. Okay. And you said, I believe, that there was somebody else who talked to you about threats.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was that.

A. Mr. Tyson.

Q. All right. What did Mr. Tyson say to you.

A. He said the same thing; that there was death threats on us.

Q. With regard to either one of those two individuals, did they ever say that there were threats against your family, threatened your family.

A. That’s what the death threats were, were on our family.

Q. Now, with regard to the trip to Brazil - okay. - did you ever have a conversation on the ranch between the time that you had arrived there from Miami till the time that you eventually left for the last time, did you have a conversation with Mr. Tyson about your mother and the trip to Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did Mr. Tyson say to you in that connection.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: Offered for the same reason. 1223.

THE COURT: I'll admit it conditionally under the instructions previously given to you.

THE WITNESS: He just said that my mom was being really difficult, that I need to talk to her, she's not cooperating, and stuff like that.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did he call her a name.

A. Yeah, he called her a "B," b-i-t-c-h.

Q. Did he spell it for you or did he just say it.

A. He said it.

Q. Do you recall whether that statement was made to you before or after the filming of the rebuttal.

A. I think it was after the rebuttal.

Q. And do you recall where you were when you had that conversation with Mr. Tyson.

A. All I remember is I was sitting down. I don't remember where it was at.

Q. Okay. Let me take you to the point where we were yesterday when we took our recess. Okay. I believe you indicated that you'd packed the bags, and then you had then left the ranch and gone to your grandparents.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you left the ranch and you went to your grandparents' place - okay. - did you go back to school.

A. Yes.

Q. And what school did you go back to.

A. Mountain View High School.

Q. And while you were going to Mountain View High School, with whom did you live with.

A. My grandparents.

Q. Now, when you left the ranch, you went back to school, and you were in high school at this point, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Did anything happen to you within a few days of leaving the ranch with regard to your comings and goings at school.

A. Yes.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what happened.

A. I was walking home from school, because my school, the Mountain View High School, is only a few blocks from my grandmother's house. And about the block right before I got to my grandmother's house, a black car pulled up to me, and it was one of Mr. Jackson's bodyguards. He tried to ask me how --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: Offered for the same purpose, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Accepted conditionally.

THE WITNESS: He said, "Oh, how are you doing." He was fidgeting a lot, like under the car. I couldn't see what was going on. I was just really trying to get really quick, and I said, "I got to go, I got to go." And I just, like, walked really fast to my grandmother's gate. And when I was closing the gate, I looked back and he was videotaping me.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did you ever have any other contact with that individual.

A. Yes.

Q. What was that.

A. This was the night before that incident with him driving next to me. I was laying down in my grandmother's room. This is the room that Gavin used to sleep in. It faces towards the outside and it has a big window.

All of a sudden, I heard rocks that were falling on the roof, like someone was throwing them. And I ran to my grandmother and I said, "Somebody's throwing rocks." And we went to the front door, and we just opened, like, the wood door, and we had the screen door closed.

And then all of a sudden, one of the rocks hit the glass. And my grandma screamed, “Hey,” and she ran out. And I ran to go get my shoes to run out, too.

And I -- all I saw was the guy running to his car and take off. And it was the same car that I had seen the next day, so it was him.

Q. Now, at some point after you’re back at your grandmother’s, the -- did your brother Gavin’s suitcase arrive from the ranch.

A. Yes, I think it did.

Q. And were you there when that happened.

A. No, I didn’t -- I got to see it afterwards, but I didn’t see when it arrived.

Q. Okay. But was it still closed when you arrived.

A. No. It was open. My mom and everybody had went through it to see what was there.

Q. Okay. And so your mother did that.

A. Well, yeah, with Gavin.

Q. Okay. But you weren’t there when they did it.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Fine.

Have you ever -- have you ever heard of the name Marc Schaffel.

A. Yes.

Q. And how have you heard of that name.

A. They just said that -- well, Frank would tell us that --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: Offered under 1223, Your Honor.

THE COURT: It’s -- all right. I’ll admit it under the conditional limitation that I have.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay.

THE WITNESS: Frank had just told us that it was one of Michael’s friends, and he was helping him. I didn’t know anything else.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Had you ever been to Mr. Schaffel's house.

A. We saw the outside of it. Frank and Vinnie had drove over there with us on the car and he told us to stay in the car.

Q. And did they then go into the house.

A. They went into the house.

Q. Came back out.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen yesterday that while you were on the ranch, that, in your opinion, there was some change in your brother's behavior. Remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at the point where you -- the family was back off the ranch, now, for the last time -- okay. --

A. Yes.

Q. -- did your brother's behavior change in any respect from the way you described it.

A. Yeah.

Q. What was that.

A. Gavin's a very affectionate little boy. He loves to be kissed, he loves to be held, just everything, his big sister.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; this is asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SNEDDON: This is a different point in time. This is not on the ranch anymore. This is after they left the ranch.

THE COURT: When was the point in time she was talking about yesterday.

MR. SNEDDON: On the ranch. She was talking about the isolation and the changes she saw on the ranch. Now she's talking about what happened after they left the ranch.

MR. MESEREAU: If I may, Your Honor, I think they said they were back and forth many times.

THE COURT: The objection is sustained.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Yesterday, when we were talking about how things were on the ranch - okay. --
A. Yes.
Q. -- and when you didn’t see too much of your brothers at that point in time --
A. Yeah.
Q. -- was the description that you gave your brother at that time and the changes that you saw, were those the changes that occurred on the ranch or after the ranch.
A. On the ranch, he was more separate from me and stuff. But when we were at my grandmother’s house, I saw a lot more of how much he had changed.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, with the Court’s permission, I’d like to go into that.
THE COURT: You may.
MR. SNEDDON: All right.
Q. Now, would you describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what changes that you observed, after he left the ranch, in Gavin’s behavior.

A. He didn’t want nobody to talk to him. He didn’t want to be hugged. He didn’t want to be kissed. He didn’t want to do nothing. He just wanted to be by himself. He didn’t want to talk to me. He didn’t want to talk to anybody. It just hurts, because I’m his older sister.
Q. Okay. Do you have some water up there.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Go ahead. Take a drink of water. We got all kinds of time.
A. Okay.
Q. Okay now. Okay. I’m almost done.
A. Okay.
Q. I want to take you back to the time that you were on the ranch. Okay.
A. Okay.
Q. And I want to ask you, at any time while you were on the ranch, between the time that you arrived there from Miami till the time that you left for the last time to your grandparents - okay. --

A. Okay.

Q. -- did you ever see anything with regard to the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson, touching your brother Gavin in an inappropriate way.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading; move to strike.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: He would constantly be --

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Just “Yes” or “No.”

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, where was that when you saw it.

A. Well, he would be constantly hugging Gavin and kissing him. So anytime I saw them, really.

Q. Now, when you say “hugging” and “kissing,” what do you mean by “kissing”.

A. On the cheek or on the head.

Q. Did you -- were there any other occasions that you remember that you saw things that you thought were inappropriate.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: It’s overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Well, when I was in the bedroom that one time.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: What did you see on that occasion.

A. Well, he had his arm, and Gavin was laying on his arm like this, and they were just hugging over and over. And he just was kissing him over and over on his head and --

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Thank you very much.

THE COURT: Okay. Cross.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, please, Your Honor. May

I just take a second to bring something up.
THE COURT: Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.
MR. SNEDDON: Would you mind if I got my water, Your Honor, by walking around. Thank you.
MR. MESEREAU: May I proceed, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

CROSS-EXAMINATION
BY MR. MESEREAU:
Q. Good morning.
A. Good morning.
Q. Ms. Arvizo, we've never met before, right.
A. No.
Q. We've never spoken either on the telephone or anywhere else, right.
A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: Louder.
THE BAILIFF: Please, louder.
MR. MESEREAU: I don't think --
MR. SANGER: Just hit the tip of it.
THE COURT: Just talk into it.
MR. MESEREAU: Hello, hello.
THE COURT: Back there, in the front row that was signalling, you okay now.
MR. MESEREAU: Hello.

THE COURT: They're hearing you now.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.
Let me start again.
Q. We have never met before, correct.
A. No.
THE COURT: Now they can't hear you.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: We've never met before, right.
A. No.
Q. And we've never spoken either by telephone or in person, correct.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Miss Arvizo, my name is Thomas Mesereau, and I just want you to know I speak for Mr. Jackson. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. If I ask you any question and you don’t understand it, please don’t answer it. Just tell me you don’t understand. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. If anything I say is unclear, just don’t answer. Just tell me, “It’s unclear. Would you please rephrase it.” Just don’t answer - okay. - unless you really understand it. Is that okay.

A. That’s fine.

Q. All right. Now, yesterday you were asked by the prosecutor if you recalled a meeting at Mr. Jay Jackson’s home with three social workers; do you remember that.

A. The meeting with the three social workers, I remember that, yes.

Q. And they were three women from the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services, correct.

A. Yes, that’s what they told me.

Q. And you were at that meeting, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were interviewed at that meeting --

A. Yes.

Q. -- right. And that meeting took place after the rebuttal video, that was just shown, was filmed, right.

A. Yes.

Q. In fact, your family went from Mr. Moslehi’s home, where the rebuttal was filmed, to Jay Jackson’s home, right.

A. Yeah, it was like 4:00 in the morning.

Q. Okay. 4:00 in the morning, you went to Jay Jackson’s home, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And that’s Major Jay Jackson of the United States Army, true.

A. Yes.

Q. And your mother was living with him at the time, correct.

A. Well, they would sleep over. They weren’t officially living there, yeah.

Q. Well, correct me if I’m wrong, didn’t your mother spend more time living there than the Soto address at that point.

A. It was kind of even.

Q. Okay. Okay. Did you live at Jay Jackson’s home at that point in time.

A. No, I would go from -- I would visit there. And I would stay at the Soto apartment and I would visit with my grandparents, because they needed me.

Q. Okay. When the meeting with the three social workers from the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services took place, where were you living primarily.

A. Mostly with my grandparents, because she really needed me.

Q. Okay. So you were spending most of the time in El Monte at that point, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Your mother was sort of splitting time between Soto Street and Jay Jackson’s home, right.

A. This is what I can remember, yes.

Q. Okay. But the meeting with the three social workers was at Major Jackson’s home, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you went right from Mr. Moslehi’s home, where the video that was just shown was filmed, to Jay Jackson’s home for the interview, right.

A. Yes, because it was closer.

Q. And who drove you from Mr. Moslehi’s home to Major Jackson’s home for that interview.

A. I think it was Vinnie.

Q. Okay. Did he drive all four of you to Major Jackson’s home.

A. From what I remember, yes.

Q. Okay. Now, that interview with the three social workers, was their desire -- excuse me, let me rephrase that.

The interview with the three women from the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services took place because they were investigating whether or not Mr. Jackson had done anything wrong and whether or not your mother was fit to be a parent, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object.

THE WITNESS: I didn't know --

MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object. Lack of foundation that she even knows what the reason for the meeting was.

MR. MESEREAU: I'll be happy to go into that. I'll withdraw the question, Your Honor.

Q. Do you know why the meeting with the three social workers took place.

A. I didn't know.

Q. Did you talk about that meeting with anyone before you attended it.

A. Um, I think so. I forgot who it was, but they had just said, "Just say nice things."

Q. But your mother asked you to do that also, didn't she.

A. I don't remember her asking me to say anything.

Q. Well, but they were investigate -- I mean, did you think they were investigating your mother at that time.

A. I don't know.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object; calls for speculation.

THE COURT: She said, "I don't know." She did answer the question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. At that meeting, you said nice things about Mr. Jackson, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said those things because you meant them, right.

A. Kind of.

Q. Well, do you remember appearing before a grand jury in Santa Barbara County.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Didn’t you tell the grand jury in Santa Barbara County that you meant exactly what you said about Mr. Jackson.

A. Well, yes.

Q. You didn’t say these nice things about Mr. Jackson because someone else asked you to, correct.

A. Well, that’s why I say “I don’t know,” because things -- I just remember later on.

Q. Well, let me just try and explore that a little bit.

A. Okay.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury that you said nice things about Mr. Jackson, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were asked by the prosecutor why you said those things, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You said you said those things because you felt that way towards Mr. Jackson, right.

A. At that moment in time I did, yes.

Q. So you didn’t say the things you said about Mr. Jackson because somebody had told you to say those things, correct.

A. I really don’t remember. It’s so long ago. I mean, I can’t remember every little detail.

Q. But do you remember that meeting at all.

A. There was so many meetings. I don’t remember.

Q. You don’t remember the meeting at Jay Jackson’s house with the three social workers.

A. I remember that, yes.

Q. Do you remember who was at the meeting.

A. It was me -- who first arrived was Aja and her little baby, and then Mr. Jackson’s bodyguard. And then the three ladies.

Q. And did Aja arrive by herself or did someone bring her there, to your knowledge.

A. She drove over there.

Q. So Aja drove to Jay Jackson’s home with her child, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And Aja is Actor Chris Tucker’s girlfriend at the time, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you know why Aja drove to Jay Jackson’s home at that point.

A. For support. She’s our very close friend.

Q. Okay. Is she still your close friend.

A. No. Well, how can -- all this is causing friction. Nobody knows what to think.

Q. Okay. But is she still your close friend.

A. We don’t talk to her right now, no.

Q. Do you talk to Chris Tucker at all at the moment.

A. Not right now.

Q. When did you last talk to Chris Tucker, if you remember.

A. Don’t remember.

Q. When did you last talk to Aja.

A. When I was at the rebuttal film.

Q. Now, you testified yesterday that you saw the three social workers arrive, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You were there when they came into your -- to Jay Jackson’s apartment, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you introduce yourself to them.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did your mother introduce herself to them.

A. Yes.

Q. And did your brothers introduce themselves to the three social workers.

A. Yes.

Q. And had you discussed with your mother before that meeting anything that you were going to say at the meeting.

A. I don’t remember that, no.

Q. You don’t remember that at all.
A. No.
Q. Do you remember discussing what you were going to say at that meeting with anyone.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Don’t remember at all.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Well, you said yesterday you remembered somebody with a tape-recorder in another room, or something that looked like a recorder, correct.

A. Yes.
Q. Had you gone over that question and answer with the prosecutor before you testified.
A. Well, yeah, when they first asked me what it was.
Q. And approximately when was that.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Did you meet with any member of the prosecution team last night.
A. No. Not last night, no.
Q. Did you meet with any member of the sheriff’s department last night.
A. No.
Q. Did you meet with any attorney last night.
A. No.
Q. At any point, did you discuss how much of that rebuttal video you were present at with anyone from the prosecution team.
A. No.
Q. Well, at some point did you tell Mr. Sneddon or anyone associated with Mr. Sneddon that you were gone for part of what appeared on that tape.
A. Well, when I was at the rebuttal, I knew there was a moment that I wasn’t there, because I was there.
Q. When did you last discuss that with any member of the prosecution team.

A. I -- I called someone and told them that I wasn’t in the next part and asked them if I was going to be asked about that, because I don’t know.

Q. And when did you make that call.

A. Last night.

Q. And who did you call.

A. Steve Robel.

Q. And he’s a Santa Barbara Sheriff.

A. Yes.

Q. Did he call you or did you call him.

A. I called him. Because I was concerned, because I didn’t want to be questioned on something I don’t know about.

Q. Well, how did you know the rebuttal tape was going to be shown today.

A. Well, because they gave me the CD to review so I could refresh my memory. Nobody was sitting there with me.

Q. And who was “they”.

A. Well, Steve Robel brought it over to me, and I reviewed it.

Q. Was that last night.

A. Yes.

Q. Did he bring it to your home.

A. He brought it to where I was staying at.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object to that question, as to where the witness is, for purposes of security and safety.

MR. MESEREAU: I’m not -- I object to Mr. Sneddon’s statement, that he’s suggesting things that aren’t true, Your Honor. But I’m not going to ask her her address anyway.

MR. SNEDDON: You asked where the home was.

THE COURT: No, he didn’t.

MR. MESEREAU: No, I didn’t.

THE COURT: Read the question back. The objection is overruled. He didn’t ask that. You misheard. Read the question back.

(Record read.)

THE COURT: Okay.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: And did you have a discussion with this sheriff last night.

A. No, he just handed me the CD.

Q. Did he say anything to you at all.

A. No.

Q. Did he tell you it was likely to be shown today.

A. Well, he said it was kind of going to be shown eventually, so they just wanted me to review it.

Q. And was that all he said.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you ever meet with any member of the prosecution team to discuss what you were going to say in court in this case.

A. Yeah, we did meet once or twice.

Q. And who did you meet with.

A. Mr. Sneddon.

Q. And when did that take place.

A. Couple of days ago. Don’t remember.

Q. And did he come to where you were staying.

A. No, I went to where he was.

Q. Did someone pick you up and bring you to see Mr. Sneddon.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was that, if you know.

A. I think it was Steve Robel’s wife.

Q. Okay. And was anyone in the meeting besides you and Mr. Sneddon.

A. Mr. Robel would come in and out, but it was mainly me and Mr. Sneddon.

Q. And was any other prosecutor there; do you know.

A. No.

Q. Just you and Mr. Sneddon at times, and no one else present.

A. No.

Q. Do you know if that conversation was recorded.

A. No.

Q. Did anyone tell you it was going to be recorded.

A. No.

Q. How long did that meeting with Mr. Sneddon take place.

A. Like 15 minutes.

Q. Only 15 minutes.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you discuss what you were going to be asked in court.

A. No. He just -- he just helped me refresh my memory.

Q. Now, how did he help you refresh your memory.

A. They just gave me what I said.

Q. Do you mean police reports.

A. No.

Q. Would it be transcripts.

A. Yes.

Q. Did he tell what you transcripts he was giving you to read.

A. Just of the grand jury, and that’s all I remember. That’s the only one.

Q. Okay. And did he give you any materials to take home with you.

A. Well, that.

Q. Okay. So you took the transcript home with you that Mr. Sneddon gave you.

A. Yes.

Q. And that was your grand jury testimony.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you read it.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Did you read anything else to prepare for your testimony in court.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Okay. How many times have you met with Mr. Sneddon regarding this case.

A. Four times. Five times.

Q. And can you recall approximately when those meetings were.

A. I don’t remember. But it wasn’t till a while.

Q. Have they been in the last year.

A. Well, those two meetings that I had with him, but I don’t remember.

Q. At your meetings with Mr. Sneddon, other than the one you just described, has anyone else been present.

A. At the beginning, they were the sheriff’s department talking to us.

Q. Okay. How about the other meetings.

A. It was mainly just the officers.

Q. Other than the last meeting you described where Mr. Sneddon was meeting with you at times alone, have you ever met with him alone before.

A. No.

Q. Was that the first time he ever met with you alone.

A. I mean, there was no door. I mean, they could walk in and out. There was a kitchen right in front of us. It wasn’t like restricted.

Q. I didn’t ask you that. But I just want to ask you if that was the only meeting you ever had with Mr. Sneddon where you spent a lot of time with him alone.

A. It was --

MR. SNEDDON: Objection. The classification is it was “a lot of time.” She described it as 15 minutes. It’s a misstatement of the testimony. I object.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: It wasn’t a lot of time.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Is that the only time that you ever met with Mr. Sneddon alone to talk about your testimony.

A. It wasn’t alone. Mr. Robel would come in. And time alone with Mr. Sneddon was like five minutes, if you count the time that Mr. Robel was there.

Q. Okay. Did you time it.

A. No. I mean, it was a short time. It was just practically there, sat down, “Are you feeling okay.” You know, that’s it.

Q. Has Mr. Sneddon ever had what looked like an outline in front of him that he asked you questions from.

A. Well, yeah. He had just -- I don’t know.

Q. Did he have a pad in front of him.

A. He had paperwork in front of him, but I don’t know what it was.

Q. Did he ask you questions from the paperwork.

A. Not in the last two days. He would just ask me questions.

Q. Okay. Now, you say, “The last two days.” Did you talk to him more than once during the last two days.

A. No. Well -- no, I’ve only met with him two times during this whole time that I’ve been here.

Q. Has anyone else asked you questions during the last two days.

A. No.

Q. Well, why did you say the last two dates.

A. I was thinking about the last two meetings, not the last two days. Because we didn’t even meet at all yesterday. We didn’t meet at all the day before, so --

Q. Have you met with any member of the Santa Barbara Sheriffs in the last two days, other than Mr. Robel last night.

A. No.

Q. Has anyone called you on the phone to talk about what you were going to say in court.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Have you discussed what you were going to say in court with your mother.

A. No.

Q. Not at all.

A. Not at all.

Q. Did you ever discuss what you were going to say before the Santa Barbara Grand Jury with your mother.

A. Never.

Q. Never talked about it once.

A. Never.

Q. How did you arrive to testify before the Santa Barbara Grand Jury.

A. One of the sheriff’s department officers came and picked me up.

Q. Did you discuss what you were going to say in court with either of your brothers.

A. No.

Q. Just didn’t talk to one of them.

A. No.

Q. At any time.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever discuss what you were going to say before the Santa Barbara Grand Jury with any of your brothers.

A. No.

Q. Not once.

A. Never.

Q. Did your brothers ever call you to talk about what they were going to say.

A. No.

Q. So are you in contact with your brothers.

A. Yes.

Q. Regular contact.

A. Of course.

Q. Are you in contact with your mother.

A. Of course.

Q. Is it regular contact.

A. Yes, of course.

Q. And yet, during all of this regular contact, nobody has even discussed what was going to happen in this courtroom.

A. What’s more important to us is our feelings and if we’re okay. That’s what’s important to us.

Q. So no one has even discussed it, right.
A. No.
Q. Not once.
A. Never.
Q. How often do you talk to your mom.
A. Every day, more than -- probably like every hour. We talk a lot.
Q. Every hour.
A. Yeah, we talk a lot. We're very close.
Q. Okay. Would it be accurate to say you talk to her maybe 12 to 15 times a day.
A. Probably a little less, but, yeah.

Q. Okay. And how long have you talked with her on that type of basis. Has it gone on for years.
A. Oh, yeah.
Q. You and your mom are very close, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you and your brothers, Star and Gavin, are very close.
A. Even closer.
Q. Do you talk to them every day as well.
A. Of course.
Q. And approximately how many times a day do you talk to Gavin.
A. Because he's going to school, he's in stuff right now, I can't really talk to him. But I called him before he went to school today, and I try to catch him before he goes to sleep.
Q. And how about Star.
A. I talk to him regularly too, as much as I could. They're very busy little boys.
Q. Okay. But you talk to them every single day.
A. Yeah, I live with them.
Q. Live with them now.
A. Yes.
Q. Where do you live with them.
Excuse me, I'm not supposed to go into your address. Pardon me. Strike that.
THE COURT: Stricken.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. All right.

Q. Have you discussed what you were going to say today with Jay Jackson.

A. No.

Q. At any time.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever discussed this case with Jay Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed this case with your mother.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed this case with Gavin.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed this case with Star.

A. No.

Q. At the home that you share with your mom, Gavin and Star, have you ever seen any documents about this case.

A. No.

Q. None.

A. Well, just what was given to us for us to think, but we’ve never seen them. We just saw what they came in, but we’ve never read through each other’s stuff.

Q. Okay. Let me just explore that, if I can. You saw documents come in some type of package; is that correct.

A. We all got separate packages, yes.

Q. And are you saying you never looked at what was in those packages.

A. Just of what was for us.

Q. And were there packages for your mom.

A. No. They all came in separate packages. They had our names on them.

Q. Okay. How many packages are we talking about.

A. Well, there’s five of us. So five.

Q. Okay. So five people got five separate packages of documents.

A. Yes.
Q. And to your knowledge, was each of the five people's names on different packages.
A. Yes.
Q. And were those packages given to the people whose names were on them.
A. Yes.
Q. And was there one that said your name on it.
A. Yes.
Q. And did you ever discuss any of those documents with anyone else at home.
A. No.
Q. Never talked with Jay Jackson about the documents.
A. No.
Q. Or your mom.
A. No.

Q. Or Gavin.
A. No.
Q. Or Star.
A. No.
Q. Never said anything to them like, "What did you receive."
A. No. We knew they were documents of the case. We know we're not supposed to talk to each other, so we don't.
Q. Don't say a word to each other at all.
A. No.
Q. Are you currently represented by an attorney.
A. Other than these, no. Other than these, not that I know of.
Q. To your knowledge, is your mother currently represented by an attorney.
A. Not that I know of. I don't know.
Q. To your knowledge, is Gavin currently represented by an attorney.
A. I don't know.
Q. To your knowledge, is Star currently represented by an attorney.
A. I don't know.

Q. Do you know an attorney named Larry Feldman.

A. Yes.

Q. How do you know an attorney named Larry Feldman.

A. We met with him one time a long time ago.

Q. And when was that.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Let me just be clear about this. You don’t know one way or the other whether your mother currently has an attorney.

A. We don’t -- I don’t know -- I don’t talk to my mom about that stuff.

Q. And do you talk to Gavin about whether or not he has an attorney.

A. We don’t talk about that stuff.

Q. Do you talk to Star.

A. That’s not our concern. We don’t --

Q. Do you talk to Star about whether or not he has an attorney.

A. We don’t talk about that.

Q. You don’t know one way or the other.

A. We don’t know.

Q. Okay. You’ve had attorneys before, correct.

A. No.

Q. Ever gotten advice from a lawyer.

A. No.

Q. Never at all.

A. No. Other than the city attorney that was involved with the -- the abuse my father put on us. That’s all I’ve --

Q. That’s the only attorney you’ve ever spoken to.

A. And we have a -- a -- I -- against my father. That’s the only attorney I know of.

Q. Okay. Do you remember visiting Kaiser Permanente Hospital for a consultation with a doctor on June 26th, 2003.

A. I don’t know what that is.

Q. Do you remember going to Kaiser Permanente to complain about headaches.

A. Yeah.

Q. And you were with your mom, right.

A. No, that was the time that I was living with my grandmother. And I went with my grandmother.

Q. Did your mother go to the hospital with you.

A. No, it was just me and my grandmother.

Q. Did you talk to a doctor.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember telling the doctor that you had headache problems.

A. Yeah, it was due to, like, stress and stuff.

Q. And you told the doctor you got three hours of sleep per week, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. And you told the doctor you got 12 hours of sleep during weekends, correct.

A. Yeah.

Q. And when he asked you to explain your family situation, you said you couldn't do it because a lawyer told you not to explain it, right.

A. Well, yeah. I was scared that somehow my father would do something, so I just said that.

Q. Who was the lawyer that told you, "Don't tell the physician what's going on at home".

A. That's what I'm telling you, I don't know.

Q. Okay. But you told that to the physician, didn't you.

A. I don't remember. Probably, yes.

Q. And your mother was with you with the physician, true.

A. No, my grandmother was.

Q. Okay. You went to that physician because you had a civil lawyer representing you at the time, right.

A. Not that I remember. I don't know.

Q. Well, had you spoken to an attorney named Dickerman at that point.

A. We spoke once, yes.

Q. Do you know approximately when that was.

A. No.

Q. And after meeting with Mr. Dickerman, you met with Attorney Larry Feldman, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And after meeting with Attorney Larry Feldman, you went to Kaiser, true.

A. That had nothing to do with it.

Q. I have to ask you, just -- if you can, just answer the question. After meeting with Attorney Feldman, you went to Kaiser, true.

A. Yes.

Q. And you went to Kaiser because you were putting together a claim for damages, correct.

A. No. This had nothing to do with it. I had -- I still get those headaches to this day. Those are headaches of lack of sleep. I don't -- it's hard for me to sleep.

Q. Why would you tell a physician, "I can't tell you the reasons because an attorney told me not to".

A. Because I'm afraid of my father. I don't know what he would do. I don't know. I was scared. I was little then.

Q. Okay. But your mom accompanied you, right.

A. No.

Q. Well --

MR. SNEDDON: Object as asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the medical report.

A. That's fine.

Q. May I show it to you.

A. I never saw it before. I only saw when the doctor was writing it.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I'm not sure you've laid a foundation yet.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Would it refresh your recollection that your mother was with you when you told the doctor, “A lawyer told me not to discuss it”.

A. My grandmother was there. I was living with my grandmother. My mom was not with me.

Q. Okay. So if I showed you the report that says your mother was there, that wouldn’t change your mind. Is that what you said.

A. Well, I call my grandmother my mother. And because of like -- because I was underage, they wouldn’t allow my grandmother sharing things because, like, she’s a grandmother and the mother has to be present, so I would just say she’s my mother.

Q. Okay. You call your mother your mother and your grandmother your mother.

A. I call my grandmother “Ma.”

Q. Okay. And did you tell the physician at Kaiser that your grandmother was with you, not your mother.

A. I told her I was with my ma.

Q. Okay.

A. How she put it down, I don’t know.

Q. Okay. When you were talking with this physician, you explained that your brother Star had a cyst, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You explained your brother Gavin was recovering from cancer, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said your mother has vertigo, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said all of this after meeting with Attorneys Dickerman and Feldman, right.

A. They -- no. My mom has always had vertigo. She was just asking me, like, history and to find out why I was having those headaches.

Q. Okay. I’d like to ask you a little bit about your testimony yesterday. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Do you know how many times in total you’ve been to Neverland.

A. About four times, I think. I don’t remember.

Q. And do you know how many times were before the Bashir documentary and how many times were after it.

A. Counting the Bashir documentary, that’s four. I wasn’t counting that one. Counting the Bashir documentary, that’s four.

Q. Okay. Would that be four visits to Neverland before the Bashir documentary, or four after it, or what would it be.

A. That’s three before the Bashir documentary.

Q. Okay. Three before the Bashir documentary aired --

A. If you count the Bashir documentary, that’s four.

Q. That would be -- I’m just trying to get it clear, and I apologize if I don’t understand. Would it be three visits that you made to Neverland before the Bashir documentary, and one after the Bashir documentary.

A. No. It was three before the Bashir documentary.

Q. Okay. Are they all of your visits to Neverland.

A. Yes. In total, yes.

Q. So no visits to Neverland after the Bashir documentary.

A. Yes, there were.

Q. Okay. Can I ask you how many times you went after the Bashir documentary, if you know.

A. About three. I don’t remember.

Q. Approximately three, you think.

A. I think. I don’t know.

Q. So you think you’ve been to Neverland about seven times.

A. Well, if you count going back and forth, it’s more than -- it’s only -- if you count all those back and forth, it’s only one after the Bashir documentary.

Q. Okay. Now, you did testify before that no one in your family watched the Bashir documentary, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall on the videotape your mother talking about her holding her hand with Gavin like they did in the Bashir documentary.

A. Yes.

Q. She must have learned that by watching the Bashir documentary, right.

A. No.

Q. Well, how did she learn that, if you know.

A. Dieter had told us to -- to do that somehow, because they wanted to erase what everybody had saw on the Bashir documentary.

Q. But her comment - and it seemed to be a spontaneous comment - was, “We want to hold hands like in the Bashir documentary,” right.

A. Yes, well, Dieter told her to do that. Bradley Miller was standing right there, and she knew anything that we didn’t do and say, that Bradley Miller would go and tell Dieter.

Q. Now, when the Bashir documentary came out, you testified the press -- excuse me, representatives of the media approached your home, right.

A. The Soto apartment, yes.

Q. Did you see them.

A. I saw a glimpse of them.

Q. What do you mean by that.

A. Because we closed the door.

Q. Okay. Did anyone in your home speak to them.

A. I think Jay did for a moment.

Q. Do you have any idea what they talked about.

A. No.

Q. Did you hear what they talked about.

A. No.

Q. Okay. You learned at some point that your family was being represented in a lawsuit in England, right.

A. No.

Q. You never heard anything about that.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever hear your mother even talk about that.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you know for sure that Gavin has never looked at the Bashir documentary.

A. Yeah.

Q. And how do you know that.

A. From what he's told me. Well, I'm constantly with him, and we haven't seen it.

Q. How about Star.

A. I don't think so either.

Q. Are you 100 percent sure that Star has never seen the Bashir documentary.

A. Well, if they've seen it at school. There's no way they could see it at school, so I don't think they've seen it.

Q. Do you know for sure your mother's never seen it.

A. I don't think so. I'm with my mom always.

Q. Well, there are times you've lived separately from your mother, right.

A. Yeah, but I would visit almost every day.

Q. Okay. So, realistically, you don't know for sure if your mother had ever seen it.

A. Well, they would talk about it.

Q. They would talk about it.

A. If they knew -- if -- like, if they had seen it, they would have mentioned it somehow. And nobody did.

Q. Have you ever discussed the Bashir documentary with your mom.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever discussed the Bashir documentary with Gavin.

A. No.

Q. And have you ever discussed the Bashir documentary with Star.

A. No.

Q. And have you ever discussed the Bashir documentary with Jay Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Have you all sort of agreed not to talk about the Bashir documentary.

A. We just don’t really like to talk about anything associated with this. It just upsets us.

Q. And you say you’ve only met with Mr. Feldman once.

A. Yes.

Q. How about Mr. Dickerman.

A. Once also.

Q. Okay. And you don’t think Mr. Feldman still represents you at all, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. You don’t know.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. Okay. Okay. But you know that your mother has had meetings with him, right.

A. I don’t know. I work. I’m a full-time student. I’m a full-time cashier. I don’t know.

Q. Do you know if your mother has ever gone to Beverly Hills to meet with him.

A. I don’t know.

Q. You never heard anything about that.

A. No.

Q. Never been discussed in the home.

A. No.

Q. Okay. The prosecutor showed a photograph of your family with Kobe Bryant; do you remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know when that photograph was taken.

A. That was during Gavin’s cancer.

Q. Okay. Do you know where it was taken.

A. At the comedy camp. Well, not the comedy camp. At The Laugh Factory.

Q. Now, have you ever associated with Mr. Bryant, other than having the picture taken.

A. I wasn’t there. I just knew because Gavin was excited that he met him.

Q. But do you know if Gavin or your mother have ever been with Mr. Bryant, other than when they had a photo taken with him.

A. Well, David and Gavin and Chris Tucker had went to a Laker game before too.

Q. To see Kobe play.

A. Yeah, and Chris had taken them.

Q. Taken them into where.

A. Taken them to the locker room, and they had talked and stuff.

Q. But you consider -- or at least at the time you considered Chris Tucker to be a close friend, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You never considered Kobe Bryant to be a close friend, did you.

A. No. Just -- it made Gavin happy to know that he knew that person.

Q. Right. But he never was somebody that your family hung out with.

A. Not as close as Chris Tucker, no. We never hung out.

Q. Never hung out with Kobe Bryant, right.

A. No.

Q. And you mentioned Fritz Coleman.

A. Yes.

Q. And Fritz Coleman is a weatherman in Los Angeles, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And he does comedy stuff at The Laugh Factory, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And that’s where you met him, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you consider Fritz Coleman to be a close friend of the family.

A. Yes.

Q. And what do you mean by “close friend”.

A. He would come over and visit, and we’d laugh, and, you know, spend time.

Q. And where would he come to visit.

A. The East L.A. apartment.

Q. That’s on Soto Street, right.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times did you see Fritz Coleman at Soto Street.

A. Two, three times, that I remember.

Q. Did you ever see him at Jay Jackson’s place.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever see him at your grandmother’s in El Monte.

A. No, we didn’t live there. He would only go to the East L.A. apartment.

Q. But you saw him at Louise Palanker’s home.

A. No, we never went to Louise’s house.

Q. Did you ever go to Louise’s house at all.

A. No.

Q. Now, she gave your family $20,000.

A. No, she gave us ten.

Q. Two checks for $10,000, right.

A. I don’t know anything. You got to ask my mom.

Q. Okay. But you knew she’d given a large sum of money to your family, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. Was it your understanding that all that money was spent on the room, to make it ready for Gavin.

A. It was.

Q. Okay. Is that what your mother told you.

A. No. That’s what I saw.

Q. Okay. So you saw the money spent for that purpose.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever talk to Louise Palanker about whether the man who redid that room was actually paid.

A. I don’t know. I wouldn’t talk to her about that kind of stuff.

Q. You never saw anybody pay the person who renovated that room, right.

A. I just saw him come, and he did the floors and the closet and everything.

Q. Right. Right. But if he was paid or not, you don’t know.

A. I don’t know.

Q. And you don’t know what the total cost was, right.

A. Well, all the little stuff that was in there, it was -- I guess it was a lot.

Q. Okay. But you don’t really know how much, right.

A. Like the air conditioning was, like, $2,000. And the bed itself was a lot. And then the linoleum, the closet, the stereo, the T.V., the DVD player. The whole room was repainted. There was blinds put up. There was everything redone in the whole room. It’s totally different from the whole house.

Q. Did you ever learn that the man who renovated that room wasn’t paid at all.

A. I don’t know anything.

Q. Okay. Because you weren’t in charge of the money, correct.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you know who was.

A. I think David was.

Q. And David was your father, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And he’s the man that your mother refers to as “the biological father,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. To your knowledge, did Fritz Coleman get involved in a fund-raiser for Gavin at The Laugh

Factory.

A. I don’t know.

Q. You don’t know anything about that.

A. Huh-uh.

Q. Were you ever involved in any fund-raising activities for Gavin.

A. The only one that I went to was the one that I met Chris at. And that was really just a graduation.

Q. That’s at The Laugh Factory.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Was it a fund-raiser.

A. It was just a graduation, like how we had, like how we were little comedians. That’s what it was.

Q. Okay. Okay. And you did indicate that you knew Jamie Masada.

A. Yes.

Q. And Jamie Masada introduced you to a bunch of celebrities, right.

A. They would come to our little classes that we had.

Q. Did you meet Mike Tyson at one point.

A. Yeah.

Q. How did you meet Mike Tyson.

A. Through Chris Tucker.

Q. Did he take you to Mike Tyson’s home.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know when that was.

A. That was during -- when Chris had took us to the Rush Hour 2 in Vegas.

Q. And did you meet Adam Sandler.

A. We never met him.

Q. Did you ever meet Jim Carey.

A. No.

Q. Your brother tried to meet Jim Carey, didn’t he.

A. Yeah. That’s one of his favorite comedians, too.

Q. Right. Right. Okay. Now, other than Chris Tucker, who you felt was a close friend, and Michael Jackson, who was a close friend, are there any other celebrities - I guess that would include Fritz Coleman - that you considered close friends at this point in time.

A. Well, Fritz also. And that’s it, that I can remember. Well, George Lopez, too. George Lopez was a close friend of ours, too.

Q. How did you meet George Lopez.

A. Through the comedy camp also.

Q. Did you go to his home.

A. We never went to his home. He would come and visit Gavin at the hospital.

Q. Did he ever come to your home, to your knowledge.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. Do you know if George Lopez was involved in any efforts by your mother to raise money.

A. Any efforts to raise money was by my father. And I don’t know what he would do. He’s just a crazy man. I don’t know.

Q. Did you -- are you aware of whether or not your mother and Gavin called Jay Leno on the phone to ask for money.

A. I don’t remember that.

Q. Do you know anything about that.

A. I don’t remember that. I was never told anything like that.

Q. Okay. Do you know anything about the Santa Barbara Sheriffs recording that conversation.

A. I don’t remember that.

Q. Okay. So as far as you know, your mother never tried to raise money from anybody.

A. Yes.

Q. You’re saying she never tried to raise money from anybody, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that what you’re saying.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Your mother never asked for money from anyone to help Gavin at any time, right.

A. No.

Q. Never saw that, never heard about it.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Are you saying, under oath, that the only person in your family that tried to raise money for Gavin was your father, David.

A. Yeah, he would pester a lot of people. And then when my mom would find out, she would get kind of upset about it.

Q. Really. Your mother would get upset if she thought David was trying to raise money.

A. He’s just -- I don’t know, he’s a weird man.

Q. Well, who asked Louise Palanker for money; do you know.

A. She gave it to us. We never asked her for anything. She gave it to us.

Q. She just volunteered it.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you ever see your mother talking to Louise Palanker.

A. Well, they would talk on the phone once in a while, yeah, as friends do.

Q. Now, you saw the rebuttal video, obviously, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you’ve seen it before, right.

A. Well, yesterday I saw it.

Q. Yesterday. And you see your mother saying that, “When we were” -- words to the effect that, “When we needed help, nobody would help us.” Remember that.

A. Yeah.

Q. And she says, “Department of Children & Family Services wouldn’t help,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. She says, “Nobody would help and we had to eat cereal,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. Are you telling the jury you’ve never seen your mother ask for help.

A. No.

Q. Never in your lifetime.

A. No, she was just trying to make it more dramatic, because that’s what they wanted.

Q. Okay. Okay. So your mother really wasn’t being honest when she gave that talk about, “Nobody would help us when we needed help”; is that right.

A. Yeah, she was just trying to make it more dramatic, because that’s what they wanted.

Q. So are -- okay. So as far as you’re concerned, that was all memorized.

A. Not memorized, but everything -- we had been given a script. You can even see at the end, with the guy holding it.

Q. Right. There’s a sheet with some questions on it, right.

A. That was the script also.

Q. Okay. Are you saying that everything you all said on that tape was memorized word for word.

A. It wasn’t memorized, but it was just things, you know, “You got to remember this, you got to remember that.” I’m not going to remember everything right now.

Q. Well, did your mother, in your opinion, volunteer any of the comments she made on that video.

A. I don’t know. You gotta ask her.

Q. Have you ever discussed this video with your mother.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed this video with Gavin.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed it with Star.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed it with Jay Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Not at any time.

A. Never.
Q. Okay. Now, did you see your mom last night.
A. No.
Q. Did you see your mom in the last two days.
A. No.
Q. But you watched this last night, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you watch it at home.
A. I watched it where I’m staying at.
Q. Okay. Okay. Did you watch it with anyone.
A. No, I was by myself in the room, with the door shut.
Q. Okay. It was delivered to you by Mr. Robel, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Have you ever discussed anything that’s said in this video with your father.
A. My stepfather --
Q. Yes.
A. -- or David.
Q. Yes.
A. Never.
Q. Ever discussed anything that’s in this video with the sheriffs.
A. Well, other than with -- they asked us questions about it.

Q. Okay. But never with anyone in your family.
A. Never.
Q. Okay. Just like Bashir; you never discussed Bashir with anyone in your family, right.
A. Never.
Q. Never. All right. Now, when you first went to Neverland, who first told you you were going to Neverland.
A. I don’t remember. All’s I know is that we went. It was a long time ago.
Q. Okay. So the first time you went, it’s unclear to you, at least this morning, whose idea it was, right.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Okay. And do you remember how you got there

the first time.

A. A limo came and picked us up.

Q. Do you remember who was driving the limousine.

A. No.

Q. Okay. When did you first talk to Michael Jackson.

A. That day.

Q. And was that the first time you had seen him.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. You indicated yesterday that you stayed in a guest cottage, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And can you describe the room you stayed in.

A. Well, it has two beds. A window faces the main house, and then there’s another window to the left. There’s a desk under that window. There’s a rest room to the right.

Q. Did you ever go into your mother’s room --

A. Yes.

Q. -- that visit.

A. Yes.

Q. And was the room next to yours.

A. Yes. For that -- which visit are you talking about.

Q. The first one.

A. The very first one.

Q. Yes.

A. That’s with David and my mom. Yes, I went into that room.

Q. Did you ever go into David’s room.

A. They stood together.

Q. Okay. Now, correct me if I’m wrong, did you tell the jury that the first day you arrived at Neverland, you all had dinner in the main house.

A. Yes.

Q. And your father, your mother, Star, Gavin and you had dinner in the main dining room in that main house, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And was Michael Jackson there.

A. Yes.

Q. Was anyone else there.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. There was certainly kitchen help around, right.

A. Well, they would come in and out.

Q. Right. And that was the first time your family ever had dinner with Michael Jackson, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And without going into what anyone said, did you tell the jury yesterday that the first time you had dinner with Michael Jackson and the family, you discussed whether Gavin was going to stay in the main house.

A. Yeah. At that dinner, yes.

Q. The first time you ever had dinner with him.

A. Yes.

THE COURT: Counsel, sorry to interrupt.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh. Okay. Okay.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: You may proceed.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Ms. Arvizo, do you remember on December 20th, 2003 -- excuse me, excuse me. Pardon me. Not December. Pardon me.

Do you remember, in your meeting with the social workers, saying that you often take a girlfriend with you to Neverland to keep you company.

A. No. No one ever went with me at Neverland.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the social workers’ report.

A. Well, I know I said that, but that’s not true.

Q. But you did say that --

A. Yeah.

Q. -- to the three social workers from the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Okay. And you also told them that you denied that your mother Janet had ever neglected you, right.

A. My mom never neglected us.

Q. But my question is, you told the three social workers that your mother had never neglected you, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you told the social workers your mother, “Always knows what’s going on when she is at Neverland with us,” right.

A. Yeah.

Q. You told them that.

A. Yeah.

Q. Was that true.

A. No.

Q. That was a lie.

A. Yeah.

Q. And you’re telling us today that when you told those three social workers that you’d bring a girlfriend with you to keep you company at Neverland, that was a lie, right.

A. Yeah. There was no one to take, in the first place.

Q. You told those social workers, “Michael is like a father to all of us,” right.

A. Yeah.

Q. You told the social workers, “Michael is so kind and loving,” right.

A. I don’t remember a lot of things I said. It was a really long time ago.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the report.

A. It’s not me writing it, so I don’t know.

Q. Well, would you want to give it a chance.

A. Okay.

Q. Do you want to see it.

A. It’s fine. You’re reading it anyways.

Q. You don’t want to see it.

A. No, that’s fine.

Q. Okay. So you don’t want to see if it refreshes your recollection.

A. Well, the lady wrote it, so it’s not going to refresh anything.

Q. You don’t want to try.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object as argumentative.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. I’ll move on, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You told the social workers your father threatened to kill your mother, right.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object as hearsay. He’s reading the report into the record, here.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer. You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You told the social workers you’d gone to Neverland several times with your brothers, right.

A. I don’t remember. I don’t know what was said on that report.

Q. Would you like to see the report to see if it refreshes your recollection.

A. No.

Q. Don’t want to even look at it.

A. It’s not my writing, it’s not what I wrote, so it’s not going to refresh my memory.

Q. Did you tell the social workers, “I’ve never seen Michael do anything sexually inappropriate with Gavin or Star”.

A. I don’t remember what I said.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you --

A. No.
Q. -- that part of the report.
A. No. It’s not --
Q. It just wouldn’t.
A. It wouldn’t.
Q. Have you discussed what you were going to say today in court with anybody.
A. No.
Q. Nobody.
A. No.
Q. All right. Now, yesterday you identified some photographs. Remember those photographs.
A. Yes.
Q. Before you were asked to identify them in court by the prosecutor, had you seen those photographs before.
A. Once, yes.
Q. Who showed them to you.
A. Mr. Sneddon did.
Q. And when did Mr. Sneddon show you the photographs.
A. A couple of days before I even -- a day or two before I even saw them here.

Q. Okay. Now, where did he meet with you to show you the photographs.
A. In where he was located, in there.
Q. Excuse me.
A. Where he was located.
Q. Okay. So you came to Mr. Sneddon’s office.
A. It wasn’t an office.
Q. Was it a home.
A. It was in somebody’s home. But it was a home, yes.
Q. Okay. And before, all you said was, “Mr. Sneddon gave me some grand jury testimony to look at,” right.
A. Well, now that you’re asking me about pictures, I remember.
Q. Now you remember them.
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. And did Mr. Sneddon show you that picture of the room that was renovated for Gavin.

A. He showed me the pictures and then I would tell him what they were. He wouldn’t tell me what they were.

Q. Did he ever tell you where he got the pictures.

A. I don’t know.

Q. You don’t know if he said it or not.

A. I don’t know where he got them.

Q. Did he ever show you the picture of Gavin’s room and say, “Here’s a picture,” and tell you where he got it.

A. Well, those are our pictures.

Q. They’re your pictures.

A. Of -- with Gavin in his room.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, those are our pictures.

Q. Did you give the picture to Mr. Sneddon.

A. Yes. He wanted a picture of Gavin, yes.

Q. Did you give Mr. Sneddon any other photos.

A. The Kobe Bryant picture, yes. There’s other pictures that we’ve given them.

Q. And when did you give him those pictures.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Was it within the last two weeks.

A. I think so, yes.

Q. Has anyone ever told you what I said in my opening statement in this courtroom.

A. No.

Q. No one’s even discussed anything I said.

A. No. Not that I remember.

Q. Not that you remember.

A. I don’t know, no.

Q. In the last week, has anyone said to you words to the effect, “Mr. Mesereau said the following about the case”.

A. No. Not that I remember.

Q. Not that you remember. Okay.

Has anyone ever suggested to you that, “You need to address some issues that Mr. Mesereau talked about in his opening statement”.
A. Not that I remember, no.
Q. Not that you remember.
A. No.
Q. Are you sure about that.
A. Yeah.
Q. You’re sure.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. All right.
Now, you told the jury that the first night you and your family were at Neverland, you had dinner in the main dining room and discussed whether or not Gavin was going to sleep in Michael Jackson’s bedroom, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, that was the first day you’d ever met Michael Jackson, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You had arrived in the afternoon, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You said you had played at Neverland with your brothers that afternoon, right.
A. I don’t remember what we did. All I remember is me meeting him, and the rooms, and that we ate dinner that day.
Q. So would you say you were there a couple of hours before you had dinner.

A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. Was your mother in the dining room.
A. Yes, we were all in the dining room.
Q. And the subject at dinner came up, “Will Gavin sleep in Michael’s bedroom,” the first dinner.
A. Yes, Gavin brought it up in the dining room, yes.
Q. Okay. To your knowledge, did your father approve.
A. I don’t remember. I think he did.
Q. To your knowledge, did your mother approve.
A. Yeah, I think she did.

Q. Okay. When you met with the social workers, did you tell them that your father and mother had approved Gavin sleeping in Michael Jackson’s bedroom the first time you were at Neverland.

A. If they had asked me, I probably would have said, “Yes.”

Q. Because you would have told them the truth that day.

A. Yes, well, on certain things. Because --

Q. You would have told them the truth about certain things, but not other things, right.

A. Well, yeah, because you already kind of knew not to say what went on at Neverland.

Q. So you would have lied about some things and not lied about other things, depending on what you were asked, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. But you never discussed with your mother what you were going to say if questioned by the three social workers, right.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. Never did.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. Okay. I believe you said you went to Neverland twice with Mr. Tucker, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And approximately when was that.

A. I don’t remember when. It was after our first visit, after Gavin was already in remission. I don’t remember when.

Q. Was Mr. Tucker there during the Bashir filming.

A. No.

Q. Didn’t you testify yesterday that Mr. Tucker was there for the Bashir filming.

A. No.

Q. You accompanied your brothers to Neverland for the Bashir film, true.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you discuss with your brothers on the way the fact that you were going to be filmed.

A. We didn't know we were until we got there.

Q. Okay. You thought you were just visiting.

A. Yeah. We just thought that Michael wanted to see us.

Q. Didn't you say something yesterday about filming your brothers like had been done before.

A. Yeah, they thought it was like when they had done one previously of just my brothers and Mr. Jackson.

Q. Right. So you thought that's what it was going to be.

A. Well, when we got there, we found out we were going to get filmed, yes.

Q. Okay. And were your brothers eager to be filmed, as far as you knew.

A. I don't know. You have to ask them.

Q. Well, what was your impression.

A. I didn't think I was going to get filmed at all. I thought the whole focus was on Gavin.

Q. Did someone tell you to say that today.

A. No.

Q. No.

A. That's my own words.

Q. Oh, okay.

You were filmed, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You spoke on the film, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were majoring in performing arts, true.

A. Majoring in performing arts.

Q. Uh-huh.

A. I'm not majoring in performing arts.

Q. Were you studying performing arts at the time.

A. I was taking extra classes at my school because that's the ones they have you take, yes.

Q. Did you want to be in that film.

A. No. I didn’t know I was going to be in that film until, like, they were saying, “Okay, now we’re going to film, you know, everybody in the kitchen.” I didn’t know I was. I thought the whole focus was Gavin.

Q. Did you want to be in the film.

A. I didn’t care. I was just watching Gavin.

Q. Did you want to be in the film; yes or no.

A. I didn’t care for it, no.

Q. Did you tell anyone, “I don’t want to be in this film”.

A. I just -- I did along with what they were asking me.

Q. Okay. So you felt you had no say in the matter, right.

A. Well, I --

MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Withdrawn.

Q. Now, has your mother ever told you to say in court that she never tried to raise money for Gavin.

A. She’s never told me anything to say in court.

Q. Okay. You’ve never discussed what you’ll say in court with her at any time.

A. Never. Never.

Q. Okay. Do you have any knowledge of your mother going to a newspaper in El Monte to place an ad in the paper to raise money for Gavin.

A. No. What that was, was my aunt’s -- that’s her friend, and she wanted to do a story, because they found out of Gavin’s illness.

Q. Do you have knowledge about that.

A. A little bit. Not really.

Q. Do you know if your mother ever spoke to anyone with that newspaper about raising money for Gavin.

A. No. Not that I remember.

Q. So you don’t think she did.

A. No.

Q. Never discussed that with your mom, as to whether or not she approached them.

A. They just asked a couple of questions to my mom about Gavin’s illness and stuff. That was it.
Q. Do you have any knowledge of your mother calling the paper up and complaining that they hadn’t put the bank account in the ad.
A. I don’t remember that.

Q. Never heard anything about that.
A. I don’t remember that.
Q. Okay. But as far as you know today, your mother never approached that paper about raising money.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Did you ever discuss that issue with your mother.
A. No.
Q. Have you followed this case on television at all.
A. Just when you’re flipping the channels and you see something. But I keep going, because it just upsets us.
Q. Have you watched any shows on television that talked about the case.
A. No.
Q. Never.
A. Never.
Q. Okay. Have you watched any shows on television that talked about your mom.
A. No.
Q. Never.
A. Never.
Q. Ever discuss with your mom any shows that appeared on television about the case.
A. No.
Q. Never.

A. Never.
Q. Ever discuss with Gavin any shows that appeared on television about this case.

A. Especially not, no.

Q. Have you ever discussed with your brother Star any shows on television that appeared about the case.

A. No.

Q. Ever discuss with Jay Jackson any of these television shows that talked about this case.

A. No.

Q. Now, your mother and Jay Jackson are married now, right.

A. Yes, he's my stepfather.

Q. He's still in the United States Army, right.

A. Yes, he is.

Q. As a reserve.

A. No, he's active now.

Q. He is active now.

A. Yes, he is. He's been since my mom -- since my mom and them have been dating, he's been in active duty.

Q. He was in the reserve at one point, wasn't he.

A. They turned him back in because of the war.

Q. Where is he stationed now, if you know.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, I'm going to --

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: I don't mean the address, but is he stationed at an Army base.

A. He's stationed --

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me.

Counsel, I want to object, Your Honor, in terms of where he's living now with the family in terms of the location. I don't think it's relevant to this litigation, and it presents certain problems that I'll address at sidebar, if you wish me to, but --

THE COURT: Do you need to know where he is for any reason.

MR. MESEREAU: I was just wondering where he was stationed. I didn't want the address.

THE COURT: Let's go ahead.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Okay.

Q. Now, you testified yesterday about the size of a T.V. set in Gavin’s renovated room, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did somebody tell you they were going to ask you that question before you appeared yesterday.

A. No.

Q. So yesterday was the first time you learned that that might even be an issue in the case.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. No sheriff ever discussed that with you.

A. I don’t remember. I don’t -- I don’t know.

Q. Mr. Sneddon never discussed it with you.

A. Well, he had asked me what things were in that room.

Q. Okay.

A. I told him there was a T.V. and stuff.

Q. Do you have any knowledge of Louise Palanker visiting that room and complaining about what was in it.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Did you ever see Louise Palanker in that room.

A. I don’t remember. I just mainly remember her going to the hospital where Gavin was at.

Q. Okay. Okay. You had your photo taken with Louise Palanker, right.

A. Yes, several.

Q. And were they all at The Laugh Factory.

A. No, some were at the hospital also.

Q. So she was a regular visitor at the hospital, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, you know someone named Carol Lamir, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. How did you meet Carol Lamir.

A. At a dance studio.

Q. And approximately when was that.

A. I don’t know. We were really young.

Q. And at some point you moved in with Carol

Lamir, true.

A. I never moved in with her.

Q. You never lived at her place for a sustained period of time.

A. I visited her for about a week.

Q. Just one week.

A. Well, it was several visits that she would come and pick me up, but I never moved in with her.

Q. Did you ever live with her for a month at a time.

A. No.

Q. How about a week at a time.

A. Maybe so, a week.

Q. How many weeks do you think you lived at her place.

A. The longest I stood there at a time was week. And I think it was like two or three times that I stood with her.

Q. Well, you lived with her during the summer of the year 2000, right.

A. Yes.

Q. For how long did you live --

A. I didn't live with her, though. I stood with her in the year 2000.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I didn't live with her. I stood with her in the year 2000.

Q. You --

A. I never lived with Carol Lamir.

Q. Did you ever bring a suitcase with clothes to Carol Lamir's home.

A. Yeah, I was visiting. I took clothes.

Q. And you stayed weeks at a time, right.

A. Just one week at a time. That was the max. I don't remember staying any longer.

Q. How many times did you stay for approximately a week at Carol Lamir's home.

A. Probably like -- I stood there a week at one time, and then close to a week the other two times.

Q. You asked her if you could move in, didn’t you.

A. No, I didn’t.

Q. Okay. You told Carol Lamir stories about your mother, didn’t you.

A. No.

Q. You told her your mother would awaken you at 2:00 in the morning, correct.

A. No.

Q. You told her your mother would beat your father, didn’t you.

A. No. I told her my -- I tried telling her that my father would beat my mother.

Q. You told Carol Lamir that your mother was telling you to attack your father, when, in reality, your mother was beating your father, right.

A. No.

Q. You never said anything like that to Carol Lamir.

A. No.

Q. You constantly told Carol about Janet hitting you and your brothers, true.

A. No.

Q. And at one point you told Carol Lamir that your family was going to move into a big house in the Hollywood Hills, correct.

A. I never told her that.

Q. Never said that at all.

A. No.

Q. Was it your understanding that Carol Lamir asked Michael Jackson for a vehicle for your family to use.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Don’t know anything about that.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did you tell Mrs. Lamir that Michael Jackson gave Gavin video games and players.

A. Yeah.

Q. Do you know when you told that to Carol Lamir.

A. One of the times that I was staying there.

I don’t know.

Q. Okay. But you don’t remember how many times you stayed there, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Has anyone discussed --

A. It’s not clear. It was too long ago.

Q. Has anyone discussed with you what you said to Carol Lamir before today.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. Has any police officer discussed it with you.

A. Not that I remember. I don’t know.

Q. Any sheriff.

A. Not that I remember. I don’t know.

Q. Mr. Sneddon.

A. Not that I remember. I don’t know.

Q. Mr. Robel.

A. All they have asked me is who she is. And I told him who she was.

Q. And when did you last tell any of them who she is.

A. A couple weeks ago. I don’t know.

Q. You don’t know when. Was it in the last week.

A. No. It was farther than that.

Q. Okay. Did anyone ask you any questions about Carol Lamir in the last week.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Has anyone told you I mentioned Carol Lamir in my opening statement in this case.

A. No. Nobody talked to me about your opening statement.

Q. Okay. Who did you discuss Carol Lamir with.

A. I don’t remember. One of the officers. I don’t remember.

Q. Was that in the last month.

A. I think so.

Q. Okay. Did you ever tell Carol Lamir that

Janet would take her children places and intentionally not feed them or bring food.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever tell Carol Lamir that it was Janet's intent that the children be fed by whoever they were visiting.

A. No.

Q. Never said anything like that.

A. No.

Q. Are you saying you never complained about your mother at all to Carol Lamir.

A. No. My mom's a very, very, very good mother to me.

Q. And you never complained about her one bit.

A. No.

Q. Never complained about her to Carol.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Were you at the fund-raiser that Jamie Masada put together.

A. I don't know which one you're talking about.

Q. Were you ever at a fund-raiser for Gavin at The Laugh Factory.

A. The one that I thought was a fund-raiser was the one with Chris, but it ended up just being a graduation.

Q. It wasn't a fund-raiser at all.

A. Not that I know of. It was just little kids, like us, that were graduating, like how we did.

Q. Did anyone try and raise money for Gavin at that event, to your knowledge.

A. Not that I know of.

Q. Never heard anything about that.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Were you there.

A. Yes, I was there.

Q. Okay. Do you know when that was, approximately.

A. I think it was in -- I don't know.

Q. Did Gavin perform at that fund-raiser.

A. I think he did, for a second.

Q. Okay. And “for a second,” what do you mean.

A. Like for a couple minutes. That’s when he was going through chemotherapy, so he couldn’t stand for that long.

Q. Okay. So he just performed a little bit.

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. But you think that was just for a graduation, not to raise any funds.

A. Well, it was like 13 kids. They were doing little acts.

Q. Okay.

A. It was just like what we did.

Q. And Chris Tucker was there.

A. Yes, he was.

Q. Any other celebrities there; do you know.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. Okay. How many times have you testified before under oath, if you know.

A. Well, the grand jury. Then the one that I did because my father abused us.

Q. Now, the grand jury was approximately April -- March 30th to April 1st, 2004; does that sound right to you.

A. Yes, it was the day before my birthday.

Q. Okay. Okay. And you came and testified, under oath, to the grand jury, right.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Now, what you’re saying is you testified in a court proceeding involving your father and mother previously, right.

A. Involving my father, yes.

Q. Okay. Do you know approximately when that was.

A. I was in high school. I was 15 years old.

Q. Okay. Now, that had to do with a restraining order, correct.

A. It had to do with -- I don’t know what it was about, but the Judge wanted to speak with me on how I felt towards my father and what he’s done to me.

Q. And did you talk to the Judge.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Was your mother there.

A. She was there outside, but the Judge had brought us into her chambers. Because my father’s sisters and Carol Lamir were making faces at us.

Q. So Carol Lamir was there, too.

A. Yes, she came with David.

Q. And she was making faces at you.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you think she was siding with David.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Was your mother, at that time, employed; do you know.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Were you living with your mother then.

A. Yes, I was.

Q. Now, the court proceeding you went to concerned whether or not your father had spoken to you, right.

A. I don’t remember. All I know is that she asked -- the city attorney asked me questions about my father and how our relationship was, and different events, yes.

Q. And was your mother there.

A. She was on the outside. The Judge had brought us into her chambers.

Q. And what was your mother’s state of health at that point; do you know.

A. She had gotten two operations on her feet, because her bones, they needed fixing. One was cracked and repinned together, and the other was shaved.

Q. Okay.

A. So she could hardly walk that far.

Q. Do you recall -- and this is a sensitive area, and I’ll stop, you know, if you need a break, with Judge Melville’s permission, of course.

Do you recall members of your family accusing each other of molestation.

A. No.

Q. Do you recall your mother ever telling the Los Angeles Police Department that David had molested you.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall Gavin ever making any allegations of molestation before.

A. Gavin never made any to David. What that was, was that the Judge -- the detective had asked my mother, “Is there anything you want to get off your chest.” And she said, “Well, one time when she was younger,” and I know, because I was there when the detective came. But that court proceeding had nothing to do with this. The detective just asked her, “If you wanted to get anything off your chest.”

Q. To your mother.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall Gavin making any allegations before this case.

A. Never did.

Q. Did you ever hear anything about that.

A. He never did. He never has.

Q. Do you ever recall -- did anyone ever tell you that they had heard Gavin had made an allegation against your mother.

A. He never has. He never has made any allegations against anybody.

Q. Okay. Do you know if he’s ever made them with anyone with the Department of Children & Family Services.

A. He never has.

Q. You’re sure of that.

A. Yes, I’m sure.

Q. Were you there when they interviewed him.

A. No, but I know him.

Q. Okay. So as you sit here today, you’ve never heard anything about Gavin ever making any other allegation about molestation against anybody.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Never.

A. Against my parents, I’ve never heard him say any allegations.

Q. My question is this: Have you ever -- has anyone ever told you, regardless of whether you think it’s true or not, that Gavin ever made an allegation against your mother before.

A. No. Never made an allegation against my mother.

Q. Okay. I’m not asking if you think he did it or not. I’m asking if anyone’s ever told you they had heard that he had.

A. No.

Q. You don’t know anything about it.

A. No.

Q. Were you ever interviewed by the Department of Children & Family Services during the 1990s.

A. One lady had came over to the East L.A. apartment.

Q. Do you know approximately when that was.

A. No, I don’t.

Q. Okay. Were you interviewed.

A. I don’t remember if I was.

Q. Do you know if Gavin was interviewed.

A. I don’t remember if any of us were. I know she spoke to my mom; but I don’t know if we were interviewed. I don’t remember.

Q. Did you ever talk to your mom about that event.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed it with your mom.

A. No.

Q. You don’t know what happened.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Okay. Now, at some point you reported your father to the Los Angeles police, right.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Okay. Did you ever discuss with your mother in advance what you were going to say to the police.

A. No, I didn't.

Q. Never talked about it at all with her.

A. I kept it to myself for a couple days, because I was scared.

Q. Okay.

A. Still scared of him. And then I told her what happened. And then she told me we should tell the police.

Q. Okay. And did you call the police.

A. She called the police, and then the detective came over.

Q. Okay. You told the police that you were being abused five times a week -- five times a week, right.

A. We were abused every day, more than once, by my father.

Q. Okay. Were you there when your mother was interviewed.

A. I -- I don't remember if she was interviewed. I just remember the detective coming to the East L.A. apartment.

Q. Okay. And did you accuse your father of falsely imprisoning you.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Okay. And to your knowledge, did your mother accuse your father of falsely imprisoning her.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. Okay. And did you accuse your father of terrorist threats.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did your mother accuse your father of terrorist threats.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. All right. And you accused your father of willful harm to a child, right.

A. I don't know what that is.

Q. Okay. Okay. But were you present when your mother told the LAPD that your father had molested you.

A. No, but I had heard when he had asked her, “If you want to get anything off your chest,” and she said, “Yes,” and that’s when they went to the kitchen area of the East L.A. apartment.

Q. But when you were interviewed by the police, you never told them your father had molested you, did you.

A. Because they weren’t asking me about that, and I didn’t know. I was very young.

Q. Okay. Okay.
Have you ever discussed with your mother what your father did to you.

A. They were both present that day.

Q. Okay.

A. He had -- she had said, “Well, I never told Davellin that.” And he says, “Well” -- he said, “Well, she doesn’t need to know anyways.”
It was just a horrible experience for me to find out that he did that to me when I was young.

Q. And you found that out through your mother.

A. From both of them. Because he had agreed to it when I was standing right there. Because they were having an argument, and my mom screamed it out at him.

Q. And your father agreed he had done that.

A. Yeah.

Q. Do you want to take a second.

A. I’m fine.

Q. Do you want to wait one second.

A. I’m okay.

Q. Ready to go.

A. Yeah.

Q. Are you aware that your mother claimed that security guards at J.C. Penney sexually assaulted her.

A. I wasn’t there. I don’t know anything about that case. I was not involved in that case. All I know is that Gavin complained of his elbow and started complaining of his head, because I picked him up with my grandparents. That’s all I know about it.

Q. Have you ever discussed that case with your mom.

A. Never.

Q. Never talked about it at all.

A. Never.

Q. Okay. Have you discussed that case with Gavin ever.

A. Never.

Q. Okay. Do you know even what your mother was claiming.

A. I don’t, really. I was not involved in that case. I had nothing to do with that case. I don’t know anything of that case.

Q. But when your mother filed a suit, did she talk to you about it.

A. She didn’t, really. We didn’t really talk about it.

Q. Okay. Okay. And Gavin never talked to you about it either.

A. No.

Q. But to your knowledge, Gavin was involved in that.

A. I know that Gavin, my mom, and David and my mom -- Gavin, Star, David and -- Gavin, Star, David and my mom were all involved in it. That’s all I know.

Q. And you don’t know what they were claiming happened at J.C. Penney.

A. I don’t know details. I don’t know anything. It was too long ago and I wasn’t involved in it.

Q. And you haven’t discussed it with anyone in the last year, correct.

A. No.

Q. Okay. To your knowledge - and I’m only asking what you know - who made contributions to help Gavin pay for medical bills.

A. We never asked anybody for medical bills, to help pay for it.

Q. Never did. Never asked Chris Tucker.
A. Never asked him for help.
Q. Never asked Louise Palanker.
A. We have medical insurance. We don’t need help with our medical bills.
Q. Did you ever ask Louise Palanker.
A. No.
Q. Ever ask Chris Tucker.
A. No.
Q. Were the fund-raisers at The Laugh Factory for medical expenses.

A. I don’t know. I was too young. I don’t know.
Q. Have you ever discussed the purpose of those fund-raisers with your mom.
A. I don’t know. You’ll have to ask David.
Q. Did you ever discuss those fund-raisers with your mom.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever see an ad in a newspaper in El Monte which said that Gavin’s chemotherapy treatments cost $12,000 apiece. Did you ever see that ad.
A. I don’t remember about that. All I remember is Gavin’s picture. I don’t remember anything that was in the newspaper.
Q. Okay.
A. It was too long ago.
Q. Okay. Do you ever remember police officers in Los Angeles having a fund-raiser to raise money for Gavin’s medical bills.
A. They didn’t have a fund-raiser for us. What the Los Angeles Police Department did was, Officer Lassak brought his old Christmas tree for us. And that’s all I remember them doing.
Q. Do you know who spoke to them about Gavin’s health.
A. Officers.
Q. Yes.

A. Officer Lassak spoke to the police department about it.
Q. Who is Officer Lassak.
A. I met him through my LAPD Explorers.
Q. He was a friend of your mom, right.
A. He was a friend of the family, yes.
Q. Okay. And you -- the last couple of years, you’ve spoken to him from time to time.
A. I haven’t spoke to him.
Q. Did you ever see your mother speak to him.
A. I haven’t seen her speak to him. I work. I’m a full-time student and full-time worker.
Q. Do you have any knowledge of your mother speaking to Andrew Lassak of the LAPD.
MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, Your Honor. I’m going to object. At what point in time. Vague.
MR. MESEREAU: Sure. I’ll rephrase it, Your Honor.
Q. During the period of time, say, from January to June of 2003, do you recall ever seeing Andrew Lassak.
A. I don’t -- the last time I saw him, we were living at the East L.A. apartment and I was still involved in Explorers.
Q. And approximately when was that, if you know.
A. I don’t remember. In the year 2001. I don’t remember.

Q. Do you know if your mother was in contact with Andrew Lassak during 2003.
A. I know he would come and visit us once in a while, but I don’t know.
Q. Do you know about your mother approaching Andrew Lassak about raising money to pay for Gavin’s medical expenses.
A. She never approached him that way.
Q. Now, how do you know that.
A. Because that never happened.
Q. It never happened.
A. No.

Q. And you’re not aware of any LAPD police officers trying to raise, you know, funds to pay Gavin’s medical expenses.

A. No. Not that I remember. Not that I know of.

Q. Did you know anything about Chris Tucker sending $2,000 to your mom.

A. No. I don’t know that.

Q. Did you ever discuss that with Chris Tucker.

A. No. We’re not going to bring up anything like that.

Q. Do you know if Fritz Coleman helped arrange to raise any money for Gavin’s medical expenses.

A. I don’t know. Our medical bills are paid by insurance. I don’t know --

Q. And I agree with you on that. That’s why I have to ask you about this. Did Fritz Coleman ever get involved in a fund-raiser for Gavin at The Laugh Factory.

A. I didn’t know about the fund-raisers. The only one that I know is the one I met Chris at.

Q. At The Laugh Factory, right.

A. Yes.

Q. The fund-raiser to pay for Gavin’s medical costs, right.

A. I guess it was a fund-raiser. But it was just like a graduation, like we had. It didn’t look like a fund-raiser or anything. It just looked like a get-together.

Q. Okay. You indicated yesterday that Mr. Jackson gave you presents, as the prosecutor described it, that you used at the police academy, right.

A. Yes. The car.

Q. Okay. Now, how did you use Mr. Jackson’s car at the police academy.

A. My mom would drive me from the East L.A. apartment to my police academy.

Q. Okay. Do you know who approached Mr. Jackson about giving your family a car.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Do you know if your mother did it.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Do you know if Gavin did it.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Okay. But certainly, to the extent that car was used with the police academy, it was to help you, right.

A. Well, I know when the car was given, it was given for Gavin.

Q. Okay.

A. For his doctors’ appointments.

Q. Okay. And it was also used to take you to the police academy.

A. That was after. I didn’t join the LAPD Explorers until 2001, I think.

Q. So as far as you know, the car was used for both purposes, to help Gavin get to the hospital and you to get to the police academy; is that right.

A. It was given for Gavin.

Q. How do you know that.

A. Because that’s when Gavin was getting chemotherapy, and that’s what I had heard --

Q. Okay.

A. -- from David.

Q. Okay. Did your mother ever discuss that with you.

A. No.

Q. Never talked to you about where the car came from.

A. I knew it came from Mr. Jackson, and I knew it was for Gavin’s doctors’ appointments.

Q. Did your mother ever discuss that with you.

A. No.

Q. Never talked to your mother about why the car was given to your family.

A. No, I heard it through David or Gavin, because they were the ones that were at the hospital. They’re the ones that would go to Neverland mostly. Mom never went to Neverland, only that first visit, and then this --

Q. Now, who would take you to the police academy in the car that Mr. Jackson gave your family.

A. My mom.

Q. And that was a white Bronco; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. I'd like to ask you just how much of a friend your family was with Chris Tucker. Did you guys hang out a lot together.

A. Yeah, he invited us to his brother's wedding.

Q. Okay. And approximately when was that.

A. I don't remember.

Q. And did you go other places with him.

A. He would take us to the Oakland game. He would take us -- he would ask us to come visit him at his house. I slept over Aja's house one time. We were really close with them.

Q. Do you know approximately when your friendship seemed to fall off with them.

A. When this started. This whole thing.

Q. Okay. Did you try to contact them, and they just didn't respond, or --

A. No, we just -- nobody did.

Q. Okay. Now, I believe you said that approximately a year passed between your first visit to Neverland and your second; is that right.

A. That's from what I remember. I don't know.

Q. You told the jury about your being on a plane with Chris Tucker, right.

A. Yes. There's two separate occasions, yes.

Q. And what was the first occasion that you were on a plane with Chris Tucker.

A. We went to the Oakland Raider game.

Q. Okay. And the second one was when you and Chris Tucker and your family went to Miami, right.

A. My mom and my brothers and me and Chris Tucker went to Miami in the private jet.

Q. All right. And did you think you were going to Miami on Chris Tucker’s plane against your will.

A. No. They just said -- to our knowledge, we thought we were going for a press conference.

Q. And what was the press conference supposed to be about, to your knowledge.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Do you know if it was supposed to be about Bashir.

A. I don’t know. All I know is there was supposed to be a press conference.

Q. But no one told you what it was going to be about, to your knowledge.

A. No.

Q. And was it your understanding your mother wanted to be in a press conference.

A. She never asked for it. They’re the ones that told us.

Q. They told you to get on Chris Tucker’s plane and go to Florida.

A. They asked us to come to Miami, and that there was going to be a press conference over there.

Q. Okay. How long were you in Miami, if you remember.

A. A couple of days. I don’t remember.

Q. And after those couple of days were over, you got on a plane with Mr. Jackson and his family to come back, right.

A. Do you want me to specify who was on the plane.

Q. We’ll get into that. Sure. Sure. But basically the flight to Miami was with Mr. Tucker.

A. Yes.

Q. And the flight back was with Mr. Jackson, right.

A. Yes. And all his people, yes.

Q. And there were a couple of days in between in Florida, right. A couple of days in between in Miami, right.

A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. All right. How many nights do you think you spent in Miami.
A. A couple. I don’t know. I don’t remember.
Q. Just a couple.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. All right. Now, on the flight back, Mr. Jackson was on the flight, right.
A. Yes.
Q. His son, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And just what is his name.
A. Prince.
Q. And how old was Prince at the time; do you know.
A. I don’t remember. Very young, though.
Q. He was a little kid, wasn’t he.
A. Yes.
Q. There were two nannies on the plane, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Grace, right.
A. Yes.
Q. She was a nanny, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And who was the other one; do you remember.

A. I don’t remember who.
Q. But there was a second nanny, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you said that Mr. Jackson’s doctor was on the plane, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You don’t remember his name, do you.
A. I don’t remember his name.
Q. Okay. Did you meet him in Florida when you were there.
A. We met him -- where I remember meeting him was when we got in the car to go to the jet to go back to Neverland.
Q. Okay. All right. You said that Marie Nicole was on the plane, right.

A. Yes.
Q. And you said that Aldo was on the plane.
A. Yes.
Q. Your mom was on the plane.
A. Yes.
Q. You were on it, of course.
A. Yes.
Q. And Gavin and Star, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And was it your understanding that was a private chartered plane.
A. Yeah.
Q. The group you've just identified, they were the only ones on that plane, right.

A. Other than the flight attendant and the pilot.
Q. Okay. And were most of the seats taken, as far as you remember.
A. Yeah.
Q. Were they all taken, as far as you remember.
A. Yeah.
Q. When you were in Miami, you said you visited Mr. Jackson's suite, right.
A. We stood in Mr. Jackson's suite the whole day, yeah.
Q. Was that just one day or a second day; do you know.
A. I don't really know, I'm not sure, but when we were there, we went straight up to the suite and stood there all day.
Q. But it was no more than two days, right.
A. Yeah, I think. I don't know.
Q. So when you got there, there were two nannies and three little kids, right.
A. Got where.
Q. To Miami.
A. Yes.
Q. Aldo, Marie Nicole.
A. Frank and Dieter were all in the room.
Q. Okay. But the children I'm talking about. How many children, besides your family.

A. When we went right to the suite, Prince, Paris and Prince II were there, and Marie Nicole and Aldo were there.
Q. So Prince and Paris are Michael Jackson's children, right.
A. Yes.
Q. A boy and a girl.
A. Yes.
Q. And they were with him in his suite, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you ever see Prince and Paris at Neverland when you visited.
A. Yes.
Q. And to your knowledge, where were Prince and Paris living at Neverland.
A. In their room. Upstairs in the main house.
Q. Did you ever see Mr. Jackson with Prince and Paris.
A. Yes. A couple of times, yes.
Q. Would you see him walking around the property with them.
A. Not really.
Q. Would you see him in his house with them.
A. He would go up to the room and see them, yes.
Q. You've been to every room in Mr. Jackson's house, haven't you.
A. Yeah.

Q. You've seen them all, right.
A. From -- yeah, I guess.
Q. Have you ever seen Prince and Paris's room in Mr. Jackson's house.
A. Yes. It's upstairs.
Q. Did you see those rooms the first time you visited Neverland.
A. No, I didn't.
Q. Did you see them the second time you visited Neverland.

A. No, I didn’t. I saw them when he had come back from Miami.

Q. Okay. Can you describe Prince and Paris’s room.

A. I don’t remember. All I know is where it was at. I don’t remember all the little details, because I was only in there for about only one -- maybe 15 minutes, and that was the only time that I went in there.

Q. You did describe for the jury Mr. Jackson’s room --

A. Yes.

Q. -- in his main house, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Before you testified yesterday, did you go over that description with anyone.

A. A week before.

Q. Who did you go over that description with.

A. I don’t remember who it was.

Q. Was it a sheriff.

A. I don’t remember who it was.

Q. Was it Mr. Sneddon.

A. I don’t remember who it was.

Q. Was it in the last two weeks; do you know.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. Did anyone show you before yesterday the tape of Mr. Jackson’s home.

A. The tape. What tape.

Q. Well, there was a tape played in this court which showed certain parts of Neverland, including Mr. Jackson’s room.

A. I have never seen a tape.

Q. Never seen that.

A. No.

Q. Did anyone show you any photographs of Mr. Jackson’s room before yesterday.

A. The ones that I identified. They’re the ones that they put up here, yes.

Q. Now, who showed you those photographs before yesterday.

A. Mr. Sneddon.

Q. Okay. And did you discuss what you remembered being in that room with Mr. Sneddon.

A. Yes.

Q. Did he show you the photos of the room while you were discussing this with him.

A. I don’t know when they were shown, but I know it was some point.

Q. Have you ever been into any of Mr. Jackson’s closets.

A. Not that I know of, no.

Q. And have you been into Mr. Jackson’s bathroom.

A. Just saw it, yeah.

Q. When did you see it.

A. When I went in that one time.

Q. Did you use the bathroom.

A. No.

Q. Did someone take you into the bathroom.

A. No, I was walking around in the downstairs of it, just looking. Because it had been the only time I’ve been in there, so I was just looking around.

Q. So you were just alone looking around in Mr. Jackson’s room.

A. No, I wasn’t alone in the room.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. I wasn’t alone in the room.

Q. Who were you with.

A. I was just walking around.

Q. Who were you walking around with.

A. I wasn’t walking around with nobody. They were sitting down and playing. There was, like, a little arcade game in there. And they were playing that and listening to music. And I was just looking around.

Q. In Mr. Jackson’s room.

A. Yes, on the downstairs.

Q. Okay. And approximately when was that, if you know.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Was it the first time you visited.

A. No.

Q. Was it the last time you visited.

A. I don’t remember when. But it was after Miami.

Q. After Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. So you had never seen Mr. Jackson’s room till after Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. You had never been on a tour of the house.

A. Not in his room, no. We had just saw the library and the -- the kitchen and stuff. But we never went in his room.

Q. Do you know someone named Rio.

A. No.

Q. Do you know named Simone.

A. No. I don’t remember.

Q. Did you ever share a room at Neverland with any other children.

A. I was always by myself. I slept by myself.

Q. Did you ever play with any other children at Neverland.

A. I remember some came, but I was mainly by myself. I don’t remember.

Q. So the name Rio doesn’t ring a bell.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. The name Simone doesn’t ring a bell, right.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Did you and your brothers ever go to the zoo area at Neverland.

A. I was hardly ever with my brothers. If I wanted to go, I would go in the little cart.

Q. Okay. Did you ever go to the zoo area at Neverland.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you ever go with your brothers.

A. No.

Q. Always alone.

A. Well, sometimes I would go with Marie Nicole. But I was mainly by myself.

Q. The first time you visited Neverland, was Marie Nicole there.

A. No, she wasn’t.

Q. When did you first see Marie Nicole at Neverland.

A. After we got back from Miami.

Q. Okay. When you were in Miami, do you recall your mom ever discussing the Bashir documentary.

A. No. We just knew that it was being aired. And we weren’t allowed to see it, but we didn’t discuss it.

Q. Did you ever discuss it with your mom.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever talk to your mom about the fact that you appeared in that documentary.

A. She knew we had got filmed, so I guess we knew that we would be on there.

Q. Did you ever discuss that with her.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever discuss the fact that Gavin was on that film with your mother.

A. We didn’t know that it was going to be aired until, like, the press came. We just thought it was like a personal video.

Q. Okay. So you’ve never really discussed with Gavin what appears in that documentary.

A. No. Well, when they were filming it, I was standing right there. So....

Q. Did you meet Mr. Bashir.

A. Yes.

Q. And was the day of the taping the first time you met Mr. Bashir.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever discuss what Mr. Bashir was doing with him.

A. No. We didn’t talk to Mr. Bashir. We just said hi.

Q. Okay. But after you and Gavin and Star were taped, did you go home and discuss what happened with your mom.

A. We just told her that we got filmed, but we thought it was just one of his personal videos.

Q. Okay. And when you say “personal video,” what are you talking about.

A. Like because Gavin had been taped before, during his cancer, with Star. And it was just a personal video, like for Mr. Jackson.

Q. And that was a personal video about Gavin’s recovering from cancer, right.

A. No, this was during his cancer.

Q. But it was about him trying to recover from it, wasn’t it.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did you ever see it.

A. I just saw it once.

Q. Where did you see it.

A. At Hamid’s house.

Q. Okay. Now, you indicated that Ronald was in Florida, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you talk to him.

A. Just to be introduced.

Q. Okay. And was Frank in Florida, too.

A. I know he came later on, like later on in the day, the first day that we got there.

Q. But correct me if I’m wrong, yesterday you said that Mr. Jackson had a room in his suite, right.

A. Yes.

Q. There were other rooms in the suite, right.

A. No, there’s not other rooms in the suite. There’s just one in the suite. And then there was a connecting room that was -- that was another hotel room, but they had the doors open, so it connected it.

Q. With another whole tower.

A. There was another hotel room connected to

Mr. Jackson’s suite, so they had that door open.

Q. And you indicated that, for most of the day, people were going in and out, right.

A. Yeah, Mr. Dieter and Ronald would.

Q. And Marie Nicole and Aldo were there too.

A. Yes.

Q. And Mr. Jackson’s children were there too.

A. They left after a while. They weren’t there the whole time.

Q. But they were there a lot of the time, weren’t they.

A. A good amount.

Q. And the nannies were with them, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you testified yesterday and today, that you saw behavioral changes in Gavin at some point, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever discussed those behavioral changes with Mr. Sneddon.

A. He just asked me if there was anything different about Gavin.

Q. And when was that.

A. A while ago.

Q. Did you ever discuss what you were going to say in court today about those behavioral changes.

A. No.

Q. Let me ask you this: Were you ever aware that Gavin had a lot of disciplinary problems in school.

A. I know he would talk a lot, yeah.

Q. Were you ever aware that teachers were upset because he would get up in class and disrupt the courtroom -- the classroom.

A. He was very talkative, yes.

Q. Well, he was described as disruptive, wasn’t he.

A. Yeah, he would get very talkative. He would get very talkative, that’s what his problem was.

Q. He was described by his teachers as getting up in the middle of class and disrupting the class, right.

A. Well, I don’t know --

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object as asked and answered. Lack of foundation, if she has any personal knowledge of this.

THE COURT: Sustained on foundation.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you have any knowledge yourself of Gavin having disciplinary problems in school before he ever met Mr. Jackson.

A. I knew he was very talkative. That’s all I know of. I was very young.

Q. On the rebuttal tape, Gavin mentions gang signs; do you remember that.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Well, you saw the rebuttal tape, right.

A. Yeah, I heard of it. I heard that. But I don’t think it was Gavin that said it. My mom said it. She was just playing around with Gavin.

Q. Your mother was playing along with Gavin when your mother mentioned gang signs.

A. No, because Gavin was messing with his hands.

Q. Yes.

A. And I think that’s what it was. And I think my mom was just playing with him, saying, “Stop throwing those gang signs.”

Q. To your knowledge, has Gavin ever been associated with anybody in a gang.

A. No.

Q. Never at all, right.

A. Never.

Q. Okay. And you’ve never seen Gavin make a gang sign, right.

A. No, he’s a good boy.

Q. Okay. How did you learn Gavin was having problems with his conduct at school.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object as lack of foundation.

MR. MESEREAU: I think she said she knew, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sustain the objection.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay.
Q. Did you ever discuss with your mother the fact that Gavin was having any problems at school.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Okay. So you don’t remember ever having a discussion like that.
A. All I know is that I would tell Gavin, you know, “Just be quiet and listen to what the teachers tell you.” That’s all I know. All I know is Gavin talks a lot.
Q. To your knowledge, was he ever asked to leave school.
A. I don’t know.
Q. You don’t know.
A. I don’t know. I was young. I wasn’t really paying attention to his school.
Q. Okay. So as you sit here today, you know nothing about Gavin ever being asked to leave school, right.

A. No, I don’t know that.
Q. Never heard anything about that.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Now, in Miami, you said you got a manicure and a pedicure.
A. Yes.
Q. And I think you said Chris Tucker, Gavin and Star got massages, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And that was before you got on the plane to go back, right.
A. Yeah, that was right before we left.
Q. Do you know who paid for those pedicures, manicures and massages.
A. Yes, Mr. Jackson did. They were charged to the room.
Q. Okay.
A. Or -- Mr. Tucker’s was charged to his room. I don’t know, really. But I think Mr. Jackson paid for my pedicure, but I don’t know about the massages.

Q. How did you know who charged what to their rooms.

A. Because they had given us, like, a little thing to take and say that it was fine to charge it to the room.

Q. Okay. Now, I’d like to just get straight in my mind, if I can, the schools you mentioned yesterday that you went to.

A. Yes.

Q. You mentioned Hollywood High, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when did you go to Hollywood High.

A. For my freshman and half of my sophomore year.

Q. So what years would that be.

A. 2000, 2001.

Q. And when did you go to Mountain View.

A. Mountain View was the beginning of -- it was -- part of my junior year, like the ending part, and then my senior year was there.

Q. Did you mention a third school.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Which one was that.

A. That was Roosevelt.

Q. When did you go to Roosevelt.

A. I went to Roosevelt in between my sophomore year and my junior year.

Q. For how long.

A. Part of my sophomore, and part of my junior.

Q. Okay. Now, did you move to these schools because you had moved your home.

A. No, because -- I left Hollywood High School because my father didn’t leave me alone.

Q. Okay.

A. So I had to move.

Q. Okay. And you went from Hollywood.

A. To Roosevelt.

Q. To Roosevelt. And where in Los Angeles was Roosevelt.

A. Like five minutes away from the Soto apartment. It was that high school for that address.

Q. Okay. And I gather your father didn't come to that school to see you, right.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. But you were concerned that he was coming to Hollywood High to see you.

A. No, he was coming to Hollywood High. That's why I left.

Q. Okay. Okay.

When you were at Hollywood High, were you living at Soto.

A. Yes, I was.

Q. When you were at Mountain View, were you living at Soto.

A. No, I wasn't. I was living with my grandparents.

Q. Okay. Yesterday you put little notations on a large diagram of the interior of the plane --

A. Yes.

Q. -- remember.

Had you gone over that diagram before you testified.

A. I have said where I saw everybody sit, and I had seen the diagram before.

Q. And who had showed it to you.

A. Mr. Sneddon was sitting there. I know there was somebody else. But --

Q. And do you know approximately when that was.

A. I don't remember when it was.

Q. Did someone tell you, "This is a diagram of the interior of that plane".

A. "This is a diagram of the description that you've given us of the plane," yes.

Q. Who told you that.

A. Mr. Sneddon, I think. I don't remember.

Q. And you don't know if that diagram is completely accurate, do you.

A. That’s from what I saw, so --

Q. Who put the diagram together.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Okay. You hadn’t been on that plane since when, January of 2003, February of 2003.

A. It was for Miami, so I don’t know.

Q. All right. So correct me if I’m wrong, Mr. Sneddon said to you, “Here’s a diagram of the interior of the plane,” right.

A. “Of what you described.”

Q. Okay. And did he have you, in front of him, start marking off where people sat.

A. No.

Q. He didn’t.

A. No.

Q. So the first time you did it was yesterday.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And when Mr. Sneddon put it in front of you, he never said, “Tell me where people were sitting”.

A. From what I remember, “Where do you think they were sitting.”

Q. Okay. All right. Was this during that short meeting you had a couple days ago.

A. Yes.

Q. And Mr. Sneddon and you agree that was only a 15-minute meeting.

A. Yeah. There was two meetings and they were both pretty short.

Q. With Mr. Sneddon.

A. Well, Mr. Sneddon, and then Mr. Robel would come in. It was an open area. It was right in front of the kitchen.

Q. Okay. Now, you indicated yesterday that at some point on the plane, Mr. Jackson gave Gavin his watch, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said at some point on that plane trip, Mr. Jackson gave Gavin his jacket.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, was this after Mr. Jackson had given the family an automobile.

A. Yes. The automobile was given during Gavin's cancer. That was -- the watch and the jacket were on the plane.

Q. Okay. And you indicated you saw some whispering between Mr. Jackson and Gavin, but you didn't hear what it was.

A. No, they were whispering and they were passing the Diet Coke can back and forth.

Q. And you have no idea if Gavin asked Mr. Jackson for a watch, because you couldn't hear, correct.

A. All I know is that Mr. Jackson gave it to him.

Q. Okay. And at some point, I believe you said that it was Ronald who wanted the watch from you, your family.

A. No, Dieter was the one that wanted it back.

Q. Was that at Neverland.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. So Dieter appeared upset that Mr. Jackson had given Gavin a watch, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. Did Dieter ever try to get the car back.

A. I didn't meet Dieter at that time.

Q. When did you first meet Dieter.

A. At Miami.

Q. All right. And was this in the suite.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. When did you first see Dieter try and get that watch back.

A. We were all together in one of the guest rooms. And he was asking Gavin for the watch back.

Q. And Mr. Jackson wasn't there, right.

A. No.

Q. You did say yesterday, in response to the prosecutor's question about the plane, that people would switch their seats around, remember.

A. Yeah, that would be Star, Aldo and Marie Nicole that would switch their seats around.

Q. Did you ever see -- excuse me. I'm sorry. Let me rephrase that. Strike that. Did you ever see Aldo and Marie Nicole switch their seats around.

A. Yeah, they would switch back with Star. They would go back and forth.

Q. Do you know where the doctor sat on the plane.

A. He was in one of those four chairs that were behind me. I don't remember where.

Q. Yesterday did you tell the prosecutor where the doctor was seated.

A. No, I just wrote that he was in one of those four seats.

Q. Okay. And he was with the two nannies, right.

A. Yes. And my mom was sitting -- all those four -- in those four seats were my mom, the doctor, and the two nannies. I don't know how they were seated or anything.

Q. Okay. And is it your recollection that Mr. Jackson was facing the rear of the plane.

A. He was facing the front of the plane.

Q. Okay. And where were you facing.

A. I was facing the back of the plane, right in front of Gavin.

Q. Okay. And who was next to you.

A. Paris was.

Q. All right. And the doctor was at the back of the plane facing the front, to your knowledge.

A. I don't know where he was seated. All I know is he was in those four chairs behind me.

Q. Okay. Gavin's illness lasted approximately a year, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And he had a number of surgeries, right.

A. He had one major surgery.

Q. Okay. What was that for, if you know. Didn't they remove the spleen.

A. They took out his spleen. They took out a 16-pound tumor. They took out lymph nodes. They took out the -- that's all I remember. They took out his kidney, because it was totally eaten by the cancer. And that's all I remember.

Q. And when you said on the rebuttal tape that you thought Mr. Jackson had helped him recover, were you telling the truth.

A. I had said that. I don't remember saying that.

Q. Okay. Do you ever remember your mother saying Mr. Jackson had helped your brother recover from cancer.

A. What do you mean.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object as to vagueness, as to when in point in time.

THE COURT: Point in time.

MR. MESEREAU: Sure, Your Honor. I'll rephrase.

Q. Do you remember, on the rebuttal tape, your mother saying that Mr. Jackson helped your brother Gavin recover from cancer.

A. I know she said it on the rebuttal tape.

Q. Did you ever hear her say it any other time.

A. No, she owed all credit to God.

Q. So other than the rebuttal tape, you never heard your mother ever say Mr. Jackson helped Gavin recover from cancer.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. What about when Brad Miller was at Jay Jackson's apartment.

A. I don't -- if she did, I don't remember. I was young. It was too long ago.

Q. Okay. Now, when you arrived from Miami, you were taken to Neverland Ranch, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And was that a limousine.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know who drove that.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Okay. And when you got there, you said that Dieter or Ronald were there, right.

A. No, they weren't.

Q. They weren't there.

A. They didn't get there until the next day, I think.

Q. Okay. And you've never flown with them, right.

A. No.

Q. Okay. When you left Neverland with Jesus Salas, you were in a Rolls Royce, right.

A. Yes, we were.

Q. And your mother asked Jesus to take the family back home, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And Jesus put you all in a Rolls Royce and drove you to Los Angeles, right.

A. Yes, he drove us. I don't remember -- I think he took us to my grandmother's house.

Q. Okay. And at some other point, the family all went back to Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And approximately when was that.

A. Timewise, I don't know. It was so long ago.

Q. Okay. After you got back from Miami, if you know, how many times did you go back and forth to Neverland.

A. Twice, I think. I think it was twice.

Q. Twice.

A. Or three times. I don't remember.

Q. One time you went back with Aja, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And Aja drove you to Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you ask her to drive you, or did she just volunteer to, if you know.

A. Because we were going to be taken back anyways, because we asked her to take us instead.

Q. Okay. When Aja drove you back to Neverland, there was no security person in your car, true.

A. No.

Q. You mentioned to the jury at one point that you were scared, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And when did you get scared, if you remember.

A. Like --

Q. I'm talking about when you were at Neverland.

A. Like after they started telling us about the death threats and stuff.

Q. After what.

A. After they started telling us about the death threats and how Dieter started getting more aggressive.

Q. Dieter was getting more aggressive.

A. Yes.

Q. This is right after the Miami trip, right.

A. No. This is -- this is closer to the rebuttal film.

Q. Okay. Okay. So you first started to get scared around the time of the rebuttal film, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you mentioned that Aja drove you back to Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Was your mother in the car.

A. No, she wasn't.

Q. Where was she.

A. She was at Jay Jackson's apartment.

Q. Okay. When you were at Jay Jackson's apartment to talk to the three social workers, your mother never complained that you were being falsely imprisoned, did she.

A. About what.

Q. About anything.

A. About falsely imprisoned with who.

Q. With Frank, with Vinnie, with Dieter, with Konitzer, with Schaffel. Anybody.

A. No, we were kind of scared, because the bodyguard was downstairs.

Q. Okay. But you never told any of the three women from the Department of Children & Family Services, “We need help,” right.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. And your mother certainly never did that, right.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. And you don’t recall your mother ever telling Aja, “Call the police; we’re having problems,” right.

A. I remember there would be occasions that she would call Aja. I don’t know what they talked about. And I did talk to Aja once when they were at Neverland Ranch.

Q. And you never heard your mother ever call the police, right.

A. I heard about an occasion, yes, that she tried to.

Q. Okay. When was this.

A. I don’t know when it was. But it was when they were at the ranch.

Q. Okay. How about when you were at Jay Jackson’s house, an active member of the United States Army who your mother was having a relationship with. Do you recall your mother ever saying anything like, “Major Jackson, call the police”. Do you ever recall that.

A. She had called, because she dialed up -- if you press 9-1-1 at the Neverland Ranch, it goes to their security.

Q. Right.

A. So she had to call Jay and ask him to call.

Q. How about when she was at Jay Jackson’s apartment.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. All right. You indicated that an investigator named Bradley Miller took a recorded statement from your whole family.

A. Yes.

Q. Right.

A. Yes.

Q. And that was at Jay Jackson’s apartment, right.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. And Jay Jackson was actually in and out, wasn’t he.

A. No, he was sitting right there.

Q. Okay. So you’re at Jay Jackson’s home, with Jay Jackson sitting there, and an investigator is taking a statement. And nobody complains about Dieter, Konitzer, Frank, Vinnie, Schaffel, or anybody, right.

A. I don’t think it was at that point. He just asked us to speak of things of my father.

Q. Okay. But I’m asking if your mother at that point ever called the police or did anything that suggested that Ronald, Dieter, Frank, Vinnie, anybody was causing problems.

A. I guess -- I don’t know. You have to ask her what she thought.

Q. Okay. Okay. Now, when you were being interviewed by Brad Miller, he asked you about David, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you talked about things like child endangerment and terrorist threats, right.

A. I don’t remember what I said. All I know is I talked about David.

Q. Okay. You talked about abusive behavior by him, right.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Okay. Do you remember telling Brad Miller that Michael is a father to all of you.

A. I don’t remember what I said on the tape. It was very long ago. All I remember is the key point was on David.

Q. Okay. Do you remember telling Brad Miller Michael has given your family safety, love, and everything you've ever wanted.

A. I don't remember what I said. All I remember is the key point was about David.

Q. Okay. Would it refresh your recollection if I just showed you a transcript of what you said.

A. No, it wouldn't. I would have to hear my own voice.

Q. You don't want to see this.

A. No, it's okay.

Q. Okay. Okay. Did your mother ever tell you that, "We're being forced to make positive statements about Michael Jackson in the interview with Brad Miller".

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, Your Honor. I'm going to object as to what point in time. Vague; lack of foundation.

THE COURT: Sustained; time.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: We're talking about Sunday, February 16th, 2003. Okay. And that's the approximate time you were at Jay Jackson's apartment being interviewed by Brad Miller, right.

A. You're asking me what.

Q. Well, I'm asking you if that sounds like the approximate time you were interviewed by Brad Miller.

A. I don't know the date. All I know is that he came to Jay Jackson's house.

Q. Does February of 2003 sound around the time.

A. I don't know.

Q. Was it after your trip to Miami.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. Okay. Was it before the rebuttal video.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Do you think it was around the time of the rebuttal video.

A. I don't think so.

Q. All right. But Jay Jackson sat at the table.

A. We were seated in the living room.

Q. And Jay Jackson was sitting there during the interview, right.

A. Yes, he was.

Q. Was he introduced to Brad Miller as a member of the United States Army; do you know.

A. All I remember -- it's too long ago. All I remember is us sitting on the blue couch. And Bradley Miller had the tape-recorder on the table. And he was asking us questions. And the main subject was David.

Q. And Jay was just sitting there and listening, right.

A. Yes, Bradley Miller said he didn't need him to talk.

Q. Okay. So he just sat there and listened, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you complained about stories that were being told about your brother, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object again as lack of foundation and vagueness as to what point in time.

MR. MESEREAU: All my questions, unless I tell you otherwise --

MR. SNEDDON: Well, that's not fair to the witness.

MR. MESEREAU: I'm going to withdraw the question and rephrase it, if you want to do that.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

Q. I'm going to ask you a number of questions about the Brad Miller interview. All right.

A. Okay.

Q. I'm going to ask you questions about what you said. All right.

A. Okay.

Q. And I'm going to ask you questions about who was there.

A. Okay.

Q. And I’ve already asked you questions about where it was. It was at Jay Jackson’s apartment, right.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. Okay. Who was there, besides Jay Jackson and you.

A. My mom and my two younger brothers.

Q. And Brad Miller, of course was there, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And have you discussed that interview with anyone with law enforcement.

A. We told them that we took the interview, yes.

Q. Have you discussed that interview with your mother at all.

A. No.

Q. Never have.

A. No.

Q. So ever since you had that interview, you’ve never talked to your mom about it, right.

A. Not really, no. It was just strange because he would stop and redo it and say, “That’s not necessary to talk about.” He would rewind it. Stop it. I mean, we talked about how strange that was.

Q. And did Jay Jackson ever say a word.

A. No, he never did.

Q. Did your mom ever complain about that.

A. I don’t know. I don’t remember.

Q. Okay. All right. Was it your understanding that the purpose of the interview was to get your feelings about Michael Jackson on tape.

A. I thought the purpose was about David.

Q. Was about David.

A. Yeah.

Q. But you and your mother and your brothers kept referring to Michael Jackson as the father, right.

A. I don’t remember what I said. All I remember is that the main focus was David.
Q. Okay. Now, when the rebuttal video was done that we saw in court today --
A. Yes.
Q. -- was your mother still involved with Jay Jackson, as far as you know.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Were they engaged at that point; do you know.
A. No. I don’t think so. They were still dating.
Q. At that point in time, was Andrew Lassak, of the LAPD, a friend of the family.
A. I don’t think we talked to him at that point. I don’t remember.
Q. Okay.
THE BAILIFF: Mr. Mesereau, I’m going to turn the air conditioner on. So will you speak up.
MR. MESEREAU: Oh. Sure.
Q. Did you think that Brad Miller didn’t want certain statements about David on the tape.
A. He didn’t want certain statements about -- I don’t remember. All I know is he would rewind it, and say, “That’s not necessary, we don’t need to talk about that.” And he would rewind it, tape over it, stop it, and then, “We’re going to talk about this now,” and that’s what I remember. And then he would stop and rewind it a lot.

Q. Did he ever tell you, if you remember, that he worked for Mark Geragos.
A. No, I thought he was just from Mr. Jackson.
Q. Okay. At the beginning of that interview, he says he works for Mr. Geragos, right.
A. I don’t remember. All I remember is that he was from Mr. Jackson.
Q. Okay. Have you discussed this issue with your mother at any time.
A. No.
Q. Now, you knew that your mother was going to testify in a pre-trial hearing in this case, right.

A. I knew she was coming up here, yes.

Q. Did you ever discuss what she was going to be asked with her.

A. I didn’t know what she was being asked. All I know is that she came up here.

Q. Did you ever talk to her about what she said after she appeared in court.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed it one time with her.

A. Huh-uh.

Q. All right. At the time she testified in a pre-trial hearing in this case, you were living with her, right.

A. I’ve been living with them ever since I started college.

Q. And you’re not aware of you and your brothers ever talking to her about what she said in court that day, right.

A. No, I don’t remember hearing her talk about anything with the court.

Q. Do you recall her coming back home after she testified in a pre-trial hearing in this case.

A. Yeah, I remember her coming home.

Q. Do you recall ever discussing what went on with her.

A. No, we just greeted her, and that was it. And the baby was there with her.

Q. And so everybody just agreed to be silent.

A. Yeah, we know we’re not supposed to talk about each other.

Q. Who told you that.

A. Well, they told us that.

Q. Who did.

A. Mr. Sneddon and everybody with law enforcement.

Q. So you never discussed this case with each other at all.

A. No, we know we’re not supposed to.

Q. Okay. Okay.

MR. MESEREAU: Can I take a second.

Q. Around the time that you were visiting Neverland, say in 2002, did you use a computer.

A. No, I never used a computer when I was up there.

Q. Were you able to use a computer.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever use a computer at Carol Lamir’s home.

A. Once, because she had me doing her son’s project.

Q. Did you use a computer at her home.

A. Yeah. One time, yeah.

Q. Okay. Did you ever discuss your use of the computer with her.

A. She was the one that told me to get on the computer and do his project.

Q. Around the time that you first visited Neverland, did you have a computer at home.

A. Well, Mr. Jackson had given Gavin a computer on our first visit, when we got there.

Q. Did he take that computer home.

A. Yes, he did.

Q. Was the family using it at home.

A. Mainly Gavin would use it.

Q. Did anyone else use it.

A. Not that I remember.

Q. Did you ever use it.

A. No, not really. Just when I was seeing what Gavin was doing. But not really.

Q. Was that the only computer you had at home.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at some point, did Gavin take that computer out of the home.

A. No. What happened was -- I don’t know who or what happened, that he had called saying that the -- something was messing up with it. So he sent it to Mr. Jackson’s people, and we never got it back.

Q. Okay. And your mother used to complain about that, right.

A. About what.

Q. Not getting the computer back.

A. Not that I remember. I don’t know.

Q. And she used to complain about not getting the car back, right.

A. I don’t remember. I don’t know.

Q. You never heard her do that.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Well, you said yesterday at some point the car didn’t work, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And it went back to Neverland, you thought, right.

A. I just knew that somebody came and picked it up. I didn’t know where it went.

Q. Your mother used to complain about that, didn’t she.

A. Complain about what.

Q. The fact that it was her car at that point.

A. No, it wasn’t her car. We still called it Gavin’s car.

THE COURT: Counsel.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes.

THE COURT: Break time.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh.

(Recess taken.)

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, does the Court have the right button on there for “PC”.

THE COURT: There’s two inputs, either 1 or 4.

THE BAILIFF: Input 1.

THE COURT: That’s 1; and that’s 4. 1 is for the PC, I’m told. Anything that goes through the PC, I push 1; and any other media, I would push 4.

MR. SANGER: 4.

THE COURT: Is there some other subject you could cover. We’ve got less than an hour, and they could have that ready for you Monday morning on the tape.

MR. MESEREAU: I could do that.

THE COURT: Can you.

MR. MESEREAU: Sure.
THE COURT: Let’s try that.
MR. MESEREAU: May I ask how long it might take. Because I’d love to end the day with this, if I can.

THE COURT: Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: I think -- we’re not sure how long it would take. So I could move on, if you’d like.
THE COURT: I think it would be a better use of time than -- he’s working under a great deal of pressure with all of us watching him.
MR. SANGER: The watched pot phenomenon.
THE COURT: We work better when we’re all calm and sure.
THE BAILIFF: Can we try using that one. Take that one out and use that one.
MR. SANGER: I think you need to go to 4, then, for this; is that right.
MR. MESEREAU: I think we’re ready to go, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. We’ll go.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Ms. Arvizo, you testified yesterday that you went into the arcade area at Neverland one time.
A. Yes.
Q. A juke box was moved and you went into a wine cellar, correct.
A. No, I had saw some people going down in the staircase, so I just followed.
Q. Okay. And you’ve testified that you saw Michael Jackson pouring wine, correct.

A. Yes.
Q. You said that Michael Jackson gave you a glass of wine to drink, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you said it tasted --
A. Funny.

Q. Funny.

A. Yes.

Q. You didn’t want to drink it, right.

A. I only took a couple of sips, yes.

Q. Okay. Do you remember you were interviewed by the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Department July 6th, 2003, and asked questions about that.

A. I know I was asked questions about it, yes.

Q. You were asked by a Santa Barbara sheriff how you knew it was wine, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And your answer was, you knew it was wine because it’s a wine cellar and there’s nothing else to be drinking in a wine cellar, right.

A. Yes, there is wine bottles along the left wall.

Q. Never told them you had seen Michael Jackson pouring wine from any bottle, correct.

A. They never asked me that question, but I did see him.

Q. Well, they asked you how you knew it was wine, and your answer was, “They were in a wine cellar and there’s nothing else to be drinking in a wine cellar,” correct.

A. I’m not going to grab a cup off the counter. It was handed to me.

Q. Well, why didn’t you tell that to the Santa Barbara sheriffs then.

A. They didn’t ask me about it.

Q. Well, they actually did. Would it refresh your recollection to show you the police report.

A. I just told them about the building. And they said how did I know it was wine. Because it was a wine cellar.

Q. But yesterday, you said you saw Michael Jackson pouring a bottle of wine into a cup, true.

A. Yes.

Q. That’s not what you told the sheriffs on that day, right.

A. Well, I was in a wine cellar also. I didn’t know I had to say every little detail. I was young back then. I didn’t know I had to say every little detail for it to be right. Different things come up.

Q. Okay. On that particular day, you never said you saw Michael Jackson pouring wine and you never even told them that he gave you wine, right.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object as argumentative and asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did someone tell you that when the defense lawyer asks you questions in court, if you’ve got a problem, to say, “I was very young and I just don’t remember”.

A. No, that’s -- I have no way of knowing, because it was years ago. I was very young.

Q. Did you ever use that stock phrase in answering any of the prosecutor’s questions.

A. I don’t know. Maybe I did; maybe I didn’t. I don’t know.

Q. Now, nobody told you that, when in trouble or when in doubt, that’s what you say.

A. Nobody told me what to say. When I say it, it’s from me.

Q. Okay. You mentioned that, at one point, you drove to The Laugh Factory on Sunset, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And The Laugh Factory is on a corner on Sunset in Los Angeles, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You’ve been there many times, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said you met a lawyer at The Laugh Factory, right.

A. I didn’t know who he was. I just saw -- I just was introduced that he was Bill. I just ran up there real quick to give my mom the message that Vinnie had given me. I didn’t know who he was.

Q. But correct me if I’m wrong, you were in a car, you drive to The Laugh Factory, right. Your mom gets out, right.

A. Yes.

Q. She goes into The Laugh Factory, right.

A. Her and Gavin go in together and Vinnie asked us to stay.

Q. And they see a civil lawyer in there, right.

A. I didn’t know who he was at that point.

Q. But you do know now, right.

A. I still kind of really don’t know.

Q. Well, you’ve had meetings with him.

A. I know he’s a lawyer, but I don’t know.

Q. How many times have you met with him.

A. Once.

Q. And when was that, approximately.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Well, let me ask you this: Your mother went into The Laugh Factory and met with Jamie Masada and a lawyer named Dickerman, right.

A. I just saw him there. I didn’t know he was a lawyer at that point.

Q. And to your knowledge, your mother never complained that anybody’s being falsely imprisoned or abused or told what to say or restrained or anything.

A. You got to ask her. I don’t know.

Q. Have you ever discussed what she said to that lawyer with her.

A. I don’t know.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to that question. Lack of foundation. And also, it could be a violation of attorney-client privilege.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, that privilege was waived a long time ago.

MR. SNEDDON: No, it wasn’t.

THE COURT: I’ll allow the question. Actually, there is -- the question and the answer was given before the objection. The question was, “Have you ever discussed what she said to that lawyer with her.”

“Answer: I don’t know.”

Next question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: To your knowledge, when your mother and Gavin got out of the car, went into The Laugh Factory, saw a lawyer, saw Jamie Masada, they never complained that anyone was being held against their will, to your knowledge, right.

A. All I knew is that they were going in to see Jamie Masada. I walked in, saw Bill, Mr. Masada, my mom and Gavin sitting there, and I gave my mom the message Vinnie had given me, and I walked right out. I don’t know what they said. I don’t know what happened.

Q. And you’ve never, to this day, discussed with your mother what was said.

A. No.

Q. But since that day, you’ve met with this lawyer named Dickerman, right.

A. Once, yes.

Q. To your knowledge, has your mother had a lot of meetings with Dickerman.

A. I don’t know.

Q. You don’t know. You have never discussed it with her.

A. No.

Q. All right. Okay. After that meeting was over, did your mother and Gavin come out of The Laugh Factory.

A. About five minutes after I had ran in and given them the message from Vinnie.

Q. How long had they been in The Laugh Factory, if you really know.

A. Before Vinnie started getting impatient, about 15 minutes or so. I don’t know.

Q. And where did you go after they got back in the car, after they were in The Laugh Factory.

A. I don’t remember whether we went back to Neverland or to Calabasas. I don’t remember.

Q. But it was one of the two, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. And your stay at the Calabasas

Inn was about two days, right.

A. I don’t remember how long it was.

Q. Okay. Did you ever tell someone named Simone that your mother wanted to go to Brazil.

A. I’ve never told anybody. I don’t remember that person.

Q. Did you ever tell someone named Rio that your mother wanted to go to Brazil, but your brothers didn’t want to go.

A. I never -- I don’t know who that person is.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, at this point we’d like to play the Brad Miller taped interview.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MESEREAU: Can we mark it as next in order.

THE COURT: It’s just an audiotape, right.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, it is, Your Honor. We need to mark it next in order.

THE COURT: It’s not marked.

MR. SANGER: It’s in the machine. If we can mark it when we take it out.

THE CLERK: It would be Defense Exhibit 5000.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

THE COURT: That’s what their exhibits start with.

THE CLERK: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: We’ll see if it works, Your Honor.

MR. SNEDDON: For the record, I have no objection. I’ll waive the foundation.

THE COURT: Thank you.

(Whereupon, a portion of an audiotape, Defendant’s Exhibit 5000, was played for the Court and jury.)

MR. MESEREAU: I don’t think that’s going to work.

It’s not working. It’s not working.

MR. SANGER: It was working here, but we couldn’t get it through the wires to the --

THE COURT: Well, you can work with the technician after court and play it Monday.

MR. SANGER: We can do that. Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You left Jay Jackson’s and you went to The Laugh Factory, right.

A. I don’t know what you’re talking about. I don’t remember.

Q. When you left Jay Jackson’s after the tape-recorded statement, did you go to Neverland or The Laugh Factory.

A. I think that’s the point I went to The Laugh Factory. I’m not sure.

Q. Okay. Did you leave Major Jay Jackson at his residence.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did Vinnie pick you up at Major Jay Jackson’s home.

A. I think it was Vinnie. Because Vinnie’s the one that brought us to The Laugh Factory, but I’m not sure. But I know he was the one that took us to The Laugh Factory.

Q. Okay. Did Vinnie take you to Hamid Moslehi’s home as well.

A. No. It was Hamid that came and picked us up at Neverland.

Q. What kind of car did Vinnie drive.

A. They had the -- it’s like a silver Buick. I think it was a Buick. I’m not sure.

Q. Do you remember when you went to get a passport.

A. I kind of do, but I know we went to, like, an office-type place, but --

Q. Well, it was a federal building, wasn’t it.

A. Yeah.

Q. And that was in Los Angeles, right.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. And Vinnie drove you; is that correct.

A. Yes. Yes, it is.

Q. And he parked the car somewhere near the federal building, right.

A. I guess, yeah.

Q. And you were with your mom, right.

A. Yeah, we were all together.

Q. With Gavin and Star, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You parked your car, and all of you got out of the car and walked into the federal building, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever hear anybody scream, “Help, we’re being held against our will,” or words to that effect.

A. No.

Q. There were federal employees and agents all over that building, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. And nobody said a word, right.

A. Yeah. They’re that scary.

Q. Your mother came up with the idea of calling Michael Jackson “Daddy,” right.

A. No.

Q. You testified yesterday that your mother never came out of the cottage, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And that’s not true, is it.

A. That is true.

Q. Your mother was in the theater from time to time, was she not.

A. No.

Q. You were never in the theater with your mother and your brothers watching a film at Neverland.

A. On the first visit, I think we went and all saw something. That was the very first visit of -- with David and everything. But other than that, I don’t remember us going in the theater.

Q. Do you remember the time you, your mother, Gavin and Star and Michael Jackson were in the theater and your mother asked everyone to “kneel down and say a prayer to Daddy”.

A. I don’t remember that.

Q. Do you ever remember being in the theater at Neverland with your mother, Gavin, Star and Michael Jackson.

A. I don’t remember that.

Q. Do you ever remember being with your mother at this zoo at Neverland.

A. On the very, very first visit when we all came up together with David, we did go to the zoo.

Q. Are you saying that, after that, your mother never left her cottage.

A. My mom didn’t leave her cottage.

Q. Were her meals served at the cottage, to your knowledge.

A. Yes, they were brought to her.

Q. Three times a day.

A. I think it’s -- I don’t know. I wasn’t watching.

Q. Do you remember, your mother told the three social workers from the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services that she’s always at the main residence.

A. Yeah.

Q. Remember, she told those workers that she’s there all times of day.

A. Yeah.

Q. Do you think your mother was lying.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you think your mother lied throughout that interview.

A. Somewhat. I don’t know. But I know those comments can’t be true.

Q. And that was the day you lied about bringing girlfriends to Neverland, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. And you’re telling this jury that you’ve never brought any girlfriend to Neverland.

A. No.

But you told it to the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Did you discuss with your mother ahead of time that you were going to tell those social workers that you bring your girlfriend to Neverland.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. You don't remember ever talking to your mom about what you were going to say.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. Okay. Were you in the room when your mother told her lies to the social workers.

A. I don't know if it was all lies. I don't know. I don't remember what was said.

Q. But you remember some of them were lies, correct.

A. Yeah, I remember -- when you tell me certain things, I do remember.

Q. Okay. Now, at some point, you learned your mother didn't want to go to Brazil, right.

A. She didn't want to go to Brazil at all.

Q. Well, at some point, you learned that you weren't going to Brazil, right.

A. My mom didn't want to go at all.

Q. I know you're saying that.

A. When that subject was brought up.

Q. And your position is, that you've never told any other witness that your mother wanted to go to Brazil, but your brothers wanted to stay, right.

A. My brothers wanted to stay and be with Michael, yes.

Q. At some point, instead of going to Brazil, your entire family was brought home, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And who brought them home.

A. I think it was Vinnie that brought us all back to my grandmother's house.

Q. So Vinnie drove you to your grandmother's house and dropped the family off, right.

A. Yes, because we had to make up -- my mom called me and said vaguely, “Your grandfather’s sick. You need to come home. Davellin, get your stuff together, it’s time to go.” And she just -- you could tell she just wanted to get us out of there.

Q. And when you went to leave, Vinnie took you to your grandparents, right.

A. Well, they were kind of irritated about the whole fact we had asked them over and over, and they finally agreed to it.

Q. I know what you’re saying. But the reality is, when you wanted to leave, you went home, right.

A. After a hassle, yes, we did.

Q. And when you asked Jesus Salas on an earlier date to take you to Los Angeles in the middle of the night, he did it, right.

A. Yeah, we had to do it very quiet, and we had to be very quiet.

Q. I know your position. Have you discussed what words you’re going to say about this event with anybody before today.

A. No, these are my feelings. This is what I saw happening.

Q. Okay. Okay. You testified yesterday that when you were in Michael Jackson’s bedroom, you saw alcohol, right.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. You said, “I know the shape of bottles, but I don’t know what they were,” right.

A. Yeah.

Q. And you never tasted what was in those bottles, correct.

A. No, I just saw that they were there in the bedroom.

Q. Okay. You never said Mr. Jackson gave you anything that was in those bottles, right.

A. Not while in the bedroom, no.

Q. Okay. What else did you see in Mr. Jackson’s room that only time you say you were there.

A. Other than what I’ve already said.
Q. Yes.
A. I don’t remember anything else.
Q. Remember any pictures on the walls.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Any toys in the room.
A. Don’t remember.
Q. Do you know where his children were at that point.
A. I think they were there at the beginning, but then the nannies came and got them. I’m not sure about that.
Q. Okay. Did you see nannies in the main house at that point.

A. When I was --
MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, Your Honor, I’m going to object as to what “that point” is as vague.
MR. MESEREAU: Sure.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it, Your Honor.
Q. When you went to Mr. Jackson’s bedroom for the only time you say you were ever there, you saw nannies, correct.
A. When they came and got them.
Q. Did you ever see the room the nannies live in.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Did you meet the nannies at Neverland.
A. I met -- I had met Grace the first time we had went, with David and everybody. But I met the second nanny at Miami.
Q. Two nannies, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Same nannies you saw at Neverland when you were in Michael’s room, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Have you ever told anyone that you were in Michael’s room more than once.
A. No.
Q. You testified when you were at the Calabasas

Inn, you went shopping, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go shopping.

A. For the suitcases, we went to an outlet mall. And then for the clothes, we went to like a mall-mall.

Q. And you went to a number of stores in the mall where you bought clothes, right.

A. No, we just went to one department store. That’s all I remember.

Q. Do you recall anyone in that department store saying words to the effect, “Help, we’re being restrained or held against our will.”

A. No, none of us said that. Vinnie was with us the whole time.

Q. You said you went to a -- was it a Walgreen’s where you had a photo taken.

A. Yes, we did.

Q. Where was that Walgreen’s located, if you know.

A. Near Calabasas, I guess. It was when we were at Calabasas.

Q. When you went into the Walgreen’s, do you recall anybody saying words to the effect, “Help, we’re being held against our will”.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you recall security personnel in any of those malls.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Do you recall security personnel in Walgreen’s.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. Do you recall security personnel in the store you went and bought clothes at.

A. There was -- I don’t remember seeing any.

Q. Where did you eat that day when you were shopping; do you know.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. It was not at the hotel, right.

A. I think there was the one time he took us to eat somewhere. I don’t remember.

Q. But you certainly don’t recall your mom or anybody telling anybody at the restaurant, “Help us, we’re being restrained or held against our will,” right.

A. No, I don’t.

Q. Okay. How long were you in Walgreen’s; do you know.

A. 20 minutes.

Q. And you had your photo taken.

A. All of us did.

Q. Okay. Have you ever discussed the J.C. Penney case with your dad.

A. Which dad. My stepfather or David.

Q. David.

A. No.

Q. Never talked to him about it at all.

A. No.

Q. And I think I asked you this earlier. If I did, I apologize. You never discussed the J.C. Penney case with Gavin or your mom, right.

A. None of them.

Q. Okay. Ever see your mom, during the J.C. Penney case, ask your brothers to write out what happened and then go over it with them.

A. No. The only -- the only writing I saw was David would sit at the kitchen table and write, but that’s the only writing that I saw.

Q. Never saw your mother do it.

A. Never saw her write anything.

Q. Was David writing about what happened at J.C. Penney.

A. I don’t know what he was writing, but I think that he liked to do notes or whatever. I don’t know.

Q. But why do you remember that when I mentioned J.C. Penney.

A. Because that’s -- that’s the only notes that I remember.

Q. About J.C. Penney.

A. Yeah.

Q. So you remember David writing notes about J.C. Penney.

A. Yeah.

Q. Do you remember what he did with those notes.

A. I don't know. I guess he was just reviewing what he thought or what happened to him or whatever. I don't know what he was writing about, really. But I know that he would write a lot.

Q. About J.C. Penney, right.

A. I guess so. You have to ask him. I don't know what he was writing.

Q. But clearly, if this jogs your memory a little bit, it must have been the time of that case you saw David writing things out.

A. Yeah. He's not really good with -- memory-wise, so I don't know. You'll have to ask him.

Q. Okay. Did you see David talking to your mom about what he was writing.

A. I don't remember what happened. I was too young to remember. And all I remember about that case is Gavin's elbow, and we came and picked him up. He was hurting and Star's head was hurting. That's all I remember. I wasn't involved in that case at all.

Q. Okay. Okay. Do you recall your mom saying that David's brother Ray will have people killed.

A. David had said that.

Q. Pardon me.

A. David had told me that.

Q. Well, have you ever told people that your mom talked about that.

A. No. David was the one that told that to me.

Q. Okay. Told you that he had a brother Ray that can have people killed.

A. Well, I know he has a brother Ray, and David always said, “Oh, my brother has connections,” and stuff like that. And when he held me in that car that time, that’s when he told me all those threats and stuff.

Q. But your mom’s never discussed it, to your knowledge.

A. No, she --

Q. Never talked about it.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Did you ever see your mom dancing on the premises at Neverland.

A. No, not that I remember. She was always in her room.

Q. So she’d stay in her room for days and days, right.

A. Which visit are you talking about.

Q. How about any visit.

A. The only visit that I really saw her come out was the first visit. And after that, the other visit, she never really came out.

Q. Do you know anything about your mother wanting to set up an account -- a bank account for the money that was raised in the fund-raisers.

A. All I know, Gavin had a trust fund. That’s all I know about it.

Q. Okay. And how did you learn about that.

A. I just heard about it. I don’t know.

Q. Your mom told you she was setting up a trust fund, right.

A. I don’t know. All I know is Gavin had a trust fund. I don’t know who set it up or what, because David and my mom were still together.

Q. Okay. Did you ever tell Fritz Coleman you wanted him to help raise money.

A. I don’t -- I’ve never asked anybody for money.

Q. Okay. Let me just ask you if you know some people. Do you know any of the employees at Neverland.

A. On just a hi/bye basis, yeah.

Q. Ever meet any of the employees at Neverland.
A. Just a hi and bye.
Q. I'm sorry.
A. Just a hi and bye and --
Q. So you don't know any of their names.
A. No, I just remember how they look.
Q. Okay. Do you know Arlene Kennedy.
A. Yes.
Q. Who was Arlene Kennedy.
A. She was the owner of the dance studio that we went to.
Q. When did you last talk to her; do you know.

A. A while ago. I don't remember.
Q. Do you remember your mother telling Mrs. Kennedy that the press were causing havoc after the Bashir documentary.
A. I don't remember. I know they were, but I don't remember if she told her or not.
Q. Okay. Your mother constantly complained about the press causing problems after Bashir, right.
A. Well, they'd mainly go to my grandparents' house. Only one person came to the East L.A. apartment. And my grandparents are old and just -- she just wanted to protect them and not have them go through that.
Q. But you just said the press was causing havoc, right.
A. Yeah, at my grandparents' house. That's where they would go.
Q. But your mother always complained about the press causing problems, after Bashir, for your family, right.
A. Well, they are family. Those are my grandparents.
Q. No, your mother was complaining about what the press was trying to do to you and Gavin and Star and she, right.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object as vague as to when and where; lack of foundation.

MR. MESEREAU: Sure. I thought I said after the Bashir --

MR. SNEDDON: Well, that's wide open.

MR. MESEREAU: I'll rephrase it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Shortly after the Bashir documentary, your family was hassled by media, true.

A. Just one came to the East L.A. apartment where we were at. The rest were constantly going to my grandparents' house.

Q. Now, it sounds like you've memorized that answer, because you've said the same identical answer so many times.

MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative. Ask that be stricken.

THE COURT: Sustained as argumentative.

MR. MESEREAU: I'll withdraw it.

Q. After the Bashir documentary, is it true that your mother spoke to a lot of people in your presence and complained about the media.

A. Yes. The media that was going to my grandparents' house. That's where my mom's, like, driver's license and everything is registered at.

Q. After the Bashir documentary, didn't your mother constantly complain about the way Gavin was hassled.

A. One reporter -- okay, one -- there were two of them together, but it was one that came to the East L.A. apartment. The rest were going to my grandparents' house. That's all I remember.

THE COURT: Just a moment. You're not listening to the question. He's not asking you what happened. He's asking you about a complaint.

Would you read the question back to her.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: No. Only one came to the apartment, and I don't know.

THE COURT: Just -- no, just answer the question.

THE WITNESS: No.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you go over that answer with anyone before you testified today.

A. No.

Q. Did you -- in your meeting with Mr. Sneddon, did you talk about what your response to that question was going to be.

A. No, we didn't talk about that.

Q. Did anyone tell you to memorize that answer and just repeat it every time you were asked that question.

A. No.

Q. You'd agree that whenever you're asked that question, the same identical words come out.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object, and ask that be stricken and counsel be admonished. This is like the fourth time within the last five minutes.

MR. MESEREAU: I'll withdraw it.

MR. SNEDDON: I'll order -- ask that the jury be ordered to disregard the statement of counsel.

THE COURT: The objection is sustained. You're admonished not to argue with the witness.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, sir.

Q. You said George Lopez was a close friend of your family, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And when did you last see George Lopez.

A. It was during Gavin's cancer, because David's the one that demolished that relationship.

Q. Did you meet with him a number of times.

A. He would go to the hospital and visit Gavin.

Q. And were you there when he visited Gavin.

A. Yes, he would bring him, like, a little toy car and stuff.

Q. Did you ever see him at The Laugh Factory.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times, if you can estimate.

A. We saw him much -- he was the one that was our personal one that they had chosen for us, to teach us how to do our little comedy acts.

Q. Did he teach you and your brothers how to do comedy routines.

A. While we were at The Laugh Factory, yes.

Q. Was he part of the class you took there.

A. Yes.

Q. At some time, your father had a falling out with George Lopez, right.

A. What do you mean by that. Like the relationship was gone.

Q. Yes.

A. Well, because of David's fault, yes.

Q. Okay. At some point, your mother accused George Lopez of stealing 300 bucks from Gavin, right.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever hear anything about that.

A. No. I never heard anything like that.

Q. Well, you certainly heard something about why the relationship ended --

A. Yes.

Q. -- right. And you're blaming that all on David, right.

A. Yes. Because he went and he argued with George.

Q. Do you know what he argued about.

A. All I know is it was an open event, and he went to argue with George about -- I don't know what it was about. And after that, George didn't -- told him he didn't want to see him ever again.

Q. After that event, did George ever see your mother, you, Gavin or Star again.

A. He didn't come and see us anymore.

Q. Did you try to reach him.

A. No. David had told us that George didn't want to see us anymore.

Q. Okay. Do you know someone named Brett Ratner.

A. Yes.
Q. Who is Brett Ratner.
A. He was the director for Rush Hour 2.
Q. Where did you meet him.
A. On the set of Rush Hour 2.
Q. Did Chris Tucker introduce you to him.
A. Yes, he did.
Q. Did you get to know him pretty well.
A. Somewhat. Not really.
Q. Were you ever at his house.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever hang out with him anyplace.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever see him off the set of Rush Hour.
A. Well, Chris took us to like -- like a restaurant they were at. And we just sat with them for like a couple minutes, and then I think we went back to our hotel room.
Q. When did you last see him.
A. I don't remember.
Q. Did you ever see Gavin talking to Brett Ratner.

A. While they were on the set, yeah. They would play with each other and laugh and stuff.
Q. Now, getting back to your comments that you saw a change in your brother at some point. Remember those comments you made in response to the prosecutor's questions.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you have any knowledge of an event where Gavin --
THE COURT: They can't hear you now.
THE BAILIFF: You have your book on the microphone. You turned it off.
MR. MESEREAU: Oh, the book's on the....
Q. Do you recall an event where your brother Gavin shot your mother with a BB gun.
A. Yes, I do. He shot me also.
Q. When did that happen.
A. That was after we came back from -- after we left Neverland for good.

Q. Okay. And he took a BB gun and shot the two of you.

A. Yes, he did. He was always -- from the point that he left Neverland, he had changed dramatically into an aggressive person.

Q. But he never was aggressive in school before he had gone to Neverland, is that what you’re saying.

A. No, he never got into fights and stuff at school, not that I remember. He was just very talkative.

Q. But he was thrown out, wasn’t he.

A. No, he was never thrown out of school.

Q. Was he ever thrown out of class, to your knowledge.

A. I don’t know.

Q. You don’t know.

A. Gavin had never been aggressive to me and my mom before.

Q. Are you aware of your brothers, Star and Gavin, ever being caught in the wine cellar at Neverland alone.

A. No. They were always with Michael.

Q. How do you know that.

A. Because that’s -- I never saw them anywhere by themselves. If I did see them, they were with him.

Q. Didn’t you say that you didn’t hang out with them at Neverland.

A. Yeah, but I would go around the ranch. And every time that I saw them passing by, or I would go in a room that they were, like, in the office or anything, they were with him.

Q. Did you ever learn that Gavin and Star were caught breaking into the wine cellar at Neverland without Michael Jackson anywhere in sight.

A. No, I never heard of that.

Q. Did you ever learn that Gavin and Star were caught with alcohol at other parts of Neverland without Michael Jackson ever being there.

A. Not that -- I never heard of that ever.

Q. Never heard of that at all.

A. No.

Q. Okay.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

THE COURT: I can tell it’s late Friday afternoon. Can’t you.

Let me have counsel approach for a second.

MR. SNEDDON: May I go this way, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

(Off-the-record discussion held at sidebar.)

THE COURT: We’ve had a very serious conference here. We’re going to quit ten minutes early. I can -- I can tell when things are going downhill.

(Laughter.)

Let me remind you, you know, the admonishment applies every day, every minute. But we’re going -- we’ve gone through a long week here, and now we’re going to go through a weekend. And it’s extremely important that you keep in mind that you don’t talk to anybody about the case or anything related to the case, don’t watch news reports or listen to television, none of that.

Remember the admonition. It’s extremely important. People are watching you. You know, you’re -- people in the community are watching you. And it’s just -- just so important that you follow this admonition.

And another important admonition is don’t form any opinions about this case until you’ve heard all the evidence, you’ve heard the instructions of the law, and you’ve had an opportunity to hear counsel argue their -- how they think the facts and the law come together for your judgment.

If you reach the judgment before all of that happens, you would be short-changing one side or the other, or both sides. Certainly the system of justice. So let’s keep an open mind, and I’ll see you Monday at 8:30.

One final thing. I’m announcing now that the grand jury transcript is unsealed.

And Lorna, that has to be in the minutes.

THE CLERK: All right.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:20 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 785 through 958 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 4, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 4, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, MARCH 7, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 960 THROUGH 996)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067

-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-

OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

INDEX

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES DIRECT CROSS REDIRECT RECROSS

ARVIZO, Davellin 964-M (cont’d)

E X H I B I T S

DEFENDANT'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
5000	Brad Miller DVD	983	985 (Remarked)

Santa Maria, California
Monday, March 7, 2005
8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.
THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.
THE COURT: Mr. Mesereau.
MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.
Should I check this, double-check this.
Hello.
THE JURY: Hello.
MR. MESEREAU: All right.

CROSS-EXAMINATION (Continued)

Q. Miss Arvizo, you testified last week that you recall a trip from Neverland with Michael Jackson to a store named Toys R Us; do you remember that.
A. Yes.
Q. And you testified that Mr. Jackson took you and your brothers and some fans to Toys R Us, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know approximately when that was.
A. I don’t remember when.
Q. And you did say that on the way Mr. Jackson saw some fans and picked them up, and you all went to Toys R Us together, right.
A. Yes.

Q. And Mr. Jackson paid for toys for everybody, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recall anybody ever complaining that they were being falsely imprisoned at Toys R Us.
A. No.
Q. Do you recall anybody complaining that they were there against their will, at Toys R Us.
A. No.
Q. Now, do you know what a sworn deposition is in a civil case.
A. Kind of. Not really.
Q. Has anyone ever told you that a sworn deposition is a procedure in a civil case where somebody sits down and answers questions under oath.
A. Yes.

Q. And who told you that.

A. Well, I was sitting in the one that Gavin took during the J.C. Penney's case.

Q. And you were also sitting in the one that Star gave in the J.C. Penney case, correct.

A. I don't remember that. I was just sitting with Gavin.

Q. Well, didn't you tell the jury last week that you know nothing about the J.C. Penney case.

A. I just remembered right now when you said "deposition."

Q. So you sat there in Gavin's deposition in the J.C. Penney case, correct.

A. Because he wanted me to be next to him, and I held his hand.

Q. And your mother was there too, correct.

A. I don't remember her sitting there.

Q. You also sat in Star's deposition, true.

A. I don't remember sitting in Star's.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the page of the deposition transcript that lists you as attending.

A. (Nods head up and down.)

Q. Could I show it to you.

A. That's fine. I just didn't remember. All I remember is really sitting with Gavin.

Q. Okay.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page.

A. No, that was the first time.

Q. Well, does it refresh your recollection that you were present for Star's deposition as well.

A. All I remember is the taping of Gavin's. I don't remember Star's.

Q. Okay. What -- my point is this: When you told the jury last week you didn't know anything about the J.C. Penney case, that wasn't correct, right.

A. Well, when you said “deposition,” it refreshed my memory. That was a long time ago. I was, like, 11.

Q. Okay. Now, you also told the jury last week you have no knowledge of Gavin having disciplinary problems at school before he ever met Mr. Jackson, right.

A. I know he talks a lot, yes.

Q. Well, that’s what you said, the only problem you were aware of is that he was talkative, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You also said to -- you were asked by me, “To your knowledge, was he ever asked to leave school,” and you said you don’t know, right.

A. I don’t -- no, I don’t remember.

Q. Well, you sat there in Gavin’s deposition in the J.C. Penney case where he admitted that he got in lots of fights and got thrown out of school, right. You were sitting right there, right.

A. He’s never been thrown out of school.

Q. You heard him say it under oath, didn’t you.

A. I don’t remember. It was a long time ago. All I remember, I was in my grandmother’s house, and I was holding his hand, and they were taping the deposition. That’s all I remember.

Q. Do you remember at the deposition Gavin was asked, “Have you ever had problems at school where you got into a lot of fights.” And he said, “Yes”.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object as asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you remember Gavin saying he was thrown out of school for fighting.

MR. SNEDDON: Object; asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Are you telling the jury you never heard Gavin ever make a statement like that at any time.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object as asked and answered, and ask the Court to admonish counsel. He knows better than this.

MR. MESEREAU: I object, Your Honor, to the colloquy.

MR. SNEDDON: I have a right to make a record. And I -- I’m asking the Court -- this is the third objection in a row that’s been asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained. You may sit down.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Are you telling the jury today, under oath, that you have no knowledge of Gavin ever being asked to leave school before he met Mr. Jackson.

MR. SNEDDON: Object as asked and answered.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: All I know is that he was very talkative. I don’t remember. I’m not involved in that.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: I’m sorry, excuse me. I interrupted.

A. I’m not involved in that. My mom is.

Q. Have you ever discussed with Gavin his being thrown out of school for fighting.

A. All I know is he would get in trouble, so I would tell him, “Just be quiet, Gavin. You don’t need to talk back.” That’s all I remember.

Q. Have you ever discussed with Gavin his problems with fights in school before he met Mr. Jackson.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object as asked and answered.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I don’t know. I don’t remember.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Do you remember, I asked you last week if you had ever discussed the J.C. Penney case with Gavin or your mom. Remember, I asked you that question.

A. Yes.

Q. You said you had not discussed it with either of them, right.

A. Yes.

Q. How could that be, if you attended those depositions.

A. I'm not talking to them about it.

Q. Before.

A. No. I haven't talked to them about it at all. I'm just sitting there. I don't know anything about the case. I was just sitting there to comfort my brother. He wanted me to be with him. I'm not even paying attention to what he's saying. I'm just paying attention to how he's looking. And that was during his chemo.

Q. So you had never discussed the J.C. Penney case with him before you attended his deposition.

A. No.

Q. And you never discussed the J.C. Penney case with any of your family members before you attended Star's deposition.

A. Never.

Q. You never discussed the J.C. Penney case with Gavin or your mom or Star after Gavin's deposition.

A. Never.

Q. And you never discussed the J.C. Penney case with Star, your mom or Gavin after Star's deposition.

A. Never.

Q. You just kind of got there, silently listened, left, and never talked to anybody about it, right.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you testified last week about seeing Mr. Jackson and your brothers go into the wine cellar, correct.

A. I saw somebody going downstairs. And then when I was already in the wine cellar, I knew who it was.

Q. Was that the only time you ever saw anybody go into the wine cellar.

A. I saw several times people go down, but I never really went. I always saw, like, open -- people going down, but I never really followed. It was just that one time.

Q. Just the one time.

A. Yes.

Q. And you described the --

THE COURT: Excuse me, Counsel. Mr. Jackson needs to go to the rest room. We'll take a break.

MR. OXMAN: Thank you, Your Honor.

(Recess taken.)

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, would it be useful to take care of a stipulation on a technical matter while Mr. Jackson's --

THE COURT: I think we need to wait till he comes back.

MR. SANGER: Okay. Very well.

MR. MESEREAU: May I see Mr. Jackson, Your Honor.

(Brief interruption.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you recall, Miss Arvizo, giving the Santa Barbara Sheriffs a detailed description of the wine cellar at Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did you tell them.

A. I told them that I walked down the stairs, and then you make a right, and there's a room and it has sleeping bags. And then there's another room, and it's a way smaller room. And on the left-hand side, there's wine bottles on the wall. And then there's a -- I think there's a counter in the room, too, and cupboards.

Q. Did you tell them anything about sleeping bags.

A. Yeah.

Q. What did you tell them.

A. That after you walk down the stairs and you make a right into the room, and I think there's sleeping bags on the wall. I don’t remember.

Q. You told them about cubbyholes with sleeping bags, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you’re telling the jury today that you’ve only been down there one time, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. The truth is, you’ve been down there many times with your brothers without Mr. Jackson, true.

A. No.

Q. Do you recall being interviewed by the Santa Barbara Sheriffs on August 13th, 2003, or approximately that time.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember, you were asked when you observed the wine cellar, and you said “many times” during your visits to Neverland.

A. Well, many times I’ve seen it. But I never went down there many times.

Q. How can you see it if you don’t go down the stairs into the wine cellar.

A. Maybe I misunderstood the questions. But I only remember going down there once and seeing it.

Q. Are you saying you never told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs you’d been down there many times.

A. I don’t remember. All I remember is being down there once and being able to see everything. I don’t --

Q. Did you ever learn that your brothers had been caught down there without Mr. Jackson, having broken into the cellar and drinking.

A. I don’t remember that.

MR. SNEDDON: Object. It also -- excuse me. Calls for -- assumes facts not in evidence.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, you’re aware that alcohol is kept in the kitchen area, correct.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did you ever tell the police there's a glass-like closure on a refrigerator that has alcoholic beverages in the kitchen area.
A. I know behind, like, a glass cupboard there's some -- I don't know.
Q. Did you ever see any alcoholic beverages in that refrigerator area.
A. I don't know. I don't remember.
Q. Well, you've been in that area many times, correct, with your brothers, right.
A. When I would go to eat myself, yes.
Q. And typically when would you go to eat by yourself.
A. In the afternoon.
Q. And when you went by yourself, were you easily able to get in the main house.
A. Yes.
Q. How did you get in the main house.
A. I would either ring for somebody to come, or if I remembered the code to get into the main house.
Q. And how did you get the code.
A. One of the security guards gave it to me.
Q. And did you have any other codes.
A. No. That was the only one I had.
Q. Your brothers had codes, didn't they.
A. Yes.

Q. They had codes to the wine cellar, didn't they.
A. I don't remember that.
Q. They had codes to Mr. Jackson's room, didn't they.
A. I didn't know they had that one.
Q. And they went up to the room without Mr. Jackson present, correct.
A. Anytime Mr. Jackson wasn't on the ranch, they were with me.
Q. That's not what you said last week, is it. Last week you said that when your brothers were on the ranch, they always left you alone, correct.
A. No. When Mr. Jackson wasn't on the ranch, they were with me.

Q. Well, you had knowledge that your brothers were going into the main house when Mr. Jackson wasn't even there, correct.

A. When Mr. Jackson wasn't there, they were with me. There was no reason for us to be apart if Mr. Jackson wasn't there.

Q. Well, you -- correct me if I'm wrong, didn't you tell the jury last week, "When I would visit Neverland, my brothers would go off and, for the most part, leave me alone". Did you say that.

A. If Mr. Jackson was there, yes, I said that last week.

Q. So you're -- now you're saying whenever Mr. Jackson wasn't there, all three of you hung around together; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you go into the main house together when Mr. Jackson wasn't there.

A. Yes. To go eat and watch T.V., yeah.

Q. And how many times do you think you did that when Mr. Jackson wasn't there.

A. I don't know.

Q. Many times, correct.

A. Well, they're growing boys. They wanted to eat a lot, I guess.

Q. And you visited Neverland many occasions when Mr. Jackson wasn't even there, right.

A. No. Not me.

Q. Well, you went there a couple of times with Chris Tucker, did you not.

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Jackson wasn't there during those visits, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you go into the main house with Chris Tucker.

A. Well, with -- with Chris Tucker, who was there, and with my brothers, yes.

Q. And would you simply grab food when you wanted it.

A. Whatever was on the -- where the drinks were. I wouldn't go into the kitchen.

Q. Well, if you go in the main house, you walk into a lobby area, correct.

A. When you go into the -- through the back way, there's glass refrigerators, and I would grab a drink from there. But I wouldn't go into the kitchen area and grab stuff.

Q. Well, you have to go into the kitchen area to grab food, don't you.

A. To sit down, and they make it for you.

Q. But to go in on your own and to pick up food in the kitchen area, you have to go into the kitchen, correct.

A. Yeah, but I'm not going in there where the refrigerators are and stuff.

Q. If you're in the kitchen area, you have to be near the refrigerators, don't you.

A. But I'm sitting down. I'm not making it for myself or going through things.

Q. But if -- you're talking about sitting down at the counter area. Is that what you're talking about.

A. Like the bench area, yes.

Q. And Mr. Jackson has buns and rolls and things available right where you sit down, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And right to your left is the refrigerator area, true.

A. Towards the back area and to the left, yes.

Q. And there's sliding doors, right.

A. They're -- no, they're pulling doors.

Q. How do you know they're pulling doors.

A. Because I would open them and get a drink once in a while.

Q. And your brothers would also, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you will find alcohol in those refrigerator areas, correct.

A. All I remember is there was Yoohoos, juice, different waters. I don’t remember seeing alcohol.

Q. But clearly your brothers would go into that refrigerator area when Mr. Jackson wasn’t around, right.

A. Yes.

Q. They would go into the kitchen when Mr. Jackson wasn’t around, right.

A. To get something, yes.

Q. And they would walk through the house when Mr. Jackson wasn’t around, correct.

A. We wouldn’t really go into the main house, because there wasn’t really anything else to do but eat.

Q. Well, you have all kinds of rooms with toys, games, all kinds of things in that main house, don’t you.

A. But I’m not really interested in those kind of little toys.

Q. Well, they’re not all little toys, now, are they.

A. Mainly from what I remember, yes.

Q. Your brothers were caught on numerous occasions in that house with Mr. Jackson absent, right.

A. To go get something to eat, that’s all I remember.

Q. Well, you described in detail to the sheriffs what you saw in Mr. Jackson’s room, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You described in detail that there was a lower level, a stairway, and a higher level, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You told the sheriffs in detail what you saw on those various levels, right.

A. Yes.

Q. That’s because you were in there on numerous occasions, correct.

A. No.

Q. And you know that your brothers had that code to get in there when Mr. Jackson wasn't around, didn't they.
A. Yeah, but the outer door, that's locked too.
Q. But they seemed to get into that also, didn't they.

A. Not that I remember, no.
Q. Well, you gave the Santa Barbara Sheriffs a detailed description of Mr. Jackson's bathroom, right.
A. The one that's inside the room, yes.
Q. Well, you had spent time in there, correct.
A. No. I never went to the rest room in there.
Q. How could you give a detailed description of the rest room if you haven't spent time looking at what's in there.
A. Because I was in the room the one time, and I was just looking around. I had never been in there. I wanted to see. And you just -- you can look in and see what's in there.
Q. When your brothers and you were at Neverland without Mr. Jackson, did you go into the theater.
A. Yes.
Q. What did you do in the theater with your brothers when Mr. Jackson wasn't there.
A. Watch movies, get little snacks.
Q. What are the kinds of movies you used to watch.
A. I don't remember.
Q. Okay. How did you get the movies.
A. We would ask somebody from the front. I don't remember.
Q. Okay. But you had access to the theater when you wanted, right.

A. Yes. It was open.
Q. No one ever told you you couldn't enter the theater and watch a film, right.
A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. Nobody ever told you you couldn’t have food in the theater, popcorn, ice cream, sodas, whatever you wanted, right.

A. Not that I remember, no.

Q. And you indicated that one particular -- you first met Mr. Jackson approximately in the year 2000, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You indicated that you didn’t come back, you don’t think, in the year 2001, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You started to come back in 2002, right.

A. Yes.

Q. When did Chris Tucker first take you to Neverland, if you know.

A. In 2001. Because we didn’t meet him until 2001.

Q. And you indicated that at one point Mr. Jackson had given your family a vehicle, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you ever in any discussions with Aja Tucker about getting another vehicle from Chris Tucker.

A. I know -- because we didn’t have no car at that time. And Chris had told me, “I’m giving you guys a Christmas present, and it’s Aja’s old car.”

Q. And you gave Aja and Chris your mother’s driver’s license information, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You gave it to them so the car could be transferred into your mother’s name, right.

A. Yeah, they wanted it so they could put it in my mom’s name.

Q. You never told them that Michael Jackson had given your car a family as well.

A. Well, we didn’t have that car at that time. We had no car at that time.

Q. When did you first get a car from Mr. Jackson.

A. When Gavin was -- during his chemotherapy.

It was for Gavin.

Q. And didn't you tell the jury last week that you never asked Chris Tucker for any assistance.

A. We didn't ask him for it. He said, "I want to give this to you guys for a Christmas present."

Q. So you then got the driver's license info from your mother and sent it to Chris.

A. No, I gave it to Aja.

Q. Did you ever get that car.

A. No.

Q. What happened.

A. I don't know. It just -- we didn't get it after all, because of -- the communication broke off because of this.

Q. Okay. So in your mind, but for this investigation, you would have gotten a second car from Aja, correct.

A. We've only -- we didn't have a car at that time, so it wouldn't have been a second car.

Q. Okay.

A. We were driving the bus. We were in the bus.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, at this time I'd like to, with the Court's permission, play the Brad Miller interview tape for the jury.

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, let me address a technical matter on that, if I may.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SANGER: I've talked with Mr. Sneddon, and this is acceptable. We're not quite sure what all the technical problems were, so we got a new disk that was made directly from the original, and it is not the one that's marked 5000.

And what we would ask to do - it's in the machine right now - after we play it, we'd ask that the new disk be marked as 5000, and this --

THE BAILIFF: You need to speak into the microphone.

MR. SANGER: And this old disk is -- the one that was marked just be given back to us, if that’s all right.

THE COURT: In other words, you want to exchange the new disk for the old disk and keep the same number.

MR. SANGER: That’s correct.

THE COURT: Is that agreeable, Mr. Sneddon.

MR. SNEDDON: It is, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. I’ll approve that.

THE BAILIFF: Are you playing off the DVD.

MR. SANGER: We’re going to play off the DVD. And with the Court’s permission now, we will play Exhibit 5000.

THE BAILIFF: Are you playing off the player down there.

MR. SANGER: I’m playing off the player down there.

THE BAILIFF: So you need to go to “Input 4,” and you need to push the DVD player.

MR. SANGER: Right. I think they had it all set up.

THE COURT: And the screen doesn’t matter, because it’s just an audiotape.

MR. SANGER: May I proceed, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

(Whereupon, an audiotape, Defendant’s Exhibit No. 5000, was played for the Court and jury.)

THE COURT: Lorna, is that in evidence.

THE CLERK: No.

MR. MESEREAU: May I proceed, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Are you offering that in evidence.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, we are.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I have no objection. With the Court’s permission, I would like an opportunity to get a copy of that one. I won’t say anything else. But just -- if the Court would give me permission to get a copy.

THE COURT: You have permission.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.
THE COURT: It’s admitted into evidence.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Miss Arvizo, you testified last week that you didn’t know Mr. Miller worked for Mr. Geragos, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. He said that twice in this interview, true.
A. Yes.
Q. Have you ever discussed with your mother who Mr. Brad Miller worked for.
A. Wasn’t really a subject.
Q. Well, have you ever discussed it with her.
A. No.
Q. Now, you know that your mother appeared for a pre-trial hearing in this case a number of months ago, right.

A. Yes.
Q. And you knew the issue was whether or not she knew Mr. Miller worked for Geragos, didn’t you.
A. No. All I knew is she came up here.
Q. You never discussed what she was coming up here for with her.
A. No.
Q. And never discussed what she said.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Now, this interview that you just heard took place on February 16th, 2003, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you heard that date when Mr. Miller began the interview, right.
A. Yes.
Q. This was after your mother and Gavin had sued J.C. Penney for false imprisonment and sexual assault, true.
A. Yes.
Q. And this was after your mother had claimed that security guards at J.C. Penney, in a public parking lot, pulled her breasts out of her blouse and falsely imprisoned her, right.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I am going to object. There’s no facts into evidence of this.

She said she didn’t know anything about the lawsuit. Counsel is just doing this deliberately.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, this interview on February 16th, 2003, was also after your mother had called the police on David Arvizo, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. It was after she had called the police on David Arvizo and accused him of false imprisonment and molestation, right.

A. After I had told her, yes.

Q. Okay. Approximately one week after this interview, you and your mother went to another attorney, correct.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. You went to someone named William Dickerman, correct.

A. I don’t know William.

Q. Well, you met with him at The Laugh Factory, right.

A. I know his name is Bill. I don’t know.

Q. And you and your mother met with him to try and put together a lawsuit against Michael Jackson, right.

A. I never met with him. I only met with him that one time.

Q. What time was this.

A. A while ago.

Q. And approximately when; do you know.

A. No.

Q. Well, you testified last week that at some point, Vinnie picked you and your mom up and drove you to The Laugh Factory on Sunset, right.

A. All of us went. It was me, my brothers, and my mom.

Q. You all went to The Laugh Factory on Sunset, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And that was after your interview with the three social workers, right.
A. I think so. I don’t remember -- no, it wasn’t. Because after the interview with the three ladies was when Aja took us up to Neverland.
Q. When did you go to The Laugh Factory on Sunset with Vinnie.
A. I think it was during the time we were in Calabasas. I don’t remember.
Q. You stopped at The Laugh Factory with Vinnie, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And your mom got out to meet Jamie Masada and a lawyer named Bill Dickerman, right.
A. I didn’t know who he was at that time.
Q. Okay.
A. And, like, Gavin got off with her.
Q. So Gavin and your mom went to meet with the attorney named Bill Dickerman in The Laugh Factory, right.
A. All I knew is they were going to go see 988 Jamie. I met him when I went upstairs for a few -- couple of seconds. And I didn’t hear what they were saying. I just said -- I gave my mom a message and ran back downstairs.
Q. When you say you met him, do you mean you met Attorney Bill Dickerman.
A. Yeah, I just saw him there. I didn’t really --
Q. So your mom and Gavin were meeting with him, right.
A. Jamie was there also, yes.
Q. And that’s after this interview with Brad Miller on February 16th, 2003, right.
A. I don’t know.
Q. Okay. Did you ever meet with Attorney Bill Dickerman after that day at The Laugh Factory.
A. A while after, yes.
Q. And how many times did you meet with Attorney Bill Dickerman.
A. Once.

Q. Were you with your mother.
A. All of us were in the room.
Q. And do you mean Gavin as well.
A. Yes.
Q. And Star as well.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Is that the only meeting you recall ever having with Attorney Bill Dickerman.

A. Yes.
Q. Now, at some point, you went and met with an attorney named Larry Feldman, right.
A. Yes.
Q. That was after you first met Attorney Bill Dickerman, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And that was at an office in Beverly Hills, right.
A. I don’t know where it’s at.
Q. Okay. You went with your mother, Gavin and Star, right.
A. And Jamie was there. And so was Jay.
Q. Jay Jackson.
A. I think he went with us. I don’t remember. But Jamie was.
Q. Now, at this recorded interview by Brad Miller that we just heard of February 16th, 2003, Major Jay Jackson is sitting there listening to it, right.
A. He’s sitting there, yes.
Q. And it’s in his home, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you’re saying that after this interview, Jay Jackson went to a lawyer with the family.
A. I don’t remember when we went, but it wasn’t during then.
Q. And the interview with the three social workers was at Jay Jackson’s home also, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And was Jay Jackson there that day.

A. No, he wasn’t.

Q. How many times did you meet with Attorney Larry Feldman.

A. Once.

Q. And at some point, he agreed to represent the whole family, true.

A. I don’t know that.

Q. Well, you knew that he had sued Michael Jackson in the early ‘90s, true.

A. I didn’t know who he was. I just --

Q. Never discussed it with your mom.

A. Never.

Q. All right. Will you agree that shortly after this recorded interview of February 16th, 2003, your family began meeting with lawyers.

A. No. It wasn’t shortly after then, no.

Q. How long after it was it.

A. I don’t know. But it was way after.

Q. Way after. Like how long; do you think.

A. After March. I don’t know.

Q. Okay. But you met with Dickerman --

A. Once.

Q. -- on Sunset.

A. I didn’t meet with him. I just saw him there.

Q. Okay. Okay. And you think that was after you left the Calabasas Inn, right.

A. I’m not sure.

Q. Okay. Okay. Now, you’d agree that in this recorded interview with Brad Miller, and in the rebuttal videotape that was shown last week, and in your interviews with the social workers, your mother continually praised Michael Jackson as a father figure, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you continually praised Michael Jackson as a father figure, right.

A. I was just really copying, because I didn’t know what to say. I was just latching onto something because David was never really a father.

So I was just latching on something to call a father. I didn’t know what a father is.

Q. Did you ever discuss with your mother, “We’re going to call Michael Jackson a father figure”.

A. No.

Q. Never did.

A. No. It’s the boys that brought it up.

Q. Okay. Well, certainly your mother praises him in all of these interviews as being a father to her children, true.

A. I guess seeing the boys so excited, you know, anything that makes us happy, she -- I don’t know. She gets it from us.

Q. You were sitting in this interview when your mother said, essentially, she liked the boys to be with Michael Jackson at night because they’re safe, right.

A. I think she was just talking about the times that Gavin would go to Neverland with Gavin and we don’t know what happened.

Q. But your mother was encouraging your brothers to go into the main house and be with Michael Jackson, right.

A. You would have to ask her that. But I would -- she never encouraged it. It was the boys wanted to be there.

Q. Well, doesn’t she say that in that recorded interview.

A. If it makes him happy, she’s going to push it. She loves for us to be happy. Anything that makes us happy, she’s going to say, “Go ahead, go.”

Q. But isn’t it true that, as far as you know, she pushed your brothers to be in the main house with Michael Jackson shortly before she went to a lawyer to try and develop a lawsuit against him, right.

A. What are you asking me. Like --

Q. If you know an answer to what I just said. Do you have any --

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object as argumentative.

THE COURT: She's asked you to rephrase the question.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Okay.

Q. As far as you know, your mother was encouraging your brothers to be in Michael Jackson's house at night shortly before she went to a lawyer to try and develop a lawsuit against Michael Jackson, right.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object to that question as argumentative and assumes facts not in evidence. It's also compound.

THE COURT: Sustained on compound.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You would agree, you heard your mother on many occasions encourage your brothers to go into the main house and spend time with Michael Jackson in the evening, right.

A. She wouldn't encourage them. She'd just see them happy. She wouldn't push them to go do it. She just -- they would go.

Q. You heard your mother --

A. I heard it, but I'm telling you what I know.

Q. Okay. She would encourage your brothers to spend time with Michael Jackson at night because she wanted Michael to be the father figure in the family, right.

A. She never encouraged it. It's whatever the boys want, whatever makes them happy, she's going to let them do.

Q. Now, you said in the interview with Brad Miller, referring to Michael Jackson, "He's a bigger father to all of us. He's given us safety. He's given us love. He's given us everything we've ever wanted. He's been our father figure. He's the only thing we know to be a father." You said that, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you meant it when you said it, didn't you.

A. At that point, I still liked Mr. Jackson. And that was the point that David had left and -- I don't know, I was just latching onto something, because I don't know what a description of a father is. I had 16 years of just abuse. I don't know what it is. I just latched onto something.

Q. Do you want to take a minute.

A. I'm fine.

THE COURT: I think it's time for the morning break now.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

(Recess taken.)

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 964 through 995 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 7, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 7, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, MARCH 7, 2005

(PAGES 997 THROUGH 1184)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney

-and-
RONALD J. ZONEN,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and-
GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney
1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU
BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and-
SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700
Los Angeles, California 90067

-and-

SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ.
233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101

-and-

OXMAN and JAROSCAK
BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard
Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

INDEX

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as "SN" on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as "Z" on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as "A" on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as "M" on index. Ms. Yu is listed as "Y" on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as "SA" on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as "O" on index.

PLAINTIFF'S WITNESSES	DIRECT	CROSS	REDIRECT	RECROSS
ARVIZO, Star David	1013-S

E X H I B I T S

PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
50	Photograph	1040	1042
52	Photograph	1040	1042
53	Photograph	1041	1042
54	Photograph	1041	1042
55	Photograph	1131	1134
58	Photograph	1131	1134
69	Photograph	1131	1134
71	Photograph	1132	1134
72	Photograph	1132	1134
74	Photograph	1132	1134

77	Photograph	1133	1134
78	Photograph	1133	1134
79	Photograph	1133	1134
86	Photograph	1154	1158
90	Photograph	1131	1134
91	Photograph	1130	1134
92	Photograph	1130	1134
93	Photograph	1130	1134
94	Photograph	1133	1134
95	Photograph	1134	1134
97	Photgraph	1133	1134
110	Photograph	1042	1042
111	Photograph	1042	1042

EXHIBITS (Continued)

PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
153	Photograph	1161	1161
158	Photograph	1131	1134
165	Photograph	1132	1134
188	Photograph	1040	1042
193	Photograph	1118	1118
196	Photographi	1041	1042
341	Diagram of interior of private jet (Star Arvizo)	1082	1083
470	Clear plastic bag containing briefcase	1151

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Miss Arvizo, in the Brad Miller tape-recording that we just heard --

THE BAILIFF: Would you turn your microphone on, please.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh, excuse me.

Let me start again.

Q. Ms. Arvizo, in the Brad Miller tape-recording that we just heard, your mother talks about the family being inundated with British, local newspapers, national newspapers, magazines, T.V. shows, Celebrity Justice, et cetera. Do you remember that.

A. What's the word "inundated". What does that mean.

Q. Pardon me.

A. What does "inundated" mean.

Q. I'm sorry. I should have chose a better word.

Your mother says that different kinds of media have attempted to contact her; do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you recall her being contacted by Celebrity Justice.

A. The only one --

Q. Do you remember that.

A. The only one I remember is the one coming to the apartment.

Q. Okay.

A. That's all I remember.

Q. Okay. She says, "The children's old school and the children's new school are being contacted by media." Did you know anything about that.

A. I don't know.

Q. Okay. And if the school told that to your mother, you weren't involved, right.

A. All I remember is that one coming to the apartment. I don't remember any others.

Q. So she uses words, "It's been swarmed." But you don't know anything more than what you just testified to, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. Now, your mother says, "We've been rejected, neglected, spit on, fried, tried, burned, abused, the doors shut in our face, opportunities lost. And Michael said -- took us from way behind in the line and pulled us up to the front and said, 'You matter to me. You may not matter to many people, but you matter to me and that's what's important.'"

Do you know what she was referring to when she talked about your family being rejected, neglected, spit on, fried, et cetera.

A. I don't know. I guess emotions from David. I don't know.

Q. Okay. You were present with your mom when she reported David to the Los Angeles Police Department, right.

A. Which time.

Q. Well, there was October -- excuse me, October 1st, 2001, do you remember that.

A. The one that I asked her to call the police, I was present for that one. But the one that -- the first one, I don't -- I wasn't there.

Q. Were you present when your mother told the Los Angeles Police Department that Michael Jackson, Fritz Coleman and Kobe Bryant would assist her with this incident.

A. I don't remember that.

Q. Okay. Were you present with her on October 4th, 2001, when she called the Los Angeles Police Department about your father.

A. I don't know the dates, but I was only present after I told her what had happened with me and my father. Then she called the police. The other one -- any other incident I was not present.

Q. Were you present when she told the police officer from Los Angeles that she wanted to show him a videotape and numerous photos of she and her children spending time with various celebrities.

A. I don’t remember that.

Q. Okay. Do you recall your mother said on the Brad Miller interview that Michael Jackson prayed with the family.

A. Yes, I heard it.

Q. That happened one time in the theater, didn’t it.

A. No.

Q. You don’t remember that.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember the family praying with Michael Jackson.

A. Not really.

Q. Okay. Do you think maybe your mother and Michael and the brothers did it without you.

A. I don’t believe so.

Q. Is that possible.

A. My mom prays like every couple of seconds, like little prayers, so --

Q. Okay. Now, you discussed the Bashir tape with Attorney Larry Feldman, didn’t you.

A. I don’t remember what we discussed.

Q. Well, didn’t your family approach him and talk about the Bashir tape.

A. All I remember -- we had a meeting that day. I don’t remember. It was too long ago.

Q. Did you ever drink alcohol on a plane where Michael Jackson was present.

A. I didn’t drink alcohol on a plane.

Q. Thank you.
Do you recall meeting with a psychologist named Stan Katz.

A. I remember meeting Mr. Katz.

Q. And you were referred to him by Attorney

Larry Feldman, right.

A. All I know is we went that day.

Q. And to your knowledge, Mr. Katz has a business relationship with Attorney Larry Feldman, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Okay. One final question: Have you told the truth throughout your testimony.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

THE COURT: Mr. Sneddon.

MR. SNEDDON: Be right there, Your Honor. Just wanted to make arrangements to have the next witness brought down, Your Honor.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. All right. Miss Arvizo, first of all, I’d like to direct your attention to the time that you were in the car with Vinnie and your brother outside The Laugh Factory. Okay.

A. Yes.

Q. At some point in time you were given a message by Vinnie and sent inside, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. What was the message that he gave you to give to your mother.

A. To tell my mom to hurry up, because we needed to go.

Q. Is that what you did.

A. Yes, I went and got her. Or I went and told her. She came out after me.

Q. After you gave the message, did you stick around at all.

A. No, I went.

Q. Now, you told the jury that there was this incident which led to your request to have your mother call the police --

A. Yes.

Q. -- involving you and your father.

A. Yes.

Q. What happened.

A. It was before school. I was walking to McDonald’s to go get something to eat. And my father was parked in the parking lot at McDonald’s across from my high school, and he started waving at me, and to -- going like this, to “come here.” And I just kept trying to go and I didn’t want to, but I was too scared of him. And I walked over, and he told me to get in the car.

Q. So did you do that.

A. Yes.

Q. What happened when you got in the car.

A. He locked the doors, and then he was just telling me, “What are you guys doing.” And he just started being mean to me. And I just, “Yes, Daddy. Yes, Daddy. I’m sorry, I’m sorry.”

Q. Did you try to leave. Did you tell him you wanted to leave.

A. I told him I had to leave. It was already, like, during my first period. I had to leave. And he just wouldn’t let me go. He said, “No, I need to talk to you,” and he would grab my arm, and I didn’t know -- I was just really scared. I didn’t -- I didn’t know what to do.

Q. It’s okay. It’s okay. During the time that you were in the car with your father and he wouldn’t let you go, did he ever molest you at that time.

A. No.

Q. Now, you’ve heard Mr. Mesereau use the word “terrorist threats.” Do you remember him saying that.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever use those words to the police officer.

A. No.

Q. Do you even know what that means.

A. All I know is the word “threats,” so I’m just putting two and two together, like threatening threats. I don’t know.

Q. But you never used the word “terrorist”.

A. No.

Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury there was a time when you attempted to talk to Carol Lamir about your father’s abusive behavior towards the family.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. And you indicated, I believe, that she didn’t want to listen to it.

A. She didn’t want to listen to it. She always seemed like she had kind of a -- I don’t know, a crush on my father, because my father would go cook for her and stuff.

Q. I just have a couple more questions. Before your family went to Miami to be with the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson - okay. - before that time, your brother Gavin had already been in remission.

A. Yes.

Q. For some time.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you ever hear your mother express her belief as to who was responsible for that remission.

A. Yes.

Q. Who.

A. God. And only God.

Q. You never heard her mention Michael Jackson.

A. No.

Q. With regard to the -- going back to the incident with your father in the car, okay.

A. Okay.

Q. The one at school. I just -- my colleagues want me to ask you a question, so I’ll do it.

A. Okay.

Q. You said that you didn’t know the word “terrorist,” but you knew the word “threats”.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you -- in your conversations with police officers in describing what happened, did you use the word “threats”.

A. No, I just told them what he had told me.

Q. And what did he tell you.

A. That we better not say anything about what happened, because he could have us killed.

Q. Do you know what the term “false imprisonment” means.

A. Not really.

Q. Did you describe to the police officers what happened.

A. Yes.

Q. And what words did you use to describe what happened with regard to your ability to leave the car.

A. I told him he locked it, and that anytime I really tried to leave, he would grab my arm and tell me “No.”

Q. Now, lastly, with regard to the questions that you were asked by Mr. Mesereau, and you were candid with the jury and told them that there were statements that you made to the social workers which were not true, do you recall that.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

MR. SNEDDON: Foundational, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may -- go ahead.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: With regard to those particular questions that you answered to Mr. Mesereau that you had lied, why did you lie.

A. I don’t know. I just -- I kind of still liked Mr. Jackson, and I didn’t want him to get in trouble. And I know I was scared because the bodyguard was there before. And just mixed feelings. I didn’t know, really. I was just....

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I have nothing further, Your Honor. Thank you.

THE COURT: Mr. Mesereau.

MR. MESEREAU: Just briefly.

//

//

//

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MESEREAU:

Q. Ms. Arvizo, when the three social workers came to Jay Jackson’s house and interviewed you, they were asking you questions about your mother, correct.

A. No.

Q. They were investigating whether your mother was fit, true.

A. I really don’t remember what they were investigating. I didn’t know what they were investigating.

Q. Well, it wasn’t really just Mr. Jackson that they were asking questions about, right.

A. I don’t remember.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. No further questions, Your Honor.

MR. SNEDDON: Nothing further, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you. You may step down.

MR. SNEDDON: May I have just a moment, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: She’s subject to re-call, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes, I didn’t excuse her.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh. Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: Call Star Arvizo.

THE COURT: He called him.

BAILIFF CORTEZ: Oh, he did.

THE BAILIFF: You need to adjust this to your height.

THE COURT: Remain standing, please. Face the clerk and raise your right hand.

STAR DAVID ARVIZO

Having been sworn, testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: I do.

THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Star David Arvizo.

THE BAILIFF: Talk into the mike.

THE WITNESS: Oh, S-t-a-r, D-a-v-i-d, A-r-v-i-z-o.

THE CLERK: Thank you.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. How old are you.

A. 14 years old.

Q. You nervous.

A. A little bit.

Q. What’s your birth date.

A. 12-11-90. December 11th.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. December 11th.

Q. And what year in school are you right now.

A. Right now, in ninth grade.

Q. And do you have brothers and sisters.

A. Two -- oh, three, actually.

Q. All right. Why don’t you tell us their names.

A. Jett Daniel Jackson. Davellin Arvizo. And Gavin Anton Jackson, or Arvizo. God.

Q. Okay. And your mother’s name.

A. Janet Jackson.

Q. And the current husband of your mother.

A. Jay Daniel Jackson.

Q. And Mr. Jackson’s occupation.

A. Major -- he’s a United States Major in the Army right now.

Q. And your grandparents, do you have grandparents that are still alive --

A. Yes.

Q. -- on your mother’s side of the family.

A. Yes.
Q. What are your grandparents' names.
A. Maria Ventura and Jesus David Ventura.
Q. And your grandfather, what does he go by.
A. He goes by David Ventura.
Q. Do you know where they live.
A. They live in El Monte.
Q. And how long have they lived in El Monte.
A. 34 years.

Q. Long time.
A. A long time, yeah.
Q. All right. Let's talk a little bit about your school career.
A. Okay.
Q. Where did you start.
A. Start --
Q. What's the name of the school.
A. In Maxson Elementary.
Q. How is that spelled.
A. M-a-x-s-o-n.
Q. And how long were you there.
A. Four years.
Q. What grades would that have been, then.
A. Kindergarten through third.
Q. And then for the fourth grade, where did you go.
A. Nueva Vista Elementary.
Q. And do you recall what town that was in.
A. The City of Bell.
Q. How about Maxson. Where was Maxson, what city.
A. It was located in El Monte.
Q. And then how long were you at Nueva Vista.
A. Four through five.
Q. And then in the sixth grade, where did you go.
A. I went through -- I mean, I went to LeConte

Middle School.

THE REPORTER: LeConte.
THE WITNESS: Yes.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Can you spell that.
A. C-o-n-t-e.
Q. And it would be L-a.
A. Yes.
Q. Or LeConte.
A. Oh, LeConte. L-e-C-o-n-t-e.
Q. And where was that school located.
A. It was located in Hollywood.
Q. And where were you living at this point in your life.
A. In East L.A.
Q. Do you remember the name of the street.
A. Soto. Soto near Cesar Chavez, I think.
Q. So how did you get from your Soto Street address in East L.A. to Hollywood to go to school each day.
A. There was a school bus that picks us up on Cesar Chavez and takes us all the way to our middle school and then continued on to Hollywood High.
Q. How many years did you go there.
A. To LeConte.
Q. Yes.
A. One year.
Q. And after that, where did you go to school.

A. To another -- well, in seventh grade, we went to middle school that was near our Soto address. And -- for about three weeks. And then my mom decided to put us in a better school, in John Burroughs Middle School.
Q. So what was the name of the first school.
A. Hollenbeck Middle School.
Q. And then you went to John Burroughs.
A. Yes.
Q. Was there a point in time -- where did you go to the eighth grade.
A. I went to -- I went to John Burroughs for seventh grade, through eighth. But then half of my eighth grade, I continued on with independent studies. Well, not after. A little bit towards the end.

Q. What does “independent studies” mean.

A. It’s where you stay at home, and you get your homework and everything. You go to a teacher once a week, and he gives you your homework, and you go home and do it.

Q. So you don’t really go to school.

A. No. No.

Q. But this year you’re in a regular school, a freshman.

A. Yes. Yes.

Q. You’ve told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that you lived on Soto Street in East Los Angeles. Do you recall how long it was that you remember living at Soto Street.

A. Probably about four years. I don’t remember if it’s exact, but --

Q. Do you remember where you lived when you were in kindergarten.

A. Well, actually, my parents and my brother and my mom, they lived there for a year, because I was living in my grandmother’s house, and I continued going to Maxson Elementary.

Q. Okay.

A. So it was probably -- yeah, it was probably about four years. I don’t know. Probably four years. Guessing.

Q. Describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury this Soto Street address, as you recall it.

A. The address.

Q. Yeah. No, what was inside. What is the room like.

A. It was really small. Probably -- it was a bachelor apartment. It was really small.

Q. Did it have a separate bedroom.

A. Well, it was like a living room/bedroom.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. It was like a kitchen, like an area, and then a little bathroom.

Q. So where did people sleep.

A. Big area.

Q. All together.
A. Yes.
Q. The whole family.
A. Yes.
Q. How would you describe the -- just let us -- what was it like, the relationship between your mother and your father during these times.
A. It wasn’t good.
Q. What do you mean by that.
A. Well, they’d always get in arguments, and it would always lead to my father hitting my mom.
Q. Did he ever hit you.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you ever see him hit your brother and sister.
A. Yes.
Q. Was there a point in time when your dad left.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember when that was in terms of what grade you were in.
A. I was in sixth grade, and it was in the morning.
Q. Do you remember the incident.
A. Yes.
Q. Were you in school that day.
A. It was a weekend.
Q. And when your father left, did he ever come back.

A. No, I never saw him again.
Q. Okay. Let me talk to you a little bit about some of the things that you’ve done.
Have you ever been to a place called The Laugh Factory.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recall what the first occasion was when you went to The Laugh Factory.

A. It was for a comedy camp.

Q. And do you remember approximately when that was.

A. The year.

Q. Or just put it -- the year, if you can remember, or between what grades it was.

A. It was between third and fourth, probably. Because it was right before my brother was -- had cancer.

Q. And was this during the school year or at some other time.

A. It was during the summer.

Q. And who went to the camp.

A. Me and my brother and my sister.

Q. And how long did it last.

A. I don't remember how exact, but it lasted for probably about a month.

Q. And did you meet any people at the camp that you ended up having -- becoming friends of the family.

A. George Lopez. Louise.

Q. Do you know Louise's last name.

A. No.

Q. Okay.

A. Jamie Masada. Can't remember right now.

Q. Well, let me show you some photographs, if I can. All right.

A. Okay.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, you might have to turn on the screen eventually. I just thought I'd give you a heads up.

MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me. Have I seen those.

MR. SNEDDON: Yes, they're in evidence, all three of them. I'll identify them for the record. But if you want to look at them again -- I'm sorry. I should have showed you now.

Q. Just look at those for a second. I've shown you an exhibit that's in evidence marked as People's 28, People's 13, and People's 49 that are in evidence. Okay. Just hold those there for a second. All right. Go ahead and put 28 up there. I want you to look at People’s 28, Star. Okay. Do you have that in front of you.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize the person in that photograph.

A. Yes. It’s Jamie Masada.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, do you have it on “Input 3”.

THE COURT: We have “1” or “4.”

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Oh, “Input 1.”

THE COURT: It was on “1.” The PC.

MR. SNEDDON: “No signal.”

THE BAILIFF: Did you push the other thing.

MR. SNEDDON: There we go.

Q. All right. Now, People’s 28 you identified as whom, Star.

A. Jamie Masada.

Q. All right. Now, if you put that aside for just a second and go to the one that’s marked as People’s 13.

A. Okay.

Q. Do you recognize the people depicted in that photograph.

A. That’s my sister, me, my brother, and Fritz Coleman.

Q. All right. You recognize the person named Fritz Coleman.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you meet him.

A. At The Laugh Factory.

Q. And what was he doing there.

A. He was helping out the kids with their comedy act.

Q. And the people in that photograph, do you recognize those people.

A. Yes.

Q. A little different than what you look like now, huh.
A. Yeah.
Q. All right. Put that aside, if you would. And let's look at the one that's 49 that's in evidence, people's 49, okay. Do you recognize the people in that photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. Who are those.
A. It's me, my brother, my sister, and Louise.
Q. Okay. Do you know Louise's last name.
A. No.
Q. Did you guys have a nickname for her.
A. Yeah, we called her Weezie.
Q. Weezie.
A. Yeah.
MR. SNEDDON: (To the reporter) I'm sorry, you're on your own in trying to spell it.
Q. Okay. And do you recall when this photograph was taken.
A. Oh. Yes.
Q. When was it taken.
A. It was during the comedy camp.
Q. During the summer you went to comedy camp.

A. Yeah. Yes.
Q. All right. Thank you. Your Honor, we can turn the lights back on. Thanks. Okay. Just take those and turn them over and set them up there on the counter, if you would. Thanks. Now, at some point in time, did your brother Gavin -- did you learn that your brother Gavin had come down with cancer.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember in terms of what year you were in school, or what was going on at that particular time in your life that you remember that happening.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Tell the jury.

A. I was in fourth grade. My brother was -- well, he was moved up to fifth grade. So -- and then he was diagnosed with cancer, so he had to leave school.

And I continued on going to school through the fifth grade. And then he went into remission during sixth grade, when he was able to come back with me during sixth grade.

Q. So you were in the same grades then.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, do you remember in terms of about what time of the school year it was that Gavin learned that he had cancer.

A. The year.

Q. What time of the school year. Like beginning, end, middle.

A. Probably middle. Yeah.

Q. Do you recall.

A. Huh. No, I don’t recall. I don’t know exactly.

Q. Tell us in terms of your -- at the time that Gavin learned that he had cancer, where was he living at that time.

A. We were still living in East L.A.

Q. And the name of the street.

A. Soto.

Q. Okay. And then when Gavin -- did Gavin at some point begin to go to the hospital.

A. What.

Q. Did -- did Gavin ever have to go to the hospital.

A. Yes.

Q. Because of the cancer.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was he living then.

A. Oh, he -- Louise gave my dad money so he could fix, at my grandma’s house, a room for him.

Q. So he was at your grandma’s house.

A. Yes.

Q. And in what town was that.
A. El Monte.
Q. Okay. Were there times that he was in the hospital.
A. Yes.
Q. Were you present at any times when the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson, called your brother.
A. Yes.
Q. On how many occasions.
A. Twice.
Q. Where.
A. Well, two times that I know of, and -- in the hospital room, and a couple times at my grandma's house in El Monte.
Q. So they were separate locations.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, at some point when your brother had been diagnosed with cancer, were you -- did you and your family go to Neverland Ranch.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recall when it was the first time that you went, like what time of the year it was.
A. Time of the year. What year it was.
Q. What time of the year. Were you in school. Was it the summer.
A. I think we were during school.
Q. Was it the beginning of school or end of school; do you remember.
A. Middle of school.
Q. How old were you at this point.
A. Ten or 11. I was 11. I don't remember.
Q. I'm sorry.
A. I don't really remember how old I was.
Q. Do you remember what year it was that you went.
A. No.
Q. Was it during the time that your brother had cancer.
A. Yes.

Q. All right. So what year was it your brother got cancer.

A. 2000, 2001.

Q. So how old were you in 2000.

A. 12. Or 11. Oh, I was probably 11. It was right before my birthday.

Q. I couldn't hear what you said.

A. It was before my birthday.

Q. So it was before your birthday that year.

A. Yes.

Q. Who went to the ranch the first time.

A. My mom, my dad, me, my brother and my sister.

Q. How did you get there.

A. Limousine.

Q. And do you remember about what time it was when you arrived at the ranch.

A. Daytime.

Q. What happened when you got there.

A. Got there; they had -- my mom and my dad signed papers, and then we went into the ranch and there's cooks and, like, maids, people standing outside the door.

Q. Okay. You need to talk into that microphone so people can hear you. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Standing outside the door where. What door.

A. The front door.

Q. To what.

A. To the main house.

Q. All right. After you -- after you got there, you were greeted by these folks. What happened next. What was the next thing you recall happening.

A. I remember just me and my brother and my dad were in the kitchen -- well, yeah, in the kitchen. Or near the kitchen. We weren't inside the kitchen.

Q. All right. What were you doing in there.

A. We were waiting for Michael.

Q. And did Mr. Jackson come down at some point.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall when that was.

A. Uhh --

Q. How long had you been there before Mr. Jackson came down.

A. 30 minutes.

Q. Do you remember -- do you remember seeing Mr. Jackson on that occasion.

A. After.

Q. No, when he came down. The first time you ever met him. Was that the first time.

A. Yes.

Q. And what was he dressed like.

A. He had a red shirt on with black pants, and tape over his nose.

Q. And what.

A. And tape over his nose.

Q. After this greeting, where did you guys go. What did you do. Did you talk to Mr. Jackson for a while.

A. He said we were going to drive some cars.

Q. Did you do that.

A. Yes. We drove some golf carts.

Q. And you say “we.” Who is “we”.

A. My brother and me.

Q. And who else.

A. Michael and Frank.

Q. Frank who.

A. Tyson.

Q. Had you ever met Mr. Tyson prior to that time.

A. No.

Q. So the four of you went somewhere on the ranch; is that correct.

A. We went around the ranch.

Q. And what are these carts like that you drove.

A. They’re like golf carts.

Q. And how many carts were being driven by the four of you. Four carts.

A. No, it was two carts.

Q. Two carts.

A. Yes.

Q. Who was in the carts, the two carts.

A. Me and Michael were in one car, and my brother and Frank were in another car.

Q. So where did you go.

A. We went around the ranch.

Q. In the carts.

A. Yes.

Q. How long were you out there.

A. 20 minutes. Ten minutes.

Q. Now, when you came back, do you recall what happened, what you did after that; after you came back from driving around with Mr. Jackson and Mr. Tyson and your brother.

A. No.

Q. Where did you sleep that night.

A. In the guest units.

Q. And do you recall where your mother and father slept that night.

A. I think my sister and my mom slept together. And my dad, me and my brother slept in another room.

Q. Do you remember how long you stayed there on that first visit.

A. I think it was two days.

Q. Now, do you remember an incident occurring between your mother and your father on this particular visit.

A. Yeah, it was the next day.

Q. The next what.

A. It was the next day. Me and my brother were trying to get up so we could go outside, and my dad wouldn't let us go outside because he wanted to sleep in.

And so eventually, like about 12 o'clock, we went outside and we got breakfast. And my brother was like messing around on the ranch somewhere. And I came back and went into my mom's unit, and my dad was sitting down in the chair. And he was yelling at my mom, and she was trying to put on her makeup. And he -- he got up and he grabbed the club soda that was on the dresser and threw it at my mom's face.

Q. What did you do.

A. Tried to comfort her. I walked over and I hugged her, and I said "I love you" to her. She told me to go out and play.

Q. She did what.

A. She told me to go outside and play.

Q. Did you do that.

A. Yes.

Q. What did you do.

A. I don't know. I just probably went outside and drove a golf cart.

Q. Do you recall the first time that you went to Mr. Jackson's bedroom.

A. Yes.

Q. When was that.

A. That was probably the second visit.

Q. And do you recall about what time it was when you went to his bedroom.

A. Nighttime.

Q. Tell us how you -- how you got into the bedroom. Tell us the way it is that you get into Mr. Jackson's bedroom.

A. First you walk through a hallway, and then you come through a door, and then you continue walking. You go through another door and you walk up the stairs.

Q. Are there any kinds of alarms or bells or anything that goes off.

A. Yes. There's like a bell that goes off, and -- while you're walking through the hallway. And then there's a key pad to the first door.

Q. All right. Did you at some point in time learn the code to that key pad.

A. Yes.

Q. And how did you acquire that information. In other words, who gave it to you.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; assumes facts not in evidence. Move to strike.

THE COURT: Sustained. You have a compound question.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: At some point in time you had obtained the code to that key pad.

A. Yes.

Q. Who gave you the codes.

A. Michael.

Q. Were there more than one code.

A. Yes. There was the door code and the master code to all the doors.

Q. And which one did Mr. Jackson give you.

A. The 1960 one.

Q. I'm sorry.

A. The -- it was the one code that could get into his bedroom.

Q. And do you remember the numbers.

A. Yes.

Q. What were they.

A. 1960.

Q. And those are the ones Mr. Jackson gave you.

A. Yes.

Q. Now. Were there another set of numbers.

A. Yes, it was another code that was 1849 that got you in every door.

Q. And where did you get that code from.

A. I got it from the security guard.

Q. Do you remember the security guard's name.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember what he looks like.

A. He was -- he was white, but I don't exactly remember his face.

Q. I couldn't hear what you said.

A. I don't remember his face.

Q. Okay. And do you remember when it was that you got that code from the security -- let me ask it this way: At some point in time you went to Miami, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And then after Miami, you came back to the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, with regard to the code number that Mr. Jackson gave you - all right. --

A. Yeah.

Q. -- when did you get that code number from him. Before or after you went to Miami.

A. After.

Q. And with regard to the code number that you got from the security guard, was it before or after you went to Miami.

A. After.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. After.

Q. So on the first occasion that you went to Mr. Jackson’s room, you did not have a code number.

A. No.

Q. Who all went to the room when you went to the room.

A. First occasion.

Q. Yes.

A. Frank, Michael, me and my brother.

Q. And where did you go in the room.

A. First we sat down and talked, and then we went on a kitchen raid.

Q. You say you sat down and talked. Where did you sit down and talk.

A. In the living room. Well, where the -- downstairs.

Q. Okay. Downstairs in the house.

A. Yes.

Q. Where in the house.

A. In his bedroom area downstairs.

Q. So you were in there talking.

A. Yes.

Q. Who was present.

A. Frank, Michael, me and my brother.

Q. And do you recall how long you were there before you went to somewhere else.

A. Not really.

Q. So you told the jury you went somewhere else. Where did you go, and what was the purpose for going there.

A. We went to -- on a kitchen raid.

Q. What do you mean by “a kitchen raid”.

A. We went to go get some food.

Q. And whose idea was that.

A. Michael’s.

Q. And what was it you were going to get.

A. Food. And my brother suggested that he wanted some s’mores.

Q. Some s’mores.

A. Yes.

Q. What happened when you went to the kitchen. What did you do.

A. We got some food.

Q. Who actually went to the kitchen.

A. Me, Frank, Michael, and my brother.

Q. Okay. Tell us what happened in the kitchen.

A. My brother wanted to make s’mores, so Michael called the security guard and got some Hershey chocolates and then we all went back to the bedroom.

Q. By the way, you’ve said “Michael” this, and “Michael” that. Do you recognize the defendant in this case.

A. Yes.

Q. That’s the “Michael” you’re talking about.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. You’re back in the bedroom. Who’s back in the bedroom now, and where are you in the bedroom.

A. Right now we’re still downstairs. Me and my brother are starting to make the s’mores. And then Michael says that he’s going to go to sleep.

Q. So does he then leave you.

A. Yes. But then we didn’t want to make them anymore, so we just went upstairs then.

Q. So you’re in the downstairs area of his bedroom, and you said -- where did you go then.

A. We went upstairs.

Q. How do you get there.

A. You go in through a door, and then you go upstairs.

Q. Now, when you went into the bedroom area, who all was there.

A. Frank, Michael, me and my brother.

Q. Anybody else.

A. Oh, Prince and Paris were there also.

Q. Now, when did Prince and Paris come into the picture.

A. They were also there. They were also with us on the kitchen raid, when we went to go get food.

Q. Now, when you got upstairs and you’re in the room, what happened then.

A. They were asleep on the bed, and Frank had a computer. It was a computer that Michael gave him the first time.

Q. Gave who.

A. Gave Gavin.

Q. Okay.

A. And this time it already had Internet access, so Frank did something and the Internet was on, and we started going on sites.

Q. Going on sites.

A. Yes.

Q. What kind of sides.

A. Pornography sites.

Q. And where was Mr. Jackson during this time.

A. He was sitting right next to us.

Q. Where were you seated.

A. On the bed.

Q. And where was Mr. Tyson.

A. Typing.

Q. Typing. Where was he located in the room.

A. Right off the bed and kneeled against the bed and --

Q. Could you see the screen.

A. Yes.

THE BAILIFF: You can pull it down a little.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, do you recall whose idea it was to go on the Internet.

A. Michael’s.

Q. Do you recall what he said.

A. No. But while we were on one of those sites, a lady had her shirt up, and Michael said, “Got milk”.

Q. Do you remember that.

A. Yeah. And then he leaned over to Prince and says, “You’re missing some p-u-s-s-y,” but he said it, in his ear, but Prince was still asleep.

Q. How many sites do you feel that you went to that night.

A. I don’t really remember, but probably, say, five or six.

Q. And what did the sites have. You don’t need to go into all the details, but generally what was the common denominator.

A. Females.

Q. Huh.

A. Females.

Q. And can you tell us whether or not they had clothes on.

A. They didn’t have clothes on.

Q. Females only.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you sleep that night.

A. Michael’s bed.

Q. And where did your brother sleep that night.

A. Right next to me.

Q. And Mr. Jackson, where did Mr. Jackson sleep.

A. He slept on the foot of the bed on the floor.

Q. And Mr. Tyson.

A. To the right of the bed on the floor.

Q. And Prince and Paris, did they --
A. They -- I think they slept on the bed with us.
Q. Do you remember what you did after -- let me ask you this: How long do you think you were watching these --
A. Sites.
Q. -- sites that you went to.
A. 15, ten minutes. Ten minutes.
Q. And then where -- what did you guys do.
A. We -- after all that, we started watching some Simpsons videos.
Q. Okay. Then what.
A. And then Michael told us not to tell no one what we did.
Q. I'm sorry.
A. He told us not to tell our parents what we did.
Q. Who said that.
A. Michael.
Q. All right. I have some more photographs I want to show you.
A. All right.

Q. Okay. Star, I'm going to ask you some -- no, you need it; I don't. I'm asking some questions about the photographs I put in front of you.
And for the record, Your Honor, I've shown them to counsel for his examination.
All right. The first one you have in front of you is marked as People's 188 for identification. Do you recognize what's depicted in that photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate picture of what's in there, of what it shows.
A. Yes.
Q. Just turn it over. Set it right over there. That's it. Good.
Now, the next one is, I'm sorry, 50, People's 50 for identification. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate representation of what it depicts.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Turn it over. I'm going to ask you some questions about these, but I just want to lay the foundation first.

All right. With regard to 52 for identification, do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what it represents.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Turn that over, if you would.

And we'll move on to the next one, which is People's 53. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what it represents.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Flip it over, if you would.

And People's 54, do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of what it represents, or purports to represent.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, the next photograph is one that is actually in evidence, and so you can just turn that over. I'll ask you questions about that later.

And the next one is 196 for identification purposes. Do you recognize the people in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what those people looked like at the time that it was taken.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Turn that over.

And the next photograph is 110. And is that an accurate depiction of what it represents.

A. Yes.

Q. And with regard to 111, is that an accurate depiction.

A. Yes.

Q. Thank you.

Your Honor, I’d move that those photographs be admitted into evidence.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection.

THE COURT: They’re admitted.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Now, Gavin, just -- Star, just flip those over and I’m going to ask you some questions about those photographs, if we can. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. You can flip them back over so you’re looking at them, so they’re in the same order.

Could I have just a second, Your Honor.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. Now, the first photograph that you have is a photograph that’s on the board.

Ron, could you give me that, please. The black case. Thank you.

It’s on the board. Do you recognize the photograph that’s in evidence as People’s 188.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that is.

A. That’s the front view of the main house.

Q. “Of the main house.” Of whose house.

A. Michael’s house. It’s the front door.

Q. All right. Now, do you want to turn that over.

And we’ll pick up the next photograph, which is the one that’s marked as People’s 50.

A. Okay.

Q. Do you have People’s 50 there.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize the photograph that’s depicted on the board behind you. Take a look at it, and make sure they’re the same.

A. Yes.

Q. They are. Okay.

And what is that. Tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that is.

A. That’s the hallway leading to Michael’s bedroom.

Q. Now, this particular door that leads to the hallway, does that door have a key pad on it.

A. No.

Q. Is there another way in to Mr. Jackson’s hallway that leads to his bedroom, other than this door.

A. Through the library.

Q. And do you see the door in this photograph that you can use to get into that hallway from the library.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. I’m going to give you this marker.

Now, would you show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury on the photograph behind you where that other door is that you can access that hallway.

So you’re talking about the one that’s just above the duck.

A. Yes.

Q. And about in the middle of the photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Put that down.

Now, with regard to getting into the hallway from the library, do you need a code of any kind to get in from there.

A. No.

Q. All right. Now, let’s go to the next photograph, which is People’s 52 in evidence. Do you recognize that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what 52 is.

A. It’s the hallway leading to Michael’s bedroom.

Q. And can you use the little -- yeah, the black thing. I know there's a name for those things, it just escapes me.

A. A laser.

Q. What.

A. It's a laser.

Q. Can you use the laser pencil for us and show us the view where Mr. Jackson's -- the entrance to his bedroom.
So straight in the middle of the photograph towards the rear.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, let's turn to the next photograph, which is 53; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, what's 53.

A. It's just a closer view of Michael's -- oh, it's just a view of the doors.

Q. Now, on this particular photograph, would you use the laser for us again, please, and tell us where the key pad is.

A. Right there. It's behind all this stuff.

Q. Okay. Lean in -- turn around and lean into the microphone.

A. It's behind all this stuff.

Q. All right. So you're indicating behind the machine that says "Wild Water".

A. Yes.

Q. It's behind there.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, with regard to the photograph that you have on the board right now, do you see that on the far right-hand side of the photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize that thing that's depicted there.

A. Yes.

Q. What is that.

A. That's like detectors.
Q. What.
A. Something like -- I don't know what they're called, but --
Q. During the time that you were at -- staying at the ranch, did those -- did that -- did that work.
A. I don't know.
Q. Were there any other things that, while you were visiting the ranch, that, when you went to a certain point, gave off noise.
A. Oh, it was like a sensor. Like once you reached like the middle of the hallway, it was like -- it was like a ring.
Q. What kind of a ring.
A. Like "ding." I don't know. It was like a ring. It wasn't like a constant ring. It was like on and off for a little while.
Q. Okay.
Q. How long.

A. Five seconds.
Q. All right. Let's go to the last photograph, if we can.
A. Do you mean this one.
Q. And what's that, 54.
A. 54, oh. That's the view entrance of Michael's bedroom.
Q. All right. Now, you can put that one down. And the next photograph I'm going to have you look at is People's 20 in evidence. Do you recognize that person.
A. Yes.
Q. Who is that.
A. It's Frank Tyson.
Q. Now, did you ever know Mr. Tyson by any other name than "Tyson".
A. No. No.
Q. All right. Why don't you put that photograph down.
Now, when you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that you were there on that first occasion that you went into Michael's bedroom, is this the person you were referring to.

A. Yes.
Q. All right. Let's go to 196. Do you recognize that photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recognize where it was taken.

A. It was in Neverland.
Q. And do you recognize the people in the photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. And who are the people in the photograph.
A. Michael, my brother and me. Michael, my brother and me.
Q. I'm sorry, I didn't hear the last part. Now, is that the way your brother looked back at that point in time.
A. Yes.
Q. Was that a wheelchair that you got at the ranch or was that one that your family had for Gavin.
A. That was at the ranch.
Q. All right. And then there are two last photographs. But before we go, do you recall approximately when it was that that photograph, People's 196, was taken.
A. What year.
Q. If you can.
A. I don't know. It was the time between when he had cancer. When he had cancer.
Q. It was obviously during one of your visits.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recall whether it was the first visit or some visit after that.
A. It was some visit after that.

Q. Why do you think that.
A. It wasn't the first visit.
Q. I didn't hear you.

A. It wasn’t the first visit.

Q. And why do you know that.

A. Because we didn’t do that the first visit.

Q. So it’s sometime after that.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember how long after that.

A. No.

Q. All right. Let’s go to the photograph 110.

A. Okay.

Q. Do you see -- do you see the photograph 110.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. You’ve told us about riding around in some carts.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, tell us about this photograph.

A. That’s Michael’s Bentley. And that’s -- the light blue car is Marie Nicole’s car.

Q. Which one are you referring to.

A. This one. This one.

Q. How do you know it’s Marie Nicole’s car.

A. It had “Marie Nicole” on the hood.

Q. All right. How many such cars like that did you see on the ranch. “Cars.” Carts.

A. Probably, like, ten of them.

Q. All right. Let’s go to People’s 111. Do you recognize that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell us about it.

A. That’s the Spiderman cart, and that’s Marie Nicole’s car. And --

Q. Where is the Spiderman’s cart.

A. Right there.

Q. All right.

A. And that’s the video library.

Q. By that, do you mean -- you pointed to the roof up by a place where there’s a window about the middle of the roof and to the far left of the photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. And you’ve been in the video library.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times do you think you’ve been in the video library.
A. A lot of times.
Q. Yeah. Why don’t you go ahead and put those up there, and we’ll turn the lights back on. After the time that you were at the ranch, and it was the night, the first -- the first night that you spent in Mr. Jackson’s bedroom --
A. Uh-huh.
Q. -- okay. - did you go back to the ranch on other occasions during the time that Gavin had cancer.

A. Yes.
Q. And how many times do you think you went.
A. I don’t know exact.
Q. Did your mother ever go with you.
A. No.
Q. Who went.
A. Just my brother, me, and my dad. But sometimes it was just mostly my brother and my dad.
Q. So there were times that you didn’t even go, but just your father and Gavin went.
A. No.
Q. What.
A. No. Wait.
Q. Okay. Yeah, you -- I might have misunderstood you. It’s my fault. So let’s just go back. I asked you if there were times that your mother went with you and your father, other than the times you’ve told us about. Okay.
A. Okay.
Q. Were there any other times your mother went.
A. No. Except after the Miami trip. Then she came.
Q. Okay. So up to the Miami trip.
A. Yeah.
Q. Now, were there times that you went back with your father.
A. Yes.
Q. And who else went with you.

A. My brother.
Q. Did your sister go.
A. No.
Q. Now, were there times that Gavin and your father would go, but you wouldn’t go.
A. Yes.
Q. The times that you went to the ranch after the time that you were in Michael Jackson’s bedroom and spent the night - okay. --
A. Okay.
Q. -- from those times that you went with your father, when you went, was Mr. Jackson there.
A. No. No.
Q. Do you remember the first time that you went back to the ranch after your dad left the family.
A. Yes.
Q. When was that.
A. That was when we were heading to the ranch, just me, my brother and my sister by ourselves.
Q. And did you go with somebody.
A. Me, my brother and my sister.
Q. Okay. Anybody else.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever go to the ranch with Chris Tucker.
A. Yes.
Q. Why. What were the occasions.
A. I don’t know. He just wanted to go to the ranch.

Q. How many times did you go with him.
A. Four times.
Q. All right. Tell us about the first time. Or tell us about -- anything about those times stand out.
A. There’s one time we went to go celebrate his son’s birthday, and we just ended up staying there for about a week with Chris.
Q. Mr. Tucker was there the whole time.
A. Yes.

Q. And where did you stay during the times you were there with Mr. Tucker.

A. Guest units. And then the last night we stood in a teepee.

Q. Was Mr. Jackson there on any of those occasions.

A. No.

Q. Who stayed in the teepee.

A. There was a lot of people. There was Chris, me, my brother, my sister. Wait. I don't think my sister was there. I don't know. But --

Q. I couldn't hear what you said.

A. I don't know if my sister was there. She was probably there. But it was a female. There was a kid named Adrian. There was another person there also. I don't remember their names.

Q. Do you recognize the name Martin Bashir.

A. Yes.

Q. And how do you recognize it.

A. He was the person that did the taping of "Living with Michael Jackson."

Q. How do you know that.

A. Because we were introduced to him.

Q. Where were you introduced to him.

A. At the ranch.

Q. Do you remember about when that was.

A. No.

Q. Was it before or after the time that you'd gone to the ranch with Mr. Tucker and his children, or child.

A. It was after.

Q. And do you recall, was it during the time that you were in school or was it during the summer.

A. School.

Q. And who all went to the ranch on this time, on this occasion.

A. It was only me, my brother and my sister. We went up there by ourselves.

Q. And how did you get there.

A. By limo.

Q. And where were you picked up.

A. The -- the East L.A. apartment on Soto.

Q. And do you remember what time of the day or night it was that you got there, in terms of was it daylight, was it dark, was it in the morning; do you recall.

A. It was probably in the morning. Somewhere around there.

Q. I'm sorry.

A. It was probably in the morning.

Q. Now, do you remember when you got there, what -- what you did. Where did you go when you got out of the limo.

A. We entered through the back of the main house, and Michael took my brother aside.

Q. Now, when you say you entered through the back, the photograph that we saw just a few moments ago, the photograph 188 in evidence, the People's exhibit, does that show the entrance you went into.

A. No. That's the front entrance.

Q. So if I were standing in the front of the house, if I were a juror in this case standing in the front of the house, where would I have to go to get into the entrance that you went into the day of the Bashir incident.

A. You would have to walk around the house to the left, and there's a door back there, if you walk around the house.

Q. Lean into the mike, please.

A. You have to walk around the house to the left.

Q. All right. When you walk in the door, what room are you in in the house.

A. Through the back exit.

Q. Yes, the one you came in.

A. You're looking at the -- the workers' lounge or something.

Q. Okay. And then where -- where does that lead to.

A. It leads to the kitchen, to the dining area. To everywhere.

Q. So where was it that you saw your brother Gavin go with Mr. Jackson.

A. He told us, me and my sister, to wait right there, and so we did. And he took my brother off to the dining area.

Q. Did you lose sight of your brother.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, how long was your brother gone; do you recall. Just approximately.

A. 20 minutes. 20 minutes.

Q. And when he came back, what happened.

A. They sat down and --

Q. Who sat down.

A. Michael and my brother.

Q. And where did they sit down.

A. On the couch that was near the kitchen.

Q. Were you at any time ever introduced to Mr. Bashir that day.

A. I think it was probably before the taping.

Q. So -- you say “before the taping.” When did that occur.

A. What.

Q. What was going on at the time that you were introduced by Mr. Bashir. Who introduced you.

A. Michael.

Q. Now, did you have an understanding -- did you personally have an understanding that you were going to appear on film that day.

A. No.

Q. Did you eventually appear on film that day.

A. Yes.

Q. And what were you doing on film.

A. We were showing Michael one of our military cadences that we learned from a program, military program.

Q. What military program.

A. At that time we were in the NLCC. Stood for Naval League Cadet Corps. That’s what it -- it was a Navy program.

Q. And do you remember when you joined that program.

A. I was 11.

Q. Before the Bashir -- I mean in relation to the Bashir --

A. It was before.

Q. Are you still in that program.

A. No.

Q. Are you in another program.

A. Yes.

Q. What’s that.

A. It’s Infantry Explorers.

Q. And what service is that connected with.

A. Army.

Q. And how long have you been in that program.

A. It’s going on four months. We barely joined.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. We barely joined four months ago.

Q. Were you ever in a Navy program.

A. Yes.

Q. What was that.

A. That was the Naval Sea Cadets. It was an older program. It’s for older kids. It’s from 13 to 17.

Q. And how long were you in that.

A. About a year.

Q. Now, at the time that you were there with the -- Mr. Jackson and your brother and your sister and Mr. Bashir, were you told before you got there why you were going to the ranch.

A. No.

Q. You personally were never told.

A. No, I was never told.

Q. Now, after the -- were you present during the time that your brother appeared with Mr. Jackson on that film.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you watch it.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you watch it get filmed.
A. Yes.
Q. After the filming was done, they came back and filmed you folks in the kitchen there.
A. Yes.
Q. With Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. After that was done, did you see where Mr. Jackson went.
A. No.
Q. Did you see him any more during the visit.
A. No.
Q. Did Mr. Jackson at any time tell you where he was going.
A. No.
Q. Did you -- did you stay at the ranch, or did you leave.
A. We stood.
Q. The night.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, at some point in time, you’ve told us that you went to Miami.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, between the time that you had gone to the ranch and been with Mr. Jackson and your brother Gavin when they -- the Martin Bashir filming took place - okay. --

A. Okay.
Q. -- between that time and the time you left for Miami, did you personally have any contact with Mr. Jackson.
A. No.
Q. Did you go to the ranch on any occasions between those two periods of time, the time of the Bashir filming and the time you left for Miami.
A. No.
Q. To your knowledge, did anybody from your family go to the ranch during that period of time.
A. No.

Q. To your knowledge, did anybody have any contact with Mr. Jackson during that period of time.

A. No.

Q. Without telling me what was said, when was it that you first learned -- from whom did you first learn you were going to Miami.

A. My brother.

Q. And were you present during a time where a telephone call occurred between your brother and Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Where were you and your brother at that point in time.

A. We were barely waking up to go to school.

Q. Very literal. All right. You're barely waking up.

So what house -- what location were you at.

A. Oh. We were at the St. Andrews apartment.

Q. Whose apartment is that.

A. It's Jay's apartment.

Q. Major Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. And was your mother there at that time.

A. Yes, she was.

Q. And how about Mr. Jackson, was he -- I know that's his apartment. But at the time that your brother was on the phone, was Mr. Jackson there.

A. No, he was at work.

Q. Now, were you present during the -- not a part of it, but were you present when your brother was on the phone.

A. Yes.

Q. Did your mother participate in that conversation, as you recall.

A. Yes.

Q. At the end of that conversation, were you told to do something.

A. Pack my bags.

Q. Who told you that.

A. My brother.

Q. Did you do that.

A. Yes.

Q. So you didn’t go to school that day.

A. No. No.

Q. Were you told how you were going to get to Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. How.

A. We were going to go by a commercial airline.

Q. Did you go to Miami by commercial airline.

A. No.

Q. What form of transportation did you take to get to Miami.

A. We went with Chris Tucker on his private jet, or lear jet.

Q. So how was it that you hooked up with Mr. Tucker that day to go on this flight to Miami.

A. What do you mean.

Q. How did you get from your apartment at St. Andrews, or Mr. Jackson’s.

A. Someone dropped us off there.

Q. Dropped you off where.

A. At the airport, where we met. Wait. I don’t remember. But I know that someone picked us up. Either drove us to his house or to the airport.

Q. Okay. You say “his house.” Who do you mean by “his house”.

A. Chris Tucker’s house.

Q. So you don’t remember whether you went there or the airport, but that’s where the plane was.

A. Yes.

Q. Who was on the plane.

A. Me, my brother, my sister, my mom, and Chris. And there was another guy, but I don’t remember his name.

Q. Now, Chris Tucker --

A. Yes.

Q. -- had you known Mr. Tucker prior to this -- prior to going to Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you remember how it was that you met Mr. Tucker.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the jury how you met Mr. Tucker.

A. I met him through The Laugh Factory comedy -- it was after the comedy camp.

Q. Okay. After the comedy camp.

A. Yes.

Q. What was the -- how did you meet him. How did that come about.

A. He was there one day, and my brother wanted to go see the show. And so my brother met Chris Tucker.

Q. Did you sort of become friends with Mr. Tucker.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you go places with Mr. Tucker.

A. Yes.

Q. Where are some of the places you went with him.

A. Nickelodeon Kids Awards. And to his house. To Oakland to see a Raiders game. And other places. I don’t --

Q. Were you ever present during a situation where your brother met Kobe Bryant.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did that occur.

A. Oh, and Chris also took us to a Lakers game.

Q. Okay. Let’s talk about the first one. You were present on that -- at the time that happened.

A. I wasn’t, no. I wasn’t present when he went into the locker room.

Q. You’re talking about the Laker game now.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. What about the first time.

A. Oh, yeah, I was present. He was at The Laugh Factory.

Q. And was Chris Tucker involved in that, too.

A. Yes.

Q. And the second occasion was at a Laker game.

A. Yes. The first occasion was at the Laker game. The second occasion was at The Laugh Factory.
Q. Oh, okay. Now, at the Laker game, was your brother -- other than going to the locker room, was there some other form of unusual thing that occurred that evening.

A. He was shown on the big screen, or shown on the big screen.
Q. So your brother’s picture was shown on the big screen.
A. Yes.
Q. At the Laker game.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Let’s talk a little bit about the trip to Miami. You’re on the plane. Do you remember how long it took you to get there.
A. Five hours or so. Yeah, five hours.
Q. And where did you land.
A. At an airport.
Q. Good answer. Stupid question, but good answer.
When you got to the airport and the plane landed, where did you go from there and how did you get there.
A. We were going to the Turnberry Resort. And we -- we left by limousine.
Q. And was it -- was it daytime or nighttime at the time, if you remember.
A. It was nighttime.
Q. Do you remember about what time it was.
A. It was really late.
Q. So when you got to the Turnberry, do you remember the first thing you did.
A. We went to Chris Tucker’s room.

Q. Okay.
A. And then we went to our room.
Q. When you say “we went to our room,” who went to the room that you call “our room”.

A. My mom, my brother and my sister and me.
Q. So you were all in one room.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, when you got to your room after visiting with Mr. Tucker, what did you do.
A. We went to sleep.
Q. All right. The next day when you woke up, do you remember about what time it was when you woke up.
A. It was really late. It was probably around 2:00.
Q. In the afternoon.
A. Yes. In Florida.
Q. So when you woke up, what did you do.
A. We -- we went to Chris's room, and then we went to Michael's room.
Q. Now, you say you went to Chris's room. When you went to Chris's room, did Chris go with you to Mr. Jackson's room --
A. Yes.
Q. -- or did he stay in his room.
A. Yes.
Q. In relationship to your room, where was Mr. Jackson's room.

A. The floor above us.
Q. Do you remember what floor you were on.
A. Fifth floor.
Q. Now, do you remember what you saw when you got off the elevator on the floor where Mr. Jackson's room was.
A. There was security guards all over the floor.
Q. Okay. And what did you do.
A. Went to his room.
Q. And when you went in the room, who was in the room when you first got into the room.
A. It was Marie Nicole, Aldo, Michael and -- that's who we first saw.
Q. During the time that you were there, did you get introduced to any other people that day.
A. Yeah, we were introduced to Dieter and

Ronald.

Q. And did you see Mr. Tyson at all that day.

A. Yeah, later that day.

Q. Do you remember approximately when later that day.

A. Nighttime.

Q. Now, during the time that you were in -- you come -- let’s go back when you first got in there and you were introduced to Aldo and Marie Nicole. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Now, was Mr. Jackson present in the -- at the time you walked through the door.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you have any greetings with Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. What did you do.

A. We all sat down and we started talking and he asked us if we were hungry.

Q. He what.

A. He asked us if we were hungry.

Q. Were you.

A. A little bit. It was -- so then we ordered room service. And then Michael took my brother into a separate room.

Q. Did you actually see Mr. Jackson and your brother go to a separate room.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you, at some point, go into that room.

A. Yes.

Q. What was going on when you walked into the room.

A. They were cussing.

Q. What do you mean, “they were cussing”.

A. They were saying bad words.

Q. And what was the nature of what they were doing.

A. They were probably saying the “F” word, the “B” word, all different combinations.

Q. And did you join into this.
A. I was right there, and he told me, yeah.
Q. Who told you.
A. Michael.
Q. Told you what.
A. To join in.
Q. Why.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; calls for speculation.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did Mr. Jackson, when he said “join in,” did he say anything else about what you were joining.
A. What do you mean.
Q. Okay. At the time you walked in there, and they’re cussing, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And you’re asked to join in.
A. Yes.
Q. How was this going about. Just --
A. They were just cussing. Like saying different combinations. And that’s all. And he told me to join in.
Q. Did you do that.
A. Yeah.
Q. How long did this go on.
A. Probably two minutes before Grace walked in.
Q. And did you see where Grace -- who is Grace, by the way.
A. It’s Prince and Paris’s nanny.
Q. Was this the first time you met her or had you met her before.
A. I’ve met her before.
Q. Where did you meet her the first time.
A. The ranch. Neverland Ranch.
Q. During your earlier visits.
A. Yes.
Q. So, she walks -- when Grace walks in, what happened.
A. We stopped.

Q. And then did she remain in the room.

A. She was talking to Michael.

Q. And how long -- what happened after she finished talking to Mr. Jackson.

A. We went into his bedroom where Prince and Paris were.

Q. By “you,” who do you mean.

A. Me and my brother and Michael and Grace. We all went back into the bedroom.

Q. So the room that you were in where all the cussing was going on was a separate room from the bedroom.

A. Yes.

Q. And how long did you remain in there.

A. Where.

Q. Yes.

A. Five minutes probably. I don’t know.

Q. And then where did you go.

A. I went back outside.

Q. And what about your brother Gavin.

A. He stood with Michael.

Q. Where.

A. In the bedroom. Wherever he went.

Q. So you didn’t see Gavin come out.

A. No.

Q. At some point that day, did -- well, let me ask it this way: How many times that day do you think you saw your brother Gavin go into a room with Mr. Jackson.

A. Probably once. I was off playing with Prince and Paris.

Q. Okay. Where were you with Prince and Paris.

A. I was in the kitchen filling up water balloons.

Q. Later, did you notice anything unusual about your brother.

A. Probably --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: He was stumbling around.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Your brother.

A. Yes. And he had a soda can in his hand.

Q. What else did you notice about your brother.

A. He wasn’t acting right. He was acting funny.

Q. Do you remember about what time of the day it was when all this was going on, when you saw your brother in this condition.

A. Nighttime.

Q. Did you say anything to your mom about it.

A. No.

Q. Did you know what was -- what -- did you know why he was acting that way.

A. He walked over to me and told me -- well, I saw into the brim of his soda.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive. Move to strike.

THE COURT: Sustained; stricken.

MR. SNEDDON: I couldn’t hear the Court.

THE COURT: Sustained; stricken.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: When your brother was in this condition, did he come over and talk to you at all.

A. Yes.

Q. And when he did, did you observe anything.

A. Yes, I saw --

Q. Tell us what you observed.

A. I saw into his -- well, I saw the brim of his 7-Up can. 7-Up’s clear, and I saw red around the 7-Up can. It was like -- it wasn’t really dark red, but it was like light red. It was --

Q. Did he say anything -- don’t tell me what he said. Did he say anything to you at that time.

A. No, he was just, like, saying weird stuff. It didn’t make sense.

Q. Now, that evening, was Mr. Jackson present in the -- in the main room of the -- of the room there where Mr. Jackson’s rooms were. Was he present.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Do you remember that evening whether you were going to watch something on T.V..

A. Oh, yeah. The “Living with Michael Jackson” was coming on.

Q. How do you know that.

A. We knew that day that that was for -- that was the first day it was going to be aired. And Michael said for none of the T.V.’s to be on.

Q. I couldn’t hear you.

A. Michael said for none of the T.V.’s to be on.

Q. Were you present when he said that.

A. No, it was just whenever we tried to turn on T.V., they were just turned off.

Q. Who turned them off.

A. Well, anybody, really. What do you mean. Like --

Q. Who turned the T.V.’s off when you turned them on.

A. There was one time I was sitting in the bedroom, and I was watching another -- it was like another special, or it was like an old one. And he walked in and he told me not to watch that, and he turned it off.

Q. Who.

A. Michael.

Q. The defendant.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, about the program that night, did you hear Mr. Jackson say anything about whether people could watch it or not watch it at their choice.

A. No.

Q. Now, the people that you said that you were introduced to by the name of Dieter and Ronald --

A. Yes.

Q. -- did you see them that day.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you see them with Mr. Jackson that day.

A. Yes.

Q. Can you tell us what you saw them doing.
A. Walking around.
Q. Where.
A. They walked into the bedroom.
Q. And do you recall how long they were in there.
A. No.
Q. Can you give me an approximate of how long you think they were in there.

A. 20 minutes.
Q. Were they in there on more than one occasion, that you saw personally.
A. No. Well, I only saw them once.
Q. You just saw the one occasion.
A. Yeah, I was somewhere else.
Q. You said you were somewhere else. Where was the “somewhere else” that you were.
A. With Prince and Paris and with Marie Nicole and Aldo.
Q. And where was that in this complex.
A. Kitchen, the living room, the other bedroom that was right next to this hotel room or resort room.
THE COURT: Let’s take our break.
(Recess taken.)
THE COURT: All right. Go ahead.
MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q. Okay. Star, we’re -- I’d like to go back to the point where we were in Miami at the Turnberry. Okay.
A. Okay.
Q. And ask you a few more questions about some things that happened that evening. Okay.
A. Okay.
Q. Now, at any time that evening, did you see your mother leave Mr. Jackson’s rooms.

A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember about what time that was.

A. It was probably nighttime.
Q. And do you know where she went.
A. She went back to the room.
Q. And when your mother left, did you see something happen.
A. Um, I don’t know who it was, but they sent someone to go get my mom.
Q. Did you see that.
A. No.
Q. No, I meant, did you see them send somebody.
A. Yes.
Q. And then did you see your mom come back.
A. Yes.
Q. And was she alone or with somebody.
A. She was with someone.
Q. The same person who left.
A. Yes.
Q. When you were in Miami, did you personally ever participate in a press conference.
A. No. No.
Q. To your knowledge, did your brother ever participate in a press conference.
A. No.
Q. Actually, I think we all liked it the better way where you could be heard. Could you lean a little closer.

A. Okay.
Q. That’s perfect. You’ll save everybody a lot of problems if you just speak like that.
On the time that you’re in Miami at the Turnberry, did you ever drink any alcohol on that time.
A. No.
Q. Do you remember the day that you left Miami.
A. No.
Q. I mean, do you remember anything that happened that day. Do you remember getting on the plane.
A. Yeah.
Q. All right. What time was it when you got to the plane. Was it daylight or dark, or what.

A. It was turning into night.

Q. And that particular day, during that day, do you remember anything that happened.

A. That day. I think that was the day that Michael gave my brother a watch.

Q. Do you remember anything else that happened that day besides that.

A. Going home.

Q. Did you see Chris Tucker that day.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you see him.

A. Michael's room.

Q. On the day you left.

A. Oh, the day we left. No. Chris took me, my brother to the resort massage area, or where -- I don't know what it's called.

Q. Okay. When he took you there, what happened.

A. He -- we got massages.

Q. Did you ever have a massage before.

A. No.

Q. Pardon.

A. No.

Q. How did you get from the hotel to the airport.

A. By a shuttle.

Q. And who was with you.

A. Michael, me and my brother, my sister, my mom, Grace, Prince and Paris, Marie Nicole, Aldo. Everyone that was there. And a guy named Dr. Farshshian, I think. I think that's how you pronounce his name.

Q. Now, did -- did you get on the plane.

A. Yes.

Q. Did all of those folks get on the plane.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, I want to go back in point of time to ask you one other question about Miami, before we start talking about the plane trip. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that at some point on one evening, you saw your brother acting kind of weird and saying some things that didn’t make sense.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you notice anything about your brother the next morning.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Were you in the room the next morning when your brother -- when you woke up, was your brother in the room.

A. I think so.

Q. Did your brother have any problems the next morning.

A. He didn’t feel good. He had a headache.

Q. Anything else.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: He was -- he had a headache. He felt like he was going to throw up. Just didn’t feel good.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Your Honor, at this point, if we could use the lights again, I’m going to show the witness some photographs. Counsel.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. I’m going to show you some photographs. I’m going to lay them in front of you - they’re all in evidence - and I’m going to go through them one by one with you. All right. Do you recognize the photograph that’s marked as People’s No. 17 in evidence.

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that.

A. It’s Dieter.

Q. And where was it that you met Dieter for the first time.

A. In Miami.

Q. And where in Miami.

A. In Michael’s room.

Q. All right. And put that one down. Pick up the next one, People’s 18 in evidence. Do you recognize that person.

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that.

A. Ronald.

Q. And where did you meet Ronald for the first time.

A. Michael’s room.

Q. And where in Michael’s -- were you in Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Put that one down. The next photograph, which is People’s 21, who is that.

A. That’s Aldo.

Q. Where was it the first time you met the person you know as Aldo.

A. In Miami.

Q. Does Aldo have a nickname.

A. Yes, it’s Baby Rubba.

Q. Okay. Where did you meet him in Miami.

A. In Michael’s bedroom.

Q. All right. 22, People’s 22 in evidence, who’s that.

A. Marie Nicole.

Q. And where did you meet her for the first time.

A. In Michael’s room.

Q. Would that have been in Miami also.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Put that one down. The next one is People’s 43. Do you recognize the person in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that.

A. It’s Grace. Prince and Paris’s nanny.

Q. Okay. You can put that one down. And the next one is People’s 14. Do you recognize that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Who's that.

A. That's Dustin, Chris Tucker, Aja, my sister, me and my brother.

Q. Okay. Why don't you use that little light and just show us which one is Dustin. That's the little child, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, I have an exhibit that I've had marked as People's 341 for identification purposes at this point.

I'm going to show it to you and ask you to look at it.

Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And what is that.

A. It's the airplane.

Q. What airplane.

A. That we flew back from Miami.

Q. Does that appear to be the interior of that airplane.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I move that 341 come into evidence.

We used it -- Your Honor, I might indicate to the Court, we used it to illustrate the various locations of the individuals as they were seated on the plane to this witness's knowledge.

THE COURT: All right. It's admitted.

MR. SNEDDON: All right.

Q. Star, would you put that down in front of you, please, and take those other photographs and stick them up on top for me. Thank you very much.

Now, I'm going to hand you this, and I'm going to give you this pen.

Actually, I changed my mind. I'm going to give you this pen.

Your Honor, with the Court's permission, I'm going to use the Elmo.

THE COURT: All right.

THE BAILIFF: You need to push "Elmo" on the little --

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Star, turning around and looking at the exhibit that's on the board - okay. - do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. That's just like the one in front of you, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Would you show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where the defendant, Michael Jackson, was sitting on the plane.

Okay. Now, would you please, on your exhibit in front of you, the one that's in front of you, put an "MJ."

Now, where was your brother on the plane.

Okay. You're indicating the bottom of the diagram in the seat next to Mr. Jackson, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Would you put a "G" at that location.

A. It's not working.

Q. The pen's not working.

A. No.

MR. SNEDDON: That's all the county can afford, though.

Q. Try that one. Is that working.

A. Yes.

Q. And that's red instead of blue.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Stick with that.

Where were you sitting on the plane.

A. Right here.

Q. All right. Would you put your -- put an "S" in there for -- and by "here," you mean to the far right side of the diagram in the white seat across from the blue couch.

A. Yes.

Q. And where was Aldo and Marie Nicole sitting, to your knowledge.

A. Aldo was sitting right here. And Marie Nicole was sitting right here.

Q. On each side of the area that's in blue, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Would you put "A" for where Aldo is seated. And just put an "MN" for Marie Nicole on the Exhibit 341.

Now, where is -- where's your mother; do you recall.

A. She was sitting right there.

Q. So it's the -- on the lower half of the diagram, it's the seat up toward the left side, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Why don't you put a "JA" in there.

And then you mentioned a person by the name -- a doctor.

A. Yes.

Q. Doctor what.

A. Dr. Farshshian.

Q. Where was he seated.

A. Right there.

Q. Why don't you just put a "DR" in there. And that's the seat right across from where your mother was; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, who else was on the plane.

A. Prince, Paris, my sister, a lady named Patty, and Grace.

Q. Where was Patty.

All right. Why don't you just put a "P" in there.

And then the lady you've identified as Grace, the nanny, where was she.

Okay. Why don't you put a "GR" in there. And by that, you're referring to the top part of the plane, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, where was your sister Davellin.

A. She was right there.

Q. Okay. Why don't you put a "DA" there.

A. The pen is starting to run out. Wait. There it goes. Never mind.

MR. ZONEN: It's just the surface.

MR. SNEDDON: The surface. All right.

Q. Did it work.

A. Yeah, it's working now.

Q. And next to Davellin was who.

A. Paris.

Q. Who.

A. Paris.

Q. All right. Just put a "PA" in there, if you would.

Now, during the time that you were on the plane, after you left Miami, did you ever get up and move to any other location on the plane.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you move to.

All right. You're indicating in the blue area.

A. Yes.

Q. And the seat the farthest to the left of the blue area.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was in that seat when you took off.

A. Aldo.

Q. All right. So would you please put "S-1" in there.

A. The pen's not working anymore.

Q. Just try it. I think it's the surface, not the pen.

A. Okay.

Q. Did it work.

A. No. But --

THE BAILIFF: Here. Mr. Sneddon.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Let’s try this one.
A. It’s working.
MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.
THE BAILIFF: Uh-huh.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Now, was there a telephone on the plane.
A. Yes.
Q. Where.
All right. On your exhibit, put a “TF.”
A. “TF”.
Q. “TF,” where the telephone was.
Now, at any time when you were on the plane, did you see your brother and Mr. Jackson drinking anything.

A. Yes.
Q. What did you see.
A. I saw Michael with a Diet Coke can, and my brother with a Sprite can.
Q. With a -- what kind.
A. A -- I don’t know exactly what brand it is, but it was a soda can.
Q. Now, were you ever offered to drink out of either one of those cans.
A. Yes.
Q. By whom.
A. By Michael.
Q. And what did he say to you.
A. He leaned over and he handed it to me. I thought it was Diet Coke so -- I didn’t want to be rude, so I took a drink, and it tasted like the smell of, like, rubbing alcohol. It tasted really -- so I handed it back to him. And I asked him what it was, and then he said it was wine.
Q. Did you drink any more out of that can during this trip.
A. No.
Q. Did -- tell me what you saw your brother and Mr. Jackson doing during the trip.
A. I saw my brother -- after a while he didn’t feel too good. So my brother leaned over on his -- on Michael’s chest and he -- I saw Michael’s head licking my brother’s -- the top of his head.

Q. What do you mean.
A. He was just licking his head.
Q. How long did that last.
A. I don’t know. Six seconds probably.
Q. Did you notice any change in the behavior of Mr. Jackson during the flight.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: Really weird.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: What do you mean, “really weird”.
A. Like, just didn’t make sense.
Q. Who.
A. Michael. And my brother.
Q. That telephone that’s on the plane, did you ever see the telephone used during the trip.
A. Yes.
Q. By whom.
A. By Michael.
Q. And what did you see happen. Or did you hear anything, also.
A. He made a crank call.
Q. I’m sorry.
A. He made a crank call.
Q. What do you mean, “a crank call”.
A. He called someone and he --
Q. You have to lean into the phone there, lean into the microphone, if you would.

What is a crank call, to you.
A. To me.
Q. What does it mean.
A. Oh. Just when you call someone and hang up on them.
Q. All right.
A. That’s what it means to me.
But what I saw Michael doing, was he called up and he said he was having a consensus, and he wanted to know how big her p-u-s-s-y was. And that’s what he said to her.

Q. How many such calls did you hear him make.

A. Two, on the plane.

Q. Did your brother make any calls.

A. I don’t remember. He probably did.

Q. Did you make any calls.

A. No.

Q. Now, you mentioned something about a watch. When was the first time that you saw your brother Gavin with a watch.

A. It was at the end of the flight, and I saw it on his wrist.

Q. Now, did your brother ordinarily have a watch.

A. No, he never wears a watch.

Q. The first time you saw it was when you got off the plane.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you see it at all on the plane.

A. No.

Q. Where were you when you saw the watch for the first time.

A. We were leaving. We were getting off the plane.

Q. Now, did you see Mr. Jackson at any point in time wearing a jacket.

A. Oh, yeah. That was at the -- Miami. When he first opened the door, he had a black jacket with a bunch of shiny stuff on his back.

Q. When your brother got off the plane --

A. He had that on also.

Q. Now, when the plane landed, can you tell us….

Your Honor, I think we can put the lights back on, if the Court would like, and we can take this item off.

Okay. Star --

A. Yes.

Q. -- just -- we don’t need -- let me grab the diagrams.

Oh, would you write your name on the bottom of that diagram, please. “The diagram” meaning 341.

A. I’ll have to carve it in, because it doesn’t appear. There you go.

Q. All right. When you got back -- when -- excuse me. When the plane landed, did you know where you were.

A. We were at a private airport in Santa Barbara.

Q. And when you got off the plane, where did you go. I mean, what -- physically, where did you go.

A. We were heading for the ranch.

Q. And how did you get to the ranch.

A. By a stretch white Excursion limousine.

Q. Do you remember about how long it took to get from the airport to the ranch.

A. 30 minutes.

Q. And when you got to the ranch, was it daytime or nighttime.

A. Nighttime.

Q. And when you got to the ranch, what did you do.

A. We all went to sleep. And me, Aldo, my brother, we went to Michael’s room and --

Q. You’re going to have to lean into the microphone. I can’t even hear you.

A. Me, Aldo, my brother, we all went to bed. We all went to sleep in Michael’s bed.

Q. Where was the defendant, Mr. Jackson.

A. There also.

Q. Where did he sleep.

A. In the bed with us.

Q. Now, did you see -- when you got to the ranch, did you see where your mother went.

A. No.

Q. Pardon.

A. No.

Q. Did you see where your sister went.

A. No.

Q. Now, I want to jump forward just a moment, Star. Are you familiar with a person by the name of Jesus.

A. Yes.

Q. And to your knowledge, who was Jesus.

A. He was part of security.

Q. And where did you meet Jesus.

A. At the ranch.

Q. And when was the first time you met Jesus.

A. After the Miami trip.

Q. And at some point in time after you got back from Miami and you were on the ranch, did you leave the ranch with Jesus.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go.

A. We went to -- I think we went to our grandmother's house.

Q. Do you remember who drove you.

A. Jesus.

Q. Do you remember what car you went in.

A. It was a Rolls Royce or something like that. It was --

Q. A fancy car.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, here's what I want to do. I want to ask you some questions, Star --

A. Okay.

Q. -- about what happened when you got back on the ranch from Miami, or you got on the ranch from Miami, to the time you left the ranch with Jesus. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Between that time period.

A. Okay.

Q. During the time that you were there, from the time you got -- that you went to the ranch from Miami and the time that you left with Jesus, was the defendant, Michael Jackson, on the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. During that time that you were on the ranch, can you tell us where you spent the nights during that period of time.

A. Michael's bedroom.

Q. With whom.

A. With Michael, my brother, Aldo.

Q. And where did you sleep.

A. On the bed.

Q. Where did your brother sleep.

A. On the bed.

Q. Where did the defendant sleep.

A. On the bed.

Q. And where did Aldo sleep.

A. On the bed.

Q. Do you remember who slept next to who.

A. It was -- depends on your point of view.

Q. Depends on the point of view.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. Who slept next to you.

A. Aldo.

Q. And who slept -- and who slept next to Aldo.

A. My brother.

Q. And who slept next to your brother.

A. Michael.

Q. Now, between the time that you got to the ranch from Miami and the time that you left with Jesus - okay. --

A. Okay.

Q. -- did you drink any alcohol.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember on how many occasions.

A. I think so.

Q. Pardon.

A. It was -- it was a lot of times.

Q. And with whom did you drink.

A. Only with Michael.

Q. I'm sorry.

A. Only with Michael.

Q. Was there anybody else present when you and

Mr. -- when the defendant were drinking alcohol.
A. Me, my brother, and Aldo.
Q. And where did you drink alcohol with Mr. Jackson during that time.
A. Bedroom. His office. And the wine cellar.
Q. Can you describe where the wine cellar is.
A. It’s in the arcade downstairs, and the jukebox thing covers the stairs.
Q. What did you drink when you drank with the defendant.
A. Red or white wine.
Q. How many times do you think you were in Mr. Jackson’s office and drank with him.
A. A couple times.
Q. And how many times do you think you drank with him in his bedroom.
A. A lot of times.
Q. And the cellar.
A. Probably twice.
Q. Do you remember what Mr. Jackson drank during these occasions.
A. Wine, with us. It was either red or white.
Q. Did Mr. Jackson have a term that he referred to in connection with the wine.
A. He called it “Jesus juice.”
Q. Would you describe to us -- now, I want to make sure we’re just talking about the time when you got there from Miami till the time that you left with Jesus. Okay.

A. Yes.
Q. All right. Did you at any time, during that period of time when you were drinking with the defendant, Mr. Jackson, see him get intoxicated.
A. Yes.
Q. How many times.
A. I don’t remember. But it was probably a couple times.
Q. During the time that you stayed at the ranch, did you learn where the location of the alcohol was on the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. Where.

A. It was in the wine cellar. And it was also -- it was just in the wine cellar.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. It was just in the wine cellar. And there’s some type of alcohol in a refrigerated area.

Q. And where is this refrigerated area located.

A. Right when you walk in through the back of the house, of the main house, there’s, like, refrigerators and glass doors. And it’s, like, back there.

Q. And did you actually see the alcohol in that area.

A. No. But I know there was some there.

Q. The wine cellar, how do you get into the wine cellar.

A. You need a key and you need to go through a door.

Q. And did you know where the key was.

A. Not really. It was in the lounge. And I know where it was. Whoever opened the wine cellar, it was like -- it was Jesus or someone else.

Q. Were you ever in the wine cellar without the defendant.

A. No.

Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that when you were on the plane, you overheard Mr. Jackson make some crank calls, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you ever present where any crank calls were made from the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. And where was that. Where did that occur.

A. Upstairs in his bedroom.

Q. And who was present.

A. Me, Aldo, my brother, and Michael.

Q. The defendant.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell us what went on.
A. Started making crank calls.
Q. Who.
A. Michael, Aldo, me and my brother.

Q. And tell us, when you made the crank calls, how did you pick the number.
A. Just dialed any number.
Q. And when people picked up the phone, what was said.
A. I don’t know. I don’t know exactly what was said.
Q. Did you ever make any of these calls.
A. I think so, yes.
Q. What happened if nobody picked up on the other end of the line.
A. Michael would have us take a drink of wine.
Q. Who would.
A. If the phone number didn’t exist, we’d have to drink a drink of wine, or he’d have us drink wine.
Q. Did you see alcohol in Mr. Jackson’s bedroom.
A. Yes.
Q. On how many occasions.
A. Many occasions. Many occasions.
Q. Where was it, usually.
A. Probably on the floor, or around the dresser somewhere.
Q. Do you remember how many particular occasions that you -- that the four of you did these crank calls. Was it on more than one night.
A. Yes.

Q. How many nights.
A. Many nights.
Q. I’m sorry.
A. Many nights.
Q. Can you give me an estimate.
A. Seven. I don’t know exactly.

Q. Were all of these occasions where -- when you placed the crank calls before you left with Jesus.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you -- during the time that you got to Neverland Ranch and the time that you left with Jesus, did you see your mother at all.

A. No.

Q. Did you see her out around the grounds at all.

A. No.

Q. Did you visit her at all.

A. A couple times.

Q. Where did you visit her.

A. In her guest room, guest unit.

Q. Now, from the time that you arrived at the ranch from Miami till the time you left with Jesus - okay. --

A. Uh-huh.

Q. I showed you a photograph of a person that you've identified as the person you knew as Dieter.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever see Dieter at the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. And the person who you identified as Ronald. Did you ever see Ronald at the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. And the person you identified as Tyson, Frank Tyson, did you ever see him at the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, during the time that you were at the ranch, when you got there until the time you two left with Jesus, did you go to school.

A. No.

Q. Did you do any homework.

A. No.

Q. What did you do.

A. Nothing. We -- nothing.

Q. What time did you ordinarily go to bed.

A. 2:00 in the morning, and 3:00. It was really late at night.

Q. Did you see -- while you were at the ranch, between the time you arrived there from Miami till the time that you left with Jesus, did you see the defendant, Mr. Jackson, with either Dieter or Ronald.

A. Yes.

Q. On how many occasions.

A. Probably saw him about three occasions.

Q. And were both Dieter and Ronald with Mr. Jackson, or was it just one of them.

A. I think it was both of them.

Q. Do you recall where you saw them.

A. In his bedroom, in a guest unit, and in his office.

Q. Now, did you ever have any -- during the same time frame - okay. - did you have any contact with Dieter.

A. No. I don’t think so.

Q. Did the subject matter of your brother’s watch ever come up during this time.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the jury what happened in that regard.

A. He pulled us into a guest unit.

Q. Who’s “he”.

A. Dieter.

Q. Okay.

A. And he said that he wanted to take the --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, it’s offered as -- under 2 -- 1223.

THE COURT: All right. I’ll admit it conditionally, as I have other hearsay statements.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead.

A. Okay. So he said that he wanted to take back the watch and put it in a safe, so when he turns 18 he could take it out.

Q. And were you present -- what did your brother say.

A. He said, “No.”

Q. Were you able to see the relationship between your mother and Dieter and Ronald.

A. What do you mean.

Q. Did you see any interaction between them, between your mother and Dieter and Ronald.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. Did you -- during this period of time, from the time you arrived from Miami until the time that you left with Jesus, did the subject matter of you participating in a video interview come up.

A. They wanted -- they wanted us to only say good things about Michael.

Q. Who’s that.

A. Dieter was telling me and my -- my mom, my brother, my sister and me, they only wanted us to say good things about Michael.

Q. Did you ever see anything written down.

A. Yes.

Q. Where. Where were you when you saw that.

A. I was in the guest unit.

Q. And who was present.

A. Dieter, me and my mom and my brother, my sister.

Q. Now, do you remember -- do you remember leaving with Jesus.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And tell the jury what time you left and under what circumstances.

A. It was really late at night. It was really late at night, and it was spontaneous. He just -- he pulled around the car and we left.

Q. Now, where were all your clothes prior to leaving.

A. In the room.

Q. What room.

A. Guest unit.

Q. Your clothes were in the guest unit.

A. Yes.

Q. So you gathered up your belongings, you got in the car and you left. Where did you go.

A. To my grandma’s house.

Q. Now, at the time that you were at the ranch before you left with Jesus, were you -- did you personally -- not what somebody else said, but did you personally hear anybody threaten anyone.

A. When I was trying to head to my -- when I was trying to head to my mom’s guest unit, Frank approached me, and he was -- he was -- I don’t remember what I was trying to do, but I was trying to go to my mom’s guest unit, and Frank was telling me that he has ways that my grand --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: Same offer, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. This is conditionally admitted under the previous instruction.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead. You can tell us, please.

A. He was saying that he has ways that my grandparents could disappear.

Q. And that was told to you personally.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you tell that to anybody else.

A. No.

Q. Now, did you ever go back to the ranch after that.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So I want to talk about now, I want to talk about some events that occurred from the time that you left the ranch with Jesus till the time you went back.

A. Okay.

Q. Okay. Do you -- where did you spend that time.

A. At my grandma’s house.

Q. Were you ever over at Jay Jackson’s house.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Do you remember an occasion where a private investigator came to Mr. Jackson’s house and there was an interview with you and the family.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled. The answer was, “Yes.” Next question.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Can you tell us when you believe that to have occurred.
A. Oh, it was probably a couple days after we came back from the ranch the first time.
Q. And were you present during that conversation.
A. Yes.
Q. And did you participate in that conversation.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, you said -- I believe you just said you went back to the ranch.
A. No, when we came back from the ranch.
Q. When you came back from the ranch. Did you ever go back to the ranch.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember who you were with when you went back to the ranch.
A. No, I don’t remember.
Q. You went back by yourself.
A. No, I went back with my -- my brother, my sister and -- I don’t think -- I don’t know. I think it was --
Q. I’m sorry, you’re going to have to lean into the mike.
A. I think it was my brother, my sister, me and my mom.

Q. Do you remember what time it was when you got back to the ranch.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Was it daytime or nighttime.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Did anything unusual happen when you got back to the ranch.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. The people you’ve identified as Dieter and

Ronald --

A. Yes.

Q. -- do you remember whether or not they were at the ranch when you got back.

A. Yes, they were there.

Q. When you got back to the ranch, where did you go that night. Where did you sleep that night.

A. Michael's room.

Q. All right. And who else was there.

A. My brother, Michael. I don't -- Aldo.

Q. Pardon.

A. Aldo.

Q. Now, you -- you left the ranch again, correct. Do you remember the next time you left the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. What was the reason you left.

A. To do a rebuttal.

Q. And who did you leave with.

A. Hamid.

Q. And do you know where you went.

A. We went to his house.

Q. By "his house," you mean who.

A. Hamid's house.

Q. And who else was with you in the car besides you and Hamid.

A. My brother and my sister.

Q. When you got to Hamid's house, what did you do.

A. Me and my brother, we sat down, we started playing video games.

Q. Was there anybody else there at the time that you arrived besides you and your brother and your sister and Hamid.

A. No.

Q. Did anybody else arrive after that.

A. Yes.

Q. Who arrived after that.

A. Vinnie, my mom, other people.

Q. Do you remember the names of any of those people.

A. No.
Q. Do you remember how many there were.
A. A lot.
Q. Now, you said you and your brother were playing video games. What room were you in.
A. The living room.

Q. And do you recall the filming -- the actual filming that occurred later. Was it in that room or a different room.
A. It was in that room.
Q. And when your mother arrived, where was your mother. Was she in that room or another room.
A. She was -- she was in another room.
Q. With you.
A. What do you mean. Like --
Q. I couldn’t hear you.
A. At what time.
Q. When she first got there, where was she.
A. She was where the pool table was.
Q. Is that in the living room or another room.
A. That’s another room.
Q. And so she was in there. How long was she in there.
A. I don’t know.
Q. You weren’t in there, right.
A. No.
Q. Now, before you left the ranch -- before you left the ranch with Hamid to go to his house - okay. - could you tell me whether or not Dieter or Ronald were there.
A. They were there.
Q. Can you tell me whether or not you had any meeting with -- or conversation with them.
A. Yes, we had a conversation with them.

Q. And what did -- let’s talk about Dieter. Who was doing the talking.
A. Dieter.
Q. What did he say.

A. He was telling me just to say only good things and -- about Michael.
Q. Who else was present during that conversation.
A. My brother, my sister, my mom.
Q. Okay. You’re at Hamid’s house and you’re about ready to -- for the filming. Do you remember what time it was when you got to Hamid’s.
A. 1:00 in the morning, when we first got there.
Q. And do you remember the filming.
A. Yes.
Q. Were you in the whole film.
A. I think so.
Q. Now, the things that you said on the film, the rebuttal film - okay.
A. Okay.
Q. You have to indicate “Yes” or “No.”
A. Oh, yes.
Q. There’s a statement in there that the defendant, Mr. Jackson, helped you do your homework. Was that true.
A. No.
Q. And there’s a statement in there that you always had his telephone number so you could get ahold of him. Is that true.

A. No.
Q. How did you feel about Mr. Jackson at the time you participated in this rebuttal film.
A. I don’t remember. Probably at that point I thought he was an okay guy.
Q. Now, after the film, do you remember about what time it was when you left.
A. 3:00 in the morning.
Q. Where did you go.
A. To Major Jackson’s house. Jay Jackson’s.
Q. Who took you there.
A. Vinnie.
Q. And who was with you when you went there.
A. Me, my brother, my sister and my mom.
Q. Do you remember meeting some ladies from the -- social workers.

A. Yes.
Q. And when did that happen.
A. The next morning.
Q. And where did it happen.
A. At the apartment.
Q. At whose apartment.
A. Jay’s apartment.
Q. And do you remember about what time it was when that happened.
A. Probably 10:00 a.m.

Q. And who -- that morning, were there other people there besides the social workers.
A. My mom.
Q. Who else.
A. My brother, my sister and me.
Q. Anybody else.
A. Well, in the beginning of the morning, there was a, like, bodyguard sent by Michael or something. And he had a tape-recorder. And Aja was there also.
Q. And Aja is Chris Tucker’s fiancee --
A. Yes.
Q. -- at the time.
A. Yes.
Q. Had you ever met this bodyguard before.
A. No.
Q. Do you remember what his name was at all.
A. No.
Q. Would you describe him for us, please.
A. Big.
Q. You say he had a tape-recorder. How do you know that.
A. He had it in his -- I believe it was his left hand.
Q. Did you ever see him talk to your mother.
A. He said that someone wanted her to have this, or something.
Q. Were you present when that occurred.
A. Yes.

Q. You heard him say that.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you hear what your mother said.

A. No. I don’t remember what my mom said. But the -- but the three ladies said that she can’t have that, and they both need to wait downstairs.

Q. They both had to wait downstairs. Who are “they”.

A. Aja and the guy.

Q. Did they leave the room --

A. Yes.

Q. -- at some point.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever see the tape-recorder after that.

A. No. I never saw him after that.

Q. And then you had an interview with the ladies from -- the three social workers.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you had the interview with the social workers, was everybody in the same room or did they take people separately.

A. Everyone was in the same room.

Q. And do you remember any conversations with the social workers about what you said to them.

A. Not really. I don’t remember what I exactly said.

Q. Do you remember the topics that were covered by the questions.

A. I think everyone was wondering whether -- no, I don’t remember.

Q. Well, take your time.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Was everything you told them the truth.

A. No, not exactly.

Q. What do you mean, “not exactly”.

A. Like -- I don’t know. Just, like, he never -- he never really helped us with our homework. He -- can’t think of another example.

Q. During the time -- during the entire time that you were at Neverland Ranch, from the time you got there from Miami till the time you left for the very last time - okay. - from that time period, did you ever see your mother in Michael Jackson’s bedroom.

A. No. She never left her guest unit.

Q. So how did she eat.

A. I don’t know. There’s a couple times I brought her some food I made her, but --

Q. Did you ever tell your mom the code to get into Michael Jackson’s bedroom.

A. No. She never asked.

Q. To your knowledge, did you ever see your sister Davellin sleep in that main residence/house.

A. No.

Q. To your knowledge, did your sister Davellin ever have a friend of hers that went to school with her up at the ranch during this period of time.

A. Never.

Q. Now, during the time that you knew Mr. Jackson, did he used to call you “Star”.

A. No. No.

Q. What did he call you.

A. “Blow Hole.”

Q. “Blow Hole”.

A. Yes.

Q. And when he talked to Gavin, did he call Gavin “Gavin”.

A. Yes, he called him “Apple Head” or “Doo-Doo.”

Q. And did you have a name that you called the defendant.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever -- anybody refer to him as “Michael” or “Michael Daddy,” or “Daddy”.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: My brother called him “Daddy.”

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did you hear him do that on more than one occasion.

A. Yes.

Q. How many.

A. I know it was more than twice.

Q. Now, after the -- excuse me. After you had the interview with the social workers - okay. --

A. Okay.

Q. -- where did you go.

A. Me, me brother, my sister went with Aja back to the ranch.

Q. And your mother.

A. I think she stood behind.

Q. Okay. Now, I would like to show you a few more photographs at this point, if we could.

All right. I’m going to start with a couple of photographs that are already in evidence. And I’m going to show you a photograph marked as People’s No. 30. And tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury who that is.

A. That’s Jesus.

Q. And -- let me just leave these here, and I’ll go get them and ask you some questions.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Can we switch to the PC, Your Honor. Thank you.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. So the person -- that’s the person that took you to your grandparents’ place.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, let’s look at the next one, No. 29. Who is that.

A. That’s Hamid.

Q. Do you remember where it was that you met Hamid for the very first time.

A. Can’t remember.

Q. All right. Why don’t you turn that over, then.

And the next one is 193. Is that the number on it.

A. It’s 194.

Q. 194. All right. What is that.

A. That’s not the picture I’m looking at.
Q. I’m sorry.
A. 194.
Q. What about it.
A. That’s not the picture.
Q. What’s the number.
A. That one, that’s it.
Q. That’s 194.
A. Okay.
Q. Okay. What is that.
A. This is Hamid’s living room and this is where we did the videotaping.
Q. All right. You were in here playing video games.
A. Yes.
Q. Where.
A. Right there. Right there.
Q. Were you playing it on the T.V..
A. Yes.
Q. So the T.V. that’s located on the far left-hand corner of that exhibit, correct.

A. Yes.
Q. 194.
Now, where is the area where the filming was done.
A. All in this area.
Q. You’re indicating where the glass doors are and the farthest of the two rugs.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, is -- all right. Let’s go to the last photograph. Before -- it’s already on the board.
Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. What number is that.
A. 193.
Q. And 193, is that an accurate depiction of the pool table room.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, 193 is not in evidence. Ask that it be admitted.
MR. MESEREAU: No objection.

THE COURT: It’s admitted.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: And where is the -- where is the -- can you see in that photograph the room where the video took place.
A. Yes.
Q. And “that photograph” being 193.
A. Yes.
Q. Would you show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury.

So it’s through the opening there where the rug is shown on the far left-hand side, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. All right.
MR. SNEDDON: Counsel. I just have a few more.
(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, could we black out the screen for just a moment.
Thank you.
(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to hand you those.
All right. Would you please pull up the photograph up there that has the number “125” on it.
Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. Tell me what it is.
A. That’s the hotel that we stood at while we were getting our passports and visas.
MR. SNEDDON: Judge, could we go to “Input 1”.
Thank you.

Q. And who were you there with.
A. Frank, Vinnie, and a guy named Johnny. And my mom, my brother and my sister.

Q. And who was in the room with you.

A. My mom, my brother and my sister.

Q. And the guy Johnny, where was he.

A. He was in the lobby.

Q. Do you know approximately how long you stayed at this place, the Country Inn and Suites.

A. Four days, something like that.

Q. All right. Let’s see the next photograph, which should be --

A. 135.

Q. -- 135. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. What is that.

A. That’s the hotel’s kitchen. Well, that’s the room that we stood in. And that’s the kitchen.

Q. Okay. And then the next photograph, which is No. 19 that’s in evidence, do you recognize the person in that photograph.

A. That’s Vinnie.

Q. Do you remember where it was that you met Vinnie for the first time.

A. It was at the taping at Hamid’s house.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I think we can go back to the regular lights, Your Honor.

Q. Now, you’ve told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that you were at the Calabasas Inn for a number of days.

A. Yes.

Q. What did you do there. Tell me what -- some of the things you did.

A. We got our passports and visas.

Q. Did -- you say “we.” Who’s “we”.

A. My brother, my sister and my mom.

Q. Did you do that -- were you alone when you did that or did somebody go with you.

A. Frank and Vinnie were with us.

Q. Do you remember where you went to get the passports.

A. I think it’s -- I don’t remember where the building was. But I remember where we got a pass -- our pictures.

Q. Where did you get your pictures taken.
A. At a Walgreen's.
Q. Did -- were you with -- did you go to get a visa.
A. Yes.
Q. And who went with you.
A. Frank and Vinnie.
Q. And anybody else.
A. My mom, my brother and my sister and me.
Q. While you were at the Calabasas Inn there, did you go shopping.
A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go shopping.
A. We went to some outlets. We shopped at a Levis store, Club Banana store, and we shopped for luggage.
Q. Did you know why you were shopping.
A. Because we were going to go to Brazil.
Q. And who told you you were going to go to Brazil.
A. I think it was Frank. Because he wanted us to -- he wanted it to be educational or something.
Q. Is that what he said.
A. Yeah, that's what he was telling us.
Q. Did Frank say anything to you whether or not the defendant, Michael Jackson, was going to go to Brazil with you.
A. He said about four weeks after we were there, then Michael was going to come.
Q. So it was going to be a long trip.
A. Yeah.
Q. Do you remember anything else about the time that you stayed in Calabasas. Did you ever go to the swimming pool.
A. No.
Q. Why.
A. We never had time to. Well, we never went to the swimming pool.
Q. Did you -- during the time you were there, do you know where Frank and Vinnie were staying.

A. Yes.
Q. Where.
A. Down the hall from us.
Q. How do you know that.
A. Because we saw them.
Q. Tell us how that happened.
A. When we were -- when he set us up in our room, we saw him walk back to his room.
Q. Did you ever see them on any other occasions when they were in their room, or when you walked past their room.
A. What. I don’t -- no.
Q. Okay. So when you came back -- so after you were at Calabasas, where did you go after all that was done, the things you’ve described.
A. We went back to the ranch.
Q. And who took you back to the ranch.
A. Frank.
Q. Now, at any time while you were at the ranch, after you got back from this trip where you were at -- not “trip,” but stay at Calabasas, okay. Are you with me.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did the subject of monitoring telephones ever come up.
A. Monitoring telephones.
Q. Telephone calls, yeah.
A. There’s a way that we could listen in to 1124 people’s calls.

Q. How did you know that.
A. Michael showed us. Showed us.
Q. When did he show you that.
A. I think it was after the Calabasas that we stood at.
Q. Were you present when he did that.
A. Yes.
Q. Tell us about it.
A. You just push “speaker” and “mute” -- I don’t know, you just -- he showed us one day. And we were listening to the guards’ conversation.

Q. With who.
A. I think he was talking to another guard, or somebody. He was talking to somebody. But I don’t remember.
Q. How many occasions did you see that happen, with Mr. Jackson.
A. Two occasions.
MR. SNEDDON: May I have one moment, Your Honor.
(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Now, tell us, where were these phones located in Mr. Jackson’s room.
A. The master phone.
Q. The one that you’ve told us about.

A. Oh. It’s located near the piano. On the dresser near the piano.
Q. Now, you told us earlier that there was a phone -- the time when you made crank calls --
A. Yes.
Q. -- where was that phone.
A. The phone upstairs.
Q. Upstairs where.
A. In his bedroom.
Q. So these are different phones.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, how did it work that you could overhear somebody’s conversation.
A. You push the “speaker” button, you push “mute,” and then you pushed on the green light.
Q. How did you learn that.
A. From Michael.
Q. Which of the two phones was it that you could monitor conversations on.
A. The one downstairs.
Q. All right. Now, are you familiar with a movie called “The Devil’s Backbone”.
A. Yes.

Q. All right. Where was it the first time you saw that movie.

A. Upstairs.

Q. Upstairs where.

A. In his bedroom.

Q. Whose bedroom.

A. Michael's bedroom.

Q. And how many times have you seen that movie.

A. Three times.

Q. And where did you see it the other two times.

A. In his bedroom.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson ever say anything to you about that movie.

A. There was one time, Frank was walking up, and there was a girl on the movie -- or a movie, and he just kept on saying "clitoris."

Q. Who did.

A. Michael.

Q. Do you know what that means.

A. No.

Q. Do you know what it means now.

A. No.

Q. Do you know what it meant then.

A. No.

Q. Now, was there -- after you got back from Calabasas - okay. --

A. Okay.

Q. -- was there ever an occasion where anything else unusual happened between you and your brother and the defendant, Michael Jackson.

A. Do you mean after staying at Cal -- what was it. What was the question.

Q. Yeah. Anything else unusual that you saw about the defendant, Michael Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Pardon.

A. I don't know.

Q. Do you ever recall an occasion where he walked into the room and you and your brother were on a bed.

A. Oh.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Just -- do you recall that occasion, when you were sitting on the bed, and he walked into the room.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what you saw.

A. Me and my brother were watching a movie, and Michael walked up naked. And he walked to the corner of the room, picked up something. Me and my brother were grossed out. And he sat on the bed and he told us it was natural, and then he walked back downstairs.

Q. Did either you or your brother say anything to him. Let me break it up, because I don’t want to get a compound problem here.

Did you say anything to him when he walked in.

A. I was just grossed out.

Q. No, but did you say anything to him.

A. No.

Q. Did brother say anything to him in your presence.

A. No.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: The answer was.

A. “No.”

Q. How long was it that Mr. Jackson was in the room with you and your brother naked.

A. Probably about two minutes.

Q. Did you see anything else about Mr. Jackson at that time.

A. No.

Q. When you say he was naked, what was he wearing, if anything.

A. Nothing.
Q. Totally naked.
A. Yes.
Q. So you could see his private parts.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you see anything about his private parts, one way or the other.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: What.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I asked you if you saw his private parts.
A. Yes.
Q. Anything unusual about his private parts.
A. Oh, he had a hard-on.
Q. That’s what you call it.
A. Well, that’s what Dr. Katz called it, so --
Q. What do you call it.
A. Erection.
Q. Either way, that’s what you saw.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: All right. I think we can get this in before the break, Your Honor, or at least part of it.
Q. I’m going to show you a series of photographs and ask you --
A. Okay.
Q. -- ask you to see if you can identify these photographs.
Okay. Now, I’m going to ask you questions about each one of these. All right.
A. Okay.
Q. But I’m just going to ask you questions to lay the foundation that they’re accurate, and then we’ll discuss what they are later. All right.
A. All right.
Q. So, make sure you don’t tell us what’s in the photograph until I’ve properly authenticated it.

All right.

A. Okay.

Q. Thanks, Star.

Let's start with the photograph that's marked as People's 91 for identification purposes. Do you recognize what's depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that -- is the -- are the items that are depicted in that photograph an accurate depiction as you know them to be.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Why don't you turn that one over. And we're going to have to do this through all of them, okay.

The next one's 93, I believe.

A. Yes.

Q. With regard to 93, is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.

A. Yes.

Q. And the next one is 92; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that the right number.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And the next one is 90; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.

A. Yes.

Q. And the next one is what number. 69.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.

A. Yes.

Q. And 55, is that the next one.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction.

A. Yes.

Q. And what is the number on the next one.
A. 58.
Q. And 58, is that an accurate depiction --
A. Yes.
Q. -- of the area as you know it to be.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. And the next one is 158.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.
A. Yes.
Q. And the next one is 165.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.

A. Yes.
Q. And 71.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. 72.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Turn that one over. And 74, is that the next one.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Turn that over. Now, the next two should be 75; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. That’s already in evidence. So just turn that over for right now. And is the next one 76. Correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And that’s already in evidence, so why don’t you turn that one over. And the next one is 78.

A. 77.
Q. 77. I’m sorry. I was just checking. Do you recognize that area.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. And 78.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.
A. Yes.
Q. And 79.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.
A. Yes.
Q. And the next one, I believe, is 94, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.
A. Yes.
Q. And the next one is 97.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area.
A. Yes.
Q. And then 95.
A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area as you know it to be.
A. Yes.
Q. And 96.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the area.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Thank you.

That's the last one, correct.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, at this time I was going to propose that we show those photographs to the jury, but I see -- I believe it's close to the break time.

THE COURT: A few more minutes.

MR. SNEDDON: Do you want me to turn out the lights and get started.

All right. Fine.

I move that all those be admitted into evidence.

THE COURT: Any objection.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: They're admitted.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. We're now looking at the exhibit marked -- what -- do you have 91 in front of you.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Tell us what 91 is.

A. It's Michael's downstairs bedroom.

Q. Now, do you see anything in that photograph that is different than it was when you were there.

A. That photo wasn't there.

Q. The photo against the far wall.

A. Yes.

Q. Of the child.

A. Yes.

Q. Anything else.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Let's move to -- did we establish where this was, 91, in the house.

A. Yes.

Q. Where is it.

A. It's Michael's downstairs.

Q. Downstairs to what.

A. Bedroom.

Q. Now, let's move over to 93. Is that 93 that you have in front of you.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. 93, do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. What is that.

A. That’s the downstairs bedroom. Downstairs.

Q. Is there anything in this part of the photograph that was different from when you were there.

A. No.

Q. All right. Let’s move to 92.

All right. Do you have 92 in front of you.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that the same one that’s on the screen.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Is there anything in this photograph that’s different from the time when you were there.

A. Or, wait a minute. That isn’t right. 92.

Q. Show me what 92 is.

A. That one’s 90.

Q. All right. Let’s go back one, then. The next one.

Let me have that for just a second, Star.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. SNEDDON: It’s not in there. Okay. All right.

Q. 92, I guess we didn’t get it into the Power Point. So just do that on your own. Describe to us what 92 is.

A. It’s the downstairs of Michael’s bedroom.

Q. Okay. Anything about that photograph, 92, that’s different from when you were there.

A. Uhh --

Q. That’s a different photograph. Just tell us.

A. Right next to the T.V. there’s -- there used to be, like, a jukebox thing.

Q. And it’s not there now in that photograph.

A. No.

THE COURT: All right. Let’s take our break.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. SNEDDON: And we’re going to continue with the photographs. Thank you.

Q. All right. Would you tell us what No. 90 is.

A. It’s the downstairs of Michael’s bedroom.

Q. And is there anything different about this photograph, People’s 90, than when you saw it when you were there.

A. Should be, like, the music playing thing, juke box. Where all the boxes were. And that’s it.

Q. Could you show the ladies and gentlemen what area you’re talking about.

So it’s the area right next to the red seat with the child upside down.

A. Yes.

Q. So those boxes weren’t there then.

A. No.

Q. All right. Why don’t you turn that photograph over.

And let’s go to the next one, which should be People’s No. 69; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Do you recognize People’s 69.

A. Yes.

Q. Is 69 the same one that’s up on the board there behind you.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, tell us what 69 is.

A. It’s the downstairs room of Michael’s. And that’s the master phone, right there. Right there.

Q. And that’s the one you talked about earlier in your testimony.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And just to the left of that is a doorway entrance. Do you know what room that enters into.

A. It enters into, like, a bathtub almost.

Bathtub.

Q. All right. And is there anything different in this photograph than when you were there.

A. The extra telephone wasn’t there.

Q. What’s that.

A. The extra telephone wasn’t there.

Q. So you’re talking about the one that’s to the right.

A. Yes.

Q. You see the all-white one on the photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Let’s go to the next photograph, if we can. What is the number in front of you.

A. 55.

Q. All right. Will you tell us about 55.

A. That’s the cash register.

Q. Lean into the microphone, please.

A. That’s the cash register, and -- in Michael’s room downstairs.

Q. All right. And through the door, what leads through that room.

A. It leads to, like, the Jacuzzi tub.

Q. All right. Do you see anything in that photograph that’s different than when you were there.

A. No.

Q. Let’s go to the next photograph, if we could. And is that No. 58.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Do you recognize 58.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell us about 58.

A. That’s the inside -- that’s --

Q. Inside of what.

A. Michael’s room. Downstairs in the -- it’s the room all the way to the left, inside of it.

Q. Do you have a name for that room.

A. It’s probably a bathroom or rest room.

Q. Did anything occur in this room while you were there.

A. There’s a black suitcase.

Q. What about it.

A. It had pornography in there.

Q. In this room.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Let's put that down for just a second.

And the next number.

A. 158.

Q. All right. What's 158.

A. It's a close-up on the master telephone.

Q. Is this the telephone you were talking about.

A. Yes.

Q. Yes. And is that -- anything different in that photograph than when you were there.

A. No.

Q. All right. Let's go to the next one. And what is that.

A. It's the same thing. But different angle.

Q. Now, can you tell us -- could you just illustrate to the jury, using the laser, if you would, how it worked that somebody could overhear a conversation of another party.

First of all, how would you know somebody else is using the phone, to your knowledge.

A. A green light will light up.

Q. Where would the green light light up.

You're indicating on a row of buttons to the -- is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And then what would happen when the light would light up. What would you have to do.

A. You would have to push "Speaker," and then you'll push "Mute."

Q. Careful with that razor.

A. And then you'll push "Mute," and then you'll push on the button that's lit up.

Q. And then what.

A. And then you can listen to the conversation.

Q. All right. Okay. The next photograph.
A. 71.
Q. Yes. What is that.
A. This is downstairs, Michael’s bedroom.
Q. All right. And have you been in that room.
A. Yes.
Q. Is there anything different about that room, as you look at it now, than when you were there.
A. No.
Q. Let’s go to the next one. What number is that. 78.
A. 72.
Q. 72. Can’t read my own handwriting. Tell me about 72.
A. That’s the stairway leading up to Michael’s bed area.
Q. Anything different about that photograph.

A. No.
Q. Than when you were there.
A. No.
Q. All right. Let’s move to 74. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. What’s that.
A. That’s the stairway leading to Michael’s bedroom.
Q. Is there anything different in that photograph than when you were there.
A. Yes.
Q. What.
A. This wasn’t here.
Q. That little gate.
A. Yes.
Q. Anything else.
A. And -- that’s it.
Q. Okay. 75. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Tell us what that is.
A. This is Michael’s bed area.
Q. Now, is there anything in that photograph that’s different than when you were there.

A. No.
Q. I’m sorry. I didn’t hear you.
A. No.
Q. Okay. All right. Put that one down, then, if you would. 76.

A. Yes.
Q. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. What is that.
A. That’s Michael’s bedroom.
Q. Is there anything different in this photograph than when you were there.
A. No. Except the crib wasn’t there and the computer wasn’t there either.
Q. What are you calling a computer. So the item that’s just to the left of the crib.
A. Yes.
Q. And the crib is in the far right-hand side in the middle of the photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. Anything else.
A. No.
Q. All right. Let’s go to the next photograph, 77. All right. 77. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. Tell us what it is.
A. That’s Michael’s bedroom.
Q. All right. You’ve already told us that the crib and the computer weren’t there. Is there anything else different in this photograph that’s different than when you were there, in People’s 77.

A. All this stuff wasn’t here.
Q. What stuff. You’re talking about the items that are on the floor.
A. Yes.

Q. To the right-hand side of the photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. I see in the back, there is what appears to be some kind of a statue or a mannequin of some kind.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. Was that there when you were there.

A. Yes.

Q. Was it in that location or in another location.

A. It was in that location.

Q. Was there anything different about the mannequin when you saw it than when it's depicted in that photograph.

A. It had hair.

Q. What kind of hair.

A. Braided hair.

Q. All right. Let's go on to 78. Now, look at that. Is that 78.

A. Yes.

Q. I mean back there.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, anything else in this photograph that you haven't already told us about that was different than from when you were there.

A. There used to be a computer table right here.

Q. And what about the black part, the -- was that there.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: No.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: "No," what.

A. It wasn't there.

Q. Anything else.

A. The stuff in front of it, it wasn't there either.

Q. What stuff in front of it. Could you show the jury.

You're indicating the items at the bottom of the photograph on the floor; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, on this particular photograph, there's a screen. What appears to be a screen. Do you see that.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Do you know how that screen works.

A. It comes down.

Q. Do you know how it comes down; I mean, how you activate it to come down or go up.

A. Not really.

Q. Was that screen down the entire time you were there or was it up on some occasions.

A. It was up on some occasions.

Q. All right. Let's move on to the next photograph. And that number is.

A. 79.

Q. All right. Now, 79. Do you see anything in that photograph that's different from when you were there.

A. All this stuff wasn't here.

Q. All right. Show us.

So the -- you're indicating from -- was the chair there.

A. No.

Q. And the paintings or photos, were they there.

A. No.

Q. Those are the items at the bottom of the photograph below the screen, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that there was a computer table there.

A. Yes.

Q. Or a table of some kind.

A. Yes.

Q. Could you describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that table looked like.

A. It had drawers, and then it had an opening.
Q. Okay. How many legs did it have or --
A. Four legs.
Q. And what was on top of it.
A. A computer.
Q. What kind of a computer.
A. An old computer. It was pretty big.
Q. Sorry.
A. It was big.
Q. All right. Let's move on to the next photograph.
What's People's 94.
A. That's a toy room.
Q. Okay. Is there anything different about that than when you were there.
A. No.
Q. How about the next one. Is that 97.
A. Yes.
Q. What about 97. Anything different about that than when you were there.
A. There used to be a rocking horse.
Q. Where. Right where that pinkish item is.
A. Yes.
Q. Just below R2-D2.
A. Yes.
Q. Anything else.

A. No.
Q. Okay. The next photograph, what number is that.
A. 95.
Q. Anything different about 95.
A. No.
Q. How about 96.
A. No.
Q. All the same. Anything different.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Why don't you put that up, then.
Now, before we move on to the next area, I neglected to do something earlier.
We can turn the lights on, Your Honor.

Your Honor, I -- oh, Counsel.

Okay. I’m going to hand you an exhibit that’s part of the exhibit that’s already in evidence that’s 260, and ask if you recognize that.

A. No.

Q. Do you recognize the person in it.

A. Yes.

Q. Who’s that.

A. Me.

Q. Were you present when the information was filled out on that document.

A. No.

Q. Okay. I’m going to ask you a few questions about it in just a second.

261, do you recognize that.

A. No.

Q. Pardon.

A. No.

Q. Do you recognize the photograph of the person in that document.

A. Yes.

Q. Who’s that.

A. Me.

Q. Were you present when the information was filled out.

A. No.

Q. All right. I’ll have to ask you a few questions now.

We’re going to change over to the Elmo, Your Honor.

Now, 261 is an exhibit that’s in evidence, Star. With regard to the writing on that particular exhibit, did you place any of that on there at any time.

A. No.

Q. Underneath your photograph, which is on the left-hand side of that particular exhibit, is that your signature.

A. No.

Q. On the area -- do you have your little red thing.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. I'm going to ask you to use it.
Straight across from your photograph, all the way over on the right-hand side, there's a box. That box right there, okay. And it says "Italy" and "France." Did you ever hear anything about you going to Italy or France.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Now, let's take the next document, which is 261.
Now, the photograph, do you recognize the photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. Who is that.
A. Me.
Q. And is that your handwriting on that particular document.
A. No.
Q. Were you present when that information was filled out.
A. No.
Q. Do you know what that document is.
A. Not really.
Q. All right. Thank you.
We can turn the lights on, Your Honor.
Okay. I have another exhibit I'd like to have marked as 470 for identification purposes.
There's no edges on it.
THE CLERK: Here's another one.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. For the record, Your Honor, 470 is a clear plastic bag with the number "122980" in white on the front of it. And it's been marked 470 for identification. I've shown it to counsel.
MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me, Your Honor. Could I ask that the prosecutor and the witness be admonished to follow your order with respect to describing the contents.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to show you 470. Recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. What is it.

A. This is the suitcase that held all the pornography in it.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; move to strike.

THE COURT: It's stricken. The pre-trial order requires that you and the witness refer to adult material as "adult material," not the conclusion.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. I don't even know --

THE COURT: There are a couple words that you could use.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm not sure he would know any of those words, but I'll -- could I have a second to talk to him about it, then. I didn't know that meant to the witness, because that would be me telling him words, but -- okay. Let me just....

(Whereupon, there was an off-the-record discussion held between the witness and Mr. Sneddon.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Where was that exhibit the first time you saw it.

A. It was -- it was in the downstairs, near the bathtub that was like a Jacuzzi. It was near there.

Q. All right.

THE COURT: Just a minute, Counsel. I want to tell the jury something about our last little discussion, because I don't want to leave this up in the air like that.

The -- the reason that the witness and the attorneys are to refer to this material as "adult material" - or there's another word I used, I can't remember now - instead of "pornography," is that "pornography" really is a legal conclusion that the trier of fact is the person who decides what the nature of the material is.

So by having the witness and the attorneys refer to it in a somewhat neutral time frame, it stops any conclusions from being made that would bias the jury. That’s the whole purpose.

Go ahead, Counsel.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Who was with you when you saw that suitcase for the first time.

A. Me, my brother, Aldo, and Michael.
Q. The defendant.
A. Yes.
Q. And who -- how was it that you were actually shown that suitcase.
A. Uhh --
Q. Tell us what happened.
A. Just walked in the room and it was open. It was -- there used to be a couch right there.
Q. Yeah.
A. And -- well, it wasn’t really a couch. It was like a chair. And it was on there, and it was open.
Q. All right. And then what happened.
A. Michael just started to show us magazines.
Q. You say “show” you. Tell us what he did.
A. He handed them to us.
Q. All right. And did you look at them.
A. Yes, with him.
Q. And did you look at them one at a time or did everybody have a different one at a different time. How did it happen. Tell us what happened.
A. We all looked at them one at a time.
Q. Did anybody make any comments about anything.
A. No.
Q. Do you remember how many of them you saw.
A. A couple.

Q. How long was it that you were there going through them.
A. I don’t know. Probably ten minutes.
Q. Now, when did that take place, when you saw these for the first -- that suitcase for the first time.

A. When.
Q. Yeah.
A. I think after the Calabasas hotel.
Q. Now, I have one other exhibit that is No. 86 marked for identification purposes.
Now, I’m going to show you this in just a second, but I want to talk to you a little bit more.
Did you ever see that black suitcase that’s been marked as People’s 470 before. After that, after the time that you discussed --
A. Yes.
Q. Where.
A. It was upstairs in his bed area.
Q. Where.
A. In his -- where his bed was.
Q. And where in his bedroom.
A. Near the T.V.
Q. All right. And where were you.
A. What do you mean.
Q. Where were you in the bedroom.
A. On the bed.
Q. All right. Who was with you.

A. Aldo, my brother and Michael.
Q. And where was the suitcase located. I mean, how did -- did you ever look at the suitcase, inside of it.
A. Yes.
Q. What happened.
A. There was adult material in there.
Q. All right. But how did it get opened.
A. Michael pulled it out.
Q. All right. Tell us what he did.
A. He picked it up, sat on the bed and opened it.
Q. And then what.
A. He pulled the magazine out and started showing us.
Q. How many magazines do you think you saw that time.

A. Four. Three. I don’t know.
Q. Did you look through the entire magazines.
A. No. It was probably a section or something like that.
Q. What did you see in the magazines.
A. Nude females.
Q. What.
A. Nude females.
Q. Do you remember the names of any of the titles of the magazines that you saw.
A. “Barely Legal” and “Playboy.”

Q. Were there others that you saw besides that, or are those the only ones you saw.
A. Those are the only ones I remember.
Q. I’m going to show you a photograph marked as People’s 86 for identification purposes.
And that’s -- first of all, I’m going to move that People’s 470 be admitted into evidence, Your Honor.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.
THE COURT: We’ll take that up separately.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. People’s 86.
Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that an accurate depiction of what it represents.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. I’m going to ask you some questions about People’s 86.
And put it on the board, Your Honor. I move it be admitted into evidence.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation; and authenticity and relevance.
THE COURT: On 86.
MR. SNEDDON: Yes. I asked him and he said it accurately depicted the materials.
THE COURT: I’m not sure. I haven’t seen the --
MR. SNEDDON: In your book, it’s No. 86,

Your Honor --
THE COURT: Okay.
MR. SNEDDON: -- in your photographs.
MR. MESEREAU: Also 352, Your Honor.
THE COURT: I don’t think that’s an adequate foundation for that particular photograph, that it accurately depicts what it is. You need a further foundation.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Star, the materials that are depicted in that photograph, People’s 86, do you see those.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recognize any of those.
A. Yes.
Q. Where do you recognize them from.
A. The black suitcase.
Q. And which time.
A. The first and second time.
Q. Does that photograph represent the items that you saw with the defendant, Michael Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. In his bedroom and in his Jacuzzi, or in his bathroom.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: I move it be admitted, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. That is an adequate foundation.

Your 352 was on what basis, Counsel.
MR. MESEREAU: He didn’t identify some of what’s in that photograph, Your Honor, at all.
THE COURT: I found that the foundation is adequate now. You had a 352 objection.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes.
THE COURT: What was that.
MR. MESEREAU: Well, basically because he didn’t identify it, and because after describing what he said was there, and then looking at the photo and saying it accurately depicts it, he didn’t identify everything, I think basically it’s prejudicial and irrelevant.

THE COURT: All right. The probative value exceeds the prejudicial --
THE DEFENDANT: I can’t hear.
THE COURT: It’s admitted.
THE DEFENDANT: I can’t hear you.
MR. SANGER: Your Honor, it’s a little hard for Mr. Jackson to hear you.
THE DEFENDANT: Please speak up.
THE COURT: Yes. The probative value of Exhibit 86 exceeds any prejudicial effects, and so it’s admitted.
THE DEFENDANT: Thank you.
THE COURT: Sorry.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Star, the exhibit that we have on the board up there, the suitcase, and it’s open and displayed, are those among the items that you saw with Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.
Q. Do they represent the things that you saw with him when he took the magazines out.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. On the occasion that you saw the materials from this suitcase that are depicted in this photograph - okay. - who else was present.
A. My brother and Aldo, me, and Michael.
Q. Do you recall how many -- how much time elapsed between the first time you saw the materials downstairs till the time you saw them upstairs.
A. A few days.
Q. And did you see how the suitcase got from downstairs to upstairs.
A. No.
Q. When you saw the suitcase in the bedroom, upstairs, on the second occasion, was it open or was it closed.
A. It was open.
Q. And where was it on the floor, or where was it in the room.
A. On the floor.
Q. And where.

A. Right next to the T.V.
Q. So when you say “it’s open,” tell me what you mean by “it’s open.”

A. It was cracked.
Q. What do you mean by that.
A. It was cracked open.
Q. Do you see the briefcase in the exhibit as we see it in the courtroom.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Was it open in that condition.
A. No. No.
Q. Was the lid up or down when you saw it in the bedroom.
A. It was -- it was like this, standing up. And it was cracked open.
Q. Oh, the briefcase.
A. Yes.
Q. Oh, I see. So it wasn’t in the same position that it’s shown in this photograph.
A. No.
Q. Now, how about when you saw it downstairs.
A. It was like that, but it was closed.
Q. Like what.
A. Standing straight up, but it was closed, leaning up against something.
Q. In the bathroom area.
A. Yes.
Q. And how did it get opened.
A. What do you mean.
Q. Well, you said it was closed. You looked at the material --

A. The first time it was closed. The second time it was cracked open.
Q. Okay. We can take that down.
THE BAILIFF: Do you want to go ahead and push “Black Screen”.
MR. SNEDDON: Counsel.
THE BAILIFF: Judge, can you push “Black

Screen”.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Hang onto that for just a second.

All right. Do you recognize the photograph I’ve just handed you, which is People’s 153. Is that the right number on it.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that an accurate depiction of the -- of what it purports to represent.

A. Yes.

Q. As you saw it when you were there.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I move that 153 be admitted into evidence.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: It’s admitted.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Star, would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what 153 is.

A. It’s a mannequin.

Q. And where was the mannequin located in the room when you saw it.

A. To the corner.

Q. And with regard to this particular mannequin, did you ever see anything, relative to the defendant in this case, occur.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what you saw.

A. He was -- one time -- he was jerking around and he grabbed the mannequin, and he was pretending like he was having intercourse with it.

Q. And where did that occur.

A. On the bed. He was fully clothed. He was acting like he was humping.

Q. I didn’t hear what you said.

A. He was acting like he was humping it.

Q. Now, who else was in the bedroom when this happened.

A. Aldo, my brother and me.
Q. And do you remember how this -- how it started or what happened, or were there --
A. I don't even remember. I'm sorry.
Q. Did the defendant say anything while he was doing it.
A. He was laughing.
Q. And how long did the whole episode last.

A. Probably five seconds.
Q. Okay. Do you want to put that down.
Star, did you -- can you tell us whether or not the topic of masturbation ever came up in any conversations with the defendant.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. SNEDDON: Judge, "whether or not" makes it an open-ended question. It doesn't suggest the answer. I don't mean to argue with the Court, but I mean --
MR. MESEREAU: It does not, Your Honor. That's leading.
THE COURT: Could you rephrase the question.
MR. SNEDDON: Yes, Your Honor. I can do that.
Q. Star, did you ever have any conversations with the defendant about any other sexual matters.
A. Yes.
Q. About what.
A. Masturbation.
Q. All right. Will you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury --
A. I don't know how the topic came about, but he was asking me if I ever masturbated. And I said, "No." And he said --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. There's no question pending. He just went off.

THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. SNEDDON: I'll frame one, Your Honor.

Q. Okay. So did you have a conversation.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Now, would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, where was it.
A. It was -- this was when another child was here. His name was Rio.
Q. I can’t hear you.
A. This was in Michael’s bedroom.
Q. And who else was present, if anyone.
A. Rio, my brother, and that was it. And me.
Q. And to your knowledge, who is Rio.
A. I don’t know.
Q. Somebody you met at Mr. Jackson’s.
A. Yes.
Q. And do you recall when this was in terms of before or after you went to Calabasas.
A. It was after.
Q. And do you recall whether it was in the daytime or at nighttime.
A. Nighttime.
Q. All right. Would you tell us what was said, what the defendant said.
A. He asked me if I masturbated. And I said, “No.” He -- he -- then he said to me that, “Everyone does it. You should try it. It’s okay,” and all this stuff.

Q. Were you the only one he asked that question of.
A. Yes. Well, yeah. Yes.
Q. And when you said, “No,” did he say anything else.
A. Yeah. He said, “It’s okay,” and “Everyone does it,” and “You should try it.” That’s what he said.
Q. Was there anything else said besides that.
A. No.
Q. Do you -- when you came back from Calabasas --
A. Uh-huh.
Q. -- okay. - till the time that you left - all right. - where did you sleep.

A. In Michael’s room. And towards the end, I slept in the guest unit.
Q. And was there any drinking that went on during that period of time.
A. Yes.
Q. And who was drinking.
A. Mostly my brother and Michael.
Q. You say “mostly.” Did you drink.
A. Yes.
Q. On the occasion that you were there with -- in the room with Mr. Jackson and your brother, and this person that you know -- is it Rio.
A. Yes.

Q. -- were you drinking then.
A. I think so.
Q. Do you remember what you were drinking.
A. Just wine.
Q. Now, on the evenings after you came back from Calabasas and until you stopped sleeping in Mr. Jackson’s room, where did your brother sleep.
A. Michael’s room.
Q. During that period of time, was there an incident where you saw Mr. Jackson come into bed with you and your brother.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: Yes. I was --
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Just -- just -- you can only answer “Yes” or “No.”
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Now, you said there was an incident. Where were you prior to the time that Mr. Jackson came into the room.
A. Sleeping.
Q. Where.
A. On the bed.
Q. And where was your brother.
A. Right next to me.
Q. All right. We’ve seen that bed here in the photographs. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. And when we’re looking straight at the bed towards the back of the wall - okay. - where were you located on the bed.

A. All the way to the right.

Q. And where was your brother.

A. In the middle.

Q. And were you under the covers.

A. Under the covers.

Q. Over the covers.

A. Under the covers.

Q. And how were you dressed.

A. In PJ’s.

Q. Do these PJ’s -- describe them.

A. Sweat pants.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. Sweat pants and a shirt.

Q. All right. And do you recall what your brother was wearing.

A. Not really.

Q. Now, did you see -- tell us what happened.

A. I was sleeping. It was in the morning. And I saw Michael come up, and I tried to say hi, but I couldn’t. He got in bed. Started scooting over closer and closer to my brother. And for a time he didn’t stop until I moved, and then he stopped.

Q. And what happened when he heard you move.

A. He stopped.

Q. Okay. Did you see whether or not he did anything.

A. No. I was -- no.

Q. Okay. Okay. Star, we’re almost done.

Okay.

Now, some night when you were at -- at the ranch - all right. - did you go up to Mr. Jackson’s bedroom by yourself.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Where had you been just prior to that.

A. I was heading to the theater.

Q. Where.

A. I was heading to the theater.

Q. Why were you going to the theater.

A. To get some chocolate.

Q. How did you get down there.

A. The golf cart.

Q. Did you get some chocolate.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did you do when you came back.

A. I was heading to Michael’s room to go to sleep.

Q. All right. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what you did when you got to the house.

A. Um, I went through the door.

Q. Which door.

A. The first door. The first door. And then the second door, it was kind of -- I don’t know, it was, like, kind of locked. And so I pushed on it till it opened, and then --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, Your Honor. Could we have a time. Vague as to time.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: So I went upstairs, and --

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Let’s go back. You were at the door, and the door what.

A. The door was kind of locked, so I pushed it, and it opened. So I went halfway to where the computer table used to be, and I saw directly into the bed. And I stopped. And my brother was outside of the covers. And I saw Michael’s left hand in my brother’s underwears and I saw his right hand in his underwears, so -- so I --

Q. Let’s just stop there for a second - okay. --

A. Okay.

Q. -- and ask you some questions. Why were you coming back to the room that night, after you’d gone down to get the chocolate.

A. To go to sleep.

Q. When you got to the point on the stairs where you saw your brother and Mr. Jackson on the bed - okay. - when you’re looking at the bed, just like we saw it on the photograph here - what side of the bed was the defendant on.

A. Left side.

Q. And what side was your brother on.

A. Right side.

Q. And what position was Mr. Jackson in.

A. On his back. On his back.

Q. And what position was your brother in.

A. He was curled up, looking to the left. He was curled up facing left.

Q. Now, would that be looking towards Mr. Jackson or away from Mr. Jackson.

A. Away.

Q. Now, at that time, could you see what the defendant was wearing.

A. Socks, underwears and an undershirt.

Q. Now, could you tell what kind of underwear it was.

A. No.

Q. I mean -- I’m sorry.

A. No.

Q. With regard to your brother, what was he wearing.

A. I can’t quite remember what he was wearing. I’m not --

Q. Do you remember what you could see of him. Was there part of him that he didn’t have anything on.

A. Yeah, I know he had a shirt and -- he had his socks. I think he had pants or underwears on. I don’t remember.

Q. All right. Now, you said you saw “his hand.” Whose hands are you talking about.
A. Michael’s.
Q. All right. And where were his hands.
A. Left hand was in my brother’s pants and right hand was in his pants.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; asked and answered.
THE COURT: Overruled. You may proceed.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, when you say “in his pants,” and who are you talking about.
A. Michael.
Q. All right. When you saw that, did you see what, if anything, he was doing.
A. He was masturbating.
Q. What do you mean by that.
A. He was rubbing himself.
Q. And how could you tell that.
A. Because he had his hand in his pants. And he was stroking up and down.
Q. Did you see anything else about the defendant while he was doing that.
A. No.

Q. What else did you see.
A. That’s all.
Q. Could you tell whether Mr. Jackson had his eyes open or closed.
A. He had his eyes closed.
Q. Could you tell whether or not your brother was asleep or not.
A. He was asleep.
Q. How do you know that.
A. Because he was kind of snoring.
Q. I can’t hear you. You’re going to have to talk into that mike.
A. He was kind of snoring.
Q. Now, on this particular occasion, how long did you stay there watching.
A. Couple seconds.
Q. Well, how long is that.
A. Four.

Q. What were the lighting conditions like in the room.

A. The stairs were only lit, and the rest was -- nothing else was -- had lights on. It was just the stairs had lights.

Q. So you saw the photographs earlier that we showed that had the lights on over the bed, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Were those lights on or off.

A. Off.

Q. When you looked into the room, did you see any alcohol.

A. Um --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I don’t think so.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: So what was your reaction to what you saw.

A. I didn’t know what to do.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. I didn’t know what to do. I just went back to the guest units where my sister was sleeping.

Q. What guest room did you stay in.

A. I don’t remember. But my sister was sleeping in one guest room. And I went to the one that she was in.

Q. Did you see anything like that occur on any other occasion.

A. Yes, a second occasion.

Q. When.

A. It was probably just driving around; and same thing.

Q. No, I meant in relationship to the first one. How many days, if any, elapsed.

A. Two days.

Q. All right. Where were you that night.

A. Probably driving around in the golf cart. And I came back --

Q. Now, you say “probably.” Do you remember.

A. Not really what I was doing.

Q. Pardon.

A. I don’t really remember what I was doing.

Q. All right.

A. I’m not sure. Walking in, the door wasn’t locked. The door was closed but it wasn’t locked. I went upstairs. The same thing was happening, but my brother was on his back as well.

Q. You say “the same thing was happening.” Tell me what was happening.

A. My brother was asleep. Michael was masturbating while he had his left hand in my brother’s underwears.

Q. And what kind of underwear was your brother wearing.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Now, when you said you saw the defendant masturbating, were the -- where were they on the bed. What were the positions of the people on the bed on this occasion. If you’re looking at the bed, who was on the left.

A. Michael.

Q. And who was on the right.

A. Gavin.

Q. And you said that you saw him masturbating again. What did you actually see occurring.

A. What.

Q. The defendant, what did you see him doing.

A. Masturbating. Stroking up and down.

Q. Where.

A. In -- his thing. His private area.

Q. Could you see what the other hand was doing.

A. Moving. It was -- I don’t know how to explain it.

Q. Well, can you just show us what you saw.

A. It was going like that (Indicating).

Q. And that’s the hand that was where.

A. In my brother’s underwears.

Q. So just for the record, just sort of got a fist and opening it up and sort of like that.

A. Yeah.

MR. SNEDDON: Doesn’t help any, does it. Sort of like semi closing and opening the hand.

Q. And the second time, how long did you stay.

A. Three seconds. It was less than the first time.

Q. And where did you go.

A. Back to my sister’s guest unit.

Q. Did you ever tell your -- let me -- from the point that you were -- you went back to the guest unit and you were still on the ranch, did you ever tell your sister what you saw.

A. No.

Q. Who was the first person that you told what you saw.

A. Dr. Katz.

Q. You never told your mother.

A. No.

Q. Or your brother.

A. No.

Q. On the second occasion, what was Mr. Jackson wearing, if anything.

A. Socks, underwears and an undershirt.

Q. And your brother.

A. Uhh --

Q. You already told us what’s on the bottom. Was he wearing anything on the top.

A. Yes, he was wearing an undershirt.

Q. What.

A. Well, he was wearing a shirt.

Q. Where did you go to sleep that night, on the second incident.

A. My sister’s guest unit.

Q. Now, at some point while you were at Neverland Ranch - okay. - did an incident -- well, let me go back. Let’s go back. Does your brother, because of his condition with cancer, have to go to the doctor regularly.

A. Yes.

Q. And when he goes to the doctor regularly, what does he have to do.

A. A urine sample. Blood sample. He has to go to the kidney specialist. He has to go to two different doctors. I don’t know what they do.

Q. Now, in preparation for his visits to the doctor - okay. - you said he had -- something to do with urine. Does he have to collect that before he goes.

A. Sometimes he -- the doctors would send home a bottle for him to fill up and then bring back.

Q. Do you remember an occasion while you were at the ranch that he had to go to the doctor and take a urine sample with him.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you present when he and Mr. Jackson discussed that.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Leading; and foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: No.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Were you present at any time.

A. (Shakes head from side to side.)

Q. Okay. Did you see what happened to the urine sample.

A. No. But I heard about it.

Q. No, I know. I just want to know what your -- the night before your -- did you know when your brother left for the medical appointment.

A. Yes.

Q. And that night before that, were you with him.

A. No.

Q. Pardon.

A. No.

Q. Not at all.

A. No.

Q. Where were you.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did you see him leave in the morning.

A. No, I was probably still asleep.

Q. Can you describe the container. Let me go back.

Did you see the container on the occasion that he was going to the doctor while he was at the ranch.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: And where was it when you saw it.

A. Where was the bottle.

Q. Yeah.

A. It was in the guest units.

Q. When your brother came back from that appointment, were you there.

A. No.

Q. You weren't on the ranch when -- did you see him when he came driving up.

A. No.

Q. When did you first see your brother after he went to the doctor's appointment.

A. I don't remember. Probably later that night.

Q. Do you know how long he was gone.

A. Probably about six hours.

Q. Do you know whether or not your brother was with him when he came back.

A. I don't know.

Q. Did -- was your sister at the ranch while he was gone.

A. Yes.

Q. So you and your sister were there.

A. Yes.

Q. You don't remember what you did that day at all.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, at this point, after this, did you at some time eventually leave the ranch for the last time.

A. Yes.
Q. And do you remember how many days or when it was in relationship to this appointment that your brother went to the doctor’s for.
A. I don’t know.
Q. Well, was it a long time, a short time, a --

A. A short time. A short time.
Q. What makes you think that.
A. I don’t know. It was --
Q. Is that just a guess.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Take a minute and think about it.
A. I don’t know.
Q. All right. And how was it that you learned that you were going to leave the ranch.
A. I heard from -- I think it was from my sister, that my grandfather was ill. Well, they said my grandfather was ill, but he wasn’t.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Narrative; nonresponsive.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. You learned it from whom.
A. I learned of it from my sister.
Q. All right. And what did you learn.
A. That my grandfather was ill.
Q. Was that true.
A. No.
Q. Did your sister tell you that.
A. Yes.
Q. So when you heard that, then what did you do.
A. I thought he was ill, so I wanted to go home.

Q. And did the three of you leave.
A. Yes.

Q. And how did you get from -- from there to -- where did you go.

A. We went to our grandma’s house.

Q. Did you ever go back to the ranch after that.

A. Never.

Q. And who was it that left that day.

A. Left home.

Q. Who was with you when you left.

A. My brother, sister and me.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, I have about five more minutes. I don’t know if you want to keep going or you want to --

THE COURT: No.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay.

THE COURT: It’s 2:30. We’ll end the session today.

I want to tell you, tomorrow, remember, we’re going to have a shorter session. We’re going to start at 8:30, and we’re going to end at 11:30. I’ll tell you that so that you can make your plans for tomorrow. I was a little vague about when we were going to end last week, but I think the best time is at our normal break, and we’ll just end for the morning. And then we’ll start again on Wednesday with the regular schedule.

See you tomorrow. Remember the admonition.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 1002 through 1183 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 7, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 7, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

TUESDAY, MARCH 8, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 1185 THROUGH 1253)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

INDEX

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES DIRECT CROSS REDIRECT RECROSS

ARVIZO, Star David 1189-S 1195-M (cont’d)

EXHIBITS

PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
80	Photograph	1190	1191
82	Photograph	1191	1191

Santa Maria, California
Tuesday, March 8, 2005
8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.
THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.
MR. MESEREAU: Good morning.
THE COURT: You may proceed.

STAR DAVID ARVIZO
Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified further as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Continued)
BY MR. SNEDDON:
Q. Good morning.
A. Good morning.
Q. I just have a few questions left. Okay.
You've indicated to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that an individual by the name of Aldo was present during some of the events that you've described; do you recall that.
A. Yes. Yes.
Q. Were there times when you were at the ranch and Aldo was not there.
A. Yes.
Q. Were there times when you were at the ranch when Mr. Jackson and Aldo was not there.

A. Yes.
Q. With regard to your sister - okay. - Davellin --
A. Okay.
Q. -- did Mr. Jackson ever make any statements about Davellin to you.
A. He told us not to tell her anything because he's afraid we might tell our mom.
Q. About what.
A. About what we're doing.
Q. What do you mean. What were you doing at the time that Mr. Jackson was making those statements to you.
A. Drinking.
Q. Now, I want to just show you two last photographs.

Mr. Mesereau.
Just take a look at those for a second, and I’m going to ask you some questions.
The first number on that is People’s No. 80 for identification; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And with regard to the photograph, People’s 80 for identification, do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what it purports to represent.

A. Yes.
Q. And with regard to People’s 81 for identification --
A. 82.
Q. It’s 82.
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. With regard to that, is that an accurate depiction of what it purports to represent.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I move that 80 and 82 be admitted into evidence.
THE COURT: They’re admitted.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Now, would you put 80 on the top, Star. Do you have 80 on top.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay.
Now, Your Honor, with the Court’s permission, could we activate the overhead.
All right. Now, with regard to No. 80, would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that is.
A. That’s the view of the bed from the stairway.
Q. Now, with regard to this particular photograph, People’s 80, is there anything different about the photograph than the night that you went up there and saw your brother on the bed with Mr. Jackson with the events that you’ve described to the jury yesterday, late yesterday.

A. No.
Q. Now, with regard to the next photograph, People’s 82 -- is that People’s 82.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. With regard to that view, what is that.
A. That’s the view of the bed from the stairway.
Q. Now, with regard to that particular photograph, were the lighting conditions the same or different than depicted in this photograph.
A. Different.
Q. And how were they different.
A. The lights above the bed were off.
Q. And what was the light -- the source of the light when you made your observations on the two occasions.
A. The lighting was from the stairs.
Q. Now, you see the -- the comforter, or the cover of the bed there.
A. Yes.
Q. Can you tell us whether or not that was the same comforter or bed covering that was on the bed at the time that you were visiting the ranch back in February and March of 2003.
A. It was.
Q. And on the night that you said that you saw your brother on the bed on the first occasion with Mr. Jackson, was that comforter on the bed on that occasion.

A. No. It was rolled down.
Q. Rolled down where.
A. On the floor.
Q. And so what was the surface of the bed at that point.
A. Another blanket.
Q. Do you recall what color that blanket was.
A. No. It was like red. It was different colors.

Q. All right. Now, with regard to the second time that you saw your brother on the bed with Mr. Jackson that you described to the jury yesterday, where -- where -- what was the condition of that comforter at that time, the blue comforter.

A. Rolled up and on the floor.

Q. So it was the same both times.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You can put that down, if you like. Do you remember whether or not on the night that you saw Mr. Jackson -- on the first occasion when you saw Mr. Jackson on the bed with your brother, whether or not the screen, the movie screen, was up or down.

A. It was down.

Q. So it was in the same condition that it is now.

A. Yes.

Q. And how about on the second occasion.

A. It was up.

Q. Now, at any time while you were at the ranch from the time you got back from Miami till the time that you left for the last time, did Mr. Jackson ever make any statements to you about -- other than -- about your sister, about not telling things.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SNEDDON: What did he say. I didn’t hear what he said. I’m sorry. I didn’t hear the Court’s ruling.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: At any time while you were at the ranch during the period of time from Miami till the time that you left, did you have any other conversations with Mr. Jackson that you haven’t told us about. Just “Yes” or “No.”

A. Yes. Yes.

Q. Okay. And with regard to those conversations, what topics have you not told us about so far in your testimony that you had a discussion with Mr. Jackson about.

A. There was one time Michael told me -- well, it was me, my brother and Aldo were on the bed, and he was telling us not to tell anything that happened, “Not even if they put a gun to your head.”

Q. Did he say why.

A. No.

MR. SNEDDON: No further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Cross-examine.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, please, Your Honor.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MESEREAU:

Q. Good morning.

A. Good morning.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, we’ve never spoken before, right.

A. No.

Q. We’ve never met each other before, right.

A. Yes.

Q. When you say “Yes,” we actually haven’t met, right.

A. What.

Q. You’ve never met me before, right.

A. Yes.

Q. When you say “Yes,” do you mean we’ve met or we haven’t met.

A. We haven’t met.

Q. Okay. My name is Thomas Mesereau. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. And I speak for Mr. Jackson. All right.

A. Okay.

Q. I’m on his side. You know that.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, I’m going to ask you a bunch of questions. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. And I'm going to ask you some questions about some things you said in the courtroom. All right.

A. Okay.

Q. If anything I say is not clear to you, don't answer it. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Just tell me, "I don't understand."

A. Okay.

Q. Is that all right.

A. Yes.

Q. If I say something that seems confusing, for whatever reason, just tell me, "I'm confused. Could you repeat the question." Is that okay.

A. Okay.

Q. We don't want you to answer anything if you don't really understand what I'm asking you. Is that understood.

A. Okay.

Q. Okay. Now, you've testified before today, right.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times have you testified under oath before today.

A. Three times.

Q. Three times. And could you please tell the jury the three times that you testified under oath before -- I said "today." I meant yesterday. Okay. Please tell the jury the other three times that you testified under oath.

A. Two times at the grand jury, and one time yesterday.

Q. Are they the only times you've testified under oath before.

A. I think so.

Q. Do you know for sure.

A. Not really.

Q. Well, you did testify under oath in a deposition in the J.C. Penney case, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And how old were you when you testified in that case under oath.
A. I don’t remember, but I was really young.
Q. Were you about ten.
A. No.
Q. Were you nine.
A. I think I was eight.
Q. You were eight. Okay.
Was that the first time you ever testified

under oath.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And you testified under oath in support of what your mother was claiming happened to her, right.
A. What happened to us.
Q. “What happened to us.” You, Gavin and your mother, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Let me ask you some questions about the alarm system at Neverland.
A. Okay.
Q. You were interviewed by the police on numerous occasions about what happened at Neverland, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know about how many times you’ve been interviewed by the police about what happened at Neverland.
A. Twice.
Q. And do you remember giving them descriptions about the alarm system.
A. Yes.
Q. You have given the police different descriptions of the alarm system from time to time, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And let me ask you a couple of questions about the alarm. Is there an alarm that goes off when someone enters Michael Jackson's bedroom.

A. Through the hallway or through his bedroom.
Q. Let's start with the hallway.
A. Yes.
Q. Is there an alarm that goes off when you enter Michael Jackson's hallway.
A. Yes.
Q. How do you know that there's an alarm that goes off when you enter Michael Jackson's hallway.
A. Because while you're walking through the hallway, you can hear it.
Q. And have you heard it before.
A. Yes.
Q. When did you hear the alarm that goes off when you enter Michael Jackson's hallway.
A. Every time you walk through it.
Q. How many times do you think you've heard that alarm go off.
A. A lot of times.
Q. And it's pretty loud, isn't it.
A. Not really.
Q. Well, do you know why the alarm is there.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever ask Mr. Jackson, "Why is the alarm there."
A. No.
Q. You have set the alarm off yourself, haven't you.

A. Yes.
Q. How many times have you set the alarm off yourself when walking through Michael Jackson's hallway.
A. It's not an alarm. It's just a bell.
MR. SANGER: Your Honor, I'm sorry, it's hard to hear the witness here.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You say it's not an alarm, it's just a bell.
A. Yes.
Q. Is it an electric bell.
A. Yes.
Q. How do you know it's electric.

A. Because it doesn’t sound real.

Q. It doesn’t sound real.

A. Yeah.

Q. It sounds like a loud bell, doesn’t it.

A. It sounds electric.

Q. Have you ever tried to turn that alarm system off.

A. I don’t know how to.

Q. Did you ever ask anyone, “How do you turn that alarm system off.”

A. No.

Q. Okay. So, as far as you know, every time you’ve walked through that hallway, that bell has gone off, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And your understanding is that the purpose of that bell is to let Michael Jackson know if somebody goes through his hallway, right.

A. Yes.

Q. That’s the purpose of the alarm, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever have any discussion with any security guard at Neverland about that alarm system.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever ask anyone, “How does it work.”

A. No.

Q. You said you got a code from security guards at Neverland, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And what code did you get from security guards at Neverland.

A. The master code.

Q. And do you know what security guard gave that to you.

A. No. I don’t remember.

Q. And what is the master code.

A. 1849.

Q. And what does it do.

A. It gets you into all the doors in Neverland.

Q. Is that every door at Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that every door in every room.

A. Yes.

Q. And would that master code get you into Michael's children's bedroom.

A. Yes.

Q. You've been in that bedroom, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You've been in both of them, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You've been in both of his children's bedrooms many times, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you've been in other rooms in the main house, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You've been into what other rooms in the main house.

A. His room, Michael's room. Prince and Paris's room. I think that -- I think those are the doors -- oh, and then the two doors to enter the main house.

Q. Have you been into any other rooms in the main house.

A. The kitchen room. The living room. The kitchen. Those are the only rooms I've been in.

Q. When did you get the code that lets you into every room in the house.

A. A little after the Miami trip.

Q. You had been into every room in the house before you went to Miami, hadn't you.

A. No.

Q. You had not been into every room in the house before you went to Miami.

A. Not every room.

Q. Didn't you go into the main house when Chris Tucker was there and Michael Jackson was absent.

A. Yes.

Q. And you went upstairs when Chris Tucker was there and Michael Jackson was absent, didn’t you.

A. No.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I think we’re having trouble hearing, hearing the witness. If he could just talk a little louder.

THE COURT: Everyone seems to be hearing.

MR. SANGER: Sometimes you can’t.

THE COURT: The audience is all nodding affirmatively.

THE JURY: (In unison) We’re not.

THE DEFENDANT: Thank you. We can’t hear. We can’t hear.

MR. MESEREAU: I didn’t want to instruct the witness. I didn’t think it was my -- it was appropriate. If the Court would, I’d appreciate it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You need to speak up. People right there can’t hear you.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

MR. MESEREAU: Because some people didn’t hear, I’m going to go over a little bit of this again.

Q. How many times were you at Neverland before the Miami trip.

A. I don’t know exactly.

Q. Approximately.

A. I don’t know exactly.

Q. I’m just asking if you can estimate.

A. Ten.

Q. Ten. And of those ten trips, how many do you think Michael was present at. I’m talking about the trips before you went to Miami.

A. I don’t know. I know it was more than twice.

Q. Okay. When did you first learn there was an alarm system when you entered the hallway to go to Michael Jackson’s bedroom.

A. First time we entered his bedroom.

Q. And approximately when was that, if you know.

A. I don’t know.

Q. And did you see Michael Jackson do anything to the alarm system --
A. No.
Q. -- when you first entered his bedroom.
A. No.
Q. So it went off, didn't it.

A. What.
Q. When you first entered Michael Jackson's bedroom, the alarm system in the hallway went off, right.
A. The bell.
Q. The bell that is an alarm system, right.
A. I didn't think it was an alarm system.
Q. You didn't think the bell that went off when you entered the hallway was an alarm system.
A. Well, because I'm thinking, like, an alarm, like.
Q. But you knew it was an electric bell, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And you knew anytime you entered that hallway it went off, right.
A. Yes.
Q. When you first went into the hallway, you heard that bell, didn't you.
A. Yes.
Q. You never saw Michael Jackson dismantle that system, did you.
A. No.
Q. In fact, every time you've walked into that hallway to go into Michael Jackson's bedroom, that bell has rung, right.
MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object, asked and answered.

MR. MESEREAU: I didn't -- excuse me, Your Honor, I don't think I've ever asked that question.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: Repeat the question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Sure. Every time you --

THE COURT: I’ll have the court reporter repeat it.

MR. MESEREAU: I’m sorry.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, during the two times you claim you saw Michael Jackson touch your brother in bed, that bell went off, didn’t it.

A. Yes.

Q. When you walk into the hallway, Mr. Arvizo, is there another alarm system.

A. Which hallway.

Q. The hallway going into Mr. Jackson’s bedroom. Once you go through the hallway, the bell goes off, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And when you try to go into Michael Jackson’s bedroom upstairs, is there any other alarm.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever had heard of there being another alarm that goes off as you try to enter Michael Jackson’s bedroom.

A. No.

Q. Okay. You’re aware that if you’re in Michael Jackson’s bedroom upstairs, you can hear that bell.

A. When the doors are open.

Q. Pardon me.

A. When the doors are open.

Q. Well, the purpose of it is to let Michael Jackson know, if he’s upstairs, if anybody’s come into the hallway, isn’t it.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object to that. Calls for speculation on the part of this witness.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, did Mr. Jackson ever tell you that the reason that alarm system goes off is to let him know if anyone is trying to enter his bedroom.

A. No.
Q. So you were not aware of that.
A. No.
Q. Okay. You have heard that alarm system go off when you were upstairs, haven't you.
A. When the doors open.
Q. Yes. You're saying when the door's closed, Michael Jackson can't hear the alarm system.
A. No.
Q. Is that what you're saying.
A. Yes.

Q. Did you discuss yesterday's testimony with anyone last night.
A. No.
Q. Talk to your mom about it.
A. No.
Q. Talk to your dad about it.
A. No.
Q. Talk to your sister about it.
A. No.
Q. Talk to Gavin about it.
A. No.
Q. Talk to the D.A. about it.
A. No.
Q. Did you know what questions Mr. Sneddon was going to ask you when you came in this morning.
A. One or two of them.
Q. Okay. How did you know about one or two of them.
A. He called me this morning to clarify something.
Q. He called you at home.
A. Yeah -- yes.
Q. So you did discuss yesterday's testimony with someone, didn't you.
A. No, today.
Q. You did discuss what you said yesterday with Mr. Sneddon before you took the stand this morning, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to that question. Assumes a fact not in evidence, that it was yesterday’s materials we discussed.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, Your Honor. Mr. Sneddon’s testifying. Move to strike his comments.

THE COURT: Sustained. Stricken.

Mr. Sneddon, you have been using speaking responses, which I do not allow.

MR. SNEDDON: All right, Your Honor. Then I object. Assumes facts not in evidence.

THE COURT: I’ve heard your objection. The objection is overruled.

Would the court reporter read back the question to the witness, please.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: No.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you speak to Mr. Sneddon between your testimony yesterday and your testifying today.

A. Yes. In the morning.

Q. And about what time was that.

A. 7:00.

Q. Did Mr. Sneddon talk to you about what he was going to ask you today.

A. He was asking me -- he was trying to clarify if -- about some things.

Q. Well, he told you that he was going to ask you about Aldo, correct.

A. No.

Q. He never told you he was going to ask you anything about Aldo today.

A. Um, he didn’t say. He just said -- he asked me if Aldo was there the whole time.

Q. And did he tell you he was going to ask you a question about that this morning.

A. No.

Q. Did he tell you he was going to ask you about any photographs this morning.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever seen the photographs you just identified before.

A. Um, yes.

Q. When did you see them before.

A. On Sunday.

Q. On Sunday.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, Mr. Sneddon showed you a bunch of photographs and kept asking you a question, “Is that an accurate depiction.” Remember those questions.

A. Yes.

Q. Had he asked you those questions before.

A. No.

Q. Had he showed you photographs before and said to you, “When you come into court, I’m going to ask you if that’s an accurate depiction”; remember.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember those questions he asked you.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember, Mr. Sneddon showed you photographs in the courtroom and said, “Is this an accurate depiction of what’s in the photograph.”

A. Yes.

Q. Had he told you before you testified yesterday that he was going to ask you that question.

A. No.

Q. Is that the first time you ever heard him ask you that question.

A. Yes.

Q. You went through photograph after photograph, and when he said to you, “Is that an accurate depiction.” You always said “Yes,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. Was that the first time he’d ever asked you that question in the courtroom.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you made a lot of statements that this was an accurate depiction, and then afterwards told the jury that there were things in the photographs that you didn’t think were accurate, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And that was because you have a detailed memory of what went on when you used to go to Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You had never gone over that with Mr. Sneddon or any other member of the prosecution before, right.

A. About what.

Q. About those photos.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Before you testified yesterday, had you ever discussed what you were going to say with your mom.

A. No.

Q. Before you testified yesterday, had you ever discussed with Gavin what you were going to say.

A. No.

Q. Before you testified yesterday, had you ever discussed with your sister Davellin what you were going to say.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever discussed this case with your mom.

A. No.

Q. Ever discussed this case with Gavin.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever discussed this case with Davellin.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever discussed this case with an attorney.

A. Yes.

Q. Who.

A. Tom, Gordon and Ron.

Q. Excuse me.

A. Tom, Gordon and Ron.

Q. I’m sorry, we’re having trouble hearing the name.

A. Tom, Gordon and Ron.

Q. Tom, Gordon and Ron.

Have you ever discussed this case with Larry Feldman.

A. No, I don’t remember.

Q. Do you know who Larry Feldman is.

A. I think so.

Q. Who do you think he is.

A. I don’t know what he does.

Q. Okay. You never heard the name “Larry Feldman” before.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever heard the name “William Dickerman” before.

A. Yes.

Q. And have you met with Attorney William Dickerman before.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times do you think you’ve met with Attorney William Dickerman.

A. Once.

Q. And that was before you ever spoke to anyone with the sheriff’s department, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Well, do you know whether or not William Dickerman sent your entire family to Attorney Larry Feldman.

A. No. I don’t know.

Q. And you don’t recall ever meeting with Attorney Larry Feldman.

A. I do recall meeting with him, but I don’t know who sent us to him.

Q. And how many times have you met with Attorney Larry Feldman.

A. Probably twice.

Q. And do you know approximately when that was.

A. No.

Q. Was it in the last year.

A. No.

Q. Last two years.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Okay. Was your mom at that meeting.
A. We never had a meeting. Well, I don’t -- I don’t remember.
Q. Okay. Now, you’ve given different descriptions at different times of what you say happened in Michael Jackson’s bedroom, right.

A. I don’t understand.
Q. Well, you’ve been asked to describe many times what happened in Michael Jackson’s bedroom at Neverland, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You’ve been asked by the sheriffs a couple of times, right.
A. No.
Q. Well, you’ve been interviewed by the Santa Barbara Sheriffs about what you claim happened in Michael Jackson’s bedroom, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And they’ve asked you to describe what went on in Michael Jackson’s bedroom, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you’ve also been before a grand jury to testify about what went on in Michael Jackson’s bedroom, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You’ve also met with a psychologist named Stanley Katz, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And Stanley Katz works for Larry Feldman, right.
A. I didn’t know that.
Q. Well, you knew that Larry Feldman sent you to Stanley Katz, right.
A. I didn’t know.

Q. Never heard anything about that.
A. No.

Q. Your mother never told you that.
A. No.
Q. Well, when you met with Psychologist Stanley Katz, you also describe what you claim happened in Michael Jackson’s bedroom, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And would you agree that you’ve given different descriptions almost every time that you have described it.
A. I don’t remember exactly what I said.
Q. Well, you’ve given different descriptions about what Michael Jackson was wearing, right.
A. I don’t remember exactly what I said.
Q. You’ve given different descriptions of what Gavin was supposed to be wearing, right.
A. I don’t remember exactly what I said.
Q. You’ve given different descriptions about what you claim Michael Jackson did in the bedroom, right.
A. No.
Q. Well, there were times you said that Michael Jackson put his hand on top of your brother’s underwear, right.
A. I don’t remember saying that.
Q. And there are other times you said he put his hand inside his underwear, right.

A. Yes.
Q. And there are times you’ve said your brother was wearing pajamas, right.
A. Yes.
Q. There are times you said he was wearing underwear, right.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. And there are times you said that Michael Jackson touched his butt and not his crotch, right.
A. When was this.
Q. When you did some interviews, right.
A. About what.
Q. About what Michael Jackson, you claim, was doing in his bedroom, right.
A. I never said he touched his butt.

Q. Did you ever tell anyone that when you saw Michael Jackson in bed with your brother, he was rubbing his butt.

A. No.

Q. Never said that at any time to anybody.

A. No.

Q. Never said it to Mr. Katz, right.

A. No.

Q. Never said it to the sheriffs, right.

A. No.

Q. And never said it to a grand jury, right.

A. No.

Q. Okay. You indicated yesterday that Michael

Jackson was trying to teach you and your brother cuss words, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And was that the truth.

A. He wasn’t trying to teach us. He was just telling us to cuss.

Q. Did you ever use cuss words before you met Michael Jackson.

A. Not really.

Q. Did you ever know what those cuss words even meant.

A. No.

Q. Okay. When you were -- let me strike that. Let me rephrase.

You had your deposition taken in the J.C. Penney case on December 15th, the year 2000, right.

A. I don’t remember the dates.

Q. Would it refresh your memory if I just show you the deposition date.

A. Sure.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, have you had a chance to look at that page.

A. Yes.

Q. And it says, “December 15th, 2000,” right.

A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Where were you living during December 15th, 2000.
A. I was living at the Soto address.
Q. Well, in that deposition, you said you were living on Raymer Street; do you remember.
A. Yes. No, I don’t remember the deposition.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you that part of your deposition.
A. Sure.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
THE WITNESS: Okay.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page of your deposition of the J.C. Penney case.
A. Yes.
Q. And does it refresh your recollection that you said you were living on Raymer Street at that point.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, where is Raymer Street.
A. It’s in El Monte.
Q. Okay. Is that where your grandparents live.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And when you answered these questions in the J.C. Penney case under oath, you were ten years old, right.

A. I think so.
Q. Okay. In that deposition, you were asked whether you had discussed the facts of the J.C. Penney case with anyone before you were deposed, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember that. And you said you had not discussed the facts --
A. Actually, I don’t remember that question.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you that page.

A. It’s okay.
Q. Huh.
A. It’s okay.
Q. What do you mean, it’s --
A. Oh, okay.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
THE WITNESS: Where’s the question.
MR. MESEREAU: Right here.
THE WITNESS: Okay.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page in your deposition in the J.C. Penney case.
A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection that you said you had not discussed the facts of that case with your mother or anybody else.

A. Yes.
Q. And was that true.
A. What.
Q. Was it true that before you answered questions under oath in the J.C. Penney case that you had never discussed the facts of that case with anyone.
A. After the --
Q. Between the time the events happened, or that you claim happened in the parking lot at J.C. Penney, and the time you answered questions under oath, you had not discussed the facts with anybody, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. You hadn’t discussed the facts with your mother, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Hadn’t discussed them with Gavin, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Hadn’t discussed them with Davellin, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you hadn’t discussed them with your father David, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you indicated to the jury that you've done some training as a comedian; is that right.

A. It wasn't really actual training. We just did it for fun.

Q. Pardon me.

A. It wasn't actually training. We just did it for fun.

Q. Okay. But did you take a class.

A. No.

Q. Did you take an acting class.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever modeled.

A. That was for our -- our dance group that we used to be in.

Q. Where did you model.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Well, you claim you have modeled at J.C. Penney's, right.

A. I don't remember the store.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you your deposition in the J.C. Penney case.

A. Sure.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page.

A. Yes.

Q. Does it refresh your recollection that you claim you were modeling at J.C. Penney.

A. Not really.

Q. Were you modeling at J.C. Penney.

A. I think so.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I think so.

Q. You think so.

A. Yeah. Since it says it on the -- there.

Q. Well, please tell the jury what the truth is. Were you really modeling at J.C. Penney.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object to that question as argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

The jury is admonished to disregard Mr. Mesereau’s remark.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Were you modeling at J.C. Penney on that day.

A. What day.

Q. The day the events happened in the parking lot.

A. No. That was -- that was way before then.

Q. But you testified under oath that you were there to model, didn’t you.

A. No. I was there -- I was there to model about -- years ago. We were just waiting for our mom to come out of her job interview.

Q. Correct me if I’m wrong, when you were testifying under oath in a deposition, you said under oath that you were there to model that day, didn’t you.

A. Not that day. We were there before to model. Not at that J.C. Penney’s.

Q. Did you model before.

A. Yes.

Q. When was that.

A. It was a long time ago when we were little. It was a long time ago when we were little.

Q. Now, you testified under oath that your brother Gavin took some clothes that weren’t paid for into the parking lot, right.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. You don’t remember saying that.

A. No. It was long ago.

Q. Has anyone told you to give a response like that to my questions.

A. No.

Q. Has anyone told you to say “I don’t remember” when you respond to my questions.

A. If I don’t remember, I don’t remember.

Q. Okay. Okay. Do you remember testifying that your brother went into the parking lot with clothes that weren’t paid for to trick your father into buying them.

A. I don’t remember.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you your testimony.
A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page.

A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you said under oath in the deposition.
A. A little bit.
Q. Well, you said your brother wanted to trick your dad into buying clothes, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you said that that’s why he went into the mall with the unpaid clothes, right.
A. He went into the mall.
Q. Into the parking lot in the mall.
A. Oh.
Q. Let me restate it.
You testified under oath that your brother left J.C. Penney’s with clothes that weren’t paid for because he was trying to trick your dad into buying them, right.
A. Yes, but the paragraph wasn’t over.
Q. Okay. What else did you say about that.
A. Um -- could I reread it.
Q. Sure.
May I return, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
THE WITNESS: Thank you.
Okay.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at the page again.

A. Yes.
Q. And does it refresh your recollection about what you testified to that day.
A. A little bit.
Q. Okay. How has it refreshed your recollection.
A. It said right there that -- that my dad took them and put them back.
Q. Okay. Now, you said that Gavin wouldn’t steal because he wants to be a priest, right.
A. I don’t remember saying that.
Q. You said he wants to be a priest and a comedian, right.
A. I don’t remember saying that.
Q. Well, did anyone ask you to say that, if you recall.
A. No.
Q. Before you went into that deposition to testify under oath, did anyone tell you if you’re asked if Gavin stole, say, “No, he wants to be a comedian and a priest”.
A. I don’t remember nothing in that case.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you another page.
A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page.

A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you said.
A. A little bit, yes.
Q. And didn’t you say that Gavin wants to be a priest and a comedian when he grows up.
A. Yes.
Q. And you said that he wouldn’t steal, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. But no one told you to say that before the deposition, right.
A. Hmm, what was it. Say it again.

Q. Yeah. Nobody told you to make that statement before you went into that deposition and testified, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you testified under oath that security guards from J.C. Penney approached your mother in the parking lot and said, “We’re going to fuck you up,” and called your dad “a fucking asshole,” right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to the question as a violation of the Court’s ruling.

THE COURT: Sustained.

THE WITNESS: I don’t remember the exact words.

THE COURT: Just a minute. You don’t have to answer that question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: But you’re telling the jury that before you met Michael Jackson, you had never used the “F” word, right.

A. I spelled it out for them.

Q. Spelled it out for you.

A. The people that were interviewing us or -- I didn’t say it.

Q. Okay. And in your personal life as a young boy, you had never used that word once, right.

A. No.

Q. The first time you heard it was in the J.C. Penney parking lot, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you testified that your mother had been beaten up in the parking lot, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You said that her private parts had been touched.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. Same objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you went to Stanley Katz, you knew he was a psychologist, right.

A. No.

Q. Did you know he was a therapist.

A. Not really.
Q. Had you been to a therapist ever before.

A. Yes.
Q. When was that.
A. During the J.C. Penney case.
Q. Okay. Did you go with your mom.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Okay. Well, your whole family went to a therapist in that case, right.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Don’t remember at all.
A. No.
Q. Okay.
MR. MESEREAU: May we approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: No.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: In the J.C. Penney case, you testified to what these guards were doing to your mother, right.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. Same objection.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: And that was the first time you ever testified, right.
A. When.
Q. In the J.C. Penney deposition.
A. Yes.
Q. And nobody told you what to say before it, right.
A. Yes.

Q. Never discussed it with your mom before you went into the deposition, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Just like you’ve never discussed the facts of this case with your mom at any time, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. When was the first time that you ever discussed what you claim Mr. Jackson had done to you.

A. What.
Q. When is the first time you ever discussed with anybody what you say Mr. Jackson did to you.
A. I think it was with Dr. Katz.
THE COURT: Excuse me. If you can’t hear him, I’d like to have hand signs. There’s no way I can know. And that way I can just have him speak up. The people in the audience are hearing him fine. But when he drops off, I can’t tell whether you’re hearing him or not. Sorry, Counsel. Go ahead.
MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q. When is the first time you ever discussed what you claim Mr. Jackson did to you.
A. I think it was with Dr. Katz.
Q. Was that before you ever discussed any of this with any police officer.
A. Yes.
Q. And you discussed what you claim Mr. Jackson did to you with Attorney Larry Feldman, right.

A. I don’t remember.
Q. Do you remember one way or the other.
A. I didn’t understand that question.
Q. Sure. Are you saying you don’t remember ever discussing this case with Attorney Larry Feldman.
A. No, I don’t remember.
Q. Okay. But you do remember meeting with Larry Feldman, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And your mom was there, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Gavin was there, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember saying in the J.C. Penney deposition that your mom and dad never fight.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. Same objection.
THE COURT: Overruled.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you remember saying

that.

A. Not really.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a page from that deposition.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Oops.

THE WITNESS: That’s okay.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page from the deposition.

A. Yes.

Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you said.

A. A little bit.

Q. And didn’t you say under oath that your mother and dad never fight.

A. Yes.

Q. Was that true.

A. Hmm, I really don’t -- sometimes.

Q. I’m sorry, I didn’t understand your answer. When you told -- excuse me. Let me rephrase. When you stated under oath in the J.C. Penney deposition in the year 2000 that your mom and dad never fight, were you telling the truth.

A. No.

Q. Did someone tell you to lie in that deposition.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. You don’t remember at all.

A. No. It happened a long time ago.

Q. You also said in that deposition under oath that your dad never hit you; do you remember that.

A. Not really.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you that page.

A. Sure.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page of your deposition.

A. Yes.

Q. And does it refresh your recollection about what you said that day.

A. Yes.

Q. You were asked if your dad had ever hit you, and you said, “Never,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. Was that the truth.

A. No.

Q. Did someone ever tell you to lie about that under oath in your deposition in the J.C. Penney case.

A. I really don’t remember.

Q. Don’t remember at all.

A. No. I don’t remember nothing from there.

THE BAILIFF: Judge, they can’t hear him. They can’t hear him.

THE COURT: You can’t hear in the back. The witness, is it.

You need to lean into the microphone like that.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have your -- excuse me. Has -- did your father ever coach you about what to say in the J.C. Penney deposition.

A. No.

Q. Did your mother ever coach you about what to say in the J.C. Penney deposition.

A. No.

Q. Please tell the jury why you lied under oath.

A. I don’t remember. It was, like, five years ago. I don’t remember nothing.

Q. Have you discussed the J.C. Penney deposition with any of the prosecutors.

A. No.

Q. Have you discussed the J.C. Penney

deposition with your mom.
A. No.
Q. Have you discussed the J.C. Penney deposition with your dad.
A. No.
Q. Have you ever discussed the J.C. Penney deposition with Gavin.
A. No.
Q. Have you ever discussed the J.C. Penney deposition with Davellin.
A. No.
Q. Have you ever discussed the J.C. Penney deposition with any attorney.

A. No.
Q. You had an attorney representing you at the J.C. Penney deposition, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Who was that.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Have you ever discussed this case with your grandmother.
A. No.
Q. Have you ever discussed it with your grandfather.
A. No.
Q. Have you ever discussed the J.C. Penney lawsuit with your grandmother.
A. No.
Q. And have you ever discussed the J.C. Penney lawsuit with your grandfather.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Was Michael Jackson the first person you ever heard use a cuss word.
A. No.
Q. Who was, if you remember.
A. It was a kid at school.
Q. That’s the first time you ever heard those words.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. But you’ve never used them yourself, right.

A. Yes, I’ve used them.
Q. Do you use them now.
A. No.
Q. Never use them.
A. What do you mean.
Q. Well, in your personal life right now, do you ever use the “F” word.
A. No.
Q. Do you ever use the “B” word.
A. No.
Q. You indicated yesterday that you visited Neverland with Chris Tucker when Michael Jackson wasn’t there, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, how did you end up going there with Chris Tucker.
A. I don’t know. I think it was my brother that set it up. I don’t remember.
Q. Okay. Do you know kind of how you ended up going there with Chris.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Who drove you to Neverland during those trips that you went with Chris Tucker.
A. During all the trips.
Q. Yes.
A. A bus driver.
Q. You went by bus to Neverland with Chris Tucker.

A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Was it a private bus.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know how that was arranged.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Who went on those bus rides.
A. Me and my brother, my sister, Chris, Chris’s apprentice. I don’t know. There was other people, too.
Q. Okay. And did you know that Michael Jackson was not going to be there when you arrived.

A. I don’t remember all the times.

Q. Well, when you went with Chris Tucker, did you think Michael Jackson was going to be there.

A. Probably.

Q. Excuse me.

A. Probably.

Q. Okay. Do you know if Chris told you he would be there.

A. No.

Q. Why did you think Michael would be there.

A. I don’t know. I don’t remember.

Q. By the way, do you remember yesterday when you told the jury that on the plane you looked at a soda can that Michael Jackson had and you saw a red ring around it.

A. Yes.

Q. You told that to the police in one of your interviews also, didn’t you.

A. I think so.

Q. You also told the police that you looked in the can and saw white wine, correct.

A. When.

Q. When you told them there was a red ring around the can, you then told them you looked in the can and saw white wine, remember.

A. I don’t remember saying that.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a transcript from a police interview.

A. Sure.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, what page.

THE WITNESS: The lady might have misheard me.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me, what did you just say.

A. I never looked into the can.

Q. You said a lady might have misheard you.

A. The -- I don’t know what her -- what the --

Q. The court reporter.

A. Yes.

Q. Oh, you think the court reporter made a mistake.
A. Yes.
Q. Because, as you’ve seen, it says you told the police there was a red ring around the can and then you looked in and saw white wine, right. That’s what it says, doesn’t it.

A. Yes.
Q. But what you’re telling the jury is you think the court reporter made a mistake.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you have a lot of experience with court reporters.
A. No.
Q. Did you tell Michael Jackson you wanted to be an actor.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever tell Michael Jackson you wanted to make videos.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever make any videos with Michael Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. When did you do that.
A. A long time ago.
Q. And just approximately when was that, if you know.
A. I don’t know.
Q. Was it when you first met Michael Jackson.
A. I don’t know.
Q. Did you ever make a video at Neverland yourself.

A. Yes.
Q. And please tell the jury when that was.
A. I don’t know when it was.
Q. And describe what you did when you made that video.
A. I think we were -- I don’t remember exactly.

We were just talking about the animals and talking about the ranch.

Q. And who is “we”.

A. Me and whoever happened to be there. Like the zoo lady or train driver.

Q. And was that in the fall of 2002.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Okay. Do you remember the approximate year when you first went to Neverland.

A. 2000.

Q. And how do you know it was 2000.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did somebody tell you it was the year 2000.

A. No, I just remember my brother had cancer in the year 2000.

Q. Okay. Now, how long after your brother contracted cancer did you and he visit Neverland, if you know.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Was it a number of months.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Do you know if your brother was undergoing medical treatment when he first went to Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. And if you remember, had the treatment just begun.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. What was your understanding about how your brother first communicated with Michael Jackson.

A. By telephone.

Q. And did you hear about that right away, if you know.

A. What.

Q. Did your brother tell you right away, “I just spoke to Michael Jackson on the telephone”.

A. Yes.

Q. Did he call you up and tell you that.

A. I was standing -- I was laying right next to him.

Q. Okay. This was in the hospital.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And suddenly the phone rang and it was Michael Jackson.
A. I didn’t know it was Michael Jackson.
Q. Okay. How did you find out it was him.
A. After my brother hung up.
Q. Now, in your police interviews, you keep referring to David as “My biological father,” right.
A. Yes.
Q. You also refer to him as “My biological dad,” right.

A. Yes.
Q. Who told you to use the word “biological”.
A. I learned it in one of my English classes.
Q. Well, other members in your family have been referring to him as their biological dad, right.
A. Yeah, and also my sister uses it.
Q. Did your mom ever tell you to refer to David as your biological dad.
A. No.
Q. She never did once.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever hear your mother telling your sister to refer to David as your biological dad.
A. No.
Q. Ever hear your mom tell Davellin to refer to her father as her biological dad.
A. No.
Q. Okay. That was something you came up with, right.
A. Yes. This was after we met Jay, so we didn’t think of my dad as a dad anymore. So that’s why we called him a biological dad, because we were calling Jay “Dad.”
Q. Now, you’ve been into Prince and Paris’s bedroom, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And just please tell the jury who Prince and Paris are.

A. They're Michael's children.

Q. When you first went to Neverland, did you meet Michael's children.

A. I think so.

Q. Do you remember who introduced you to Michael's children.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Did you see them on the first visit to Neverland.

A. I think so.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I think so.

Q. Okay. And where did you first meet Prince and Paris.

A. At Neverland.

Q. Do you know what ages they were when you first met them.

A. I think they were three and four.

Q. And could you describe them to the jury.

A. They're small. Small. One has blonde hair. The other one has long brown curly hair. What else. That's all.

Q. And you told the jury that Prince and Paris were in Miami when you made a trip to Miami, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you told the jury that Prince and Paris were in Michael's suite, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And when you first went into Michael's suite, Prince and Paris were there, right.

A. What part of the suite.

Q. Any part.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And when you went back on the plane from Miami to Santa Barbara, Prince and Paris were on the plane, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And two nannies were with them, right.

A. One nanny was with two kids, and the other nanny was with the baby.

Q. Okay. And tell the jury who the baby was.

A. Michael’s son.

Q. Okay. Would you please describe the baby to the jury.

A. Small.

Q. Okay. And who was the nanny with Michael’s baby.

A. Her name was Patty.

Q. And who was the nanny with Prince and Paris.

A. Grace.

Q. And they’re all on the plane with you when you go back from Miami, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And a physician was on the plane as well, right.

A. I didn’t know what his profession was.

Q. Okay. Did you know he was a doctor.

A. From his name, yes.

Q. Okay. You heard people call him “Doctor,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. And was it your understanding his name was Farshshian.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So Dr. Farshshian’s on the plane as well, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever ask anyone whose doctor he was.

A. All I knew is that he was Michael’s doctor.

Q. Okay. Okay. Now, yesterday you told Prosecutor Sneddon where everybody was sitting, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And --

A. Yes.

Q. -- you looked at this diagram, and you said, “That’s a diagram of the inside of that plane,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. How did you know that was a diagram about the inside of that plane.

A. Because that’s how it looked inside.

Q. Did you ever go over that diagram with any prosecutor before you testified.

A. I think so, yes.
Q. You think so.
A. Yes.
Q. Are you sure.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. You did do it, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And what prosecutor did you go over that diagram with before you testified.
A. Um, let me remember. It was Tom.
Q. Is that Tom Sneddon.
A. Yes.
Q. And when did you do that with him.
A. On Sunday.
Q. Did he visit you on Sunday.
A. No, I visited him.
Q. Okay. At his office.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And did someone bring you to his office.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know who that was.
A. It was Steve Robel.
Q. Okay. That's a Santa Barbara sheriff, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And had you seen that diagram before Sunday.

A. No.
Q. Did Mr. Sneddon tell you, "This is a diagram of the inside of the plane".
A. No. I knew it was a diagram. I was the one that drew it up for Tom.
Q. So you drew the whole diagram up for Prosecutor Sneddon.
A. No, I just drew a picture and I gave it to Tom.

Q. Okay. Do you know where that picture is.
A. No.
Q. Did -- you just gave it to Sneddon.
A. Yes. Well, it was in the beginning of this case.
Q. I'm sorry. Pardon.
A. It was in the beginning of the case.
Q. Okay. So the beginning of this case, you did a diagram of the interior of that plane.
A. I just did a drawing.
Q. Okay. A drawing of the plane that you flew on from Miami, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And when you say, "At the beginning of this case," what do you mean.
A. It was before the grand jury.
Q. And do you know whatever happened to the drawing.
A. No.

Q. Did you remember where all the seats were --
A. Yes.
Q. -- inside that plane.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And that's what you drew in the drawing, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And did Mr. Sneddon tell you that the diagram you had was based upon your drawing.
A. No.
Q. Okay. He just came up with this and showed it to you on Sunday, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And did he ask you to put little initials where everybody was sitting.
A. No. We did that yesterday.
Q. That was the first time you'd ever done that.
A. Yes.
Q. First time you'd ever looked at that drawing and put initials where everybody was sitting.
A. Yes.

Q. When you were with Mr. Sneddon on Sunday, did you point out to him where people were sitting.

A. He told me not to.

Q. He told you not to tell him where people were sitting.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Well, let me ask you this: If he showed you this diagram of the plane, do you know why he would tell you, “Don’t tell me where people are sitting”.

A. I was actually -- well, I wanted to see it.

Q. You wanted to see what.

A. I wanted to see the diagram.

Q. Okay. Did you ask him in advance that you wanted to see the diagram.

A. No.

Q. Okay. You’re sitting with Mr. Sneddon in a Sunday meeting, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And what time was that.

A. I don’t remember. It was afternoon.

Q. Afternoon. Okay. Do you know about how long the meeting went.

A. No.

Q. Were you there alone with Prosecutor Sneddon.

A. No.

Q. Who else was there.

A. Steve Robel.

Q. Okay. Was Sheriff Robel talking.

A. No.

Q. Who first gave you the diagram.

A. Steve walked in with it.

Q. Okay. So he walks in with it and hands it to you, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And he asks you about the diagram, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you're saying that Prosecutor Sneddon said, "Don't tell us where people were sitting".

A. No, I was about to, but then he said, "No, don't tell me." So I didn't say nothing. I just wanted to go over it by myself.

Q. You wanted to go over the diagram just by yourself.

A. Oh, in my head.

Q. In your head.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So correct me if I'm wrong, you looked at this diagram; everybody was silent, and you thought about it in your head, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And then you gave it back to Prosecutor Sneddon, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Never discussed anything about what's on the diagram, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Never discussed it at all, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, in one of your police interviews, you were asked if you knew the difference between right and wrong, remember.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said you learned the difference between right and wrong from your mom, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And that was the truth, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Your mom told you never to lie, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did she tell you that before the J.C. Penney deposition.

A. She told us that our whole life.

Q. Whole life.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You actually told the police that you think lying is a sin, right.

A. Yes, I think so.
Q. Do you remember if you did that.
A. Not really.
Q. Okay. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the transcript.
A. Sure.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Actually, he testified that, yes, he told the police that.
MR. MESEREAU: Oh, I thought -- I didn’t --
THE COURT: Then you went on to his memory.

So, denied.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay.
THE COURT: Move along.
MR. MESEREAU: All right.
Q. You know you’re not supposed to lie under oath, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Has anyone discussed that with you before.
A. My whole family.
Q. Okay.
A. The D.A.
Q. They have all told you, “Don’t ever lie under oath,” right.
A. Yes. They just told me to tell the truth.
Q. Okay. Now, you talked about driving golf carts at Neverland, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you and your brothers used to do that during your visits to Neverland, right.
A. Yes.
THE COURT: Let’s take our break, Counsel.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.
(Recess taken.)
--o0o--

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 1189 through 1252 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 8, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California, March 8, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304L

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

TUESDAY, MARCH 8, 2005

(PAGES 1254 THROUGH 1332)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

E X H I B I T S

DEFENDANT'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
5001	Father's Day card and envelope	1299	1300

THE COURT: Go ahead.
MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q. Do you know approximately when your family --
THE BAILIFF: You have to turn your mike on.
MR. MESEREAU: Oh, okay. Sorry. I'll start again.

Q. Do you know approximately when your family left Neverland and never came back.

A. No.

Q. It was in the spring of 2003, wasn't it.

A. I don't know.

Q. Well, it was -- let me try and see if we can get to that place. You went to Miami in February of 2003, right.

A. I don't remember. I just know when we finally left, we had enough time to go back to school.

Q. Okay. And when did school start.

A. September.

Q. Okay.

A. September.

Q. Do you think you were at Neverland in June 2003.

A. I don't know.

Q. Do you think you were there in April of 2003.

A. I don't know.

Q. Okay. Have you ever discussed with your mom when you left Neverland and never came back.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you think you were at Neverland in August of 2003.

A. I don't know.

Q. Were you there right before you started school.

A. No.

Q. You actually left many months before you started school, didn't you.

A. No. We were in school.

Q. You were in school when you left Neverland, never to come back.

A. No. No. I didn't understand your question.

Q. Okay. Let me try and not confuse you. You come back from Miami, right.

A. Okay.

Q. And you go to Neverland, right. And at some point you left Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you're back from Miami, you stay at Neverland, and then you leave. Where do you go when you leave.

A. Back to Jay's house.

Q. Okay. That's Jay Jackson, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that when you had the interviews at Jay Jackson's house.

A. When we left the last time.

Q. Yes.

A. We never had an interview.

Q. Never had an interview at Jay Jackson's house.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Did you ever have an interview with three social workers at Jay Jackson's house.

A. Yes, but that was during this whole thing at Neverland.

Q. Okay. I'm just trying to find out approximately when -- excuse me. Yesterday you told the jury that at one point you left Neverland for the last time, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you never came back again, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And that was before you went to see Attorney Larry Feldman, wasn't it.

A. Before we left Neverland.

Q. No. You left Neverland for the last time before you first met Attorney Larry Feldman, right.

A. I don't understand the question.

Q. Okay. At some point you met Attorney Larry Feldman, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you went to see Attorney Larry Feldman with your mom, right.

A. Yes.
Q. And that was after you had left Neverland for the last time, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And at some point, Larry Feldman sent you to a psychologist named Katz, right.
A. I didn’t know -- I didn’t know he sent us.
Q. Okay. Well, you went to see a psychologist named Stanley Katz, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you saw him after you first met Attorney Larry Feldman, right.
A. Yes. Yes.
Q. And you met Attorney Larry Feldman after you met Attorney William Dickerman, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And this all happened in the spring of 2003, didn’t it.
A. I don’t -- I don’t remember.
Q. You don’t know. You were never at Neverland in the summer of 2003, were you.
A. Correct.
Q. Pardon me.
A. Correct.
Q. And you discussed many times with the Santa Barbara Sheriffs the fact that you left Neverland in the spring of 2003 and never came back, right.
A. Wait.

Q. Sure.
A. I was there in 2003.
Q. No, no. You were there in 2003, but you left in the spring, didn’t you.
A. I don’t remember when I left.
Q. Okay. Have you ever discussed with the sheriffs when you left.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Okay. Do you know if you were there in July of 2003.
A. Don’t remember.
Q. Okay. You could have been.
A. Probably.

Q. Pardon me.

A. Probably.

Q. Okay. You told the jury the first night you spent at Neverland, you slept where.

A. First out of all the trips.

Q. Yes.

A. In the guest unit.

Q. And that was your first night, right.

A. Of the first time I ever went to Neverland.

Q. Okay. Now, the first time you went to Neverland, do you recall having dinner with Michael Jackson in the main dining room.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was there for that dinner.

A. My mom -- wait. I know it was my dad, my brother, me, my sister, Michael. I think my mom was there also.

Q. Okay. Let me ask you this: You don’t recall seeing Psychologist Sanely Katz in May of 2003, right.

A. I don’t -- I don’t know the dates.

Q. Okay. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you his testimony. Would that help you.

A. His.

Q. If I showed you what Psychologist Stanley Katz told the grand jury.

A. Sure. But I don’t know the dates.

Q. Okay. If I showed you what he said, would that remind you.

A. I never knew the dates.

Q. Okay. Okay. So even if you saw it, it wouldn’t --

A. No.

Q. -- wouldn’t jog your memory.

Okay. Okay. And if I told you you saw Stanley Katz again in June of 2003, that wouldn’t jog your memory, would it.

A. No.

Q. All right. And if I told you when you first saw Attorney Larry Feldman, that wouldn’t jog your memory, would it.

A. No.
Q. Okay. But you never went back after you met Psychologist Katz, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, Your Honor. Vague.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay.
Q. Do you know if you ever returned to Neverland after you first met Psychologist Stanley Katz.
A. We never returned after we met Stanley Katz.
Q. Okay. And would it be true -- excuse me. It is true that you never returned to Neverland after you met Attorney Larry Feldman, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you first spoke to the Santa Barbara Sheriffs after you met Stanley Katz, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you first went to the Santa Barbara Sheriffs after you met Attorney Larry Feldman, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Is there anything I could show you that would remind you --
A. I never knew the dates.
Q. Okay -- - of when you met Attorney Feldman. Don’t know.
A. Never knew.
Q. All right. Okay. Do you have any idea what month it was when you last went to Neverland.
A. No.

Q. Okay. All right. But you never were there in August of 2003, were you.
A. I don’t remember the dates.
Q. You don’t know, okay. Now, you told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs about the locks in Michael Jackson’s home, did you not.
A. Yes.

Q. You said his bedroom has double doors, right.
A. Yes. When you first enter the room.
Q. And you said there are several locks, right.
A. There’s seven locks.
Q. Seven locks.
A. Yes.
Q. Including a combination lock, right.
A. Yes.
Q. How did you know there were seven locks.
A. I don’t know. I just remember looking at them.
Q. Did you know the combination to that combination lock.
A. Do you mean the digit key pad.
Q. Well, you told the police there’s a combination lock, didn’t you.
A. I said there was a key pad.
Q. Okay. Was that the code you were talking about.

A. Yes.
Q. All right. And did that code unlock the seven locks.
A. No, it only unlocked one lock. The other six locks were unlocked manually.
Q. Were what.
A. Were unlocked by hand.
Q. Okay. Have you ever unlocked any of those several locks.
A. I really don’t remember.
Q. You don’t remember at all.
A. No.
Q. You were caught trying to unlock those locks one time, weren’t you.
A. When.
Q. At Neverland.
A. I don’t remember that.
Q. Do you recall anyone from security ever catching you trying to open those locks.
A. From the outside.
Q. Yes.

A. You -- it’s impossible to open them from the outside.

Q. Did you ever try to do it.

A. No.

Q. Were you ever caught by any security person trying to open those locks.

A. No.

Q. Don’t recall that at all.

A. If -- if I ever went to the door and punched in the -- the key code, if it didn’t open, I just left. I never tried to force it open.

Q. So, you’re telling the jury that you did go, on at least one occasion --

A. No, I’m saying if that ever happened.

Q. If it ever happened.

A. If those two doors were locked.

Q. Right. If they were locked and you didn’t know the code, you couldn’t get in, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And are you saying you tried a code one time that didn’t work.

A. No, I’m just saying.

Q. Just saying what.

A. If the door was locked and you punch in the key code, there’s no other way you could possibly get in.

Q. All right. Because you tried it and it didn’t work one time, right.

A. I never said I did.

Q. Did you.

A. I’m just saying if I tried, that would happen.

Q. Did you ever try that.

A. No.

Q. Never once.

A. No.

Q. And never were caught by anyone trying to use the wrong code.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you know if your brother was ever caught trying to use the wrong code to get in.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you told the sheriffs that the code was either 1960 or 1849, right.

A. It was 1960 and 1849.

Q. How did you know that.

A. Because 1849 was the master code. And 1960, 1960 got you into Michael’s room.

Q. Okay. You told the sheriffs that 1849 is a general combination for Neverland, right.

A. Yes. It’s the master code.

Q. And 1960 is a combination for Michael’s bedroom, right.

A. Yes. It’s the code for Michael’s bedroom.

Q. Which one are you telling the jury the security guard gave you.

A. 1849.

Q. Do you know why the security guard gave it to you and not Michael.

A. We never really asked Michael for that. He just showed us one day.

Q. The security guard did.

A. Yes.

Q. And you remember the codes to this day, right.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times do you think you’ve used those codes.

A. A lot of times.

Q. How many times; do you think.

A. Probably over a hundred.

Q. Over a hundred times you’ve been to Michael Jackson’s bedroom.

A. No, it gets you in everywhere.

Q. So you’ve probably used these codes to see every room in Neverland, right.

A. No, I just -- I just knew the codes.

Q. Huh.

A. I memorized them.

Q. Okay.
A. So I won’t get locked out.
Q. But you’ve used them about a hundred times you said, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You’ve been into every single room at Neverland, haven’t you.
A. At one point, yes.
Q. You went in with your brothers, right. Or, excuse me, your brother, right.
A. In every room.
Q. Yes.

A. No.
Q. Did you go to every room by yourself.
A. No, I was either with -- I was with someone.
Q. Well, you weren’t always with Michael, right.
A. I was probably in the toy room with Prince and Paris and Grace.
Q. Okay. Did you let them into the room.
A. What.
Q. Did you use the code and let them into the room.
A. No. Grace knew the code.
Q. I’m asking you if you remember how many times you think you’ve used these codes --
A. A lot of times.
Q. -- to get into the rooms at Neverland. You said about 100, right.
A. No, I’m guessing. I’m just saying I used them a lot of times.
Q. Why did you pick the number 100.
A. I don’t know. I’m just trying to show that I used them a lot of times.
Q. All right. And you used them many times when Michael Jackson wasn’t even at Neverland, right.
A. He was there. It got you into the house. It got you into his bedroom. Got you into the front door.

Q. But you’ve used those codes many times when Michael Jackson wasn’t even at Neverland, right.

A. When.

Q. I’m asking you.

A. I never used them. What did you say.

Q. No, let me rephrase it.

You personally, Star Arvizo, have used those codes to get into rooms at Neverland when Michael Jackson wasn’t even there, right.

A. No. No.

Q. You’re saying --

A. We barely learned those codes after the Miami trip. I never knew them before.

Q. Do you recall ever being caught in the wine cellar --

A. The wine cellar doesn’t have a combination lock.

Q. Do you recall ever being caught in the wine cellar drinking wine when Michael Jackson wasn’t present.

A. Never.

Q. Never happened.

A. It -- it’s always locked, and it always -- it -- to unlock it you need a key. There’s no combination to get in there.

Q. Let me repeat my question.

Do you recall ever being caught in the wine cellar at Neverland with Gavin drinking wine when Michael Jackson wasn’t even there.

A. No.

Q. Are you saying that never happened.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you ever recall being caught at any other location in Neverland drinking wine when Michael Jackson wasn’t there.

A. No.

Q. Okay. That never happened.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, you just told the jury voluntarily where the key is to get in the wine cellar, right.

A. No, I said that the door, the wine cellar needed a key to get in there.
Q. And you knew where the key was, correct.
A. I knew it was in the lounge.
Q. You knew where it was hanging in the lounge, right.
A. Not exactly. I didn’t know where it was hanging. I just knew it was in the lounge.
Q. Well, please describe the lounge for the jury.
A. It has a closet, a couch, a rest room with a shower. It was pretty small.
Q. You’ve been in the lounge many times, haven’t you.
A. No.

Q. How many times have you been in the lounge.
A. Once to put on a cooking shirt.
Q. You’ve been in the lounge once to put on a cooking shirt.
A. Yes.
Q. And that’s the lounge that’s right next -- excuse me, that’s right next to the wine cellar, correct.
A. No. The wine cellar’s in the arcade, under -- downstairs.
Q. How do you get into the wine cellar.
A. You push a jukebox out of the stairs, and you go downstairs.
Q. And when you go downstairs, what do you see.
A. It’s like a bomb shelter thing, almost. There’s sleeping bags, there’s pillows. There’s like canned sausages and a bunch of, like, little Michael Jackson gold energy drinks. And you enter into another small room which has a bunch of wine and a bunch of alcohol in there.
Q. And to get into that room with the wine, what do you have to do.
A. Need someone with a key.
Q. And where do you find the key.

A. I don’t know. I just knew it was in the lounge, and Jesus had one, and that’s all I knew.

Q. Okay. Now, how many times have you been down in the wine cellar.

A. Twice.

Q. So when you described the lounge in detail, you weren’t talking about the wine cellar, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You just described the little room right next to the wine cellar, right.

A. No, I described a room that’s in the main house. The wine cellar’s in the arcade.

Q. Okay.

A. Away from the house.

Q. When you go into the wine cellar, you go downstairs, right.

A. Yes.

Q. What does that stairs look like.

A. It’s wooden, and they go down. And they have steps.

Q. And you go down the steps and what’s the first thing you see.

A. A wall.

Q. Pardon me.

A. A wall.

Q. Okay.

A. And then you look to your right and there’s a door.

Q. Okay. And what does the door look like.

A. It’s wooden. And it looks like an old-fashioned door.

Q. Okay. And if you’re facing the door and you look to your left, what do you see.

A. A wall.

Q. Okay. And if you’re facing the door and you look to your right, what do you see.

A. The stairs leading up to the arcade.

Q. Is there any room close to the wine cellar.

A. No except a little room upstairs in the arcade that had a bunch of books in it.

Q. Okay. And to get into that wine cellar, there’s a key, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And the key was hanging in one location, correct.

A. I said I didn’t know where the key was.

Q. But you really did know where it was, didn’t you.

A. Not really.

Q. Not really.

A. No.

Q. But you got the key one time yourself, didn’t you.

A. I’ve never gotten the key myself.

Q. You asked for the key, didn’t you.

A. What.

Q. You asked for the key to the wine cellar at one point, didn’t you.

A. Never. Never.

Q. You knew where the key was hanging --

A. No.

Q. -- because you were watched taking that key at one point, weren’t you.

A. I never took the key at one point.

Q. Okay. All right. So how many times have you been in the wine cellar, then.

A. Twice.

Q. All right. And you learned this description of the wine cellar by just being there twice, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you ever caught drinking wine in the guest quarters.

A. Never.

Q. Never once.

A. Never.

Q. Never touched it at the guest quarters, right.

A. Never.

Q. Okay. You gave a description of Michael’s bedroom to the jury yesterday, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And what did you tell the jury you’d find on the first floor.
A. The first floor.
Q. Yes. The first floor of Michael’s bedroom, yes.
A. The room to the right or to the left.

Q. Let’s take the room to the left. What do you see in the room to the left.
A. All the way to the left.
Q. Yes.
A. There’s like -- there’s a counter with a bunch of perfumes and colognes. There’s a mirror. There’s another big mirror behind it. There’s speakers. There’s a bunch of electric razors in a drawer. There’s a big bathtub, Jacuzzi-type thing. There used to be a reclining chair there. It wasn’t -- you couldn’t -- it was -- it was like a square cushion, and there was a cushioned chair, and there’s a dresser. There’s a door with a small -- with a toilet in there. There’s glass doors all the way to the end. There’s a big safe in there. What else. There’s a -- yeah.
Q. And how about the room to the right.
A. All the way to the right, there’s another counter with a bunch of stuff on it. There’s a poster of Harry Potter and his two friends. There’s a rest room all the way, if you keep walking down, with a shower. There’s a closet to your left with a bunch of clothes and a bunch of souvenirs from other movies.
There’s -- when you first walk in, there’s a closet with a bunch of pajamas. And if you go to your left, there’s the stairs going up. What else is there. There’s a -- that’s it.

Q. You and your brother were caught in that room when Michael Jackson wasn't even at Neverland, weren't you.

A. To sleep, yeah.

Q. You and your brother used to go into that room when Michael wasn't even at Neverland, right.

A. Yes, Michael opened his room up to us so we could sleep there while he was gone.

Q. You were actually asked to leave that room when you were caught during a time when Michael wasn't even at Neverland, right.

A. No.

Q. And you and your brother rummaged through every room in that bedroom area, correct.

A. No.

Q. You went snooping around the entire bedroom area when Michael wasn't even there, correct.

A. No.

Q. You went into that closet when Michael wasn't even there, correct.

A. No.

Q. How do you know there are pajamas in the closet.

A. Because Michael showed us.

Q. So Michael was showing you every little bit of the bedroom.

A. No, he just showed us where the pajamas were.

Q. And you were never caught in there and asked to leave; is that what you're saying.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, referring to Exhibit 86 --

May I approach the witness, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

Q. Star, I'm showing you a photograph that you identified yesterday. The number is 86. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. And that's a briefcase with some girlie magazines, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you told the jury yesterday, they're the magazines you saw at Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And before you testified about these magazines --

May I show the jury this, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

Shall I just hand it to them.

THE COURT: If that's what you would like.

MR. SANGER: Tom, do you want to put it up on the screen.

MR. MESEREAU: Sure.

MR. SANGER: I've turned this on.

THE BAILIFF: It would be "Input 4."

THE COURT: It would be "4".

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, do you see that briefcase, Star.

A. Yes.

Q. And what you're looking at is Exhibit 86, right.

A. I don't see the number.

Q. Okay. Just -- what you're looking at is a -- appears to be a black briefcase with some girlie magazines, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And the first one says "Barely Legal" on it; do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. And it appears to be a blonde woman lifting up her shirt, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And it appears to be a blonde woman who's exposing her breasts, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And she appears to be wearing a dark pair of shorts, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Before you testified yesterday you looked at that photograph with Prosecutor Sneddon, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You told Prosecutor Sneddon that those are the magazines you had seen at Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You told Prosecutor Sneddon that Michael Jackson had showed you those magazines, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Michael Jackson never showed you that magazine, “Barely Legal,” did he.

A. What.

Q. Michael Jackson never showed you that magazine, “Barely Legal,” did he.

A. He did show us.

Q. He did.

A. Yes.

Q. Well, Star, did you look at the date of the magazine. It’s August of 2003, is it not.

A. Well, I never said that was exactly that one.

Q. Well, your family had left Neverland many months before, never to return, correct.

A. That -- I’m telling you that that wasn’t exactly the one he showed us.

Q. That’s not what you said yesterday, and it’s not what you said today, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, that’s argumentative.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you told the jury yesterday that Michael Jackson showed you the magazine “Barely Legal,” you were not telling the truth, right.

A. Um, I said that he did show us Barely Legal. I didn’t say that he showed us that exact one. He showed us those magazines.

Q. You told the jury yesterday that Michael showed you the particular magazine depicted in the photograph, didn’t you.

A. No. I said that he showed us those type of magazines.

Q. You’re saying it now because you just found out what the date is, right.

A. I never said those were exactly the ones.

Q. Okay. Okay. Did you discuss this issue with Prosecutor Sneddon this morning.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever discussed this issue with any prosecutor.

A. Never.

Q. Ever discussed this issue with any Santa Barbara Sheriff’s officer.

A. Never.

Q. Okay. You testified yesterday to the jury that you found that briefcase cracked open, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. In fact, you and your brother were caught trying to get into that briefcase, weren’t you.

A. No.

Q. You deny that anyone at Neverland ever caught you trying to get into the briefcase.

A. Yes.

Q. Are there any locks at Neverland other than the ones you described.

A. Any other.

Q. Yes.

A. There’s a lot more locks.

Q. Please tell the jury where the other locks are.

A. Almost on every door.

Q. And how do you get into those locks.

A. On every single door.

Q. Yes.

A. Do you want me to explain every lock.

Q. Sure, the ones you know about. Sure.

A. Mostly all locked from the inside, not -- I don’t know what you’re trying to ask me.

Q. Well, I’d like you to tell the jury what you know about each lock at Neverland.

A. There’s like hundreds of locks.

Q. Okay. Let’s take ten of them.

A. Okay.

Q. Wherever they may be. Just tell the jury what you know about those ten locks and where they are.

A. They all lock from the inside.

Q. And how do you unlock them.

A. From the inside.

Q. Is there any other way to unlock them.

A. No.

Q. Have you unlocked any of those locks, ever.

A. From the inside.

Q. Yes.

A. Probably coming out of the rest room.

Q. Which lock are you talking about.

A. The rest room lock.

Q. What other locks have you unlocked at Neverland.

A. Um -- um -- rest room lock, door lock. What else. I can’t really remember every lock I unlocked.

Q. Do you remember testifying in front of the Santa Barbara grand jury.

A. A little, yes.

Q. Do you remember the prosecutor handed you a girlie magazine to look at.

A. When.

Q. When you were in front of the Santa Barbara grand jury.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object; assumes facts not in evidence.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Were you ever asked to look at a girlie magazine when you testified in front of the Santa Barbara grand jury.

A. I was never handed a girlie magazine.

Q. Has Mr. Sneddon ever shown you a girlie magazine during your interviews.

A. No, except on the -- on the photo that you just showed.

Q. Okay. And when was that.

A. When.

Q. When was that.

A. Just a moment ago.

Q. Okay. Just a moment ago.

A. Yes. I’m talking about the picture you just showed a moment ago.

Q. Yes. Yes. He showed you that picture, right.

A. Yes. In the grand jury.

Q. And did you testify in the grand jury that you saw these magazines.

A. No, I said I saw those types of magazines.

Q. Okay. Mr. Arvizo --

A. Yes.

Q. -- you told Mr. Sneddon, in no uncertain terms, that those were the magazines you had seen, didn’t you.

A. I said those -- those are the type of magazines we saw.

Q. Okay. Had you ever seen any girlie magazines in your life before you say Michael Jackson showed them to you.

A. Hmm, no.

Q. Never.

A. Well, I was only like 11, 12.

Q. Weren’t you caught at Neverland looking in girlie magazines.

A. I said no.

Q. No one ever caught you and your brother looking at girlie magazines at Neverland.

A. Never.

Q. Okay. Okay. And your testimony is until you got to Neverland, you and your brother had never looked at a girlie magazine at any time; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Before you got to Neverland, had you ever used a computer.

A. Yes. In school.

Q. Had you ever used one at home.

A. No.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m a little late on the trigger on this one, but I want to object to that as vague and have it stricken in terms of what point in time we’re talking about.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SNEDDON: Could the question and the answer be stricken, please.

THE COURT: Denied.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Before your first visit to Neverland, had you ever used a computer.

A. No.

Q. Did you know anything about computers before you made your first visit to Neverland.

A. I knew I could punch in some keys and I could spell a word.

Q. And where had you learned to do that.

A. At school, at word-processing class.

Q. Before you were first interviewed by the Santa Barbara Sheriffs, did you know anything about computers.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did you know about computers at that point.

A. How to type and how to surf the net.

Q. You knew how to surf the net before you first went to Neverland, didn’t you.

A. I didn’t even know we had Internet. Well, I might have, but never really --

Q. You say you might have.

A. Yeah, I might have, but I never really saw the point of going there.

Q. When you were first interviewed by the Santa Barbara Sheriffs, you told them about what you’ve claimed Michael Jackson and Frank did with a computer, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that they found a site like the AOL, right.
A. Like the AOL.
Q. Yes.
A. Well, I was kind of nervous -- I was kind of nervous in that interview. I might have dropped off on half of my sentence.
Q. You were kind of nervous in the interview and you might have dropped off like half of your sentence.
A. Yes. Whenever -- well, that’s how I speak. Whenever I’m nervous, I cut off part of my sentence. Or -- I don’t know, I’m just -- that’s how I am.
Q. Has anyone showed you a record of your interview before you testified today.
A. Yes.
Q. Who.
A. D.A.’s Office.
Q. Excuse me.
A. The D.A.’s Office.
Q. Who in the D.A.’s Office showed you a transcript of your interview before you testified today.
A. What interview. The Santa Barbara.
Q. Yes.
A. It was mailed to me.
Q. And do you know who mailed it to you.
A. No.

Q. Do you know when you received it.
A. About a month ago.
Q. Did you read it.
A. No.
Q. You didn’t read it at all.
A. Well, I did read it towards the end.
Q. Did you read the whole thing.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you then discuss that transcript with anybody.
A. No.
Q. Never.

A. No. Tom told us not to.

Q. Okay. Well, I haven't showed you that portion of the transcript yet today, right.

A. What.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I object as vague.

MR. MESEREAU: I'll rephrase it. I'll rephrase.

Q. The part of the transcript where you told the sheriffs about AOL - okay. --

A. Okay.

Q. -- when did you last see that page.

A. I don't even remember seeing it.

Q. You never saw it.

A. No, I don't remember seeing it, but it was probably in there.

Q. Okay. Well, I'll represent to you that your sentence does sort of break off.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. A lot of my sentences do.

Q. How did you know that sentence broke off.

A. Because when I'm nervous, that's how I talk.

Q. Pardon me.

A. When I'm nervous, that's how I talk.

Q. You clearly looked at that before you testified today, didn't you.

A. No. I didn't look at those papers.

Q. Never looked at them once.

A. No. Probably looked at them when I got up here, when -- no, not right here, but when I came up to Santa Barbara.

Q. When you came up to Santa Barbara, you're saying you looked at your transcript of your police interview, right.

A. No.

Q. Okay. I'm sorry, I'm not understanding what you're saying. And if I'm not being clear, just tell me. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. There was a point in your sheriff's interview where you talked about Frank and Michael Jackson showing you a computer, right.

A. Yes. It was the -- that was the same computer my brother had.

Q. And is that a computer that Michael Jackson gave to your brother.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know when he gave it to him.

A. During the first visit.

Q. Okay. And you told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs, like you told the jury yesterday, that during that first visit, Michael Jackson and Frank showed you the computer, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You told the sheriffs they looked at a site like AOL, correct.

A. I don’t -- I don’t know what I meant by saying that.

Q. But you said it.

A. I know. I probably cut off the sentence.

Q. You’re saying that you told the sheriffs it was a site like AOL, but you don’t know what AOL means.

A. I probably meant we probably went on AOL and we found a site there.

Q. Do you know what “AOL” means.

A. It’s an Internet company.

Q. When you told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs you went on a site --

A. Yes.

Q. -- like AOL, you knew how to use the Internet, right.

A. No. I don’t remember saying that.

Q. When you were first interviewed by the Santa Barbara Sheriffs --

A. Okay.

Q. First interview, okay.

A. Right.

Q. You told them Michael Jackson and Frank showed you and your brother a site on the computer, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You told them it was a site like AOL, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You knew what AOL was when you mentioned that, didn't you.

A. Yes.

Q. Why did you just tell the jury you didn't know.

A. I knew it after my brother was -- was, I don't know, I don't know, was connected or -- I don't know the word, but when he was -- because when Michael gave him the laptop, he had someone call him and set up an AOL account for my brother for his laptop.

Q. Okay. You and your brother had looked at Internet sites before you ever visited Neverland, hadn't you.

A. No. I had -- I was -- never really used the Internet.

Q. Your brother had, as far as you know, right.

A. No. I never -- never really monitored my brother.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I never really monitored my brother.

Q. When Michael Jackson gave your brother a computer --

A. Yes.

Q. -- you and your brother already knew how to use it, correct.

A. No. He called someone to hook it up. Well, talked to my brother on the phone of how to hook it up.

Q. You told the police in your first interview you looked at www dot p-u-s-s-y dot com.

A. No, I was making an example that I was trying to say, that wasn't the exact site. I'm just saying, I was just making an example.

Q. Okay. You also told the police you might have looked at www dot t-e-e-n p-u-s-s-y dot com, right.

A. No. I never said that.

Q. You never said that to the sheriffs.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you their report.

A. Sure.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page.

A. Yes, but --

Q. “But” what.

A. I never said that. That’s just a paragraph that somebody wrote.

Q. So you never said that to the Santa Barbara Sheriffs --

A. I might have, but I don’t remember saying it.

Q. Well, you are saying that if it appears in a report, it’s wrong.

A. Well, I’m saying I never remember saying it.

Q. Okay. Star, you and your brother were caught at Neverland looking at computer sites when Michael wasn’t even there, right.

A. There’s no computers at Neverland.

Q. Your brother had one.

A. At the beginning. But then it broke, and then we never had it again. And the only other computer there was Frank’s computer, and Frank took it everywhere he went.

Q. Okay. So you never were caught by anybody --

A. No.

Q. -- looking at adult material sites on a computer.

A. No.

Q. Is that correct.

A. There's no computers in Neverland.

Q. Okay. Now, did you tell the sheriffs that Michael Jackson kept your family away from clocks.

A. Well, we never knew the time.

Q. Well, did you tell the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that, "Michael Jackson would never let us look at clocks," or words to that effect.

A. Words -- could I see it.

Q. I'm just asking you.

A. No. Well, yes. Probably said it to an extent like that.

Q. Well, just tell the jury, if you would, how you remember saying it.

A. I just remember saying that -- I don't remember how exactly how I said it.

Q. Well, you said words to the effect, "Michael Jackson kept my family away from clocks and time," right.

A. Were those my exact words.

Q. No, I'm saying, words to that effect. Do you remember exactly how you said it to the sheriff.

A. No. I don't know exactly.

Q. Do you remember roughly how you said it to the sheriffs.

A. Not really.

Q. Did you say anything like that to the sheriffs.

A. Yes.

Q. Please tell the jury what you told the sheriffs.

A. I'm going to be guessing, because I don't know my exact words.

Q. Okay. I'm not asking for your exact words. I'm just asking you for generally what you said.

A. They kept us away from the clocks. We didn't know the exact time or the date or nothing.

Q. Would you agree that overlooking Neverland is a huge clock.

A. Yes. It's a flower clock.

Q. Yes. And to the right of that big flower clock is another clock, correct.

A. Probably.

Q. There are clocks all over Neverland, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you and your brothers used to run all around Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You wanted the sheriffs to think that you and your family were imprisoned and kept away from clocks.

A. No.

Q. That’s why you told them that lie, right.

A. No.

Q. If there are clocks all over Neverland, if there’s a big flower clock on a hill overlooking Neverland, and if you and your brothers were running freely around Neverland, why did you tell the Santa Barbara Sheriffs “We were kept away from clocks and time”.

A. Because they were wrong and we were kept away from them. We weren’t able to know the time.

Q. Your mother told you to say that, didn’t she.

A. No.

Q. It was a lie, wasn’t it.

A. No.

Q. It defies common sense, doesn’t it.

A. Can you explain that.

Q. You don’t know what that means.

A. I know what common sense is.

Q. Everywhere you go at Neverland, you can see clocks, right.

A. Not everywhere.

Q. Most places, right.

A. Yes, most places.

Q. And you and your brother were up on a hill --

A. They weren’t always correct. Yeah, they had clocks there, but they weren’t always correct.

Q. Well, if you didn’t know what time it was, how do you know they weren’t correct.

A. Because the clocks were -- one clock was saying five o’clock and another clock was saying nine o’clock. That’s how I knew they were wrong.

Q. Star, you knew what time it was at Neverland, didn’t you.

A. No.

MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you ever send letters or cards to Michael Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know when you did that.

A. When we first met Michael.

Q. And approximately when was that again.

A. When I was 10, 11.

Q. And do you know approximately when you first met Michael.

A. While my brother was having cancer.

Q. Was that probably the fall of 2000.

A. I don’t know the date.

Q. Was it 2001.

A. I don’t know the date.

Q. Was it 2002.

A. I just know it was between when my brother was having cancer.

Q. Did your mother help you write your letters to Michael.

A. Hmm, no.

Q. Did you write them yourself.

A. Yes.

Q. You wrote a letter to Michael, Star, where you said -- you thanked him, “Because even when your hearts get broken and shattered into tiny little pieces, we always still love, need and care about you with every tiny little piece of our hearts,” right.

A. Are you reading that from a card.

Q. I'm asking you if you remember saying anything like that.

A. No.

Q. Never said it.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a card --

A. Yes.

Q. -- that you sent to Michael.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, could I see the card before counsel shows him.

MR. MESEREAU: Sure. My mistake.

MR. SNEDDON: That's okay. My mistake; I just didn't....

MR. MESEREAU: May I have this marked as the exhibit next in order, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, Your Honor. If he's going to refresh the individual's recollection first, and that --

MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me, Your Honor, I'm doing it.

THE COURT: He's changed his --

MR. SNEDDON: I object.

THE COURT: He's changed his approach.

MR. MESEREAU: I'm doing it.

THE COURT: He was going to refresh. Now he's asking if the exhibit may be marked. He can have the exhibit marked.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE CLERK: It's 5001.

MR. MESEREAU: 5001.

MR. SNEDDON: No objection that it come in.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, that would be a card and an envelope. Would you like them to be two exhibits or can they be the same.

THE COURT: I think they can be the same.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Thank you.

Q. Star, I’m going to show you a card and envelope that have been marked as Exhibit 5001. Okay.

A. I think I wrote this off another card.

Q. Okay. But you did write it, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Have you seen that before.

A. I haven’t seen this in a long time.

Q. But that’s your handwriting, isn’t it.

A. Yes, when I was really little. Yes.

Q. And how about the envelope. Have you seen that envelope, the purple envelope. Have you seen that before.

A. Yes.

Q. That’s the envelope the card came in.

A. I don’t remember if the envelope came with this card.

Q. Okay. And you gave Michael Jackson your phone number, right, at the bottom.

A. Looks like it.

Q. Okay.

A. Wait. I don’t remember that being my phone number. But if it is, it was.

MR. MESEREAU: I would move this document into evidence, Your Honor.

MR. SNEDDON: I already said no objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: It’s admitted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You said to Michael Jackson, “My super, super, best, best friend,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. You said, “I love you, I love you,” repeatedly, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you referred to Father’s Day, right.

A. I didn’t read the card.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you the envelope.

A. Sure.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: “Happy Father’s Day.”

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Yeah, you said “Happy Father’s Day” on the envelope, right.

A. Wait. Can I see it one more time.

Q. Sure.

May I.

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: Sorry. Okay.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You sent the card on Father’s Day, correct.

A. Sure. I don’t remember, but, okay.

Q. You told Mr. Jackson, “You always heal us in a very special way,” right.

A. I wrote that off another card.

Q. What other card did you write that off of.

A. It was a card that already had it written on there.

Q. Where did you get that card.

A. Probably from a supermarket or --

Q. Excuse me.

A. Probably from a supermarket.

Q. Okay. So you took a card from a supermarket --

A. Yes.

Q. -- and wrote the words.

A. It was a card lying around. My grandmother got a lot of cards from her grandchildren.

Q. You said, “Michael, you are special to us,” right.

A. Okay.

Q. “We loyally and faithfully love you more,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. “We love you unconditionally, to infinity and beyond forever,” right.

A. Okay.

Q. And you said, “Thank you, Michael, for being our family,” right.

A. Okay.

Q. “Love, your Blow Hole, Star Arvizo,” right.

A. Okay.

Q. 626-452-1693, right.

A. I don’t even remember having that phone number, but --

Q. The card is signed “Davellin, Gavin, Star and me,” right.

A. “Me”. Okay.

Q. Well, there’s other people’s writings on there also, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you all used to write to Michael and tell him about how he had healed your family, right.

A. What do you mean. We never -- we probably wrote to him like --

Q. Pardon me.

A. I only wrote to him, like, three times.

Q. Okay. But you would write to him and tell him how he had healed your family, true.

A. I don’t remember that.

Q. Your mother would ask you to do that, right.

A. No.

Q. And your family often referred to Michael as a father figure, right.

A. Um, sure.

Q. You did that often, right.

A. Refer to him as a father figure.

Q. Yes. You always referred to Michael as being part of your family, didn’t you.

A. Yes. Part of our family.

Q. Your mother used to do that, correct.

A. What do you mean.

Q. You don’t know what I mean.

A. No.

Q. Your mother used to refer to Michael Jackson as being part of your family, didn’t she.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object as to vague as to time.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it, Your Honor.

Q. From the time you first met Michael Jackson, you used to refer to him as being part of your family, didn’t you.

A. Yes.

Q. From the time your mother first met Michael Jackson, she used to refer to him as being part of your family, right.

A. I can’t speak for my mom.

Q. You never heard her say that.

A. Not really.

Q. From the time your sister first met Michael Jackson, she used to refer to him as being part of the family, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did you ever hear her say that.

A. No.

Q. But you started doing it yourself, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you say you did it by copying a card from a supermarket.

A. Yes, I just plugged his name in.

Q. Okay. So this handwriting of yours all comes from a supermarket card; is that correct.

A. No, not from a supermarket card. I rewrote the supermarket card.

Q. Okay. So when you said to Michael, “Thank you, Michael, because even when our hearts are and get broken and shattered into tiny little pieces, we always still love, need and care about you with every tiny little piece of our hearts, because you always heal us in a very special way,” did you get that from a supermarket card.

A. I plugged some words in, I plugged his name in, and that’s how I got that paragraph.

Q. And you recall sending it to him.

A. What.

Q. Do you recall sending it to him.

A. Not really.

Q. Do you recall giving it to him.

A. Not really.

Q. Yesterday you told the jury that when you were interviewed on that rebuttal tape and your family said things about Michael healing Gavin and being a father, that that was something scripted, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. But nobody scripted the words in this card, did they.

A. No. But that was before all that happened.

Q. Before what happened, Star.

A. Before the Miami trip, and before we finally left.

Q. So what you're saying is before the Miami trip, you always, you and your family always referred to Michael as "Daddy" and as someone who would heal.

A. We never had a constant connection with Michael during that time.

Q. Then why would you write a card like this to him.

A. Probably when we came back from Neverland. I don't know. I was really little when I wrote that card.

Q. Your mother asked you to write it, didn't she.

A. No.

Q. Your mother never asked you to write to Michael.

A. No.

Q. Your mother -- how old were you when you wrote the card; do you think.

A. Probably -- I don't know. I don't know.

Q. Well, how old do you think you were. Ten. Nine.

A. I can't guess. I don't know.

Q. Well, how old are you now.

A. 14.

Q. We're talking about a couple of years ago, right.

A. I don’t know. I don’t want to say the wrong age.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I don’t want to say the wrong age.

Q. No, just do your best. Just estimate. We’re talking about a couple of years ago, correct.

A. No.

Q. Huh.

A. No.

Q. Well, how long ago do you think you were visiting Neverland.

A. Back in 2000 and 2001.

Q. All right. How old do you think you were in 2000 and 2001.

A. Ten.

Q. Are you saying that when you were ten years old nobody told you what words to write on this card.

A. Yes.

Q. You wrote it all yourself when you were ten.

A. No, the card helped me.

Q. Well, what about the words, “When we get broken and shattered into tiny little pieces we always still love, need and care about you with every tiny little piece of our hearts, because you always heal us in a very special way”. Did you make those words up at the age of 10.

A. No, the card did.

Q. The card did.

A. Yes. The card already had them written on there.

Q. Oh, I see, so you took a card and copied it.

A. Yes, I told you.

Q. And your mother wasn’t involved in that.

A. No.

Q. And your father wasn’t involved in that.

A. No.

Q. And Gavin wasn’t involved in that.

A. No.
Q. And Davellin wasn’t involved in that, right.
A. No.
Q. You did it all yourself, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Then how come you got other family members writing on the same card.
A. Well, they probably wrote on the card after I was done with it.
Q. Did you see them do that.
A. No, I just wrote on it, and I left it there.
Q. Are you saying they probably did that, or you know they did that.
A. They probably did that.
Q. Okay. But what you’re telling the jury - and correct me if I’m wrong - is long before the rebuttal video, your family was referring to Michael as “Daddy,” and as someone who had healed the family, true.
MR. SNEDDON: Object, Your Honor, as compound.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it, Your Honor. I think it is compound.
THE COURT: All right.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Long before the rebuttal film, your family was referring to Michael as a father figure, right.
A. It was long before the Miami trip, too.
Q. You say long before it.
A. Yes.
Q. Well, in the year --
A. And --
Q. Pardon me.
A. And my brother was referring to him as a father figure.
Q. Okay. Long before the Miami trip, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And long before the Miami trip, your mother was referring to him as a father figure, right.
A. My brother.
Q. Is that true.

A. Yes, my brother needed a father at that time. He was barely coming out of his terminal illness.

Q. And long before the Miami trip, you were referring to Michael Jackson as a father figure, right.

A. I don’t remember doing it, but okay. 1309

Q. Well, did you do that.

A. No.

Q. Pardon me.

A. No.

Q. You didn’t do it.

A. No.

Q. What about the card.

A. So. That’s what -- that’s what the card had on it, so I -- I rewrit it on a piece of paper and -- and I plugged in his name.

Q. Now, “Blow Hole” was a nickname for a fish, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Your nickname was based on a fish, right.

A. I made it up. I was going to give it to Michael. We had a rock/paper/scissors, I lost, so I got stuck with that name.

Q. Okay. Do you remember meeting with Psychologist Stanley Katz to talk about what you claim Michael Jackson did to your mother. Do you remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. You told Stanley Katz that Michael Jackson gave you red wine and vodka, correct.

A. I don’t remember saying that.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you his testimony.

A. Whose testimony. 1310

Q. Stanley Katz.

A. I never said that to him, so --

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you what he says you told him.

A. That’s what he said.

Q. Okay. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you what he said.

A. Okay, but it’s not going to help.

Q. It’s not going to help you.

A. Yeah, I remember saying red and white wine, and there’s one time we got vodka, yes.

Q. You told Stanley Katz that you were given vodka.

A. Yes.

Q. But yesterday you told the jury it was just wine, right.

A. I forgot.

Q. You might have forgot yesterday.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You told Stanley Katz that the first time you observed your brother in bed with Michael Jackson, that Michael Jackson had put his hand on your brother’s crotch, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You then changed that to say he had put his hand inside your brother’s pants, right.

A. He might have said it, but I know what I said.

Q. Excuse me. I’m sorry.

A. Repeat the question.

Q. Originally, you told Stanley Katz that Michael Jackson had put his hand near your brother’s crotch, right.

A. Near.

Q. Yes.

A. Okay.

Q. Is that right.

A. No.

Q. Well, you said he put his hand on his crotch, correct.

A. In his underwears.

Q. And as time went on, after interview and after interview, you changed that to masturbation, true.

A. Masturbating my brother.

Q. Let me rephrase it.

A. Okay.

Q. You told Stanley Katz that the first time you saw Michael Jackson in bed with your brother, the time you went up the stairs, that Michael Jackson had put his hand on your brother’s crotch, right.

A. When they were going up the stairs.

Q. Yes.

A. While they were going up the stairs.

Q. While you’re going up the stairs.

A. Okay.

Q. Let me rephrase it. Don’t answer it if you’re confused. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. You told the jury yesterday you went up the stairs one night, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You got into the room yourself, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You said the bell went off, right.

A. When I first walked in through the hallway, yes.

Q. And even though the bell went off, you kept going up the stairs, right.

A. The bell went off while I was -- made my way through the hallway.

Q. The bell went off when you opened the door, didn’t it.

A. No, it stopped.

Q. Pardon me.

A. It stopped.

Q. It just stopped.

A. Yeah. It goes for a couple more minutes and then it stops.

Q. And then what happens.

A. That’s it.

Q. It never goes on again.

A. No.

Q. It goes off so Michael can hear it, correct.
A. If the door’s closed, you can’t hear nothing.
Q. Can’t hear anything upstairs.
A. No.
Q. Is that what you’re saying.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. The bell goes off. You say Michael doesn’t hear it, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you say that you open his door to the stairway, right, and you say you go upstairs, right.
A. Okay.
Q. The first one you say you describe that to was Stanley Katz, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. You told Stanley Katz that Michael Jackson had his left hand on Gavin’s crotch, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Never told him that Michael Jackson was masturbating Gavin.
A. He wasn’t masturbating. He was just feeling.
Q. He was just feeling him.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember yesterday you told the jury he was masturbating him.
A. No, I said Michael was feeling my brother

while he was masturbating.
Q. Okay. Did you ever tell the jury yesterday that Michael was masturbating your brother.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever tell that to anybody.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Do you remember when you described for Stanley Katz the second time you claim Michael Jackson was observed by you in bed with your brother. Do you remember that.
A. What.

Q. Do you remember telling Stanley Katz there was a second time that you went up the stairs and observed Michael Jackson touching your brother.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you tell Stanley Katz that Michael Jackson had his hand on your brother's crotch.

A. Yes.

Q. That's really not what you told him at all, is it.

A. What are you talking about.

Q. Well, you told Stanley Katz that Michael Jackson was rubbing his penis against Gavin's buttocks, didn't you.

A. When. The second time.

Q. Yes. Did you tell Stanley Katz that.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you his grand jury testimony.

A. I know what I said, though.

Q. Are you denying telling Psychologist Stanley Katz --

A. The second time.

Q. -- that you told him the second time you observed Michael Jackson touching your brother in bed, that Michael Jackson was rubbing his penis against your brother's buttocks.

A. No.

Q. You never told that to Stanley Katz.

A. No.

Q. If I showed you his testimony, would that jog your memory.

A. No. I know what I said, though.

Q. Okay. You tried to tell Stanley Katz that you smelled marijuana, didn't you.

A. I don't know how marijuana smells.

Q. Didn't you tell Stanley Katz you smelled marijuana.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you that page of his testimony.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, are you saying that you never told Michael Jackson you wanted to be an actor.

A. No.

Q. Never told him that at all, right.

A. No.

Q. Okay. To your knowledge, did your mother ever tell Michael Jackson you wanted to be an actor.

A. I can’t speak for her.

Q. Did you ever hear her say that.

A. No.

Q. You went to dancing classes, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And what school did you go to.

A. I went to Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy’s Dance Studio. I went to -- where else did I go. I went to ballet classes, rhythm/tap, a little bit of jazz. What else. That’s it.

Q. And you went to comedy class, right.

A. Sure. Yes.

Q. When did you go to comedy class.

A. In the summer. In the summer.

Q. What summer was that.

A. In between third and fourth.

Q. Were you trying to learn to be a comedian.

A. No, I just wanted to do it for fun.

Q. Okay. Ever tell anyone you wanted to be a comedian.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that Frank threatened you and your family, right.

A. He just threatened me.

Q. He just threatened you alone.

A. He probably threatened my family.

Q. Did he threaten you alone.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know when that was.

A. I don’t know the date.

Q. Was it when you first got to Neverland.
A. I don’t really remember.
Q. Was it after the Miami trip.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know how soon after the Miami trip.
A. I think it was right before the rebuttal.
Q. Right before the rebuttal.
A. I was trying to go talk to my mom.
Q. So this would be before, if I represent to you the rebuttal was June 20th, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Excuse me, February 20th, pardon me. February 20th was the rebuttal tape, right.
A. Okay.
Q. And you’re saying that Frank threatened you right before the rebuttal tape.
A. While I was trying to walk to my mom’s guest unit.
Q. Okay. But it was -- as far as you know, it’s before the rebuttal tape, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And in one of your sheriffs’ interviews, you were asked why Frank made that threat, right.

A. Yes.
Q. And you told the sheriffs, “Because he already knew that what Michael did to us, and if we told them the truth, he would have went to jail,” right.
A. Can I read that.
Q. Yes.
May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember saying that to the sheriffs.
A. Yes.
Q. And you told them, essentially, that Frank said that to you, threatened you, because he knew that if you told anybody what Michael had done,

Michael would go to jail, right.

A. Yes.

Q. That was right before the rebuttal tape, right.

A. I think so, yes.

Q. Have you discussed the charges in this case with the sheriffs.

A. No.

Q. Have they told you they're claiming that molestation went on starting the 20th of June.

A. Okay.

Q. February, I mean. Have they told you that.

A. Okay. No, they haven't told me.

Q. Did you ever give them dates.

A. No. I knew more back then than I do now.

Q. You knew more back then than you do now.

A. Yes, it was fresh in my memory back then.

Q. Did someone tell you to say that.

A. No, I'm saying it right now, because I have school, I have tests to study for, and most of that stuff leave my memory, most of the details.

Q. That's because you're studying for tests in school.

A. Yes. Yes.

Q. And you think if you weren't studying for tests in school, you'd know a lot more today.

A. It's not just tests. It's just learning.

Q. So the learning you've done in school has interfered with your memory about this case.

A. No, I know -- I know -- I know everything happened. I just don't know it in detail like I did in those testimonies.

Q. Okay. Okay. You had a lot of details yesterday, didn't you.

A. Well, yeah. I do remember details. But not all the details.

Q. Okay. But you said you've reviewed a transcript of your police interview, right.

A. Yes. I didn’t memorize 300 pages.
Q. They told you to memorize it.
A. No, I’m just telling you I didn’t memorize them. I just read through them.
Q. Now, where did you get 300 pages.
A. I’m just saying, I’m just giving you an example.
Q. Please tell the jury how many pages you were mailed to review before you testified.
A. I didn’t count them.
Q. Do you know approximately how many.
A. No.
Q. Didn’t you just say 300.
A. I was showing you an example.
Q. Okay. And when did you get these pages, however many there were.
A. When did I get them.
Q. Yes.
A. About a month ago.
Q. Do you know where they came from.
A. No.
Q. No idea.
A. No.
Q. They just popped up in the mail.
A. Yes.
Q. And when you got them, what did you do.
A. I didn’t read them.

Q. Where did you put them.
A. Put them right near my bed.
Q. Never looked at them again.
A. No. Until -- until I almost came up here.
Q. So when you almost came up here, you looked at those pages for the first time, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And how many of them did you look at.
A. How many.
Q. Yeah. Roughly.
A. I don’t know.
Q. Did you look at all of them.
A. Yes.
Q. Did someone tell you to read them.

A. Yes.
Q. Who.
A. Tom.
Q. Prosecutor Sneddon.
A. Yes.
Q. Told you to read all the pages, right.
A. Yes. Just to look through them.
Q. Told you to read them, to get ready for your testimony in this case, right.
A. Yes. Just to look through them.
Q. And that’s how you knew your sentence to the sheriffs about AOL dropped off and wasn’t completed, right.
A. I didn’t know about that.

Q. You didn’t know about that.
A. No.
Q. Didn’t you just testify about that.
A. I said I read through them.
Q. Read through what.
A. My transcripts.
Q. Okay. You read through them because Prosecutor Sneddon wanted you to make sure that you testified consistently with what you had in the reports, right.
A. Okay.
Q. Is that what he said.
A. No. He just told me to thumb through them, to look through them.
Q. He told you just to thumb through them.
A. No, just to look through them.
Q. Okay. Now, when did he do this.
A. Hmm, about a month ago.
Q. Did you do what he asked you to do.
A. No. I had school to concentrate on. I had a final.
Q. Okay. So you didn’t do what Prosecutor Sneddon asked you to do; isn’t that correct.
A. I eventually did it.
Q. Eventually you did. And can you just tell us when.
A. What.

Q. Can you just tell us when you eventually did what Prosecutor Sneddon asked you to do.
A. Four weeks after he told me, or three weeks.
Q. Okay. And was that in the last month.
A. Yes.
Q. So you read all the documents you were sent by Prosecutor Sneddon, right.
A. Yes. I didn’t memorize them. I just read them and -- yeah.
Q. Well, did anyone tell you to memorize them.
A. No, I’m telling you I didn’t memorize all those pages.
Q. Okay. Do you remember telling the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that there’s a big telescope on a hill at Neverland that you and Gavin used to look through.
A. We looked through once or twice, yes.
Q. And describe for the jury where that telescope is, if you would.
A. It’s on a hill right before you enter the -- the second gate into the ranch.
Q. And from that hill, can you get a view of Neverland.
A. Yes. You can also view into a guest unit.
Q. And you told the sheriffs that you and Gavin used to look through that telescope into the guest units, right.
A. Yes, we saw into one guest unit where my mom was staying.

Q. Okay. So you used to kind of look at your mom through the telescope, right.
A. No, no, we just -- we were looking and we saw a guest unit, and then we continued looking somewhere else.
Q. Did you look into the window of that guest unit.
A. Yes. Yes.
Q. And that’s where your mom was, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You saw your mom, right.

A. All you saw was her television and her bed. But you didn’t -- you saw like a part of her bed. You didn’t see her complete bed.

Q. Did you see her in the unit.

A. No.

Q. But your testimony was that your mom never came out of the guest quarters, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember -- strike that. Did you ever see your mom dancing with Michael Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever go into the theater with your -- with Michael Jackson and your mom.

A. I went in the theater a lot of times.

Q. Did you ever go into the theater with your mom, Michael, Davellin and Gavin.

A. Yes, to watch a movie.

Q. And how often did you do that.

A. My mom rarely came out.

Q. Well, but you just said -- first you said she never went out. Then you admitted you’d been in the theater with her, right.

A. I was thinking about something else.

Q. Okay.

A. You kind of got it mixed into my memory.

Q. Okay. I don’t want to mix you up. First you said your mom never came out of the guest cottage, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And then you admitted she’d been in the theater with Michael and the family, right.

A. And I told you that my memories got mixed in and I said something else.

Q. Okay. I’m just trying to find out what the truth is, if I can.

A. Okay.

Q. You said you were in the theater with your mom, Michael, Gavin and Davellin, right.

A. Yes. But then I said after that, that no, she wasn’t, because she wasn’t.

Q. Okay. So your mom never was in the theater you’re saying now, right.

A. She probably was, but I wasn’t there. I just remember going in there and watching movies.

Q. All right. Now, the telescope on the hill is a telescope that you and your brother used to look through, correct.

A. It was twice we looked through the telescope.

Q. And does the telescope move.

A. Yes. Moves in all directions.

Q. And if you take that telescope, you can see the clocks at Neverland, can’t you.

A. Okay.

Q. Can you.

A. Trees were in the way.

Q. Trees are in the way.

A. Yes. There’s a lot of trees at Neverland.

Q. You can’t see one clock from that telescope.

A. Which clock are you referring to.

Q. Any of them.

A. There was, like, two clocks right beside each other and a clock way over there by the carnival. You can see the hands on that clock.

Q. That’s the clock by the carnival.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said there are two other clocks you mentioned.

A. Well, there’s one big clock.

Q. Right. One big clock.

A. Yes.

Q. Can you see that through the telescope.

A. No.

Q. What clocks can you see through the telescope.

A. The one by the carnival, but it’s too small to look through. I mean, it’s too small to see the hands moving.

Q. What about the big flower clock --

A. Okay.

Q. -- on the hill that overlooks Neverland. Can you see that through the telescope.

A. No, the trees are in the way.

Q. You’re sure of that.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you try to do it.

A. Not really. We were looking; we just wanted to look through it. We weren’t trying to look for time. We were just looking through it, because -- because it was up there, so we were just trying to look through it.

Q. You’re making up that trees block your view through the telescope, aren’t you --

A. I’m just saying --

Q. -- Star.

A. -- I never really expected to look for a clock. I just looked through it. I remember trees and probably -- yeah. I remember trees, but I never really -- the telescope was up there, so me and my brother tried to look through it.

Q. Why did you just tell the jury that trees prevent you from seeing clocks through the telescope on the hill that overlooks Neverland.

A. What does it matter. I mean, even when you’re down there, you can see the clock. When you’re driving the car. I don’t know what you’re trying to get at.

Q. What else have you seen through that telescope on the hill that overlooks Neverland.

A. Rides. And trees.

Q. What else.

A. And the guest unit.

Q. What else.

A. Hills.

Q. Can you see the theater.

A. Never really tried to see the theater.

Q. Can you see the main house.

A. Probably. I don’t know. I never really tried.

Q. Well, did you and your brother take that telescope and look all over Neverland on that hill with the telescope that you’ve described moves.

A. It’s -- okay.

Q. Did you look all over Neverland at that -- through that moving telescope.

A. No, we just looked through it. We didn’t try to examine the whole Neverland.

Q. How far away, if you know, is the guest unit from that telescope, if you know.

A. I don’t know, but I could guess.

Q. But you say you were up there only twice with your brother, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know what time of day that was.

A. Daylight. Daytime.

Q. Okay. And certainly you’ve been to Neverland at night, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Have you noticed that these clocks are lit up at night.

A. The flower clock.

Q. Any of them.

A. Sure.

Q. You’ve noticed they’re lit up at night, haven’t you.

A. I just noticed that the train station is lit up, and so is the flower clock. I can’t -- there’s the flower clock overlooking Neverland. Not overlooking. It’s right there.

Q. Right up on a hill above the main house, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You’ve seen that clock lit at night, true.

A. I don’t remember if it was lit, but it was probably lit, yeah.

Q. Well, why do you tell the jury it was probably lit.

A. I don’t know. I’m trying to remember.

THE COURT: Is this a good place to stop, Counsel.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Remember the admonition, and I’ll see you tomorrow morning at 8:30.

(The proceedings adjourned at 11:30 a.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR,

CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 1257 through 1331 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 8, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California, March 8, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH ; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE , JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA ,)
Plaintiff ,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 1398 THROUGH 1525)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR , CRR, CSR #3304
BY : Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney
-and-
RONALD J. ZONEN,
Sr . Deputy District Attorney
-and-
GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr . Deputy District Attorney
1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara , California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS , MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU
BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and-
SUSAN C. YU , ESQ.
1875 Century Park East , Suite 700
Los Angeles, California 90067

-and-

SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER , ESQ.
233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara , California 93101

-and-

OXMAN and JAROSCAK
BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN , ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs , California 90670

Note:

I N D E X

Mr . Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index . Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index.
Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index. Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr . Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr . Oxman is listed as “O” on index .

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES	DIRECT	CROSS	REDIRECT	RECROSS
ARVIZO, Star David	1452-S	1467-M	1476-S

(Further)

ARVIZO, Gavin-Anton 1477 -S

EXHIBITS

DEFENDANT'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
5002	DVD entitled “Neverland Channel Demo”	1419	1419
5003	DVD entitled “Michael Jackson and Gavin, Neverland , 9600 ”	1426	1426
5002	Various cards	1442	1443

THE COURT : You may proceed .

MR . MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Star, the day that your family left Neverland with Jesus , do you remember that day?

A. Yes.

Q. And the driver ‘s name was Jesus Salas, right ?

A. I didn’t know his last name.

Q. Okay. Were you with your mother that day ?

A. That entire day?

Q. Yes.

A. No .

Q. Were you with your mother part of that day?

A. Yes.

Q. Were you with your mother when she went into Los Olivos and had a body wax that day ?

A. I don ‘t remember that happening.

Q. Okay. So you don ‘t know about that ?

A. No .

Q. Okay. Do you recall being at Neverland around February 24th , 2003 ?

A. I don ‘t know any of the dates .

Q. Okay. Do you remember that your family went for a dental appointment?

A. Yes.

Q. And the dental appointment was with a Dr. Seamont, correct?

A. I don ‘t remember the doctor’s name, but he was a dentist.

Q. Okay. You, your mother , Gavin went to the dentist, right ?

A. Just me and my brother.

Q. Pardon me. You and your brother ?

A. Yes.

Q. Was your mother there?

A. Yes.

Q. Three of you, right?

A. Yes.

Q. Davellin wasn’t there, right?

A. Yes, she went back to the ranch.
Q. Okay. How did you get to the dentist’s?
A. By car.
Q. Do you know who drove you?
A. A guy named Joe.
Q. Okay. Was he working at Neverland?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And whose car was it; do you know?
A. It was the cook’s car.
Q. Okay.
A. It ‘s a van.
Q. Okay. And if you know, where was the dentist’s office?
A. I don ‘t know.
Q. Okay. Was it nearby , to your knowledge?
A. We just drove there at night.
Q. Drove there at night . Okay. And your mother wanted the dentist to remove Gavin ‘s braces , right?

A. And also mine.
Q. And your braces, too ?
A. Yes.
Q. Did the dentist remove your braces?
A. Yes.
Q. Did he remove Gavin’s braces?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And the driver dropped you all off at the dentist ‘s office , right?
A. No , he stood there with us .
Q. Stood there with you in the dentist ‘s office?
A. Yes.
Q. In the lobby? Or was he with you when you were having your braces removed?
A. He was there standing next to us .
Q. When you had your braces removed ?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Who paid for that dental visit; do you know ?
A. I don ‘t know.
Q. Okay. Did your mother tell the dentist to polish your teeth ; do you know?
A. It was a long time ago.

Q. Don’t remember that?
A. No .

Q. Okay. Do you recall the dentist and his assistant asking you and your brother not to go into the dental supplies?
A. That was long — it was long ago . I don’t remember .
Q. Okay. Were there phones in the dentist’s office?
A. No .
Q. Didn’t see any ?
A. There was probably some at the front desk .
Q. Did you ever call your mother asking you to use the phone?
A. No .
Q. Okay. Let me get back to the grand jury transcript. Okay ?
A. Okay.
Q. Do you recall telling the Santa Barbara Grand Jury that the first time you saw Mr . Jackson inappropriately touch your brother, that your brother was looking out towards the far wall ?
A. Yes.
Q. And what do you mean by that?
A. If you’re looking at the bed –
Q. Oh .
A. – like the picture we saw earlier –
Q. Sure.
A. – he was facing to the right .
Q. Okay. So correct me if I’m wrong, you said

Mr . Jackson was lying flat , right?
A. Yes, on his back.
Q. And he appeared to be sleeping or –
A. Who?
Q. Mr . Jackson appeared to be sleeping , correct?
A. No . No.
Q. Didn’t appear to be sleeping?
A. He had his eyes closed, but he was masturbating.
Q. Okay. So his eyes are closed . You say Mr . Jackson is masturbating, you say your brother is turned towards the far wall –

A. Yes.

Q. – right ? And you’re saying Mr. Jackson has his arm over your brother turned towards the far wall, right ?

A. Yes.

Q. And Mr. Jackson is moving his hand, right ?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you were speaking to the grand jury, you said there was vodka around, right ?

A. Yes.

Q. Well, if you went up the stairs, there ‘s no light over the bed, and you only see what you see for a few seconds , how do you see vodka?

A. The light from the stairwell, it wasn’t just one light. It was like two lights or something like that. But it was bright enough to shine into the room.

Q. Okay. So you see all of this in a few seconds, with all the lights out over the bed, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, did your mother ever complain to you that she wanted to leave the ranch ?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know about when that was?

A. No . I don’t know exactly.

Q. Do you remember telling the Santa Barbara Grand Jury when you were asked the question, “Star , while you were at the ranch, did you ever have any discussions with your mother about the subject of her wanting to leave the ranch?” and your answer was, “No “?

A. I remember her saying it to me. Probably didn’t even remember at that time.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you what you told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury?

A. You told me what I said .

Q. Would it refresh your recollection to show you the transcript?

A. Okay.

MR . MESEREAU: May I approach , Your Honor ?

THE COURT : Yes .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to see that page of transcript?

A. Yes.

Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury under oath?

A. Yes.

Q. Your answer to the question was “No ,” correct?

A. Yes, but probably at that time I didn’t remember .

Q. At that time you didn’t remember ?

A. Yes. Probably . Yes .

Q. So your memory ‘s better now than it was when you testified before the Santa Barbara Grand Jury?

A. No , after you testify, you remember some things that you didn ‘t say ; that you forgot to say .

Q. Okay. So your memory is better today than it was March 29th , 2004 , right?

MR . SNEDDON : Object as argumentative, Your Honor .

THE COURT : Sustained .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Did you ever talk to your brother or sister about leaving the ranch ?

A. No .

Q. Just another question about the door leading up to the stairwell to Michael’s bedroom. You were asked questions about that while you were in front of the Santa Barbara Grand Jury, correct?

A. Okay.

Q. You were asked questions by the prosecution?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you remember being asked the following question: “Now, on both occasion — on the first occasion, you said the door was sort of locked and it came loose. On the second occasion, can you tell us whether or not that door was open or closed?”

And your answer was, “It was open. Well, the door was closed, but it was unlocked.”

Why did you begin by saying, “It was open “?

A. Like the lock wasn’t locked.

Q. Your answer began with the words , “It was open.”

A. Yeah. The door –

Q. Was it open ?

A. If it was unlocked, yes .

Q. Okay. So you didn’t mean the door was open.

A. Yes.

Q. You just meant it was unlocked?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury that the first time you saw Michael Jackson inappropriately touching your brother, you had about five or six seconds, and the second time three or four seconds, right?

A. Yes.

Q. And you told them both times the light was out above the bed ?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, on both of these occasions that you’ve described as Mr. Michael Jackson inappropriately touching your brother, did your brother ever move?

A. No .

Q. Do you know someone named Kiki –

A. Yes.

Q. – who works at Neverland? Who’s Kiki ?

A. She’s a — I don’t know what her — she’s a house -cleaning lady.

Q. Did you have a dispute with her?

A. No . We’re friends.

Q. Okay. You’re friends to this day?

A. I don ‘t know. I haven’t talked to her .

Q. Okay. When did you last see her ?

A. At Neverland.

Q. Pardon me?

A. At Neverland.

Q. Do you know when you last spoke to her ?

A. At Neverland.

Q. Okay. So that ‘s quite a while ago, right ?

A. Yes.

Q. You told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury that on a flight coming back from Miami, Dr . Farshshian was facing Michael Jackson , right?

A. Yes.

Q. So he would have been facing Michael Jackson when you claim Michael started licking your brother’s hair , right?

A. No , my mom was — she was turned around most of the time .

Q. No , I’m talking about Dr. Farshshian.

A. Oh , yes.

Q. He was facing Michael Jackson the whole time?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, you never reported either of these two times you claim Mr. Jackson was inappropriately touching your brother, right ?

MR . SNEDDON : I’m going to object as vague as to time.

MR . MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it. He’s right .

Q. You didn ‘t immediately go to your mother and report that , did you , when you saw it happen ?

A. No .

Q. You didn ‘t immediately go to your father and report it, right?

A. My dad wasn ‘t there.

Q. You didn ‘t immediately tell Davellin about it , right?

A. No .

Q. Okay. And you say you never slept in the theater, right ?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. Only my sister and Marie Nicole did .

Q. Okay. But you didn’t?

A. Yes.

Q. “Yes” means you never slept there, right?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. When your father was with you at Neverland, did you ever sleep in Michael Jackson’s room?

A. Yes.

Q. How many times ?

A. Once.

Q. That was the first time you visited Neverland, right?

A. Yes.
Q. And every other time your father was there, you didn ‘t sleep in Michael’s room, correct?
A. Yes.
Q. But you’re saying the first time you visited Neverland, your father let you sleep in Michael ‘s room?
A. Yes.
Q. Was your mother there on that trip?
A. Yes.
Q. Did your mother let you sleep in Michael’s room?
A. She was probably with my sister. We just asked our dad.

Q. Well, you all had dinner in the main house that night, right ?
A. Yes.
Q. Was there a discussion at the dinner table about whether or not you and Gavin could sleep in Michael Jackson’s room?
A. No .
Q. Okay. Did your mother at any time when she was at Neverland ever ask you where you were sleeping in the main house ?
A. I don ‘t remember. I don’t remember .
Q. Okay. Do you remember telling the Santa Barbara Grand Jury that your mother never asked you one time where you were sleeping in the main house ?
A. I don ‘t know if I did.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the page from the grand jury transcript?
A. Okay.
MR . MESEREAU: May I, Your Honor ?
THE COURT : Yes .
Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page of the grand jury transcript?
A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury?
A. Yes. I said, “I think so. I don’t remember ,” on the transcript.
Q. Well, you said in response to the question,

“Did your mother ever ask you where you were sleeping inside the main house?” You said, “No .”

A. And right below it, it says, “I think so. I don’t remember .”

Q. Do you know , or not?

A. No .

Q. It says, “Did you ever have a conversation with” –

And you go, “Wait . I think so. I don ‘t remember .”

Is that what you’re referring to ?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. But you ‘re not sure if you did?

A. Yes.

Q. You never did at the dinner table, though ?

A. No .

Q. Well, then we went further , Star . It says you said , “No,” and you said, “I think so .”

“Let me ask the question again: Did your mother ever talk with you about where you slept inside the main house?

“A. No.”

A. But I don’t think so . I don’t really remember .

Q. Okay. You don ‘t remember saying that to the grand jury, or you don’t remember if you talked to your mom about it ?

A. I don ‘t remember if I talked to my mom about it .

MR . MESEREAU: Okay. I think I’ve already done so, Your Honor, but I think I’d like to read that portion of the grand jury –

THE COURT : Give me that citation . I have the transcript now.

MR . MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor. It ‘s page 1585. Actually, let me start before that . It’s page 1584, lines 22 to 28, and page 1585, lines 1 to 6.

MR . SNEDDON : The second page , how far did you end up?

THE COURT : Do you have a volume?

MR . MESEREAU: Yes, I think I do . It would be Volume 6. No, it ‘s Volume 7.

THE COURT : I have it . Thank you .
MR . MESEREAU: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.
“Q. Did your mother ever ask you where you were sleeping inside the main house?
“A. No.
“Q. Did you ever have a conversation with –
“A. Wait. I think so. I don’t remember .
“Q. I’m sorry?
“A. I think so. I don ‘t remember.
“Q. I don ‘t?
“A. I think so. I don ‘t remember.
“Q. You said ‘No,’ and you said, ‘I think so.’ Let me ask the question again: Did your mother ever talk with you about where you slept inside the main house?

“A. No.”
Q. Do you remember you told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury that you saw Michael Jackson touching your brother a lot?
A. Probably . I don’t remember.
Q. You said he would try to fix your brother ‘s shirt . Do you remember that?
A. Yeah.
Q. You said he would be touching him a lot, right ?
A. I don ‘t remember.
Q. You said , “He would, like, fix his shirt.” Do you remember that ?
A. Not really.
Q. Okay. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you that page of the transcript?
A. Sure.
MR . MESEREAU: May I, Your Honor ?
THE COURT : Yes .
Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at those pages?
A. Yes.
Q. Do they refresh your recollection about what you told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. You were asked the question, “He would be touching him a lot?”

“A. Yeah.

“Q. Not his genitals, not his penis?
“A. I never saw that.”
A. At the table.
Q. “I saw it in the paper.”
A. I saw it on paper ?
Q. That’s what you said , right?
A. I don ‘t know what I meant by saying not on paper .
Q. Now, at the time you claim you watched Mr . Jackson in his bedroom inappropriately touch your brother, you were approximately five -feet-two ; is that right?
A. Sure. Yeah . I don’t — I don’t remember how exactly — how tall I was .
Q. You told the grand jury you were five-feet-two, right?
A. I was just guessing.
Q. Okay. Do you think you were five-feet -two?
A. I don ‘t know.
Q. Do you have any idea ?
A. (Shakes head from side to side.)
Q. And you told the Santa Barbara Grand Jury on both of the occasions when you claim you saw Mr . Jackson in bed with your brother, you never went to the top of the stairs, right?
A. Yes.

Q. And you claim that both occasions when you saw Mr. Jackson and your brother , they were not under the sheets, right ?
A. Yes.
Q. You said they were on top of a blanket , right ?
A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU : At this time , Your Honor , I’d like to play a video , DVD. It would be –
MR . SANGER: Your Honor , if I may, just for bookkeeping purposes , we’d like to have marked for identification next in order a video that ‘s entitled , “Neverland Channel Demo.”
BAILIFF CORTEZ : Can ‘t hear you.
MR . SANGER: Oh. Sorry .
I’d like to mark — to mark next in order a video or CD that is labeled “Neverland Channel

Demo.” We have discussed this with the District Attorney , Mr. Sneddon. He has no objection to our playing it.

THE COURT : What’s the exhibit number, then?

THE CLERK: It ‘s 5003.

MR . SANGER: Okay . Thank you .

THE BAILIFF : Do you want it on the box?

MR . SANGER: And if it’s acceptable to the Court , we’ll play it at this time.

THE BAILIFF : Are you playing it out of your computer or –

MR . SANGER: We’re going to play it .

THE BAILIFF : It’s “Input 4.”

THE COURT : So it’s admitted into evidence . There ‘s no objection ?

MR . SNEDDON : There is none, Your Honor.

THE CLERK : I’m sorry , Judge. That should be Exhibit 5002. I skipped one.

MR . SANGER: Your Honor , I think we need the screen.

THE COURT : You need “Input ” –

THE BAILIFF : “4.”

THE COURT : “4”? Are you ready?

MR . SANGER: I hope so.

(Whereupon, a DVD , Defendant’s Exhibit 5002, was played for the Court and jury.)

MR . SANGER: Your Honor , you can turn the screen off.

THE COURT : Thank you .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star, you had asked Michael Jackson to help you be in a video like that?

A. No .

Q. You never asked Michael Jackson to help you do that video?

A. No .

Q. Your brother wanted Michael Jackson to help him do a video also, didn’t he?

A. I can ‘t speak for my brother.

Q. Okay. You never heard your brother ask Michael Jackson that ?

A. No .

Q. So as far as you know, Michael Jackson knew nothing about this video you were putting together at Neverland?

A. No . He asked me if I wanted to be in it, and I said, “Yes.”

Q. And you told him you wanted to narrate a video , correct ?

A. No . I just said, “Okay .”

Q. You never told Michael Jackson you wanted to be the narrator?

A. No .

Q. Never told Michael Jackson you wanted to be the center of attention on the Neverland Channel video , right?

A. No .

Q. Okay. So Michael Jackson, in your mind, was not doing you a favor when he helped you make this video ?

A. No .

Q. Okay. And in your mind , Michael Jackson was not doing Gavin a favor when he helped you make this video , right?

A. We didn’t have no one to interview, so we interviewed my brother.

Q. No one to interview. You had kids everywhere, didn’t you?

A. No , not at that time . They brought them.

Q. To your knowledge , did your mother know you were making this video?

A. I don ‘t know if she did or not.

Q. Never told her ?

A. Long time ago. I don’t know if she did or not.

Q. But you don ‘t recall ever telling your mother that you and Gavin were going to make this video at Neverland?

A. My dad knew .

Q. Did your mother know ?

A. I don ‘t know. I can ‘t speak for my mom.

Q. Do you remember ever telling your mom, “We’re going to make a video at Neverland “?

A. No . I don’t remember telling her.

Q. Do you think she knew about it before you made it?

A. I don ‘t know.
MR . SNEDDON : Object as asked and answered.
MR . MESEREAU: I’ll withdraw it. I’ll withdraw .
Q. Do you ever recall Gavin telling your mother, “We ‘re going to make a video at Neverland”?
A. I can ‘t speak for my brother, and I can’t speak for my mom.
Q. I’m just asking what you heard. Okay? You never heard him discuss it with your mother, right ?

A. No .
Q. After this video was made, did you ever show it to your mother ?
A. We never got a copy, so I was unable to show it to my mom.
Q. Did you ever watch it at Neverland?
A. No . After we recorded it, we never saw it.
Q. So you’ve never seen it since you made it , right ?
A. We saw it at Hamid’s house , while we were about to do the rebuttal.
Q. Yes.
A. I found it at Hamid’s house.
Q. Well, but you were there with your mother then.
A. When?
Q. At Hamid ‘s. That ‘s where you filmed the rebuttal video .
A. My mom, when I got there, she wasn’t there. She hasn ‘t — well, she didn’t arrive at that time when I watched it . Vinnie was still picking her up from St. Andrews.
Q. Okay. So who watched the video at Hamid’s house ?
A. I think it was me , my brother , and probably my sister.
Q. And you never wanted your mother to see it?
A. I didn’t care if she saw it or not.

Q. Okay. Okay . Gavin saw it at Hamid ‘s house?
A. Okay, yes.
Q. And you saw it at Hamid ‘s house?
A. Yes.

Q. How do you know the video was at Hamid ‘s house ?

A. We were hooking up the Play Station to play “Need for Speed 2,” and we saw it above his DVD player.

Q. Okay. And that’s the first time you had seen it, right ?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And were you excited when you made the video?

A. I was kind of tired.

Q. You were kind of tired when you made this video ?

A. Yes.

Q. The Neverland Channel?

A. Okay. Whatever you call it.

Q. Okay. So you weren’t too excited when you made it, right ?

A. I was kind of sleepy .

Q. Okay. And were you excite d when it finally got put together?

A. What do you mean?

Q. Well, when it finally was completed , were you excited ?

A. At the end of the day?

Q. Pardon me?

A. I don ‘t –

Q. I’m sorry, let me just rephrase the question . I’ll withdraw it.

When this video was completed , how old were you?

A. When we record ed it?

Q. Yes.

A. Fourth grade.

Q. Fourth grade?

A. Yeah, I had long hair in fourth grade.

Q. I’m sorry, pardon me ?

A. I had long hair in fourth grade.

Q. Okay. How old do you think you were when you made this video?

A. I don ‘t know. I was probably about 10 or 11 .

Q. And my question to you is, were you excited to narrate a video like this at Neverland ?

A. No . I was sleepy .
Q. Okay. All the time?
A. What? During that — no, I slept really late last night. Well, that night.
Q. That night you were sleepy . When you found out you had narrated a video called “The Neverland Channel” at Michael Jackson’s ranch , my question to you is, were you excited about it?

A. And I said no.
Q. Okay. All right.
MR . SANGER: Your Honor , with the Court’s permission, we ‘re going to ask to play Exhibit 340 , which is already in evidence.
THE COURT : All right . That’s a DVD ?
MR . SANGER: Yes, sir.
Your Honor, just for the record, there are two disks in 340, Disk 1 and 2. And I’m going to put Disk 1 in at this time .
MR . SNEDDON : Your Honor, can I ask a procedural question before we begin this?
THE COURT : Yes .
MR . SNEDDON : Since we’ve already seen it , is this a situation where we’re going to play a portion of it and ask questions about it, or are we just going to look at the whole video again, which I think would be repetitive?
MR . MESEREAU: Excuse me.
(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table .)
MR . SANGER: Oh, I’m sorry .
MR . MESEREAU: I can answer that question .
We are going to — next we ‘re going to play the rebuttal video , with your permission, Your Honor, and we’re going to stop it and ask questions about it , as we go, of the witness, yes.
MR . SANGER: Sorry.

THE BAILIFF : You need to use your microphone.
MR . SANGER: We’re going to — we had a technical problem . We’re going to ask , then , that a DVD that ‘s entitled, “Michael Jackson and Gavin , Neverland 9-6-0-0,” that that be marked as defense next in order, and we would like to play that. We have discussed this with the District Attorney, and he has no objection to the foundation or to us playing it.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table .)
MR . SNEDDON : Yeah, that's fine. Yeah , we talked about it. That's fine .
THE COURT : This one would be 5003, then.
MR . MESEREAU: Your Honor, this I would play and then ask questions after it. The rebuttal video I would be asking questions throughout it . Thank you.
THE COURT : There's no objection to it going in evidence , then ?
MR . SNEDDON : No, Your Honor, there is not.
THE COURT : It's admitted.
MR . SANGER: Just before we start....
(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table .)
MR . SANGER: Okay . Are you ready?
(Whereupon, a DVD , Defendant's Exhibit 5003, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star, have you seen that video before?
A. I think so, yes.
Q. In fact, your mother showed that video to the three social workers when they came to Jay Jackson's apartment to interview her about her fitness as a mother and what Michael Jackson had done, correct?
A. I don 't remember that.
Q. Well, she showed that video to the social workers to let them know that Michael Jackson had tried to help heal your brother from cancer, right ?
A. Are you telling me this , or –
Q. I'm asking a question.
A. I don 't know.
Q. Okay. Do you remember seeing it with the three social workers ?
MR . SNEDDON : I'm going to object. Asked and answered.
THE COURT : Sustained .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: When you appeared in this video , your family had asked Michael Jackson to help them with Gavin, who they thought was dying of cancer, right?

A. I never heard my family say that .

Q. Never heard anyone in your family say, “Michael , would you please help us, our son is dying of cancer”?

A. Probably did. I wasn’t there .

Q. Okay. Well , it’s your understanding that Michael Jackson met your brother because your brother was at Kaiser, in the hospital , and wanted to talk to Michael Jackson , right?

A. Okay.

Q. Is that your understanding ?

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. And your entire family wanted to come to Neverland and asked Michael if he would help them with your brother , who was dying of cancer, right?

MR . SNEDDON : I’m going to object. Assumes a fact not in evidence.

THE COURT : Sustained .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Ever hear your mother ask Michael Jackson to please help your family because Gavin has terminal cancer, or words to that effect ?

A. No .

Q. Do you remember hearing Michael Jackson talk about Pac Man and how you can eat up cancer cells?

A. No .

Q. Never heard that?

A. No .

Q. Okay. Ever hear Michael Jackson encourage your brother to get better , that he could survive this?

A. When?

Q. One time ?

A. No , I said when?

Q. Anytime.

A. Probably told him over the phone .

Q. Pardon me?

A. Probably told him over the phone . I don’t know.

Q. To your knowledge , Michael Jackson spent a lot of time with your brother at Neverland trying to encourage him to beat cancer, right ?

MR . SNEDDON : Objection , Your Honor . Calls for facts not in evidence; lack of foundation.

THE COURT : Overruled .

He ‘s asking your knowledge , if you know that.

THE WITNESS : Michael was only there with Gavin a couple times while he was at Neverland. He wasn’t there the whole entire cancer.

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Okay. I didn’t ask you that. Let me just ask the question again , because you probably didn ‘t understand it.

To your knowledge –

THE COURT : Counsel, he answered your question . Please ask another question .

MR . MESEREAU: Okay.

THE COURT : I don’t want you commenting like that.

MR . MESEREAU: I apologize , Your Honor . I withdraw that comment.

Q. When did you last see this particular video, if you know ?

A. I don ‘t remember, but it was a long time ago.

MR . MESEREAU: At this point, Your Honor, we ‘d like to play the rebuttal video, which is in evidence .

THE COURT : All right .

MR . MESEREAU: Thank you.

MR . SANGER: For the record, that would be Exhibit 340 and we’re going to start with Tape 1 of 2. Actually, it says Tape 1 of 2, but it would be DVD 1 of 2.

THE BAILIFF : I’m not sure if that’s –

MR . SANGER: That ‘s on the film.

THE BAILIFF : Oh.

MR . SANGER: It will be over in a second.

Sorry .

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Now, Star, when you made those comments , were you telling the truth?

A. No .

Q. Were you lying ?

A. I was actually talking about my stepdad.

Q. You weren't talking about Michael Jackson ?

A. No ; how Jay stepped in and took over where my dad left off.

Q. So when you said, "My first impression was like a father. He actually seemed more fatherly -like than my biological father. He – there is — I just — that was my first impression of Michael," you were really talking about Jay Jackson?

A. Yes, sir .

Q. Why did you use the name "Michael"?

A. Well, because he told us to say good things only about — because he told us only to say good things about Michael .

Q. Okay. So you really were referring to Jay Jackson?

A. Exactly.

Q. I see . Okay.

We can keep going through.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People 's Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Now, Star, when you heard your mother make those comments about Michael Jackson, did you think she was talking about Jay Jackson?

A. I wasn't really listening. I was like practically falling off my chair .

Q. So you didn 't really hear any of this?

A. No , I was really sleepy. It was like 4:00 in the morning .

Q. So you really don 't know what your mother was talking about ?

A. No . I –

Q. Okay. We can keep going.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD , People's Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Now, you said — Davellin says about Michael, “He gives Gavin advice,” and then you say, “He helps me with homework,” right?

A. Okay.

Q. Was that the truth?

A. No . We didn’t even have homework.

Q. Was that a lie ?

A. Yes.

Q. We can keep going .

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star, do you remember making those comments about Michael Jackson?

A. Sure.

Q. Were you telling the truth ?

A. No , not really .

Q. Were you lying ?

A. Yeah. On there, yes .

Q. So you were lying .

So when you said Michael lets you feel like his son, you weren’t telling the truth ?

A. Yes.

Q. And when you said he lets you call him “father,” you weren’t telling the truth?

A. Yes.

Q. “And we call him ‘father’ and he calls us ‘son,’” you weren ‘t telling the truth?

A. Yes.

Q. And you say , “He helps us with basically anything we ask and we love him.” When you said that, you weren’t telling the truth , right?

A. Repeat it.

Q. “He helps us with basically anything we ask and we love him.” You’re saying you weren’t telling the truth?

A. Yes. The only reason why we did that is because Dieter told us to.

Q. So everybody just memorized all these lines?

A. I just said whatever came to my head.

Q. Okay. Okay .

A. I was trying to get out of there . I was kind of tired.

Q. I understand. So , so far every statement you've made is a lie , you're saying , right?

A. Basically, yes .

MR . MESEREAU: Okay. We can keep going.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People 's Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star, you heard your mother make those remarks, right ?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you think she was lying?

A. I wasn't really paying attention .

Q. Pardon me?

A. Um , I don't know.

Q. You don't know , right?

A. Yeah, I can 't speak for her.

Q. I'm just asking what you thought . Did you think your mother was telling lies when she made that statement ?

A. I wasn't really paying attention .

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People 's Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Now, Star, when you heard your mother make the statement, "He claimed these three little munchkins as his kids," did you think your mother was telling the truth?

A. Um , no.

Q. Did you think your mother was lying ?

A. No , she was doing what Dieter asked her to do .

do .

Q. Did you think she was lying?

A. No , she was doing what Dieter asked her to

Q. So you don't think your mother was acting in a spontaneous kind of way when she answered these questions, right?

A. I don 't know. It was her emotions.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star, did you ever discuss with your mother the idea that Michael Jackson would be a father figure to you?

A. To me ?

Q. Yes.

A. No .

Q. Did you ever discuss with your mother the notion that Michael Jackson would be a father figure to Gavin ?

A. No .

Q. Ever discuss with your mother the idea that Michael Jackson would be a father figure for your sister?

A. No .

Q. So you and your mother never talked about Michael Jackson being any kind of a father figure at all, right?

A. Yes.

MR . MESEREAU: Okay. Keep going .

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Now, Star, are you telling the jury , under oath , you never heard Michael Jackson ever mention anything about Pac Man to your brother?

A. No . I was yawning in the video –

Q. Pardon me?

A. I don ‘t remember even hearing that.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

MR . SANGER: Your Honor , that ‘s — actually, that does that , and that’s the end of this tape , so I’m going to stop it , if that ‘s all right .

THE COURT : Yes .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star, you heard your mother say all of her children want to be in movies.

Is that a true statement?
A. No , I don’t want to be in movies .
Q. So is your mother lying ?
A. No , she’s doing what Dieter told her to do.
Q. Okay. Okay . So as far as you know , none of the children wanted to be in movies ; is that right ?

MR . SNEDDON : Your Honor, I would object. Assumes facts not in evidence .
THE COURT : Overruled . You may answer .
THE WITNESS : What was the question again ?
Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: As far as you know, neither you , Gavin or Davellin ever wanted to be in movies?
MR . SNEDDON : It’s compound now.
THE COURT : Sustained .
Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: You’ve said you never wanted to be in movies, right ?
A. Yes. I’m too shy to act.
THE COURT : You ‘re going to put in the other disk?
MR . SANGER: I put in Disk 2, if that’s all right , Your Honor .
THE COURT : Okay.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star, do you know what your mother is referring to when she mentioned “gang signs “?
A. Probably the guy behind the camera was doing something.
Q. You say “probably .” Is that something you thought at the time?

A. At that time?
Q. Yes.
A. No . I was just thinking about sleep.
Q. Did you think your mother was talking about a cameraman making gang signs ? Is that what she was saying?
A. She was pointing at off camera, so it couldn’t be the cameraman. It had to be someone else.

Q. Okay. Let me just get this straight. You think she was talking about the cameraman –

A. No , I know she was talking about not the cameraman, but someone off camera.

Q. Making gang signs ?

A. They probably weren’t even doing gang signs. He was probably doing a signal or something. I don’t know.

Q. But I think what you ‘re saying is you don ‘t know what she was referring to, right?

A. No .

Q. Now, was it your — are you telling the jury that while all this was going on , your family was being falsely imprisoned?

MR . SNEDDON : Objection . Argumentative, Your Honor. It’s a legal conclusion using those words .

THE COURT : Sustained .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Do you feel that while this was all going on, your family was not free to leave ?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And do you think the way your mother was acting, that she was in fear ?

A. I don ‘t know. I can ‘t speak for her.

Q. Were you in fear?

A. I was just sleepy .

Q. Okay. All right.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

THE COURT : Hold on, please . Take our break.

MR . MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT : Go ahead.

MR . MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor. Oops.

THE COURT : Do you want me to — are you ready to continue with the film?

MR . MESEREAU: Yes, please , Your Honor .

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star, the person who ‘s doing the interview says, “Davellin , Star , when you guys first went to the ranch, I’m sure you were pretty down .”

When you first went to Neverland Ranch , were you pretty down?

A. The first ever time?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were down because your brother was ill, right?

A. Yes.

MR . MESEREAU: Keep going.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Now, Star, when you made that statement , were you telling the truth?

A. What was the statement?

Q. The statement was , “The first time before our brother ever went to the ranch, he was always sad, he was always crying, he was always just down all the time. When he went to the ranch, he was always happy. He was always playful. He was happy again . He was cheerful , and it also gave him something to look forward when we left .”

Was that a true statement?

A. It was kind of true, because my brother was sad and — what’s the other word I used? Well, he was sad and down, because he was going through a life-threatening disease.

Q. And he was happy at the ranch , correct ?

A. Yes. In the beginning, yes.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: At this point, Star, you’re trying to speak out , correct ?

A. No . I was just saying I was sleepy .

Q. Well, he said he can hear you , Star , right?

A. Yeah. I was complaining.

Q. Was it your understanding that this film was supposed to be on a television show ?

A. No .

Q. Did you ever learn that this film was supposed to appear on FOX Television?

A. No .

Q. Okay.

We can go forward .

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People ‘s Exhibit 340 , Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

MR . MESEREAU: Your Honor, there ‘s a final piece of evidence we ‘d like to use that the prosecution wants to look at. It’s on DVD. It ‘s a card on DVD , and I think — is it true you have that?

MR . SNEDDON : No. You came up at the break and asked me for something , and it’s locked up in evidence at the sheriff ‘s department.

MR . SANGER: Your Honor , we have it . I said we ‘d show it to him. And we’re going to try to use — we’re going to try to use the electronic version, and then they’ll bring the actual piece of evidence over later, and we can substitute that .

So with the Court ‘s indulgence, we need just a minute for them to huddle over here, or somebody to take a look at it , if that ‘s all right .

THE COURT : Go ahead.

MR . SNEDDON : Do you have it?

MR . SANGER: I have it right here. It ‘s on the screen.

MR . SNEDDON : Oh, it ‘s on your computer.

MR . SANGER: Yeah .

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table .)

MR . SNEDDON : Judge, I have no objection to them using that in lieu of the original for right now, and we ‘ll get the original over here , if not today , tomorrow.

THE COURT : All right . We will give it a number now. So it will be 5004. And we’ll mark the original when you bring it over.

MR . SANGER: Your Honor , I believe there are three cards , if I’m not mistaken . But we can mark them as a group as 5004 . We don ‘t have to give them separate numbers, unless the Court wants to.

THE COURT : Okay. Well, let’s mark them, three cards , as a group , numbered 5004 .

MR . SANGER: May I walk around here ? I have to hook the thing up to the screen. Is that all right , Your Honor ?

THE COURT : Yes .

THE BAILIFF : It will be “Input 1.”

THE COURT : “Input 1,” okay .

THE BAILIFF : And Mr . Mesereau, can you hit the “PC” button?

THE COURT : These are agreed they go in evidence ? No objection to them going into evidence?

MR . SNEDDON : No, none whatsoever, Your Honor .

THE COURT : All right . They’re admitted. 5004 is admitted.

MR . MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Star –

THE BAILIFF : You need to hit “Black Screen.”

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: – you have sent greeting cards from time to time ?

A. Your microphone’s not on.

Q. Excuse me? You’re right.

THE COURT : They’re having trouble hearing you.

MR . MESEREAU: You’re right.

Q. You have sent greeting cards from time to time to people whom you asked for money, true?

MR . SNEDDON : Object ; assumes facts not in evidence .

THE COURT : Sustained .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: The language that you hear on that rebuttal tape is language similar to language you have used in greeting cards to people you were seeking money from, right?

A. We were never seeking –

MR . SNEDDON : Object , Your Honor . I object. Assumes facts not in evidence .

MR . MESEREAU: I'll start again.

Q. Do you know Louise Palanker?

A. Yes.

Q. How long have you known Louise Palanker?

A. Since the comedy camp.

Q. Are you still in touch with her?

A. Yes.

Q. When did you last talk to Louise Palanker ?

A. I think my sister talked to her. I haven 't talked to her since — I don't know exactly. But it was — it was within this year. Well –

Q. You — I'm sorry.

A. It was within the last year.

Q. Okay. You sent Louise Palanker greeting cards and you called her "Mommy," correct ?

A. I don 't remember doing that.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if you see a greeting card that you signed ?

A. Sure.

MR . SANGER: I take it Your Honor has it on the one where –

THE COURT : I have it on "1." Do you want me to try it on "4"?

MR . SANGER: May as well.

THE COURT: That's "4."

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table .)

MR . SNEDDON : I have a suggestion.

THE COURT : Yes .

MR . SNEDDON : Since he's only asking him to refresh his recollection, just take the computer and show it to him .

MR . MESEREAU: We 've moved it into evidence, Your Honor. I'd like the jury to see it, if we can.

THE COURT : It is in evidence.

THE BAILIFF : It will just be a minute .

THE COURT : Do you have a technician coming?

THE BAILIFF : We do.

THE COURT: There 's someone coming to help. I remember when an attorney just had to be able to come into court and talk .

(Laughter.)

THE COURT: Now they 're froze n if the machine doesn’t work .

MR . SANGER: I understand there’s somebody coming down in one second.

THE COURT : Yes , somebody’s been –

MR . MESEREAU: I can ask a few questions in the meantime, if you ‘d like, Your Honor.

THE COURT : That would be good .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Do you know whether or not Louise Palanker gave $20,000 to your family?

A. I know that she gave it to my dad, yeah.

Q. Do you know what the purpose for giving that money was?

A. To fix my brother ‘s bedroom at my grandma ‘s house , so he can live in it.

THE COURT : Would you like to wait just a moment, so –

MR . MESEREAU: Sure.

THE COURT : It would be better to let the technician....

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table .)

MR . SANGER: Oh, how about that? Your Honor, I just learned something new.

THE BAILIFF : So everything is ready.

THE COURT : Yes . Thank you .

THE TECHNICIAN : No problem.

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: You asked Louise Palanker for a computer , didn ‘t you ?

A. No . That’s not my writing .

Q. We ‘ll get to that . There’s some other pages .

A. Okay.

Q. Did you ever ask Louise Palanker for a computer ?

A. Never .

Q. Are you aware of anyone else in your family asking Louise for a computer?

A. No .

Q. Ever get a computer from Louise, to your knowledge?

A. No .

Q. Okay. Now, I want to show you this card.

It says, “From your boys and girl, Louise Mommy .” Do you see that?
A. Yes.
Q. It says, “You’re smiling when I’m happy and you hug me when I’m hurt.” Do you see that?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you call Louise “Mommy “?
A. Looks like my sister ‘s writing.
Q. Let me ask you if you called her “Mommy,” ever?
A. No .
Q. Did you ever hear your sister or Gavin call her “Mommy”?
A. No .
Q. Do you know why a card was sent to her that said “Mommy “?
A. I don ‘t know.

Q. Okay.
Let’s go to some other pages, if we can, Bob. Thanks.
Now, who is in that picture?
A. Me , my brother , my sister.
Q. Okay. Do you know approximately when those photos were taken ?
A. When my sister was in the Los Angeles Explorers.
Q. Okay. Do you know about what year that is?
A. No .
Q. Okay. Okay . Let ‘s look at this , then . Do you see the message at the bottom?
A. Okay.
Q. It says, “Dear Louise, I think of you every second of my like (sic) and pray for every night, every morning. I love you . I wish I can spend time with you . Love, Star,” right ?
A. I misspelled “life.”
Q. That’s your writing, though, isn ‘t it?
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. The question I have is , you see a message from Gavin and a message from Davellin, right ?
A. Okay.
Q. And why is everybody calling her “Mommy”; do you know ?

MR . SNEDDON : Your Honor, I’m going to object to that question .

MR . MESEREAU: Excuse me, I’ll rephrase it.

Q. Do you have any idea why the card is addressed to “Mommy”?

A. “Mommy’s” not –

Q. Pardon me?

A. “Mommy’s” not in my letter .

Q. I’m asking about the card.

A. I don ‘t know what ‘s written on there. Doesn ‘t look like my writing.

Q. Did you see the card before you wrote on it, if you remember?

A. No .

Q. But did you refer to her as “Mommy” ever?

A. No .

MR . SNEDDON : Asked and answered , Your Honor .

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Okay. Let’s go to the next card. Okay. Now, this is another card .

A. Okay.

Q. It says, “Dear Louise, once I see you, my day is wonderful. Louise, I miss you. I love you . Every day I want to be with you. Thank you. I love you. Love, Star.” Do you see that ?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you often send cards to Louise?

A. Not really.

Q. Do you remember how many you might have sent?

A. No .

Q. Okay. Keep going .

Do you see that card , Star ?

A. Yes.

Q. It says, “Our darling Louise, Wheezy.” Do you see that?

A. Yes.

Q. And that says, “We dearly love you and care about you. We love you to the moon and back . Faith fully, devotedly, your friends , your family, Davellin , David, Gavin, Janet , Star .” Do you see that?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you used to refer to Louise as being in your family ?

A. Not really. Just my brother probably did , because she was with my brother during the whole cancer.

Q. The question I want to ask you is this : Did you typically call people “family” that your mother was seeking funds from?

A. My mom was never seeking funds from –

Q. She never did that with anybody?

A. No .

Q. Not Chris Tucker?

A. No .

Q. Not Louise?

A. No . You can even ask Louise. My dad was the one trying to seek funds from her.

Q. And your mother was never involved in that at all?

A. No .

Q. How about with Jay Leno ?

A. I’ve never met Jay Leno in my life.

Q. Are you aware of your mother ever seeking funds from him ?

A. No .

MR . MESEREAU: Okay. I have no further questions.

THE COURT : Redirect?

Are you through with this exhibit?

MR . MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT : Do you need it?

MR . SNEDDON : No, I don ‘t need it.

Your Honor, I’m going to need a moment to get a couple of photographs from the clerk, if you don’t mind.

THE COURT : All right .

MR . SANGER: Your Honor , while that ‘s occurring, did the Court want to –

THE BAILIFF : You have to use the microphone.

MR . SANGER: I’m sorry.

Did the Court want to have us lodge this DVD with the Court until the physical exhibits are here?

THE COURT : That would be a good idea.

MR . SANGER: All right.

THE COURT : Just temporarily. Temporary Exhibit 5004.

MR . SANGER: Thank you.

MR . SNEDDON : Your Honor, with your permission, I'd like to show the exhibits — the witness some exhibits and put them up on the board . And I'm specifically — we 're going to start with People's No . 50 in evidence.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR . SNEDDON :

Q. Star, let me begin by asking you some questions about Mr. Jackson's bedroom. How many floors are there to his bedroom?

A. One.

Q. And how many floors are there in the suite to his bedroom ?

A. In the suite?

Q. Well, let me ask — let me show you a photograph.

A. Okay.

Q. Let me do it this way. I don 't want to get sidetracked here.

You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury during your testimony that on the occasion that you saw Mr. Jackson lying on the bed with your brother, that you had to walk up some stairs .

A. Yes.

Q. Is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And so is the bedroom where you saw those activities occur on the same level as the area below ?

A. No .

Q. I'm going to have to do it one at a time while I'm down here.

Now, the exhibit that you have that 's in front of you that 's People 's 50, do you see that?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, what door is that? Where does that lead to?

A. That’s leading to a hallway that leads to the second double door into his bedroom.

Q. And in relation to this particular door, is this the door you go through that sets off the sensors?

A. Yes.

Q. Where about , when you go through those doors , do you actually hear it?

A. A little after you pass the duck . The duck.

Q. And can you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury , what is the sound that you hear when it goes off ?

A. It ‘s hard to explain . But it goes like “doom -doom-doom.” Something like that .

Q. How long do you think it is?

A. Couple seconds .

Q. Is that the only sound that goes off?

A. Yes.

Q. The exhibit number on that photograph, I believe, is 53 ; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you see in that photograph what you were referring to in answering Mr. Mesereau ‘s questions as the sensors ?

A. What do you mean?

Q. Well, he asked you about some sensors. Do you remember that ?

A. Oh , yes.

Q. All right. And what were you referring to? Do you see anything in that photograph that you were referring to in answering his questions?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. What is it?

A. It ‘s the silver one to the right of the picture. It’s under the picture of a little girl.

Q. Now, just wait a second . All right. Now, show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what you were referring to just a moment ago .

A. Okay.

Q. So there ‘s one on each side?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, is there a separate key pad entry that you have to touch to get in?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you were answering Mr. Mesereau ‘s questions, you indicated that there was a double door you had to go through to get into Mr . Jackson ‘s bedroom.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall that?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you see the double doors that you were referring to in your testimony to Mr. Mesereau?

A. Yes.

Q. Would you point them out to the jury in this photograph?

A. Okay.

Q. So you’re indicating in the middle of the photograph, one on the right and one on the left?

A. Yes.

Q. I’ve now handed you People ‘s 54. Do you recognize that photograph?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, what is that ?

A. That’s the view inside Michael’s bedroom.

Q. Now, do you see in that photograph the double doors you were referring to in answering Mr .

Mesereau ‘s questions ?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Would you point it out to the jury ?

A. Okay.

Q. You’re indicating to the right and to the left of the photograph?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, directly ahead in that photograph , do you see that?

A. Yes.

Q. What is that? What part of the room is that?

A. That’s the downstairs.

Q. The downstairs to what?

A. Michael’s bedroom . That’s the big area.

Q. That’s the what?

A. That’s the big area.

Q. Now, earlier in your testimony the other day, when we were going through — and I’m not going to walk through all of them, but we were going through the photographs , you identified an area as a bathroom that had a tub in it . Do you recall that ?

A. Yes.

Q. What floor is that on?

A. The first floor.

Q. And the area with the piano?

A. It ‘s on the first floor also.

Q. Now, in that photograph , if one were to enter those doors and want to go to Mr . Jackson ‘s bedroom – okay ? – which way would they turn after they come through those doors ?

A. You would turn to the right.

Q. And then after you turn to the right, where would you have to go ?

A. You would have to open up a door and turn to your left and walk up the stairs .

Q. And do you know approximately how much distance there is between the time you enter the door and turn right, before you get to the door ?

A. Like 17 stairs .

Q. No , no, that’s not what I asked you . What I asked you was , when you turn to the right through this door , before you get to the door that leads to the stairway , approximately how far is that?

A. Eight feet.

MR . AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, could you black the screen just for a moment?

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table .)

MR . SNEDDON : Now — do you want to put that back up?

MR . AUCHINCLOSS: Thank you, Your Honor. That’s fine .

MR . SNEDDON : Put the other one back up. I have one last question on the original one . There we go .

Q. All right. Star, you indicated to Mr. Mesereau that there was a door that had several locks on it from the inside. Do you recall that?

A. Yes.

Q. And can you tell us which door or doors it is that has those locks ?

So you’re referring — and the exhibit number on that , Star ?

A. Yes.

Q. Hate to interrupt you, but — what’s the exhibit number on that?

A. 54 .

Q. 54 . So you were indicating the two doors to the entrance to the bedroom?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, are those doors visible in this photograph or on the other side of the doors ?

A. The other side of the doors.

Q. And what kind of locks are they?

A. Um , there’s two at the top — well, one on each door at the top . And you have to push it till it locks . And on the bottom, it ‘s like the same thing , but you ‘re pushing down.

Q. So you counted each one of those things as a lock?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And what else was locked, do you consider a lock?

A. The key pad . It will lock the — I don’t know what it’s called, but it ‘s that (indicating). Not the doorknob. It was like — well , it will just unlock it.

Q. And where was the key pad that unlocked it? Back over there that you showed us on that other photograph?

A. Yes. And there’s a lock that you just twist , and there’s one more lock . Wait. Wait, I think there ‘s just six, then.

Q. Okay. In any case, those were what you considered the locks that you were talking about with the jury?

A. Yes. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, let ‘s go to the –

A. Six.

Q. All right. We have a photograph marked as People’s 72 . It’s in evidence. Do you see that?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that the one you have in front of you right now?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, with regard to that particular photograph, there is a door depicted in that particular photograph. Do you see that?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, with regard to your testimony and the answering of the questions of Mr . Mesereau yesterday and today, do you see the door that you were referring to that leads to Mr . Jackson ‘s bedroom?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Can you point that out to the jury?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And that ‘s the door that is indicated about two-thirds of the way over on the left-hand side of the photograph ?

A. Yes.

Q. Right by the stairwell?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, is that door a different — is that door different from the one you showed us before that you come into the entryway?

A. No .

Q. Pardon?

A. Well, yes, it’s different. It’s a single door.

Q. And when you referred to a door the first time that you went up the stairs that was — that you thought was locked until you pushed it the second time , is that the door you’re referring to?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, Star, you can put that down if you’d like.

And we can turn the lights on , if you’d like, Your Honor.

Just a couple of other things that have to do with the residence.

You indicated in your testimony that you needed a combination for pads to get into certain locations in Mr. Jackson’s — at Neverland Ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you ‘ve described some of the locations that you needed the pad to get into certain locations. Did you need a combination to get into the arcade?

A. No .

Q. Did you need a combination to get into Mr . Jackson’s office?

A. Yes.

Q. Did the combination that you had work?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you need a combination to get into the theater?

A. I think it was locked with a key .

Q. With a key?

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you know where they kept the key?

A. No , I think security had the key . I don’t know who exactly had the key.

Q. With regard to the kitchen , did you need a pad to get into the kitchen?

A. No , it was open.

Q. And when you told us about entering the front door, but there is a rear entrance to Mr. Jackson’s residence, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you need to have a combination to get in there ?

A. Yes.

Q. And the same combination you’ve described in answering both my questions and Mr. Mesereau ‘s, that combination worked?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, speaking of the kitchen, Mr . Mesereau asked you about being in the kitchen, and you indicated that you had been out there looking around for some utensils to cook.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall that?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Will you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury why you were in the kitchen cooking?

A. Because sometimes the cooks didn ‘t cook it right , so I cooked some stuff .

Q. Do you like to cook?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that one of your hobbies?

A. One of my hobbies , yes.

Q. One other thing, just — when you answered

Mr . Mesereau’s question and you said that Gavin went to Neverland Valley Ranch when he was seriously ill; do you recall that?

A. Yes.

Q. What did you mean by that?

A. He was seriously ill and he went to Neverland Ranch.

Q. What did you mean by “seriously ill “?

A. He had cancer.

Q. Is that what you meant?

A. Yes.

Q. How did you find out that there was a telescope up on the hill?

A. We — me , my brother and — I don’t remember who, but me , my brother and someone else were riding up there with our ATV’s and we saw a trail, and so we went up there, and we found like a glass table and — it was like a covered area. And there was a telescope that was mounted right there .

Q. All right. I’m going to ask you some questions now about some things that Mr. Mesereau asked you about. Okay?

A. Okay.

Q. Now, do you remember Mr . Mesereau asking you about the incident that you described where Mr. Jackson got on the bed and scooted over towards your brother, and I think Mr . Mesereau said put his arm around him and was next to him?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall Mr. Mesereau asking you that?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, did you tell the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Department about that incident?

A. Yes.

Q. And did you also tell the sheriff’s department that there were two other incidents that you saw Mr. Jackson on the bed with your brother?

A. Yes.

MR . MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT : Overruled .

THE WITNESS : Yes .

THE COURT : The answer was in.

Q. BY MR . SNEDDON : So you told them there were actually three incidents that occurred ?

A. Yes.

Q. And you told them that in the initial interview; isn ‘t that correct ?

A. Yes.

Q. And you also testified to that at the grand jury, did you not ?

A. Yes.

Q. You testified to all three incidents?

A. Yes.

Q. So there was two you saw on the stairs , and one you saw when you were in the bedroom?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, with regard to the time that you saw Mr . Jackson on the bed with your brother, okay?

A. Okay.

Q. And that you’ve described to the jury with Mr . Jackson ‘s hand inside your brother ‘s private parts , okay ?

A. Okay.

Q. Now, did you have any difficulty seeing what was going on?

A. No .

Q. Could you see their eyes?

A. A little bit, yes .

Q. Could you tell whether or not in the first incident , whether or not your brother’s eyes were opened or closed?

A. His head was facing down, and I saw his eyes. They were closed .

Q. And with regard to Mr. Jackson in the first incident , did you see whether his eyes were open or closed?

A. His eyes were closed .

Q. And in the second — well, in the first incident , I think you indicated that you — well, let me just do it the other way.

When you said that you had seen alcohol in Mr . Jackson ‘s room before –

A. Yes.

Q. – on the first incident when you went up there and you saw Mr . Jackson on the bed next to your brother and your brother curled up, did you see alcohol on that occasion?

A. Yes.

Q. And where was it in the room?

A. It was the nightstand next to the bed.

Q. On which side?

A. My brother’s side .

Q. So you had no difficulty seeing the alcohol on the nightstand ?

A. No .

Q. Now, you were asked by Mr. Mesereau to look at a section of the transcript during your grand jury testimony about whether you saw Mr. Jackson fiddling with your brother ‘s shirts or otherwise touching him. Do you recall him asking you that?

A. Yes.

Q. And then you were asked a question by Mr. Mesereau , where you said — there was a question,

“He would be touching him a lot?”

“Yeah .”

And then you said , “Not his genitals. Not his penis. I never saw that.” Okay?

A. Yes.

Q. What were you referring to in connection with that statement in relationship to the information you had just talked about?

A. I was talking about at the table .

Q. At the what ?

A. At the table.

Q. Is that where that incident occurred?

A. Yes.

Q. So you didn ‘t see him touch your brother’s privates or genitals at the table?
A. Yes.
Q. Star, is there any doubt in your mind as to what you saw with regard to your brother and the defendant while they were laying on the bed on the two occasions you testified to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury?
A. No .
Q. Was it the truth?
A. Yes.
MR . SNEDDON : I have no further questions , Your Honor.
THE COURT : Recross?
MR . MESEREAU: Very briefly, Your Honor. If I may take a second.
THE COURT : Yes .

RECROSS-EXAMINATION
BY MR . MESEREAU:
Q. Have you told the truth throughout your testimony in this courtroom?
A. Yes.
Q. Have you told any lie at all?

A. No .
Q. Did you tell the truth to the grand jury?
A. Yes.
Q. Ever tell any lie to the grand jury ?
A. No .
Q. Did you tell the truth to the police every time you interviewed with them?
A. Yes.
Q. Ever tell them any lies ?
A. No . No.
Q. Have you ever lied before?
A. Yes.
THE COURT: Counsel? One of the jurors needs to use the rest room , so we’ll — I think what we should do is break early.
MR . MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.
THE COURT : We’re on a break.
(Recess taken.)
THE COURT: Go ahead , Counsel .

MR . MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q. Star, you said there were 17 stairs , right?
A. Give or take a few, yes .
Q. Did you count them?
A. Over time, yeah.
Q. What do you mean, “over time”?
A. We stood there for a long time.
Q. Well, I’m asking you , did you count the stairs?

A. Yeah.
Q. How did you come up with the number “17”?
A. I don ‘t know.
Q. Pardon me?
A. Most stairs like that have 17 stairs.
Q. Most stairs like that have 17 stairs?
A. Well, most stairways like that have 17 stairs.
Q. How do you know that ?
A. Because my house has 17 stairs.
Q. Did someone from the prosecution team tell you there was 17 stairs ?
A. No , they — no , I just knew there were 17 stairs.
Q. Did someone from the sheriff’s department tell you there were 17 stairs ?
A. No .
Q. Did you actually count those stairs ?
A. Yes.
Q. When?
A. I don ‘t know the exact date. But I remember counting them.
Q. When you were at Neverland ?
A. Yes.
Q. And what was the purpose for counting them?
A. I don ‘t know. I do that at every house I go to with stairs . I just count the stairs.
Q. So you’re a compulsive stair-counter?

A. No . I just count the stairs.
Q. Is that one of your hobbies also ?
A. No , my other hobby’s building airplanes, model airplanes.
Q. In none of the police reports do you mention

"17 stairs," correct ?

A. No .

Q. Before the grand jury, you never mentioned "17 stairs," correct ?

A. Yes.

Q. But you're saying years ago, you counted 17 stairs, right?

A. Yes, I just remember the number.

Q. You did it just for fun , right?

A. Yeah. Just happened to count them.

Q. Okay. Now, you gave an eight -feet figure . Remember that?

A. Yeah.

Q. How did you figure out eight feet –

A. I don 't know. It looked like eight feet, so I just said –

Q. Did you measure that also?

A. No .

Q. Okay. You just kind of guessed?

A. Well, I don 't know. Yeah.

Q. Did the prosecutor ever tell you eight feet?

A. No .

Q. Did any member of the sheriff 's department ever tell you to say eight feet?

A. No .

Q. How many stairs are there in the main house leading to the kids' room?

A. Let's see. Six — I don't know exactly how –

Q. You didn 't count them?

A. No . They're not in a straight line , so I didn't count them .

(Laughter.)

Q. So when you count stairs, you only do it when they're in a straight line?

A. When they're straight.

Q. Okay. You didn't count those stairs, did you?

A. I did count those stairs.

Q. You mentioned you some rode ATV's, right?

A. Yes.

Q. And you and your brother used to ride – rode ATV 's on the ranch , right?

A. Until someone got lost in the mountains, so ....
Q. You actually rode those ATV’s into Los Olivos one day , didn ‘t you ?
A. We never left the ranch .
Q. Huh?
A. We never left the ranch .
Q. Well, you were caught in Los Olivos with them, weren ‘t you ?

A. By who?
Q. By someone who works on the ranch.
A. No , it’s not true .
Q. Never went off the property on the ATV ‘s?
A. No .
Q. Never were caught by anybody?
A. No .
Q. Now, you were not supposed to be in the kitchen cooking, correct?
A. The cooks encouraged me to cook.
Q. You were confronted by Kiki one time about you were not supposed to be in the kitchen, right?
A. No .
Q. You don’t recall that?
A. No .
Q. You don’t recall threatening Kiki with a knife when she confronted you in the kitchen ?
A. No .
Q. Never happened ?
A. No .
Q. Now, Prosecutor Sneddon asked you what you meant when you told the grand jury you hadn’t seen Michael Jackson touch Gavin’s genitals or penis . Do you remember that ?
A. Yes.
Q. And your response to Mr . Sneddon was, “Well, I was just talking about the dinner table ,” right?

A. Yes.
Q. How come you never mentioned “dinner table” to the grand jury when you made that statement?
A. I don ‘t know if they asked me .
Q. Well, let me just go through what you said.
A. Okay.
Q. Okay?

“Q. What kind of things?

“Fix his shirt .

“Q. What else ?

“A. He looked like from — if you’re standing in front of him, it looked like he ‘s trying to fix his shirt. But it’s hard to explain . But he would like fix it , like he would touch — well , it was weird.

“Q. He would be touching him a lot?

“A. Yeah.

“Q. Not his genitals, not his penis?

“A. I never saw that. But I saw it in the paper.”

A. I don ‘t know what I meant by “paper ,” but I was trying to say that I didn ‘t see it that time.

Q. But you never mentioned any kitchen table , right ?

A. But it wasn’t the kitchen table.

Q. But you never mentioned any table at all, correct?

A. I know.

Q. When did you come up with that explanation?

MR . SNEDDON : Object ; argumentative .

THE COURT : Sustained .

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: Did you discuss with Prosecutor Sneddon that you were going to be asked that question?

A. No .

Q. Have you ever discussed the statement you made to the grand jury about not seeing genitals or penis ; ever discuss that statement with Mr. Sneddon?

A. No .

Q. Ever discuss it with any prosecutor ?

A. No .

Q. Ever discuss it with anyone in the sheriff’s department?

A. No .

Q. You don’t mention that kitchen table in this context anywhere in the police reports , do you?

A. I don ‘t know.

MR . SNEDDON : Your Honor, I’m going to object. Assumes facts not in evidence as to — I won’t say anything.

THE COURT : I don’t think he knows what ‘s in the police reports, so –

MR . MESEREAU: Okay. I’ll rephrase it , Your Honor .

Q. In none of your police interviews do you ever make that statement and say , “I’m limiting this to what I saw at the kitchen table,” right?

MR . SNEDDON : That’s what I’m objecting to. It assumes facts not in evidence as to the — I know you don’t want me to speak , but –

THE COURT : I don’t want you to speak.

MR . SNEDDON : All right . Then –

THE COURT : I’ll allow the question. I’ll have it read back .

(Record read .)

THE WITNESS: No.

Q. BY MR . MESEREAU: And in none of your police interviews do you limit that statement about not seeing genitals or penis touched to any table, right ?

A. No .

Q. Today is the first time you ever limited that statement to what you saw at a table , correct ?

A. I don ‘t — yes .

Q. Now, you ‘ve indicated the first time you ever discussed any alleged inappropriate touching by Michael Jackson was with Psychologist Stanley Katz , right ?

A. Yes.

Q. And you have admitted that you gave Stanley Katz a different description than you’ve given in this courtroom , right?

A. Yes.

Q. In fact, you never mentioned the third event that you ‘ve described today to Stanley Katz?

A. Because I might have forgot about it.

MR . MESEREAU: No further questions .

THE COURT : Mr. Sneddon?

FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR . SNEDDON :

Q. Star, with regard to the table that you’re talking about, was it the kitchen table?

A. It was the dinner table .
Q. And there’s — there ‘s a difference in that particular residence between the kitchen table and the dinner table, correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And when you were asked this question, you were asked this question at the grand jury, correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And you were asked by Mr. Zonen?
A. Yes.
Q. And he was asking you about Mr. Jackson fiddling with your brother ‘s shirt?
A. Yes.
Q. Is that the only occasion that you saw him fiddling with his shirt ?
A. Yes.
Q. And that was in response to Mr. Zonen’s question ?
A. Yes.

MR . SNEDDON : Nothing further , Your Honor .
MR . MESEREAU: Nothing further, Your Honor.
THE COURT : All right . Thank you . You may step down.
Call your next witness.
MR . SNEDDON : Gavin Arvizo , Your Honor .
THE COURT: When you get to the witness stand here, please remain standing.
GAVIN ARVIZO: Yes, sir .
THE COURT : Face the clerk here. Raise your right hand.

GAVIN-ANTON ARVIZO
Having been sworn, testified as follows :

THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record.
THE WITNESS : Gavin — Gavin-Anton Arvizo .
THE CLERK : Will you spell your name , please?
THE WITNESS : G-a-v-i-n, dash , A-n-t-o-n, A-r-v-i-z-o.
THE CLERK : Thank you .

DIRECT EXAMINATION
BY MR . SNEDDON :
Q. Okay. I’m going to have to ask you to lean right into that mike and talk loud so we can all hear what you have to say. All right?

A. All right.

Q. Do you recognize the defendant in this case?

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that ?

A. Michael Jackson.

Q. Did you know Mr. Jackson for a while?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Gavin , tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, how old are you ?

A. Right now, I'm 15 years old.

Q. And what ‘s your date of birth ?

A. December 2nd, 1989.

Q. And do you have any brothers and sisters?

A. Yes. One brother and one sister . And right now I have one half brother. One big brother.

Q. And your mother's name?

A. Janet — well, I guess her name right now is Janet Jackson.

Q. And your stepfather's name ?

A. Jay Jackson .

Q. And your father's name?

A. David Gavino Arvizo.

Q. Do you have a sister ?

A. Yes.

Q. His name — her name ?

A. Davellin Love Arvizo .

Q. And you have a brother?

A. Yes.

Q. Another brother?

A. Star David Arvizo .

Q. And you said you have a half brother. I'm assuming you mean –

A. Jett.

Q. Jett?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you were growing up and you started school , do you remember what school you started at?

A. Well, like, I think the first school I went to is a school called Durphy. And then I went to a school called Norwood.

Q. You got to lean into the mike .
A. I think the first school I went to was Durphy, and it was like when I was like four years old. And the teacher said I wasn’t, like , old enough to go to school, and I had to go to kindergarten to another school when I was five, something like that.
Q. When you were — like, say , from kindergarten through the third or fourth grade, where were you living?
A. I was living at my — first my grandmother’s house , and then we moved to East L.A.
Q. And do you remember the street in East L.A. that you moved to ?
A. Soto.

Q. And when you lived on Soto Street, who did you live with at that place, in the beginning?
A. I lived with my biological father David and my mom Janet.
Q. And what about your brother and sister ?
A. My brother Star, and my sister Davellin.
Q. And can you describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what the inside of the place that you lived at on Soto Street was like ?
A. It was like one room , and then we had like a kitchen, there was like a hallway kind of , and we had to put all our appliances and stuff in there. And we had one rest room, and one closet, so it was like a bachelor apartment.
Q. And where did you sleep in that room?
A. We slept like — when you would open the door, there was — we would put our bunk beds right there . But then later we didn’t have any more bunk beds, and then we all slept on one bed together .
Q. Now, during the time that you were living on Soto Street in your — well, let me ask it this way: At some point did your father leave ?
A. Yeah.
Q. Do you remember that ?
A. I was at my grandmother ‘s house when it happened . But my mom told me that something happened where he wanted him to take — she wanted to take my — my sister and my brother to go to , like, a park or something, and he got angry and he left.

Q. Now, did you ever see your father after that?

A. No .

Q. During the time that your mother and father lived together and you lived with your mother and your father – okay? –

A. Uh -huh.

Q. – how would you describe the nature of their relationship?

A. Well, like, they would fight every day , about where we lived and, like, bills and whatever .

Q. You got to lean in there.

A. They would fight about bills, and his family, and our family. Well , the — like my mom’s mother and father , and their cousins and my — they would fight about his family; you know what I mean ?

Q. Did you ever see any physical abuse ?

A. Yeah.

Q. By whom?

A. My dad would hit my mom sometimes. Like I saw him one time grab a fire hydrant and my mom tripped over a cart — or those — it was like a black cart that was like about that tall.

Q. What did you use the cart for ?

A. Used it for grocery shopping. It broke really easy , though. And my mom tripped over it because my dad was about to hit her with a fire hydrant.

Q. Do you mean — a fire hydrant ; do you mean like –

A. It was a fire — oh, it was a fire hydrant about that big , about that tall. They had them in our apartment.

Q. Okay. Were you ever struck by your father?

A. Yeah.

Q. How many times were you struck?

A. Well, I was not hit as much as my mom was , but I got hit sometimes .

Q. How about your brothers and sisters ?

A. I saw him hit my brother a lot, like in his head. He — and my sister sometimes, too , he slapped her .

Q. During the summer one time , did you ever attend a comedy camp ?

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury about that.

A. When I was — when I was eight years old, my mom found this flyer , and she always thought that I was, like, kind of funny. So she wanted me to go to this comedy camp that was at a comedy club, and it was called Laugh Factory.

And so I went there, and we would — Jamie would have comedians come, and then we would — they would teach us and we would take notes and stuff.

And then , like , toward the end — well , when we have our graduation from comedy camp, we each had like a — like our own coach for each people — for each person, and my coach was George Lopez.

Q. Now, you used the name “Jamie .” Do you know Jamie ‘s last name ?

A. Masada.

Q. And did he become a family friend?

A. Yeah. He’s really close. Like when I had cancer, he would always visit me . And he would feed me food, because I didn ‘t really want to eat , because the chemotherapy makes you always nauseous and always want to throw up. And it got to the point where I got to , like , 68 pounds. And Jamie would feed me pineapple and melon and stuff.

Q. Now, when you were at the comedy camp that summer – okay? – did you have somebody that you admired as a comedian?

A. Uh -huh.

Q. Who was that?

A. Jay Leno .

Q. And did you ever talk to anybody about Jay Leno?

A. Yeah.

Q. Who? Just tell me who first.

A. Jamie .

Q. Okay. Go ahead.

A. At the comedy camp, I would always ask Jamie if Jay Leno was ever going to come, if Jay Leno ‘s going to come and teach us , come to the camp , because I really liked him . Jay Leno was my favorite comedian . But he never came to the camp.

Q. At some point in time, you learned — you became ill, correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And when you became ill , what was the first thing that you realized that something wasn’t right with your body ?

A. Well, my stomach was hurting a lot, like it felt like there was a knife in your stomach. And I couldn’t sleep at night . I would put my pillow in my stomach, because it really hurt. And then I looked at myself in the mirror and lifted up my shirt , and I saw there was a big bump, like my lower left torso.

Q. Okay.

A. And my grandmother came , and she saw it, and she told my parents. And a couple days later we went to the hospital , and they told me — the doctors were saying, like, it ‘s an inflamed spleen or it ‘s this and that. They weren’t really saying it was cancer yet .

Q. When you went to the hospital for the first time and they examined you , did they put you in the hospital on that date?

A. Yeah. And then I had a surgery that same week on Thursday. So we went there on Monday, I think , and then surgery was on Thursday.

Q. When did you personally learn that you had cancer?

A. Um , it was before my surgery. They were very open. They would — didn’t try to hide it from me that I had cancer . The surgeons came in and they talked about it, and they said what the cancer was . And they said how they were going to take it out, and they were going to need to take out this – they’re going to need to remove the cancer. And then Thursday they did the surgery. And they had – they didn’t just have to take out the cancer , they had to take out my spleen and my left kidney , because the cancer was eating away at the — my spleen and my kidney .

Q. Now, after you came out of surgery, and you — did you remain in the hospital for some period of time ?
A. Yes.
Q. How long ; do you remember?
A. A few weeks , I guess .
Q. During that first period of time after the surgery and you were there for two weeks, did you have any visitors ?
A. Yeah.
Q. Who was that?

A. Like my old coach , George Lopez, came, and he would always — he visited me . Jamie would visit me . And then Louise Palanker would visit me . My grandparents would visit me a lot. George Lopez would always bring me shirts and stuff , because a lot of my clothes didn’t fit me anymore. And Jamie would buy me these little toys that I could play with.
Jamie would always say like — I remember hearing him say to my parents actually , to “Always keep him happy . Always keep him happy .”
Q. Now, did you become friends with George Lopez ?
A. Oh , yeah . He was like a brother to me . He was very close and caring about everything that happened with my cancer .
Q. Are you still close to Mr. Lopez ?
A. No . Not really.
Q. What happened?
A. Well, I heard about something that happened between my biological father and George Lopez. There was a confrontation where he went to one of his clubs — not one of his clubs. One of his shows at a club, and –
Q. Between your — between who?
A. My biological father David and George.
Q. After that, did you have any contact with Mr . Lopez?

A. No .

Q. Was that after your cancer had gone into remission?

A. Yes, I believe so .

Q. So Mr . Lopez was there for you during the time you were having cancer?

A. Yeah, he was always there for me . He would always call and talk to me , call me and say that to “Always” — that “Always be happy.” He’d cheer me up when I was sad and stuff.

Q. Now, during the time that you were in the hospital with cancer , did you ever have a conversation with regard to some people that you would like to meet?

A. Yeah.

Q. Now, at the time that you asked — you made the request to meet these people , what was your condition at that point in time in terms of whether you thought you were going to live or die ?

A. Well, me , when I had cancer, I never thought I was going to die. I always — I never even thought about that. I always thought about, oh , getting done with the chemo and going to school again ; you know what I mean?

Q. Did the doctors tell you something different?

A. Yeah, there was one time that I was — well, they thought I was sleeping in my bed, and they were talking to my mother and my biological father. And my doctor told them to prepare for my funeral. And that if the cancer didn ‘t kill me, the chemotherapy would . Because the chemotherapy is toxic and they were giving me adult dosages.

Q. So who did you make the request of to meet some people while you were under going cancer treatment?

A. Jamie .

Q. And who did you ask to see ?

A. Well, there ‘s — I asked — like every time I would watch Jay Leno’s shows was — Jay Leno was a really nice , really nice comedian, and I always wanted to meet him. And he was like — I thought he was like the coolest comedian .

And then Louise Palanker and Jamie Masada knew that, and so they gave me his phone number . And I would call him up , and I would ask him if he could come and visit me or he could give me his phone number so I could call him , and I would leave messages .

Q. Anybody else other than Mr . Leno ?

A. Michael.

Q. Okay. Anybody else?

A. Chris Tucker.

Q. Okay. Were there any others? Were there others that you asked to meet but you didn’t meet?

A. Oh , that I didn’t meet? No, I don’t think so .

Q. Okay. Tell me about Mr . Tucker. How was it that you met Mr. Tucker ?

A. He came to my first benefit that Jamie allowed me to have. And he was sitting there and talking to me, and he was talking to me about God and stuff, and that God ‘s going to bless me and all this stuff like that . And then he wrote his phone number down on a napkin . He told me to call him and that we would hang out sometime.

And then so — the next day I called him because I was — because it was Chris Tucker and he was really cool.

Q. Okay. Did he come over ?

A. I went over to his house.

Q. How did you get there?

A. I think my dad drove me over the first time.

Q. So you met Mr. Tucker at his house, the first time you met him in person ?

A. Yeah. No, I met him in person the first time at the benefit. Like he was there. He was – he was wearing like this white hat and white shirt .

Q. During the time that you had cancer , did you become close friends with Mr. Tucker?

A. Yeah. He is –

Q. Tell us what Mr. Tucker did to help you.

A. He was really close to me. Like , he would always — like , he took us to the Nickelodeon Awards like two years in a row . And he said, “Well , this is our tradition. We’re always going to go to the Nickelodeon Awards.” And he got really — like , we were really close .

And, like, one night , on New Year’s, I was feeling really sad because I had to be in the hospital , and I was watching the New Year ‘s stuff. And so I called up Chris, and I asked him , “Hey” — I actually — I just left a message . I didn’t really talk to him in person . I said , “Chris, man , I need my brother. I don ‘t really have anybody here.”

And then he didn’t even — he didn’t call me back. But like at twelve o’clock midnight, he was at my hospital — well, actually , he was in the elevator coming up to my hospital room as New Year ‘s rang out . And then he came up there, and we were like — I was all , “Oh, Chris .” And he brought Aja, his girlfriend , and little Dustin, his baby. And then I didn ‘t think they were going to come because New Year ‘s already rang out and stuff. Like , ten – seven — five seconds after New Year’s, he was in my hospital room. And I was really happy , and — I don’t know. And he said, “Well, it ‘s not about looking at when it rings out. It’s about being with the people you love.” And that’s one of the reasons I really like Chris and I got close to Chris .

Q. Did Mr. Tucker take you any other places?

A. Yeah, he took me to Neverland a couple of times . He took me out there.

Q. All right. Any other places that you recall going with Mr. Tucker?

A. Oakland.

Q. Oakland?

A. Yeah. To see –

Q. What was the occasion?

A. Oh , because he knew I liked the Raiders football team, so he — he knew this guy, he knew one guy on the football team. I don’t know his first name, but his last name is Pope. And he took me up there in his plane, and then we went and saw an Oakland Raider game. And I remember the Raiders played the Jets. And then the Raiders won that game. And we went into the locker room afterwards . I met a bunch of players and he signed a jersey that I had . So it was pretty cool .

Q. Did you ever go to any Laker games with him?

A. Yeah.

Q. Tell us about that.

A. Like, he had these — like , these pretty rich friends, and he would take me to — over there, and he would always have, like, front-row seats to the Laker games, and they would take me. And then , like , Chris — one time Chris bought me a jersey, and we would always have those — like, I remember seeing — always go right when we come in, and it was the front-row seats so you could see the line of the court . It was pretty cool.

Q. Did you ever go in the locker room?

A. No . We went — it wasn ‘t really a locker room we went to. It was like — kind of like a garage place, and then we saw , like , all the players. They were already like dressed, leaving. And then I saw Shaq. Like , his whole — it was like my head came barely past his waist.

Q. Big guy, huh?

A. Yeah.

Q. Are you friends with Mr . Tucker anymore currently?

A. Well, I don ‘t know if he still wants to be my friend, but I’m — no, I haven’t called him in a while . And he hasn’t — he hasn ‘t called me and we haven ‘t really talked in a while .

Q. Why?

A. I don ‘t know. I guess because of all this stuff .

Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that you had gone to a benefit. I think that’s what you said . A benefit ?

A. Uh -huh.

Q. At The Laugh Factory ?

A. Yeah. Jamie donated one of his nights to – for me. I think it was like Thursday or something .

Q. And was that a different night or the same night that you met Mr. Tucker for the first time?

A. I think that was the — the first night I met him was — oh , actually, when I met Chris Tucker, I met him at a graduation for the 2000 class of comedy camp . Like, Jamie invited me over there for that , and Chris Tucker was there. That wasn’t when the benefit was . I just remembered that right now. It was then .

Q. But did you meet him at a benefit?

A. I met Chris at the graduation for, like, 2000 comedy camp.

Q. All right. Do you know whether Mr. Tucker ever attended any of the benefits that Mr . Masada arranged ?

A. Yeah, he came to my first benefit.

Q. Now, were you at the benefit?

A. Yes. I performed in it .

Q. Well, who else was there, from your family?

A. I had my doctor, my — Chris and his — all his friends . And Kobe was there . And he brought his girlfriend or his now wife. I don ‘t know, some — it was a lady. Louise Palanker was there. A lot of people came , so....

Q. And members of your family . Who was there?

A. My mom was there, and my biological father. Oh , I don’t know if my mom was there. My biological father was there, I think.

Q. Any of your brothers or sisters?

A. I’m pretty sure they were there.

Q. Now, did you have occasion on that particular night to meet Kobe Bryant?

A. No . The first time I really met — I met Kobe Bryant was at one of the Laker games that Chris brought me. And they were all talking , like , in this hallway. It was — I don’t know, it was like — it was like a really long hallway . It was all cement.

And then Chris and, like, all these other guys were talking to Kobe and they were all leaning against the wall and they were all talking, and I was just sitting there because I was bored. They were all talking about, like, adult stuff .

Q. Did you ever have a picture taken with Mr .

Bryant?

A. Yeah.

Q. Where was that picture taken at?

A. That was at my first benefit.

Q. At where ?

A. At The Laugh Factory .

Q. Now, at any of these benefits — there were two benefits; is that correct ?

A. Yes.

Q. I don ‘t want to put words in your mouth. Were there more than two, or is that –

A. No , I’m pretty sure there was only two .

Q. And where was the second benefit ?

A. At The Laugh Factory .

Q. And do you remember how much time elapsed between the first benefit and the second benefit?

A. Probably a month maybe.

Q. At the first benefit — or at the second benefit — let ‘s just go to the second benefit for a second. Just tell me what members of your family were at that benefit .

A. I don ‘t know. Maybe — I guess my dad would be there .

Q. Why?

A. Because he was the one that was always with me .

Q. At either of these benefits, did you ever hear your mother ask for any money?

A. No .

Q. Did you ever hear your father ask for any money at these benefits ?

A. I wouldn ‘t really see him asking for money, but I knew he would be the one getting the money.

Q. How do you know that ?

A. Because he would be the one talking to Jamie about that stuff.

Q. During the time that you had cancer , was it necessary for the members of your family to do something to — with regard to where you stayed when you were not in the hospital?

A. Yeah.

Q. What was that?

A. Well, they didn’t want me to stay at the apartment anymore . And they wanted to also make me happy , and they knew I loved my grandma, so they had me go live with my grandma .

But the problem was, I couldn ‘t go to my grandma’s house, because they didn’t have a room that I could stay in that was clean , because I had to stay in a clean room .

So Louise Palanker gave us some money so that we could fix up a room at my grandma ‘s house. And they gave us money so I could get, like, a – linoleum tile floors , and — because I couldn’t have carpet because it would be too dusty and bacteria could be there . And I didn’t have a spleen, and I had, like, no white blood cells, so I could get sick, really sick , and get fevers and have to go to the hospital and stuff. That ‘s why they had to put down linoleum floors . And then they painted the rooms all, like, this green color. And then they painted white because it was a different color. They got me a better bed and then they also found me a T.V. in my room .

Q. Do you remember, how big was the T.V.?

A. It was probably about that big (indicating).

Q. Okay. I’m a bad judge of distance there.

About three feet?

A. I don ‘t know.

MR . SNEDDON : Counsel, three feet?

Q. Depending whether they’re Shaq’s or not, I guess , huh?

Okay. That ‘s good.

All right. I’m going to show you some photographs .

A. Okay.

MR . SNEDDON : Hang on a second. Could we have the lights, Your Honor?

Q. Okay. Gavin, do you recognize the people depicted in that photograph?

A. Yeah.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury — and what the number is on that photograph?

A. It was like four numbers. Exhibit number ?

Q. Yes.
A. 49 .
Q. 49 . Okay. People’s 49 in evidence . Who are those people?
A. All the way to the right is my little brother Star. And then that lady right there is Louise Palanker. And then that’s my sister to the right of Louise Palanker. And then that’s me.
Q. And do you recall when that photograph was taken ?
A. That was during our camp at Laugh Factory .

Q. Do you know where the money came from to fix up your room?
A. I think it came from Louise.
Q. Did you have a nickname you used to call her?
A. Wheezy. Wheezy.
Q. Okay. Why don ‘t you turn that photograph over. And I think the next one is 199 ; is that correct?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Do you recognize that photograph?
A. Yes.
Q. And is that you in that photograph?
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recall where you were when that was taken ?
A. I believe that was in my first benefit . And then at The Laugh Factory.
Q. Okay. Why don ‘t we turn over — let’s go to the next photograph, if we could . Do you recognize that?
A. Yeah.
Q. And the number on that photograph is — look on the exhibit , if you would.
A. 337.
Q. 337. Okay. Do you recognize that person ?
A. Yeah, that’s me.

Q. And where was this taken, this photograph ?
A. This is in a room that Louise got me, the room that Louise paid for so that I could have it.
Q. This is what it looked like after they fixed it up ?

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. Thanks, Gavin.

A. All right.

MR . SNEDDON : All right . We can turn the lights back on , Your Honor . Thank you .

Q. Gavin , at some point in time, did you have some contact with the defendant in this case , Mr. Jackson?

A. Yes.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury how that happened ?

A. I’m not sure who exactly got Michael to call me . But he — one night — it was either Jamie or this lady named Carol Lamir. One day when I was in the hospital, Michael called me up — well, someone called me up, and I was like, “Who is this?”

Q. Lean into the microphone, please .

A. Someone called me in my hospital room, and I asked who was this? And then they said they were Michael Jackson.

Q. And did you believe them?

A. Well, yeah.

Q. And how long did the conversation last ?

A. That was a pretty short conversation. It was only about , like , five minutes long.

Q. Now, did you have other conversations with Mr . Jackson ?

A. Yeah.

Q. How many do you think you had — let me ask you this . Let ‘s do it this way: At some point in time, were you invited to go to Mr. Jackson’s ranch at Neverland Valley Ranch?

A. Yeah.

Q. Between the time you received the first telephone call from the person identifying themselves as Michael Jackson until you went to the ranch , how many calls did you think you had between you and Mr. Jackson?

A. That was — there was only one call , because the first time that he called me , he invited me up to the ranch, said he wanted me to come down .

Q. Were you undergoing chemotherapy at this time?

A. Yes, I was in the middle of a round of chemotherapy.

Q. During this conversation with Mr . Jackson , was a date set for you folks to go there, or how was it that the date was set for you to go ?

A. He just said that he wanted me to come down. And then I’m not sure how it got set up, but he was telling me like — about, like, my cancer , and talked to me about — that he wanted me to go to his ranch and stuff like that.

I don ‘t know how it got set up to go up there . I think they talked to my parents or something.

Q. During the time that you had cancer , did you have other telephone calls with Mr. Jackson?

A. Yes.

Q. Could you give us an estimate of how many calls that you had from him?

A. I don ‘t know. Like 20 maybe. 20 calls.

Q. Were some of them quite lengthy?

A. Yeah.

Q. Were they all in the hospital ?

A. No .

Q. Where were you when you had other calls with Mr . Jackson ?

A. My grandma’s house.

Q. Now, you said that you were invited by Mr . Jackson to go up to his ranch ?

A. Uh -huh.

Q. And had you ever heard of Mr. Jackson’s ranch prior to that?

A. No . After when he, like, called me and said “ranch,” I thought it was like a ranch with horses .

Q. So how did you get up to the ranch?

A. There was a limousine that came to my grandma’s house and then we went up in a limousine .

Q. And who went up there?

A. It was me, my mom , my biological father, my sister, my brother and me.

Q. And do you remember about — like, was it daylight or was it dark when you got there?

A. It was daylight.

Q. And do you remember what happened when you first got there?

A. Um , yeah , I think — I guess they told Michael we were up there already . And he had a bib on , because he was eating. And then he ran out and he greeted us and he had, like, a red shirt on, a black tie.

Q. All right. Did you have any conversation with Mr. Jackson at that time , during the greetings?

A. Well, he just said hi to us, because he had to go do something.

Q. So where did you go after Mr. Jackson went to do something?

A. I think we ate .

Q. All right.

A. I guess.

Q. What did you do after that ?

A. We went and saw the unit that he put us in. And then they were afraid — like, my dad was kind of afraid of putting me on rides , because he thought maybe , because of my surgery, I might, like, rupture something or whatever. And then — but I eventually talked him into letting me go on rides , and we started going on rides and stuff .

Q. At the amusement park?

A. Yeah, at the ranch.

Q. Now, let ‘s go back just a moment . Okay? You said that you were placed in some room somewhere to stay. Where — where were those located in relationship to the main residence?

A. They were like 50 , 100 yards away from the main house, and that ‘s where they put, like, all our bags and stuff .

Q. All the what?

A. All our bags. All in the place where we were staying. They put all our bags in those rooms.

Q. The room that you stayed in, who stayed in that room with you?

A. Well, the first night I didn’t really stay in that room. But the person that was supposed to stay in that room was me and my brother.

Q. And where was your mother and your sister ?

A. My mother, my sister stood in the guest – a queen-sized room or something. No, I think me, my brother, and my sister was going to stay in one room, and then my mom and my biological father were going to stay in another.

Q. Do you remember any incident while you were at Neverland Ranch on this first visit involving your mother and your father?

A. Yeah.

Q. What happened?

A. They kind of got in a fight again, and my mom had makeup on and my dad made fun of her and said she looked like a clown, and then my dad got a cup of soda and threw it in her face.

Q. Now, after you got to Neverland Ranch, before we go to the next day or to that night, did you ever ride any of the carts, the motorized carts there ?

A. Yeah.

Q. Tell us about that.

A. Well, I couldn ‘t really ride one yet because Michael said, like, I had to go through his driving test to see if I could drive the carts . And then I could drive them. So –

Q. What did the test amount to?

A. Just make sure I wouldn ‘t crash it; I knew how to, like, drive it and not run into things.

Q. And did you — did you ride in one of those carts ?

A. Yeah.

Q. Was somebody with you?

A. Well, when — like, riding — those times when I was riding it ?

Q. I’m sorry, I couldn’t hear you.

A. What do you mean? That one time ?

Q. Yeah, in the beginning.

A. I had to take his test first. So Michael was in the car with me. And it was in his cart , like a black one with doors and, like, it ‘s all covered up.

Q. And what about your brother, Star?

A. I didn’t really see when he got his test, but my brother would ride in one , too.

Q. All right. When you were at Neverland Ranch , was there ever an occasion where you slept in Mr . Jackson ‘s room with Mr . Jackson ?

A. Yeah.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury how it came about that you ended up sleeping with Mr. Jackson in his bedroom?

A. I think we were in his office . We were all talking.

Q. Who’s “we”?

A. Me , my brother and Michael . We were all in his office, and we were talking. And then Michael said we should sleep in his room . And then I was like — I was, like, “Okay , yeah ,” because we were , like, wanted to sleep in his room, too . And then he told us to ask in front of our parents if we could sleep in his room .

So I think it was like at dinner , we had asked her — we asked our parents if we could sleep in Michael’s room , and then so we did. And then my parents said yeah , it was okay.

Q. So when you say “we,” who else went with you?

A. My brother.

Q. Now, at some point that night , then , you go into Mr. Jackson’s bedroom ?

A. Yes.

Q. What were you doing in there; do you recall?

A. Well, it started out , like , we were going to watch some Disney cartoons , and a bunch of these videotapes of the Simpsons . And then Frank had – Frank Tyson had a computer — I don ‘t remember whether it was my computer or his computer — in there .

Q. Okay. Tell us what happened.

A. And then he set up the computer. And then Frank started doing this — doing stuff on the Internet . And then they started looking up, like, adult material sites .

Q. Where — was Mr. Jackson there?

A. Yeah.

Q. Was Mr. Jackson involved in that ?

A. Yes.
Q. And in what way?
A. Well, we were — he was , like , pointing out girls . Like, “Oh , I like her .” And then — but, I mean, he wasn’t typing. Frank was typing .
Q. So how long do you think — how many different sites do you think you went to?

A. Maybe , like , seven sites. We didn’t go to that many sites.
Q. And how long do you think you were doing this?
A. I don ‘t know. Maybe , like , 15, 30 minutes. Something like that.
Q. I couldn ‘t hear you.
A. I think maybe, like, 15 , 30 minutes or something.
Q. And you described it as adult materials. Can you tell us whether it was male or female?
A. It was female.
Q. Can you tell us about the age — in your estimation, the age of the females that you saw ?
A. Maybe , like , 15 to, like, 25 years old .
Q. So between that range?
A. Yeah.
Q. Now, during the time that you were on the – you were seeing the –
The bailiff tells me that I’m to ask you to scoot closer to the microphone. And we all do what the bailiff says. Okay ?
A. All right.
Q. So lean into it and talk into it just like I am . Okay?
A. All right.
Q. Perfect.

Now, during the time that you were in the room going through these sites on the computer, did Mr . Jackson say anything?
A. Yeah.
Q. Tell the jury what he said .
A. Like one time we were, like, looking at the site, and there was this girl with her shirt up . And Michael says — like, it was all quiet and stuff , and Michael was like, “Got milk ?” And we started laughing because he said that.

Q. Okay. Did he say anything else?
A. Like, Paris and Prince were sleeping in his bed. And then Michael leaned over to Prince in his ear and he said, “Prince, you ‘re missing all the p-u-s-s-y.”
Q. Did he spell it?
A. No .
Q. During the time that you became acquainted with Mr. Jackson, did you have a nickname that he used?
A. Well, it wasn’t really a nickname just for me . Like, he would call all the kids that came to his ranch that . It was either like “Doo-Doo Head” or “Apple Head .”
Q. So he would call you either one of those two things?
A. Yes.
Q. And do you recall whether he had a nickname for your brother?

A. Yeah. Like , we were trying to make up nicknames one time. He has a video library. And then we made up one for my brother, “Blow Hole.”
Q. Did your sister Davellin have a nickname?
A. No .
Q. After you visited the ranch on the occasion that you described — just described to us – okay? - did you go back to the ranch?
A. Yeah.
Q. Did you go back to the ranch?
A. Yes.
Q. Who did you go back with?
A. My biological father .
Q. And do you recall how many times you went back?
A. Maybe , like , seven, ten times , something like that. I mean –
Q. Do you remember a time when you went back to the ranch and there was a video taken of you and Star with Mr. Jackson?
A. Yes.
Q. And do you recall on that particular occasion when the video was made , like how many – where on these trips was that ? In the beginning, the middle or the end? Where was it?

A. It was really toward the beginning.

Q. And did your mother go with you on any of those trips ?

A. No . I think she, like, didn’t come with me after the first time .

Q. How about your sister?

A. I don ‘t think she did either, because she was at school. Between that and to Miami , or –

Q. Yes.

A. – when I had cancer ?

Q. Yes, between that and Miami.

A. Okay.

Q. Was there — let me put it this way : Was there a time when you went back to the ranch with Chris Tucker?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So let’s just use that as a point in time. All right?

A. Okay.

Q. From the time you went there for the very first time with your whole family, when Mr. Jackson invited you , to the time when you went back with Mr. Tucker – okay? – for the first time ?

A. Okay.

Q. How many times had you visited the ranch?

A. Maybe , like , seven times probably.

Q. And during those times — during that period of time, was your mother ever with you , other than the first time ?

A. No .

Q. How about your sister?

A. No , I don’t think so .

Q. The video that shows you and Mr. Jackson and your brother Star , when you’re wheeled around in the wheelchair –

A. Uh -huh.

Q. – did anybody tell you why they were doing that?

A. No . Michael just said he wanted to make a video and keep it , of me and him .

Q. During the time from when — the first time you went to the ranch that you’ve described to us to the time that you went there with Mr. Tucker - okay? – during that, I think you said seven times, how many of those times was Mr. Jackson actually present on the ranch ?

A. Maybe twice .

Q. And on those occasions when Mr. Jackson was on the ranch, did you have any contact with him ?

A. Those two occasions, yeah. But, I mean, like, sometimes I would go up to the ranch and he would say that he ‘s not there , and then he would be there .

Q. What do you mean by that?

A. Like, when I would have cancer. I don ‘t know what happened, but Michael, like, kind of stopped talking to me and stuff, right in the middle of my cancer.
And, like, I would go up there, and I would see, like, Prince and Paris playing there , and I would think that Michael was there, and they would tell me that Michael wasn’t there. And then , like , I would see him somewhere, and — I don’t know.

Q. Was there one occasion when you actually ran into him by accident ?

A. Yeah.

Q. Tell the jury about that.

A. Well, I was playing with Prince and Paris outside, like in the back of the house near where the arcade was . And then we were walking into the — into the main house . And I knew the code, because they would give me the codes. And then I walked in the door with Prince in my hand and Paris in my other hand, and — we were holding hands. And then we walked into the house and there I saw Michael walking, like, toward me . But I guess he didn’t see me turn the corner . And then he acted as if , “Oh, crap,” you know what I mean? Like, he saw me . And then — then he just played it off and , like, acted like, “Oh, hi, Doo-Doo Head.” You know, at the time I — I was kind of hypnotized and, like, he ‘s my –

MR . MESEREAU: Objection; calls for a narrative and non responsive.

THE COURT : Sustained .

Q. BY MR . SNEDDON : Okay.

A. And then , like –

Q. That’s all right. I’ll give you a question. So in any case , you bumped into him ?

A. Yeah. And I was — because of –

Q. That’s okay . How much more contact did you have with him on that time when you bumped into him? How much time did the contact last?

A. I didn’t really see him through my cancer a lot.

Q. I mean, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury there was an occasion where you were there when you kind of bumped into him by accident ?

A. Yeah.

Q. When you actually made contact with him - okay? – how long did that last? Just — how long was the conversation between the two of you?

A. Maybe , like , five minutes. When — that time we bumped into each other, and then we just talked about — and stuff, and he said he had to go somewhere.

Q. Now, you mentioned that you — well , let me ask you this: Did you ever have a phone number for Mr . Jackson ?

A. Yeah. He gave me a lot of phone numbers.

Q. I couldn ‘t hear you.

A. Yes.

Q. And how did you get those phone numbers?

A. Michael would give them to me , or Frank would sometimes.

Q. And when did you get those phone numbers?

A. Toward the beginning .

Q. Beginning of what ?

A. Like, the beginning of my cancer . First or second time we went up to the ranch .

Q. Was there a certain point in time when those phone numbers weren’t working anymore?

A. Yeah. Like –

Q. Do you remember how long it was into your cancer when those phone numbers were no longer good?

A. Maybe , like , halfway through. Like , it seemed like he changed all his numbers , or the numbers that I called, he wouldn ‘t pick up. And – or , like , Frank’s cell phone wasn’t — he wouldn’t pick up. Frank wouldn’t pick up his phone either. And –

Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that there was a time that you went back to the ranch with Mr . Tucker. Do you remember that? Do you remember when you went ?

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the jury when it was you went.

A. I don ‘t know. It was for his little son’s — Dustin’s birthday .

Q. And who went with you?

A. Me , my now dad Jay, and I think my mom went, and my brother and my sister, and they had his birthday party there .

Q. Were there other times that you spent on the ranch with Mr. Tucker?

A. Yeah.

Q. And how long do you think you were there with Mr. Tucker?

A. For — with Dustin’s party ?

Q. Yes.

A. I don ‘t know. It was just a day thing . We went up there for one day and then we came back .

Q. You came what?

A. I think we just went there for that and then came back home .

Q. Were there other occasions when you were up there with Mr. Tucker?

A. Yeah, one other time .

Q. And how long did you stay on that occasion?

A. We stood there for, like, a few — like a week or — maybe a week and a half, something like that.

Q. Was Mr. Jackson there on the day of Mr . Tucker’s son’s birthday ?

A. No .

Q. And when you went back and stayed for about a week or a week and a half, was Mr . Jackson there ?

A. With Chris?

Q. Yes.

A. He was there, like, for a few days. That was when — I believe that was when the Martin Bashir thing happened.

Q. I’m sorry?

A. I believe that was when the Martin Bashir thing happened .

Q. Okay. Let’s talk a little bit about Martin Bashir.

Were you introduced to a person by the name of Martin Bashir?

A. Yes.

Q. And where were you introduced to the person by the name of Martin Bashir?

A. In Michael’s living room, in his main house.

Q. And who introduced you to Mr. Bashir?

A. Michael.

Q. Now, how did you get to the ranch?

A. Um , I think Chris drove me up that time. And then — in his bus.

Q. And did any other members of your family go with you ?

A. It was only me , my sister and my brother.

Q. And did you know why you were going to the ranch ?

A. Michael wanted me to go up there , and then I think I called Chris . Because I would always tell him that we never went up there, like together. We ‘d never been at the ranch together with Chris. He would go up there one time , and I would be at home. And then I would go up , and he would be home. So we said that we’d all go there together. So we all went up there , and Chris took us up there.

Q. Do you — when you got there — let me go back in point in time.

Did you have a conversation with Mr . Jackson before you went up to the ranch for the Bashir thing – meaning Mr. Bashir – within , let’s say, days of that?

A. Michael told me that he wanted me to go up to the ranch, but — that’s when he wanted me to go with — well, that’s when it was set up with Chris , but I mean before that, I didn’t talk to him in a very, very long time .

Q. So when you said Mr. Jackson told you he wanted you to go up to the ranch , how did that communication occur between you and Mr . Jackson ?

A. I don ‘t know. He called my house. And he kind of said he was trying to find me or something .

Q. All right. So you go up to the ranch and you meet Mr . Bashir. When you got to the ranch , what was the first thing that happened ?

A. Well, he put our bags away . And then I had — and I went into the main house. And – Michael took me to the main house.

Q. Who did?

A. Michael.

Q. The defendant?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. And then introduced me to Martin Bashir.

Q. All right. What happened then?

A. He told me –

Q. Who’s “he”?

A. No , actually, I don’t think that ‘s the first thing that happened. I think — he started talking to me about what was going to happen and stuff. Like, he was pointing — he was telling me about another young man that was a burn victim. And he was telling me about how he helped him or whatever .

Q. Who’s this? Who’s the “he “?

A. I don ‘t know.

Q. No , who was talking to you ?

A. Michael.

Q. Okay.

A. And then –

Q. Where were you when you had this conversation?

A. I think we were driving in one of the carts. And then he was telling me that he was filming something or something like that .

Q. All right. Did — did you at some point go inside?

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you have any other conversations with

Mr . Jackson ?

A. Yeah, that’s when he introduced me to Martin Bashir.

Q. Any other conversation with Mr. Jackson?

A. Yeah. Like , he introduced me to Martin Bashir, and then he took me — I think it was in the library where he took me. And then he was telling me , “Hey , you want to be an actor, right? And I was like, “Yeah . I want to be comedian though.” And then he was like, “But you can act too , right?” And then I was like, “Yeah.”

“Well , I’m going to put you in the movies . And this is your audition. Okay ?”

And I was like , “Oh, all right.”

And he told me , “Okay. I want you to go in and then tell them about how I helped you .” And he told me to, like, make sure — tell them about, like, this and that, and about “that you call me dad,” or “Daddy,” or –

MR . MESEREAU: Objection. Nonresponsive; calls for a narrative.

MR . SNEDDON : Your Honor, this is the conversation.

THE COURT : Well, it is narrative , though.

MR . SNEDDON : All right .

THE COURT : Sustained .

Q. BY MR . SNEDDON : Was there anything else said during the conversation?

A. He told me that he wanted me to say certain things on the videotape .

Q. What did he tell you to say on the videotape?

A. He told me to say that he helped me , and that he — he pretty much cured me of cancer .

Q. Did you do that?

A. Um –

Q. On the video?

A. Yeah.

Q. Was it true ?

A. Not really, because he — during my cancer, he wasn’t really even there. I mean, the real people — I mean, it ‘s, like, the real people who were there were George Lopez, because he would always visit me in the hospital like every day, and he would bring me shirts and stuff. Chris Tucker would always visit me in the hospital. Louise Palanker would come and we ‘d make jokes because , like, I wasn’t good at smelling stuff. Chemotherapy would clear out everything . And then Fritz Coleman, would always come with Louise and talk to me , and –

Q. At this point in time, when you went up to the Bashir video –

A. Yeah.

Q. – to the Bashir interview , okay ? –

A. Uh -huh.

Q. – did you have — did you admire Mr. Jackson?

A. Yeah. I was like –

Q. What was your attitude towards Mr. Jackson at this point in time?

A. I thought, like, he was the coolest guy in the world. He was like my best friend ever. Do you know what I mean?

Q. So you had a genuine affection for Mr. Jackson at this time ?

A. Yeah, I really liked him. He was like — I don’t know, he was just — like — I –

Q. So during the course of the interview with Mr . Bashir – okay ? – after that interview was completed, all right ?

A. Uh -huh.

Q. Tell us what happened after the interview was completed. Was there any other filming that went on that day?

A. No , I don’t think so .

Q. Do you know whether or not your brother and sister ever got their picture taken in the filming ?

A. Well, yeah. Well , there was one time that I saw on the tape that they filmed us . I didn ‘t even know the camera was on. And they were inside of the kitchen and my sister and brother were there . And me and my brother were showing Michael a marching cadence from one of the programs that we were in that we had learned.

Q. Okay. What was — what was the — what was the marching cadence from, what program?

A. It ‘s from a program called the United States Naval Sea Cadets.

Q. And had you — what was the situation of you learning this cadence? Just part of the training?

A. Yeah, it was part of the basic training that we went to.

Q. How long was the basic training?

A. Two weeks ago.

Q. Where was it?

A. He went to a Navy Leaguer boot camp , and it was for, like, younger kids. And then I went to a sea cadet boot camp. It’s harder and it’s for older kids.

Q. Now, did you know at the time that Mr. Bashir was interviewing you with Mr . Jackson , the defendant in this case, did you know that that video was going to be shown around the world ?

A. No , not at all . I thought it was another thing like — like he had filmed before, like him carrying me across the bridge , that video . I thought it was going to be another thing like that , like he was going to , like , put it away somewhere and keep it just for himself.

Q. Had there been other instances on the ranch where you had been filmed with Mr. Jackson, other than the one with him carrying you across the bridge, and the one with Mr. Bashir , that you recall?

A. No .

Q. Now, after the filming was over, do you recall seeing Mr. Jackson at all , after that ?

A. After the film ? After the Martin Bashir thing ?

Q. Yes.

A. Well, I think he left, like, the next day . And me and my brother and my sister , like , stood up there , and we were, like, swimming and stuff .

Q. Did you have any contact with Mr . Jackson after the filming ?

A. No . Like, the same thing happened. Like , the phone number they gave me while I was up there wasn’t working no more.

Q. It ‘s a bad question on my part.

While you were at the ranch for the Mr . Bashir filming and after the filming was over with but before you and your brother or your sister left, did you have any contact with Mr . Jackson at all?

A. No . A day after the filming, he left the ranch and went somewhere.

Q. So where did you spend the night after the Bashir film ?

A. In our unit that they gave us .

MR . SNEDDON : Your Honor, this would be a good place to stop. If you want me to go on –

THE COURT : All right . You know, I’ve decided that if I have to go to the rest room, I’m not going to say that. I’m going to say, “I have an important call .”

(Laughter.)

See you tomorrow at 8:30.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

–o0o–

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR , CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 1402 through 1524 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 9, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction .

DATED: Santa Maria , California , April 12 , 2012 .

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR , CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 2005

8:35 A.M.

(PAGES 1526 THROUGH 1529)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670
(Not Present)

Santa Maria, California
Thursday, March 10, 2005
8:35 a.m.

(The following proceedings were held in open court outside the presence and hearing of the jury:)

THE COURT: Good morning.
Try that again. Good morning.
COUNSEL AT COUNSEL TABLE: (In unison) Good morning, Your Honor.
THE COURT: I notice the defendant's not present.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor. Mr. Jackson is at --
THE COURT: They can't hear you. Speak into the microphone, please.
MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Jackson is at Cottage Hospital in Santa Ynez with a serious back problem. My understanding is he's on his way in. The doctor does want to talk to you on the phone. That's the last information I have.

I did give the -- I had the doctor on my cell phone. I did give it to your clerk and tried to make contact with you, but I -- I know that they're waiting, hoping to speak to you about it.

My understanding is that he does plan to come in.

THE COURT: I'm going to issue a warrant for his arrest. I'm forfeiting his bail.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor --

THE COURT: I'm going to hold that order for one hour. In one hour I'm going to execute that order.

Court's in recess.

(Recess taken.)

--o0o--

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 1527 through 1528 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 10, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 10, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 2005

(PAGES 1530 THROUGH 1714)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

INDEX

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES DIRECT CROSS REDIRECT RECROSS

ARVIZO, Gavin-Anton 1536-SN (cont’d)
1608-SN 1686-M
(cont’d)
ROBEL, Steve Daniel 1598-SN 1600-SA 1607-SN

EXHIBITS

FOR IN PLAINTIFF’S NO. DESCRIPTION I.D. EVID.

99 Photograph of arcade 1638 1639
342 Bag containing watch 1561 1562
343 Bag containing black jacket 1561 1562
344 Diagram of interior of plane (Gavin Arvizo) 1564 1564
345 DVD, Neverland search, containing the sound of bedroom suite chimes 1594 1608

346 Notes in Gavin Arvizo’s handwriting 1610 1611
347 Note in Michael Jackson’s handwriting 1611 1611
348 Blue bag containing schoolbooks 1652 1654
349 Clear plastic bag containing an orange plastic bottle 1658

Santa Maria, California
Thursday, March 10, 2005
10:00 a.m.

(The following proceedings were held in open court in the presence and hearing of the jury:)

THE COURT: Good morning.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.

COUNSEL AT COUNSEL TABLE: (In unison) Good morning, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I’m sorry for the delay. Mr. Jackson had a medical problem this morning, and it was necessary for me to order his appearance. I’m telling you that because I don’t want you to draw any adverse inference about his guilt or inference from the fact that I had to order him here.

If one of you had called in and had not appeared, or one of the attorneys, I would have had to do the same thing. The trial is going to go forward.

So I just want you to understand, in doing that, I'm not expressing any opinion about the case, about Mr. Jackson, or about the District Attorney. It has nothing to do with guilt or innocence. Okay.

All right. Let's see. Are you ready to go forward.

MR. SNEDDON: I am, Your Honor. And before I begin, some housekeeping from yesterday.

THE COURT: Mike.

MR. SNEDDON: How's that.

THE COURT: They've quit waving at me. It's probably okay.

MR. SNEDDON: Some housekeeping from yesterday, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Yesterday we saw the overheads of those cards. For the record, I have consulted with Mr. Sanger. The cards came from Item No. 1796 from the sheriff's department. I now have the cards themselves, and I will give them to the clerk to substitute for the video in terms of the evidence.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SANGER: I think it's Exhibit 5004, and we had temporarily lodged the disk. And now the actual cards are being exchanged.

THE COURT: It is 5004, and I will release the disk to you now. And thank you.

MR. SANGER: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The cards are admitted into evidence.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.

THE COURT: Oh, there's one other issue I want to address. And as you heard yesterday, this witness has one kidney. That causes a problem. Sometimes he needs to go to the rest room more than others. Although we all seem to have that problem.

(Laughter.)

THE COURT: If he needs to go, he’s going to signal me, and we’ll just wait a minute while he does that.

Go ahead.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor.

GAVIN-ANTON ARVIZO

Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified further as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Continued)

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. Good morning.

A. Morning, Tom; Mr. Sneddon.

Q. I want to go back and talk about a couple of things that I neglected to cover yesterday. And I want to take you back in time to the first visit to Neverland Ranch, and in particular to the computer that Mr. Jackson gave you. Do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. What kind of computer was it.

A. It had an apple on it. I think it was a Mac computer or something like that. It was, like, a laptop.

Q. After Mr. Jackson gave you the computer, did you -- were you contacted by somebody to set up some kind of Internet account for that computer.

A. Yes. Well, Michael told me to call Evvy and see -- because he said he wanted me to get the Internet for the computer.

Q. Did you know who Evvy was.

A. She was, like, an assistant lady for Michael.

Q. Did you do that.

A. Yeah.

Q. And as a result of that, did you -- did somebody contact you after you talked to Evvy.

A. Yeah. It was a guy named David, I think.

Q. And what was the purpose for which David contacted you.

A. To help -- to tell me how to set up the Internet account, because I didn’t know how.

Q. And who paid for that.

A. Michael did.

Q. Now, when you set up the Internet account, did you have an e-mail address.

A. Yes.

Q. And where did you -- what was the e-mail address.

A. Whitehawk344, I think.

Q. Now, you say “whitehawk.” Where did the e-mail address come from.

A. Well, my name “Gavin” in Irish, it means -- well, it means a lot of stuff. It means, like, three different things, but one of the things it means is “whitehawk.”

Q. So where did you get the idea to do that.

A. Because “Gavin” means “whitehawk,” so that’s why I it put on my screen name.

Q. Did you have a password.

A. Yeah.

Q. What was your password.

A. Well, it could have been a lot of things, but I think it was “American.”

Q. Did you change it from time to time.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember any of the other passwords you used.

A. Password 123456, 654321.

Q. So you just changed the sequence of the numbers.

A. Yeah.

Q. One other thing I want to talk to you about. Between the time that -- well, let me ask it this way: Did you ever visit Mr. Jackson at any hotels.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was that.

A. Once at a Universal Hilton.

Q. And was this before, during or after the time you had cancer.

A. This is during the time I had cancer.
Q. And do you remember how long you visited with him.
A. Two hours.
Q. And how did you get there.
A. My biological father drove me over there.
Q. Yesterday you testified about the Bashir video. Do you recall that.
A. Yes.
Q. And have you ever seen that video from start to finish.
A. No, I’ve seen pieces of it, and I saw when he interviewed me, but I didn’t really see the whole thing.
Q. So you did see the part that involved you.
A. Yes.
Q. And when was the first time you saw that.
A. Well, when we were -- when I was in Miami, me and Michael, he didn’t want to see it, so we didn’t watch it there. I saw it in my house later when VH-1 was showing it.
Q. Was this after you left the ranch for good.
A. Yeah, I believe so.
Q. Now, that portion of the video that shows you sitting on the couch with Mr. Jackson, there’s a point in time where you place your head on his shoulder and hold hands with Mr. Jackson. Do you recall that part of it.

A. Yes.
Q. How did that come about.
A. I don’t know. We were just sitting there. Well, the holding hands part, that was one of the things that Michael told me to do. But I put my head on his shoulder.
Q. Why did you do that.
A. Because -- I don’t know. It was -- like he was -- I was really close to Michael, and he was like my best friend, so I just put my head on his shoulder.
Q. Okay. Now, from the time that you had the interview with you and Mr. Jackson and Mr. Bashir till the time that you left to go to Miami, did you have any contact with Mr. Jackson.

A. From when I left from Martin Bashir.
Q. Right.
A. Can you repeat the question.
Q. Sure. From the time that you had the interview with Mr. Bashir and Mr. Jackson and you --
A. Okay.
Q. -- okay. -- till the time shortly before you left for Miami, did you have any contact with Mr. Jackson.
A. No.
Q. Do you remember when the next contact with Mr. Jackson was.
A. Like, right when the stuff came out, when the video documentary started showing on T.V.

Q. How did you find out that the documentary was shown on T.V..
A. Well, it was -- it was being showed over in Britain, but they were talking about it on the news and stuff, so that’s how I found out.
Q. You actually heard it on the news yourself.
A. Yeah.
Q. Did any people come around your house at all, that you know of.
A. No. I don’t know of any.
Q. Now, when you heard it on the news, about the documentary, did you at some point have a telephone conversation with the defendant, Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes. He called me.
Q. All right. Tell us about the conversation.
A. He told --
Q. Where were you when you got the call.
A. I was in the house, in my house, when -- the first time I moved in with my stepfather. And then he called and wanted me to go to Miami because of all the stuff that was going on. And he said that he wanted to hold a press conference. And he wanted me to be with him.

Q. With him --
A. During the press conference.
Q. What else did he say.

A. He said that he wanted me to go over there. And he said that -- that -- like, we were talking about what was going on. And I was saying, “Ahh,” like, “it’s not right what they’re saying,” and stuff like that.
Q. Did Mr. Jackson make comments about -- to you about what was going on.
A. No. He just said that he wanted me to go over to Miami.
Q. Now, did you go to Miami.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you go by yourself.
A. No.
Q. Who went with you.
A. It was me, my brother, my sister, and my mom. But at first, Michael didn’t really want -- he only really wanted --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive. Move to strike.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. SNEDDON: I’ll move on from there.
THE COURT: The last sentence is stricken.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, during the conversation with Mr. Jackson - okay.
A. Okay.
Q. -- did the subject of the rest of your family going to Miami come up.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer.
THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question.
MR. SNEDDON: Yeah.
Q. During the time of your conversation with Mr. Jackson, did the subject of the rest of your family coming to Miami come up during the conversation.

A. Yes.

Q. Would you tell us about it.

A. At first I asked him if my brother can come, and then he was like, “Yeah.” And then I asked him if my sister could come, and then he was, like, Uhh, hmm, okay.”

And then I asked if my mom could come, but he kind of got angry a little bit about my mom coming. And then -- but I told him, “I can’t come without my mom. My mom probably won’t let me.” And he was like, “Okay,” and my mom came.

Q. Did -- during that conversation, did you -- did you see -- did you hear your mother talk to Mr. Jackson.

A. I don’t really remember.

Q. Now, after that telephone conversation, did you go to Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. With -- and how did you get to Miami.

A. I went with Chris Tucker on his private plane.

Q. Do you recall how you got to the plane.

A. First we went to his house, and then we put our bags in the bus, and then we went to the airport.

Q. And how did you get from your place to his house.

A. I’m not sure. I think either I drove over there, or -- yeah, I think I drove over there.

Well, my family took me over there.

Q. Now, do you remember about what time it was when you left for Miami -- for Miami with Mr. Tucker.

A. When we got there, there was -- like, something was going on with the plane or whatever, and we weren’t leaving for a while. And I was -- we stood around for a while. So I think it was maybe, like, 1:00 or 2:00 probably. I’m not sure.

Q. Was it still -- was it light or dark out.

A. It was light out.

Q. When you arrived in Miami, was it light or dark out.
A. It was dark.
Q. And when you landed in Miami, where did you go.
A. We went, all in a limousine, to the hotel. Turnberry Resort, I think it was called.
Q. Now, on the plane going there, you've told us that your family was there and that Mr. Tucker was there. Was there anybody else, if you recall, on the plane.

A. With -- on Chris's plane.
Q. Yes.
A. No.
Q. When you got to the airport, you left in a limo, and you went where.
A. To the Turnberry Resort in Miami.
Q. Do you remember what you did when you got there.
A. They put our -- they got our bags and Michael put us up in the room. And then we were in the room, and then -- yeah.
Q. And do you recall what you did the next day.
A. Yeah, the next day they told us that Michael wanted to see us.
Q. Who told you that.
A. I forgot. But, I mean, just people. And then so that morning we went up to Michael's room, and then we went and saw him.
Q. Who went up there.
A. Me, my mom, my brother, and my sister.
Q. And when you got up to Mr. Jackson's room in the hotel, was Mr. Jackson there.
A. Yes.
Q. And when you got there, did you meet people that you didn't know.

A. Yes.
Q. Who did you meet.

A. Marie Nicole, Aldo. And then these two guys were there, Dieter and Ronald.
Q. They were there when you got there.
A. Yeah -- well, I don’t know if they were there when I got there, but I just remember I met them in Michael’s room.
Q. And do you know what the relationship is between Aldo and Marie Nicole and anybody else that you met there that day or that you know.
A. Well, they told us that Marie Nicole and Aldo were related to Frank Tyson. Like brother and sister.
Q. Did you see Mr. Tyson that day.
A. Um, I don’t think I did.
Q. Did you see him at any time that you were in Miami.
A. No, I don’t think so.
Q. Tell us what you did in Mr. Jackson’s room.
A. Well, he wanted me to have a meeting with Ronald and Dieter, and so we went in there, and they were talking about how they’re going to, like --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, offered under 1223.
THE COURT: Well, the question -- it’s not responsive, so I don’t know that. He’s -- next question.

MR. SNEDDON: All right.
Q. You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury you went somewhere with Mr. Jackson, you went into a room with Mr. Jackson.
A. Yeah.
Q. Who else was in the room.
A. Dieter and Ronald.
Q. And who else.
A. Michael.
Q. Now, did you have a conversation with the three of them.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Would you tell us about the conversation.

And it’s offered under 1223, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. This is offered conditionally, as my previous instruction covered. Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: We just -- Dieter and Ronald told me about how they were going to, like, stop all the media stuff from going on or whatever.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did they say how they were going to do that.

A. No, not really. Dieter told me how he’d, like -- he said that he owned, like, the name, the rights to Michael’s name or something like that.

Q. At any time while you were in Miami, did you learn of any threats to you or your family.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Do you recall any other conversations that you had with Dieter or Ronald or Mr. Jackson.

A. Not really. Well, there was some -- I had talked with Michael in the room. It’s kind of like connected to his big hotel room.

Q. All right. Let me just stop you there. So you had another conversation with Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Were Dieter and Ronald present.

A. Well, first Michael was having, like, a meeting with Ronald. And then Ronald left, and then I went in there and was talking to him.

Q. Now, is this the same meeting that you testified to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, or is this another meeting.

A. This is another one.

Q. Tell us about that meeting.

A. Michael was just, like, talking to me and stuff, asking me how I was, and stuff like that. And he gave me, like, another little audition thing, and he improv’d, if he was a principal of a school, and then a girl said that I did something bad, and then --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Nonresponsive. Move to strike.

THE COURT: “Tell us about the meeting” calls for a narrative, so I’ll sustain the objection.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Well, tell us what Mr. Jackson said to you in the meeting.

A. He was, like, giving me a little audition, and then we were improv-ing.

Q. All right. Describe the improv-ing.

A. He was, like, the principal of a school, and I was a student that got in trouble because a girl said that I, like, stole something from her or something.

Q. How long did this go on between you and Mr. Jackson.

A. I think it was like five minutes.

Q. Now, did anything else happen between you and Mr. Jackson during your stay at the Turnberry.

A. Yes.

Q. What.

A. He brought me this -- he had poured -- I didn’t really see what he did, but I found out later. Like, I guess --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; calls for speculation.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Just tell us what he did, what you saw personally.

A. Okay. He brought me --

THE COURT: Just a moment. I’ll sustain the objection, but you’re asking another question.

MR. SNEDDON: I am, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Move to strike, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I’ll strike the last half of his answer. Go ahead.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Tell us what you saw Mr. Jackson do.

A. Michael gave me a Diet Coke can.

Q. Did he tell you what was in the can.

A. Yeah, he told me that it was --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.
THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer “yes” or “no.”
THE WITNESS: Michael --
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Just, did he tell you -- “yes” or “no”; did he tell you what was in the can.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. What did he tell you.
A. He told me if I ever heard of Jesus Juice, and then --
Q. And what did you say.
A. And I said I didn’t know really what it was.
Q. And did he say anything after that.
A. Yeah, he told me, “You know how, like, Jesus drank wine.” And I was like, “Yeah.” And then he told me, “Well, we call it Jesus Juice.” And then he said that -- to drink it. And

I took a little sip, and I told him it --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Calls for a narrative; nonresponsive; move to strike.
THE COURT: Strike after -- where he starts to say “I took a little sip,” that’s stricken.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: After Mr. Jackson handed you the can and he told you that it was Jesus Juice, what did you do.
A. I drank a little bit of it, and I told him that it tasted ugly.
Q. And what did he say.
A. He said that, “It’s okay, because it will relax you,” and he told me that he knows that I’m all stressed out because of all the media stuff that’s going on, and that the Jesus Juice will relax me.
Q. Now, during -- do you recall how long you’d been in Mr. Jackson’s suite at the time that he provided the alcohol to you.
A. I was in there for a while. Like, it was after the second meeting with him in the other room, the improv thing.
Q. And from the time that Mr. Jackson gave you the can for the first time and you tasted it, how many times do you think you drank out of that can.

A. Well, we went -- well, after he --

Q. Just -- first of all, I'll -- first of all, just how many times, that you estimate.

A. Oh, I probably drank maybe -- I don't think I drank the whole can, but I probably drank like three-fourths of it or something.

Q. Was the can ever refilled.

A. I don't think it -- I'm not sure if it was refilled. I don't think it was.

Q. Had you ever had wine before.

A. Well, in church, but that's about it.

Q. Now, did you have any further conversations with Mr. Jackson, other than the ones that you've already told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury about, about the wine and drinking it.

A. Well, we -- after he told me that, about Jesus Juice or whatever, we went into the living room where everybody was, like Chris was and then my mom, Marie Nicole and Aldo and stuff like that, and we were sitting there, and then Michael was right next to me. And then I don't think my mom knew what was going on.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Calls for speculation; narrative; nonresponsive. Move to strike.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor --

THE COURT: Just a moment.
What were you going to say.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm not going to say it now. I'll pick it up later.

THE COURT: The question was really if you had any further conversations with Mr. Jackson. You need to listen to the question. Just answer the question. That would have been a "yes" or "no" type question. So I'll sustain the objection and have you answer that question.

I'll strike the rest of his answer.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Where did those conversations take place.

A. In the living room.

Q. And were there other people present.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did Mr. Jackson say to you.

A. He was, like, telling me to keep drinking the can of the wine.

Q. And where were you in the living room.

A. I was sitting on the couch, and he was sitting next to me.

Q. Were there other people present in the room.

A. Yes.

Q. Who else was around.

A. Chris Tucker, my mom, Aldo, Marie Nicole, my brother, my sister.

Q. And you say you were drinking out of a can. What kind of a can.

A. Pretty sure it was a Diet Coke can.

Q. And do you recall whether -- the kind of wine it was.

A. I'm pretty sure it was white wine.

Q. Were there -- how many occasions were you in the bedroom alone with Mr. Jackson.

A. At Miami.

Q. Uh-huh.

A. Once.

Q. Were you alone with him in any other rooms in his suite or complex there.

A. No.

Q. Now, when you woke up the next day, how did you feel.

A. Well, I didn't know if it was from the wine, but I felt really -- like, my head kind of hurt and I felt like I just wanted to lay down.

Q. Now, after -- at some point in time that night when you were in Mr. Jackson's suite -- let me strike that.

At some point when you were in Mr. Jackson's suite, did the subject of the Bashir video come up.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell us in what connection it came up. Who spoke about it.

A. It was going to be shown in America that same night, and it was going to come on, and then Michael didn't want us --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Nonresponsive; move to strike.

THE WITNESS: Can I have some water.

MR. SNEDDON: Sure. Help yourself.

THE COURT: All right. The last three words I'll strike, or four words, "Michael didn't want us...." He answered the question up till that point.

THE WITNESS: I didn't want to, like, interrupt anything.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay.

Q. Now, about the Bashir filming that night, did Mr. Jackson say anything.

A. Yeah, he said that he didn't want --

Q. He said something.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Tell us what he said.

A. He said that he didn't want to watch it on T.V.

Q. So was anybody else interested in watching it.

A. Yeah.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

THE COURT: Overruled. Next question.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Were they allowed to watch it.

A. Not in his room.

Q. At some point that night, did you see your mother leave.

A. I think so. I think she went back to the room.

Q. Did you -- did you see her later come back to the -- to Mr. Jackson’s suite, or bedroom area, after she left.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, at some point you left Miami, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And how -- when you left Miami, how -- what form of transportation did you take.

A. It was in one of Michael’s planes.

Q. And how did you get to the plane.

A. In a limousine, I think.

Q. Now, who was on the plane.

A. Me, my brother, my sister, Marie Nicole. Prince, Paris. Grace. My mom. Michael. And me. So it was a pretty packed plane.

Q. Now, while you were on the plane, where were you seated.

A. I sat next to Michael in the window.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. I had a window seat and Michael was sitting right next to me.

Q. And do you recall who was sitting across from you.

A. I think Prince and Paris were sitting in front of us, but then they kept on -- they got up during the flight, and then other people would sit there and stuff.

Q. So were people changing seats during the flight.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever change seats.

A. No.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson ever change seats.

A. I think he got up for something once, but I never moved from that seat.

Q. During the course of the flight from Miami, did you ever drink any alcohol.

A. Yes.
Q. Now, who provided that alcohol to you.
A. Michael.
Q. And can you tell us in what -- what it was provided to you in.
A. I think it was another Coke can or Diet Coke can.
Q. And what kind of alcohol was it.
A. I think it was white wine again.
Q. And where -- did you see where Mr. Jackson got the can from.
A. From the little place where they keep all the sodas in the plane.
Q. Now, when -- where were you when you physically drank out of the container, the can.

A. I was next to Michael.
Q. And did Mr. Jackson say anything to you when he gave you the can.
A. Yeah, he told me it was more Jesus Juice. And he said that -- on the plane that -- he told me about how he used to get scared about planes, and he said that if I was scared and -- to drink the Jesus Juice, because it will relax me.
Q. How much do you think you drank while you were on the plane.
A. I think I drank the whole can.
Q. Was the can ever refilled.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know how many times.
A. No.
Q. Were you always drinking out of the same can as Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. Did Mr. Jackson ever say anything to you about him providing alcohol to you.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: Um, yes.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Will you tell us what he said.

A. He would tell me that -- can you repeat the question again. I’m sorry.

MR. SNEDDON: Would you read it back.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yeah, he just told me that he was getting it for me. I don’t really understand too good.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did Mr. Jackson ever give you any presents.

A. Yes.

Q. Other than the computer.

A. Yes.

Q. Did he ever give you any presents while you were in Miami.

A. Well, he had, like, all these games from EA.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. EA, Electronic Arts, I think they’re called. They got me a whole bunch of games. And then he let me have all the games that Aldo didn’t really like.

Q. When you were on the plane, did Mr. Jackson give you anything.

A. Yes.

Q. What did he give you.

A. As we were taking off -- well, in the hotel, he also gave me a jacket. But when we were taking off on the plane, he showed me a watch, and then he had it on, and he told -- he gave me the watch as we were taking off.

Q. Did he say why he gave you the watch.

A. He said not to tell anybody about the Jesus Juice, and he said that this is like a symbol that we’ll be friends forever or something like that. And then he gave me the watch.

Q. Did you have his jacket and his watch.

A. Yes.

Q. During the course of the flight, were you awake the entire time.

A. No, I don’t think so. I think I fell asleep once.

Q. Do you have any idea how long you were out.

A. No.

Q. Is there a telephone on this plane.

A. Yes.

Q. And where is the telephone located.

A. It was, like, right next to us. Probably like right here. So I was sitting -- the window was here and Michael was here, and the telephone was right here.

Q. And did you see anybody use the telephone during the course of the flight.

A. No, I don't think so.

Q. Did you use the telephone during the flight.

A. Yeah.

Q. Pardon.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did you use the telephone for.

A. I called a friend of mine.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I have an exhibit marked 343 for identification purposes, a brown bag with contents, and I'll show it to the witness. And I'm also going to leave in front of the witness a clear plastic bag with the number "342" on it, and the contents of that bag.

Q. Gavin, would you take a look at -- just look inside and see if you recognize the item in 343.

A. Yes. I recognize the item.

Q. What is it.

A. It's a jacket that Michael gave me in Miami.

MR. SNEDDON: Move that it be admitted into evidence, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: It's admitted.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Could you just, Gavin, stand up, and just put the jacket out so that the ladies and gentlemen can see the jacket, the front and the back.

Thank you.

Now, the next exhibit in front of you is a clear plastic bag.

A. Yes.
Q. And what’s the number on that exhibit.
A. 342.
Q. All right. Do you recognize the contents of People’s 342.
A. Yes.
Q. And what is that.

A. This is the watch that Michael gave me right before the plane took off.
MR. SNEDDON: Move that it be admitted into evidence, Your Honor.
MR. MESEREAU: No objection.
THE COURT: It’s admitted.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Yeah, why don’t you --
A. Give it to you.
Q. No, just stand up and show it to them. Okay. Now I’m going to ask you a question about the watch. With regard to that particular watch, did Mr. Jackson make any statements to you about the value of the watch when he gave it to you.
A. He told me that it was $75,000.
Q. Now, did you keep that watch.
A. Yes.
Q. At some point, did you give that watch to somebody.
A. Yeah. I think I gave it to Tom.
Q. To me.
A. I mean -- no, Larry.
Q. Larry.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know who Larry is.
A. Larry Feldman, I think.
Q. And do you remember when that was. Had you left Neverland for the last time.
A. Yes.

Q. And that’s -- and after that, you gave the watch to him.
A. Yes.

Q. Now, when you were at Neverland Ranch, did anybody ever ask you to give the watch back.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: No.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, let’s go back to the flight just a second, if we can. All right.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Where was your brother Star on the plane.

A. He was walking around on the plane.

Q. Did you ever see Star drink out of the soda can.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the jury what happened.

A. We called my brother Star over, and Michael asked him if he knew what Jesus Juice was. And then we gave him the can and we just told him to drink it. And then when he drank it, he said that it tasted bad, and so, like -- I don’t know. That’s what happened.

Q. Did you see the expression on his face when he drank it.

A. Yeah, he acted like it was a gross-tasting taste, face. I don’t know how to say it.

MR. SNEDDON: I have another exhibit we’re going to spend a little time with.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, this exhibit is - I’m sorry, Counsel - 344 for identification purposes. I’m going to hand this to the witness.

And why don’t you hand me those two things right there.

Take that. And here’s a pen. Don’t do anything yet.

Q. All right. Do you recognize the exhibit that I’ve just placed in front of you.

A. Yeah, it looks like the inside of the plane that we were in.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Your Honor, I’m going to move that be admitted into evidence for the purpose of illustrating his testimony.

MR. MESEREAU: I have no objection.

THE COURT: It’s admitted.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. We’re going to put a diagram on the board -- on the Elmo in just a second.

This is a laser.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead. Put it up.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: It should be coming up.

THE BAILIFF: It will take a moment.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Gavin --

A. Yes.

Q. -- I want you to look up on the board, and ask if you can show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where you were seated on the plane.

Okay. So you’re indicating in the middle of the diagram, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, on the chart that’s in front of you - okay. - 344 --

A. Yes.

Q. -- I want you to take that pen I gave you and I want you to put your initials in the seat that you’ve just showed to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury.

Now, I want you to show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where Mr. Jackson was seated, sitting.

Okay. It’s the one right next to you, closest to the aisle; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Would you put an “MJ” on the seat where he was located.

Now, do you recall where your brother Star was sitting at the time that he was offered the can with the alcohol in it by Mr. Jackson.

A. I don’t think he was sitting. He was standing, and he was --

Q. Where was he standing.

A. Right there.
Q. Right in that area.
A. Yes.
Q. Would you put your brother’s initials -- and by “that area,” you’re meaning in the aisle at the end of the table, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Just put your brother’s initials where you….
Now, do you remember where your mom was sitting.
A. I think she was sitting over here somewhere.
Q. Okay. Move the diagram, if you would. Do you think she was down there.
A. Yeah, I think so.
Q. Okay. Put your mother’s initials in there, if you would. And by “there,” we mean on the upper side of the diagram with the chair that’s the farthest to the left.
A. Okay. What do I put. “JJ” or --
Q. “JA.”
Do you remember where any other of the people on the plane were sitting.
A. I’m not sure, but Prince and Paris started out right there. And then I think Grace was in there.
Q. Okay. Why don’t you -- where you say Prince and Paris were, put two “P’s” on your diagram, 344.

A. Okay.
Q. And you mentioned a person by the name of Grace. Who is that, to your knowledge.
A. It’s like -- like Prince and Paris’s guardian lady.
Q. Okay. So why don’t you put a “G” where you think that the individual you knew as Grace was sitting.
All right. Anybody else. Do you remember where Aldo and Marie Nicole were sitting.
A. I’m not sure. I think they might have been sitting on those things.

Q. On the area in blue.
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay.
A. I don’t know.
Q. But you’re not sure.
A. No.
Q. Okay. And how about your sister.
A. I think she was sitting there.
Q. Was she there the whole time.
A. No.
Q. Did you see where she moved to.
A. I don’t know. I’d just see her pass by. We were all sitting sometimes.
Q. You indicated for your sister a seat that’s up on the front part of the left side of the diagram on the lower side of the plane, correct.

A. Yeah.
Q. All right. Why don’t you put your sister’s initials in there, then.
A. Okay.
Q. All right. I think we’re done with that.
A. Okay.
MR. SNEDDON: We can turn the lights back on, Your Honor.
Put the cap on the pen, if you would, please. Thanks, Gavin.
Q. Gavin, do you know what it means to be intoxicated.
A. Yes.
Q. What’s that mean, in your words.
A. When you have a lot of alcohol in your system.
Q. When you were on the plane, did you feel intoxicated.
A. I don’t know. I don’t think so. Well, maybe a little.
Q. Okay. Do you remember when you landed in the plane whether it was daylight or dark outside.
A. I think it was -- it was dark.
Q. And when you landed, where did you go.

A. We went to Neverland.
Q. And how did you get there.
A. Michael had, like, this big SUV, white, limousine.

Q. And when you got to Neverland Ranch, where did you spend the night.
A. I'm pretty sure we spent the night in Michael's room.
Q. You say "we." Who is "we".
A. Me and my brother.
Q. Do you remember if anything happened that particular night.
A. When we got there, me and my brother ran straight to the carts, because we wanted to ride the carts, drive the carts around. But then we went to Michael's room and we slept there, and we all slept in the bed together.
Q. In whose bed.
A. Michael's.
Q. Now, are you familiar with a person by the name of Jesus.
A. Yes.
Q. And where did you meet Jesus.
A. At the ranch.
Q. And to your knowledge, what was Mr. -- what was Jesus's responsibility.
A. I think he was like the manager of the ranch.
Q. Now, after you got back from Miami and you were on Neverland Ranch - okay. - at some point did Jesus take you somewhere.
A. Yes.

Q. Where did he take you.
A. He took us back to my grandma's house.
Q. When you say he took "us," who is "us".
A. Me, my mom, my brother, my sister.
Q. Now, I want to talk about some things that happened between the time that you got back from

Miami and you went to the ranch --
A. Uh-huh.
Q. -- okay. -- till the time that Mr. Salas, I’m sorry, that Jesus took you to your grandmother’s place, okay.
A. Okay.
Q. Now, you told us that the first time that night you spent in Mr. Jackson’s room and you slept in his bed, along with your brother and Mr. Jackson. From the time you got back from Miami till the time you left with Jesus, where did you sleep.
A. Can you repeat the question. I’m sorry.
Q. Uh-huh. From the time you got back from Miami and you went to the ranch --
A. Okay.
Q. -- okay. -- till the time you left with Jesus - all right. - where did you sleep.
A. Whenever Michael was there, we would all sleep in Michael’s room.
Q. Was Mr. Jackson there during that time period.
A. Yeah.

Q. During the time after you got to the ranch, when the limousine took you from the airport to Neverland Valley Ranch, till the time you left with Jesus, did you ever have any more alcohol.
A. Yes.
Q. On how many occasions.
A. Every night that Michael was there.
Q. All right. Do you remember where you drank.
A. We would -- like, in the arcade, because that’s where the wine cellar was. Well, it’s kind of like a wine cellar.
Q. You say “we.” Who’s “we”.
A. Me, my brother, Michael mainly.
Q. And how did you get into the wine cellar.
A. Michael would take us there.
Q. Can you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, just describe how you get down there.
A. Okay. In the back of the main house, there’s an arcade. And then, like, you walk across, and there's a pool to the right, and then you go inside the arcade. And then, like, there's this jukebox, and then you have to move the jukebox. And then you walk down these stairs, and there's a door that you open. It's kind of like to the right. And then you walk in there, and there's no alcohol in the first room. There's, like, sleeping bags, I think, like a little green couch.

And then you walk through, and then to the right there's another door, and then there's like this hallway kind of thing, and then that's where, like, all the alcohol was, in refrigerators and stuff like that.

Q. And who was it that took you down to that area the first time.

A. Michael.

Q. Did you ever go down there without Mr. Jackson.

A. No. Well, we went down there once. That was just because we wanted to, like, look at the little green thing that they had there with all the trees and stuff on there. It was kind of like a model thing.

Q. Did you ever go down there and drink any alcohol without Mr. Jackson being present.

A. No.

Q. And you said "we" went down there to look at these little green things. Who was it that went with you.

A. Me and my brother.

Q. Was it a time when Mr. Jackson was on the ranch.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, were there any other locations on the ranch where you drank with Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Where.

A. In his office and in his room.

Q. And would this be during the same time period we're talking about, from the time period from when you got there from Miami till the time you left with Jesus.

A. If it happened.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. Was there ever any occasion that you drank something other than wine.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell us what it was.

A. I drank Bacardi, vodka and Jim Bean.

Q. Jim what.

A. Jim Bean, I think it was called.

Q. Did you say "bean".

A. Bean.

Q. Can you spell it.

A. B-e-a-n.

Q. Okay. And who provided you with the Bacardi.

A. Michael.

Q. Who provided you with the Jim Bean.

A. Michael.

Q. And who provided you with the vodka.

A. Michael.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson ever say anything to you about drinking and providing this alcohol to you.

A. No, he just said, like, well, it's Jesus Juice and it was okay because Jesus drank it, and stuff like that.

Q. Did you ever tell Mr. Jackson that you only had one kidney.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you ever tell Mr. Jackson anything about alcohol and your kidney.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did you ever have a conversation with Mr. Jackson about your kidneys.

A. Yes.

Q. Kidney.

A. Kidney, yeah.

Q. Sorry. What did you tell him.

A. I told him that it was bad for me to drink alcohol. And he said it’s okay; that it’s fine; that nothing’s going to happen.

Q. Do you recall how many occasions you had that conversation with Mr. Jackson.

A. I think like three times.

Q. I couldn’t hear you.

A. Maybe like three times.

Q. And where was it when you had these conversations with Mr. Jackson.

A. I think once was in the office and the other two times were in kind of like the wine cellar thing.

Q. Were there times that you went down to the wine cellar where your brother wasn’t present.

A. It was just me and Michael.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times do you think that just you and Michael went down to the wine cellar. Now, I want to stay -- that was a bad question. Let me just start over again. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. I want to focus on the time where you got there from Miami and the limo took you to the ranch till the time that you left with Jesus, okay.

A. Okay.

Q. Did you ever go to the wine cellar with just you and Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. And on how many occasions was it just you and Mr. Jackson in the wine cellar.

A. Not many. But, like, maybe five times between Miami and Jesus.

Q. During the time that you were there from Miami to Jesus, did you ever drink in the bedroom.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times do you think that was.

A. A lot, because we would sleep in his room, and then we would take the Jesus Juice up there.

Q. So you’d take the stuff up there to drink.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, let me ask you a question: Do you know what the term “crank call” means.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the jury what “crank call” means.

A. When you call, like, a person that doesn’t know you, and you, like, say something or make fun of them and it will make you laugh, the people that are making the phone call.

Q. Did you ever make any crank calls from Mr. Jackson’s residence.

A. Yes.

Q. Where were you when you made them.

A. In his room mainly.

Q. Was there anybody else present.

A. Yes.

Q. Who.

A. My brother.

Q. And anybody else.

A. Aldo.

Q. Anybody else.

A. Michael. I guess that’s it. Yeah, that’s it.

Q. Did anybody else make any crank calls besides you.

A. We were all making crank calls.

Q. You say “we were all.” Who do you mean by “we”.

A. Aldo, Michael, me, my brother.

Q. And in connection with making these calls, was there anything that -- do you know what it means when the call doesn’t go through, you don’t get somebody.

A. Yes.

Q. What happened when you did that.

A. Oh, this happened once. We had this big -- like, it was a bottle of wine, it was like that big. And we made up this game. If you make a phone call and, like, we would dial random numbers, and if it rang and nobody picked up, you have to take a big gulp of wine. Because we didn't really like how it tasted, so we made up that game.

Q. "So" what.

A. We didn't really like how it tasted, so we made that game up so we would have a drink, a gulp of wine, if the call didn't go through.

Q. Did anybody have to drink because the call didn't go through that night.

A. Yeah.

Q. You have that look on your face like it was you.

A. Yeah, it was me.

Q. Anybody else.

A. I think my brother once or twice. It's because, like, I would always -- because I kind of liked making crank calls, so I would make a lot of them, and so then a lot of them wouldn't go through.

Q. During the time you were at the ranch again, from the time you got there in the limo till the time you left with Jesus, do you know where your mother was staying.

A. In her unit.

Q. In her what.

A. In her unit that they gave her.

Q. And did you ever go visit her.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times do you think you visited her.

A. Like, three times a week.

Q. And did you have -- don't tell us what she said, just tell us -- I want to know, did you have any conversations with her.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever have any conversations with her about leaving.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you want to leave, you personally.

A. Not really, because I was kind of having fun.

Q. Could you describe your mother's demeanor or attitude during the time that you'd visit her.

A. She was scared and she wanted to leave, and she was --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Move to strike; nonresponsive.

THE COURT: The last part of the answer is stricken after "she was scared."

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I believe that I'm offering the second part of it with regard to conduct in conformance with the state of mind. It was an exception.

THE COURT: The question was, "Could you describe your mother's demeanor or attitude." Which he then started describing her actions, so it's nonresponsive.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I'll break it up.

Q. Did your mother tell you that she wanted to leave.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; and leading.

THE COURT: Further foundation would be necessary.

MR. SNEDDON: All right.

Q. Were -- the conversations that you had with your mother, where were they.

A. They were usually in her room.

Q. And how did the topics about her being scared come up. Don't tell us what was --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Just tell us who brought the subject matter up.

A. She did.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Foundation; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled. Proceed with the foundation.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m sorry.
Q. Who brought them up.
A. My mom.
Q. And were there any other persons present.
A. No, I don’t think so.
Q. During those conversations -- how many conversations do you think you had with her about the fact that she was scared.
A. Like every time I would go there.
Q. During those conversations, did she tell you anything about whether or not she wanted to be on the ranch.
A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Hearsay; foundation.
THE COURT: Overruled. State of mind.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: You may answer.
A. Yes.
Q. What did she tell you.
A. She told me that she was afraid that they were going to kill us, and then that she wanted to leave.
Q. Now, when you got back to the ranch -- back to the ranch, Neverland Valley Ranch, after you came from Miami - okay. -- I think there’s a better way. Let me do it this way. Your Honor, I’m just going to -- instead of showing them on the overhead, I’m just going to show them to the witness because they’ve been up so many times already, with the Court’s permission.
THE COURT: All right.
MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me, are they all in evidence.
MR. SNEDDON: Yes. No, I’d show you anything new.
Q. I’m going to show you a photograph. I’ll just put these in front of you. Okay.
A. Okay.
Q. I’ll show you a photograph marked People’s 28. Do you recognize the person in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that.

A. Jamie Masada.

Q. All right. Why don’t you turn the next one over. Just show it to the jury, if you would, for just a second.

All right. Do you recognize the person depicted in that photograph.

A. Yes.

Q. Who is that.

A. Dieter.

Q. Okay. Turn it over.

The next one, what’s the number on that.

A. 18.

Q. 18. And who is that.

A. Ronald.

Q. Okay. Turn it over.

And the next one. All right. Who is that, and what’s the number on that. Is that 20.

A. 20.

Q. All right. Who is that.

A. Frank.

Q. Turn that one down.

Does Frank have a last name, that you know of.

A. Tyson.

Q. All right. The next one is what number. 21.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Who’s that.

A. Aldo.

Q. All right. Why don’t you turn that one over.

And the last one is 22.

A. Yes.

Q. And who is that.

A. That’s Marie Nicole.

Q. All right. Just go ahead and turn that one over. Now, let me ask you a question about the people you’ve identified as Dieter and Ronald. Okay.

A. Okay.
Q. Now, when you got back from -- from Miami and you went to the ranch - okay. - and before you left with Jesus, same time period --
A. Okay.
Q. -- did you see either Dieter or Ronald at Neverland Valley Ranch.
A. No, I don’t think so.
Q. Did you ever see them at the ranch.
A. Yes.
Q. When do you think you saw them there.
A. I think I saw them when we came back when -- after we left with Jesus.
Q. Now, you’ve identified the photograph of Mr. Tyson.
A. Yes.
Q. And did you see Mr. Tyson at the ranch.
A. I don’t know. I don’t think so.
Q. During the entire time you were there, you don’t recall seeing him.
A. Yeah, I remember seeing him there at Neverland.
Q. Oh, okay. Do you recall when it was you saw him there.

A. I don’t remember the first time.
Q. Do you remember on how many occasions you saw him there.
A. No. But I saw him there a lot. Well --
Q. I can’t hear you.
A. No, but I saw him there.
Q. Did you ever see -- the two people that you talked about there, Dieter and Ronald - okay. --
A. Okay.
Q. -- were they at the ranch at the same time as Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes, I believe so.

Q. Did you ever see them together.

A. I think so. I did once or twice.

Q. All right. You left with the person you’ve identified to the jury as a person by the name of Jesus. Do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. And you told us you went to your grandparents’ place. What time was it when you left with Jesus.

A. Late at night.

Q. And do you recall who it was that -- well, was it the person you knew as Jesus who did the driving.

A. Yes.

Q. When you got to your grandparents’ place, did you ever go back to Neverland Valley Ranch after that.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you recall how many days there were in between the time you left and the time you went back.

A. I’m not sure. I think a few days.

Q. Do you ever recall, during the time that you were off of the ranch, having a telephone conversation with Frank Tyson.

A. Yes.

Q. And where were you when you received -- when you participated in that telephone conversation.

A. I’m not sure.

Q. Do you recall who else was present during the conversation.

A. My mom.

Q. And did you talk to Mr. Tyson.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did Mr. Tyson say to you.

And it’s offered under 1223, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. I’m accepting this testimony conditionally, as before.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection noted, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Noted.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

THE WITNESS: He was telling me about that they were scared that something was going to happen to me, and that they were worried, and they wanted us to come back up, stuff like that.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did you ever make any complaints to Mr. Tyson.

A. Yeah.

Q. And what complaint did you make to Mr. Tyson.

A. That I didn’t like the -- Dieter and Ronald.

Q. And why did you say that.

A. Because they had my mom worried, really. And my mom was scared of them, so....

Q. Where was it that your mom had contact with Dieter and Ronald.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; foundation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Do you know where it was that your mother had contact with Ronald or Dieter.

A. Now that I think back, I think it was at Neverland, so I think they were there before we left with Jesus. Or it could have been a phone call.

Q. I couldn’t -- all right. So you -- you voiced a complaint to Mr. Tyson on the phone.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did Mr. Tyson say to you about the complaint. Do you recall anything.

A. He said that we’ll never have to see them again.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: Offered for the same purpose, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. I’ll allow the testimony under the conditional admittance of hearsay that I’ve ruled on before.

I’m a little concerned, though. It’s not clear to me --

MR. SNEDDON: How about if I go back and ask a clarifying question. I think I know where the Court's going.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SNEDDON: I might be able to help the Court.

Q. You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that you had a telephone conversation with Mr. Tyson at some point after you had left the ranch with Jesus; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And that your mother was present during that conversation.

A. Yes.

Q. And that you personally talked to Mr. Tyson.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Now, you were about to tell us something that Mr. Tyson said, and I believe -- if you could do that.

And again, it's offered for the same reason, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: I'll admit it conditionally.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead.

A. He just told me that I would never have to see them again.

Q. See "them," meaning who.

A. Dieter and Ronald.

Q. Now, at some point you went back to the ranch --

A. Yes.

Q. -- is that correct.

And do you recall how you got back there.

A. I'm not too sure.

Q. Who went back with you.

A. Me, my mom, my brother, my sister.

Q. And when you got back to the ranch, do you recall whether -- what time of the day or night it was.

A. No.

Q. When you got back to the ranch, do you recall whether or not you saw Dieter or Ronald.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall where they were when you saw them.

A. I think I saw Dieter in the kitchen sitting on the stool thing. And he's saying that we were going to, like, go to --

Q. You're going to have to talk into that and not mumble.

A. And he told us that he wanted to, like, go to Australia or Brazil, or something like that, for a vacation.

Q. Do you know whether or not your mom remained on the ranch, or left that night or that day that you got back.

A. I think that was the day that she went down to see my now stepdad.

Q. I can't hear you.

A. I think that was the day that she went down to go see my now stepdad.

Q. Now, during the time that you were at Neverland Valley Ranch, you've told us that you were in Mr. Jackson's bedroom and in his bed, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, how do you get into Mr. Jackson's bedroom.

A. You walk through these big double doors, and then -- and then you walk to the other door, and then you punch in a code, and then there are two other double doors, the little lock goes off, and then you can open the door, and then -- and that's his room.

Q. Now, are there any -- does anything go off when you get to a certain point --

A. Yes.

Q. -- that you're walking down the hallway.

A. Yes.

Q. What is it that goes off.

A. Well, when you go in the first door, it goes like this, a little ringing sound goes off. And then when you punch in the code, another -- it goes off again.

Q. Can you hear from the outside of -- when it goes off.

A. Yes.

Q. Can you tell us what it sounds like.

A. “Dee-doo, dee-doo.” Sounds like that.

Q. And do you recall how many times it goes -- I’m not going to imitate you -- how many times it does that.

A. I’m not sure. I think it was like -- maybe like three times.

Q. Now, where did you get the code to get into Mr. Jackson’s bedroom or into his bedroom suite.

A. Michael.

Q. Pardon.

A. Michael.

Q. Was there more than one code to get in there.

A. Yeah, I think so. Because the nurse -- I mean, not the nurse. The maid lady would punch in a different code than the one I knew.

Q. So did you get another set of codes from somebody.

A. Oh, from -- for the other -- well, there’s 1590 another door to the main house that I knew a code for.

Q. You did or did not.

A. Did.

Q. All right. Where did you get that information from.

A. Either it was Michael that gave it to me or the maids gave it to me. Because they change it sometimes, so --

Q. Now, do you remember -- you told us that some of the times that you drank vodka with Mr. Jackson, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you ever remember a situation -- what effect did the vodka have on you.

A. Well, there was just one time -- well, vodka really tasted --

Q. You’re going to have to lean into that and talk so we can hear you.

A. I don’t really understand what you’re --

Q. What effect did the vodka have on you.

A. What did it make me feel like.

Q. Yeah.

A. Well, there was one time where -- where the first time that Michael introduced me to vodka, he had, like, a glass about that big --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Calls for a narrative; nonresponsive.

THE COURT: It’s nonresponsive.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Did Mr. Jackson provide vodka to you.

A. Yes.

Q. And how did he -- and what did he provide it to you in.

A. In a glass about that big.

Q. So you’re indicating maybe two or three inches.

A. I guess. I don’t know.

Q. And what kind of a glass -- where were you when he provided it to you.

A. I was in the wine cellar.

Q. And did you see him pour the vodka into it.

A. No.

Q. Did you know what it was when you first sipped it.

A. No.

Q. How was it that you ended up drinking that particular glass.

A. I walked down there, because I asked where Michael was -- well, we were in the arcade, and that’s what we usually kind of did. And then so I went down to the wine cellar and I saw Michael there, and then Michael had the glass poured. And then I asked him what that was, and he said, “Drink it.” And then he said like --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection.

MR. SNEDDON: All right.
MR. MESEREAU: Nonresponsive.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: What did he say to you.
A. He told me to drink the --
THE COURT: Just a moment. There's an objection pending, or just to the narrative.
MR. MESEREAU: Narrative, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Go ahead with your next question.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: What did he say to you.
A. He told me to drink the vodka.
Q. And did you do that.
A. Yes, but I didn't know it was vodka. I thought it was water, because it's, like, clear.
Q. Okay.
A. So I drank it really fast like if it was water. And then I didn't really -- when I brought it to my nose, it smelled like rubbing alcohol, and then I chucked it back really quick, and it started burning. Well, I, like, took down the whole thing, but it really burned.
And then like two or three seconds later my head started -- like it looked like the room was spinning, so I put my head inside the couch. You know the green couch that I was talking about. I put my head inside it so I couldn't see the room spinning, because it was kind of hurting.
Q. Why did you do that. Why did you put your head into the couch, in the pillow.

A. I -- I remember when I was a little, we'd spin around a lot when we play. I would close my eyes or put my head into a pillow or something, so that way I wouldn't see the room spin.
Q. Was that the only occasion that you drank vodka with Mr. Jackson.
A. No.
Q. Were there other occasions.
A. Yeah.
Q. How many, do you think, where you had vodka

with Mr. --

A. I’m not sure. Because when we’d drink wine, we’d usually have a little bit of vodka, so -- a lot of times.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, at this time I have an exhibit marked as 345 for identification purposes. And I’ve shown it to Mr. Sanger, but I’ll show it to other counsel.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay, Gavin.

A. Okay.

Q. I put in front of you an item marked as Exhibit 345. Okay.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you asked to look at that last night.

A. Yes.

Q. And with regard to looking at that, were you asked to see if you recognized the material that’s on that video.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: I move that it be admitted and played to the jury, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, we’re going to object on foundation grounds. We’ve reviewed that. There are severe problems with the accuracy of that.

BAILIFF CORTEZ: Can’t hear you, Mr. Mesereau.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh. Pardon me.

THE COURT: Do you want to restate your objection.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor. We have reviewed the DVD. We strongly object on foundation grounds and authenticity grounds. We think it’s a mischaracterization and a misrepresentation of what it tries to depict, and we have factual reasons for that.

THE COURT: What is it a DVD of.

MR. SNEDDON: It’s the chimes that go off when you go in the door.

THE COURT: Oh.

MR. SNEDDON: And it was -- I won’t say anything more, unless you want me to.

MR. MESEREAU: It’s inaccurate, Your Honor.

THE COURT: That’s subject to cross-examination, though.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I think --

THE COURT: There is a foundation problem, though. He didn’t create the video. He just watched it.

MR. SNEDDON: That’s correct. But it’s illustrative of what his testimony is with regard to the sound. So I think it’s admissible on that basis. And I’ll represent to the Court, without any question we’ll be able to lay the foundation as to who took that and that it is accurate.

MR. MESEREAU: We’d object on authenticity and foundation, Your Honor. It’s not an accurate depiction of what it purports to be.

THE COURT: The -- all right. Let me look a minute, here.

All right. I’m going to sustain the foundation objection. Right now the foundation that you laid was: “Do you recognize 345.

“Yes.

“Were you asked to look at it last night.

“Yes.

“And with regard to looking at that, were you asked to see if you recognized the material on the video.

“Yes.

“And did you.

“Yes.”

So I find that is an insufficient foundation.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Then what I propose to do at this point, Your Honor, would be to have this witness step down and I'll put Sergeant Robel on to lay the foundation.
THE COURT: All right.
MR. SNEDDON: I can do that between now and the break, and then the witness can come back immediately afterwards.
MR. MESEREAU: All right.
MR. SNEDDON: All right. Gavin, would you step out, please.
Call Sergeant Robel.

STEVE DANIEL ROBEL
Having been sworn, testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.
THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record.
THE WITNESS: Steve Daniel Robel. R-o-b-e-l.
THE CLERK: Thank you.
//

DIRECT EXAMINATION
BY MR. SNEDDON:
Q. You're a Sergeant with the Santa Barbara Sheriff's Department.
A. Yes, I am.
Q. How long have you been with the sheriff's department.
A. Approximately 22 years.
Q. Now, on November the 18th of 2003, were you present during the execution of a search warrant at Neverland Valley Ranch.
A. Yes, I was.
Q. And are you one of the lead investigators into the case against the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson.
A. Yes, I am.
Q. Were you present at the time that entry was made into his residence.

A. Yes, I was.
Q. And were you in the company of the individual who was filming the entry into the house.
A. Yes, I was.
Q. And did you accompany that person all through the house.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And have you had occasion to review -- and did he videotape the entire house before anybody made any other entry into it.

A. Yes, he did.
Q. Did you accompany him in that part of the house where the hallway leads into Mr. Jackson’s bedroom suite.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Were you present when he videotaped that.
A. Yes, I was.
Q. And have you reviewed that videotape in connection with this investigation.
A. Yes.
Q. And with regard to the particular exhibit that’s in front of you marked as -- 345. 344.
A. It’s 345.
Q. 345. Did you review that.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that a portion of the videotape that was taken by the person who accompanied you at the time that you folks executed the search warrant --
A. Yes, it is.
Q. -- on the 18th.
A. Yes, it is.
Q. And is it an accurate depiction of the sound that you heard when you entered Mr. Jackson’s bedroom suite.
A. Yes.
THE COURT: Cross-examine.
MR. SANGER: That’s my witness, if that’s all right.

MR. SNEDDON: No further questions, I guess I should have said, Your Honor.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. SANGER:

Q. Sergeant Robel, at the time -- let’s start with this. 345 is a snippet, as it were, from a many-hour-long video; is that correct.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. And that little snippet was selected today, or for today’s proceedings, by you; is that right. Or was it selected by somebody else.

A. This was off of a CD.

Q. Who selected it.

A. I did and Detective Bonner.

Q. You did.

A. And Detective Bonner.

Q. And Detective Bonner.

A. Yes.

Q. So you went through to find a part of that CD where you might hear a bell.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. At the time that you were going through the residence when this tape was actually being made, you were not listening for that bell, were you.

A. No, we weren’t.

Q. Okay. You were walking through, and you were -- this was your first opportunity to go inside Mr. Jackson’s bedroom suite; is that right.

A. As -- under a circumstance of a protective sweep, yes.

Q. In other words, you started your search by going through the house and making sure that there was nobody in the rooms, and making sure you knew where everything was; is that right.

A. Exactly. And making sure that if there were people in the rooms, we would bring them downstairs and centrally locate them, yes. Safety purposes.

Q. And the filming was going on at that time.

A. Yes.

Q. And you had never been in Mr. Jackson’s bedroom suite before that time; is that correct.

A. No, I hadn’t.

Q. So you were looking around. You were vigilant to see if there was anybody in there. You were doing your job at that point, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. So you weren’t really listening for that bell.

A. I wasn’t. Not actively, no.

Q. And the reason you found this part of the tape is, you went back to listen to the tape, and you and Detective Bonner found a place where you heard something about the bell; is that correct.

A. That’s incorrect.

Q. Okay. Well, let’s move on.

THE COURT: Let’s take a break.

MR. SANGER: Let’s take a break and move on.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Go ahead, Counsel.

MR. SANGER: May I proceed. Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Sergeant Robel, this particular tape we’re talking about, 345, was not made for the express purpose of representing how this bell sounded inside of Mr. Jackson’s room when the bell went off, was it.

A. No, you are correct.

Q. Okay. And the equipment that was used, the sound-recording -- it’s a video; it’s part of a videotape, right.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. And the sound-recording device that was used, are you familiar with that particular device.

A. I’m really not.

Q. Okay. Do you know if it measures the decibel level of the sounds that it’s recording.

A. No, I don’t believe so.

Q. And this particular tape doesn’t preserve in any way the decibel levels of the sounds that it’s recording, does it.

A. I don't believe so.

Q. All right. Now, you've listened to this carefully, I take it, this 345; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. And it is -- it is, in part, a scene where you are talking with a gentleman about the key pad, and getting the correct combination to go into the suite of rooms that we've described as Michael Jackson's bedroom suite, the first floor, second floor, that area, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. So you're talking to him, he's giving some instructions. And in the background, if you listen, you can hear the bell ringing, is that correct, while you're still in the hallway.

A. Up by the key pad, I believe you're correct, yes.

Q. In other words, I'm talking about, you reviewed this --

A. Right.

Q. -- trying to remember what this shows. Okay.

A. Right.

Q. This particular 345. You start to hear a fairly faint bell as you're standing in the hallway before you go through the door, correct. You start to hear on this tape --

A. I just need clarification. When you talk about the door, are you talking about the first set of doors that we're going through going down the hallway, or talking about the double doors to Michael's bedroom.

Q. The double doors to Michael's bedroom, what we're calling Michael's bedroom. This is where you have the first floor and you go back and there's a second floor, right.

A. Okay. The second floor I'm familiar with inside his bedroom, yes.

Q. So we're talking about going through the double doors that lead you down three or four steps into a living room area, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And then behind that is the door and the stairway to a second floor; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. So we're at those double doors. You're in this video that you have reviewed, Exhibit 345, you and some other officers are up there at or near this front double door area that goes into this living room; is that right.

A. Correct.

Q. And the cameraman -- I was going to move back, but then you wouldn't be able to hear me, or somebody wouldn't -- the cameraman is standing back a few paces behind all of you; is that correct.

A. I believe so. I don't know exactly where he was. But he was behind me, yes.

Q. And the microphone, to pick up the sound, is on his camera; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. Didn't have a boom mike or somebody else wasn't miked in this situation.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. And when you reviewed this, at some point you start to hear the dinging of the bell that's fairly faint from the cameraman's position in the hallway; is that correct.

A. Where I heard it was when I was standing at the key pad. That's when I first heard it.

Q. All right. And I'm talking about this -- what this depicts.

A. Right.

Q. This depicts sound picked up from this cameraman back in the hallway, and the bell rings about 12 times; is that correct.

A. I didn't count them, but it was more than once, yes.

Q. It was more than three.

A. Right.

Q. And it was about 12, was it not, sir.

A. If -- I would say it was approximately that, yes.

Q. All right. And as the cameraman -- as you come in, and you walk down the few steps into the living room area, you then make -- you start to walk towards the door that goes up the stairway to Mr. Jackson’s bedroom; is that correct.

A. I believe so.

Q. And just as you get to his door, that’s pretty much where this tape ends; is that right.

A. I think so, yes.

Q. Okay. And as you’re getting to his door, the cameraman is just starting to walk into the room and down the stairs, into this living room area down the stairs, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And the sound is becoming louder, the sound of the bell is becoming louder just as the tape ends; is that correct.

A. Really didn’t pay attention as far as whether it was becoming louder or not. I mean, I could hear it, and I was in front. When I was viewing that, I didn’t determine whether it was louder or fainter.

Q. In other words, I understand what -- your recollection of what really happened when you were there is, but what this depicts is a cameraman several paces behind a group of three officers and a civilian; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And your group, at least the three officers, move into the downstairs, and move towards the door to Mr. Jackson’s stairway and his upper bedroom, right.

A. Correct.

Q. And the cameraman is still back -- he’s behind you, moving up.

A. Correct.

Q. And the sound is actually louder as you get closer to that bedroom door; isn’t that correct.

A. I don’t know. I don’t know until I hear that again. I mean, I viewed that two or three times, but I never really determined whether it was louder or not.

MR. SANGER: I have no further questions.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. SANGER: The objection stands.

THE COURT: You may step down.

Bring the other witness in.

MR. SNEDDON: Wait. I have a question.

THE COURT: All right.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. Sergeant Robel, with regard to the bell system itself, is that laser-activated, to your knowledge.

A. To my knowledge, yes.

Q. So that every time somebody passes it, it sets it off again.

A. That is correct.

Q. So when Mr. Sanger asked you if you heard it go 12 times in a row, every time one of the people connected with the walk-through went through, it would go off again.

A. Correct.

MR. SANGER: I’m going to object and move to strike. That is a leading question and --

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may step down.

I’m going to allow the exhibit to go in.

Bring the witness in.

BAILIFF CORTEZ: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You may be seated. You’re still under oath.

GAVIN-ANTON ARVIZO

Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified further as follows:

THE COURT: Go ahead.
MR. SNEDDON: We're activating the disk, Your Honor. It's --
THE BAILIFF: Are you playing it out of your computer.
THE COURT: Do you need "Input 1".
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Your Honor, we'd ask for "Input 4." Thank you.
THE COURT: "Input 4".

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Yeah.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 345, was played for the Court and jury.)

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Continued)
BY MR. SNEDDON:
Q. Gavin, did you hear the chime go off.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that the chime that went off when you were visiting Neverland Valley Ranch.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, I want to ask you a couple more questions and then we'll move on to another subject, okay. But I want to ask you a little bit about some of the drinking that you did at the ranch.
A. Okay.
Q. Do you know what the term "passed out" means.
A. Yes.
Q. Tell the jury what that means.
A. When you, like, lay down and you, like, go to sleep and you sleep for a long time and you sleep pretty hard.
Q. During the time that you were at the ranch and you drank alcohol with the defendant, Mr. Jackson, did you ever pass out.
A. Maybe once or twice. But I don't think I really ever -- well, when I'd go to sleep, I would usually sleep pretty hard, but I don't know about, like, just sitting somewhere and just (indicating); you know what I mean.

Q. I guess. I wouldn't admit it even if I did. Did you ever get sick.

A. Yeah.

Q. How did you feel when you got sick.

A. Felt like -- my stomach hurt a lot. I don't think I ever really threw up, though. But, like, I felt, like, nauseated.

Q. All right. We're going to move on to another subject now, if we can, and I'm going to show you a couple more exhibits. And I'm going to show them to counsel first, so just give me a moment.

A. Okay.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. I'm going to hand you an eight-by-ten piece of paper, and ask you if you recognize the notes, that particular exhibit.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that your handwriting.

A. Yes.

Q. And you wrote it.

A. Yes.

Q. Now I'm going to hand you an exhibit marked as 347 for identification purposes. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And whose handwriting is that.

A. Michael's. It looks like Mike -- yeah, it's Michael's.

Q. And that particular exhibit, 347, was that something that was given to you at one time by Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. I'm sorry.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Your Honor, I’m going to ask the Court’s permission to put these on the Elmo, and ask the witness some questions about them, and I move that they be admitted into evidence.
MR. MESEREAU: No objection.
THE COURT: They’re admitted.
THE BAILIFF: You need to take it off “Black Screen.”
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Gavin, I’m going to ask you to look at the first two at the top, and the note makes reference to a trip to Florida. Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. Have you ever been to Florida with Mr. Jackson on more than one occasion.
A. No. Only went there once.

Q. Just the one you testified to.
A. Yes.
Q. And did you write this note. Do you recall when it was you actually wrote this note to Mr. Jackson.
A. No. But I think it was like toward the beginning -- like maybe a week or two after we came back from Miami.
Q. Was the time that you flew to Miami with Mr. Carter the first time you were ever on the plane.
A. Mr. Carter.
Q. Tucker, I’m sorry.
A. Chris Tucker.
Q. Yes.
A. That was -- I mean, when I flew to Oakland with him to the Raider game --
Q. Okay.
A. -- that was, like, the first time I was ever in a plane.
Q. Okay.
A. And this is the first time I was ever on a plane with Michael.
Q. Oh, okay. All right.

Now we're going to show the other exhibit, People's 346 -- 347, I'm sorry. Well, and the last part of the exhibit, 346, do you recognize that.

A. Well, not really. But I think I wrote that.

Q. Looks like your handwriting, does it not.

A. Yeah.

Q. Or does it.

A. Well, kind of.

Q. All right. Let's put up 347.

Now, when the exhibit says, "I want you to have a great time in Florida. I'm very happy to be your Daddy," now, do you recall when it was Mr. Jackson gave you this particular note.

A. No. It was probably around the time that I wrote him those notes. I think -- I think Frank gave me those notes. Or, no, I don't think Frank. I think somebody gave me those notes because Michael was busy, and he gave me those notes from Michael.

Q. Did you ever discuss them with Mr. Jackson.

A. Not really.

Q. But you recognize the handwriting as being his.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. You can take that down.

Q. Now, in the exhibit, 347, it's signed by Mr. Jackson as "dad," and in the exhibit he makes reference to being your "daddy."

A. Yes.

Q. Had you -- had Mr. Jackson ever called you -- asked you -- strike that.

Had Mr. Jackson ever used the word "daddy" to you prior to the time he wrote this note to you.

A. I don't know. I would call him "dad" sometimes, because I don't really have, like, a set dad at that time; you know what I mean.

Q. So how long do you think it was between you and Mr. Jackson that you were calling him “dad”.

A. When I was up there.

Q. Up where.

A. After Miami, like a couple weeks after Miami, he started calling me “son,” and I would call him “dad.”

Q. So that was a fairly usual thing between the two of you.

A. Yeah.

Q. At some point in time, did you participate in a taped interview other than the one with Mr. Bashir.

A. It wasn’t really an interview. It was, like, where -- I don’t know what you would refer to, but there was one time when he taped me carrying me across a bridge. I don’t know if you’re talking about that, but --

Q. Okay. You were filmed -- and was this when you had cancer.

A. Yes.

Q. And when you were filmed in that particular piece, did you ever see that piece.

A. Yes.

Q. When did you see it for the first time.

A. We showed it to Chris. And then when he showed it to Chris, that’s when I saw it.

Q. Okay. Now, do you know an individual by the name of Hamid.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Where did you meet Hamid for the first time.

A. At -- I’m not sure. I think he was the guy that filmed Michael carrying me across the bridge, but I’m not sure.

Q. Okay. The time after you came back from Miami -- all right.

A. Okay.

Q. -- and you were at the ranch, did you ever meet Hamid there.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Tell us about -- where were you when you met him.

A. I don’t know. But I was somewhere on the ranch, because I remember he drove us to his house.

Q. He drove you to his house.

A. From Neverland.

Q. And who is you.

A. It was me, my mom, my brother and my sister.

Q. And you went to his house. Do you remember where he lived.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember how long it took to get there.

A. Two hours, probably.

Q. And when you got there, what did you do.

A. They had this camera set up and like this big sheet thing that was coming down. Well, actually, the first thing, I went there, he had some video games, and I started playing his video games. And then, I don’t know, they waited for some people to come, or whatever, and then they came.

Q. Do you remember who the people were you were waiting for.

A. Dieter.

Q. Anybody else you remember.

A. I think it was Vinnie. We were waiting for Vinnie, too.

Q. Is that the first time you ever met Vinnie, or had you met him before that.

A. I think that was the first time I ever met Vinnie.

Q. Do you remember anybody else arriving. Let me ask it this way: Did Vinnie come alone or was he with somebody.

A. I think he might have been with Frank. I’m not too sure.

Q. Now, during the time that you were there, did an interview take place or a filming of some kind take place.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was doing the filming.

A. I believe it was Hamid.

Q. And do you recall about what time it was when the filming started.

A. It was really late at night. It probably started like around 11:00 -- 10:00, 11:00 or midnight, one of those, around there, because I remember being really, really tired while I was doing it.

Q. Now, prior to the time that you participated in that interview at Hamid’s house -- okay.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. -- had anybody ever told you what to say on that interview.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was that.

A. Dieter.

Q. And what did Dieter say to you. And it’s offered under 1223, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I’ll admit this testimony conditionally. The objection is noted.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection noted, Your Honor.

THE WITNESS: Dieter would say -- like he was telling us -- you know, remember how, like, Michael told me what to say in the Martin Bashir thing.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay.

A. Like, Dieter was kind of doing the same thing. Like, he was telling us - me, my mom and my brother, my sister - what to say on this tape thing for -- they said it was like a rebuttal tape, or something like that.

Q. And what did he tell you to say.

A. He said that, like, tell them -- tell him, like, Michael helped us a lot and, like, cured me from cancer practically, and stuff like that.

Q. Did you ever see anything written down about what you were to say.

A. Yeah. They had like -- well, it was -- I don’t think it was really -- well, they had, like, this paper with a bunch of questions and stuff, but -- you know.

Q. And did you -- did you get a chance to see the questions before you went on the film.

A. Yeah.

Q. And did you go over the answers to those questions before you went on to film.

A. Well, kinda. It wasn't really like we sat down for an hour and was, like, talking and stuff. It was kind of a brief thing. He wanted us to say this and this and that; you know what I mean.

Q. Okay. At the time that you participated in this particular video at Hamid's house late in the evening or -- what was your attitude towards Mr.

Jackson.

A. Well, I liked him a lot. I was like -- he was like my best friend in the whole world.

Q. Still at this point.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, on that particular video -- you've had a chance to see it since the time it was made, have you not.

A. Yes.

Q. Was everything that you said on the video true.

A. Not really.

Q. What parts of that video do you recall as not being true.

A. I mean -- because, like, I said stuff like that Michael helped me a lot during -- while I had cancer. And, like, really he wasn't really there all that much.

Q. Anything else.

A. Um, I'm not too sure. It was a while ago.

Q. I'm sorry.

A. I'm not too sure. It was a while ago.

Q. That's the one that sticks out in your mind.

A. Yes.

Q. After the, what you call the rebuttal tape was filmed that night, do you recall where you went.

A. I think Vinnie and Frank took us to, like, an inn.

Q. Do you recall what you did the next day.
A. Um, no. Not really.
Q. Do you ever recall having a meeting with some social workers.
A. Oh. Yeah. It was --
Q. When did that occur.
A. It was in the East -- no, no, where we used to live on St. Andrews.
Q. Where you used to live on St. Andrews with who.
A. Jay.
Q. Who else lived there with you.
A. My mom, my brother.
Q. Your sister.
A. I don't think she lived there. I think she was at my grandma's.
Q. Now, in -- just so the ladies and gentlemen of the jury can understand, in relationship to the Hamid rebuttal film that you've talked about - okay. - was the meeting with the social workers before or after that.
A. It was -- I'm pretty sure it was after.
Q. Do you remember who was present during that interview.
A. The social worker one.
Q. Yeah.
A. It was me, my brother, my mom. Aja was there, Chris's girlfriend.

Q. Okay.
A. And the social worker ladies. And I think Vinnie was there. But I don't think he was upstairs. I'm not too sure. And there was this guy in a blue shirt.
Q. Describe the guy in the blue shirt for us.
A. I think he had like black hair and light skin, kind of like me. And he was wearing, like, dress pants and dress shoes and, like, a blue shirt.

Q. Can you describe what he was like physically.

A. Well, probably like five-foot-eleven or something like that. And about my body mass, but, like, just bigger.

Q. Do you know who that person was. Did he introduce himself to you.

A. No.

Q. Were you present when he arrived.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you hear him identify himself at any time to anybody.

A. No.

Q. Did you at any time while you were there see a tape-recorder that morning.

A. Yes.

Q. And where did you see a tape-recorder.

A. I saw it on our kitchen counter -- yeah, on our kitchen counter.

Q. And did you ever see anybody pick up the tape-recorder.

A. I think I saw my mom pick it up, or -- yeah.

Q. And did you ever see your mom discuss talking to this other individual you’ve described as the --

A. I saw him and my mom go into another room where my mom and my stepdad sleep, slept. And I don’t know, they were talking in there, I guess.

Q. Did you see where the tape-recorder was at the time they went into the bedroom.

A. No. I think it might have been in my mom’s hand, but I’m not sure.

Q. When you actually had the interview with the social workers, did everybody remain in there during the interview.

A. No. I think Brad left or -- yeah, that’s his name, Brad, because I was just thinking, like, Brad, because -- wasn’t it Brad Miller.

Q. I’m not testifying.

A. Oh, okay. All right.

Q. All right. So somebody left.

A. Yeah.
Q. All right. And who was left during the interview.
A. Me, my mom, my brother, and my sister, I think.
Q. And do you recall the questions that the social workers asked you.

A. They asked me about Michael and --
Q. And do you remember what you told them.
A. Yeah.
Q. What did you tell them.
A. I told them that he was a nice guy, and that -- like the stuff that we said on the rebuttal tape.
Q. Pretty much the same stuff.
A. Yeah.
Q. Do you remember -- did they ask you whether or not you slept in a bed with Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. And what did you say.
A. I said that we do now, because we were over at the ranch, but I told them that nothing happens when we’re on the bed.
Q. I’m sorry.
A. I told them nothing, like, bad happens.
Q. Was that the truth.
A. At the time, yes.
Q. After the interview with the social workers, do you remember where you went.
A. I think we went back up to Neverland with Aja.
Q. And by “we,” who do you mean.
A. Me, my brother, my sister.
Q. And when you went back up to the ranch, when was the next time you left, if you recall.

A. Left from the ranch.
Q. Yeah. Do you remember going anywhere after you got back up there from the social workers.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did you at any time ever go shopping with Frank or Vinnie.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Tell the jury where -- where that occurred.

A. Well, we went to a mall, and they took us to a place called Anchor Blue.

Q. And what did you do at Anchor Blue.

A. They bought us clothes because we didn’t have any clothes. We didn’t have that many clothes.

Q. Now, why were they buying you clothes.

A. Because they didn’t really want us to go back to our apartment, so they had us buy clothes from there.

Q. Now, at the time that you went to Anchor Blue and they bought you these clothes, where were you staying at that point in time.

A. I believe I was staying -- yeah, that’s when I was staying at the Cal -- bleh. The Calabasas Inn place. The inn in Calabasas.

Q. Okay. And who was there with you.

A. My mom, my brother, and my sister, and Frank and Vinnie.

Q. Now, were Frank and Vinnie in the same room as you.

A. No.

Q. Do you recall where their room was, if you know.

A. No. I believe -- I’m pretty sure it was down the hall.

Q. Now, at the time that you went to the Calabasas Inn and you went shopping with Frank and Vinnie, did you go any other places.

A. Yes.

Q. Where.

A. They went to get us visas and passports.

Q. And why were you getting visas and passports.

A. Because they said they were going to take us to Brazil.

Q. When did you first learn that you were going to go to Brazil.

A. From Dieter.

Q. And when did you first learn from Vinnie and Frank Tyson that they were going to take you out and buy you clothes and things.

A. I don't remember. It was probably a few days after when I found out from Dieter. But I'm not sure.

Q. Did you actually go with them when the passports and the visas were obtained.

A. Yes.

Q. And were both Vinnie and Frank with you.

A. I believe so. I think Vinnie was there. I don't think Frank was there.

Q. Now, what was your understanding about when you were going to go to Brazil.

A. A few weeks after we got our visas.

Q. Now, did you, in the presence of the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson, ever have a conversation about the trip to Brazil.

A. Yes.

Q. And who else was present during that conversation.

A. Frank.

Q. Frank Tyson.

A. Yes.

Q. And where did that conversation take place.

A. In his room.

Q. "In his room" --

A. Michael's room.

Q. And which part of the room in his house.

A. On his bed. Like, Frank was on his knees, like on -- his hands were over the bed like that (indicating).

Q. And where were you.

A. Me and Michael were laying on the bed.

Q. All right. Tell us about the conversation.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.

THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: How did the subject of Brazil come up.
A. Frank was getting angry because my mom didn't want to go. And then Frank was yelling because he was, like, "Oh, we have a tutor over there and we still haven't left, and we ended up paying for a tutor," or something like that.
And then Michael was -- he didn't really respond much, but he was, like, nodding his head, like --
Q. You've nodded your head which way.
A. Up and down.
Q. To you, what does that mean.
A. "Yeah." "Yes."
Q. Okay. And how many times did you see Mr. Jackson nod his head up and down.
A. A few times.
Q. Did Mr. Jackson ever say anything to you about going to Brazil.
A. Yeah.
Q. What did he say.
A. He said that we were going to go to Brazil and that we were going to have a good time.
Q. Do you remember anything else Mr. Jackson said to you about that trip.
A. That he was going to come a week later after we got there.

Q. Now, let's go back to the point that you were at Calabasas at the inn. Okay.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Now, you tell us that Frank and Vinnie were there; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you see any other people there that Frank and Vinnie knew.
You just have to answer that "yes" or "no" first, and then I'll ask you the next question.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Did you see anybody in the lobby.

A. The lobby of the inn.

Q. Yeah.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. When you were at the Calabasas Inn, did you feel you were free to come and go as you pleased.

A. No.

Q. Why not.

A. Because they had our cards to our hotel -- to our room, or whatever.

Q. Who did.

A. Vinnie and Frank had the cards, the key cards.

Q. Did you ever try to go anywhere.

A. Not really, because even if we tried to go out in the hallway or anything, they would tell us to go back in our room.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Calls for speculation. Move to strike.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to need just a second. Can I go this way or -- excuse me, Mr. Oxman.

Q. All right.

A. Do you want me to take this stuff out.

Q. No, that’s all right. Just leave it in for right now.

I’ve placed in front of you the exhibit book, and in that exhibit book is what we’re calling Exhibit 260. Okay.

A. All right.

Q. Do you recognize the piece of paper in front of you.

A. Kinda.

Q. Do you recognize the photograph of the person in that piece of paper.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you remember when it was that that photograph was taken, where it was taken.

A. I think it was when we were getting, like, our visas or our passports, or whatever like that.

Q. Now, on that particular document, there was -- there’s -- by your picture on the document is a signature line, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that your signature.

A. Right next to my name. Oh. Well, it’s my name.

Q. I know. But is that your signature.

A. Not really.

Q. Did you fill -- do you recall ever filling that application out.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember anybody ever telling you you were going to go to Italy or France.

A. No. They always told me I was going to go to Brazil.

Q. All right. Now, I want you to turn -- turn -- I put a little pink pad -- do you see it at the top.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Would you turn to that document. This is in 261.

A. Okay.

Q. That’s a document from the Brazilian consulate, correct.

A. Like a -- yes.

Q. I couldn’t hear you.

A. Yes.

Q. And again, it has your photograph on it.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you recall ever filling out that application. Let me put it this way: Is that handwriting on the application yours.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember going to the Brazilian consulate.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall who you went with.

A. Vinnie.

Q. Were there any other people present with you.

A. My mom, my brother, and my sister, I think.

Q. All right. You can close that up, Gavin. You told us that you recall going to the shopping outlet, or a mall of some kind, to go to Anchor Blue.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall any other places that you went to buy clothes.

A. No, I think we just went to that place.

Q. Were there times that anybody would buy things for you and bring them back to the room for you.

A. Yes.

Q. Who did that.

A. I think it was -- I don't know. Probably Vinnie. They bought me some shoes.

Q. Was this while you were at the Calabasas Inn.

A. No, this is up in Neverland.

Q. Okay. Was there any times when you were at the Calabasas Inn where people would buy you things and bring them back, that you recall.

A. Maybe food once, but I'm not -- no.

Q. But not clothes.

A. No.

Q. Did you have a suitcase with you.

A. For my clothes.

Q. No, for going to Brazil.

A. No, I don't think so.

Q. Do you know what you were going to pack your stuff in.

A. Well, we came down there with a suitcase, but I don't think the suitcase was for us to go to Brazil, because I think we were going to go back up to Neverland, and later we were going to go to Brazil somewhere.

Q. Where did you get the suitcase.

A. They bought us a suitcase.

Q. Who's "they".

A. Vinnie and Frank.
Q. All right. Now, after you come back from Calabasas - okay. - the trip that you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury about, after you came back, did you go back to Neverland.
A. After that, with Vinnie and them to get the visas and passports.
Q. Yeah.

A. Yeah.
Q. And Mr. Jackson, was he there.
A. To Neverland. I don’t think he was.
Q. Did he come, at some point, after that.
A. Yes.
Q. And where did you sleep when Mr. Jackson -- after Calabasas, when Mr. Jackson was on the premises, where did you sleep.
A. When Michael Jackson was there.
Q. Yeah.
A. I would sleep in his room.
Q. With who.
A. It would be me and my brother and Michael. And sometimes Aldo would sleep there, too.
Q. Was there ever any times when there was just you and Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. And when, in relationship to when you came back to the ranch after the Calabasas trip, was that.
A. That was, like, toward the end, like when -- like maybe a month in relation to the end, where we finally left for good.
Q. Do you remember leaving for good.
A. Yes.
Q. And do you remember how it was you left for good, what happened.
A. I’m not too sure, but -- I’m not sure. I’m not too sure how we left, but I remember being there, and, like, Frank came down. I was trying to think. They were knocking on the door and stuff, and they left some stuff that we had with us up there in front of our door.

Q. At your home.

A. Yeah.

Q. After you left.

A. Yeah.

Q. Is that your suitcase.

A. Yes. They bought us suitcases.

Q. Now, after the time you came back from Calabasas, and before you left -- all right.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. -- were there any nights where there were just you and Mr. Jackson sleeping together.

A. Yes.

Q. And were there nights, after you came back from Calabasas and before you left, where you drank any alcoholic beverages.

A. Can you repeat -- I mean, with Michael or --

Q. With anybody.

A. We would only really drink with Michael, so --

Q. All right. So when you came back from Calabasas and Mr. Jackson was there, did you drink with him.

A. Yes.

Q. Was there ever an occasion when you were on the ranch -- I'm not talking about back when you were sick with cancer or when you were there with Chris Tucker, but from the time you came back from Miami till the time you left for the very last time --

A. Yes.

Q. -- okay. -- was there ever an occasion where you and Mr. Jackson were on the ranch at the same time that you didn't drink.

A. No, I don't think so, because it would usually be at nighttime when we would drink. And we'd rarely drink in the daytime.

Sometimes, like while we were in his office, we'd usually drink some wine or whatever. But it was usually toward it was getting dark, and we would start running to the arcade, and played video games and drink and stuff. But every time Michael was there, we would drink.

Q. Okay, Gavin. We’re just going to do a little bit of cleanup work here. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. I’ve handed you a photograph that’s marked as People’s Exhibit 188. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Hang on just a second. We got some technical difficulties.

We’re not going to need the lights, Your Honor. I’m not going to....

Thank you. That’s dark enough.

Q. Okay. 188, Gavin, do you see what that is.

A. Yes. I’m sorry.

Q. I’m not keeping you awake, am I.

(Laughter.)

THE WITNESS: All I need is a pillow.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. 188, what is that.

A. It’s the front door to Neverland. Or the front entrance to Neverland.

Q. The front entrance for what at Neverland.

A. Not Neverland. The main house at Neverland, sorry.

Q. Mr. Jackson’s house.

A. Yes.

Q. Why don’t you turn that over.

Now, what’s the next photograph.

A. It’s like you’re in the hallway --

Q. No, wait a minute.

Go ahead.

A. You’re like in the hallway to go to his room. And this is at the door.

Q. The door to what.

A. The door that would like, if you opened it, the chimes rung.

Q. And are you talking about the bedroom or the main room.

A. The bedroom. Well --
Q. Downstairs or upstairs.
A. Downstairs.
Q. Okay. Why don’t you turn that over.
And that’s a picture of who.
A. Hamid.
Q. And what number is that.
A. 29.
Q. All right. And the next picture is of.
A. Jesus Salas.
Q. And that is No. 30.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Would you turn that over.
Do you recognize those pictures of the people. And who’s that and what number is it.
A. It’s 19.
Q. And who is that.
A. Vinnie.
Q. Yes.
So in your testimony here, the person you referred to as Vinnie, that’s the person you were talking about.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Turn that over.
And the next photograph.
A. That’s the Country -- well, that’s the inn that we stood at.
Q. When you went shopping that time.

A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Turn that over now.
What’s the number on the next one. By the way, let’s go back one, Gavin. I don’t think I got the numbers. Is that 125.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. By “that,” I mean the Calabasas Inn photograph.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Now, let’s go to the next one.

And what number is that.
A. 99.
Q. All right. And what is that.
A. That’s the arcade.
Q. So, in your testimony when you were talking about going into the arcade down to the wine cellar, that’s the building that you were talking about.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Why don’t you turn that one over.
THE CLERK: Judge, 99 hasn’t been identified.
MR. SNEDDON: It hasn’t.
THE CLERK: No.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Do you recognize that. Is that an accurate depiction of that photograph, 99.
A. Well, that’s the side of the -- of the arcade, but the front entrance is, like, over here.

Well, the entrance to the arcade is over here.
Q. Let me have the photograph.
Move that -- apparently 99 is not in evidence, Your Honor, the clerk tells us. And I’ve shown it to counsel, and I don’t think he has any problem with it.
MR. MESEREAU: No objection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Admitted.
MR. SNEDDON: Getting dangerous back here. The cords came up, Your Honor.
Q. All right. I have one other photograph I want to show you.
A. Okay.
Q. This is 153, and it’s in evidence.
A. Uh-huh.
MR. SNEDDON: We’re going to display that, Your Honor. There’s going to be some testimony about it.
THE COURT: Do you need it on “1” or “4”.
MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Could we have that on “1,” Your Honor.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Do you recognize what’s up on the board.

A. Yes.

Q. That's a copy of the photograph that you have in front of you, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, have you ever seen that mannequin before.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was it the first time you saw it.

A. In Michael's room.

Q. You're going to have to turn around and talk into that mike.

A. Michael's room.

THE COURT: Is that 153 that's on the screen.

MR. SNEDDON: It is, Your Honor. I apologize for that.

Q. All right. Where was it on the floor.

A. It was next to the computer on the floor.

Q. Next to the computer on the floor.

A. Yeah.

Q. Now, where was the computer located in Mr. Jackson's room.

A. Well, there's the bed, and then like at the foot of the bed, the computer was right there on -- near the -- it was like the railing. It was wood railing to the stairs.

Q. And do you recall what kind of computer it was.

A. No. It was -- it was a desktop computer, but I don't know what kind it was. Like nobody used it, because it was --

Q. I'm sorry.

A. Nobody used it because it was bad, like it wasn't connected.

Q. The computer that Mr. Jackson gave you, the one that you described as an Apple.

A. Yes.

Q. -- was that a desktop or a laptop.

A. It was a laptop, the one that he gave me.

Q. Now, directing your attention to the mannequin that’s in the photograph in front of you - okay. - did you ever see Mr. Jackson do anything with that mannequin.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell us what he did.

A. Well, me and my brother were looking at the mannequin, and we started laughing at it because it was shaped funny, and then we showed Michael and he started laughing. And then he started acting like he was, like, having sex with the mannequin because it was shaped funny.

Q. I couldn’t hear you.

A. Because it was shaped funny.

Q. All right. So what did he do with the mannequin.

A. He acted like he was humping it.

Q. And where was he when he was doing that.

A. On the bed.

Q. Where were you and your brother.

A. I was sitting on the bed and I think my brother might have been standing up.

Q. Now, the time that you saw Mr. Jackson on the bed with the mannequin, do you recall whether that happened before or after you went to Calabasas.

A. I’m not sure. It was probably before. But I’m not too sure.

Q. But you remember the incident.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. We can take that down, if you’d like.

I’m going to show an exhibit marked as 470.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Ever seen that before.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was it the first time you saw it.

A. It was next to, like, this -- it wasn’t really a couch. Well, it felt like a couch, but -- it was like a one-person couch, and it had, like, this place where you could put your feet up --

Q. Okay.

A. -- that was, like, the same material, but it was like a little square cushion thing, and you put your feet up there.

Q. And what -- what building was this.

A. This was in his room.

Q. Do you know what room it was.

A. It was in Michael’s room. But when you walk in the door, like to the right would be the door to go up to his bed, and then if you walk in there and you walk this way and then go to the right inside this room, and you’d walk and there’s a couch thing.

Q. Was there anything else in that room.

A. Yeah, there was like a sink with a bunch of his, like, perfumes and colognes. And there was like a big mirror, like three-sided mirror. And then there was a rest room. And then there’s a big kind of tub, but kind of looks like a Jacuzzi, though.

Q. Now, when you first saw the suitcase, where was it in that room.

A. It was next to -- it was to the left of that couch thing.

Q. And did you ever see Mr. Jackson pick up the Exhibit 470.

A. Yeah, like I was hanging out with him in there, and he was like putting on his makeup or something, I don’t know. And then he -- he grabbed the -- grabbed the suitcase, and then he told me -- he told me it was Frank’s. And he showed me, he was like, “This is” --

Q. Okay. Well, what did he show you.

A. He was, like, “Look at the” -- “Look at this stuff. Frank’s stinking a-s-s.” Frank’s stinking -- it was S- -- Frank’s stinking ass.

Q. All right. What was inside the suitcase.

A. Adult materials.

Q. And how many did you look at with Mr. Jackson.

A. Well, he showed me just one -- like he showed me, and there was this girl in there and then he put it away.

Q. And how was the girl.

A. She had her legs spread open, and her vagina was, like, showing.

Q. All right. Did you ever see that suitcase again.

A. Yes.

Q. Where.

A. We had it -- like, we had it up in his -- near his bed, and then we were looking at all the stuff.

Q. Who was “we”.

A. Me, my brother and Michael.

Q. And do you recall, where in the bedroom was the suitcase when you first saw it that time.

A. The first time I saw it, it was in the rest room kind of thing. And then the second time we -- I don’t know if we brought it up there or, like, Michael brought it up there or something. I don’t know. But it was up next to his bed. And we were all going through the thing and we were making fun of Frank.

Q. Did you look at the magazines.

A. Yes.

Q. How many magazines do you think you saw.

A. We saw, like, practically everything, but there was a few we didn’t look at.

Q. How much time do you figure you were looking at all those things.

A. 30 minutes to an hour, probably.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson make any comments during the time -- other than the ones you’ve talked about, any other comments that he made at any of the photographs or the magazines.

A. Not really. We just were, like, making fun of Frank.

Q. Okay. Now, with regard to the first time you saw it downstairs - okay. - in that room that you described where he puts his makeup on, things like that, do you remember whether that occurred before or after Calabasas.

A. Well, while we were in there. That was like --

Q. The first time.

A. Me and Michael only. When he showed me the thing I said about Frank.

Q. Right.

A. Okay. That was like the same day that we got back -- no. Yeah, the same night we got back from Miami.

Q. All right. What about the second incident where you were upstairs. When was that in relationship to Calabasas.

A. A few weeks -- a week later, probably, or two weeks.

Q. So can you tell us whether that would be before or after Calabasas.

A. Before Calabasas.

Q. Was there anything else in the suitcase that you saw other than magazines themselves.

A. There was, like, cut-out pieces of magazines.

Q. What kind of cut-out pieces from the magazines.

A. Cut-out pieces of, like, girls taking a shower or, like, just girls naked.

Q. All right.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I have another photograph I’m going to show you. It’s 165. Would you take a look at that, please. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. What is that.

A. It’s a telephone that, like, we would listen to, like, security guards talking to, like, their girlfriends and stuff.

Q. How do you know that.

A. Michael showed me.

Q. Showed you what.

A. How to, like -- because what you do, like when you see one of these lights flashing, it means that someone’s on one of those lines, and then you push the line and you can hear them. But once you push it, you can’t say anything because they can hear you. And then you push “mute” so they can’t hear you, and then you can hear who they’re talking to and what they’re talking about and stuff.

Q. Now, who showed you how to do that.

A. The first time Michael did.

Q. Now, were you present with Mr. Jackson when he listened in on people’s conversations.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times.

A. We would do it a lot. Like, we would listen to security guards talking to their girlfriends.

Q. You say “we.” Who do you mean by “we”.

A. Me and Michael.

Q. Were there any times when you overheard conversations of your mother.

A. Yes.

Q. How many times.

A. Like three times. Or once or twice. I don’t know.

Q. Were those with Mr. Jackson or were those by yourself.

A. I think they were with Michael. And then maybe one time I was by myself listening.

Q. Did you ever have a conversation with Mr. Tyson about overhearing conversations.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Offered under 1223, Your Honor.

Q. What did he tell you.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.

MR. SNEDDON: Wait just a second. Let the --

THE COURT: I'll admit it for limited purposes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead.

A. Wait, can you repeat the question.

Q. Yeah. What did Mr. Tyson tell you.

A. About listening to my mom.

Q. Listening to conversations, yes.

A. He just told me that my mom -- just told me about him listening to my mom's phone calls talking with Jay.

Q. Did he tell you how many occasions he'd overheard or listened to your mom's conversations.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay. And leading.

THE COURT: Overruled. And I'll again admit it for the conditional use. I said "limited use," but I meant conditional use.

Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: He told me about my mom and how he would listen to him, and he would kind of -- was talking to me about it kind of angrily, about my mom talking to Jay and saying she wanted to leave, and stuff like that.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: That's what Mr. Tyson told you.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. You can put that photograph down. Just turn it over. Okay.

Now, while you were at Mr. Jackson's ranch, did you ever watch a movie called -- it had a title in it that -- in Spanish, with subtitles.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember the name of the movie.

A. No, but it was about like a 1940, or whatever, those years. And it was about a ghost, and like a little kid that got killed, and an older man killed him and put him in, like, this pool where there was a lot of water.

And then the little kid was trying to, like, warn, like, all the other orphans in the orphanage, that's where it was, and that they were all going to die, or something like that. It was all in Spanish.

Q. Did you watch that movie on more than one occasion while you were at Mr. Jackson's ranch.

A. I think we saw it twice. We really liked it.

Q. Pardon.

A. We really liked it.

Q. Now, did -- while you were watching that movie on any occasion, did you see Mr. Jackson enter the room or was he watching the movie with you.

A. Well, I'm pretty sure the first time, we were watching the movie with him.

Q. Okay.

A. But I don't really remember him walking up there while we were watching that. I thought the second time, he was watching with us, too. I'm not too sure.

Q. Did you ever have any conversations with Mr. Jackson with regard to whether it was natural to be naked or nude.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading. Move to strike.

THE COURT: Stricken.

MR. MESEREAU: Ask that the prosecutor be admonished.

MR. SNEDDON: Well --

THE COURT: Ask another question, please.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Was -- was there ever any occasion where you had -- well, was there ever an occasion where you saw anything with regard to Mr. Jackson coming up the stairs.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; vague.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: And where were you when you saw Mr. Jackson coming up the stairs.

A. Me and my brother were laying on the bed.

Q. And what were you doing.

A. I think we were just laying there.

Q. All right. And when Mr. Jackson came up the stairs, did you notice anything.

A. Yeah, he was naked.

Q. When you say “naked,” what do you mean by that.

A. Like, not clothes on.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson do or say anything at that point in time.

A. No, he just ran up and just got something and went back down.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. I think he just ran up there and got something and went back downstairs.

Q. Do you recall him saying anything at that point.

A. No.

Q. And what was your reaction to what you saw.

A. Nothing. It was just kind of like -- me and my brother were kind of like, “eeuuww”; you know what I mean.

Q. Kind of like what.

A. “Eeuuww,” like we never really saw a grown man, like, naked before.

Q. I want to show you one other exhibit, if we can.

A. Okay.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I have a brown paper bag that’s been marked as 348 for identification purposes. And I’ve shown it to Counsel. And with Counsel’s permission and the Court’s permission, I’d like to open the package.

MR. MESEREAU: May I just see what’s in there, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: Do you want to open it, Tom.

MR. MESEREAU: I can stand there while you open it.

MR. SNEDDON: No, we can do it down here.

THE BAILIFF: (To a person in the audience) Sit down.
THE COURT: 348.
MR. SNEDDON: 348. Is it all right if I take it out of the bag to show it to the witness.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, for the record, there was a brown paper bag which has the number “348” on it, and I’ve broken the seal on the bag, the evidence seal, with counsel, and we’ve removed from the bag a brown -- “a brown.” A blue bag. And I’m going to show the blue blag (sic) to the witness at this point.

THE WITNESS: Blue blag.
MR. SNEDDON: Blue. Don’t make fun of me. This is a tough job.
Q. All right. Okay. Gavin, first of all, with regard to the blue bag, do you recognize the blue bag.
A. Yes.
Q. And where did you see that blue bag the first time.
A. That was the case that my brother’s sleeping bag came from. It was in -- or -- yeah.
Q. It was your brother’s, Star.
A. That was a case where my brother’s sleeping bag was in.
Q. Now, from the blue bag, we took out a number of items, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And do you recognize those.
A. Yes.
Q. And what are those.
A. They’re like my seventh grade or eighth grade -- I’m not sure. They’re like my junior high school books that I used for school.
Q. And did you have those books with you at Neverland.
A. Yes.
Q. And do you recall where they were at Neverland.

A. They were -- I think they were -- we left them in a rest room on the way to Michael's room.

Q. Now, so -- now, the exhibits that we have just -- that you just talked about, you recognize all of them; is that correct.

A. Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. Your Honor, I'd like to have them admitted into evidence, 348.

MR. MESEREAU: No objection.

THE COURT: They're admitted. Number 348 is admitted.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. And then I'd like to show on the board with the lights, Your Honor, some of the exhibits.

THE COURT: All right. Which input do you need.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: "Input 1," Your Honor.

THE COURT: Are you ready.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Gavin, with regard to one of the items that was taken out of 348, do you recognize that, the one that's on the board right now.

A. Yes.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that is.

A. That's my workbook that I had for English and junior high school.

Q. Okay. Now, let's go to the next one, so we get them all identified.

Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And what class was that from.

A. Before I left -- it was an English class also. It was like Black Education Month.

Q. I don't think we can hear you. You're going to have to turn around and --

A. Before we had left to go to Neverland, I think it was like Black History Month, and then our teacher wanted us to write about a black person, to write an essay or something.

Q. Did you ever do that.
A. I never had time to. I never really did, because we came up here, came up to Neverland.
Q. So you didn’t do the assignment while you were at Neverland.
A. No.
Q. All right. Is there any other books or materials there.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Let’s look at the next one. That’s just the inside of the first one.
A. Yeah, that’s the inside. And that’s my teacher, Miss Super.
Q. Who was that.
A. Miss Super.

Q. And what are those on the board there.
A. Those -- those are, like, the assignments that they gave me to do.
Q. Go ahead.
A. Because my mom asked -- or I don’t know who. I think my mom asked Frank and Vinnie to do it, to get my homework that I needed to do.
Q. All right. And those materials were contained in a little -- like a manila envelope.
A. Yes.
Q. Inside of Exhibit 348.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Thank you. Now, there’s one last book up on the board, if you could. Do you recognize that.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you see a book in the materials in 348.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. What is that.
A. It’s because in our program, the United States Naval Sea Cadets, I was going to become an E-3, and --
Q. A what.
A. E-3.

Q. Okay.

A. So I was going to move up rank, because I was E-2, and you either have to study and pass a test either from a seaman book, an airman book, or a fireman book. And I chose airman, because I like planes and jets and stuff. So I wanted to study an airman and pass the test, and so I took it up there and I figured I would study.

Q. Did you do it.

A. No. I studied and then passed the test later.

Q. How long have you been in that program.

A. I've been in it for -- since -- well, I joined the Navy League when I was 12, and then I went to boot camp. So I've been in it for maybe three years.

Q. Where did you go to boot camp.

A. I went to sea cadet boot camp in Port Huenema in Ventura, I think.

Q. How long was that.

A. Two weeks long.

Q. Have you been to any other boot camps associated with the military training.

A. Yes.

Q. Where.

A. I went to one in Norfolk, Virginia.

Q. And when was that.

A. It was during the winter.

Q. And how long was that.

A. It was also two weeks long, or more like ten days long. It was petty officer leadership academy. I wanted to become a petty officer, and I wanted to do that so I could gain leadership ability before I went to pass the test for petty officer. So I went to that program, that class, for -- that training for two weeks, and I gained a lot of leadership skills.

Q. Now, I just have one last question. With regard to this program that you were in, how often do you have to go to participate in it.

A. It's two times a month.

Q. On what days.

A. Every third and fourth Saturday of the month.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I think we can take that down.

Counsel.

Your Honor, I have a clear plastic bag which contains an orangish bottle inside. I've shown it to counsel. It's 349 for identification purposes. And I'd like to show it to the witness at this time.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. What's that.

A. The doctor would sometimes order a 24-hour-period urine test. And so I would have to -- because of my kidney and, like, stuff like that. And so what you do is, you wake up in the morning, and then you start your first pee in the bottle, and then you -- all the pees on, until that time again.

So, like, say you wake up at eight o'clock. You say, "Okay, this is my morning pee." I'm going to go pee in this bottle. And then every pee you have to do till eight o'clock the next morning you do in the bottle.

Q. Was there ever a time when you were at Neverland Ranch where you had to pee in the bottle.

A. Yes.

Q. And take it to a doctor.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that the type of bottle that you used, that you had to use.

A. Yes.

Q. At any time while you were on the ranch, Neverland Valley Ranch, did you ever have a discussion with Mr. Jackson about you having to pee in that bottle.

A. Yes.
Q. And when was that discussion; do you recall.
A. It was down in the cellar, and I was afraid that --
Q. I mean, let me just ask a few more questions before I ask you what was said. Okay. You told us it was in the cellar.
A. Yes.
Q. Who else was there.

A. It was only me and my -- me and Michael.
Q. Okay. And you're in the cellar. And can you tell us whether it's daytime or nighttime.
A. I think it was nighttime. Or early night. So it was probably like 7:00 or 8:00.
Q. And how did the subject of the urine specimen come up, or urine bottle come up, peeing in the bottle.
A. I was afraid that the alcohol would show up in my urine, so I asked Michael, I told him, "Michael, I think the alcohol might show in my urine."
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; calls for a narrative; nonresponsive. Move to strike.
THE COURT: Overruled.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. So you're talking to Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And now -- and you already told us that you told him about the test. Tell us the rest of the conversation, what you told Mr. Jackson.
A. I told him that I was afraid that the alcohol was going to show up in my urine when they got the test. So I asked him, "What should I do." And then he said, "Doo-Doo, just don't take the test."
Q. He said what.
A. "Doo-Doo, just don't take the test."

Q. What do you mean, "Doo-Doo".

A. Well, he called a lot of kids “Doo-Doo” or “Doo-Doo Head.”

Q. Did you say anything back to Mr. Jackson when he told you, “Just don’t take the test”.

A. Well, I kind of told him I had to take the test. And he just said, “Don’t take the test.” And then after that, I just kind of nodded my head and didn’t say anything.

Q. Did you do any drinking after that.

A. Like, we were already in the wine cellar and I had my glass poured.

Q. Well, did you drink it.

A. Yeah.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson drink.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at some point later, did you tell anybody that you had been drinking alcohol, other than Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Let me rephrase that question, because that’s not a good question.

A. Okay.

Q. At some point, did you tell somebody else that you’d been drinking alcohol in connection with the fact that you had to collect your pee in that bottle.

A. Yes.

Q. Who was that.

A. It was my mom.

Q. And do you remember where you were when you told your mom.

A. I was in Michael’s room, and that phone with all the lines, I called my mom up.

Q. Do you know where Mr. Jackson was at the time you made the call.

A. He was upstairs on the bed.

Q. And when you made the call to your mother, do you remember about what time it was.

A. Like four o’clock in the morning.

Q. And when was it you were supposed to go to the doctor.

A. Well, I was going to start the test that morning. And so the day after that, I guess.

Q. How long -- did you tell your mother.

A. Well --

Q. Let me go back. What did you say to your mother.

A. Well, I called her, and I told her, “Well, mom, you know how Jesus drank juice” -- I mean, “Jesus drank wine.” And then she told me -- I don’t know. I don’t remember what exactly she said. She was like, “Yeah.”

And then, like, I just tried to tell her, and then I’m not really too sure what happened in that conversation. I know I called my mom and I told her, and then --

Q. Do you remember, after you called your mom, anybody coming to the doors and banging on the doors.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, leading.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Do you remember, after the telephone conversation that you had with your mother, that anything unusual occurred.

A. No. Because after the conversation I went to sleep.

Q. Now, did you -- did you at some point go to the doctor’s with that bottle there that’s in front of you.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Assumes facts not in evidence; misstates the evidence; and leading.

THE COURT: Overruled. Do you want the question read back.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

(Record read.)

THE COURT: Okay. It’s already in.

Okay. We’ll take our break.

(Recess taken.)

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, your clerk wanted us to clarify one thing. I talked to Mr. Sneddon -- if we could do that.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SANGER: With regard to Exhibit 5004, those were the cards that we showed on the screen --

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SANGER: -- and I said at the time I showed them that I believe there were three cards. It turns out, when we had the actual paper, there are four cards. However, these pages in this 5004 are all of the pages that were shown on the screen. It is the same thing. It’s just there are actually four separate cards, instead of three.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SANGER: And Mr. Sneddon, I believe, agrees with that.

MR. SNEDDON: I do.

MR. SANGER: And we’ll then give this back to your clerk.

THE COURT: Thank you, Counsel.

MR. SNEDDON: Ready, Your Honor.

Q. Gavin, we were talking before the break about the bottle.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Did you ever take that to the doctor’s appointment.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you recall who went with you.

A. I know that Vinnie, my mom and me went, but I don’t know if anybody else went.

Q. And do you recall at the time that you left to go to the doctor’s appointment, how much pee you had put in the bottle, just generally.

A. It was filled up all the way to the top.

Q. And when -- when you got in the car, where did you sit in the car.

A. I sat right behind my mom. My mom was in the passenger seat, so --

Q. And who was doing the driving.

A. Vinnie.

Q. And at some point between the time you left the ranch with Vinnie and your mother -- well, let me go back. Who had the bottle.

A. It was, like, sitting -- it was on the floor in front of my mom.

Q. Now, at some point on the -- and when you left the ranch and before you got to Kaiser, did you stop for any reason.

A. Yeah. I needed to pee.

Q. And so where did you go. Do you remember where you stopped.

A. I think we stopped at a Denny's.

Q. And you went inside.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know whether or not your mother went inside.

A. Yeah, I'm pretty sure my mom went inside with me.

Q. Now, at any time during that trip, did you hear some conversation about the contents of that bottle in front of you with the pee.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: And with regard to that conversation, who spoke first; do you recall.

A. I think it was my mom.

Q. Do you recall what she said.

A. She said the bottle was empty.

Q. And was this before you actually got to the hospital itself and went inside.

A. When --

Q. If you can answer "yes" or "no" first.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, where was it when that conversation occurred.

A. Well, it was -- we were pulling up to the curb right next to the hospital entrance, and I think my mom was about to pick it up to go inside the hospital, and I think that's when she figured out that the bottle was empty.

Q. Did you actually handle the bottle at any time after that. When she said it was empty, did you pick it up yourself.

A. No.

Q. Did you go into the hospital with your mother.

A. Yes.

Q. Did Vinnie go with you.

A. No, I don’t think so. I think he went to go park the car or something.

Q. I want -- let me grab that out of the way for just a second.

THE COURT: That’s not been admitted yet. Were you offering it, or not.

MR. SNEDDON: I am, Your Honor. I thought we did.

MR. MESEREAU: I’m going to object, Your Honor. Because the witness did not say that was the actual bottle he used.

THE COURT: They can’t hear you back there.

MR. MESEREAU: The witness did not state under oath that’s the actual bottle he used. I believe Mr. Sneddon presented it like a bottle that supposedly looked like it.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, may I be heard on that, Your Honor, before you rule.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, you’re allowed to use exhibits, even if they’re not exact ones, that are illustrative of the ones that were used. And I believe the witness has established that this was like the one that he used. You don’t need to bring in the exact one that was used. What if it was destroyed. You don’t need to do that.

THE COURT: Okay. I’ll take that under advisement.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Gavin, I want to go back for just a second. Do you remember me asking you questions about Mr. Jackson coming up the stairs.
A. Yes.
Q. And the time that you said he was naked.
A. Yes.
Q. And I asked you whether or not he said anything to you at that particular point in time.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. And you said you didn’t recall anything.
A. I do not.
Q. Do you recall testifying at the grand jury.
A. Yes.
Q. You testified there a couple of times, did you not.
A. Yes.
Q. One time that I asked you questions and one time that Mr. Zonen did.
A. Yes.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I showed you what you said to the grand jury about that incident.
A. Probably.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection. Objection.
THE BAILIFF: You have to go -- -
MR. MESEREAU: Improper question. He can’t coach the witness like that, Your Honor.
THE COURT: I agree.
MR. SNEDDON: I can’t refresh his recollection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Not till he says he doesn’t recollect.
THE WITNESS: I do not recollect.
(Laughter.)
THE COURT: Oh, that’s it.
MR. SNEDDON: He already said that. Now may I approach the witness.
THE COURT: No.
MR. SNEDDON: Sorry.
Q. Do you have a recollection of what you told the grand jury.

A. About that situation.

Q. Yeah.

A. I don’t recollect anything that he said when he came up there.

Q. Do you recall what you told the grand jury about that.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if you were able to see what you told the grand jury.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: I’m going to object, Your Honor. This is highly improper. He’s trying to coach the witness with a transcript.

THE COURT: The --

MR. MESEREAU: You can’t just lead him along and say --

THE COURT: It’s not clear to me what you’re asking about that he doesn’t recollect, so --

MR. SNEDDON: I’ll go back and do it again, then, Your Honor.

Q. Gavin, with regard to that portion of your testimony, when you indicated to this jury just a little while ago that you had no recollection of what Mr. Jackson said when he walked in front of you naked, do you recall that.

A. Yes. Well, he didn’t really walk. He just came up the stairs.

Q. He came up the stairs.

A. Yes.

Q. And you saw that he was naked.

A. Yes.

Q. And I asked you if you recall whether he said anything to you, do you recall that, in front of this jury here.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said you did not.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, did you testify --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading. They're all leading questions. Move to strike.
MR. SNEDDON: It's foundational to whether --
THE COURT: Overruled. The next question is.
MR. SNEDDON: You interrupted me. I forgot, Judge.
All right. I think I can --
THE COURT: Would you like the court reporter to read it back to you.
MR. SNEDDON: I don't think I got it out. It was one of those senior citizen moments.
I do want the last question read back.
Thank you.
If you don't mind.
(Record read.)
MR. SNEDDON: Thank you.
Q. Did you testify to an incident before the grand jury with regard to Mr. Jackson coming in.
A. I believe I did testify about that.
Q. And did you tell them what he said; do you recall.
A. I don't recall him saying anything.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if you were able to look at that testimony.
A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: Same objection.

THE COURT: You may -- you may show him the testimony to see if it refreshes his recollection.
MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor.
Counsel, page 424, lines 1 to 3.
Q. Gavin, I'm going to show you this and -- and I just want you to read it to yourself. Don't say anything about it. Okay.
A. All right.
MR. SNEDDON: Actually, Counsel, I'm looking to start on the lines before, just so he gets the whole incident. I'll start at line 24.
Q. All right. Having read your grand jury testimony, does that refresh your recollection as to what you told the ladies and gentlemen of the grand jury.

A. Yes.

Q. What did you tell them about whether or not the defendant made any statements.

A. Oh, we were sitting on the bed. When me and my brother were “eeuuww,” that’s when Michael said, “It’s okay,” that it’s natural. And I remember that by reading the grand jury testimony.

Q. So that refreshed your recollection.

A. Yes.

Q. I want to go back and just ask one or two questions about your homework, and then we’ll move on to another subject. Okay.

The books that you have in front of you there, in the exhibit -- I think it was 349. 348. What is that. We don’t have the bag.

A. Oh, yeah, it was in the brown bag.

MR. SNEDDON: Madam Clerk, could you help me with that. Somehow the tag must have come up.

THE CLERK: I’m sorry, what was that.

MR. SNEDDON: It’s the one with the homework in it.

THE COURT: That’s 348.

MR. SNEDDON: The sticker must be -- I have it. It was stuck to some plastic.

Q. All right. With regard to the items, 348, that are in front of you, some of those items that are in front of you look like you have some writing on them. Did you ever do any homework while you were at Neverland.

A. I think I, like, started and never --

Q. I can’t hear you.

A. I probably started, like, one assignment, and then never finished it, and then went and played some more.

Q. I can’t hear you.

A. I think I just started like one, like, homework, but I didn’t finish and just went and played some more.

Q. Now, on the rebuttal video -- do you remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember somebody making a comment about Mr. Jackson helping with their homework.

A. Yes.

Q. Did he ever help you with your homework.

A. Yeah, I think that was the time. Like, I was in his room.

Q. You were in his room.

A. Yeah.

Q. And he helped you.

A. Well, for that part. And then we started, like, playing around.

Q. All right. I'm going to show you some photographs. This is the last bit of photographs. And I'm almost done. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. I'm going to show you the photographs that are marked as 76, 77, 78, and 79 - okay. --

A. Okay.

Q. -- in evidence.

All right. The first one on top is 77, correct.

A. No. 76.

Q. 76. All right. Go ahead and put it up on the board.

With regard to the photograph, 76, is that the one that's up on the board.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. What is that.

A. That's Michael's bed.

Q. And with regard to this particular photograph, you've told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury -- let me strike that. Start over again.

You told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that at times that you were with Mr. Jackson and you were in that bedroom and you drank alcohol.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you see any places in that photograph where you used to put the alcohol.

A. On the sides of the bed.

Q. What do you mean “on the side of the bed”. There’s a little laser up there. Can you show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury. No, there isn’t. Okay. Go ahead.

A. He would sometimes put the wine bottles on the sides of the bed. I think I put it one time on this ledge, but it didn’t really work too good because of all this stuff here.

Q. Now, is there anything in this particular photograph that you see that’s different than when you were there.

A. Yeah, that crib. The crib wasn’t there. And then this computer wasn’t there.

Q. Those are on the far right-hand side of the exhibit, 76; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Let’s go to the next photograph. Do you recognize that photograph. What number is that, by the way.

A. 77.

Q. All right. Do you recognize that.

A. Yes. It’s the same room.

Q. Pardon.

A. It’s the same room.

Q. All right. And was there anything in that particular photograph that’s different from when you were there.

A. There -- I’m pretty sure there was a desk right here. And hey, there’s the vacuum. But the crib was right here, and then -- I mean, the crib wasn’t there, and the computer wasn’t there.

Q. All right. Now, would you hold the spot where you thought there might be a desk right by where that silver case is on the floor in the yellow bag.

A. Yes.

Q. Let's go to the next photograph. Now, do you recognize that.

A. Yes.

Q. And that photograph is what number.

A. 78.

Q. All right. And I want to show you the next one, and then I'm going to ask you some questions about both of them. What's the next photograph you have.

A. 78.

Q. And the next one.

A. Oh. 79.

Q. All right. Now, do you recognize 79.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, you have 78 and you have 79 in front of you.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Which -- where was the table that you were talking about with the computer that didn't work.

A. Right here.

Q. All right. I'm going to take this little -- okay. You can take this pen and sort of draw where it is that you saw the table, where you believe the table was, on the photograph.

And would you put your initials on that, please. Just somewhere on the photograph.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, we're going to transition to the Elmo for just a second. We're done with this, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So we want to go to the -- is it the same input.

THE BAILIFF: The input is "4."

MR. SNEDDON: We've got it, Your Honor.

Q. Up on the board is the photograph I asked you to mark, correct.

A. Yes.
Q. And the “GA,” that’s your initials.
A. Yes.
Q. And the area that’s in black represents what.
A. That’s the little -- where the desk was.
Q. Now, do you see where you put the “GA,” in the white area there.
A. Yes.
Q. What is that.
A. That’s, like, kind of like a movie screen thing. And then -- oops, sorry. And then there’s -- then we would direct all the movies that we would watch onto that screen.
Q. Turn around and look into the microphone, if you can, for me. With regard to that screen, was that screen there when you were there.
A. After we came back from Miami, yes.
Q. All right.
Go ahead and turn the lights on.
Now, Gavin --
A. Yes.
Q. -- at any time while you were at Neverland Ranch, did Mr. Jackson ever touch you inappropriately.
A. Yes.

Q. All right. How many times.
A. What I saw in my memory is only twice, but, I mean, there’s -- like I kind of feel it was more than twice, but, I mean, the only times that I saw in my mind that he did it was only twice.
Q. All right. Tell us about the first occasion.
A. The first time -- well, my brother stopped sleeping in our room with us.
Q. You’re going to have to slow down and talk right into that mike now. I know you’re nervous, but go ahead.
A. My -- my brother had stopped sleeping in our room and --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive.

Move to strike.

MR. SNEDDON: I'll lay some foundation, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Stricken.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Gavin, the first time he touched you, where were you. What room.

A. We were in his room.

Q. Where were you in his room.

A. On the bed.

Q. Was there anybody else present besides you and Mr. Jackson.

A. No, I think it was only us.

Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that on many occasions, that you and your brother and Mr. Jackson shared a bed in his bedroom, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. On this particular occasion, had your brother Star been with you and Mr. Jackson in bed before that.

A. Before this --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

MR. SNEDDON: That's a terrible question anyhow. I'll withdraw it.

Q. Was there a period of time where your brother Star stopped sleeping with you and Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled. The answer was "Yes."

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: And was it before or after the time that Mr. Jackson touched you for the first time.

A. When my brother stopped.

Q. Yeah.

A. It was before, because he stopped sleeping in our room -- in the room.

Q. All right. Tell the jury how it came about that you and Mr. Jackson were in bed together and what you were doing.

A. Well, we were -- well, we just had come back from drinking a lot in the arcade, and it was --

Q. Doing what.

A. Drinking in the arcade.

Q. Can you pull that down just a little bit. There. Okay. Go ahead.

A. We just came back from drinking in the arcade, and then we went up to his room. And then we were sitting there for a while, and Michael started talking to me about masturbation.

Q. So you were in the room for a while and the defendant started talking to you about masturbation.

A. Yes.

Q. What did he say to you.

A. He -- he told me -- he said that if men don’t masturbate, that they can get to a level where they can -- might rape a girl or they might be, like, kind of unstable. So he was telling me that guys have to masturbate.

And he told me a story that --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. We’ll stop right there.

A. Okay.

Q. What else did he say to you.

A. He told me a story of he saw a boy one time - he was looking over a balcony or something - and he saw a boy who didn’t masturbate and he had sex with a dog.

Q. Did he tell you anything else during this conversation.

A. That particular section. Or --

Q. Yeah. I mean, did he tell you anything else.

A. He told me that boys had to masturbate, or males have to masturbate.

Q. Okay.

THE BAILIFF: They cannot hear.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: They couldn’t hear what you had to say, Gavin. I know it’s hard. Lean right into it.

A. He told me that males have to masturbate.

Q. All right. Now, when he said that, what, if anything, did he do or say after that.

A. He said that if I masturbated; and I told him that I didn’t. And then he said if I didn’t know how, that he would do it for me.

Q. And what did you say.

A. And I said I didn’t really want to.

Q. All right. And then what happened.

A. And then he said it was okay, that it was natural, and that it’s natural for boys to do it.

Q. All right. What happened after that.

A. And then so he -- we were under the covers, and I had his pajamas on, because he had this big thing of pajamas and he gave me his pajamas.

Q. Okay.

A. And so I was under his covers, and then that’s when he put his hand in my pants and then he started masturbating me.

Q. Could you see Mr. Jackson while he was doing that to you.

A. Not really. I wasn’t really looking at him.

Q. Could you tell whether or not he was moving.

A. Well, he was -- he was himself.

Q. Yes.

A. I wasn’t really looking at him. All I could -- I could kind of feel him moving, but, I mean, I never really saw him moving.

Q. Do you know approximately how long Mr. Jackson masturbated you.

A. Maybe five minutes, I guess.

Q. Did -- do you know what an “ejaculation” is.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you have an ejaculation.

A. Yes.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson say anything to you afterwards.

A. I kind of felt weird. I was embarrassed about it. And then he said it was okay; that it was natural.

Q. Did anything else happen that evening between you and Mr. Jackson.

A. No. We just -- after that, we just -- he tried to say that it was okay and that -- kind of like to comfort me, because I felt weird. I felt weird about it. And then after a while, we just went to sleep.

Q. Was there any other occasion where Mr. Jackson touched you.

A. Yeah.

Q. When was that.

A. Well, there was about a day after that, he did it -- he did it one more time.

Q. All right. Where were you.

A. In his bed.

Q. And was it daytime or nighttime.

A. It was nighttime.

Q. And who else was -- was there anybody else present besides you and Mr. Jackson.

A. No.

Q. And what were you doing up in his bedroom at this point in time.

A. Well, we just came back from the arcade again, and then we went up to his room. And then we were sitting -- I think we were watching T.V. or something, and then we were on top of his covers, and he did it again.

Q. How were you dressed on this occasion.

A. In his pajamas again, because I would always use his pajamas.

Q. All right. And how was Mr. Jackson dressed; do you remember.

A. He was in his pajamas, too.

Q. Now, with -- tell us what happened.

A. The same thing happened again. And he said that he wanted to teach me. And then we were laying there, and then he started doing it to me. And then he kind of grabbed my hand in a way to try to do it to him. And I kind of -- I pulled my hand away, because I didn’t want to do it.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson say anything before he reached over and grabbed your private parts.

A. He would always say that it was natural and, “Don’t be scared,” and it was okay.

Q. Now, how long do you think it lasted the second time.

A. The same time.

Q. Did you ejaculate the second time.

A. I think I did.

Q. Now, when was it, at point in time, that Mr. Jackson reached over and grabbed your arm.

A. Maybe like halfway through it.

Q. Did you say anything to him when you pulled your hand away.

A. I said that I didn’t want to.

Q. Did Mr. Jackson say anything to you.

A. I don’t think he did.

Q. Were there any other occasions where Mr. Jackson tried to do something to you that you felt was inappropriate, that you remember.

A. No.

MR. SNEDDON: Nothing further, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Cross-examine.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MESEREAU:

Q. Gavin, my name is Thomas Mesereau and I speak for Mr. Jackson. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. I’m on his side. All right.

A. All right.

Q. Not the government. I’m on Mr. Jackson’s side. Okay.

We’ve never spoken before, right.

A. No.

Q. We’ve never met, right.

A. No.

Q. If I ask you any question and you don’t understand the question, just say so. Don’t answer it. Okay.

A. Okay.
Q. If something seems unclear, just say, “It’s unclear, I don’t understand it.” Okay. And I’ll try and rephrase it.
A. Okay.
Q. Now, you’ve told the jury that it was not till after your interview with three social workers that any inappropriate touching happened, right.

A. Hmm.
Q. Did you tell the jury that it was not until after your interview with three social workers in Los Angeles --
A. Yes.
Q. -- that Mr. Jackson inappropriately touched you.
A. It was after.
Q. It was after, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, in that interview, you told the three social workers that Mr. Jackson was a good guy, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You said he had been like a father figure to you, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You said he had helped you with your cancer, correct.
A. Um, I don’t know in that interview if I did. But I just said he was a good guy.
Q. You said a lot of good things about him, true.
A. Pretty much, yeah.
Q. Okay. Now, that was the point in time where you claim that Mr. Jackson wanted your family to go to Brazil, right.
A. I don’t know if I told the social workers that we were going to go to Brazil. I don’t think I did.

Q. But your statement about Mr. Jackson and Frank wanting you to go to Brazil was before or after the three social workers interviewed you.
A. The statement to who.
Q. You said that Mr. Jackson said something about wanting you to go to Brazil, didn’t you.
A. Yes.
Q. And when was that, approximately.
A. When Michael wanted me to go to Brazil.
Q. Yes.
A. I’m not too sure.
Q. Was it before or after you interviewed the three social workers -- or, excuse me, they interviewed you.
A. I’m not too sure, but I believe --
Q. Well, you left Neverland --
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, he’s answering the question.
MR. MESEREAU: Pardon me. Pardon me.
THE COURT: Go ahead.
THE WITNESS: I believe we went to Calabasas after -- I think it was after the social workers.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: So you went to Calabasas after the interview with the social workers, right.
A. Yes.
Q. The interview with the social workers was at 1688 Jay Jackson’s apartment, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And Vinnie took you to Calabasas, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. You stayed at the Calabasas Inn, right.
A. Vinnie and Frank took us there.
Q. Yes. You went right to the Calabasas Inn from the interview, right.
A. No.
Q. Where did you go after the interview.
A. Aja took us up to Neverland.
Q. And you had a discussion -- the plans for Brazil were already being discussed, weren’t they.

A. Not with me.
Q. Well, you'd heard about it.
A. I don't know if I had.
Q. Well, let me just ask you this: You complained after the Bashir documentary that people in the school yard were making fun of you, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. You went to Florida right after that.
A. Yes.
Q. You came back, right.
A. Yes.
Q. There were media around your house, right.
A. I can't -- I don't know, because I didn't even -- from Miami I went to Neverland.
Q. Well, the DCFS interview, the interview with the social workers, had to do with an investigation of Mr. Jackson, true.

A. Yes, and as a result of the Martin Bashir documentary.
Q. Yes. And you went to Calabasas after that, right.
A. No, I went up with Aja to Neverland.
Q. How long were you at Neverland then.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, excuse me, the witness didn't get a chance to finish his answer.
MR. MESEREAU: I'm sorry. I'm sorry.
THE WITNESS: After -- after the DCSF, we went up to Neverland with Aja.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Yes.
A. Yes.
Q. And to the best of your knowledge, there were plans in effect to take you to Brazil, right.
A. I don't know. I'm not sure if I knew about them at that time.
Q. So what you're telling the jury is that after you were interviewed by three social workers investigating Michael Jackson and after all the commotion that followed the Bashir documentary, somehow Mr. Jackson starts to improperly touch you, correct.
A. No, it was more toward the end. Toward when we were already about to leave, after we’d been drinking alcohol and all that stuff. It wasn’t directly after the DCSF. It was more toward the end of the --

Q. So right before you’re supposed to leave to Brazil --

A. No, right before we left Neverland.

Q. Oh, right before you left Neverland for good.

A. No, right before -- maybe a few days.

Q. A few days before you left Neverland for good.

A. Yes, because -- yeah.

Q. Okay. So it’s actually a little bit after the interview with the social workers, then, right.

A. Maybe it’s a little bit after. And it’s probably -- I don’t think it happened right -- like, it didn’t happen, like, the day -- like, he did it, and then the day after, we left. I don’t think it happened like that.

Q. But it’s right before you leave Neverland for good, right.

A. Maybe a week before, or something like that.

Q. Okay. Okay. And you’ve already had the interview with the social workers, as you said, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You’ve already been to the Calabasas Inn, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you’ve already left the Calabasas Inn and gone by The Laugh Factory and met with an attorney, right.

A. I believe so.

Q. So after you meet with an attorney, you suddenly come up with a story that you were masturbated by Michael Jackson, correct.

MR. SNEDDON: Object. Argumentative, Your Honor.

THE WITNESS: No, because --

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me.

THE COURT: Overruled. You can go ahead and answer.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Correct.

A. No, because I did not tell the attorney anything about what Michael was doing.

Q. But you’re saying it started after --

A. Yes, I did not tell the attorney anything about alcohol or anything like that.

Q. Okay. Okay. Vinnie takes you, your mom, and Star to The Laugh Factory on Sunset, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You and your mom get out of the car, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You go into The Laugh Factory on Sunset, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You meet with Jamie Masada and an attorney named William Dickerman, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You have a meeting with the two of them, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You come back, you get in the car, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You go back to Neverland, right.

A. I think we did.

Q. And then you leave Neverland again, right.

A. I don’t know. I think. I guess.

Q. And not long after your meeting with the attorney, you say that Mr. Jackson inappropriately masturbates you, true.

A. No, because I didn’t really say it right after I met him. I didn’t.

Q. It was a while after you met him, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. That’s when the inappropriate touching starts.

A. I didn’t -- the only person I said it to was to my psychologist, Dr. Katz, and the officer, Steve Robel, and Paul Zelis, that's --

Q. We'll get to that. You first went to Attorney Larry Feldman after Attorney William Dickerman, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And Attorney Larry Feldman then referred you to a psychologist, right.

A. Yes.

Q. When you first went to Attorney William Dickerman, you were talking about being harassed and things of that sort, correct.

A. I -- I don't remember what I talked about.

Q. Well, you met with him with your mom, true.

A. Yes.

Q. And then you and your mom met with Larry Feldman, right.

A. Yes.

Q. It was only after you met with Larry Feldman that you started talking about inappropriate touching, true.

A. I didn't talk -- I didn't randomly talk about it with people.

Q. Well, I didn't ask if you randomly talked about it. I asked if you talked about it.

A. Who are you specifying that I talked about it to.

Q. Larry Feldman, whom you knew had sued Michael Jackson in the early '90s, right.

A. No, I did not tell anything like that to Larry Feldman. The only person I told anything even resolving (sic) to that was Dr. Katz. And I told the whole story to Steve Robel and Paul Zelis.

Q. But, no, you first went to the two lawyers, a psychologist, before you went to any police officer, true.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object as argumentative by saying "no" in the beginning.

MR. MESEREAU: I'll rephrase it, if you want, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You went to two lawyers, and a psychologist whom Larry Feldman referred you to, before you went to any police officer, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, these weren't the first attorneys you've ever talked to, correct.

A. I've talked to other people, other attorneys before.

Q. Well, you had an attorney representing you in the J.C. Penney case, correct.

A. I think so. I'm pretty sure.

Q. You testified under oath in that case, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you tell the truth under oath in that case.

A. Of course.

Q. Didn't tell one solitary lie.

A. No.

Q. You said that security guards had body slammed your mother in a parking lot.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object. 403 ruling.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: How many days -- just a couple of days before you left Neverland for good, you're saying this inappropriate touching went on.

A. No, I said probably -- maybe a week or two.

Q. Couple of days. You said a couple days before, didn't you.

A. No, I said maybe a week or two.

Q. Well, but after you went with the lawyer, though, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.

MR. MESEREAU: All right. It's asked and answered. I'll rephrase.

MR. SNEDDON: That, too.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, you told the jury yesterday that Michael Jackson didn't do much for your cancer, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Was that a true statement.

A. Yeah, because I didn't see him much. He would tell me that he wasn't there, when he was there at the ranch. And it made me really sad, because in my mind, he was my best friend in the whole world, and my best friend was trying to avoid me while I had cancer.

Q. Did Michael Jackson call you at the hospital while you had cancer.

A. Yes, he called me and invited me up to the ranch.

Q. He talked to to you a lot in the hospital, didn't he.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember telling the police in your first interview -- you were asked the question, "And did you talk to him a lot while you were in the hospital."

"A. I talked to him a lot. Like, he would call and I'd call him and stuff, and we'd just talk about, like, video games."

Do you remember that.

A. Yeah. I probably meant lengthy conversation as in time.

Q. You were then asked, "How often did he call you."

"I don't know. But I think it was probably at least three times a week or something."

Do you remember that.

A. Yeah. Including outside of the hospital. My grandmother's house.

Q. But that's not what you told the sheriffs, was it. You told him that he called you approximately three times a week.

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me. He's not even giving the witness a chance to answer the question.

MR. MESEREAU: I thought he answered the question.

THE COURT: You’re cutting him off.

MR. MESEREAU: I apologize. Pardon me. Let’s go over it again.

Q. You told Santa Barbara Sheriffs in your first interview, Mr. Arvizo, that Michael Jackson called you about three times a week at the hospital and you would talk for two or three hours at a time, correct.

A. Yeah. During the -- probably during the period of when -- in the beginning, of the first few -- two months of my cancer where I was actually going and hanging out with Michael. And after those two months, it was all cut off.

Q. Did you tell the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that when you were in the hospital with cancer --

A. Uh-huh.

Q. -- Michael Jackson would call you at least three times a week, and speak to you for an hour, two hours or three hours at a time.

A. Michael would call me during the -- probably -- during the beginning of my cancer, probably three times a week. And I would call him and we would talk for a long time. We would talk about video games. We would talk about people he knew, people I knew, stuff like that.

Q. In the hospital, right.

A. Sometimes he would call me in the hospital.

Q. I’d like to explore your statement to the jury that he didn’t do much to you -- much for you when you had cancer.

A. Okay.

Q. You’ve just talked about the calls, right.

A. Yeah.

Q. He invites your family to his home, correct.

A. He invited us to Neverland in the beginning, yeah.

Q. He lets your family stay at his home for weeks, correct.

A. Yeah.
Q. He gives you a car to use, true.
A. Yes, same car he takes back in the middle of the time that I really needed a -- that my family needed a car.
Q. Gives your family an SUV so they can go back and forth to the hospital, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Gives you a computer, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Flies your family to Florida and lets them stay at a resort for two nights, right.
A. No, he took me to Florida in result of the Martin Bashir documentary that was being aired.
Q. Did your family stay at the resort hotel called Turnberry in Florida.

A. Michael put us up in the resort, in the Turnberry.
Q. Did you get a massage.
A. Yes. Chris Tucker paid for that massage.
Q. Okay. Did you get a massage.
A. Yes. Chris Tucker paid for that massage.
Q. Did you get a watch --
A. Yes.
Q. -- from Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you get a jacket from Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. Did your family go back and forth and stay at Neverland free.
A. Everyone stays at Neverland for free.
Q. Well, who do you think pays the bills.
MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Well, on both parts. Let’s start another question. Don’t --
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo --
THE COURT: Just a minute. I’m sorry. I’ll instruct both the witness and the attorney not to argue with each other.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, your family would stay for weeks free of charge at Neverland, true.
A. Yes.

Q. Your meals would be paid by -- for by Mr. Jackson, true.
A. Probably. Yes.
Q. Do you know someone else that paid for it.
A. No. But I was pretty sure it was Michael.
Q. You would travel by limousine back and forth, true.
A. Yes.
Q. You also traveled by Rolls Royce on occasion, true.
A. No, I only traveled in a Rolls Royce when I was escaping from Neverland with Jesus.
Q. When you were escaping.
A. Yes.
Q. And you went back -- how long after you escaped did you go back there again.
A. I think a few days later, when Vinnie and Frank came down.
Q. Okay. Okay. When you escaped, where did Jesus take you.
A. He took me to my grandmother's house.
Q. And then two days later you went back with Vinnie.
A. I don't know about two days, but maybe a few days.
Q. So you went back, and then you escaped a second time, right.
A. I think so. Whatever.

Q. And then you went back and you escaped a third time, right.
A. No.
Q. Well, there were like three escapes, weren't there.
A. I don't know.

Q. Okay. Have you ever talked to Mr. Sneddon about how many times you people went back voluntarily and then escaped from Neverland.

A. Mr. Sneddon.

Q. Yes.

A. I think we did. I'm pretty sure we did.

Q. When you were at Neverland, you would use the amusement park when you wanted, correct.

A. Yes. But -- well, I couldn't always do it because I would feel sick all the time --

Q. Well --

A. -- with cancer.

Q. -- who do you think paid the utilities to run all the amusement rides at Neverland.

A. Probably Michael.

Q. And you would use the zoo when you wanted, correct.

A. No, because I wouldn't go to the zoo. Michael would take us over there when he wanted to take us over there, and we'd see the tigers.

Q. Who do you think was paying for all of that.

A. Michael, because Michael wanted all that in his house.

Q. Oh. And do you think he was really being good to you by letting you stay there and go to the zoo, the amusement rides.

A. He probably was. But, I mean, this is talking about the first few months. And I don't really -- see, Mr. Mesereau, it takes more --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection, Your Honor. Could he just answer the question.

THE COURT: Sustained. Just answer the question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you use ATV's at Neverland.

A. Yes. Yes.

Q. Who paid for the ATV's.

A. I'm pretty sure Michael paid for the ATV's.

Q. What else did you do at Neverland when you used to hang out there with your brother, your sister, your father, your mother.

A. Probably be in my unit, because I was sick.
Q. Was there a blood drive for you at Neverland.
A. Yeah.
Q. And Mr. Jackson put that together, didn’t he.
A. Probably.
Q. You don’t know.
A. No, I heard something about a blood drive,

but I can’t really remember too much about it.
Q. You don’t remember a blood drive at Neverland that Mr. Jackson put together for you when you had cancer.
A. I remember -- I remember something about my friend -- my friend had come down to the hospital and told me about it, but I don’t -- I remember something about a blood drive, but I’m not too sure about it. He -- I’m pretty sure he did.
Q. Now, I believe you told the jury yesterday you thought George Lopez did more for you when you had cancer than Michael Jackson, correct.
A. Yeah. For my 11 year-old mind, he came and visited me and would always talk to me and buy me shirts and stuff.
Q. Did Mr. Lopez let your family move into his home.
MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, did Mr. Lopez give you a Rolls Royce for your family to ride around town in.
A. No.
Q. Did he provide limousines for your family to ride around town in.
A. No.
Q. Did he pay a lot of your bills so your family could stay at hotels.

A. I don’t know. That’s up to my --

Q. Did he pay for flights so your family could go cross country.

A. I’m pretty sure he did, to pay for us to go to Miami.

Q. How many times do you think your family visited Neverland and stayed there.

A. Every time Michael wanted us to.

Q. But you went there many times when Michael wasn’t even there, right, Mr. Arvizo.

A. Only with Michael’s permission.

Q. Did you and your family go to Neverland and stay many times when Michael Jackson wasn’t even around.

A. I would. Not my whole family. Me and my father would. Because in the first two months of my cancer, when I was -- when I thought I was pretty close to Michael, I would go up there and stay with him between my rounds of chemotherapy.

Q. Can you look this jury in eye and tell them Michael Jackson did nothing for you when you had cancer.

A. I never said Michael did nothing for me.

Q. Did you say he did very little.

A. Yeah. He didn’t do as much as I felt, as my 11-year-old mind felt.

Q. He should.

A. No. He shouldn’t -- it’s not his obligation to do anything.

Q. Well, are you telling the jury you deserved a lot more from Michael Jackson than you and your family got.

A. No.

Q. Is that what you’re saying.

A. No. I’m just saying that -- see, when I have a friend, Michael, and you’re saying all these things that he did, but, you know, when my 11-year-old mind -- and when I see my friend say that he’s not there, and he’s not at Neverland Ranch trying -- and I see him walking and I see his car that he only drives going down at Neverland, you know, it felt like my heart broke right there.

Q. So by doing all of these things --

A. And I don’t remember George Lopez or Jamie Masada or Louise Palanker ever doing that to me.

Q. Did they take your family into their homes, any of them.

A. Actually, I went over to -- actually, I spent a night at Chris Tucker’s house.

Q. Did he let your family move into his home; yes or no.

A. I’m sure he probably would have if we really got to a point where we couldn’t live at our house no more.

Q. There isn’t one celebrity that you approached who let your family move into his home, except Michael Jackson, true.

A. I didn’t --

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me. I’m going to object to the question. Assumes a fact not in evidence, and it’s argumentative.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I never moved into Michael’s house. I never moved my stuff over there and lived there permanently. I stood there and visited.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Your family was there for weeks at a time, correct.

A. Yes. And they also kept us there for weeks at a time when we wanted to leave.

Q. Is this one of your many escapes where you came back.

MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: I withdraw it, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, when your family decided not to go to Brazil, where did they go.

A. What do you mean.

Q. Well, when your family decided they didn’t want to go to Brazil, they went to your grandparents’ house, right.

A. When we left with Jesus, we went to my grandma's house. I don't really understand.

Q. When you left with Vinnie for the final time, you went to your grandparents', right.

A. I don't really -- as I told Mr. Sneddon, I don't really remember how it came about that we left the last time.

Q. I'm not asking you how it came about. But you got in a car with Vinnie and went to your grandparents' the last time.

A. Now you're telling -- right now you're telling me how it came about. I don't know how it came about.

Q. Do you recall Vinnie taking your family to your grandparents' when you left Neverland for good.

A. No, because I do not remember what happened when we left for the last time.

Q. Do you remember leaving for the last time at all.

A. I know that we left, because I remember, I went to my grandma's house.

Q. When you say you escaped with Jesus, where did you escape to.

A. We went to my grandma's house.

Q. Jesus took you in a Rolls Royce to your grandma's house, right.

A. Yes.

Q. When your family wanted to leave, they left, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Object; argumentative.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When your family wanted to leave Neverland, you either had a limousine or a Rolls Royce take you where you wanted to go, right.

A. No. It wasn't a limousine. And we never left in a limousine, because when we left it was when they didn't really know.

Q. It was a Rolls Royce, wasn't it.

A. Yes, because that was the only car available. It wasn't as if we told Jesus to take us in a Rolls Royce.
Q. Okay.
A. It was a vehicle. An automobile that we can use to leave.
Q. Has any lawyer told you what to say in this courtroom.
A. No.
Q. Has any lawyer ever told you what to say under oath.
A. No.
Q. Remember, your deposition was taken in the J.C. Penney case.
A. Yes. It was taken when I had cancer, because I was unable to show up at the court case.
Q. And that was when you and your mom were suing J.C. Penney, correct.
A. I believe it was my whole family that was suing them.

Q. Did a lawyer tell you what to say in that case.
A. No.
Q. Remember, you said under oath, "Did anyone tell you what you should testify about here today or how you should say things," and your answer was, "Only our lawyer".
A. What.
Q. Do you remember saying that in the J.C. Penney deposition.
A. No.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show that to you.
A. Uhh, sure, I guess.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to review that page of your deposition in the J.C. Penney case.
A. Yes.
Q. Remember testifying that a lawyer had told you what to say.

A. They didn’t tell us what to say.

Q. Huh.

A. They didn’t tell us what to say.

Q. But that’s what you said when you had your deposition taken, right.

A. They probably -- I don’t know, because, I mean, I was eight years old. And I don’t really remember what was going on.

Q. You were ten years old, right.

A. Maybe -- ten years old probably at the deposition. But, I mean, I was eight years old when it happened.

Q. Did you and your mom talk about the facts of that case before your deposition was taken.

A. No, I don’t think we were allowed to.

Q. So you never discussed it with your mom before the deposition was taken.

A. No.

Q. Have you ever talked about the facts of this case with your mother.

A. No. I don’t think we’re allowed to either.

Q. So you’ve never discussed the facts of this case with your mother.

A. Um, no.

Q. Have you ever discussed the Bashir documentary with your mother.

A. Yeah.

Q. When.

A. We had talked about it with her sometimes, like how I felt about what I said on there.

Q. And when did you last discuss the Bashir documentary with your mother.

A. I do not remember.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I don’t remember.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

THE COURT: We’ve come to the end of the day.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: We're going to do something different. Everyone remain seated, please.

Take the jury and the witness out.

I'll see you all Monday.

A JUROR: Bye.

(The following proceedings were held in open court outside the presence and hearing of the jury:)

THE COURT: I just didn't want to say this in front of the jury.

This morning I issued a warrant for Mr. Jackson's arrest and held it for an hour. The warrant is recalled.

The Court also forfeited Mr. Jackson's bail at the request of Mr. Jackson. His bonding company has agreed to resume the liability on the bond, and has given the Court permission to reinstate the bond. The Court therefore reinstates the bond as previously -- as previously filed and orders that the reinstatement be filed with the Court.

Court's in recess. Thank you.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 1534 through 1713 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 10, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 10, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, MARCH 14, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 1794 THROUGH 1864)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.

-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

INDEX

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES DIRECT CROSS REDIRECT RECROSS

ARVIZO, Gavin-Anton 1797-M (cont’d)

Santa Maria, California
Monday, March 14, 2005
8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.

COUNSEL AT COUNSEL TABLE: (In unison) Good morning, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Let's see, the witness is in his place.

I'll remind you that you're still under oath.

Mr. Mesereau, you may proceed.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Good morning.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.

GAVIN-ANTON ARVIZO
Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified as follows:

CROSS-EXAMINATION (Continued)
BY MR. MESEREAU:

Q. Mr. Arvizo, on Thursday you testified about how you learned what masturbation was. Remember that.

A. I believe so.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I believe so.

Q. Okay. And you testified that Mr. Jackson told you what masturbation is, right.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Is that true.

A. Yes.

Q. And you testified to the jury that Mr.

Jackson said that if men don’t masturbate, that they can get to a level where they can -- might rape a girl. Remember that.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Do you remember saying that.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember being interviewed by the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Department on a number of occasions.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you remember who interviewed you.

A. Most likely Steve Robel or Paul Zelis.

Q. Do you remember being asked, “Before we get started on the next set of questions, can you describe to us what your opinion is, what you think masturbation is.” Do you remember one of the sheriffs asked you that during an interview.

A. I believe so.

Q. And you knew those interviews were being recorded, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Remember you said, “My grandma explained it to me. She told me that -- that your -- the only reason is because like if -- if men don’t do it, men might get to a point where they might go ahead and rape a woman”. Do you remember saying that to the sheriffs.

A. I believe so.

Q. Why did your story change between that interview and your testimony last Thursday.

A. Well, what do you mean “changed”.

Q. Well, you told the police your grandmother made that quote to you, and you came into court under oath and told the jury Mr. Jackson made that quote to you.

A. That didn’t change. Because Michael tried to explain to me first. And I -- he was more pushing on me that men have to masturbate.

Now, later when I came back from Neverland, I guess my grandmother saw that I was very confused about sexuality and things like that. And my grandmother explained to me a lot of things.

Q. So it just so happened that after Mr. Jackson told you, “If a man doesn’t do it, they may get to a point where they rape a woman,” your grandmother made the almost identical quote to you. Is that what you’re saying.
A. Not really. She didn’t make the same exact thing that Michael said. But I’m not exactly sure what my grandmother said. I know my grandmother explained a lot of things to me.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a transcript of your sheriff’s interview.
A. Probably.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: Whoops, I’m sorry. Your Honor, I spilled a little water with my notebook, so --
THE BAILIFF: How about you put that over here.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, have you had a chance to look at that page of transcript.
A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you told the sheriffs about what masturbation was.
THE COURT: Just a moment, Counsel.
THE WITNESS: It refreshes my --
THE COURT: Just a moment. Let’s take care of one thing at a time. You may start again on that.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes, thank you, Your Honor.
Q. Mr. Arvizo, have you had a chance to look at that page of transcript of your sheriff’s interview.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you told the sheriffs your grandmother said.
A. It refreshes -- I can recall what my grandmother was telling me. She was -- she saw that

I was embarrassed about things like masturbation and growing up, and my mother was telling me that it’s okay to do it. And Michael was telling me that you have to do it.

Q. Well, Mr. Arvizo, I understand your position. But when the sheriffs asked you what masturbation was, you didn’t say, “Mr. Jackson told me if a man doesn’t do it, he may rape a woman.” You said if -- “My grandmother told me that if a man doesn’t do it, he may rape a woman,” correct.

A. I believe so. That’s what you showed me. But --

Q. And between the time of that interview --

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me. Your Honor, he was about to say something when he got cut off by counsel.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh, I apologize. I had no idea.

THE WITNESS: But --

MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me. Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: But that still doesn’t mean that Michael did not tell me.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: But what you’re telling the jury is it was sort of a coincidence that both your grandmother and Michael used almost the identical phrase about raping a woman.

A. Both my grandmother and Michael were trying to talk to me about the -- pretty much the birds and the bees story.

Q. Okay. And they pretty much said the identical thing, is that what you’re telling me.

A. Not exactly.

Q. Not exactly.

A. No.

Q. Well, the quotes are almost identical, aren’t they.

A. You see, Michael was trying to tell me that I have to masturbate. My mom -- my grandmother was actually telling me -- giving me the talk. Michael was just talking about masturbation.

Q. But your grandmother said to you, “If men don’t do it, men might get to a point where they might go ahead and rape a woman,” correct.

A. Michael also told me that.

Q. Well -- so you’re saying they basically said the same thing.

A. My grandmother said it’s okay to do it, because sometimes, some men, they can’t control themselves and might do that.

Q. But in that police interview, you never mentioned that Michael Jackson had said that to you, did you.

A. I’m sure in one of the other transcript I mentioned about Michael.

Q. Not in that interview, correct.

A. But I’m sure in another one I did.

Q. Okay. I’d like to ask you just about the allegations in the J.C. Penney case, okay. We’re not going to go into the evidence, just what the allegations were. Okay.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Do you remember that case.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. And you and your mother Janet sued J.C. Penney, correct.

A. I think we did. I’m pretty sure we did.

Q. Okay. And originally your family sued for battery, false imprisonment and infliction of emotional distress, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Okay. Later on, your mother amended the complaint to add sexual assault. Do you remember that.

A. Not really.

Q. Do you remember that you were asked questions about that in a sworn deposition.

A. I don’t remember being asked about my mom being -- whatever.

Q. Do you remember being asked questions about your mother’s allegations that J.C. Penney guards fondled her breasts in a parking lot.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object; 403.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you remember that case at all.

A. Um, a little bit. I mean, I was in the middle of my chemotherapy.

Q. Okay. Your chemotherapy was going on at the same time.

A. At the same time as those depositions.

Q. Okay. And how many -- how many appointments for chemotherapy had you had at that point, if you know.

A. They would have it once a month -- once every three weeks, actually. Then I had ten rounds. And I wasn't like a regular kid that had cancer that would just go in for a few hours and get one bag of chemotherapy. I would go there for a week, in the hospital, and -- in a bed, and they would give me chemotherapy.

Q. Okay. And approximately when did the chemotherapy end.

A. June 2001.

Q. Okay. Do you remember last Thursday I asked you when these alleged acts of masturbation by Michael Jackson occurred. Do you remember that.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. And within an approximately 20-minute period you first said a couple of days before you left with Jose Salas, right.

A. What do you mean.

Q. Jesus Salas, excuse me.

A. Couple days before I left with Jose Salas.

Q. Yes. You said a couple of days before you left Neverland with Jose Salas the masturbation occurred. Do you remember that.

A. No, I did not say that.

Q. You didn't say that.

A. No, I said that it happened approximately the last two weeks of when we left Neverland for good.

Q. Well, first you said a few days, and then you said a week, and then you said a couple of weeks, right.

A. Maybe you said that it was a few days.

Q. Did you discuss over the weekend these facts with anybody.

A. No.

Q. Did you discuss the case with anybody over the weekend.

A. I had a brief conversation with Mr. Sneddon.

Q. Okay. And what did you talk about.

A. We talked about certain things that you might ask me.

Q. And like what.

A. Just things about me.

Q. Pardon me.

A. Things that you might ask about me.

Q. Like what.

A. Like my history.

Q. Your history.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. And what do you mean, your “history”.

A. In school maybe.

Q. Pardon me.

A. In school maybe.

Q. And what did Mr. Sneddon say to you about that.

A. He just told me to answer honestly.

Q. And what else did he talk to you about.

A. That’s pretty much it right there.

Q. How long was the discussion.

A. 15 minutes.

Q. Did he say anything to you about an interview he had with a witness over the weekend.

A. With a witness besides me.

Q. Yes.

A. No.

Q. Did he ask you anything about one of your teachers at school.

A. Um, yes. He asked me about it.

Q. And who was that.

A. My teacher.

Q. Yes.

A. It’s -- he wasn’t really my teacher. His name is Richard Geralt.

Q. What did Mr. Sneddon say to you about Mr. Geralt.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object. It assumes facts not in evidence that I said anything.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase the question, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did Mr. Sneddon say something to you about Mr. Geralt.

MR. SNEDDON: Same objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did Mr. Sneddon say anything to you over the weekend about Mr. Geralt.

A. He didn’t have to tell me anything. I told him everything. I told him the facts about Mr. Geralt.

Q. Let me ask the question again. Did Mr. Sneddon over the weekend say anything to you about a Mr. Geralt.

A. He asked me about Mr. Geralt, so it’s kind of knowing, I guess.

Q. What did he ask you about Mr. Geralt.

A. He asked me what do I know of Mr. Geralt.

Q. And did you tell him.

A. Yes.

Q. What did you tell him.

A. I told him about -- that I knew Mr. Geralt.

Q. Excuse me.

A. I told him that I knew of Mr. Geralt.

Q. Did you tell him anything else.

A. About Mr. Geralt.

Q. Yes.

A. I told him about school and how Mr. Geralt was.

Q. And what did you tell him.

A. About Mr. Geralt.

Q. Yeah. What did you tell him about Mr. Geralt and school.

A. I told him that -- about a time when he -- he was a detention teacher. And I had detention, and I was in there.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I was in his detention.

Q. Okay. What else did you tell Mr. Sneddon about Mr. Geralt.

A. I told him that one time when I was in detention, I was sitting there, and he told us we had to do work, our homework. I didn't have a pencil. So I asked him, "Mr. Geralt, may I have a pencil." And then he put me against the wall, because I asked if I could have a pencil.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Sneddon anything else about Mr. Geralt.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. What else.

A. That sometimes in the middle of his class he would go outside and smoke a cigarette.

Q. What else.

A. Um, that he always tried to handle his classes as if he was a drill sergeant.

Q. Okay. What else.

A. I told him a story about -- that detention.

Q. Okay. What did you tell him.

A. I told him there was one time that I was in detention, same -- and then when I was against the wall, I asked Mr. Geralt, "Why is it that I'm against the wall. I would like to do my work as you told me to do."

Q. What else did you tell Mr. Sneddon.

A. And then Mr. Geralt asked me, he said if I was on drugs. He said that if I was on -- doing marijuana or doing crack or something, and he told me he was going to give me a drug test.

Q. What else did you tell Mr. Sneddon.

A. I told him that I was -- “Mr. Geralt, I’m not on drugs.” And then Mr. Geralt said that he’s going to call the cops, and this and that, because he was saying that I was on drugs. But he was doing it in a way that he was making fun of me.

Q. Now, Mr. Geralt was a teacher, correct.

A. He was a teacher at the school.

Q. At what school.

A. John Burroughs Middle School.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Sneddon anything else about Mr. Geralt.

A. Yes.

Q. What else did you tell him.

A. I -- then I told Mr. Geralt that, “Why is it that you’re going to call a police officer here who would rather be doing something more important than something as my minute and dumb as this.”

Q. And anything else you told Mr. Sneddon about Mr. Geralt.

A. And then after I told Mr. Geralt that, he realized that I was right, and he put his phone away. And then he called the campus supervision. And then he kept on going on that I was doing drugs and this and that. He said he -- he was just saying stuff like that.

And then he went into -- he called campus supervision, and then they took me into the office. And then I told the teachers what happened, and they said they know how Mr. Geralt is.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Sneddon anything else when you spoke to him over the weekend.

A. No. We talked about a lot -- we talked about a few things. I don’t remember too much.

Q. You don’t remember too much.

A. Well, I do, and -- I don’t remember the exact things, I mean, word for word.

Q. Why don’t you just tell us generally what you talked about.

A. My history, mostly.
Q. Pardon me.
A. My history.
Q. Your history.
A. Yes.
Q. Please tell the jury what you told Mr. Sneddon about your history.
A. I just told you.
Q. Anything else come up in that discussion.
A. Yeah.
Q. What else.
A. Are you trying to specify something.
Q. No, I’m just simply asking you to tell the jury what you told Mr. Sneddon when you spoke to him over the weekend about your testimony in this case.
A. Please be specific.
Q. Well, I’m just asking you. I wasn’t in the conversation. What else do you remember. Please tell the jury anything else that was discussed.
A. Talked about my father.
Q. Did you talk about a Mr. Alpert.
A. Oh, yes. Yes, we did.
Q. Did I just jog your memory a little bit about that.
A. Yes.
Q. Did Mr. Sneddon tell you he had been in an interview with a Mr. Alpert on Saturday.

A. Yes. Well, I don’t know if -- no, he said if I was -- if Mr. -- the dean, Alpert, interviewed me or talked to me.
Q. And did he ask you questions about any discussions you ever had with Dean Alpert at John Burroughs School.
A. Yeah, he asked some questions about it.
Q. In fact, Mr. Arvizo, he asked you whether you had been interviewed by Dean Alpert and whether you had confessed to him that Mr. Jackson never did anything to you of a sexual nature, right.
A. Yeah.

Q. Why didn’t you say that at the beginning.

A. I told Mr. Alpert that he didn’t do anything to me.

Q. You told Dean Alpert that twice, correct.

A. I don’t know how many times I told him.

Q. Well, that was the reason Mr. Sneddon telephoned you, wasn’t it, as far as you knew.

A. What do you mean.

Q. Mr. Sneddon telephoned you --

A. Oh, telephoned.

Q. -- to ask you whether you had ever confessed to Dean Alpert that Michael Jackson never did anything to you of a sexual nature, right.

A. I don’t remember Mr. Sneddon calling me and asking me that question.

Q. You don’t recall Mr. Sneddon asking you any questions like that over the weekend.

A. Over the weekend, if Michael had done anything to me.

Q. No, Mr. Arvizo. Let me just -- let me just try and rephrase it, if I have confused you.

Mr. Sneddon called you over the weekend, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. That’s a misstatement of his testimony and it assumes facts not in evidence that I called him.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did Mr. Sneddon telephone you over the weekend.

A. No, he did not.

Q. Did you telephone Mr. Sneddon over the weekend.

A. No, I did not.

Q. Did you engage in a conversation with Mr. Sneddon over the weekend.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Where did that conversation take place.

A. In a house.

Q. Okay. Did Mr. Sneddon come to see you.

A. No.

Q. Did you go to see Mr. Sneddon.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go to see Mr. Sneddon.

A. In a house.

Q. In his house.

A. In a house.

Q. Okay. Who was with you, if anybody.

A. Detective Robel. Mr. -- Ron, Gordon and Mr. Sneddon, and I believe Mr. Mag was there.

Q. Okay. Let me just get it straight. Mr. Robel was there from the Santa Barbara Sheriffs, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Sneddon was there, right.

A. The attorneys were there.

Q. Prosecutors. Prosecutor Zonen was there, right.

A. All of the district -- all of the attorneys were there.

Q. Prosecutor Auchincloss was there, right.

A. Auchincloss.

Q. Yes. The fellow seated right to my left.

A. Oh, Gordon, yeah.

Q. Anyone else there besides those four.

A. Mag.

Q. Who.

A. Mag. I don’t know his full name.

Q. Okay. Is this another sheriff.

A. No, this is an attorney.

Q. Another prosecutor.

A. He’s another attorney.

Q. So you met with four prosecutors and a Santa Barbara Sheriff over the weekend, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object again. It assumes facts not in evidence that all of those people were present during the meeting.

MR. MESEREAU: I think that’s what he just said.

MR. SNEDDON: No, he didn’t.

THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you meet over the weekend with three prosecutors.
A. No.
Q. Did you meet with four prosecutors.
A. No.
Q. Did you meet with any prosecutors.
A. Yes.
Q. Who were they.
A. One, Mr. Sneddon. And Steve Robel -- and Detective Steve Robel was present.
Q. Okay. Was anyone else present.
A. They were there, but they were in another room.
Q. Okay. Who was there but in another room.
A. Ron, Mr. Zonen, Gordon and Mag.
Q. Okay. I'm not hearing that. Is it Meg or Mick.
A. Mag.
Q. Mag. Okay. And as far as you know, Mag's a prosecutor, correct.

A. Yes, I believe so.
Q. Okay. Now, what day did you have this meeting.
A. I believe it was yesterday.
Q. And approximately what time did the meeting take place.
A. 6:00, maybe 7:00.
Q. So that would be last evening, right.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Did you learn in advance that the meeting was going to take place.
A. A couple hours before.
Q. And how did you learn the meeting was going to take place.
A. They -- they told me.
Q. Okay. Who's "they".
A. Detective Steve Robel told me.
Q. Okay. Did he call you on the phone.
A. No, he told me.
Q. Did he call you on the phone.

A. He told me.
Q. Okay.
A. No, did he not call me on the phone.
Q. Did you call him on the phone.
A. No.
Q. Did he show up at your house.
A. No. I don’t live up here.
Q. I’m just trying to ask you how you found out about the meeting. That’s all I’m asking.

A. I told you, he told me.
Q. Okay. Where did he tell you about the meeting.
A. He told me at a house.
Q. Where you’re staying, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did he come to the house.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Approximately what time did Mr. Robel come to the house to tell you there was going to be a meeting that evening with all the prosecutors.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to that question. There was no meeting with all those prosecutors. Misstatement of his testimony.
MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, at approximately what time yesterday did you learn you were going to travel to another location to meet with Mr. Sneddon and others.
A. Um, other -- it was around maybe 5:00 or something like that.
Q. Okay. And you obviously attended the meeting, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know if the conversation was recorded.

A. I don’t believe it was recorded.

Q. Do you know if anyone was taking notes.

A. Um, no, I don’t think anyone was taking notes.

Q. Okay. Did anyone tell you what the purpose of the meeting was.

A. No.

Q. No one explained why you were having a meeting last night.

A. No. They told me that Tom was going to have to talk to me about some things.

Q. Okay. And Mr. Sneddon did talk to you about some things, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And he talked to you about an interview that had been conducted on Saturday, right.

A. No.

Q. Did Mr. Sneddon ever tell you he had conducted an interview with a Mr. Alpert on Saturday.

A. No, did he not tell me that he conducted an interview.

Q. Okay. Did he ever tell you he had spoken with Mr. Alpert.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did he say about that.

A. He asked me about Mr. Alpert.

Q. Okay.

A. What I knew.

Q. And did he ask you if you ever had a meeting with Mr. Alpert, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you told him you did, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You told him you met --

A. I told him that I’m pretty sure I did -- I did. Because I didn’t really remember too good.

Q. You didn’t remember too good that you had told Mr. Alpert that Mr. Jackson had never touched you sexually.

A. Well, I believe it happened, because he was a dean of the school. And so -- I’m pretty sure I had a conversation with him.

Q. Okay. And did you tell Mr. Sneddon you were pretty sure you had had a conversation with Dean Alpert at John Burroughs School.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Sneddon approximately when you had that discussion.

A. No.

Q. Did Mr. Sneddon ever ask you when you had that discussion.

A. No.

Q. Where did the discussion with Dean Alpert take place.

A. I don’t remember. It was probably in his office.

Q. Okay. And the purpose of the discussion was what, if you know.

A. It was probably about Michael.

Q. Okay. You say “probably about Michael”.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. But you’re not sure.

A. I’m not sure what the whole conversation was about.

Q. Okay. But sometime in that conversation, Dean Alpert looked you in the eye and said, “Are these allegations that Mr. Jackson sexually abused you true,” right.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. And you said they were not true, right.

A. Yeah. I told him that Michael didn’t do anything to me.

Q. Okay. Mr. Alpert asked you twice whether or not Michael Jackson had ever done anything of a sexual nature to you, correct.

A. I don’t know if he asked me twice.

Q. Well, the first time he asked you, you shook your head “No,” right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. And the second time he asked you, you said to him, “No, he did not touch me in any sexually inappropriate way,” correct.

A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know.

A. I'm pretty sure I told him that.

Q. Okay.

A. But, I mean, I don't know how exactly it happened.

Q. Okay. Now, based on what you've already said, you also discussed a teacher named Geralt, right.

A. Yes.

Q. When I started asking you questions about your discussion with Mr. Sneddon, the first person you mentioned was Mr. Geralt, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Geralt was also a teacher at the school, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And in summary, you had some disciplinary problems with Mr. Geralt, right.

A. I had a lot of disciplinary problems.

Q. Excuse me.

A. I had a lot of disciplinary problems.

Q. You had a lot of them.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. What disciplinary problems did you have.

A. I would get into fights sometimes at school.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I would get into fights sometimes at school.

Q. Okay. You got into a lot of them, didn't you.

A. Not a lot. I got into a few.

Q. Okay. And were you ever asked to leave the school.

A. No, I don't think so.

Q. Were you ever asked to leave class.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And approximately when did that happen.

A. Um, well, a lot of teachers at John Burroughs Middle School, once anyone even talks out of turn, they'll send you out of class.
Q. Well, you got up in class and accused Teacher Geralt of having his balls in his mouth, right.
A. His balls in his mouth.
Q. Yes.
A. No, because I was never in one of his classes.
Q. Do you deny doing that.
A. I don't even remember ever doing that.
Q. Were you in any programs after school with Teacher Geralt.
A. I believe he was an ROTC instructor.
Q. Okay. So you were in ROTC at the time, right.
A. No. Not exactly. Because I had so much experience in that field of marching, and military, military aspects, he -- they liked me being an advisor there.

Q. Well, you were accused by Mr. Geralt of being totally disruptive in that program, right.
A. In the ROTC program.
Q. Yes.
A. I don't remember that. I remember them loving me there because the whole -- the whole -- their whole cadet corps was disciplined, and -- and knew what they were doing. It was getting better at marching.
Q. And you accused the cadet core of being stupid, right.
A. I might have called a few cadets -- that they looked stupid with their uniforms. But -- if their uniforms look ugly, that they need to make them look better. But I don't think I remember calling the whole core stupid.
Q. Now, you said you were accused of being on drugs, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you say that was false, right.

A. Yes. I don’t -- will never go on drugs.

Q. Okay. Who accused you of being on drugs.

A. Mr. Geralt.

Q. Okay. And did he ask you if you were on drugs.

A. He was doing it in a way that he was trying to make fun of me.

Q. Were you escorted away from the other students at one point.

A. During the detention.

Q. Yes.

A. Actually, all of the students in there were kind of cheering me on because they all knew how Mr. Geralt is, and no one’s ever stood up to him before.

Q. But you stood up to the teacher, right.

A. I was already standing up, so --

Q. Excuse me. I’m sorry, I didn’t hear what you said.

A. I guess so.

Q. You did stand up to Teacher Geralt, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You confronted him, right.

A. Yes, after he had brought himself down to my level by doing those things. By not -- see, because I believe teachers are higher than me because I’m just a student. When a teacher does something like that and makes fun of me and tries to say I’m on drugs, he’s no longer the level of a teacher, he’s come down to my level.

Q. And you were angry about that, right.

A. Um, I felt as if he was -- didn’t deserve respect as a teacher.

Q. Didn’t deserve respect as a teacher.

A. No.

Q. Okay. So you did not respect him because you didn’t think he deserved it, right.

A. I didn’t respect him as a person.

Q. And you told him that, didn’t you.

A. I didn’t tell him those exact words.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I didn’t tell him, “I don’t respect you.” I didn’t tell him in those exact words.

Q. Okay. Did Teacher Geralt do anything to discipline you, that you can recall.

A. He gave me detention once, I think.

Q. Okay. And when you say “detention,” what do you mean.

A. Detention with him again.

Q. Excuse me.

A. A detention with him again.

Q. Okay. And what was detention. What did he take you do.

A. He had us go in this -- the auditorium, because there was a lot of kids. Well, first we’d be in his classroom, and usually there would be a lot of kids, so we would usually move over to the auditorium because it was bigger, and then we would do our homework in there. It was after school.

Q. Okay. Since we’re on the subject of school, I’d like to just ask you some questions about your 1825 experiences at school. Okay.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Did you know a teacher named Murphy.

A. Mr. Murphy, yes.

Q. You were disciplined by Mr. Murphy as well, correct.

A. I don’t remember too much about Mr. Murphy.

Q. Well, was Mr. Murphy one of your teachers.

A. He was for a while, but I asked the counselor -- my counselor to move me out of his class.

Q. Why did you want to get out of Mr. Murphy’s class.

A. I didn’t like how he conducted his classroom.

Q. What didn’t you like about it.

A. He was just hard to understand, the way he was trying to teach.

Q. Well, he accused you of being disruptive in his class, didn’t he.

A. Uh-huh. Yes.

Q. Okay. Were you disruptive.

A. Um, now that I look back, yes. I -- I was dis --

Q. How were you disruptive in Mr. Murphy’s class.

A. I might ask a question without raising my hand.

Q. Excuse me.

A. I might ask a question without raising my hand.

Q. Okay. Your answer is, “I might ask a question.” Did you or did you not do that.

A. I’m pretty sure I did. I mean --

Q. Well, he accused you of being uncooperative and disruptive, didn’t he.

A. He accused me of being uncooperative because I didn’t sign a detention he gave me because I didn’t believe it was correct.

Q. I’m sorry, you’re speaking a little fast. I couldn’t understand that. Could you just repeat it.

A. He accused me of being uncooperative because of a detention he had given me and I did not want to sign it because I didn’t believe it was a --

Q. What didn’t you want to sign.

A. A detention.

Q. Excuse me.

A. A detention that he had written up.

Q. Did you refuse to sign it.

A. Yes.

Q. And what happened after you refused to sign it.

A. He told me -- he gave me -- he wrote up a referral, and I believe he sent me to Dean Alpert.

Q. Did you know a Mr. Parker at school.

A. Yes.
Q. Who was Mr. Parker.
A. He was a new guy that came. I think he was going to take Dean Alpert’s spot, and Dean Alpert was going to move up or something.
Q. At one point you apologized to Mr. Parker, didn’t you.
A. Yes.
Q. What did you apologize to Mr. Parker for.
A. Probably apologized about the way I was in school and stuff.
Q. And what do you mean by that.
A. About how I disrespected teachers sometimes.
Q. Okay. And that was correct, wasn’t it. You did disrespect your teachers sometimes, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you know a Mr. Collins.
A. I don’t remember Mr. Collins.
Q. Do you remember anyone named Collins at the school.
A. No.
BAILIFF CORTEZ: I need you to speak up a little louder. Okay.
THE WITNESS: Okay.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: How about a Mr. or Mrs. Slaugh, S-l-a-u-g-h.
A. Probably talking about Miss Slaughter.
Q. Okay, Slaughter.

A. Uh-huh.
Q. Do you remember a Miss Slaughter.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember having problems in -- with Miss Slaughter.
A. I was -- not really. I mean --
Q. You don’t recall arguing with that teacher.
A. Oh, yeah. I remember.
Q. What was that argument about.
A. It’s because I asked to go to the rest room. And I told her that I had to go to the rest room or else I’ll have problems. And then she still wouldn’t let me go.

Q. And then what happened.

A. I told her about how I had cancer and stuff, and she still wouldn't let me go to the rest room.

Q. And what did you do about that.

A. I sat back in my seat.

Q. You requested to be transferred out of that class, right.

A. Well, it's like they had all these -- I didn't really request to get out of Miss Slaughter's class, but I wanted to get out of Mr. Murphy's class. They have different -- they have A, B, C and D, I think. And then C was what I was in. And C is a whole block of teachers that everyone is in, and they all switch around.

Q. Okay. Well, you were accused of screaming words that the other students were jumping around like retarded people, right. Do you remember that.

A. I don't know.

Q. Do you remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. And --

A. Well --

Q. Please tell the jury --

A. Barely.

Q. -- what happened.

A. I don't really remember what I said. It probably happened, because a lot of times there was -- I would stand up to the teacher. A lot of the kids would kind of congratulate me, and then --

Q. You were kind of a hero for standing up to teachers.

A. Sometimes.

Q. Okay. Do you remember a teacher named Fink.

A. I think you're talking about Mr. Finklestein.

Q. Who is Mr. Finklestein.

A. He was my math teacher.

Q. You had problems in that class also, didn't you.

A. I think everyone in his class had a problem with him.

Q. Let me just ask about you. Did you have problems in Mr. Finklestein's class.

A. I was "everyone."

Q. Pardon me.

A. I was one of the "everyone."

Q. You're saying everybody had a problem.

A. If everyone had a problem, then I would be one of them, right.

Q. I'm just asking about yourself. Okay. Did you have problems with your conduct --

A. Yes.

Q. -- in Mr. Finklestein's class.

A. Yes.

Q. Please tell the jury what those problems were.

A. Same problems with every other teacher.

Q. And what do you mean by that.

A. I was kind of argumentative sometimes, and I shouldn't have been. I didn't like the way he taught because I wasn't learning anything.

Q. And what did you do in his class that caused a disruption.

A. I would argue sometimes about the way he would teach, and that he wouldn't use our textbooks. And I asked him why we have these textbooks, if he didn't let us use them.

Q. And were you disciplined at all.

A. Yes, sometimes he would send me out of class.

Q. And how many times were you asked by this teacher to leave the class.

A. I don't know.

Q. Was it more than five.

A. I don't know.

Q. Was it -- do you think it was ten.

A. I don't know.

Q. Do you have any idea at all.

A. I remember him -- I know I got sent more than once, but, I mean, I don’t remember the exact number.

Q. Okay. But you were accused of disrupting that class, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember someone named Moon. Is there a teacher named Moon.

A. I remember the name, but I’m not sure which teacher it was.

Q. Well, you were accused of singing in the classroom and disrupting the class, right.

A. Can you tell me more about Mr. Moon. Because I don’t remember really who he is.

Q. Let me ask you this: Were you accused of being defiant, singing in the classroom, talking, disrupting testing, and they had to call your parents.

A. Mr. Moon. Mr. Moon. Oh, he’s my home room teacher. I don’t know.

Q. You don’t recall any problems with that teacher.

A. No, because he was my home room teacher, and I hardly do anything in that class.

Q. Okay. So you don’t recall any problem with a teacher named Moon, right.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, how many times did you refuse to write an apology to teachers.

A. I don’t remember being asked to write an apology.

Q. Well, didn’t you just say before you were asked to apologize at one point.

A. No, I have -- they didn’t ask me to apologize. I apologized to Mr. Parker.

Q. But you were asked to write an apology to a child who you insulted in class, correct.

A. I don’t remember that.

Q. Okay. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you a note from your school records.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: I can’t really understand that writing.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You can’t read that.

A. I see “apology” -- it’s kind of messed up writing.

THE COURT: Wait a minute. Just a moment. He’s just asking you to read that and see if it refreshes your memory, not to comment on it. Just -- no, you just read it and see if it refreshes your memory.

THE WITNESS: I can’t understand it.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You didn’t read that at all.

A. It looks like -- kind of like scribbles.

Q. I’m sorry.

A. It’s like doctor’s writing.

Q. You can’t read any of it.

A. I can’t read that. It’s unlegible.

Q. Okay. Do you recall an incident like that.

A. Writing to a student, no.

Q. Pardon me.

A. Writing an apology letter to a student, I don’t remember.

Q. Do you recall being asked to write an apology to a student.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you recall being accused of not completing your school assignments and tasks.

A. Yeah, I wouldn’t ever do my homework or anything.

Q. You would never do it.

A. Okay. I did it sometimes. Like in eighth grade I did it for my science class, because I kind of liked it.

Q. Now, you testified last week that Mr. Jackson didn’t help you with your homework, right.

A. No. I said that he might have helped me for that one little bit of homework that I did, but he didn’t really help me too much.
Q. Okay. But he helped you a little bit, right.
A. Foe that one little bit of the assignment.
Q. Okay. Do you know a Mr. Davy.
A. Yeah, he was the vice principal. He was a cool guy.
Q. Which school.
A. John Burroughs.
Q. Okay. Do you remember having discussions with Mr. Davy about your disciplinary problems.
A. Yes.
Q. And please tell the jury what those discussions were all about.
A. I don’t really remember too good. Probably the same thing I talked about like with dean -- or Mr. Parker, that to get better.
Q. Well, you had discussions with Mr. Davy, right.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. The subject of the discussions was your being disruptive, right.
A. Probably, yes.

Q. Please tell the jury what you and he discussed.
A. I don’t really remember. It was in the eighth grade. Well, it was a while ago.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you one of your school records. And this is typed up.
A. Oh, yes.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
Now, when he shows you that, he’s just going to ask you if that refreshes your memory. You’re not to say what’s on the page or you’re --
THE WITNESS: Oh, okay.
THE COURT: -- not to discuss it. There’s only one issue in front of you. Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: All right.

Oh, I remember Miss Super.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to read that document.

A. Yes.

Q. Does it refresh your recollection about problems you had with Mr. Davy.

A. Well, that wasn’t a letter from Mr. Davy. That was a letter from --

THE COURT: Just a moment. He’s just asked you whether or not that refreshes your recollection about problems you had with Mr. Davy. That’s a “yes” or “no” answer.

THE WITNESS: No, I never had problems with Mr. Davy.

THE COURT: That’s not the question. Listen. Did that paper refresh your recollection about any problems you have had with Mr. Davy. “Yes” or “no.”

THE WITNESS: No.

THE COURT: All right. Next question.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

Q. Did you ever have a discussion with Mr. Davy about your disciplinary problems with other teachers.

A. Yes.

Q. Please tell the jury what went on in that discussion.

A. I don’t really remember too good. I mean, he would tell me to get better, or stuff like that.

Q. Anything else.

A. Pretty much that’s it.

Q. Do you know someone named Bender.

A. Yes, yes. Miss Bender.

Q. Who is Miss Bender.

A. She was my history teacher.

Q. And she was your history of teacher in November of 2002, correct.

A. Yeah, I think so.

Q. Okay. And she complained to Mr. Davy about you having disciplinary problems in school, right.

A. Probably.
Q. Do you remember that.
A. Not really. But, I mean, she probably did.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a memo from her to Mr. Davy.
A. I don't think so, because I would never really see those. They would -- the teachers would give them to them about me. They wouldn't, like, pass it to me to give to them. They wouldn't have me read it.
Q. To your knowledge, she did complain about your behavior, true.
A. She probably did. Because a lot of teachers did.
Q. In her class, right.
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. You got complaints from almost every teacher at John Burroughs School, right.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. And you were going to John Burroughs School in 2002, correct.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Were you there in 2001.
A. I had cancer in 2001.
Q. So you weren't at John Burroughs School then.
A. I had -- that was -- I had finished my 1838 chemotherapy in June 2001. So I started -- I believe I started in seventh grade in -- or -- I'm not sure. Probably the sixth grade. I don't know. All I know is what -- because when I got out of cancer, I think I was in the sixth grade at LeConte Middle School.

Q. But you entered Miss Bender's class in world history and geography in 2002, right.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Okay. And she complained that you were defiant on a regular basis and disrespectful to her,

correct.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object as asked and answered. He's already answered this question.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer.

THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question.

THE COURT: I'll have it read back.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yes, I believe so.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: She also said you appeared to have good acting skills, right.

A. I don't know if she said that.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you her memo to Mr. Davy.

A. Probably not, because I never saw the memo before.

Q. Well, do you recall her ever saying anything to the effect, "You have good acting skills".

A. No.

Q. Okay. When you were at John Burroughs School, what kind of grades did you get, generally speaking. Were they good.

A. No.

Q. Were they poor.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. And how long were you at John Burroughs School.

A. Seventh and eighth grade, I believe.

Q. Okay. So that would be two years.

A. Probably. I mean, because I don't think I stood there the whole seventh and eighth grade.

Q. I'm sorry, I couldn't hear that.

A. I don't think, because, I mean, a few months I was at Neverland, I don't think I stood there the whole two years of school.

Q. Did you discuss these disciplinary problems that you had at John Burroughs School with Mr. Sneddon last night.

A. Yes.

Q. Did he ask you about all these teachers.

A. No.

Q. Well, he asked you about some teachers, didn't he.

A. Yes.

Q. What teachers did Mr. Sneddon ask you about last night.

A. He asked me -- well, I don't think he asked me about teachers. I think he just -- I just recall Mr. Geralt. And Alpert, the dean.

Q. Do you recall a teacher named Martinez.

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Martinez was your drama teacher, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were accused of being disruptive in that class, weren't you.

A. Probably.

Q. Now, were you taking -- excuse me, let me rephrase that.

Let's talk about the year 2002 when you were having these disciplinary problems in John Burroughs School, okay. Were you taking any medication then.

A. I was taking my 500 milligrams of Amoxicillin, the antibiotics I have to take for like the rest of my life, and the -- and five milligrams of Lycinopril for my kidney.

Q. Now, at some point you entered into an agreement to do independent study, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And approximately when was that.

A. I'm not sure. Toward the end -- probably the second semester of the eighth grade.

Q. And approximately what year would that be.

A. 2003, I think.

Q. Excuse me.

A. Maybe 2003.

Q. Okay. You attended Roosevelt High School at one point, right.

A. No.
Q. Did you ever go to Roosevelt High School.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever go to City of Angels.
A. No.
Q. Ever do an independent study program with City of Angels.
A. I don’t know if it was with City of Angels, but I did an independent study program.
Q. Okay. Again, what year was that, if you know.
A. Probably 2003.
Q. Okay. And how about Bernice Carlson Hospital School. Do you recall that school.
A. No.
Q. Don’t recall ever being enrolled there. All right. Before Burroughs, which school did you go to.
A. I think it was LeConte Middle School.
Q. Excuse me.
A. LeConte Middle School.
Q. Is it LeComt. 1842

A. LeConte.
Q. LeConte. And where was that located.
A. North Hollywood. It was a magnet school.
Q. Did you ever have any disciplinary problems at that school.
A. Yeah, probably.
Q. Please tell the jury what disciplinary problems you had at that school.
A. Same stuff. I mean, I was -- I wasn’t that good of a kid then.
Q. Okay. And what did you do that was a problem.
A. Argue with teachers, stuff like that.
Q. Did you get disciplined at that school.
A. Yeah, I’m pretty sure I did.
Q. Please tell the jury how you were disciplined.
A. They would probably give me detention or something like that.

Q. And what were you accused of doing at that school.

A. Being argumentative and confrontational and stuff like that.

Q. Let me get back to your conversation with Mr. Sneddon last night. Did he ask you who Jeffrey Alpert is.

A. He asked me who Dean Alpert was.

Q. And did you tell him who Jeffrey Alpert is.

A. I don't know if Dean Alpert was the same Jeffrey Alpert, because, I mean, I only call him Dean Alpert. So I don't know if we're talking about the same guy, because there's -- I think there's another guy named Alpert there.

Q. Okay. Did you tell Mr. Sneddon you knew who Dean Alpert was.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you tell him when you first met Dean Alpert.

A. Yes. Well --

Q. What did you tell Mr. Sneddon.

A. Well, I didn't really tell him when I first met him, but I told him that I knew that I met him.

Q. Okay. Did the conversation begin with a discussion about Mr. Alpert or Mr. Geralt.

A. I believe it was about Mr. Geralt first.

Q. Okay. And you told Mr. Sneddon your history with Mr. Geralt, right.

A. I told him about that one story that I told you.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I told him about that one story that I told you.

Q. Okay. And after you finished telling Mr. Sneddon about your experiences with Mr. Geralt, did you then start talking about Mr. Alpert.

A. No, he asked me if I remember who Mr. Alpert

was.

Q. Okay. Now, you were sent to Mr. Alpert's office many times for disciplinary problems, correct.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Generally fights, correct.

A. Um, not really. Because I didn't want to fight in the seventh grade -- well, every time I would get into a fight, I would be sent there. I got into one fight in seventh grade with an eighth grader, and I'm not -- I remember one fight, but I know I got into more than one in the eighth grade.

Q. Okay. But you were -- you had a lot of meetings with him about --

A. Yes.

Q. -- allegations, at least, that you were a discipline problem, right.

A. No, I had meetings with him because I was a disciplinary problem.

Q. Okay. Okay. And do you know approximately when Dean Alpert called you in his office to ask you if any of these allegations involving Michael Jackson were true.

A. I believe it was after I came back from Neverland.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I'm pretty sure it was after I came back from Neverland, the eighth grade.

Q. Okay. And he looked at you, and he said, "Look at me, look at me, Gavin. I can't help you unless you tell me the truth. Did any of this happen. Did anything bad happen." Remember that.

A. Um, yeah, I believe so.

Q. And your response was, "No, nothing happened," right.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. You used to send a lot of letters and cards to Michael Jackson, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. When did you begin sending letters and cards to Michael Jackson.

A. When I met him, I guess.

Q. Excuse me.
A. When I met him.
Q. Would that be the first trip to Neverland.
A. Yeah, I don’t think I gave him a card when -- the first day I met him, but, I mean, it was probably around the times that I knew him.
Q. You also were sending cards to his assistant named Evvy, right.
A. Yes. She was a really nice lady.
Q. Please tell the jury who Evvy is.
A. I think she’s like the assistant to Michael or something like that.
Q. You sent a card to her saying that you loved her, right.

A. Yeah -- I believe I did.
Q. Yeah, your whole family did, right.
A. I think we did.
Q. Said, “Evvy, sweetheart, we love you,” right.
A. I don’t know if we said that, but I mean --
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you a copy of a card.
A. Sure. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Could I see the card for just a second.
THE WITNESS: It’s --
THE COURT: Just a moment. He’s just showing you the card, remember.
THE WITNESS: Okay.
THE COURT: Now he’s going to ask you if it refreshes your recollection.
THE WITNESS: All right.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that card.
A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection about sending a card to Evvy.
A. A little bit. Because I knew we sent cards to Evvy.

Q. Okay. You called her a sweetheart and said

you loved her, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to that question, because counsel’s not laid the foundation that he recognizes the handwriting as being his.

THE WITNESS: That’s my mom’s --

THE COURT: Just a moment.

MR. SNEDDON: Lack of foundation.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll go into it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

THE COURT: You may answer. I’ll have the question -- do you want the question read back.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: And you used to write cards to Michael and call him “daddy,” correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you would refer to yourself as his son, right.

A. Well, I called him “daddy,” and then he would call me his son.

Q. Well, you yourself wrote to him and said, “To Daddy Michael, from your son Gavin,” correct.

A. That’s probably after he called me “son.”

Q. Let me just ask you the question again, because you got to answer the question.

A. Okay.

Q. Isn’t it true that you sent a letter to Michael Jackson, you addressed it to “Daddy Michael, from your son Gavin”.

A. I mean, I’m -- I don’t know every letter I ever sent to him, but, I mean, I probably did.

Q. Do you remember doing that.

A. Not really.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you that, the letter.

A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
THE WITNESS: Yeah.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that document.
A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection about sending Michael Jackson a letter that said, “To Daddy Michael, from your son Gavin”.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember sending another card to Michael Jackson that said, “I miss you, Daddy Michael”.
A. I don’t know -- I probably did send him that.
Q. Do you know for sure if that happened.
A. Not for sure, but I’m pretty sure I did.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the card.

A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
THE WITNESS: Oh, yes.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Have you had a chance to look at that document.
A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection about your sending a card to Michael Jackson that said, “I miss you, Daddy Michael”.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. How often would you send cards or letters to Michael Jackson.
A. I’d probably send them maybe once a month or something like that.
Q. And you used to ask him for his phone numbers, right.
A. He would give me some of his phone numbers.
Q. Pardon me.
A. He would give me some of his phone numbers. He gave them.

Q. But correct me if I’m wrong, did you tell the jury last week that he gave you phone numbers that ended up not working.

A. No, I told you he gave me phone numbers, and after a while they didn’t work.

Q. And you would then routinely ask him for numbers that did work, right.

A. Not really routinely. But, I mean, I asked him.

Q. Okay. Do you know approximately when you began sending letters or cards to Michael Jackson.

A. Probably when the numbers didn’t work no more, and all we had was Evvy to talk to.

Q. Do you remember sending a letter to Michael Jackson that said, “I love you, Daddy Michael. And tell my little brother and little sister that I love and care about them. Thank you for everything, Daddy Michael. Thank you for being my Daddy Michael. Thank you for helping me be happy and beat cancer.” Do you remember sending him a letter like that.

A. Not really, but I mean I probably did.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you the card, or a copy of the card.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: Oh, I remember.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that copy of a card.

A. Yes.

Q. And does it refresh your recollection that you wrote to Michael Jackson yourself and thanked him for helping you beat cancer.

A. I remember that card.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I remember that card.

Q. You did write to Michael Jackson yourself and thanked him for helping you beat cancer, correct.

A. I wrote that in the letter, yes.

Q. Okay. You used to also write letters to Michael Jackson’s children, right, Prince and Paris.

A. I might have.

Q. You called Michael, Prince and Paris your very best friend -- friends in the world, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Do you recall doing that.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a copy of that card.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: I don’t remember writing that.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You don’t remember that.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember writing any letters that were addressed to Michael, Prince and Paris.

A. My writing doesn’t -- no.

Q. You don’t recall ever doing that.

A. No. My writing doesn’t look that good.

Q. Pardon me.

A. My writing doesn’t look that good.

Q. Okay. Now, you used to write Evvy, Michael Jackson’s personal assistant, and thank her for what she had done for you, correct.

A. Yeah, I would thank her for, like, setting up stuff and helping us.

Q. What nice things had Evvy done for you.

A. She would like -- when I would -- she helped me set up the AOL account with the Internet.

Q. I’m sorry, I can’t --

A. She helped me set up the Internet on the computer that Michael --

Q. What else did she do for you.

A. She was just a really nice lady. I mean, we would call her and she would be really nice to me.

Q. Do you recall ever writing to Michael

Jackson about his injuring his foot.

A. Yes.

Q. And tell the jury what you told Michael Jackson about that.

A. I just told him, like, I hope he feels better, or stuff like that.

Q. You told him that your family was praying for him, true.

A. I think so.

Q. You said you felt sorry about his foot being broken, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said you couldn't wait till you could play at Neverland again, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You called him "daddy" in that letter, right.

A. Yes, I believe so.

Q. Is that true.

A. I don't know, but I'm pretty sure I did.

Q. Okay. You reminded him that he keeps all of his promises, right.

A. Yeah, he would tell me he keeps every promise he says.

Q. Okay. And you reminded him of that in your letter at one time, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said, "I wish I could be with you in New York and watch you record your music stuff." Remember that.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you a copy of this letter.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: Oh, yeah, I remember that.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that document.

A. Yes.

Q. And you wanted to go to New York and be with Mr. Jackson in a recording studio, right.

A. I guess. I mean, yeah.

Q. And that didn’t happen, right.

A. No.

Q. You never traveled with Mr. Jackson to New York.

A. I never traveled with Mr. Jackson.

Q. You called him the nicest, most loving person in the world, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You said, “I love you, Daddy Michael,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. You said, “Thank you, Daddy Michael, for being my best, best friend forever and ever,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You sent another card to him and it said, “Here’s a little something to make you feel better while your leg is healing. Ha ha, ha ha. Love you. Love, your son Gavin.” Do you remember that.

A. Yeah.

Q. Do you remember doing that.

A. Yes. Yes.

Q. Okay. Do you remember sending him a card asking him to, “Please come back, I miss you, I love you”. Do you remember that.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a copy of that card.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that document.

A. Yes.

Q. Does it refresh your recollection.

A. Not really.

Q. Okay. You don’t recall saying words to Mr. Jackson, “Come back, I miss you, I love you”.

A. I mean, because I probably did, but I don’t really remember sending a letter.

Q. Okay. Now, to your knowledge, other members of your family were sending cards to Mr. Jackson as well, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You sent a lot of cards that were signed, “Your son, Gavin,” true.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. You used to refer to Michael as your best friend, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You used to refer to him as “cool,” right.

Right.

A. I don’t know if I said “cool,” but I probably did.

Q. You said you liked being in the music studio at Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you ever in his music studio at Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you with Michael Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Who else was there.

A. I think David was there.

Q. You said who.

A. David.

Q. Your father.

A. No, the -- the -- the dude that would, like, work with all the computers and stuff. And one time when we went in there and he was doing his hair with one lady.

Q. This is someone who works on the computers at Neverland.

A. Well, I don’t know if -- he’s like a computer-whiz-type guy. And then the other time was with the lady that was in there doing his hair or something.

Q. How often were you in the music studio at Neverland.

A. Not really that often. I mean, I would go in there sometimes.

Q. Would you go in there with Michael Jackson or would you go in there with someone else, typically.

A. I would usually go in there when Michael was probably already in there.

Q. And usually what time of day would that be.

A. Afternoon.

Q. Was there a general time you used to go in there.

A. Not really, because it was pretty random. I mean, because we would be probably bored, and then we'd ask, "Where's Michael at," and then we would go to his studio.

Q. And how long would you stay in the studio, typically.

A. An hour or two. Like, we would be in there, and it would kind of give Michael a little break from working. And once he had to go back to work, we would leave and go do something else.

Q. Were you ever in that music studio when Michael Jackson was not present.

A. I think I might have been in there once.

Q. How did you get in.

A. Well, the door was probably open. Because there's a code there, and you can't really get in without the code.

Q. How did you get the code.

A. I said that I didn't know the code. So the door might have been open or something.

Q. Excuse me.

A. It was either someone was already probably in there, or the door was open, because I didn't know that code.

Q. But you and Star used to go into that studio without Mr. Jackson, didn’t you.

A. No, I don’t remember going there randomly.

Q. Do you ever remember being in there with your brother Star.

A. I probably went in there once without Michael being there, but, I mean -- it was probably just to look in there and look if Michael was there.

Q. And my question is -- you’re telling the jury you probably went in there. And my question is, how did you get in, if you know.

A. I don’t know, because I didn’t know the code. So it wouldn’t be punching in the code.

Q. Okay. Did you ever ask anybody for the code to the studio at Neverland.

A. No, I don’t think so. I mean, because that was like Michael’s work area, so I wouldn’t even really want to be in there.

Q. Were you ever in the theater with your brother Star when Michael Jackson was not present.

A. Yes.

Q. How did you get in.

A. The door was usually open to the theater.

Q. And what did you and Star do in that theater when Michael was not with you.

A. Watch movies.

Q. Did you just pick the movies yourself.

A. No. They -- they had this list of all the movies that would be playing in the theater, at his theater. They had like this chalkboard, and you write them there, and say that we could go watch them; that these are the movies that would be playing. And we would go and talk to the guy that works the projector and we asked him what movie to play. And we’d get our little snacks from the booth place and then we’d go sit down and watch.

Q. And did you feel you could just go in there anytime you wanted.

A. Pretty much.

Q. Okay. And did you do that.

A. Yeah. Yes.

Q. Did you start using that theater from the first time you ever visited Neverland.

A. I think we went in there the first time we visited at Neverland.

Q. And correct me if I’m wrong, you would simply go in there and pick whatever movie you wanted, or would it just be the movie for the day.

A. Sometimes they would only have one movie and sometimes they would have more than one movie, and we would go in there and we would watch it.

Q. When you were recovering from cancer, did you used to go into that theater and watch movies.

A. When I had cancer, I think I went in there and watched movies.

Q. Okay. When did you learn your cancer was in remission.

A. June 2001.

Q. Okay. And after you learned your cancer was in remission, when is the next time you remember speaking to Michael Jackson.

A. When he wanted me to go up and do the Martin Bashir thing.

Q. Was that the first time you recall speaking to Michael Jackson after you learned your cancer was in remission.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. These cards that I just showed you, letters and cards, you started sending them shortly after you met Mr. Jackson, correct.

A. Well, not really, because I think we -- I think I started wanting to send the cards when Michael wasn’t talking to me anymore.

Q. When he wasn’t talking to you anymore.

A. Yeah.

Q. And approximately when do you think he wasn’t talking to you anymore.

A. Two months into my cancer.

Q. Excuse me.

A. Two months into my chemotherapy.

Q. Approximately when would that be.

A. August or September of 2000.

Q. Okay. So August or September of 2000, you and your family started sending nice letters and cards to Michael Jackson, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And those are the letters and cards that I showed you a little while ago, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And it was your understanding your mother used to send him cards and letters as well, right.

A. I think so.

Q. And she used to refer to him as “daddy,” didn’t she.

A. I don’t think she referred to him as “daddy.”

Q. You never heard her say that once.

A. Well, toward me, me saying that. Because, I mean, my dad had left. And I started calling him “daddy” after my dad left because I didn’t have a dad.

Q. And your mother approved of that, correct.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay.

THE COURT: All right. Let’s take our morning break.

(Recess taken.)

--o0o--

REPORTER'S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 1797 through 1863 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 14, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California, March 14, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

MONDAY, MARCH 14, 2005

(PAGES 1865 THROUGH 2016)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

THE COURT: All right. You may proceed.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Gavin, I just want to ask you a couple of questions about your illness. Okay. Looking at your medical records, clearly you had a massive amount of tumor, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you had surgery on your spleen, a kidney, the tip of your pancreas, right.

A. I don’t know about my pancreas. But they took out my kidney and my spleen.

Q. All right. Now, how long after your surgery did you learn you were in remission.

A. After my surgery. It wasn’t -- you’re not in remission until you’re done with your chemotherapy.

Q. Okay. So when were you told your cancer is in remission.

A. June 2001.

Q. Okay. And when was your surgery, if you know.

A. June 2000.

Q. Okay. So one year after your surgery, were you told the cancer had disappeared.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. June of 2001.

Q. Okay. And in 2001, you did not go to Neverland, correct.

A. No.

Q. In 2000 you made a number of trips to Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. So you started going to Neverland right after you had your surgery, right.

A. Not right after, because I had to recuperate from the surgeries.

Q. Okay. How many months after your surgery do you think you started going to Neverland.

A. It was probably after the first round of -- because I had to recuperate from the surgery and then I had to do my first round of chemotherapy.

Q. Okay.

A. And so after my first round of chemotherapy, I believe I went to Neverland.

Q. You can play sports now, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And what sports do you play.

A. I play football.

Q. Okay. What position.

A. They have me at wide receiver, but they kind of realized that I was too big, and -- to play wide receiver.

Q. Okay.

A. So they put me on corner now.

Q. Now, have you -- have you ever learned what kind of cancer it was.

A. They didn’t -- no one ever knew what kind of cancer it was. That’s why I only believe that God gave me this cancer to guide my life in a certain way --

Q. Right.

A. -- because they -- no one -- they sent it all over the country and no one could figure out what kind of cancer it was.

Q. What I'm asking is this: How long after the surgery did you learn there was no cancer in your body at all. Was it one year.

A. It was -- well, it's like they had a CAT scan after my fifth round of chemotherapy.

Q. Right.

A. And then they said they couldn't see the cancer anymore, but they said they still had to finish the rest.

I asked them, "Why can't I stop now then." Because, I mean, I didn't like taking chemotherapy, because it made me nauseous and a bunch of other stuff.

But he said I had to finish the next five, because it could be to where it's really, really small, to where you can't see it under a microscope. So they said I had to finish.

Q. Okay. Do you recall -- let me rephrase the question.

Do you remember in 1996 making a false allegation that your mother abused you.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object to that. 403.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: I asked you some questions about Evvy Tavasci. And she was Michael Jackson's assistant, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you talk to her often.

A. Yeah.

Q. And --

A. Yes.

Q. -- when did you begin talking to her.

A. I began talking to her once I -- the first time I met Michael, I mean, I would call her sometimes and ask her about stuff. I would talk to her, and I would ask her if she knew where Michael was sometimes, or stuff like that.

Q. Well, how many times do you think you telephoned Evvy Tavasci.

A. I don’t know. I don’t know how many times I called her.

Q. You called her quite often, didn’t you.

A. I believe so.

Q. And do you know when you began telephoning Evvy.

A. When I first met Michael.

Q. And did Michael give you her phone number.

A. I believe so.

Q. Did Michael tell you you could call Evvy when you wanted to.

A. Not really. It was -- I wasn’t supposed to just call her for a lot of times. Or like -- for just like business -- well, not really business, but, I mean, stuff like if I wanted to go to Neverland or something like that.

Q. I can’t hear what you’re saying.

A. If I wanted to go to Neverland or something like that.

Q. Okay. Did you think she was your friend.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Did you think she was a friend of your family.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you call her every week.

A. No, not really. I mean, we would call her sometimes, but I don’t know if it was every week.

Q. You mentioned that she had helped you set up an AOL account on the computer that Michael Jackson gave you, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And approximately when did she set up that account, if you know.

A. After Michael had given me the computer. Michael told me that he wanted to get me Internet for the computer, so he told me just like -- that’s the kind of stuff I’m talking about to call Evvy, to call Evvy and she would help me set it up.

Q. When you called Evvy to help set up that account, were you recovering from cancer.

A. No. I was in the middle of it -- I mean, I just started.

Q. Excuse me, I couldn’t understand that.

A. I just started chemotherapy.

Q. Okay. So you had just started chemotherapy when you first began talking to Evvy.

A. Because the first time I went up to Neverland he gave me the computer, so that’s when he told me that he wanted me to get Internet. So when I came back, that’s when I set it up, came back to my house. That’s when I set up the Internet.

Q. So you came back to your house with a computer that Michael Jackson had given you, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You called Evvy to help set up an AOL account, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You wanted an Internet account, correct.

A. I thought it would be cool if I had one.

Q. Okay. And Michael Jackson ended up paying for that, true.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And you requested a screen account

name, right.

A. Well, I didn’t request it. Well, it’s because I have the computer and they were telling me what to do. And I put my name in -- I put the screen name I wanted in there.

Q. Okay. You put the screen name you wanted in there.

A. Yeah. Like there’s -- well, when you have the CD and you’re setting it up, like it tells you to do all the things, and --

Q. Right.

A. -- there’s a point where they have you put in what screen name you want.

Q. Right.
A. And I put the screen name that I wanted in there.
Q. Did you do this right after you returned home with the computer Michael Jackson had given you.
A. Probably not right after. Maybe a few days after.
Q. Okay. And was this one of the first things you did when you got home.
A. No. Because it was a few days after I got home.
Q. Okay. So a few days after you returned from your first trip to Neverland, you tried to set up an AOL account on the computer that Mr. Jackson had given you, right.

A. Yes, I did set up an AOL account.
Q. Was that the first computer you'd ever owned.
A. Yes.
Q. Was it the first computer you'd ever used.
A. No, because I -- no.
Q. Explain -- let me rephrase that.
When did you first learn to use a computer.
A. In the first grade.
Q. Okay. Did you own a computer at any time before Mr. Jackson gave you the computer.
A. No.
Q. Okay. But you knew how to use one, correct.
A. I wasn't like a cyber guy, but I knew how to generally use a computer.
Q. You knew what an AOL account was, right.
A. Not really. They told me.
Q. But you immediately started to set one up when you got home with the computer Mr. Jackson gave you, right.
A. Not when I got home. A few days later.
Q. You called up Evvy about setting up that account, right.
A. Yeah. Because -- well, yeah. Yeah.

Q. And you requested a screen account name of gblade2000 --
MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object to that.

THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you remember the password -- excuse me, let me rephrase that. Do you remember the prosecutor asked you questions about passwords.
A. Yes.
Q. And do you remember you talked about what passwords you wanted.
A. Not -- to the prosecutor.
Q. Yeah. Did you say something about “hawk”.
A. Oh, I told him that one of my screen names that I had was whitehawk344.
Q. Please tell the jury what a screen name is.
A. It’s on the Internet. You have like a name that you go by, and that’s the screen name.
Q. Do you remember asking Mrs. Tavasci to change the password to “sexy,” s-e-x-y.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object again. This is in violation of the Court’s order.
THE COURT: Sustained; that is a violation. The jury’s admonished to disregard that. You’re instructed not to go into that.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.
Q. Let me ask you questions about the alarm system.
Do you recall the alarm system at Neverland.
A. I remember an alarm system that was up at -- where like you would see -- where you would -- this one house where they put all this stuff in, like his awards and his gloves, and stuff like that.

Q. When did you first learn about the alarm system at Neverland.
A. Well, he had passwords and stuff, so I’m pretty sure those were alarm systems.

Q. And when did you first see an alarm system at Neverland.

A. I saw the code things, but I never really saw the alarm system.

Q. Now, what code things are you talking about.

A. The code that you push so the doors would open.

Q. And how did you learn about those codes.

A. We'd go into the main house, Michael gave me a code, I guess that's what I learned about it.

Q. Do you remember the number of the code he gave you.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember any of the code numbers at Neverland.

A. I remember the code to his room.

Q. What was the code number to his room.

A. I'm pretty sure it was like 1960.

Q. And approximately when did you learn that code number.

A. I didn't learn that until after I came back from Miami.

Q. Had you ever been -- excuse me. Had you ever learned any code number at Neverland before you got back from Miami.

A. Yes. They -- when I was visiting the first time, they told me the code to the main house.

Q. Who is "they".

A. It was either Michael or the maids.

Q. Did you ever ask anybody for the code at Neverland.

A. Yeah, I would ask Michael.

Q. And did you ever ask anybody else.

A. Well, not really. I mean, I would ask the maids sometimes when I would forget the code and they would remind me. But when I would ask -- like when I didn't know the code at all, and I would first ask, I would usually ask Michael.

Q. Did you ever ask any security person any code number.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever see your brother or sister ask any security person for any code number.
A. No.
Q. Do you recall having the code to get into Michael’s room.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recall having the code to get into any other room at Neverland.

A. No.
Q. Never did.
A. No. I think those are the only two.
Q. Do you recall ever going into any room at Neverland when Michael Jackson wasn’t present, besides his bedroom.
A. I mean, there’s a lot of rooms there. I don’t -- maybe we’d go in the arcade and play video games. I don’t know if that counts.
Q. What rooms at Neverland have you been into when Michael Jackson was not present.
A. The theater. The main house. My unit. The train house -- the train station. I guess that’s it.
Q. Are they the only rooms you ever went into when Michael Jackson wasn’t present.
A. Oh, maybe the library, too.
Q. Did you ever go into his children’s bedrooms, Prince and Paris.
A. Yeah. Well, when Michael wasn’t -- I wouldn’t go in there if -- I mean, because I would go in there to visit Prince and Paris, but, I mean, I never went in there when they weren’t there.
Q. Did you ever go into Prince’s room when Michael Jackson wasn’t at Neverland.
A. I don’t think I did.
Q. Are you sure.
A. Not really, because -- I might have walked through there or something, because, I mean, when you walk up some stairs, there’s -- like all the rooms are connected between all the doors.

Q. Did you ever go into Paris’s room at Neverland when Michael Jackson was not present.

A. I don’t think I did. I mean, because their room is like -- because you could walk through the doll room and just go right to the upstairs. So, I mean, their room wouldn’t really be a room that you can really walk through. So, I mean, I don’t think I ever went into that when they weren’t there.

Q. Are you sure.

A. I’m pretty sure.

Q. Okay. Is Prince’s room near Paris’s room.

A. No, I don’t think so. I think they’re like -- both doors are like in two different corners of the whole upstairs thing.

Q. Have you been in every room in the main house.

A. Um, I believe so.

Q. And why do you believe so.

A. Because I was there a long time, you know, when Paris was there -- or when Prince and Paris were there, and, like, I was there one time when they were getting ready to go to bed. I would walk through the doll room, and then I would go up to where the train thing was, and then they were having their class one time that -- Grace was teaching them. And then I went up there, and I was -- I think I was teaching Prince something. I was helping Grace. And --

Q. Were you helping Grace teach --

A. Yes.

Q. -- the children.

A. Yes.

Q. Where were you helping Grace teach.

A. I don’t know. It was probably -- I don’t even think I was really helping them. I think I was helping them with a puzzle or something.

Q. With a puzzle.

A. Yeah.

Q. You said you were helping with homework or something along those lines, right.

A. Well, I was helping with their schooling.

Q. With their schoolwork.

A. With their schooling.

Q. Please tell the jury what help you were giving Grace as far as the children’s schooling is concerned.

A. It wasn’t really, like, teaching, like you wouldn’t say, “This and this equals this,” or whatever. I was just like -- like Prince might have been doing a drawing, and I was -- I was talking to him about it, and I was saying, “Well, it’s really nice,” and -- or like they might have been doing a puzzle, and I would be helping them do it or something like that.

Q. Did you do that more than once.

A. I think I only did that once.

Q. Okay. And did you ask Grace if you could help out before you did that.

A. Yes.

Q. And she said “yes”.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. How long was that session.

A. Well, I think their school is only like three hours. But, I mean, I think I was only in there for, like, 30 minutes to an hour.

Q. Okay. And was it your understanding that Michael Jackson’s children do their schooling at Neverland.

A. I -- I -- I thought that wherever -- I thought Grace would teach them, and then Grace would go wherever they go, so I guess it would be anywhere.

Q. And was this teaching going on in one of the children’s bedrooms.

A. No.

Q. Where was it going on.

A. It was upstairs, like in the little playroom place.

Q. Well, there’s a room upstairs which has school materials, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And what school materials have you seen in that room.

A. I saw this little tiny chalkboard, and then like these big floor piece puzzles, and -- I don't really remember.

Q. But you've seen schoolbooks in there, correct.

A. No, I don't think so.

Q. Well, that's where the children do their schooling, as far as you know, right.

A. No. I said that I think whenever Grace wants to teach them, that's where they do their schoolwork.

Q. Okay. But you've seen blackboards, you've seen school materials; correct.

A. I said I saw a little kid blackboard, but I don't even think Grace was using it.

Q. Okay. But the room you're talking about is not one of the children's bedrooms, correct.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, was that the first time you'd been in that room.

A. No.

Q. When was the first time you went through that room.

A. I mean, because the room wasn't really a classroom. I mean, per se. They would use it as a classroom. There would be stuff there. There would be -- to use as a classroom. There was like this video game thing there. I think it was in that room. And I think it might have been in the same room as the big train thing.

Q. Was it your understanding that Michael's children are tutored in the main house.

A. My understanding was that they are tutored, but I don't know where.

Q. Okay. Okay. But you don't think it's in that particular room you just described.

A. It probably was. I mean, I’m saying wherever Grace wanted it, they could have it, because it’s not like she had a set classroom. It’s not like they’re going to New York and they’re going to come back to Neverland to do their classing, their schooling.

Q. Do you remember approximately when you helped Grace tutor the children.

A. Probably after I came back from Miami.

Q. Okay. Wasn’t before then.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Did you see the children tutored the first time you went to Neverland.

A. No. That was the only time I ever saw them, really.

Q. Now, is it true that you introduced Chris Tucker to Michael Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. And approximately when was that.

A. Well, I think I gave -- it was either I gave Chris Michael’s phone number or -- well, I think I gave Michael Chris’s phone number, and then I called Chris after a while and I asked him if Michael called him yet, and then he said that he hadn’t. And so then I just gave him one of Michael’s phone numbers, or I gave him Evvy’s phone number, I’m not sure, just so he could do it himself; he can call Michael.

Q. Do you recall ever being in Michael Jackson’s bedroom and hearing the alarm go off.

A. The little “dee-do, dee-do” thing.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Approximately when was that.

A. I don’t know. After Miami. I mean, but it’s -- because -- I mean, when you’re up in his bedroom, like you can hear it, but it’s not as good as if you’re downstairs, but you can still kind of hear it.

Q. Okay. When you were initially interviewed by the sheriffs, you were asked about what happened after the Bashir documentary was on television, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when did you first hear about the Bashir documentary that appeared on television.

A. On the news and from Michael.

Q. Were you watching the news at home when you first heard about it.

A. I didn’t really know that it was the Bashir documentary per se. But I knew that they were talking about kids sleeping in his room or whatever.

Q. Well, you mentioned to the sheriffs about people coming to your house and bothering you, right.

A. Yes. I think so.

Q. And when did that first start.

A. I think after we came back from Neverland.

Q. Okay. You say after you came back from Neverland. When was that.

A. I don’t know. I’m not sure.

Q. Well, when you told the sheriffs that people were coming to your house and bothering you, what were you referring to.

A. Well, one time we caught one of Michael’s security guys that we thought he was standing in -- trying to stand behind a car, and then my stepdad went out and was like -- asked him what he was doing, and then we saw him run, and --

Q. Well, your mother had asked for security because she said your family was being hassled, didn’t she.

A. I don’t know if she asked him or -- who are you saying that she asked.

Q. You never heard your mother say she wanted some security because your family was being hassled.

A. No, I knew that she didn’t like it, but, I mean, I don’t know if she asked for security.

Q. Okay. Okay. We talked last week briefly about all the conversations you had with Michael Jackson at the hospital, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. You had initially testified that there was just one call, correct.

A. Well, it’s like -- I don’t -- I’m probably sure I called him more than once, but, I mean, the one I’m for sure of is the first time he called me to go up to Neverland for the first time.

Q. You told the sheriffs there were times when you would speak to Mr. Jackson on the phone for hours, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And what did you used to talk about, if you remember.

A. We would talk about, like, video games or people I knew, and people he knew, or a CD he might be trying to do or a song or something, or his life, or my cancer, or Simpsons and Disney cartoons.

Q. And you had a lot of those discussions in the hospital, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you had discussions after you got out of the hospital, right.

A. We would have discussions, yes. Yes.

Q. And you would have discussions after you got out of the hospital at home, right.

A. They were -- a majority of them, if not all of them, were -- well, the majority of them were at my grandmother’s house.

Q. Okay. And would you call Mr. Jackson.

A. Sometimes I would call him, and he would call me sometimes.

Q. Okay. And these conversations would last sometimes a couple hours, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said you would talk about cancer. You would talk about the Simpsons. You would talk about video games, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember anything else you talked about.

A. That's pretty much it right there.

Q. Do you recall your first trip to Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. And how did you get there.

A. They had us pack all our bags, and then a limousine came in the front of my grandmother's house. And we were all surprised because we didn't think we were going to go up in a limousine. Well, I didn't think I was going to go up in a limousine. I didn't know that we were. And I was really happy, because that was the first time I'd ever been in a limousine. And we threw all our bags in there and then we went up to Neverland.

Q. Who told you you were going be picked up to go to Neverland.

A. Well, I believe my parents set it up. But I don't know who really told me. I knew what day and I knew Michael wanted me to go up, but, I mean, I didn't really know, like, all the logistical stuff.

Q. When you were responding to Prosecutor Sneddon's questions, do you remember discussing Jay Leno.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, isn't it true that in none of your interviews with the sheriffs and never when you testified before the grand jury on two occasions did you ever mention Jay Leno, correct.

A. Yes. Because I thought he didn't have anything to do with this case.

Q. Did Prosecutor Sneddon tell you at some point that Mr. Leno had something to do with the case.

A. Yes. Well, he asked me about what I know about Jay Leno and how I came about to have him in my -- well, not really have him, but, I mean, how he -- I don’t know how to say it. Like, he pretty much just asked me what I know about Jay Leno.

Q. Did Prosecutor Sneddon tell you that I had mentioned Jay Leno in this courtroom.

A. No.

Q. Did he tell you how the name Jay Leno had come up in the case.

A. No.

Q. When did Prosecutor Sneddon first mention the name Jay Leno to you.

A. Well, actually, it wasn’t really -- Mr. Sneddon was there, but I believe it was -- I don’t remember who exactly asked me, but I remember him being there, and I remember Mr. Sneddon shaking his head, but I don’t think it was Mr. Sneddon that actually asked me.

Q. Do you know approximately when this meeting took place.

A. Before I even -- maybe a day or two before I first came to testify here.

Q. So it was after this trial had started, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And did Mr. Sneddon call you on the phone to discuss this.

A. No. I met with him.

Q. Okay. Did someone ask you to come meet with Mr. Sneddon.

A. Yes.

Q. Who was that.

A. I don’t remember. I remember they told me that I was going to, but I don’t remember who exactly.

Q. Do you remember where the meeting took place.

A. In a house.

Q. Okay. Did Mr. Sneddon ask you to testify that Jay Leno was your favorite comedian.

A. No.

Q. Okay. When did the idea that Jay Leno was your favorite comedian come up in this case.

A. Well, Jay Leno was my favorite comedian, but I don't really understand what --

Q. Do you remember calling Jay Leno on the telephone.

A. I remember calling -- yeah, I remember calling his phone.

Q. Do you remember speaking with Jay Leno on the telephone.

A. No, I never spoke with Jay Leno.

Q. At any time.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever try to reach Jay Leno on the telephone.

A. Yes.

Q. And who did you call, if you know.

A. I called a phone number that I was given.

Q. Where did you get the phone number.

A. It was either Jamie Masada or Louise Palanker.

Q. Did you dial the number.

A. Yes.

Q. Was your mother with you.

A. No.

Q. Was anybody in the background.

A. Well, when I called him, I'm pretty sure that I was in the hospital, so either it could have been my dad, or maybe a nurse that would come in to do my vital signs or something.

Q. And you dialed the number, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you have any idea who answered the phone.

A. Answering machine.

Q. And did you ever actually get Mr. Leno on the phone.

A. No.

Q. So you deny you've ever spoken to him on the phone, right.

A. I've never spoken to Jay Leno.

Q. Okay. You never mentioned Mr. Leno to Psychologist Stanley Katz, right.

A. No, I don’t think so.
Q. And you never mentioned Mr. Leno to Lieutenant Klapakis during any interview, correct.

A. No, I’ve never mentioned Jay Leno to anybody. Except --
Q. I’m sorry.
A. Except for when they asked me what I know about Jay Leno.
Q. To your knowledge, did anybody in your family contact, or try to contact, Mr. Leno while you were ill.
A. No. Because I was the only one with the phone number.
Q. Did you ever give it to your mother.
A. No.
Q. Ever give it to your father.
A. No.
Q. Ever give it to Star.
A. No.
Q. Ever give it to your sister Davellin.
A. Her name is Davellin. But, no, I never gave it to her.
Q. Okay. You left a message on his machine, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you ever get a call back from anyone claiming they represented Mr. Leno.
A. No.
Q. All right. So what you’re saying is if anybody spoke to Mr. Leno and said they were you, it was certainly a false statement, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sustained.
THE WITNESS: I never spoke to --
THE COURT: Just a moment.
Next question.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Has Prosecutor Sneddon

ever discussed with you his conversation with Mr. Leno.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, object. Assumes facts not in evidence.

THE COURT: Sustained. Assumes facts not in evidence.

MR. MESEREAU: I'll rephrase it, Your Honor.

Q. Has Prosecutor Sneddon ever told you that he had a conversation with Jay Leno about this case.

A. No.

Q. Has Prosecutor Sneddon ever told you that any Santa Barbara sheriff had a conversation with Jay Leno about this case.

A. No.

Q. Never told you that at all.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Did you hear the alarm in Michael Jackson's bedroom more than once.

A. The little "dee-do" sound.

Q. The alarm.

A. Yeah, like when Frank would come in or something, you could hear it.

Q. You could hear the alarm go off.

A. Yeah.

Q. How many ringing sounds would you hear.

A. It would go like three times, "dee-do, dee-do," like three times. And that's how many ringing sounds it was.

Q. Have you ever discussed that alarm system with your brother Star.

A. Probably. I don't know.

Q. Did you talk to your brother Star about what he said about the alarm system in this courtroom.

A. No.

Q. Have you discussed with your brother Star anything you said in this courtroom.

A. No.

Q. How many times do you think you entered Michael Jackson's bedroom when Mr. Jackson wasn't there.

A. I never went inside his room when he wasn't there.

Q. To your knowledge, did your brother ever go into his room when he wasn’t there.

A. I don’t think my brother went into his room when he wasn’t there.

Q. Okay. So you have no knowledge of him doing that, correct.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Prosecutor Sneddon asked you questions about your father abusing you and your mother, right.

A. I believe so.

Q. You always refer to David as your biological father, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Did someone ask you to use that term.

A. No.

Q. How did you start calling him “my biological father”.

A. Because I accepted my now father Jay Jackson as my real father, because he’s more of a father than my real father ever was.

Q. Okay. You testified that Michael Jackson and Frank showed you a computer and went to websites with naked women, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And approximately when was that.

A. That was like on the first night that we were inside his room that we were going to go to sleep.

Q. And you said it was like an Apple computer; is that right.

A. I’m not sure, because I don’t remember -- I think it was Frank’s computer because -- it wouldn’t be mine, because I didn’t set up the AOL account until, like, after I came back, so it was probably Frank’s computer.

Q. Was your computer an Apple computer.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You told the sheriffs that it was either your computer or Frank’s computer during one of your interviews, right.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was Frank’s computer an Apple computer.

A. I think it was probably a Sony computer.

Q. And you told the sheriffs that Frank started looking at girls on those sites, right.

A. He started, like, typing up stuff, yes.

Q. Pardon me.

A. Yes.

Q. And did he ask you to join in.

A. No, well, he was -- he had it on his bed and he set it up, and there were -- well, Frank was typing in stuff and looking. And me, Michael and my brother were there.

Q. Is that when you say that Michael Jackson looked at a naked girl on the computer and said, “Got milk.”

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, to your knowledge, did Michael Jackson or Frank ever show you a website on a computer like that at any other time.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. Was that the only time.

A. I believe so.

Q. Okay. And Frank’s the one who initially was pressing the buttons to look up the site, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You also testified that at some point Michael Jackson showed you some girlie magazines, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And I believe you mentioned Hustler and Playboy to the sheriffs, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. You also testified that at some point Michael Jackson pretended that he was having sex with a female mannequin, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And you also told the jury that at some point Michael Jackson mentioned the word “clitoris,” or “clitoris,” right.
A. I don’t think I did.
Q. Did you testify to that.
A. (Shakes head from side to side.)
Q. Ever tell the sheriffs that.
A. No.
Q. Okay. And your testimony to the jury is that after Michael Jackson showed you women on websites, after he showed you Hustler and Playboy, which are girlie magazines, and after he pretended to have sex with a female mannequin, he then at some point masturbated you; is that correct.

A. Yes.
Q. Is that what you told the sheriffs.
A. Yes, I told the sheriffs about that.
Q. Now, at some point, you went to the Hilton Hotel to visit Michael Jackson, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And approximately when was that.
A. I was in my second round of chemotherapy.
Q. And you were with your father, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And you say that was around the time of your second round of chemotherapy.
A. Yes.
Q. And who invited you to the Hilton Hotel.
A. It was either I called Michael or Michael called me, and I asked him where he was. And then he told me that he was in -- more like near -- around L.A. And then I asked him -- I think I asked him -- yeah, I asked him if I could visit him.
Q. Okay.
A. And then he said it was okay. And so I went up there and visited him for like two hours.
Q. And how long were you there.
A. Two hours.
Q. Okay. With your dad, right.
A. My dad was in another room. And then with me and Michael, we were in his bedroom with Prince and Paris, and we were watching Aaron Carter’s music videos.

Q. And Prince and Paris were there the whole time, right.

A. Yes.

Q. How did you get to the Hilton.

A. My dad drove me there.

Q. And he drove you in an SUV that Michael Jackson had given your family, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know when Michael Jackson gave your family that SUV.

A. I think it was like right after my second round of chemotherapy, Gary came and -- I think he was going to drive me up from Neverland right after my second round. And then once I went in -- he drove me up in the truck, and then I walked up to the truck, and I was like, “Is this Michael’s truck.” And he was like, “Yeah.”

And I said, “Wow, my grandfather has one that looks exactly like this one.”

And Gary was like, “Well, this one’s yours now.”

Q. That was Gary Hearn.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And just -- Gary Hearn was an employee of Mr. Jackson’s, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you’re telling the jury that Gary Hearn told you that your family owned the SUV, right.

A. He told me that Michael gave it to us.

Q. Okay. And did he leave it at your house, to your knowledge.

A. No, we were coming -- it was in the garage of the hospital, and I went in there, and there’s like a little bow in the center console between the two seats and stuff.

Q. You complained to the sheriffs that someone had taken that truck back, right.

A. Yes. I said I believe so.

Q. You complained to the sheriffs that your family thought it was their truck, and at some point someone representing Mr. Jackson took the truck back and never returned it to you, right.

A. Um, I think it was that we had the truck and somebody crashed into it or something. And then we had asked Michael if they can fix it and give it back to us. And then we gave it -- we -- they had it, they got the truck so that they can fix it and give it back to us, and they never gave it back to us.

Q. Who crashed the truck.

A. I don’t think it was someone -- I think someone crashed into it.

Q. Do you know who was driving it at the time.

A. I think it might have been parked. I’m not sure. I don’t really know how it happened exactly.

Q. It might have been who.

A. It might have been parked while it went -- and someone, like, ran into it or something, because I don’t really remember how exactly --

Q. Yes, but somebody ran into it while your family had possession of it, right.

A. Yes, well, we owned it.

Q. When you owned it, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And at some point, someone in your family asked if Mr. Jackson would pay to repair it, correct.

A. I’m pretty sure. I mean --

Q. Pardon me.

A. I’m pretty sure.

Q. All right. Let me just make sure I understand. You’re pretty sure that someone in your family asked if Mr. Jackson would pay to repair the SUV that you claimed he gave your family, right.

A. Yeah. Because, I mean, it had to have been like that, because the guy came to fix it.

Q. And you did complain to the sheriffs that the truck was never returned to your family, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Because you believed that your family owned the truck at that point, right.

A. Because Michael said he -- well, Gary said that Michael said he gave it to me. And then I called Michael later to thank him, and he said, “Yeah, it’s your truck now.”

Q. Okay. People in your family -- well, I shouldn’t say that. You were personally upset about that, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, vague as to what “that” is.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it.

Q. You were upset that your family never got that truck back, correct.

A. I was more sad because then we didn’t have a vehicle to use to go anywhere.

Q. Okay. Do you recall ever asking Chris Tucker for a vehicle.

A. No.

Q. Do you know of any member of your family ever doing that.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Never heard of anything like that.

A. I remember Chris gave us -- was going to give us a vehicle.

Q. And what happened.

A. It never was able to -- I mean, someone lost the key and something like that, and that was the only key, and then -- and then I think all this stuff started.

Q. So you never got a vehicle from Chris Tucker, right.

A. No.

Q. Were you upset about that.

A. Well, I mean, I was kind of sad, but I mean -- yeah, I mean, it’s like he was going to give it up, that would be nice, so I don’t really have that much of a right to be angry.

Q. Okay. Now, you complained to the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that, “After I was done with my cancer stuff,” you never saw Michael again, right.

A. No, not until the Martin Bashir thing.

Q. Okay. And you wanted to see him after you were in remission, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You wanted to visit Neverland after you were in remission, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you felt in some way that Michael had cut off the friendship, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You felt he had abandoned you, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you felt he had abandoned your family, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at some point you told the sheriffs that Michael had given your family a Bronco, correct.

A. I believe -- I’m pretty sure that the GMC was called Bronco.

Q. Are you sure about that.

A. I’m not exactly sure what kind of truck it was.

Q. You also complained to the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that your computer had gotten messed up, right.

A. I think I did. The battery stopped working. It wasn’t -- the computer just wouldn’t turn on. It would always stay black.

Q. This was the computer that Michael Jackson had given you, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And at some point you asked to have Michael Jackson fix the computer, right.

A. Well, I told my mom about it. And then my mom said, well, we could probably call Evvy and they can help us fix it.

And then I called Evvy and asked her if they can fix it for me. And Evvy said yes. And then so we mailed it to her or dropped it off or something like that, and then I never got it back.

Q. Well, actually, your mother asked Evvy if Michael Jackson would fix the computer, right.

A. I don’t know who exactly asked.

Q. Well, you told the sheriffs that your mother had asked, didn’t you.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I just show you a page of the transcript of your interview.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that page --

A. Yes.

Q. -- of your police interview.

Does it refresh your recollection about what you told Santa Barbara Sheriffs.

A. A little bit. I mean --

Q. You told him that your mother asked to have the computer repaired, right.

A. Yes. But as I told you, I’m not -- as of right now -- I mean, that interview took place a while ago. I mean, I’m not sure who exactly called. But in the transcript it says that, so that’s probably what happened.

Q. Okay. Is it your belief that your mother called Evvy.

A. I believe so.

Q. Your mother used to call Evvy a fair amount, didn’t she.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did you ever see your mother call Evvy.

A. Maybe once or twice.

Q. Not -- no --

A. Maybe -- I’m pretty sure I saw her call for the computer, because I asked her. And I’m not sure exactly how many times she called Evvy.

Q. And you complained to the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that you never got the computer back, right.

A. Yeah, I told them that I didn’t get the computer back.

Q. Did you used to communicate with Evvy by e-mail.

A. I don’t know. I don’t think I did.

Q. Okay. Are you sure about that.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Did you know how to use e-mail at that point.

A. A little bit. I mean, it was kind of hard. Well, it wasn’t really hard. I just didn’t really understand it at first, and then I got the hang of it, but --

Q. You indicated at the Hilton you watched music videos with Mr. Jackson, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you know why Mr. Jackson was at the Hilton.

A. I think he was doing some recording thing. Well, yeah, he told me that he was going to do some recording in Los Angeles, or something like that.

Q. And at some point you complained to the sheriffs that Mr. Jackson had changed his phone numbers after you visited the Hilton, right.

A. Well, that was the only phone number I left -- or I called -- well, I’m not sure. Because the only phone number that never changed was Evvy’s phone number. And I would call her and I would ask her sometimes where Michael was or something. And then -- and I had the phone number to his hotel, so I think I called him at his hotel and asked him if I could go visit him. I think it was around -- I’m not sure when exactly.

Q. When did you first get upset about your phone numbers for Michael Jackson not working.

A. Maybe around the third or fourth chemotherapy round I called his numbers and it would be, like, “This phone number is no longer in service.” Or sometimes it would just ring and it wouldn’t never -- no one would ever pick up or something like that.

Q. This was after your cancer was in remission.

A. No, this was around the third or fourth cancer -- round of chemotherapy.

Q. Suddenly his phone numbers didn’t work, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And did you try to get ahold of phone numbers that would work.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Well, you’ve indicated that you were upset that the phone numbers you had for Mr. Jackson at some point didn’t work, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And the phone numbers you had for Mr. Jackson began to not work after it appeared that your cancer was in remission, correct.

A. No, I said they stopped working after my third or fourth chemotherapy round.

Q. Okay. Before that, could you easily call him.

A. Yes.

Q. And before that, did you often call him.

A. Yes. And he would call me and stuff. We would talk -- we talked a lot more before then.

Q. In fact, you called him at the Universal -- Hilton Universal the day you visited, right.

A. I believe so. I’m not too sure how it came about.

Q. Who did you complain to about your phone numbers to Mr. Jackson not working.

A. I didn’t complain to anybody.

Q. Ever mention it to your mother.

A. I’m pretty sure I did.

Q. Ever mention it to your brother and sister.

A. I’m pretty sure I did -- well, the first person I told was my biological father, and then -- because he was usually the one always with me like when we would go up to Neverland or go with me to -- with Chris or something.

Q. So you complained to your biological father David that around the time of your third chemotherapy treatment the phone numbers you had for Michael Jackson were not working, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to the question, the use of the first part of it, because I believe that’s not his testimony, so it assumes facts not in evidence.

THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer. Do you want the question read back.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: I didn’t really complain. I mean, I was in the hospital, and -- I was either in the hospital or at my grandmother’s house or something. And I told my dad that -- I told my biological father that they weren’t working anymore.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Well, when you first started talking to Michael Jackson in the hospital, you talked to him about your cancer, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And he used to talk to you about ways to deal with it, right.

A. Sometimes he would, yes.

Q. And he tried to encourage you to believe in yourself and you could heal, correct.

A. Yes. He would tell me that like -- that -- to -- like this one time he told me to eat up cancer cells like a Pac Man. Something like that.

Q. And what he told you was to sort of visualize in your mind Pac Man eating up bad cancer cells, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you do that.

A. Not really.

Q. Did you ever try to visualize.

A. Well, yeah, I think I did once, but I mean --

Q. Now, when you had your third chemotherapy treatment, you were getting encouraging signs from the doctor, right, about beating cancer.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were being told that it looked like you might beat this thing, right.

A. I didn’t really get told that until my fifth chemotherapy round where they had that CT scan.

Q. But didn’t you complain to the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that after your cancer was over, Michael stopped communicating with you.

A. It wasn’t after my cancer. It was toward the beginning of my third chemotherapy round.

Q. You told them, “After I was done with my cancer stuff,” you couldn’t call Michael anymore, right.

A. I couldn’t call Michael either at that period, or the period when I had cancer.

Q. Okay. When you were undergoing chemotherapy, you visited Neverland with Chris Tucker on a couple of occasions, correct.

A. I don’t know if it was during my cancer. I think it was -- I visited him after. I don’t know.

Q. Approximately when was that, if you know.

A. I went up there with his birthday for Dustin, so whenever his birthday is.

Q. I’m sorry, I can’t hear you.

A. I went up there whenever his birthday was, whenever Dustin’s birthday was. But I don’t know what came first, either the Martin Bashir thing or Dustin’s birthday. I’m not sure.

Q. And Michael Jackson wasn’t there, right.

A. No.

Q. Do you know how that trip got arranged.

A. Which trip.

Q. The trip with Chris Tucker to Neverland when Michael Jackson wasn't even there.

A. Well, I'm not sure if Dustin -- well, if it was Dustin's birthday or Chris's -- or, I mean, the Martin Bashir thing. So I'm not -- I don't know how it got arranged that we'd go up there. I mean, I don't -- like -- I don't really know whether it was like a limousine or something.

Q. But you don't know who set that up, right.

A. Not exactly. Well, the -- I think the Martin Bashir thing I went up there with Chris. And then with the Dustin thing, I went up there in Chris's bus with a bunch of other people, his family and stuff.

Q. Are you telling the jury that when you did the Martin Bashir filming, Chris Tucker was with you.

A. Um, I'm -- I don't know whether he drove me up there or not. I -- because I'm not too sure how, like, all this stuff -- how I got up there. But I know I went up there with Chris for Dustin's birthday.

Q. Do you remember Chris being there when you were filmed for the Bashir documentary.

A. I don't know, because I think I might have went up there with Chris, because I remember going up there with Chris one time when we were riding horses, and then he was wearing like this -- this thing that like only like sheiks would wear, and he was joking around, and we were all riding horses and stuff. And I don't know -- I think it might have been around the time that I was -- that Martin -- that the Martin Bashir thing got filmed.

Q. To your knowledge, Chris Tucker wasn't in the Bashir documentary, right.

A. No.

Q. Did you leave Neverland after that visit with Chris.
A. After -- well --
MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, I’m going to object as vague as to “that visit.” We’ve discussed a couple of them.
MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it.
THE COURT: All right.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you were at Neverland to film what became part of the Bashir documentary, at some point you went home, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And did you go home with Chris Tucker.
A. No. We stood there and we went swimming and stuff.
Q. What was the state of your cancer when you filmed what became part of the Bashir documentary.
A. The Martin Bashir interview thing.
Q. Yes.
A. I was in remission.
Q. And for how long had you been in remission at that point.
A. I’m not sure when it was filmed. So I’m not sure how long.

Q. Do you know if it was a number of months.
A. Yeah. Definitely.
Q. At that point, could you reach Michael Jackson by telephone if you wanted to.
A. No, after the Martin Bashir thing, he didn’t give me any phone numbers, because he left, like, either the same day or the day after the Martin Bashir interview, and I didn’t really get any other phone numbers.
Q. But your phone numbers for Michael Jackson stopped working before the Bashir documentary, didn’t they.
A. Yes. Michael called me to go up to Neverland. He said that he was trying to find me or something like that to go -- for him to talk to me, and then he wanted me to go up to the Martin Bashir -- well, he didn’t tell me that. He told me he wanted me to go up to his ranch and visit him.

Q. You hadn’t been able to call Michael Jackson by phone for many, many months before you were filmed in the Bashir documentary, right.

A. No, I was not able -- well, I didn’t have a phone number.

Q. Okay. Now, in the year 2001, you don’t recall ever going to Neverland, right.

A. No.

Q. You started going in the year 2000, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You didn’t go there in the year 2001, right.

A. I don’t think I did.

Q. And at some point you heard from Michael Jackson and went there for the Bashir filming, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you visited Neverland a number of times in the year 2000 with your biological father, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you remember if Michael Jackson was there during those visits.

A. I think he was there for the -- I think he was there once. The first time I went there he was there. And then I think the second time I went there, he was there and then he had to leave.

Q. When your father was at Neverland with you, did you ever stay in Michael Jackson’s room.

A. No, I only stood on the first night, and then the rest of the nights I just stood in, like, the units and stuff.

Q. And when you say you stayed there the first night, is that the night you described where Michael Jackson and Frank slept on the floor, and you and your brother slept on the bed. Is that what you’re talking about.

A. Yes, I believe so.

Q. And is it your testimony that that first visit, you had dinner in the main house with your family and Michael Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. And during that dinner, was there a discussion about whether or not you and Star could sleep in Michael Jackson’s room.

A. The first day.

Q. Yes.

A. Yeah. Like, we were in Michael’s office and then we were talking about stuff, and then Michael told me to ask if I could go sleep in his room so we can watch, like, movies and stuff.

Q. Was there a discussion at the dinner table that evening with your parents and Michael Jackson about whether or not you could stay in his room.

A. Yes. Michael told me to ask my parents in front of him and my parents.

Q. Did you ask your parents in front of Mr. Jackson at the dinner table that evening.

A. Yes.

Q. Did your parents both approve you and your brother staying in Michael Jackson’s room.

A. Yes.

Q. And that’s the night you say Michael and Frank slept on the floor, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever ask either of your parents after that whether you could stay in Michael Jackson’s room.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. You don’t think you ever asked them that question again.

A. I think it was like we only stood there that one night, and then after that, we stood in our units or something. Because I think that’s the only night I slept in his room, the first night.

Q. Okay. You said after that, you had stayed in the guest units.

A. Yes.

Q. And are the guest units where your mother was staying.

A. Well, there’s a lot of guest units, so I think me and my brother had a room. Me and my brother and my sister had a room, and my mom and my dad had another room.

Q. Okay. And you and your brother would stay in those guest units, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And approximately how many of those trips to Neverland do you think you and your brother stayed in the guest units.

A. After that first night we would stay in there every night we would go there, every time, or sometimes we would go to the train house and sleep up there.

Q. You’d sleep in the train house.

A. Yeah.

Q. Please tell the jury where the train house is.

A. It’s on top of a -- like you come -- like the guest units are right here, and you go up the side of this hill, and then up there there’s like this train station. And then you can sleep in there, because there’s, like, couches, and you can roll out a bed, and then there’s a T.V. there and stuff. It was pretty cool.

Q. How many times do you think you and your brother stayed in the train house.

A. A few nights, I guess.

Q. When you visited Neverland with Chris Tucker, did you stay in the train house.

A. Yeah. I think so. I think that’s the time that we stood in the train house.

Q. Do you know where Chris Tucker stayed when you visited Neverland with Chris Tucker.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever go into his room.

A. I think we might have. I don’t know. I mean, I don’t know where he stood right as of now. I mean, I don’t remember, but I don’t -- I think we went into his room to, like, say, “Let’s go do this," or something like that.

Q. Let me ask you this: After the first night your family was at Neverland, when do you next remember your mother visiting Neverland.

A. Not until after we came back from Miami.

Q. So you don't think your mother ever visited Neverland between your first visit in the year 2000 and right after the Miami trip.

A. Yes. I don't think she did.

Q. Okay. You don't recall her being there at all.

A. No.

Q. Okay. And you recall your father being there once or twice.

A. No, I recall my father being there every time I went up there.

Q. And how many times was that.

A. When I had cancer, it was -- well, he went up there every time that I had cancer. And he was -- I'm not sure how many times I stood there. That was -- because I think I stopped going out there after my fourth chemotherapy round. And so it was -- probably we went there, like, four or five times, or something like that, yeah.

Q. At some point you learned about the Bashir documentary by watching television, right.

A. Well, I didn't really know it was the Bashir documentary until I -- we started talking about it more with Chris, and stuff like that.

And I just remember watching the news and they were talking about kids and Michael, but I didn't really know they were talking about the Martin Bashir documentary.

Q. Well, you were watching CNN, correct.

A. I think I was. I don't know.

Q. And at some point you saw a reference to yourself being in the Bashir documentary, right. Is that true.

A. I didn’t know it was the Bashir documentary, but they said -- I personally thought it was some guy that was saying stuff about Michael. And they were talking -- I thought they mentioned my name when they were talking about Michael. But I didn’t know it was the Martin Bashir documentary until, like, we started talking to Chris and stuff.
Q. But you told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs your name was mentioned a lot, correct.
A. No, I think I only told them my name was mentioned maybe -- I don’t think “a lot.” But, I mean, I did think my name was mentioned.
Q. You told the sheriffs, “Because on, like, CNN and stuff, they started saying, like, Gavin -- Gavin this and Gavin that, right.
A. I don’t remember. I mean, I guess I did, because it’s in the transcript.
Q. Were they really mentioning your name on the newscasts.
A. Yes.
Q. How many times did you hear your name mentioned on the newscasts.

A. Three or four times. I don’t know.
Q. Did you -- were you watching that with your mom.
A. Yes. Our whole family was watching it.
Q. And generally speaking, would you say your family was upset.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And do you recall your mother ever calling up Michael Jackson to talk about it.
A. No. I remember Michael calling us.
Q. Do you recall your mother ever discussing the fact that you had legal rights regarding that show.
A. No. I mean -- the Martin Bashir thing.
Q. Yes.
A. No.
Q. Do you recall your mother ever discussing her claim that she never gave permission for you to be on a show.

A. Oh, yes. I remember that.
Q. Okay. And when is the first time you heard your mother complain about her not giving proper permission for you to be on the show.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Do you recall ever going to a lawyer with your mother to discuss your legal rights in that regard.

A. Hmm, I’m not sure.
Q. Do you remember discussing that with Attorney Bill Dickerman.
A. Oh, yeah, yeah. We went to The Laugh Factory and we talked to Bill. My mom was talking to him. I mean, I was, like, playing around or something. I was -- like, with the microphone.
Q. And the discussion concerned, among other things, the fact that you had legal rights in that documentary, right.
A. I guess. I mean, I wasn’t really paying attention. I was kind of bored.
Q. Okay. Do you recall -- do you remember the rebuttal video.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember you went to Hamid’s home to film the rebuttal video.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember discussions before you filmed that video about whether or not your mother was going to sign a release.
A. Not too sure.
Q. Do you remember anything like that.
A. No.
Q. You claim that Michael Jackson called you on the phone and said there’s going to be a press conference in Florida, right.
A. Yes.

Q. Did you want to be in a press conference.
A. Yeah. I wanted to, like, say that Michael was a good guy and stuff.

Q. And you were disappointed when you got to Florida and no press conference took place, right.

A. I guess. But, I mean, I was still kind of having fun, so it wasn't that big of a deal to me.

Q. I couldn't hear what you said.

A. I was still having fun, so it wasn't really that big of a deal to me.

Q. Well, you thought that you were going to Florida to appear in a press conference with Michael Jackson, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You flew on Chris Tucker's plane to Florida, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You stayed at a luxury hotel, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You came back a couple of days later, right.

A. We went right to Neverland after we came back.

Q. And there never was a press conference that you appeared at in Florida, right.

A. No.

Q. And that upset you, didn't it.

A. Um, as I said, not really. Because it wasn't -- I mean, I thought we were. I mean -- and then he said that we're not going to. Well, he didn't really say that we're not going to. I mean, it never really happened, so it's like -- I was like, "Okay, whatever." I mean -- and I was still having fun playing around and stuff, playing video games and stuff.

Q. When you were in Miami, you stayed with your mom in a room, right.

A. Yes.

Q. That was at the Turnberry Hotel, right.

A. Yes.

Q. That was a floor below Michael Jackson's suite, true.

A. I don't know.

Q. It wasn't a floor below.

A. I said that I don’t know.

Q. Do you remember your mother ever complaining that she wanted to be in Michael Jackson’s suite.

A. No.

Q. Never heard anything like that.

A. No.

Q. And you say you never stayed overnight in Mr. Jackson’s room at the Turnberry in Miami, right.

A. No. I never stood in his room.

Q. Do you remember telling the Santa Barbara Sheriffs that Michael Jackson first touched you inappropriately during your last days at Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you telling the truth.

A. Yes.

Q. This was shortly before Vinnie drove your family to your grandparents’, right.

A. Not -- well, it was like a week or -- probably two weeks before Vinnie drove us back.

Q. Well, you said to the sheriffs it was during the last days at Neverland, right.

A. Well, days equals -- seven days equals a week, so it could be days. So, I mean, it was more like a week or two.

Q. We’ll get to that.

Did you discuss over the weekend with Prosecutor Sneddon exactly when you say this inappropriate touching took place.

A. No. Not over this -- no.

Q. Did you have any discussion at all with the prosecutors last night about when you say the inappropriate touching took place.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, when you claim you were masturbated, were you wearing pajamas.

A. Yes, I was wearing Michael’s pajamas.

Q. Okay. Now, clearly during the last days at Neverland, you and your family, from what you say, wanted to leave, right.

A. Well, my mom always wanted to leave. I wanted to stay, because I was having lots of fun, but my mom was always really worried.

Q. Well, at some point you say you escaped from Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You’ve told the jury you escaped a couple of times before the final escape, which was when you left for good --

A. Yes.

Q. -- right.

A. Yes.

Q. So what you are telling this jury is that after a couple of escapes, and following your return from those escapes, you claim you were inappropriately touched. That’s what you’re saying, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Overruled.

You may answer. Do you want the question read back.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, you told the sheriffs that after Miami, you slept in Michael Jackson’s room every night, right.

A. I slept in his room every night that Michael was there.

Q. And this would include visits when your mother was staying at Neverland, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Are you telling the jury that you never discussed your staying in Michael’s room with your mother.

A. Not really, because my mom was always in her unit. She was never outside or with us really. I mean, so we would just go into Michael’s room.

Q. Are you telling the jury that your mother never asked you, during any of those visits, “Where are you spending the night.”

A. Not really, because I think she thought we were sleeping in our unit. I mean, because she was always in her unit.

Q. Are you telling the jury your mother never left her unit at any time after the Miami trip.

A. She probably left a few times, but, I mean, mainly she was always in her unit.

Q. And how many nights do you think you spent in Michael Jackson’s room after the Miami trip.

A. I’m not sure because, I mean, every time that Michael was there, me and my brother would be in his room.

Q. And you never had one discussion with your mom at any time after Miami about where you were staying at night.

A. I might have. I don’t think I did. I’m pretty sure that I didn’t, because she was never really involved in what we were doing at Neverland.

Q. And you’ve told the jury that you and your brother were drinking every single night, right.

A. Every night that Michael was there.

Q. You were drinking alcohol every single night that Michael was there; is that what you’re saying.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. How about the nights that Michael wasn’t there.

A. We wouldn’t drink. I mean --

Q. Well, you and your brother were caught by employees at Neverland drinking when Michael wasn’t there, weren’t you.

A. No.

Q. Never happened.

A. No.

Q. No one ever walked in the wine cellar at Neverland and caught you and your brother drinking when Michael wasn’t there.

A. No.

Q. Did you know where the key was to the wine cellar.

A. No.

Q. To your knowledge, did your brother know where the key was to the wine cellar.

A. I don’t think he ever knew. He was always with me everywhere we went.

Q. Did you ever learn where the key was to the wine cellar.

A. No.

Q. To this day, you don’t know.

A. To this day, I don’t know.

Q. Never discussed it with your brother.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, correct me if I’m wrong, you’ve told the jury -- excuse me, let me rephrase that. You’ve told the sheriffs that Michael Jackson would give you and your brother Bacardi, right.

A. That was one of the things he gave us, yes.

Q. That was rum, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you also said he’d give you Skyy Vodka, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Jim Beam, which was bourbon, right.

A. I don’t know what it is, but, yes.

Q. And red and white wine, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you drink all this stuff at once.

A. No, it was over the whole period of time that we were over there.

Q. Okay. But never once did you taste any of this stuff when Michael wasn’t there.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Never took any alcohol out of the refrigerator in the kitchen, right.

A. No.

Q. Never got caught taking alcohol out of the refrigerator in the kitchen, right.

A. I never took any alcohol out of the refrigerator in the kitchen.
Q. To your knowledge, was your brother ever caught taking alcohol out of the refrigerator in the kitchen.
A. I was always with him during the day, so no, he didn’t.
Q. Okay. Now, you told the sheriffs at some point your mother was scared and wanted to leave Neverland, right.
A. My mom was scared, like, the whole time.
Q. Did you discuss your mother being scared with your mother at Neverland.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you have talks with her about it.
A. Yes.
Q. And at no time during any of those discussions did where you and Star were sleeping at night come up.
MR. SNEDDON: Object as asked and answered, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You talked about a black 1930 suitcase. Do you remember that.
A. Yes.
Q. When did you first see the black suitcase.
A. The same night that we came back from Miami.
Q. And this is right after the Miami trip.
A. Yes.
Q. The first night you’re back.
A. Yes.
Q. And when did you first see it.
A. In Michael’s, like, bathroom room, and, like, he had all this stuff. Like he had, like, a sink and a bathtub and a mirror and stuff.
Q. Before I explore that subject, you’ve talked to the jury about Michael Jackson giving you a watch that you claim he said was worth $75,000, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And that’s the watch you claim that others wanted to get back from you, right.

A. Oh, yes. Like the -- I think Frank wanted me to give it back or something like that.
Q. So after the Miami trip, you had the watch, right.
A. Yes.
Q. You claimed that Mr. Jackson told you it was worth $75,000, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Were you wearing it.
A. Yes. I believe so, yes.

Q. And did Frank or someone else notice the watch, to your knowledge.
A. Yeah. Yes.
Q. Did you discuss the watch with Frank.
A. Not really in -- I think Chris -- I mean, Frank wanted me to give it back. And then I told Michael, and Michael was like, “No, no, that’s your watch. I gave it to you.”
Q. And did you have a discussion with Frank about whether you should return it.
A. Frank, I think, wanted me to return it, and Michael told me not to.
Q. At some point, did you ever complain to anyone that that watch was not worth $75,000.
A. No. I always thought it was worth $75,000.
Q. Did you ever learn at some point it wasn’t.
A. No.
Q. To this day, is that what you think.
A. I’m pretty sure that’s how much it’s worth.
Q. Okay. Do you recall the Make a Wish Foundation.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you have experience with them.
A. Yes.
Q. What is your experiences with Make a Wish Foundation.
A. They called me up because I have cancer. They do it for everybody that has -- every child that has cancer. And then they call you up and say that, “You have one wish,” and they tell you that, “Pretend I’m the genie, and you have one wish that you can have.”

And then I asked them -- first I asked -- I wanted a dog, like a little puppy, a beagle, but my, like, dad -- my parents said that I can’t have a beagle because it can get me sick. So I ended up just asking for a vacation.

Q. And did you obtain any benefits from that foundation; do you know.

A. Just a vacation.

Q. They paid for a vacation.

A. Yes.

Q. And approximately when was that.

A. Well, the doctor said to not go, because I would have -- because I had -- like, it was such a big amount of chemotherapy, that it would wipe out every single one of the blood cells that I had. So I would -- it would be bad if I get a fever, because I was getting lots of fevers, because my white blood cells can’t fight it because they’re so little. And I would have to go in the hospital, and then they’d have to give me antibiotics.

And if I was over in Hawaii, and I got a fever because of some bacteria or something that was in me, I -- I wouldn’t be able to go back, and then I would get really sick.

Q. Did Michael Jackson ever help you make contact with that foundation.

A. No, I don’t believe so. I believe the hospital social worker did.

Q. Do you recall ever discussing with Mr. Jackson the Make a Wish Foundation.

A. I think I asked him if he donated money to the Make a Wish Foundation.

Q. Do you recall what he said.

A. He said that he did.

Q. Okay. Do you know when you discussed that with him.

A. I think it was like when he was doing the rebuttal thing, when he was getting ready to do the rebuttal. He was writing down all the foundations that he ever donated to.

Q. And did you have a discussion with him about that.

A. Not really. I mean, I saw him -- I mean, we were talking about it, or whatever, and then we were like, “Okay, okay,” and then we left and we were playing some more.

Q. Okay. Now, you mentioned on your first day of testimony that when you showed up for the Bashir filming, there was some discussion about a burn victim.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the jury what that was about.

A. Well, there was a boy there that had gotten burned really bad, and then Michael said that he helped him or something. And then that he was going to -- that he was going to film him, too. So --

Q. Were you supposed to be in the same film.

A. Yeah. Yes.

Q. And did you have a discussion with Michael about that subject.

A. About me being in there.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Did you ever meet this person who was burned.

A. Yeah, I think Michael introduced me to him.

Q. And when was this.

A. Around the same time as the Martin Bashir thing.

Q. Was it at Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you talk to this person.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember the person’s name.

A. I think his name might have been David.

Q. Was it Rothenberg.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Was this a young man that you learned’s father had poured gasoline on him and set him on fire.

A. I don’t know.
Q. Okay.
A. I think that’s what happened.
Q. And he was supposed to be in the film with you, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And correct me if I’m wrong, you discussed with Michael the fact that Michael had helped this young boy, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did you talk to this young boy about what he had experienced.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Did you ever see him.
A. Yes.
Q. And please describe for the jury what he looked like.
A. He looked like he was really badly burned and he had like -- he was like a rocker. He was wearing, like, rocker stuff. And he was burned. And he had like only a few hairs on his head because I guess it covered all the pores when he was burned.
Q. Did you and he appear in the film, if you know.
A. Later I watched it, and then -- well, I watched my part, and then I don’t think he was in there.
Q. Okay. But was he at Neverland the day you were filmed.

A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did you meet him shortly after you arrived.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did you and he walk around Neverland.
A. No. I don’t think so.
Q. How much time did you spend with him.

A. Michael introduced me to him and he was older than me, so I mean -- I was pretty young. I mean -- I don’t know. We just didn’t really have that much in common that much.

Q. Okay. Were you ever personally threatened by anyone associated with Mr. Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Okay.

THE COURT: Let’s take our morning break.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: All right. You may proceed.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, do you recall being interviewed by the Santa Barbara Sheriffs about drinking in the arcade.

THE COURT: They can’t hear you in the back of the room.

THE BAILIFF: Do you still have your microphone on.

MR. MESEREAU: It’s on.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, do you recall discussing with the Santa Barbara Sheriffs your claim that you were drinking in the arcade with Michael Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall telling them the following: “We didn’t drink a lot”.

A. No.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a transcript from that interview.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m sorry, Counsel, what page was that.

MR. MESEREAU: 26.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, have you had a chance to look at that page.

A. Yes.

Q. Does it refresh your recollection about what you told the Santa Barbara Sheriffs.

A. Not really.

Q. You told them, “We didn’t drink a lot,” right.

A. I don’t know. It says it on there.

Q. Do you recall saying that.

A. No.

Q. Pardon me.

A. No.

Q. Do you deny saying that.

A. I don’t know if I ever said that.

Q. Would you agree that every time you were interviewed, your stories of drinking got worse and worse, correct.

A. No.

Q. You initially told them you didn’t drink a lot.

A. That’s true.

Q. Then you started telling them you drank a lot, and then you started telling them, “We drank every night,” correct.

A. Well, “a lot” would be every night, so it would really --

Q. Pardon me.

A. “A lot” would be every night.

Q. And you’re saying after Miami that you basically were drinking every single evening at Neverland, correct.

A. No, I told him that every single evening that Michael was there. In those transcripts, probably when -- I still -- I don’t know.

Q. Isn’t it true that every time you were interviewed, your stories of drinking got bigger and bigger and bigger.

A. No.

Q. Are you saying your stories to the sheriffs were always consistent when it came to drinking.

A. I’m pretty sure they are. I mean, it doesn’t really matter whether I said that or not. I’m saying the fact is that we drank every night that Michael was there.

Q. Did you ever discuss your drinking with your mother when she was at Neverland.
A. I think I called her up at night -- yeah, I called her up at night once.
Q. You called her up.
A. Called her on Michael’s phone.
Q. You called her from Michael’s room to say you were drinking.
A. No.
Q. During the nights after Miami, when your mother was staying at Neverland, are you saying you never discussed your drinking with her.
A. No. I -- there was one -- I’m talking about the one night that I told Michael that -- I told Michael about the test that I had to take, and I called my mom up. That’s what I was talking about.
Q. Okay. So not only did you never have a discussion with your mother about where you were staying at night, but you never had a discussion with her about drinking alcohol; is that correct.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you were at the Calabasas Inn, was there a phone in your room.
A. I’m pretty sure there was.
Q. Did you ever see anybody call the police.
A. No.
Q. When you were shopping near the Calabasas Inn, to your knowledge, did anyone ever scream “help”.
A. No, I don’t think so.
Q. Ever see your mother do it.
A. No.
Q. Ever see Star do it.
A. No.
Q. Ever see your sister do it.
A. No.
Q. You didn’t do it either, correct.

A. No.

Q. After you escaped from Neverland the first time, where did you go.

A. I think we went to my grandmother’s house.

Q. To your knowledge, did anybody call the police and say, “We’ve been” --

A. No, because the thing was, like I --

Q. Let me just finish my question.

A. Okay.

Q. After you say you escaped from Neverland the first time, you went to your grandparents’, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And how did you get there.

A. Jesus Salas drove us there.

Q. Do you recall anyone ever calling the police and saying, “We’ve just been held against our will”.

A. No. Because like I -- my mom was --

Q. Let me just ask you the questions. Okay. Nobody did, right.

A. No.

Q. A few days later, you went back to Neverland, right.

A. I believe -- yes.

Q. And then you say you escaped a second time, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And when you escaped the second time, how did you get out of Neverland.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Someone drove you somewhere, right.

A. Yeah, probably.

Q. Did you go to your grandparents’ again.

A. Probably.

Q. Nobody called the police from your grandparents’ when you say you escaped the second time, right.

A. No.

Q. And then you claim you returned, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you say you finally escaped for good,

right.

A. Yes.

Q. And when you got back after finally escaping for good to your grandparents’, nobody called the police, correct.

A. No.

Q. Now, when you say Mr. Jackson masturbated you, you’ve indicated that was sometime between Jesus Salas driving your family to your grandparents’ and your final trip out of Neverland, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And that’s at a time when you say your mother was being threatened, correct.

A. My mother said that she felt -- that she was being threatened, she felt. And Frank also told me once that -- because he was angry about my mom always wanting to leave and stuff.

Q. Okay.

A. And --

Q. But basically what you’re saying is that the inappropriate touching by Michael Jackson happened after you’d escaped a few times, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. After you’d gone back a few times after your escapes, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And after you claim you knew your mother was being threatened by Frank, correct.

A. Frank was angry at my mom once and he told me, “Hey, Gavin, you know I could have your mother killed.”

Q. Okay. And you believed him, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you believe Frank.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And you knew about the Brazil planning at this point, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Because you'd been to an agency, a federal office to get a visa, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember driving down to that federal office.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember going into the federal office.
A. Yes.
Q. And while you were in that federal office, nobody screamed for help, right.
A. No.
Q. And this was after you had the interview with the three social workers at Jay Jackson's home, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And during the interview with the social workers at Jay Jackson's home, nobody screamed for help; true.

A. No.
Q. And that was after you went to Hamid's home for the rebuttal video, right.
A. I think it was. I don't know.
Q. Right.
A. I think it was.
Q. And what you're saying is that after your interview with the social workers, where you were asked questions about Michael Jackson, you're saying it was after that that inappropriate touching began, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. While Mr. Jackson is being investigated by Los Angeles County, true.
A. It -- it didn't happen until the last few weeks before I left. Or two weeks, somewhere around there.
Q. Let me ask the question again.
A. Okay.
Q. The three social workers were from Los Angeles County, true.
A. I think they were.

Q. And they were asking you questions about whether Mr. Jackson had ever inappropriately touched you, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you said “No,” right.

A. Yes.

Q. You knew they were investigating Mr. Jackson, right.

A. No, I thought they were just going to try to ask me, and that was it. I didn’t know --

Q. But what you’re telling the jury is that after this investigation starts and after you and your family are questioned, Mr. Jackson supposedly starts touching you inappropriately, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, you indicated to the jury last week that the first time Mr. Jackson inappropriately touched you, you weren’t looking at him, right.

A. Well, it’s like I would turn over to him sometimes. I glanced over at him a couple times.

Q. You said you weren’t really looking at him, right.

A. Not really.

Q. Okay. You said you weren’t looking at him, but you could somehow feel him moving, correct.

A. I could feel his leg like moving up against --

Q. Okay. After that, did you complain to your mother that you had been inappropriately touched.

A. No. I never discussed it with my mom. I never discussed it with my mom at all.

Q. Did you complain to Star that you had been inappropriately touched.

A. No.

Q. Did you complain to your sister that you had been inappropriately touched.

A. No.

Q. Did you complain to Jay Jackson that you had been inappropriately touched.

A. No.
Q. Were you upset when you say you were inappropriately touched.
A. If I was upset.
Q. Yes. Were you upset.
A. Yeah. Because, I mean, something happened to where, like, it's not like I can go back and change it; you know what I mean. It's like something that I have, like, no control of.
Q. Well, at this point, in your mind, your mother's been threatened and you've been inappropriately touched, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And you remained at Neverland, true.
A. Yes.
Q. And you claim you continued to stay in his bedroom, right.
A. Well, I think he left after the second time.
Q. You think Michael Jackson left after the second time.
A. Yeah, a few days after the second time.

That's why I'm pretty sure that it happened a few -- two weeks before, because I know I'm pretty sure that Michael left like a day after the second time.
Q. Well, but you told the jury last week it was a couple of days before you left for good. Do you remember that.
A. No. You kept on saying that.
Q. Pardon me.
A. No. You kept on saying that.
Q. Well, let's look at this.
You said that maybe a few days before you left Neverland for good you were inappropriately touched, right.
MR. SNEDDON: Judge, I'm going to object as asked and answered. He was asked this morning.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you remember saying last week, Mr. Arvizo, when I asked you when it happened, you said, "No, it was more toward the end, toward when we were already about to leave, after we had been drinking alcohol and all that stuff. It wasn’t directly after the DCSF. It was more toward the end of the” -- a few days before you left Neverland, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Same objection, Your Honor. Asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You then changed it later on in that examination to say, “It was a week before we left,” right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to counsel. He’s just trying to read this in after the objection.

THE COURT: Sustained. Counsel, you’re -- be quiet. You’re arguing your case. Stop it. Start asking questions.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

Q. Do you know when you first saw Attorney Larry Feldman.

A. Yes.

Q. When was that.

A. It was after all the stuff was done.

Q. And approximately when.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Have you discussed your meeting with Larry Feldman with any prosecutor.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. At any time.

A. No.

Q. Pardon me.

A. No. I don’t think I ever talked to anyone.

Q. So you’ve never talked to any prosecutor about your meeting with Attorney Feldman. Is that what you’re saying.

A. I don’t think I did.

Q. Okay. Did you ever discuss your meeting with Attorney Larry Feldman with any sheriff.

A. I don’t think I did.

Q. Do you know for sure.

A. No.

Q. You eventually spoke to a psychologist named Stanley Katz, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know about when that was.

A. No.

Q. You told Stanley Katz that chemotherapy had messed up your head. Do you remember that.

A. Yeah, it -- for a while it was hard for me to do schoolwork in school because of the chemotherapy.

Q. And you told Stanley Katz that, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you tell him you had memory problems.

A. Yeah, for a while I had memory problems.

Q. And that was from chemotherapy, correct.

A. I believe so.

Q. Were you taking any medications at the time you returned to Neverland from Miami.

A. I had -- I have to take, even now, the 500 milligrams of Amoxicillin, and five milligrams of Lycinopril for my kidney and because I don’t have a spleen.

Q. Do you remember telling Psychologist Stanley Katz you thought a crazy fan of Michael Jackson will kill you.

A. Yes.

Q. You never told that to the sheriffs, correct.

A. I’m pretty sure I discussed it with them.

Q. Well, it never appears in your interviews, right.

A. Yeah, I guess it didn’t. But, I mean, it doesn’t mean I didn’t tell them that.

Q. The only time that you used the word “kill” was when you told the sheriffs that Frank had threatened to kill your mom, right.

A. Uh-huh. In an interview.

Q. When did you start thinking that a crazy fan of Michael Jackson will kill you.

A. When Frank kept on telling us that people -- there was death threats on us.

Q. What were the death threats.

A. I don’t know. Frank just told us that.

Q. Well, when you discussed that with Stanley Katz, you didn’t tell him that came from Frank. You told him you personally were frightened, right.

A. Yeah. Be -- but I mean --

Q. Is that right.

A. Yes. Frank was the one that really made me realize that that could happen.

Q. Okay. Now, did you ever discuss with Michael Jackson your fear that a fan might hurt you.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did you ever discuss with Michael Jackson what Frank was telling you that you thought was threatening.

A. I don’t think I did.

Q. Okay. So based on your experiences, Michael Jackson knew nothing about what Frank was saying to you, correct.

MR. SNEDDON: Object. It calls for speculation.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you were at the Calabasas Inn, you never spoke to Michael Jackson, right.

A. No, I don’t think so.

Q. The night before you did the rebuttal video, you never spoke to Michael Jackson, right.

A. I might have. I don’t know.

Q. The day you did the rebuttal video, you never spoke to Michael Jackson, right.

A. No. Michael was telling me that I’m going to do a rebuttal for him.

THE REPORTER: What was the last part.

THE WITNESS: Michael was telling me before we went that we were going to do the rebuttal for him.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Approximately when was that.

A. Maybe right before the rebuttal.

Q. When you spoke on that rebuttal video, were you telling the truth.

A. No.

Q. Were you lying.

A. Dieter had us pretty much -- yeah, Dieter had us lie.

Q. Were you lying throughout that rebuttal video.

A. There was probably a few things that were true, but, I mean, a lot of it was what Dieter told us to say.

Q. Was it your understanding that your mother was lying.

A. She was saying what Dieter told her to say.

Q. Was it your understanding she was lying.

A. Yes, she was lying, because Dieter told her to say it.

Q. Was it your understanding that Star was lying in that rebuttal video.

A. Yes.

Q. And was it your understanding that your sister lied on that rebuttal video.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were lying about Mr. Jackson helping you with cancer; is that correct.

A. No, because Michael did help me a little bit, but, I mean, he -- for me, what I felt as a little kid, I mean, besides the fact of all this money and who paid for this and who paid for that, who -- I felt who really helped me was my other friends.

Because Michael, at the time when he was calling me and talking to me and stuff, I felt like he was my best friend. But, I mean, when he -- when I would call his phone numbers and a little operating lady would say, “This phone is no longer in service." I mean, I never called Chris and his phone was never in service. I never called George and his phone wasn't in service.

Q. Do you recall being caught at Neverland with girlie magazines when you were not around Michael Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Are you saying that never happened.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, 403 hearing.

THE COURT: Sustained.

I'll -- that's sort of a -- you know what he's talking about on the 403 hearing, right.

MR. MESEREAU: I thought I was able to get into these areas on cross.

THE COURT: Yes. That's why I'm looking at you, because I don't want to discuss it. I just want to make sure we understand each other.

MR. MESEREAU: Yeah, I won't go further than that on this one.

There's another area, too, I think the Court gave me permission.

THE COURT: That's correct.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, you were caught masturbating at Neverland when Michael Jackson wasn't even around, weren't you.

A. No.

Q. You were caught masturbating in a guest quarters, weren't you.

A. No.

Q. No one ever saw you do that.

A. No.

Q. No one ever talked to you about that.

A. No one ever talked to me about it.

Q. Okay. Long after you did the rebuttal video, you had written numerous letters and cards to Michael Jackson thanking him for what he did for your cancer, true.

A. Yes.

Q. Long before you did the rebuttal video, you had written numerous cards and letters to Michael Jackson referring to him as your father, true.

A. Yes. Because I missed him. I mean, I wanted to know what happened, why he wasn’t calling anymore. And that’s the only real way I had connection with him was through mail, because I had Evvy’s -- I knew where Evvy was, so I could send it to her.

Q. And long before you did the rebuttal video, you sent cards and letters to Michael Jackson referring to yourself as his son, true.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. This has all been asked and answered.

MR. MESEREAU: I don’t think it has.

THE COURT: Well, there wasn’t a time frame. You have covered the cards and letters. Is there a specific time frame you’re concerned about.

MR. MESEREAU: Any time before the rebuttal video, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I think you’ve covered that. The objection is sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Okay.

Q. We’re going to go through the rebuttal video. And I’m just going to ask you some questions about what you said and how you said it. Okay.

A. Okay.

MR. MESEREAU: All right. Your Honor, at this time we’d like to play the rebuttal video.

THE COURT: What is that. “Input 4”.

MR. SANGER: Yes. Your Honor, for the record, it’s Exhibit 340.

THE COURT: Exhibit 340.

Ready.

I’d like one of those whistles just before I make a ruling.

MR. SANGER: Tell me to queue it up, Your Honor.

Just for the record, I turned the sound off on this so we wouldn’t....

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s

Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, you heard what your mother just said, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And is it your belief your mother is lying.

A. Um, right there, not really, because I had a pretty good relationship with him, you know, right at the beginning.

Q. So you don’t think your mother is lying when she makes that statement, correct.

A. Well, not really, because, I mean, he was like really close to me in the beginning. I mean, I guess, I thought I was close to him; you know what I mean.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, when you made those statements, were you lying.

A. Statements about the first night.

Q. What you just said, yes.

A. The sleeping arrangements.

Q. Yes.

A. No, I wasn’t lying about that.

Q. Have you told any lies so far in this rebuttal tape.

A. I don’t -- I remember I said something that -- oh, yeah, because Michael told me in the office, in his office, to ask my parents if I could sleep in his room. So it wasn’t -- he told me to ask in front of my parents.

Q. So are you saying this is a lie you just told.

A. I’m just saying that -- about how I asked my parents.

Q. Yes.

A. That’s a lie.

Q. That’s a lie.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Is that the first lie you've told in this rebuttal tape, as far as you can see.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, you heard what you just said. Is that a lie.

A. No.

Q. Was everything you said there truthful.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, you've heard what your mother just said. Was it your belief that she was lying.

A. There's a part in there, like, that there was no way to cure me. Dieter told us to say that.

Q. Okay. So that was not true.

A. Yeah, because they did do radiation and chemotherapy.

Q. The truth was, you had needed radiation and chemo to cure you, and what your mother said was a lie, correct.

A. About there was no way to cure me, that Michael was the only person that could cure me.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, is what you said there the truth.

A. Yes.

Q. Have you told any lies in this particular segment.

A. No.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Gavin, is your mother telling the truth.

A. Yes, because I remember -- I think Michael did, like, a blood drive or something. Yeah, a lot of my other friends were also helping, thank God, because, I mean, it's such a rare blood that I needed.

Q. But is your mother telling the truth in the statements she makes.

A. Yes. About Michael, yes.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Gavin, is your sister telling the truth when she makes that statement.

A. Not really, because she was saying that -- well, she was saying that people were always turning us away. And that's not true, because, I mean, Jamie Masada was helping us, Louise Palanker was helping us, George Lopez was helping us. I'm pretty sure -- I'm not too sure, but I'm pretty sure Dieter told her to say that also, that no one else was helping us but Michael.

Q. And Chris Tucker was helping you, correct.

A. Yes, Chris Tucker was helping us, yes.

Q. Okay. And this is the rebuttal video that you did before the meeting with the three social workers, correct.

A. I don't know. I'm pretty sure I did it before the social workers.

Q. You went the next morning to interview with the social workers, didn't you.

A. I think I did.

Q. Okay. Let me ask you a question: You said repeatedly in this trial that Mr. Jackson did not inappropriately touch you until after this video was done, correct.

A. Yes.
Q. And repeatedly in this video, you make statements about what a wonderful person Mr. Jackson is, right.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you remember telling Mr. Sneddon and the sheriffs on one occasion that you were molested before the video was done.
A. No.
Q. Would it refresh your recollection if I show you a transcript of that interview.
A. Yes. Please.
MR. MESEREAU: May I approach, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you had a chance to look at that transcript.

A. Yes.
Q. Does it refresh your recollection that Mr. Sneddon was interviewing you about when these acts of molestation allegedly occurred.
A. Yes. But the thing was, I don’t -- even to this day, I don’t remember exactly when everything happened exactly, so I mean --
Q. Well, do you remember being asked, “The acts of molestation, had they already begun by the time you did this video, do you know.” And you said, “I think so.”
And then Mr. Sneddon said to you, “So, in your mind, one of the things that you’re thinking is, they’re doing this video that they want you guys to do so that if you ever told them the truth about being molested, nobody would believe you,” and you say, “Yeah,” right.
A. Well, I --
Q. Do you remember saying that to Mr. Sneddon.
A. That’s more of my opinion - you know what I mean. - right there. That last statement you just said on that transcript, it’s more of my opinion than a state of fact.
Q. Well, Mr. Sneddon asked you last week when this inappropriate touching supposedly occurred, and you said it was after the rebuttal video was made, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. But in an interview with Mr. Sneddon before this trial ever began, you told him differently, correct.

A. That’s what it says right there. But it happened after.

Q. Did someone ever say to you, “You have to say it happened after, because on the rebuttal video you deny he’s ever done anything wrong”.

A. No. No one’s ever told me that.

Q. Then why does your story change.

A. I don’t know. It happened after. I mean --

Q. Well, at some point did you go to Mr. Sneddon and say, “I’m changing my story about when this inappropriate touching happened”.

A. No.

Q. At some point did you go to the sheriffs and say, “I’m changing my story about when this inappropriate touching happened”.

A. No.

Q. You just suddenly got on the stand and changed it.

MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Have you ever had any discussion at any time with Mr. Sneddon where you used words to the effect, “I’m changing my story about the time this molestation happened”.

A. No.

Q. Okay. When Mr. Sneddon asked you questions last week about when this molestation supposedly occurred, was that the first time you said to Mr. Sneddon it happened after the rebuttal video.

A. I don’t think so.

Q. You don’t think so.

A. I don’t think that was the first time I ever told him that it happened after the rebuttal video.

Q. So are you saying that at different times you gave Mr. Sneddon different accounts of when the molestation supposedly happened.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to that question. Assumes facts not in evidence, and it’s argumentative and speculative.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Do you want the question read back.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: Sometimes I would talk to Mr. Sneddon without having like an interview -- or, like, have a recorder or something. And I would talk -- like, Mr. Sneddon was being really nice to me. Like he was helping me, and he was making me feel better about what happened and stuff. So he’s been really nice to me.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you remember telling the Santa Barbara Grand Jury that after the Miami 1964 trip, your brother stayed in Michael’s room with you every night until the last few days.

A. Yeah, he stood in my room -- he stood in the room with me and Michael pretty much every day. Some days he wouldn’t stay there.

Q. Do you remember telling the grand jury that until the last few days, your brother Star stayed with you in Michael’s room all the time.

A. He stood with us -- well, he -- the last -- the last week or two, or a few days, or something like that, he didn’t. Well, because my brother wasn’t there when it happened, so I’m pretty sure it wasn’t -- he stopped staying there the last few weeks.

Q. Do you remember telling the Santa Barbara Grand Jury:

“Q. Was your brother staying in the room with you during that time.

“A. Well, the last few times he didn’t, but he was, like, when Michael was there -- when

Michael was there --
“Q. Uh-huh.
“A. -- he stood with me for all the time when Michael was there. But, like, toward the end, toward the last few days, he wasn’t staying with me no more.”
Do you remember that.
A. Uh-huh.

Q. And you’ve also told this jury that the two times you claim Michael Jackson inappropriately touched you Star wasn’t there, correct.
A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: We can continue.
MR. SANGER: Are you ready. Your Honor, we need the....
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you think your sister is lying when she made those statements.
A. No. Because, I mean, people on the news media were -- might have been saying something, probably. I don’t know.
Q. So you think she’s telling the truth when she says what she just said.
A. Probably. I mean, I looked at her, and she’s crying and stuff, so....
MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Go ahead.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Is what your mother just said correct.
A. No. Because we could have at any time stood at my grandmother’s house. I mean, it’s not like --
Q. In your opinion, was your mother lying when she made that statement.

A. I remember hearing Dieter talk to her, so

I'm pretty sure Dieter told her to say that.
Q. Well, that --
A. We can stay at my grandmother's house. We could stay at one of our family members' house; you know what I mean. It's not like we were spit on and all this other stuff; you know what I mean.
Q. My question to you is, did your mother just lie, in your opinion.
A. She's saying what Dieter told her to say.
Q. Did she lie. Yes or no.
A. She -- well, only because --
MR. SNEDDON: Argumentative, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Overruled.
You may answer.
THE WITNESS: Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Go ahead.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You just heard your sister's statement; is that true.
A. A little bit of it is true.
Q. Did she lie in part of that.
A. I mean, because we would talk about girls at times, and -- like all my friends that were females and stuff like that. But I mean --

Q. You would talk with Michael Jackson about your female friends.
A. Yeah. He would talk to me about girls and how to, like, handle them; you know what I mean. Like how to talk to a girl or something like that.
Q. So that statement's true.
A. Yes.
Q. And anything else you just heard that's not true.
A. No, not really. No.
Q. Okay.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Was the statement you just made true.

A. No. Because I didn’t really have a phone number to call him.

Q. So were you lying.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Was your mother lying also.

A. No, not really.

Q. Was she telling the truth.

A. Pretty much, yeah.

Q. After the Miami trip, were you able to call Michael Jackson.

A. Michael would -- I was at Neverland.

Q. Were you able to call him after the Miami trip.

A. I would talk to him when he was at Neverland. I mean, I didn’t really call him.

Q. Did you ever call him at Neverland on any phone.

A. I don’t know. I don’t think I did.

Q. You don’t remember.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. Well, there were phones you could use to try to call Michael Jackson when you were at Neverland, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Where were the phones.

A. All over the house and stuff.

Q. You tried to call him often, didn’t you.

A. Well, why would I try to call him if I could just go and talk to him at Neverland.

Q. Well, it’s a large ranch, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You used to spend time in the theater, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever try and call Michael Jackson from the phone in the theater.

A. No. Because I would just go over in my little cart to see Michael.

Q. Did you ever try to call Michael Jackson from the guest quarters.

A. No, because I had the code to his room and I would go up there when he -- when he was there.
Q. Ever try calling him from the amusement area.
A. No. There’s not really any phones out there.
Q. Ever try calling him from the zoo area.
A. No.
Q. When you made this rebuttal video, you could get in contact with him almost any time, couldn’t you.
A. I could drive over to where he was in my cart at Neverland, but never had a phone number if he left or something.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Is what your brother Star just said true.
A. Yeah, Michael let us call him --
Q. Pardon me.
A. Yes, Michael let us call him “Daddy Michael.”
Q. So what he said was correct.
A. Yes.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s 1970 Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Was the statement you just made the truth.
A. Yeah. Yes.
Q. Is what your mother just said the truth.
A. I guess. I mean, I don’t know if Michael was trying to teach us that or --
A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: We can’t hear.
THE WITNESS: I don’t know if Michael was trying to teach us that or something.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Well, did your mother tell the truth, in your opinion.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you tell the truth, in your opinion.

A. Yeah, we'd go on rides and watch movies.

Q. How about the other things you said, are they true.

A. Yes.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Is what your mother just said the truth.

A. I kind of stopped paying attention for a while.

Q. Excuse me. Huh.

A. I started looking at the roof and stuff. I wasn't really paying attention.

MR. MESEREAU: Can we replay that, Your Honor.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, Judge, it would call for speculation on his part anyhow.

MR. MESEREAU: I'm asking for his opinion.

THE COURT: I guess you'll have to.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

THE COURT: Can you do it without --

MR. MESEREAU: This may take a while, Your Honor.

I think we'll just go forward, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Do you want to just go forward.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: In your opinion, is your mother telling the truth.

A. Yes, we felt as if he was closest to us as a father and family.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Were you telling the truth when you made that statement.
A. What I just said right now.
Q. Yes.
A. Well, I didn't pray to meet Michael Jackson

when I was little.
Q. Did you pray to meet Michael Jackson at any time.
A. No.
Q. You made a statement about Michael Jackson's charitable acts. Did you hear that.
A. Yeah. I knew he donated to charities. I knew about that.
Q. Was the statement you made true.
A. Yes.
Q. You just heard your mother make some comments.
A. Um --
Q. In your opinion, were they true comments.
A. I don't really remember what she just said. I'm sorry. I just --
Q. Well, your mother praises Michael Jackson throughout this video, true.
A. Yes.
Q. Is she telling the truth.
A. Some parts she is; some parts she isn't. Depends on what she's praising him about.
Q. Did you and your mother discuss that you were going to lie before you did this video.
A. No. Dieter discussed it with us.
Q. Did you discuss that you were going to tell lies with your mother at any time before this video.
A. No. Dieter discussed it with us.

Q. Did you discuss with your brother or sister at any time that you were going to lie in this video.
A. No.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: In your opinion, did Michael ever claim you and your brother and sister as his kids.

A. Well, he would call me “son” if -- depends what she was trying to say, but -- I don’t know.

Q. In your opinion, did Michael Jackson ever claim that you, your brother and sister were his kids.

A. What do you mean by “claim”. Like claim on T.V., or claim on his taxes, or --

Q. You don’t know what I’m asking you.

A. Well, he said -- as I said, he called us -- he said that, like, if he would call me “son” sometimes - you know what I mean. - if that’s what she’s trying to say.

Q. Did you ever think you were part of Michael Jackson’s family.

A. I felt as if I was his family.

Q. In your opinion, did your mother think she was part of Michael Jackson’s family at one point.

A. What did my mom believe.

Q. No, in your opinion, did your mother think she was part of Michael Jackson’s family at one point.

A. Um, I don’t know. That’s what she believes.

Q. Do you know whether she felt that way or not.

A. No. I don’t know whether she --

Q. In your opinion, did either your brother or your sister ever think they were part of Michael Jackson’s family.

A. I know my brother did, because my brother was sad by my biological father leaving, as I was. And he felt that, as I did, about Michael being close to us as if he was a father because we didn’t have one.

Q. You were looking for a family, correct.

A. I wasn’t really, like, going out and looking; you know what I mean. I was just -- came across as Michael being the only older male that was close to me in my life; you know what I mean.

Q. And you wanted to be part of the Jackson family, correct.

A. Not really Jackson family. But just Michael was there and he was like a father figure to me; you know what I mean.

Q. You think of Paris and Prince as your brother and sister.

A. Yeah, we would talk about it and stuff. I would always play with them, and I would teach them stuff, and we would go look at stuff together and stuff like that.

Q. And in your opinion, did Star and your sister think of Paris and Prince as their brother and sister.

A. I don’t know.

Q. But you did, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Is what you just said the truth.

A. What I had said.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. Is what your mom just said the truth.

A. Which -- I can’t -- she said what she said.

Q. Did you think of Michael Jackson, when you made this video, as honest.

A. Not really, because he said that I can call him at any time, and I didn’t really have the phone numbers before that.

Q. So because of that, you thought he was dishonest.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you think of Michael Jackson as loving when you made this video.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: In your opinion, is what your mother just said the truth.

A. Yes. He seemed very loving and we trusted him a lot.

Q. So in your opinion, your mother meant what she just said.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Is what you just said the truth.

A. Yeah, Michael invited me to Neverland.

Q. That’s not what I asked you. Is what you just said the truth.

A. Yes. Well -- well, it would be the truth, because in the beginning of my cancer he would invite me to Neverland after, to come after my chemotherapy round.

Q. When you made these statements, was Michael the kind of person you were describing, as far as you were concerned.

A. Yes, he was very nice to me and stuff.

Q. And he was nice to your family.

A. Yes. It was what was in my eyes.

Q. Excuse me.

A. What I saw, in my eyes.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Was what you have just said the truth.

A. Yes. Pac Man; Michael did tell me to say

that.

Q. What about everything else you said.

A. About me going to chemotherapy.

Q. Yes.

A. No. I wouldn’t think about it every time I went to a chemotherapy round.

Q. So were you lying at that point.

A. Yeah, Dieter actually told me to say that, because he knew about the Pac Man.

Q. When I say whether you lied, I’m not asking what Dieter said. I’m just asking what you, Gavin Arvizo, said, all right. Did you just lie on that tape.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. He doesn’t even let him answer the question.

THE COURT: Yes, but it’s not necessary to give a pre-statement to your question.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Go ahead and rephrase it.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When you just made the statement that everybody heard in this courtroom, did you lie.

A. About the Pac Man thing, me going in every single time in chemotherapy.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 1, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Is what your mother just said about you wanting to be in movies true.

A. Yes. Michael was saying that he was going do some movie, or something, about some orphanage.

Q. What about you wanting to be in movies.

A. Oh, yes, I wanted to be an actor for a while. But now I want to -- hopefully I can -- I want -- well, I don’t really want to say, but I want to do something else.

Q. Let me ask you what you just said. Did you say you want to be in movies.

A. I wanted to. But now that I’m in high school and I’m seeing all the other careers, I want to do -- I want to be in law enforcement, or whatever.

Q. At the time you were going to Neverland, did you want to be in movies.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you tell Michael Jackson you wanted to be in movies.

A. Yes.

Q. To your knowledge, did your brother Star say he wanted to be in movies.

A. I’m pretty sure he wanted to.

Q. Is there anything you just heard your mother say that you think is not true.

A. No. I don’t think -- I think everything she said was true.

Q. Okay.

MR. SANGER: Putting in Disk 2, Your Honor.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Is everything you just said correct.

A. I don’t -- I don’t think I said anything right there.

Q. Well, you said -- you’ve seen the first disk of this rebuttal video, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. How many lies do you think you told.

A. Um, I think maybe about four.

Q. Four lies.

A. Yeah.

Q. How many lies do you think your mother told.

A. Four or five. I’m not -- I mean --

Q. Four or five lies.

A. I wasn’t counting or anything.

Q. I’m just asking what your opinion is. How many lies do you think your sister told.

A. One or two.

Q. And how many lies do you think Star told.

A. Oh, he wasn’t really talking, so I don’t think he really said anything.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, you heard what your mother just said, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You saw the way she expressed herself, correct. Do you think she’s just doing what Dieter wants.

A. No, not right there.

Q. Do you think she’s doing what she wants.

A. Yes.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You just said you didn’t like Martin Bashir, was that true.

A. Uh-huh. Yeah, because when it came out on the CNN and stuff, then I saw it, I saw parts of it. I mean, what part I know Bashir was saying, that at the time I didn’t feel was true.

Q. You didn’t like him personally.

A. Not really. I mean --

Q. When did you decide you didn’t like Martin Bashir.

A. After I found out that he -- that it was an actual documentary and what he was saying about Michael.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, your mother mentions gang signs. Do you know what she’s talking about.

A. She was probably joking about something.

Q. Do you know what she was joking about.

A. Not really.

Q. She talks about friends on the west side. Do you know what that's all about.

A. It was just a joke, about like -- because you know how gangs say "east side" or "west side" or something.

Q. But you're really not sure what she was talking about, right.

A. Are you trying to say my mom's in a gang or something.

Q. No, I'm asking you a question. Do you know what she was referring to.

A. She was making a joke.

Q. Okay. And what was the joke about, in your opinion.

A. About gangs. Pretty much making fun of gangs.

Q. Okay. And were you joining with her in making fun of gangs.

A. I was laughing, I guess, right there.

Q. Okay. Did you do a gang sign.

A. No. She probably -- I was probably pointing or something, and then -- I don't know. I'm not a part of a gang. I'm not a part of a crew or something.

Q. I'm asking you if you made a gang sign in this video.

A. No.

Q. Do you know what your mother was referring to.

A. No. She was probably just joking about something that they were talking about off camera.

Q. Okay. But you don't know for sure, right.

A. No.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Is your mother telling the truth.

A. Dieter told her to talk about the hands thing.

Q. I’m asking if your mother is telling the truth. I’m not asking about Dieter.

A. She talked about her opinions, so I don’t know if that’s her -- if she was really telling the truth or not.

Q. Did someone tell you whenever I ask a question like this, to refer to Dieter.

A. No. I’m referring to Dieter because Dieter’s the one that told us to say all these things.

Q. Did your mother just tell the truth, in your opinion.

A. Um, I don’t know, because that’s her opinion.

Q. In your opinion, Gavin Arvizo, did your mother just tell the truth.

A. I do not know, because that’s -- you can call my mother and ask her that, because I don’t know.

THE COURT: All right. Let’s take our break.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. MESEREAU: With your permission, Your Honor, we’ll just continue the tape.

THE COURT: All right.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Gavin, is your mother, in your opinion, telling the truth.

A. I think so, I guess.

Q. Excuse me.

A. I believe so, I guess.

Q. I couldn’t hear what you said.

A. I believe so, I guess.

Q. Okay. Have you heard her say anything at this point that's not true.

A. I mean, Michael was nice to me and stuff, and I felt as if he was like a father to me, so --

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: At some point you and your mother and your brother and your sister concluded that Michael Jackson didn't want you all to be part of his family, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were upset about that, correct.

A. We concluded because --

Q. Just answer my question, if you would, please. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. At some point you, your mother, your sister and your brother realized that you were not going to spend the rest of your lives as part of Michael Jackson's family, correct.

A. Well --

Q. Is that true or not.

A. It's like we didn't really conclude all together, "Hey, everybody." I mean, I guess we all realized on our own that, like -- that he isn't as nice of a man as we thought he was.

Q. Because he wasn't going to let you be part of the Michael Jackson family, correct.

A. We never wanted to be part of the Michael Jackson family. The only part of it was, he was just like a father to me.

Q. Yes.

A. That's the only part in connection to a family there would be. We weren't expecting a -- to live with him forever. We were expecting -- well, we just thought of him -- I thought of him as a father figure.

Q. You expected Michael Jackson to support you, your mother, your brother and your sister indefinitely, correct.

A. No.

Q. You wanted to be part of his family, and when you found out you weren’t going to be, you got angry, true.

A. No.

Q. You found out --

A. I -- I didn’t -- I never thought we were going to be, “Okay, he’s going to be our dad. We’re going to live in the house together,” and blah, blah, blah. No.

He -- I saw him as like someone who could guide me as a father would; someone who can talk to me and stuff like that. I mean, it would be stupid if you wanted to live with a man like that for the rest of your life. He’s not really my father.

Q. Would you agree that your mother got very angry in front of you when she realized Michael Jackson was fading out of your lives.

A. No.

Q. Would you agree that you got very angry when, at some point, you realized Michael Jackson was fading out of your family’s life, right.

A. I didn’t really get angry. I mean, it’s -- I mean, I didn’t think he was going to live with us forever. I just -- like, you know the Big Brother program thing for, like, kids that don’t have dads. That’s kind of what I thought of Michael as.

Q. You expected Michael Jackson to keep helping you, your mother, your brother and your sister, right.

A. I didn’t expect it from him, no.

Q. And that’s why you got very angry when you realized certain people wanted you to leave the country, right.

A. Michael told me that he was going to come over later after we were there, so -- after we even got there.

Q. And were you looking forward to meeting

Michael in Brazil.

A. Yes. I guess.

Q. And at some time did you realize that Michael wasn’t going to Brazil.

A. No, to my understanding was that he was always going to come a week later after we got there.

Q. But at some point you realized even you weren’t going to Brazil, right.

A. No, I thought the whole time they were trying to get us to go to Brazil.

Q. And when you wanted to go to your grandparents’, you all got into a car and Vinnie drove you to your grandparents’, right.

A. After -- yeah. Vinnie drove us there, yes.

Q. And at that point you realized you’re never going to be in Michael Jackson’s family, right.

A. Well -- I never wanted to be in his family. I was never looking for that.

MR. MESEREAU: Let’s keep going.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, your brother Star had just said that going to Neverland Ranch was something you always looked forward to, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And at one point you realized you probably weren’t going to be returning to Neverland Ranch, right.

A. After it was all over, I didn’t want to go back.

Q. At some point you realized you weren’t going to be in Michael Jackson’s family, you weren’t going to Neverland Ranch, and it wasn’t until then that you ever came up with these allegations of molestation, right.

A. I didn’t want to go back after I came back.

Q. Please answer my question. It wasn’t until you realized that you and your mother and your brother and your sister were not going to be part of Michael Jackson’s family that you ever told anybody about any molestation, right.

A. It wasn’t as if we got together and realized it. It wasn’t -- so your question isn’t really working.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, could I request that the witness be instructed to answer the question.

THE WITNESS: I don’t really understand the question.

THE COURT: All right. Go ahead. Rephrase your question.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. It wasn’t until you realized you were not going to be part of Michael Jackson’s family, you were not going to meet Michael Jackson in Brazil, you were not going to be going to Neverland, that you ever came up with these allegations of molestation, right.

A. I didn’t come and talk to the -- to the -- my mom always wanted to leave. She was the one that was able to realize and get us out of there. I liked being there.

MR. MESEREAU: Excuse me.

Your Honor, can I ask the witness be instructed to just answer the question.

THE COURT: No.

THE WITNESS: I don’t understand --

THE COURT: Just a minute.

No. Your question is compound and it’s argumentative. Break your question down.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. I will, Your Honor.

Q. Until you realized you were not going to be part of Michael Jackson’s family, you never made any allegation of child molestation, correct.

A. I didn’t want to be part of his family. I just saw him as a father figure.

Q. Until you realized Michael Jackson was not going to meet you in Brazil, you never made any allegation of child molestation, right.

A. I didn’t even really want to go to Brazil.
Q. Until you left Neverland for the last time, you never made any allegation of child molestation, correct.
A. I didn’t tell anyone until I left for the last time, correct.
Q. And never called the police until after you’d seen two lawyers, right.
MR. SNEDDON: Object as argumentative, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: Yes, it wasn’t until I saw two lawyers until I told the police what really happened.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay. We can keep going.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you, your mother, your brother, your sister actually have to share cereal 1991 when you were too poor to get other food.
A. I know we had problems with trying to get food and stuff, but I don’t know if we shared a box of cereal.
Q. Okay.
A. And --
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: At this point in time, did you agree with what your mother just said. Did you think Michael was there for you.
A. Yeah, I believe -- I thought that Michael was there for us. But he -- he helped us.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, you and your family did pray with Michael, correct.

A. Yes. I believe we asked him if we can pray at the dinner tables.
Q. You also one time were in the theater; you, your mother, your brother and your sister and Michael. Remember that.
A. We were in the theater a lot together.
Q. Do you remember your mother wanted everyone to hold hands and pray with Daddy Michael.
A. No.

Q. You don’t remember that at all.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Did you typically pray at the dinner table with Michael.
A. We would ask him sometimes.
Q. You asked him and he said, “Okay”.
A. Yes.
Q. And what prayers did you say.
A. “Thank God for the food we were going to eat,” and stuff like that.
Q. Okay.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: In your opinion, is your mother telling the truth about that statement.
A. About the relationship between me and Michael.
Q. About what you just heard.
A. Yeah, I was pretty close to Michael, as I’ve said many times.
Q. So do you have any -- excuse me, let me rephrase that.
What your mother just says is true, as far as you’re concerned.
A. Yeah. Up to that point, yes.
Q. Are you saying “yes”.
A. Yes.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s

Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When these statements were made, you did not want your relationship with Mr. Jackson to end, correct.

A. No, I still wanted to be able to call him and stuff like that.

Q. And among all the celebrities that you had met, no celebrity had included you in their family the way Michael Jackson had, right.

A. He didn’t really include me in his family. I just -- as I said before, I looked to him as a father figure, and he looked at me as a son, because he was the only father figure I had.

Q. And your letters to him reflected that, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Your calls to him reflected that, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. When you went to the ranch, you felt you were part of a family, correct.

A. As I just told you, I felt as if he was my guider, my -- a teacher to me in life. A father figure to me.

Q. And when you left Neverland for the last time, you felt your father had rejected you, correct.

A. Not really, because I found a new father. I found my now father.

Q. When you left Neverland, did you feel that the father figure Michael Jackson had rejected you; yes or no.

A. I didn’t need him. I didn’t want him.

Q. When you left Neverland for the last time, did you feel that the father figure Michael Jackson had rejected you; yes or no.

A. As I said, I didn’t feel that. I didn’t feel that I was rejected, because I had my now, which I consider my real father.

Q. You knew Jay Jackson long before these statements were made, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You knew Jay Jackson long before you were referring to Michael Jackson as a father figure, correct.

A. Not long before, but, I mean, he was my mom’s boyfriend. I didn’t know him. I wasn’t close to him.

But when I came back, I saw his concern. I saw the way he felt about my family and how he would hug me, and actually feel like he’s a man; you know what I mean. And he’s my father.

Q. At the time you and your mother and your brother and your sister made the statements on this video, your mother had been in a relationship with

Jay Jackson for many months, true.

A. Yes.

Q. At the time your mother makes these statements that Michael Jackson is a father figure, she’s in a relationship with Jay Jackson, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Jay Jackson wasn’t present when this video was done, correct.

A. No.

Q. Now, at some point did you learn that the actual rebuttal show went on television.

A. This.

Q. Yes.

A. I never knew it went on television.

Q. Did you ever know any rebuttal show was ever made to rebut what was said in Bashir.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever hear anything about that.

A. Oh, yes. Um, I remember something happened where -- Michael had me sign some papers or something like that. I think something came on.

Q. And at some point you learned there was a Maury Povich show that was done as a rebuttal to the Bashir documentary, correct.

A. Yes. I remember them coming and filming, but --

Q. And you learned at some point that none of this footage in which you and your family are interviewed ever appeared on that Maury Povich television show, right.

A. I didn’t watch it.

Q. As you sit here today, do you know whether or not any of this footage was ever used in the Maury Povich rebuttal show.

A. No, I don’t know.

Q. You’ve never discussed that with anybody.

A. No.

Q. Okay. At this particular point in time, you thought Michael Jackson was going to give your family a home in the Hollywood Hills, correct.

A. No.

Q. Ever hear anybody discuss that.

A. No.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: While your mother was dating Jay Jackson, you considered Michael Jackson a father figure, right.

A. Yes. Well, if -- she was dating her -- him right now, so in this time period I did see Michael as a father figure.

Q. Approximately when did you first meet Jay Jackson.

A. I don’t know. I don’t remember the first time. But -- I mean, I didn’t get close to him until I came back from Neverland.

Q. It was many months before this, correct.

A. Yes, I believe so.

Q. In fact, after this rebuttal was filmed, you went to Jay Jackson’s apartment for the interview with the three social workers, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you living at his apartment at that point.

A. Yes.

Q. How long had you been living at Jay Jackson’s apartment at that point.

A. A few months. But he was just my mom’s boyfriend. He wasn’t my stepfather yet.

Q. Okay.

A. He was just a guy. He was not my stepfather yet.

Q. So you had lived at Jay Jackson’s apartment for a couple of months before this rebuttal video was filmed, right.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. But during those months you considered Michael Jackson to be your father figure, right.

A. No, in those months I had no father figure. That’s why when I came to Neverland and Michael was like this, I considered Michael as my father figure.

MR. MESEREAU: Let’s keep going.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s 1998 Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did you discuss with Jay Jackson what your mother was going to say in this video.

A. No. I don’t even know -- I didn’t even know that Jay Jackson even knew about this.

Q. Do you recall any discussion at any time with Jay Jackson about you and your family being videotaped.

A. No, I do not.

Q. You recall going to Jay Jackson’s apartment after this was filmed, right.

A. Not really.

Q. Did you ever discuss with Jay Jackson this videotape after it was filmed.

A. No, I don’t think I did.

Q. Have you ever discussed with Jay Jackson at any time the fact that you made this videotape.

A. No, I don’t think so.

Q. Have you ever heard your mother discuss it with Jay Jackson.

A. No.
Q. Now, your mother has a curl coming down her face. Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. Did she normally wear her hair that way.
A. Yeah, when she had her hair permed, she always wore it like that.

Q. Always like that.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Was she ever trying to look like Janet Jackson.
A. No.
Q. Okay.
(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Was what your mother just said true.
A. He’s a nice man. He’s -- he’s approached and he’s kind of friendly.
Q. Was what your mother just said true.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you believe she was telling the truth when she talked about Michael Jackson’s honesty.
A. The way I felt about it was kind of awkward, but, I mean, he was pretty honest. But, I mean, the things that he did was kind of dishonest; you know what I mean.
Q. Let me ask you what you’re talking about. Did you think when your mother said Michael Jackson was honest and told the truth, that she was being truthful.
A. Yes. He’s a nice man.
Q. Did you think your mother was being truthful when she made that statement we just heard.

A. I don’t know. You can ask her.
Q. What did you think at the time.
A. I don’t remember what I thought at the time.

Q. What do you think now. Do you think she was being honest.

A. As I just said, yes, Michael was a nice man.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, you've told the jury a number of times that Dieter was telling you what to say on this, is that correct.

A. Dieter told us a lot of things to say.

Q. Dieter told you general things to say.

A. Yes. He told us what to say pretty much, yeah.

Q. And I believe when Prosecutor Sneddon was asking you questions, he talked about some type of a sheet of questions. Do you remember that.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Did somebody show you a sheet with some questions on it before you did this interview.

A. Yes, actually, and kind of waving it in front of the camera right here.

Q. And how many sheets are you talking about.

A. I'm not sure how many sheets it was.

Q. It was just a certain number of questions 2001

they told you they were going to ask you, correct.

A. Yes. And Dieter went over it with us and told us the answer, what to say.

Q. At the time when Dieter went over those questions with you, did you think Michael Jackson had abandoned you as a father figure.

A. No. Not then.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Gavin, you and your mother are living with Major Jay Jackson when she makes this statement about Michael Jackson being a parent, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you think of Michael Jackson as a third parent.

A. No. I saw him, as I’ve said many times today, as a guider, as a father figure. Not my actual father, as I consider Major Jay Jackson today, as he is my stepfather.

Q. He has since married your mother, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, if you know, were -- were Major Jay Jackson and your mother engaged when this video was made.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Did you expect this video to be on national television at some point when you made it.

A. I didn’t even think about it.

Q. Did you ever discuss that with your mom.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you remember any discussion involving your mother before this was filmed about whether or not she should sign any documents.

A. No.

Q. Don’t recall that at all.

A. Not really, no.

Q. Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People’s Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Now, when you used to visit Neverland and Michael Jackson was present, you used to see his children, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. When you flew to Miami and saw Michael Jackson, he was with his children, correct.

A. Yes. I’m sure his children were there.

Q. When you came back from Miami and started visiting Neverland, when Michael Jackson was there, his children were always there, correct.

A. Um, no. Because there was one time that he wasn’t at Neverland and he flew somewhere on a commercial plane or something and he came back.

Q. Let me rephrase the question.

When you were at Neverland and Michael was there, you saw his children, true.

A. Yes.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: When your mother made that statement, in your opinion, was she telling the truth.

A. Yes, because sometimes we'd accidentally crash a cart or something, and -- otherwise, probably other people would yell at us or something. And Michael would just say, "It's okay. They can fix it."

Q. Did you ever get in any trouble at Neverland other than crashing carts.

A. Not that I can think of. I think that's the only real bad thing that we did. I mean, accidentally crashing a cart, that's about it.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

(Whereupon, a portion of a DVD, People's Exhibit 340, Disk 2, was played for the Court and jury.)

MR. MESEREAU: I believe that's the end, Your Honor.

Q. You remember returning from Miami to 2004 Neverland, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember the next day seeing Ed Bradley from 60 Minutes at Neverland.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember seeing entertainment company executives at Neverland the next day.

A. No.

Q. Were you there the next day.

A. Yes, but I was probably out playing on the rides or something.

Q. Do you recall the day that Jesus Salas drove your family away from Neverland.

A. Yes.
Q. Do you recall your mother getting a full body wax that day in Los Olivos.
A. No.
Q. Did you know anything about that.
A. No.
Q. Do you recall your mother telling you she was going to leave Neverland to go to a salon.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever discuss that with your mother.
A. No.
Q. Do you know someone named Brett Ratner.
A. Yes.
Q. How do you know him.
A. He was Chris Tucker's director for the movie 2005 Rush Hour.
Q. Do you recall asking Mr. Ratner if he would arrange for you to fly to Florida to meet Michael Jackson.
A. No, I don't remember that.
Q. You never did that.
A. I don't remember ever doing that.
Q. Okay. Do you remember Michael Jackson flying to Florida with Brett Ratner.
A. No.
Q. Never heard about that.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Do you recall your mother ever signing an agreement regarding distribution of any of this footage on television.
A. No.
Q. Well, you said something before -- or you began to say something about Michael Jackson asking you to sign an agreement, correct.
A. Yes, there's a little document he had me sign so that I can sign for the rebuttal or something. I don't know.
Q. Do you remember signing that document.
A. Yes.
Q. Michael never asked you to sign that, did he.

A. Yeah, he did. And he was with Brett Ratner, and Brett Ratner signed as a witness.

Q. Do you recall your mother signing it also.

A. No. I was the only one that signed it.

Q. Do you recall your mother signing any agreement regarding this video.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you recall your mother making any trips outside of Neverland into the city to do errands.

A. No.

Q. Do you recall your mother going shopping with Vinnie Amen.

A. No.

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, I'm going to object to vagueness as to what period of time we're talking about here.

MR. MESEREAU: Sure.

Q. We're talking about February 21st, which would be the same day you met Attorney William Dickerman and Jamie Masada at The Laugh Factory. Do you remember that.

A. I remember meeting him.

Q. Do you remember your mother going shopping with Vinnie.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember your mother getting her hair done with Vinnie.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember shopping at Robinson's-May.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember shopping -- excuse me. Do you remember eating at an Outback Steakhouse.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember your mother going to any salon that day.

A. I think I remember my mom go to a salon and meet my stepfather.

Q. Do you know when that was, approximately.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember going on a shopping spree around February 26th with your mother.

A. I don't know. I remember they took us to Anchor Blue once because we told them that we didn't have a lot of clothes at Neverland, and they didn't want us to go to our house.

Q. Do you remember going to Pacific Sunwear.

A. No.

Q. How about Banana Republic.

A. Yes. I bought some boxers, I think.

Q. How about Gap Outlet.

A. No.

Q. How about Levi Outlet.

A. No.

Q. How about Abercrombie & Fitch.

A. No.

Q. Wilson's Luggage, did you ever go there with your mother. 2008

A. Yeah, they bought us luggage because they were saying they were going to take us to Brazil, and we didn't have luggage.

Q. Now, two days later -- excuse me, one day later, do you recall going shopping to Robinson's-May.

A. No.

Q. Do you recall going shopping to Adidas.

A. No.

Q. How about Old Navy.

A. No.

Q. Anchor Blue.

A. Yes.

Q. Robinson's-May.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you remember on February 28th going to Hsong's Barber Shop for a haircut.

A. I got my hair cut there, but I don't know if we went on February 28th.

Q. Do you remember going there with your mother.

A. I remember going there in the past with my mother.

Q. When you were there, did anyone scream for help.

A. I don’t know if we went on February 28th to Hsong’s Barber Shop.

Q. When you went to Hsong’s Barber Shop, did anyone scream for help, as far as you know.

A. As I said, I don’t remember whether we went there during the time that we were down in Los Angeles area.

Q. Do you remember anyone screaming for help at any of the stores that you recall going to during this period of time.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember going to the Brazilian consulate.

A. Yes.

Q. You went in there with your mother, right.

A. Yes, I’m pretty sure.

Q. Do you remember anybody screaming for help in the Brazilian consulate.

A. No.

Q. You were with your entire family, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Do you remember seeing a movie called Old School around March 1st, 2003.

A. A little bit.

Q. Your mother, your brother, your sister and you went to that movie theater, right.

A. I don’t really remember.

Q. You also went to Anchor Blue that day, right.

A. I believe so. I guess.

Q. When you went to see that movie, do you remember anybody screaming for help.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember eating at Johnny Rocket’s Burgers that day.

A. Oh, yeah. I remember that place. It was pretty good.

Q. And that was after you saw the movie, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. You went for burgers and ice cream, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember anybody screaming for help when you were at Johnny Rocket’s.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you know someone named Brad Buxer.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever meet any of Michael Jackson’s movie producers at Neverland.

A. No.

Q. Do you know someone named Rio.

A. I think he was a little kid that was there for a while.

Q. When did you first meet Rio.

A. I don’t remember.

Q. But do you remember seeing Rio at Neverland.

A. Yeah, he stood there for like a week or --

Q. Did you stay in a guesthouse with Rio.

A. No.

Q. Never did. 2011

A. No. Well, I might have hung out with him for a while. No, I hung out with his sister, you know. And she was telling me about some girls that thought I was cute from the Martin Bashir thing, and then that was it.

Q. This is Rio’s sister.

A. Yes.

Q. Was there a television in the guest room at Neverland.

A. There’s a television in every guest room.

Q. Did you ever use that television.

A. We were always playing. We never watched T.V.

Q. Was Rio ever in a room with you at the guesthouse.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to this line of questioning under the 403 ruling the Court made.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Well, just a minute. I will change that ruling. You may ask.
MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q. Was Rio ever in a guest room with you when you were watching T.V. at Neverland.
A. Um, no. I don’t remember really -- I mean, I might have hung out with him in a guest room for a minute, but, I mean, I don’t remember watching T.V. with him.

Q. You don’t.
A. No.
Q. Are you saying you don’t remember or are you saying it just didn’t happen.
A. I don’t think it happened.
Q. Okay. Do you recall ever telling Rio you wanted to look at adult movies on television at Neverland.
MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: No, I don’t remember that.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Ever remember stealing alcohol from Michael Jackson’s bedroom when Rio was present.
A. No.
Q. Do you recall stealing a $1,000 laminated bill from Michael’s room.
A. A thousand dollar bill.
Q. That was laminated.
A. Do they make thousand-dollar bills.
Q. Did you ever steal one.
A. No.
Q. Ever recall masturbating in front of Rio.
A. No.
Q. Now, earlier in your testimony, you said that the only time you’d ever tasted wine was in church. Do you remember that.
A. Yes.

Q. Are you telling the jury the only time you tasted wine before you went to Neverland was in a church.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you ever tell Rio or anyone else at Neverland that you knew what wine tasted like.
A. No. I don’t remember telling him that.
Q. Do you remember calling Chris Tucker and telling him that you wanted to go to Miami to be with Michael Jackson.
A. No.
Q. That never happened.
A. I don’t know if it did.
Q. You don’t know if it did.
A. No.
Q. Did your mother ever ask you to call Chris Tucker so that your family could go to Miami to be with Michael Jackson.
A. No.
Q. Has your mother ever coached you on what to say in this case.
A. No.
Q. Has your mother coached you on what to say in your legal disputes with your father.
A. No.
Q. Has your mother ever coached you on what to say in the J.C. Penney case.
A. No.

Q. Has your mother asked you to write out what you were going to say before you went to court.
A. No.
Q. Have you ever done that.
A. Done --
Q. Written out what you plan to say before you went to court.
A. No.
THE COURT: Is this a good place to stop.
MR. MESEREAU: Okay.

THE COURT: All right. We’ll recess until tomorrow morning at 8:30. Remember the admonitions. See you then.

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify: That the foregoing pages 1867 through 2015 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 14, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California, March 14, 2005.

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 2017 THROUGH 2082)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.

1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

2018

I N D E X

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES DIRECT CROSS REDIRECT RECROSS

ARVIZO, Gavin-Anton 2021-M 2056-SN 2074-M (cont’d)
FLAA, Terry 2077-Z

E X H I B I T S

DEFENDANT'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
5020	Photograph	2040	2043
5021	Photograph	2040	2043
5022	Photograph	2040	2043
5023	Photograph	2040
5024	Photograph	2040	2043
5025	Photograph	2040	2043
5026	Photograph	2040	2043
5027	Photograph	2040	2043
5028	Photograph	2040
5029	Photograph	2040
5031	Neverland Valley Guest Book	2044
5032	Photograph	2049	2052
5033	Photograph	2051

Santa Maria, California
Tuesday, March 15, 2005
8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.
THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.
THE COURT: You ready to proceed.

MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you, Your Honor.

GAVIN-ANTON ARVIZO

Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified further as follows:

CROSS-EXAMINATION (Continued)

BY MR. MESEREAU:

Q. Mr. Arvizo, when you claim you were inappropriately touched by Mr. Jackson, you claim there were no witnesses watching, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at some point, do you recall giving a DNA swab to any Santa Barbara Sheriff.

A. Yes. They gave me a DNA swab.

Q. Do you know approximately when that was.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever learn what the results were of any DNA testing.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever discuss it with Prosecutor Sneddon.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever discuss it with any other prosecutor.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever discuss it with any sheriff.

A. No.

Q. How about any lawyer or paralegal.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever discuss it with any member of your family.

A. No.

Q. So as you sit here today, you don’t know what the results are of those DNA tests, right.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you indicated that you were upset that there was no press conference in Miami when you and your family traveled to Miami to see Michael Jackson, correct.

A. I said it wasn't that big of a deal, because I was already having fun.

Q. Well, you wanted a press conference in this case, didn't you.

A. Michael wanted it.

Q. No --

A. Michael told me he wanted it.

Q. Sir, when you were testifying before the grand jury, you wanted to give a press conference, didn't you.

A. No, I thought we were going to have a press conference, because that's what I was told.

Q. Do you remember telling Mr. Sneddon and the grand jury that you wanted to have a press conference.

A. I might have said that we wanted to have a press conference, because Michael wanted to.

Q. Michael wanted to have a press conference when you were in front of the grand jury; is that what you're saying. You can answer the question.

A. No.

Q. Remember telling Mr. Sneddon, "Oh, man, I was going to have a press conference".

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, Your Honor. Could we have a page reference on that, before Counsel reads it.

MR. MESEREAU: Sure. Sure. It's 449.

MR. SNEDDON: That's fine.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Do you remember when you were in front of the Santa Barbara Grand Jury, Mr. Sneddon told you there was an order that you not talk to the media, and your response was, "Oh, man, I was going to have a press conference". Do you remember that.

A. That was probably a joke.

Q. That was a joke.

A. Yeah.

Q. So you're in front of the Santa Barbara Grand Jury talking about this case and you're telling a joke.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. All right. Do you know someone who worked at Neverland named Julio Avila.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Do you remember that name at all.

A. I remember a guy that might have been named Julio, but I forgot his name.

Q. Okay. And was he someone who worked around the amusement rides.

A. Oh, yes. Well, he -- he was the manager of the whole Neverland, but then they moved him to the amusement park, if we're talking about the same guy.

Q. Do you remember anyone complaining about you and Star --

MR. SNEDDON: Object, Your Honor. It's a violation of a 403 ruling.

MR. MESEREAU: I don't think it is.

THE COURT: I'm not remembering this. Give me another hint.

MR. MESEREAU: It has to do with behavior at Neverland. Nonsexual nature.

THE COURT: All right. I'll sustain the objection.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you recall you and your brother Star being picked up by a FOX News reporter at your home.

A. No.

Q. Never happened.

A. Well, I have a friend that works for FOX News, but --

Q. What's your friend's name.

A. Barbara.

Q. Barbara Schroeder.

A. I don't know her last name.

Q. Do you recall being picked up by Barbara Schroeder and taken for a spending spree.

A. I remember going to the movies with her and her daughter.

Q. Do you remember she and another member of the media treating you and your brother to shopping.

A. I have a friend that used to work for FOX that I met at The Laugh Factory, but he works in, like, cell phones or something.

Q. Do you recall Barbara Schroeder and another representative of FOX News taking you and Star shopping and paying your bills.

A. They weren't representing FOX News to us. They were our friends.

Q. Do you remember them taking you shopping and paying your bills; yes or no.

A. I don't remember them paying my bills. And I remember going to the movies with them. I don't remember going on shopping sprees.

Q. Where did you go with them.

A. We went to the movies.

Q. Where.

A. Galleria.

Q. Which galleria.

A. I don't know. Somewhere in Los -- Hollywood somewhere.

Q. In Los Angeles, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And you're saying they never took you to any store and paid any bill for you.

A. No.

Q. Okay. You mentioned that someone named Gary Hearn had driven you and your family from time to time while you were at Neverland, correct.

A. Yeah, Gary drove us around.

Q. How many times do you recall Gary Hearn driving you around.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Was it five times. Ten times.

A. Well, no, it was less than that.

Q. Okay. And where do you remember Gary Hearn driving you to.

A. I remember he drove us one time from the hospital to Neverland, and once from our apartment to Neverland.

Q. Do you remember your being in his car and your mother asking to stop so you could buy various things at stores.

A. No.

Q. Don’t recall him ever stopping so anyone in your family could go shopping.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you know someone named Andrew Lassak.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you mentioned --

A. Lassak. Police officer.

Q. Yes. Do you know him.

A. Yes.

Q. How did you meet him.

A. He was an LAPD officer that -- I forgot, really, how we met him. I think he was -- I don’t know. My mom met him or something, and then he visited us a lot.

Q. Do you know approximately when you first met this LAPD officer, Mr. Lassak.

A. After my father left. A few months after my father left, after I finished chemotherapy.

Q. And he was a friend of your family, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. He used to visit your house, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You spoke to him, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You saw your brother and sister speak to him, didn’t you.

A. Yes.

Q. And you saw your mother speak to him, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall anyone ever complaining to Los Angeles Police Officer Andrew Lassak that anyone was being held against their will.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to the question as vague as to time frame.

MR. MESEREAU: I’ll rephrase it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: During the period you claim you escaped from Neverland three times, do you recall anyone in your family ever complaining to LAPD Officer Andrew Lassak that anyone was being mistreated or held against their will.

A. His name is Lassak, and I don’t remember anything happening like that.

Q. Okay. Now, correct me if I’m wrong, I think you testified that you used to stay up -- let me rephrase that.

You would end up staying up most of the night when you were at Neverland, correct.

A. Sometimes.

Q. Not all the time.

A. No.

Q. Isn’t it true that you and your brother would sometimes roam around the main house starting at 7:00 a.m. in the morning.

A. The cooks -- the chefs would be in there like 6:30 or 7:00 or something, and then we’d go in there to eat breakfast.

Q. Okay. And how often do you remember doing that.

A. Every morning when we would eat breakfast.

Q. Do you know someone named Shane Meredith.

A. No.

Q. Never knew an employee named Shane Meredith at Neverland.

A. If I did, I don’t remember that.

Q. He caught you with an open bottle of alcohol at Neverland, didn’t he, when Michael Jackson wasn’t even around.

A. No.

Q. Now, you talked yesterday about someone named Brett Ratner. Do you remember that.

A. Yes.

Q. And he was working on a Rush Hour movie, right.

A. Yes, he was the director for both of them.

Q. And you met Brett Ratner at Neverland one time, right.

A. Yes, he came to Neverland once.

Q. And you saw him in the library, right.

A. Michael and him were in the library, and they told me to go there.

Q. You saw him in the library with Michael, correct.

A. They told me to go in there.

Q. Okay. And you sat down next to Michael Jackson, didn’t you.

A. I sat on the couch. I sat on this red couch and Michael was sitting here on the seat, and Brett Ratner was sitting here also.

Q. At one point during that meeting, you rested your head on Michael Jackson’s shoulder, didn’t you.

A. No. It was early in the morning, and I was -- we were sitting -- he was sitting on another chair.

Q. And you asked if you could go with Michael and Brett Ratner to Florida, didn’t you.

A. I don’t remember asking that.

Q. You don’t remember it or you’re not sure you did it.

A. I don’t remember ever asking that.

Q. Okay. Do you remember hearing your mother tell Jesus Salas that she was very concerned about all the media attention.

A. I don’t remember. I remember my mom would say stuff like that, but -- she didn’t really like it, but, I mean, I don’t remember if she did say it to Jesus Salas.

Q. Okay. Now, you indicated that you would get to the kitchen sometimes early in the morning, right.

A. Well, yeah. Me and a bunch of other people, when we wanted to eat breakfast.

Q. Now, you and your brother often would cook for yourselves, correct.

A. We wouldn’t really cook. We might grab an apple or some ice cream, but we wouldn’t cook.

Q. Ever see your brother Star cook in that kitchen.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember ever telling Chris Tucker that you didn’t make any money from the fund-raiser.

A. No. Well, what fund-raising.

Q. Fund-raiser for you at The Laugh Factory.

A. No, because we did make money at The Laugh Factory.

Q. Yes. So you never told Chris Tucker, “We didn’t make any money from the fund-raiser”.

A. Why would I say that when we did. No, I never said that.

Q. Okay. Do you recall yourself asking Chris Tucker for money.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember telling Chris Tucker that your family was being hounded by the media and could not leave your house.

A. No.

Q. Never said that.

A. I might have told them about some media people that were around our house, but, I mean --

Q. Do you remember telling Chris Tucker the media was hounding your family and there was no place for you people to go.

A. No. Because --

Q. Never said that.

A. I might have talked to him about some guy that was holding a camera outside of my house, but, I mean --

Q. Do you remember telling Chris Tucker that your family had nowhere to go.

A. No.

Q. Do you remember telling Chris Tucker that you knew Michael Jackson was in Miami and you wanted to go see him.

A. No. Well, I -- well, the first time I flew in his plane over to Miami, so I don’t know if you’re trying to talk about that or what.

Q. Well, before you flew on Chris Tucker’s plane to Miami, do you remember telling Chris Tucker that you wanted to go to Florida to see Michael Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Never said that.

A. Michael called, and they arranged it so that we can go on Chris’s plane.

Q. But you never told Chris you wanted to go see Michael in Florida, right.

A. I don’t remember if I said in those exact words.

Q. Okay. Do you know Vernee Watson.

A. I kind of remember her name. But --

Q. She was an acting teacher for you, wasn’t she.

A. Was she on a show with Will Smith, the Fresh Prince of Bel Air show.

Q. Excuse me, I couldn’t understand what you said.

A. I think I remember who she is, but I don’t remember.

Q. Did she teach you acting at a school owned by Belinda Johnson.

A. I went to some -- I mean, I don’t know if we’re talking about the same Renee Watson.

Q. Just asking you if you know someone named Vernee Watson.

A. I kind of remember her name. But, I mean, I haven’t --

Q. Do you know who she is.

A. As I said, I kind of think I do, but I don’t know if it’s that person -- if that name goes with that face.

Q. Well, can you please describe the Vernee

Watson that you know.

A. She has like dreadlocks and she's African-American. And she -- she played Will Smith's mother on Fresh Prince of Bel Air. And -- yeah.

Q. And how do you know her.

A. I don't remember. She's been our friend for a long time.

Q. Is she still your friend.

A. Um, we -- we haven't called her in a while. But I think I met her through a dance company, a dance class -- a dance studio I was with.

Q. Do you recall ever asking her for money.

A. No.

Q. Do you recall your mother ever asking Vernee Watson for money.

A. No.

Q. Now, correct me if I'm wrong, I think you said yesterday that you did not call Chris Tucker on February 4th, 2003; is that right.

A. I said that I don't really remember if I said that or not, but I don't know if I called Chris Tucker on February 4th, 2003.

Q. Do you remember calling Chris Tucker before you went to Miami and telling him you're being harassed by the media.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, object as asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Did your mother ask you to call Chris Tucker.

A. No, I don't think so.

Q. How did you know Michael Jackson was in Miami.

A. Because he called us and told us that he was in Miami.

Q. Did you call Chris Tucker on a regular basis at that particular time.

A. Yeah, I was still talking to him.

Q. Okay. Did you typically call him from home.

A. Sometimes.

Q. Where else would you call him from.

A. I don’t know. At my grandma’s house.

Q. Now, Chris told you that he was going to Orlando, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Do you remember him saying that.

A. No.

Q. Okay. And to your knowledge, did Evvy Tavasci book a commercial flight for your family to fly to Miami to see Michael Jackson.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Okay. Do you know who was in charge of deciding how you would get to Miami.

A. I don’t know who was in charge of that.

Q. Okay. Do you know how you ended up on Chris Tucker’s plane rather than a commercial flight.

A. Chris wanted to see Michael. And then we could just -- we could have just went on a ride with him because he was going over there.

Q. Okay. Do you recall you, your brother, your sister and your mother going to a dental office around February 24th, 2003.

A. I remember we might have went to a dental office. I mean, I used to have braces.

Q. And you went to that office to have your braces removed, right.

A. I believe so.

Q. Pardon me.

A. I believe so.

Q. Okay. Well, do you remember going there from Neverland.

A. Yes.

Q. And it was a Dr. Seamont you went to, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. He was not too far from Neverland, right.

A. I think they were in Solvang.

Q. And you had your braces removed, right.

A. Yes. Because my teeth started separating because the wires were all broken.

Q. And who took you to that dental office.

A. I think it was Frank.

Q. Do you know the approximate date.
A. No.

Q. And you left Neverland and went into town that day about 2:34 in the afternoon, right.
A. I don’t know.
Q. Okay. And do you remember how long you were away that day, from Neverland.
A. I don’t know.
Q. It was about five and a half hours, wasn’t it.
A. As I said, I don’t know.
Q. Okay. Do you remember stopping in Solvang.
A. I thought that’s what the orthodontist was, in Solvang.
Q. Do you remember, when you left the office, going anywhere else.
A. No.
Q. Do you remember anybody complaining at the office that anyone in your family was being held against their will.
A. I don’t remember.
Q. Did you have dinner or any meal in Solvang.
A. I don’t remember having a dinner or a meal.
Q. Do you remember going shopping in Solvang that day.
A. No.
Q. No.
A. No.
Q. Now, your mother was mad at your L.A. dentist that put the braces on originally, right.

A. I don’t know if she was mad at him.
Q. You never noticed that at all.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Do you know who paid for your dental work in Solvang on that day.
A. I don’t know who paid for it.
Q. And your mother was there, right.
A. I think so.

Q. Davellin was there, right.

A. I think so.

Q. And Star was there, right.

A. I think so.

Q. Okay.

A. They never -- they hardly ever let us be apart. They wanted to keep us together.

Q. Excuse me.

A. They never wanted us to be in separate areas. They always wanted to keep us together.

Q. Well, remember you went to Toys R Us with Michael.

A. Yeah, I remember.

Q. Your mother wasn't there.

A. My mom was at Neverland, where they can still keep her.

Q. Oh, was your mother on the trip to Toys R Us.

A. No, she was in Neverland in her unit, where they could still keep her and watch her.

Q. I see. So you went into town with Michael Jackson, correct.

A. Yeah. Michael took us to Toys R Us.

Q. You picked up some fans, correct, on the way.

A. Yeah, Michael invited some people into our -- the thing.

Q. You never complained to anyone in the store or any of these fans that anyone was being held against their will, correct.

A. I was actually happy to be at Neverland all the time.

Q. And you were happy to go --

A. That's something you don't really understand, is that the majority of those times was -- the first few escapes that you talk about, I liked being at Neverland. That was like Disneyland. I loved being there. I had lots of fun.

I mean, my mom was the one always worried. It wasn't until the last time that I realized

“I don’t want to be here.”

Q. Your mother was worried, but she always came back, right. Right.

A. I guess so.

Q. Okay. I’m going to show you some photographs that have been premarked. They’ve been shown to the prosecutor, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach.

THE COURT: They’re not in evidence yet.

MR. MESEREAU: Not yet.

THE COURT: Can you just give me the numbers. It’s for my notes. No, just -- what’s the run.

MR. MESEREAU: It’s Exhibit 5020 through Exhibit 5029.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, I’m going to show you some photographs, and ask you if they appear accurate to you. The first one says “Jean Seamont, DDS.” Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember going to that office.

A. That might be a little -- it’s like the -- a little -- I don’t know exactly how it is, but --

Q. It’s like a sign.

A. Yeah, a sign. There we go.

Q. Okay. And that’s -- that looks accurate to you, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And that is Exhibit 5020. Now I’m showing you Exhibit 5021. Does that look familiar to you.

A. A little bit. Yeah. That looks like the place that they took us to.

Q. That’s the dentist’s office, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Appears accurate to you.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Now I’m showing you Exhibit 5022. Do you see that.
A. Yes, I see it.
Q. And that’s downtown Solvang, right.
A. I don’t know.
Q. That’s near the dental office, isn’t it.
A. I don’t know if that was the same place.
Q. Does it look accurate to you.
A. I don’t know where that is.
Q. Okay. Now I’m showing you Exhibit 5023. Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. And does that look like the inside of the dentist’s office.
A. I think so.
Q. Okay. Looks accurate to you.
A. I think it was the dentist’s office.
Q. Okay. And now I’m showing you Defense Exhibit 5024. Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. And that’s the inside of the dentist’s office, right.
A. I think so.

Q. Looks accurate to you.
A. Yes.
Q. And now I’m showing you Defense Exhibit 5025. Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. And that’s the inside of the dentist’s office, right.
A. I don’t know if that’s the same place they did my stuff, but, I mean, it looks --
Q. Looks accurate to you.
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. I’m showing you now Exhibit 5026. Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. Inside of the dentist’s office, right.
A. Yes.

Q. Look accurate to you.

A. Yes.

Q. Now I’m showing you Exhibit 5027. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. And that’s also the inside of the dentist’s office, right.

A. I think so, yes.

Q. Look accurate to you.

A. Yes.

Q. I’m now showing you Exhibit 5028. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. That’s the outside of the dentist’s office, right.

A. I don’t know. I never went out there.

Q. Does it look accurate to you.

A. I don’t know. I never went out there.

Q. Okay. And now I’m showing you Exhibit 5029. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. That’s the outside of the dentist’s office, right.

A. I don’t know.

Q. Does it look accurate to you.

A. I don’t know. I never went out there.

Q. Okay.

Unless there’s an objection, I’ll move these photographs into evidence.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, excuse me, Your Honor. There is an objection to the ones he said he didn’t know anything about, so that would be --

THE COURT: I’ve got it. 5023 is not admitted. 5025 and 502 -- no, 5028 and 5029 are not admitted. The others are all admitted.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You don’t know how long you were at that dental office, correct.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever see any telephones --

THE BAILIFF: Is your microphone on.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh. Pardon me. Let me start again.
Q. You don't know how long you were at that dental office, right.
A. No.
Q. Did you ever see any phones in that dental office.
A. No -- well, there's probably one in the front. But I didn't see one in that picture, though.
Q. Did anyone in your family ever complain while you were at that dental office, "We're being held against our will," to your knowledge.
A. No.
MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I'd like -- I have in front of me a Neverland Valley guest book I'd like to be marked next in order.
THE COURT: That would be 5030.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes, please.
MR. SANGER: There is a 5030.
THE CLERK: We already have a 5030. So that would be 5031.
THE COURT: Excuse me. 5031.
THE CLERK: Yes.
Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, I have --
Excuse me, Your Honor.
Oh.
MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, you know, could --

Your Honor, we've never seen this. It wasn't provided to us.
MR. MESEREAU: We produced it to them, Your Honor.
MR. SNEDDON: I haven't seen the book. And I'd like to look at it before he asks any questions.
THE COURT: We'll organize this. You let her -- there you go. You got the label on it. Would you show it to the District Attorney.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes, Your Honor.
(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I have in front of me Defense Exhibit 5034 (sic).

THE COURT: They can’t hear you.

MR. MESEREAU: Oh. Here we go again. I have in front of me Defense Exhibit 5031, which is a Neverland Valley guest book. May I approach the witness.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, I’m showing you a Neverland Valley guest book that’s listed as Exhibit 5031. Have you seen that before.

A. Yes.

Q. Where have you seen this before.

A. In the front of the -- the -- where you walk in the front entrance, there’s like this podium-type thing, and it sat on there.

Q. Now, there’s some writing on the cover of that book. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. Is that your writing.

A. No.

Q. You didn’t write that.

A. No. That’s my brother’s, I think.

Q. Well, it says “Gavin,” doesn’t it.

A. Yeah.

Q. You didn’t write that.

A. It says “Blow Hole and Gavin.”

Q. Okay. Do you know who wrote that.

A. “Blow Hole’s” my brother.

Q. You didn’t write that at all.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you know why your brother wrote on the cover of the guest book.

A. Because it looked cool. Because it’s on the part where you can see it. I don’t know. You should ask my brother.

Q. Did you see him do that.

A. No.

Q. Did you ever talk to him about it.

A. No.

Q. Now, you had looked through this guest book before, correct.

A. I didn’t really look through it, but I signed it once.

Q. Okay. So your signature would be in there.

A. I don’t know if my signature would be in there. But I remember --

Q. I’m sorry.

A. I don’t know if my signature was in there, but I remember saying, like, “Thanks for letting us come to Neverland,” and it was the first time I’d ever been to Neverland.

Q. Okay. But this is the book you saw at Neverland, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

Move to admit Defense Exhibit 5031.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I have no objection to either option. They can put in a photocopy of the front, which is what he was questioned about, but as to the entire contents, I object.

THE COURT: All right. The objection is sustained as to the contents.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. With your permission, Your Honor, we can just get a duplicate of the cover.

THE COURT: That would be fine.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Okay.

THE COURT: You can leave -- is there an agreement that once he gets the duplicate of the cover, that he can exchange the duplicate for the original and remove the original. Or do you want to wait until the end of the trial for that.

MR. SNEDDON: No, that would be fine, Your Honor. I’m just at a little bit -- “duplicate” meaning --

THE COURT: The duplicate of the cover is what he was saying.

MR. MESEREAU: Yeah.

MR. SNEDDON: Will it have the same writing on it.

THE COURT: “Duplicate” usually means the same. I mean, it’s a duplicate.

MR. SNEDDON: All right. I’ll wait till the duplicate comes in, and we can talk about it then. How’s that.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. Go ahead, Counsel.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, according to you, it’s your brother’s handwriting, right.

A. It kind of looks like it. But I don’t know if it is.

Q. And it says, “Hi, Doe-Doe, it’s your Blow Hole. I love with you all my heart. Love forever, your Blow Hole, Gavin.” Do you see that.

A. It says “Blow Hole and Gavin.” It doesn’t say “Blow Hole” --

Q. It looks like an “F.”

THE COURT: Counsel, you’re testifying.

MR. MESEREAU: I’m sorry, Your Honor. Okay.

Q. You didn’t see your brother do this, right.

A. No --

MR. SNEDDON: Asked and answered, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, I have in front of me an exhibit, No. 5032, which is a photocopy of a mannequin.

I’d like to approach the witness, if I may.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, I’m showing you a document that’s labeled Exhibit 5032. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. And that appears to be a photograph of a mannequin, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Appears to be an African-American girl with braids, right.

A. Yes.
Q. With a blue jean jacket, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And a pink shirt. Do you see that.
A. Yes.
Q. Have you seen that mannequin before.
A. Yes, I saw it in Michael's bedroom.
Q. Is that the mannequin that you're claiming

Mr. Jackson simulated a sex act with.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Now, did you ever discuss with Mr. Jackson where that mannequin came from.
A. No. He said that -- there was a bunch of mannequins all over his bedroom.
Q. Well, did he ever tell you this was something that was custom made and it's a mannequin of a cousin of his.
A. No. He just said that he has lots of mannequins.
Q. So you never discussed with him what this mannequin was all about, right.
A. No.
Q. You never knew that this mannequin was something that was paid for and custom made because it's his cousin.
A. He never told me that.
Q. Okay. Okay. When did you first see this mannequin.
A. In his bedroom. Where the bed actually is.
Q. And do you know approximately when that was.
A. I don't -- probably the first time I went in his room I saw it there. And then the second time I was in his room. All the way after Miami was when we made the joke about it.
Q. At some point you learned that somebody had defaced that mannequin, right.

A. Defaced. What do you mean.

Q. Yes. Somebody had taken like a magic marker and messed up that mannequin, right.

A. No, I don’t remember that.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, at this time I’d like to approach the witness and show him Exhibit No. 5033, which is a photograph --

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MESEREAU: -- of a mannequin as well.

Q. Mr. Arvizo, I’m showing you Defense Exhibit No. 5033. Do you see that.

A. Yes.

Q. And do you see where somebody went into the vaginal portion of that mannequin and defaced it with a magic marker.

A. Yes. I see that, I guess.

Q. You know who did that, don’t you.

A. No.

MR. MESEREAU: May I publish this, Your Honor.

THE COURT: No.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: You don’t know who did that at all.

A. No.

Q. You didn’t do it.

A. No.

Q. Your brother didn’t do it.

A. No.

MR. MESEREAU: May I approach one more time.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Do you see the skirt on the mannequin in Defense Exhibit 5032.

A. Yes.

Q. Same material as you see on the mannequin in Defense Exhibit 5033, right.

A. I guess so. Yeah.

Q. But you’ve never seen this defaced portion --

A. No.

Q. -- right.

A. No. No.

Q. Do you know why your brother defaced the guest book.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. Counsel’s testifying. And he’s already said he didn’t do it.

MR. MESEREAU: I didn’t ask if he did it.

THE COURT: Sustained; calls for speculation.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. Move to admit Defense Exhibits 5032 and 5033, Your Honor.

THE COURT: They haven’t been properly identified. So it’s denied.

MR. MESEREAU: Exhibit 5032 is the photograph of the mannequin that I showed Mr. Sneddon.

THE COURT: That one is admitted.

MR. MESEREAU: And 5033 is also a photograph of the same mannequin.

THE COURT: But it hasn’t been identified as to the marking you’re talking about. He has never seen it that way, so we don’t know who did it, when it was done. There’s no foundation.

MR. MESEREAU: We’ll do it -- we’ll do it later, then.

THE COURT: All right. No foundation.

MR. MESEREAU: Okay. All right.

Q. Finally, Mr. Arvizo, in your direct examination, you commented a couple of times on Mr. Jackson wearing makeup. Do you remember that.

A. Here.

Q. When you were answering Prosecutor Sneddon’s questions, a couple of times you used the word “makeup” in referring to Michael Jackson, right.

A. I said one time when he was -- a story about a time when we were in the room where his makeup was, but I don’t remember me saying it a lot of times.

Q. Now, you knew that Michael Jackson has a skin disease called vitiligo, right.

A. He told me about it.

Q. And he told you that he’s an African-American man with a skin disease that eats up pigment in his skin, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you knew that that disease was causing certain patches of white and brown on his skin, right.

A. Yes. I guess.

Q. And --

A. I don’t know. It’s not like I was making fun of him yesterday, if that’s what you’re trying to imply.

Q. Well, you knew that his skin is vulnerable to sunlight, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And that’s why you see him with an umbrella, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you also knew, because of the patches that appear on his skin from that disease, he does sometimes put some makeup on, right.

A. I didn’t know about patches. I thought he was just all white.

Q. Well, you discussed the skin disease with him, right.

A. Yes.

Q. You knew the skin disease was changing the color of his skin, right.

A. That’s what he told me.

Q. And you knew that’s why he put makeup on; true.

A. Not really. I thought it was just because he had, like -- because he -- he didn’t have pink on his lips, so he would put makeup on his lips.
I mean, I wasn’t making fun of him yesterday, if that’s what you are trying to say.

Q. You weren’t making fun of him at all.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you’re aware, are you not, that you have until the age of 18 to file a lawsuit against Mr. Jackson if you choose to, correct.

A. No.
Q. You've never discussed that with your mother.
A. No.
Q. Never discussed that with Larry Feldman, the attorney.
A. No.
Q. And never discussed it with Bill Dickerman, the attorney.
A. No.
Q. Okay. You're also aware that if Mr. Jackson is convicted, you could automatically win that civil suit, right.
A. No.
Q. No one's ever discussed that with you.
A. No. We said things like, oh, we don't want his money, and stuff like that.
Q. Never discussed that issue with any attorney, right.

A. No.
Q. First time you've heard about it.
A. About that I can -- you just told me now that I can sue him till I'm 18 or something like that. I didn't even know about that stuff.
Q. Didn't even know about that, right. And never heard your mother mention it.
A. No.
MR. MESEREAU: No further questions.
THE COURT: Redirect.
MR. SNEDDON: Yes.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION
BY MR. SNEDDON:
Q. Morning, Gavin.
A. Hey, Tom.
Q. I'm going to ask you just a few questions. It won't be long.
First of all, with regard to this particular case, Mr. Mesereau has asked you a lot of questions about did you have conversations with your brother and your mother and other people about what you've testified here in court today.

A. Uh-huh.
Q. Do you recall those questions.
A. Yes.
Q. And you said you did not.
A. Yes.

Q. Were you given some instructions with regard to who you could talk to and who you couldn’t talk to about this case.
A. You guys told us that we can’t talk to anybody about this case. Well, our family and -- anyone that was, like, involved; you know what I mean.
Q. When were you told that.
A. When the case first started.
Q. So from the time you were first involved in the case till today, those were the instructions you were given.
A. Yes.
Q. And have you followed those instructions faithfully.
A. Yes.
Q. Mr. Mesereau asked you yesterday about the fact that when you went through chemotherapy you had some temporary memory loss and inability to concentrate at some points in time.
A. Yes.
Q. At the time that these events occurred at Neverland Ranch involving you and the defendant, Michael Jackson, were any of those effects from the chemotherapy still present with you.
A. No, they went away after a while.
Q. Do you remember Mr. Mesereau asking you about a video that was taken during one of your first trips to Neverland, with you and Mr. Jackson, when we saw the music “I’ll Be There”. Do you remember that one.

A. The one where he carried me and stuff.

Q. Yeah. Do you remember that video.
A. Yes.
Q. When was the first time you saw that video.
A. Um, it was probably -- I think they brought it to Chris at his house, and that was the first time I saw it.
Q. Who brought it to Chris.
A. I think it was -- or -- I don’t remember the first time. It could have been either at the hotel in Miami or at Chris’s house before we left. But I’m not sure.
Q. So up until the time -- that photograph was taken back in 2000 when you were just starting your chemotherapy, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. So from the time in 2000 when the video was produced until the time that you went to Miami, or shortly before Miami, with Chris Tucker, you had never been given a copy of that by Mr. Jackson.
A. No.
Q. Did Mr. Jackson ever visit you in the hospital when you were sick.
A. Never.
Q. Now, you told us that you had some telephone numbers for Mr. Jackson that had been given to you by Mr. Jackson or somebody else.

A. Yes.
Q. Who gave you the phone numbers.
A. It was usually Michael. But, like, Frank gave me his phone and he said that he was usually with Michael, so that I can call his phone and then he can give me Michael.
Q. Were there times when you called Frank’s phone and got ahold of Mr. Jackson.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, did you have conversations with the defendant, Mr. Jackson, about his relationship with the person that you call Frank Tyson.
A. Yeah. Frank told me, like, he’s like his --
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; hearsay.
THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: You say you had a conversation.
A. Yeah. I had a conversation, yes.
Q. All right. Now, first of all, I want to ask you, did Mr. Jackson make statements about his relationship with Frank.
A. Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, offered under 1223.
MR. MESEREAU: Same objection.
THE COURT: I'll admit it. These are statements by Mr. Jackson.

MR. SNEDDON: They are, Your Honor. About his relationship with a co-conspirator.
THE COURT: All right. These are admitted conditionally, as the other statements were.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Now, what did the defendant, Mr. Jackson, say about his relationship with Frank Tyson.
A. He told us that Frank was like his second cousin or something. And then that Michael would change his diapers when he was a baby, and stuff like that.
Q. So he had known him for a long, long time.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, when you testified, you were asked by Mr. Mesereau some questions concerning the Martin Bashir documentary. Do you recall that.
A. Yes.
Q. Now, what I want to ask you is, before you went to Miami and saw Mr. Jackson in Miami - okay. --
A. Uh-huh.
Q. -- what was it -- what portions of that video had you seen at anyplace.
A. I haven't seen it -- I didn't see it at all. I just saw news media talking about it, talking about a movie or something. I didn't really know what it was until I got to Miami.

Q. So before you went to Miami you had heard media talking about it. Did you actually see any footage on T.V..
A. No.
Q. You just heard the voices.
A. Yes.
Q. When you got to Miami, did you see the Bashir video.
A. No, Michael didn't want us to see it in his hotel so --
Q. Did you see any parts of it.
A. No.
Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury that when you went to Miami that you were upset with somebody over the Bashir documentary. Do you recall that.
A. Um --
Q. Actually, let me rephrase that.
Mr. Mesereau asked you if your mother was upset with somebody when you went to Miami. Do you recall that.
A. Not really.
Q. Were you upset with anybody, or angry.
A. I was angry at -- kind of angry at Martin Bashir.
Q. At who.
A. Martin Bashir.
Q. Do you know what your mother's attitude was towards that, if you know.

A. I don't remember.
Q. Now, you told the ladies and gentlemen of the jury a few moments ago that when Mr. Mesereau asked you how you knew Mr. Jackson was in Miami, do you recall that question.
A. I'm sorry, can you repeat the question.
Q. I want to take you to that point in time with regard to where you -- when you learned that Mr. Jackson was in Miami.
A. Okay.
Q. Before you went to Miami.

A. Okay.

Q. Okay. Who was it that told you that Mr. Jackson was in Miami.

A. Michael. Evvy said that Michael's going to call me in a few minutes. Well, I told my mother. And then Michael called on the phone, and I picked up, and he told me that he was in Miami and he wanted me to go over there.

Q. Was that the first time that you learned that Mr. Jackson was in Miami.

A. Yes.

Q. And that's when he invited you to be a part of a press conference.

A. Yes.

Q. Just a couple of questions about things that happened at the ranch. You were questioned by Mr. Mesereau about the nanny named Grace. Do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. And about -- specifically about the area upstairs, where it had some -- a chalkboard and some tables and things.

A. Yes.

Q. During the time that you were at the ranch, did you ever see anybody other than Grace come in as a teacher to the children.

A. I think they switched -- I think Grace went away for a while. And then some other lady came.

Q. Do you know who that lady was.

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you've identified in one of the photographs a person by the name of Aldo. Do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. Was Aldo at the ranch during times that you were there with Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall when it was that you were there -- when -- Tuesday morning. Do you recall in relationship to when you and Mr. Jackson were there, what part of the visit was it that Aldo was there.

A. In the beginning.

Q. Now, there was a considerable amount of discussion about the codes that were needed to get into certain areas of the ranch.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, with regard to the -- let’s just run through this real quickly. With regard to the theater, did you need a code to get in there.

A. No.

Q. With regard to the arcade, did you need a code to get in there.

A. No.

Q. With regard to the main house, did you need a code to get in there.

A. Yes.

Q. In the front door.

A. No, in the back door. Oh, it was in the front door, I never really saw one. But, I mean, we always went through the back door.

Q. So there was a code that was necessary to know to get into the back door of the house.

A. Yes.

Q. And then there was a code to get into Mr. Jackson’s bedroom, we’ve heard a great deal about.

A. Yes.

Q. Were there any other areas on the ranch that you know of that you needed a code to get into those areas.

A. No, there was no other place.

Q. How about Mr. Jackson’s office.

A. I don’t really remember if there was a code needed to get in there. I don’t think there was.

Q. When you went to Miami with Chris Tucker on his charter plane to meet Mr. Jackson, did you want to meet Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes.

Q. Gavin, when you testified in front of the grand jury, did you tell the truth.

A. Yes.

Q. And when you testified in front of the grand jury, were the things that you told the grand jury fresh in your mind at that time.

A. They were probably fresher.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; leading.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m laying the foundation for an Evidence Code section exception.

THE COURT: All right. The objection is overruled. The answer was already in. Next question.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Yesterday Mr. Mesereau showed you a number of cards, greeting cards, that were sent to Mr. Jackson by you and other members of your family.

A. Yes.

Q. Were some of those -- were any of those cards in handwritings other than yours.

A. Yes. Some were mine.

Q. Yesterday you made a statement to the jury in response to one of Mr. Mesereau’s statements. You made a statement something to the effect, “God gave me cancer to guide me in a certain way.” Do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. What did you mean by that.

A. Well, through -- when I had cancer, I got really close to God.

And they had like missions all over the West Coast down to Mexico praying for me. They had -- I don’t know. Something happened where they had a picture and they put on a wall.

And then my friend went to Israel and put a picture on this wall where they put, like, all these people that have, like, diseases and stuff like that.

And then -- I don’t know. Because of my cancer, my parents started fighting more, I guess.

And -- I mean, it sounds kind of sad that they got divorced, but, I mean, it was kind of a window, I believe, to find my stepdad and -- because it’s a lot better than it was before having my stepdad in my life.
Q. Now, you’re currently in school, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Just -- are you in school.

A. Yes.
Q. You’re in a high school.
A. Yes.
Q. What grade are you.
A. I’m in ninth grade.
Q. And yesterday you were asked -- I think you made the statement rather candidly, you were asked by Mr. Mesereau, were you a discipline problem, and you said yes, when you were at John Burroughs.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Currently in the high school that you’re in, do you get good grades.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you make the honor roll.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you get in fights anymore.
A. No.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; relevance.
THE COURT: Overruled. The answer was “No.” Next question.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Have you had any discipline problems.
A. No.
Q. Are you involved in after-school activities.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; relevance.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: During the time that you were -- let’s go back just a second. In the year, I believe you testified 2001, at some point your father left; is that correct.

A. Right after I was done with cancer, I didn’t see him anymore.
Q. What was the impact on you when your dad left.
A. I cried every night.
Q. For -- why.
A. Because, I mean, I didn’t have a dad anymore. I mean, I was kind of happy that he left because he hit my mom a lot, but I didn’t -- I just felt like I didn’t have anybody. Any father; you know what I mean.
Q. Yeah. And you don’t feel that way anymore.
A. No.
Q. Because of.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection; relevance.
THE WITNESS: My stepdad.
THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: Because of my stepdad.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: So it was the relationship with your stepdad that changed that feeling.
A. Yes.
Q. So let’s talk a little bit about some of the things Mr. Mesereau talked about yesterday. Mr. Geraldt. He talked about an incident where you had a run-in with Mr. Geraldt that ended up you going to see Mr. Alpert. Do you recall that.

A. I don’t know if I saw Mr. Alpert, but I remember seeing a -- some -- someone that was in the office.
Q. Did you ever receive any discipline as a result of that incident with Mr. Geraldt.
A. No, I don’t think -- no, they never even did anything.
Q. Now, when you went back to school after you left Neverland Ranch - okay. --
A. Yes.
Q. -- March and April, you were at John Burroughs, correct.
A. Yes.
Q. Did -- what was -- what was it like when you went back to school.

A. All the kids would laugh at me and try to push me around and stuff, and say, “That’s the kid that got raped by Michael Jackson,” and stuff like that.

Q. Did -- what was your reaction to that.

A. I would sometimes not say anything and just walk away. And if they got close enough, sometimes I would fight them. After they hit me first, because I didn’t like to throw the first punch, because I believe that -- I mean --

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; nonresponsive.

THE COURT: I’ll sustain the objection. In the middle, “After they hit me first,” is where it stops.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. So there were fights that you got into after you left Neverland Valley Ranch because of the things that the kids were saying to you.

A. Yes.

Q. And when you get in a fight, what happens. Where do you have to go.

A. They took us to Dean Alpert.

Q. Now, you were asked yesterday whether you had a conversation with Dean Alpert where he asked you whether or not Mr. Jackson had touched you. Do you recall that.

A. Yes.

Q. And you recall that you probably told him it didn’t happen, correct.

A. I told him that it didn’t happen.

Q. Okay. You told him it didn’t happen.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Why did you tell him that.

A. Because all the kids were already making fun of me in school, and I didn’t want anybody to think that it really happened.

Q. Gavin, have you ever been a member of a gang.

A. No.

Q. Did anybody ever ask you to join a gang.

A. Yes.

Q. What happened.
A. They jumped me because I said no. So I got in a fight with a bunch of guys.
Q. Because you wouldn’t join a gang.
A. Yes.
Q. Almost done. Just a couple more easy questions and -- Mr. Mesereau asked you yesterday about going to Anchor Blue. Do you recall that.
A. Yes.
Q. How many times do you recall going to shop at Anchor Blue.
A. Once.
Q. Now, the suitcases that they bought you -- I just want to talk about you individually, okay. --
A. Okay.
Q. -- was it more than one.
A. It was -- like, they had this package thing where you would buy one, and they would have all -- they would have this big one, and in the inside it would be one smaller, and another one that was even smaller that was a carry-on bag.
Q. So you had a series of suitcases.
A. Yeah, and -- yes.
Q. And when you left Neverland, did you take all those suitcases with you, you personally.
A. I think I just took the -- no, I didn’t take them. They -- after we left and we stopped -- we didn’t want to go back --

Q. Okay.
A. -- Frank and Vinnie showed up on our door and they were knocking on the door. And then we waited until they left, and we looked outside and our suitcases were there.
Q. Did you open your suitcase and go through it.
A. Yes.
Q. Was there anything missing.

A. Yeah.

Q. What.

A. Some of my underwear, some of my shirts, a couple pants, and stuff like that. And they put in some other guy's pants.

Q. Did you ever have a conversation with the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson, about your underpants.

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the jury about it.

MR. MESEREAU: Objection; beyond the scope.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: There was one time that I slept in his room - and he was probably joking but I kind of took it serious - I had pajamas on and -- I was using his pajamas. And I told him I was going in to take a shower in my unit.

And then he was like, "Leave your stinking underwear in the hamper," or something like that.

And then so -- because I had to change out of my clothes to go to my unit. And then I don't know if he was joking or not, but I actually did.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did what.

A. Put my underwear in the hamper.

Q. Did you ever get those back.

A. No.

Q. With regard to the items that were dropped at your -- at your door by Frank and Vinnie, that was after you left Neverland for good.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Gavin, I just have one last question to ask you: Yesterday in response to Mr. Mesereau's questions, you told him that Mr. Jackson was like a father figure to you; is that correct.

A. Michael Jackson.

Q. Yeah.

A. Yes.

Q. And that you thought he was one of the coolest guys in the world, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And that you admired him.

A. Well, I only admire God, but he was a pretty cool guy.
Q. How do you feel about Mr. Jackson now in light of what he did to you.
MR. MESEREAU: Objection. 352; relevance; leading.

THE COURT: Overruled.
THE WITNESS: I don’t really like him anymore. I don’t think he’s really that deserving of the respect that I was giving him and as the coolest guy in the world.
MR. SNEDDON: Nothing further, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Recross.
MR. MESEREAU: Yes, please, Your Honor.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION
BY MR. MESEREAU:
Q. Mr. Arvizo, did you discuss your testimony of yesterday with anyone last evening.
A. No.
Q. Did you discuss any of it with Mr. Sneddon.
A. No.
Q. Was the last meeting you had with Mr. Sneddon Sunday night.
A. Yes.
Q. Did you discuss your testimony with any attorney or employee of an attorney last night.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Did anyone talk to you about what Mr. Sneddon was going to ask you today.
A. No.
Q. Okay. Now, did you have a meeting at a law office last Saturday.

A. No.
Q. Anyone in your family go to a law office last Saturday, to your knowledge.
A. No.
Q. Never heard about it.

A. No.

Q. Okay. When is the last time you talked to any lawyer associated with Larry Feldman's office.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object as beyond the scope of the redirect.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. MESEREAU: Mr. Arvizo, when you were having disciplinary problems at school, they went far beyond just fighting with students, didn't they.

A. No, it was everything that I told you. That's what happened.

Q. You were repeatedly accused of disrespecting teachers, right.

A. That's what I told you yesterday.

Q. Okay. And you didn't even show up for detention much of the time when you were ordered to, right.

A. No, I showed up at every detention.

Q. Well, do you recall never showing up for a detention that Teacher Parker ordered you to attend.

A. No.

Q. Don't recall that.

A. No.

Q. Okay. You were accused of getting up in the middle of class and disrupting everything, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object as asked and answered. We went through this yesterday.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. MESEREAU: No further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Do you have anything further, Mr. Sneddon.

MR. SNEDDON: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You may step down.
Call your next witness.

MR. MESEREAU: Your Honor, may the witness be subject to re-call.

THE COURT: Yes. He's not excused.

MR. MESEREAU: Thank you, Your Honor.

MR. ZONEN: We'll call Officer Terry Flaa to the stand.

THE COURT: Remain standing. Face the clerk and raise your right hand.

TERRY FLAA

Having been sworn, testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: I do.

THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record

THE WITNESS: Yes. My name is Terry Flaa. Last name spelling, F-l-a-a.

THE CLERK: Thank you.

MR. ZONEN: May I proceed, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ZONEN:

Q. What is your current occupation.

A. I'm a police officer employed by the Santa Maria Police Department.

Q. And you've been employed by Santa Maria Police Department for how long.

A. About 14 months.

Q. What is your current position with Santa Maria Police Department.

A. I'm a patrolman.

Q. Prior to your employment with Santa Maria Police Department, where were you employed.

A. I was with the Santa Barbara County Sheriff's Department.

Q. And for what period of time.

A. A little over -- around eight and a half years.

Q. And you moved from the sheriff's office in Santa Barbara County to Santa Maria Police Department.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And why did you do that.
A. I -- I'm from the Santa Maria area. It was an agency I always wanted to work for, and the opportunity was there, so I took that opportunity.
Q. And you are able to work closer to your home at this time.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. What was the position that you held at the time that you left the Santa Barbara County Sheriff's Office.
A. I was an investigator assigned to the vice and intelligence unit.
Q. Were you called upon to conduct an investigation of a referral that had come into the office.
A. Yes, I was.
Q. And do you know which one I'm referring to.
A. Yes, I do.
Q. All right. You have some sense of what case this is; is that correct.
A. I do.
Q. When was that referral. When did that referral come into the office.
A. It was assigned to me on February 20th.
Q. What was the nature of the referral.
A. The nature of the referral --
Q. Excuse me, February 20th of what year, please.

A. I'm sorry. 2003.
Q. All right. What was the nature of the referral.
A. I had received two referrals. The first referral was from L.A. Department of Child & Family Services that stressed -- a caller had stressed concern over the welfare of Mr. Jackson's children.
The second referral was in response to the February 6th, I believe it was, airing of the documentary regarding Mr. Jackson. And that referral revealed the identities of the children depicted, specifically of Gavin Arvizo.
Q. And what did you do in terms of conducting an investigation on that referral.

A. Well, the first thing that we did is I conferred with my immediate supervisor, Sergeant LeGault, and we were going to begin the process of interviewing the children. However, a few days later, on the 24th, I was advised that L.A. CWS -- or DCFS, pardon me, had already interviewed the Arvizo family.

Q. Do you know when that interview took place.

A. That interview took place on February 20th of 2003.

Q. Did you have a conversation with anybody from the Department of Child & Family Services in Los Angeles.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. With whom did you have a conversation.

A. Her name was -- excuse me, Brenda Blackburn, who was a supervisor.

Q. Did she submit to you or forward to you any documentation of that interview.

A. No, she did not.

Q. Is there a report that they prepared with regards to that interview.

A. I was told that there was, yes.

Q. What did she tell you with regards to your being able to get possession of that report at that time.

A. At that time she told me that, due to confidentiality reasons, that the DCFS would not be able to forward that document to the sheriff’s department.

Q. Did she relate to you the content of the document itself.

A. Yes. She did, however, explain that she would be able to read the report to me, and which she did.

Q. And did you tape-record that conversation.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. All right. Did she read to you, presumably, the report in its entirety.

A. According to what she told me, yes.

Q. What was the date that she read to you that report.

A. March 13th, 2003.

Q. Now, did Miss Blackburn indicate to you that she was the one who actually interviewed the children.

A. No, she did not actually interview the children.

Q. So she was reading a report of interviews conducted by other workers.

A. Yes.

Q. Did she indicate the identity of those workers.

A. Yes. If I may, may I refer to my narrative to confirm that date of March 13th.

Q. Yes. Please go ahead.

A. Refresh my memory.

Q. Yes, go ahead.

A. Thank you.

THE COURT: After he does that, we will take our break.

THE WITNESS: I apologize. It was actually March 10th, 2003, that I spoke to Brenda Blackburn.

THE COURT: All right. Let’s take our break.

(Recess taken.)

--o0o--

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE)
OF CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)

Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 2021 through 2081 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 15, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California,
March 15, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER’S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 2083 THROUGH 2242)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

INDEX

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES	DIRECT	CROSS	REDIRECT	RECROSS
FLAA, Terry	2089-SA	2113-Z	2116-SA
KLAPAKIS, Jeff	2121-Z	2128-SA
ROBEL, Steve (Re-called)	2142-SN	2173-SA

E X H I B I T S

PLAINTIFF’S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
84	Photograph of magazines found in cardboard box	2157	2162
278	Photograph of cardboard box	2157	2162
279	Diagram of bedroom	2166	2166
280	Brown evidence bag containing note	2168	2173
281	Star Arvizo’s fingerprints and palm prints	2170	2172
282	Gavin Arvizo’s fingerprints and palm prints	2171	2172
283	Photograph of magazine	2157	2162
284	Photograph of book	2157	2162

DEFENDANT’S NO.
5034 Timeline (Terry Flaa) 2116 2119
5035 Timeline (Steve Robel) 2187 2198

THE COURT: You may proceed, Counsel.

MR. ZONEN: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. Officer Flaa, just a clarification, please. You indicated the unit that you were assigned to at the time that you left the sheriff’s office was what again.

A. That was the --

BAILIFF CORTEZ: Microphone, please.

MR. ZONEN: How’s this.

A JUROR: Turn it on.

MR. ZONEN: How’s this.

Q. The unit that you were assigned to at the time you left the sheriff’s office was which again.

A. The vice and the intelligence unit.

Q. Was that the unit that you were in at the time that this referral came into the office back on the 20th of February of 2003.

A. No, sir.

Q. What unit were you attached to at that time.

A. At that time I was a detective assigned to the Criminal Investigations Division.

Q. All right. Now, you told us that when this came in, you had a conversation with Brenda Blackburn from the Department of Child & Family Services in Los Angeles.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have a conversation with anybody else.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. With whom.

A. David Arvizo.

Q. All right. Who did you understand David Arvizo to be.

A. To be the father of the Arvizo siblings.

Q. Did you make a determination as to whether or not the children should be interviewed by the sheriff’s department, Santa Barbara County Sheriff’s Department, by you or some other designated detective.

A. After the interview with CWS.

Q. Yes, that’s right. After CWS indicated to you that they had already done the interview.

A. We had made a determination that an interview would not be necessary.

Q. Was there any information that was given to you that there was a disclosure of child sexual abuse at all.

A. No, no information.

Q. And was there any further investigation conducted by the sheriff’s office at that time.

A. No, there was not.

Q. Was the investigation closed at that time.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. The date of the interview with -- again, with Child -- I’m sorry, with Miss Blackburn was what date now.

A. March 10th, 2003.

Q. And when was your interview with Mr. Arvizo.

A. March 13th, 2003.

MR. ZONEN: Thank you. I have no further questions.

Oh, excuse me. One last question.

Q. Did you make a report of this.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And did you indicate in your report the date that the referral came in and the date of your interviews.

A. I indicated the date that I received the referral.
Q. And the date of your interview with Miss Blackburn.
A. Yes, sir.
Q. All right. And did you also include with it a -- the copy of the tape that you had of the interview with Miss Blackburn.
A. Yes. I booked that in as evidence.
MR. ZONEN: Thank you.
No further questions.
THE COURT: Cross-examine.

CROSS-EXAMINATION
BY MR. SANGER:
Q. Officer Flaa; is that correct.
A. That's correct, Mr. Sanger.

Q. First of all, you were with the sheriff's department for eight and a half years; is that correct.
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And what was the date that you terminated your services with the sheriff's department.
A. It was in the beginning of January, 2004. I don't recall the specific -- I think it was like January 2nd, that week.
Q. Now, you have told us that you went to the Santa Maria Police Department, right. That's where you are now.
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you not like your job as a detective in the intelligence and vice division.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. You liked it, okay.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. You filed a report, as you've just told us, saying that you found there was no criminal activity in this case; is that correct.
A. That's correct.
Q. And you filed that report on April the 16th,

right.

A. Correct.

Q. You were aware that at some time later, there was a further investigation of this case; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, did you continue on in your capacity as a detective at the sheriff's department until you transferred or until you quit and went on to the Santa Maria Police Department.

A. Two different type of positions. It was -- I believe it was March of 2003, mid March - I think it was like March 20th, 2003 - is when I ended my tenure as a detective assigned to the Criminal Investigations Division and had the opportunity to assume the role as -- an undercover role with my vice and intelligence unit.

Q. Okay. When this investigation was reestablished -- do you know when it was reestablished.

A. No.

Q. Did you forward any documents, for instance, to Detective Zelis.

A. Any documents.

Q. Did you furnish any report to Detective Zelis.

A. They had my original report. I did not personally hand them a copy of the report.

Q. So you were not -- you were not assigned to continue the investigation that you started in this case; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. And Detective Zelis started his investigation about June the 13th; is that right.

A. I don't know when he started it.

Q. Roughly sometime in June, is that your understanding, or you don't know at all.

A. I do not know what date the investigation commenced.

THE COURT: What year are you referring to, Counsel.

MR. SANGER: 2003.

Q. All right. Let's go back to the source of the referral in this case. You indicated you received a referral from two different places; is that right. Or -- or two different referrals. I'm sorry.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the information for those referrals came from two different places; is that correct.

A. That's my understanding.

Q. And you reviewed the referral documents; is that right.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And the referral documents were from the Los Angeles Department of Children & Family Services, correct.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And they call that the DCFS.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Okay.

A. My understanding.

Q. And that's sort of like what we call CPS here in Santa Barbara County.

A. Or CWS. They changed it. Child Welfare Services.

Q. So CPS, or now CWS, that's what we call it. They call it DCFS.

A. My understanding, yes.

Q. So you received the reports, the two reports, that were entitled "Suspected Child Abuse Report"; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And the first report was actually generated by a Carol Lieberman; is that your understanding. Do you want to look at the report.

A. If I may, yes.

Q. Yes. And I believe you attached these two reports to your narrative report, did you not.

A. I did.

Q. Okay. I think it's page ten might help you.

A. Okay. Yes, I see that.

Q. All right. Now, let me just stop there for a moment and talk about your qualifications. You went to the academy, POST academy; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. And the POST academy is a certification for an academy that can give training to -- official training to people who are going to become law enforcement officers in the State of California; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Which POST academy did you go to.

A. I attended Allan Hancock College's academy.

Q. All right. And they have an official academy there. People can go there, learn to be police officers, and get a certification so that they can apply for the job; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. And in the course of the academy, you take courses in investigation; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. You take courses in report writing.

A. Yes.

Q. And you basically learn how to take a case from the initial part of an investigation through as far as a police officer would take it; is that right.

A. The basic -- yes.

Q. Now, since your academy training, you also had other inservice training; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And as of 2000 -- February -- March of 2003, how much inservice training had you had.

A. Would you like me to list the various types of training specific to this type of case work.

Q. That would be fine.

A. Okay. I attended a 40-hour sexual assault investigator’s course, a 24-hour child forensic interview course, an 80-hour homicide course that touched on, you know, sexual assault abuse aspects of homicide, as well as inservice training. There’s been some eight-hour courses here and there for different aspects of this type of investigation.

Q. And as a police officer -- or, strike that -- as a deputy sheriff, before becoming a detective in the sheriff’s department, did you have occasion to investigate cases related to child abuse.

A. Yes.

Q. And then when you became a detective, did you have occasion to investigate additional cases.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And how long were you a detect -- excuse me. How long were you a detective as of March of 2003.

A. Four years. Roughly four years.

Q. Okay. So suffice it to say, you were an experienced detective with regard to suspected child abuse cases; is that correct.

A. Yes. I would say.

Q. And when you were assigned this case, you were aware, of course, that we were talking about the entertainer Michael Jackson; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were aware that there had been a good deal of media attention given to Mr. Jackson immediately preceding the time that you started your investigation; is that right.

A. Yes, that’s correct.

Q. Okay. Now, we’re going back to that question about Carol Lieberman. As an experienced child abuse investigator, when you have a complaining -- I’m sorry, when you have a reporting party, is it of interest to the investigator to know who the reporting party is.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And in your department, in the sheriff's department, did you call the reporting party an RP.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So the RP, the reporting party, is often what starts an investigation. Somebody calls in, they're an RP, and that starts your investigation, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. Particularly in child abuse -- suspected child abuse cases, knowing a good deal about the reporting party is generally useful to the investigation, correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. People may have all sorts of agendas when they call in a child abuse report; is that right.

A. Excuse me. Yes. That's correct.

Q. I think there's some water there, if you want to --

A. Thank you.

Q. In this particular case, did you determine who Carol Lieberman was.

A. No.

Q. Were you aware that she has never met Michael Jackson.

A. No.

Q. Were you aware that she never met Michael Jackson's children.

A. If I may. Regarding that referral --

Q. Yes.

A. -- my investigative responsibility was not specifically this referral. It would have been -- the other would have been within our jurisdictional responsibility.

Q. Well, we're going to get to the other in a second.

A. So here, you know, I did not conduct any formal investigation into that referral's accusations.

Q. Okay. Now, I don't mean to argue with you, but I believe on direct you did say you had two referrals when you started your investigation, right.

A. There were two referrals that came in, yes, sir.

Q. And you knew this was an important case to investigate carefully, correct.
A. Right.
Q. And one of the referrals was from Carol Lieberman --
A. Yes.
Q. -- right.
Now, I understand what you just said about the second one, which we'll get to. But I'm asking you if you did any investigation on Carol Lieberman.
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you Google her name, run it on the Internet.
MR. ZONEN: Your Honor, I'll object. The witness has said he did not do an investigation of that referral.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. SANGER: Okay. Well, let me ask you, are you saying you did no investigation whatsoever with regard to this -- with regard to this report.
MR. ZONEN: Which report. Vague.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. SANGER: That's fine. Let me rephrase it.
Q. You indicated you had two referrals. And the first one was from Carol Lieberman, right.
A. I indicated there were -- two referrals had come in from DCFS, yes.

Q. So my question is, what, if anything, did you do with regard to the first referral.
A. The one where you have stated Carol Lieberman's the RP.
Q. Right.
A. Okay. Nothing.
Q. You read it.

A. Oh, I apologize. Yes, I read the referral when it came in.

Q. Okay. And did you consider it as you conducted your investigation.

A. No.

Q. So as far as you were concerned, this had no significance whatsoever.

A. No, this would have been under CWS's, Child Welfare Services', jurisdictional responsibility, not mine, per se, based on the information in the referral.

Q. And as an investigator, you didn't think it was significant to find out who was making the referral, why there was even a referral there.

A. Not for that specific referral.

Q. Okay. Now, the second referral that you talked about is also attached to your reports; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. So we're talking about the same thing here.

And the second referral, this is the one you're saying now was the focus of your investigation.

A. Yes.

Q. And in this referral -- let me withdraw that.

This referral comes from a director or somebody in the administration of the L.A School District; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. And in the referral, the DCSF people indicate that the -- Attorney Gloria Allred had complained to Santa Barbara County officials regarding the Bashir tape; is that correct.

Second to the last paragraph, page 15.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And do you know who Gloria Allred is.

A. Yes.

Q. She's a lawyer in Los Angeles; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. Tends to get on television a lot; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And she has -- in the course of your investigation, you determined she had absolutely no firsthand information whatsoever with regard to Michael Jackson or any of this; is that correct.

A. I did not attempt to make any type of -- that type of determination.

Q. All right. So the second report basically was a revelation by the school district that they had a belief that the people in the Bashir film were students in the L.A. Unified School District; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And they identified the people by name; that is, Gavin and Star Arvizo; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. All right. Now, when you refer -- excuse me.

When you reviewed these two reports -- let me withdraw that.

Other than these two reports, did you have any other information to commence your investigation.

A. No.

Q. All right. Did you talk with Mr. Sneddon about the case.

A. No, I did not.

Q. Did you talk to any other people in your department about the case.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, you talked to Lieutenant Klapakis; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And in the course of talking to Lieutenant Klapakis, you and he decided that you should attempt to interview the children, Gavin and Star Arvizo; is that right.

A. Actually, that conversation would have been between my immediate supervisor at the time, who was Sergeant LeGault, and myself. We had that conversation. We have a chain of command to follow, and Lieutenant Klapakis was Sergeant LeGault’s supervisor. All of ours, but within that chain of command.

Q. All right. So let’s pin this down a little bit. Did you talk to Lieutenant Klapakis yourself about interviewing the children.

A. I do not recall if I specifically spoke to Lieutenant Klapakis directly. I know that most of my communications were with Sergeant LeGault. So -- and understand, their offices are right next to each other. My desk was virtually in earshot of both offices, so he very well could have been party to one of the conversations.

Q. Okay. So you see -- you would see -- at the time, in February and March and April of 2003, you would see Lieutenant Klapakis on a regular basis, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. Do you recall testifying at the grand jury in this case.

A. I do.

Q. Do you, by any chance, have your grand jury testimony there in front of you.

A. I do.

Q. Let me just ask you to do this: Why don’t you take a look at your testimony. You’re welcome to read the whole thing if you’d like. I’m going to ask you to direct your attention to pages 1440, starting at about line 20, going through 1441, line 16.

And I’m going to ask you to just read that to yourself and see if that refreshes your recollection as to whether or not you talked to Lieutenant Klapakis directly.

A. You said line 20 on page 1440.

Q. 1440, start there. But -- you can start wherever you want, but that’s where I’d like you to focus on. And going on to the next page.

A. Okay.

Q. All right. Does that refresh your recollection that you had talked with Lieutenant Klapakis about interviewing the children.

A. Like I said, in reading that, it doesn’t say I specifically told Lieutenant Klapakis. I know that the decision -- that the decisions that I was informed of were handed down by Lieutenant Klapakis, my supervisor.

And, you know, understand, please, that Sergeant LeGault is within that chain of command.

Q. All right.

A. So --

Q. Well, in any event, if LeGault was there -- in other words, you can’t tell us for sure whether you heard directly from Klapakis or not. It may have gone through LeGault; is that correct.

A. That’s exactly what I’m saying.

Q. All right. So when you said at the grand jury, “It was during that time that Lieutenant Klapakis had advised us that he contacted L.A. CPS,” that could have meant that Lieutenant Klapakis told you directly, or told Sergeant LeGault, or told both of you.

A. That’s correct. However, I’m not reading -- I don’t see what you just said.

Q. 1441, lines 12 through 14.

A. It could very well have been where Sergeant LeGault and I were together, yes.

Q. Now, the point of this --

A. I’m sure there’s one.

Q. There is a point, I hope. The point of this is at some point, either directly through Klapakis or through LeGault, among the three of you at some point it was determined that the -- that you should interview these children, right.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And then at some point, Lieutenant Klapakis said he contacted Los Angeles CPS, right.

A. I was informed that he had contacted CPS, yes.

Q. Okay. And when we say “L.A. CPS,” we’re really meaning L.A. DCFS, right.

A. Yes, we are.

Q. Those are kind of used interchangeably by Santa Barbarans.

A. I believe it’s the same type of agency.

Q. All right. So the first point is, you were -- you were told that Lieutenant Klapakis contacted the L.A. DCFS, right.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were told that he instructed them, or had them interview the children; is that what you were told.

A. I was -- I was told that he had submitted a request to them to interview the children.

Q. Now -- and then you found out that, in fact, they did interview the children.

A. I did, yes.

Q. Because that’s what the DCFS worker read to you over the phone.

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. Were you aware that Lieutenant Klapakis, in fact, called the DCFS supervisor and told her not to interview the children.

A. Yes.

Q. And, in fact, the DCFS supervisor said, “You’re too late, we already did it”.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, after -- let me withdraw that. You -- you then relied upon the DCSF workers as to the contents of their interview with the children; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And you also relied upon them, as fellow professionals, to have done a fairly thorough job in interviewing the children; is that correct.

A. That would have been my hope, yes.

Q. And, in fact, what they told you was very detailed. They had asked a lot of very detailed questions of the children and the mother, Janet Arvizo; is that correct.

A. I can only tell you what Brenda Blackburn informed me, what she read to me in that report. As far as what exact exchange occurred between the interviews and the children, I do not know. I was not present.

Q. I understand that. But as the lead investigator on this case involving Mr. Michael Jackson and these allegations, you were at that time concerned that there had been a thorough interview; is that right.

A. I was concerned that there had been.

Q. In other words -- in other words, if you had felt there wasn't a thorough interview, if you felt that, you know, they'd done a drive-by or got on the phone for a minute and said, "It's close enough," you would have said, "No, that's not sufficient. We need to do a further interview, either they do or we do," right.

A. Me personally, yes. But you have to understand, in this situation those decisions were not being made by me as the lead investigator. They were being made by my -- by Lieutenant Klapakis or the administration.

Q. Okay.

A. So I was informed that they had interviewed the children. She read me the content of what supposedly that interview -- what transpired during that interview. And we had to go on on -- based on that.

Q. Now, when you say "we had to go on that," let's -- let's talk about that for a second.

A. Okay.

Q. You were the lead investigator in this case, correct.

A. I was the assigned investigator, yes.

Q. Assigned investigator. And in your department, you call it “assigned investigator,” is that --

A. “Lead investigator” is a term that’s commonly used.

Q. Okay. “Lead investigator.” I just want to use the right words, okay. This will come up again, and we can spend less time with another witness if we just explore this.

A. Okay.

Q. As lead investigator, it’s your understanding, in any case if you’re lead investigator, you’re responsible to collect all the evidence and make sure all the reports are written, and submit the case; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. All right. Now, you have a chain of command --

A. Yes.

Q. -- right.

And in the chain of command at that particular time, in your direct chain of command, you had Sergeant LeGault and you had Lieutenant Klapakis, right.

A. Correct.

Q. The -- the people in the chain of command who are above you in the chain of command can give you instructions and orders; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. However, it is expected and was expected, in February, March and April of 2003, that any lead investigator on a case take full responsibility for evaluating the evidence and making appropriate recommendations; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. All right. And after you heard from Miss Blackburn -- let me withdraw that.

You heard from Miss Blackburn that there were, in fact, three social workers who went to the home; is that right.

A. That's correct.

Q. And that they talked to -- not only to Star Arvizo and Gavin Arvizo, but they talked to their sister Davellin, and they also talked to the mother, Janet; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. All right. And after you received that information, you then talked to the father of the children; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. That was David Arvizo.

A. That's correct.

Q. And he told you that he had been subject to a restraining order, so he hadn't been able to talk with his children for a period of time; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. But he also said that he had been --

MR. ZONEN: I'm going to object as hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: In general, he told you the background.

MR. ZONEN: I'm going to object as hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SANGER: All right. It's not offered for the truth. It's offered with regard to his opinion.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SANGER: Okay.

Q. In any event, after you talked to David Arvizo, did you make a recommendation to your superiors that any further investigation occur in this case.

A. That was the final conclusion, yes.

Q. The final conclusion was that no further investigation --

A. Correct. No further investigation.

Q. So you did not make a recommendation to your superiors that there be further investigation.

A. Not at that time, based on the information we had received.

Q. And, in fact, your conclusion in your report was that there was no criminal activity; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Mr. Sanger.

Q. Yes.

A. If I can clarify something.

You kind of provided a broad time frame when you said February, March, April. And in fact -- and then you talked about that no crime occurred within that time frame. That’s not what I’m stating, nor is that what my report states.

It was as of the interview on February 20th. I cannot account for what happened, what may have been said by any of the Arvizos after the interview with DCFS.

Q. See, I was going to sit down, but now I have to ask you some more questions.

A. I’m sorry, I needed to clarify that, because that was a very broad three-month time frame.

Q. That’s fine.

You submitted your report April 16th; is that correct.

A. If I may look at the face page.

Q. Yes, please.

A. Yes, that’s when I took it to the supervisor for approval.

Q. And the referral that you had, as an experienced child abuse investigator, the material you had suggested that a child abuse investigation be commenced; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And the information that you had from DCFS, you’re telling us, was as of February 20th; is that correct.

A. The date of the interview.

Q. That was the --

A. Yes.

Q. That was the information you had from them. You understood it took place on February 20th.

A. Yes.

Q. And then you had information March 13th from an interview with David Arvizo, correct.

A. I had spoken to Mr. Arvizo on that date, yes.

Q. So as of the -- as of the time that you submitted your report, you had no evidence of criminal activity; is that correct.

A. Based on -- yes.

Q. I understand. But you were assigned the case, and if you thought there was some reason to investigate beyond the reports that you received from Miss Blackburn and Mr. Arvizo, you would have done that, right.

A. Correct.

MR. SANGER: All right. Okay. I have no further questions. Thank you.

MR. ZONEN: Just a couple, Your Honor.

//

//

//

//

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ZONEN:

Q. Just a moment of clarification, if I could, Officer Flaa.

There were two referrals that came in. And the first one you said you did no investigation on. That was the referral of which, please.

A. That was the referral where the reporting party indicated that they were aware of emotional abuse by Mr. Jackson toward his children.

Q. All right. Who handled that referral. Where did that one go to.

MR. SANGER: Objection; calls for speculation.

MR. ZONEN: If he knows.

THE COURT: Well, he -- the foundation is sustained.

MR. ZONEN: All right.

Q. Do you know what becomes of different referrals; in other words, how they're distributed through the investigative bodies and agencies in Santa Barbara County.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And how are they distributed.

A. Well, a referral such as that, where there's no apparent criminal on the surface, and there's no criminal accusations per se, and it's an in-home abuse situation, would be referred out to Child Welfare Services, and they would assume jurisdictional responsibility for that type of investigation.

Q. And did that happen as to the first referral.

A. That I do not know.

Q. All right. But it was not a referral that went -- in other words, the copy that you received was simply a copy. This was a referral to Child Protective Services.

A. Correct.

MR. SANGER: Objection. Leading, Your Honor, and compound.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q. BY MR. ZONEN: Tell us about the report that you received. Was it an original or was it a copy.

A. It was a copy.

Q. To whom was it addressed, then.

A. I don't know. It was given -- I was given a copy by Lieutenant Kla -- or Sergeant LeGault.

Q. In any event, your investigation was limited to the second referral.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that involved which children. Identify them, please.

A. Yes. Gavin Arvizo. Star Arvizo. And then - I know that I'm going to mispronounce this -

Davelian, I believe it is. Davelian Arvizo.

Q. That’s close.

A. Okay.

Q. All right. The dates that we’re talking about, please, you already told us that it was the 20th when the interview was done in Los Angeles, the 20th of February, 2003. And the date that you said you had your conversation with Miss Blackburn was the 11th of March, 2003.

A. March 10th, 2003.

Q. I’m sorry, March 10th, 2003.

When was it determined that the investigation would be closed.

A. After my conversation with Mr. Arvizo.

Q. And that was.

A. March 13th, 2003.

Q. And you had briefed your supervisor, Sergeant LeGault, of your findings; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And that included a copy of the -- tape-recorded copy of the conversation with Miss Blackburn.

A. Correct.

Q. Did we ever -- “we.” Did the sheriff’s office ever receive, to your knowledge, while you were handling this matter, the actual written report of the Child Protective Services -- excuse me, the Department of Child & Family Services report that was generated in Los Angeles with regards to their interview of these two children, or three children.

A. Not that I’m aware of, no.

MR. ZONEN: Thank you. I have no further questions.

THE COURT: Mr. Sanger.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. SANGER:

Q. We’ve talked about this timeline. And again, we're starting with you here, so I'm going to ask you to take a look at a piece of paper.

And with the Court's permission -- I'll give one to counsel here. With the Court's permission, I'd like to approach the witness and --

THE COURT: All right.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: Do you have a pen.

THE COURT: This is shown for refreshment of memory.

MR. SANGER: No, what I'm going to do is ask that the piece of paper that I've given the witness be marked as defense next in order, which is 50 --

THE CLERK: 34.

MR. SANGER: 5034. And hopefully this will help avoid confusion, but we'll see.

Q. First of all, Officer, do you recognize that as being a timeline, just generally a linear calendar.

A. A blank timeline.

Q. Blank timeline, yes.

And -- all right. What I'm going to do is just ask you -- Mr. Zonen was asking you some questions about the timing on --

A. Sure.

Q. -- redirect there. So let's just get it on paper.

First of all, if you'd put your name up on the top. There's a line that says "Witness." And then you can indicate on the timeline when you received your referral.

A. Circle the date.

Q. Yeah, just write, perhaps above it, just "Received Referral." Whatever you -- whatever will help us to see this.

And then you can circle the date and write above it the date that you understood the DCFS interview took place.

You told us you understood that was on the 20th, I believe; is that right.

A. It was actually the same date that I got the --

Q. Okay. Then just put “DCFS Interview” as well.

And then indicate the date that you contacted David Arvizo.

And then just before that I think is the date you actually spoke to the DCFS supervisor, which I believe you said was on the 10th.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. All right. And then I believe you indicated that there was a date that you found out that the Arvizo children had already been interviewed. I don’t think you told us the date. But was that on 2-24.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. Why don’t you just indicate that on there.

And then off that particular chart, you have the date of April 16, which is the date you wrote your report; is that correct.

That’s off the chart, so it would be at the end. Would you just make a note, an arrow or something, and just put “4-16”.

Is that chart now illustrative of your testimony. Does that work for you.

A. As far as the timeline, yes.

Q. Pretty much tell us about the timeline.

A. Yes, sir.

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, in fact, perhaps Deputy Avila could just bring that back with her so I don’t have to approach, if that’s all right.

THE BAILIFF: I figured you were going to say that.

MR. ZONEN: May I see that, please.

MR. SANGER: Certainly.

MR. ZONEN: Thank you.

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, I’d move this into evidence.

MR. ZONEN: No objection.

THE COURT: It’s admitted.

MR. SANGER: I'd like to publish it, if I could, please.

Would Your Honor hit the --

THE COURT: We need "Input 4," right.

THE WITNESS: Pardon my scribbling.

MR. SANGER: Ah-hah, there's my hand. Oops.

Q. We have 5034 on the screen there. And somebody had a laser pointer, but I don't know where it is. But I think this is simple enough, and let's just do it this way: You've indicated there just what we went over.

The date that you got the request, or the referral, on the 20th of February, 2003, which is also, it turns out coincidentally, to be the date of the DCFS interviews, correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. And then you were told of -- actually, I can't read it. What's on the 24th.

A. It says, "Detective Flaa" -- excuse me, "Detective Flaa learned of the interview," or the DCSF interviews.

Q. Thank you. That's when you learned of the interviews.

And on the 10th of March, that's when you basically were read the interviews by Miss Blackburn; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And then the 13th is when you did your interview with Mr. David Arvizo, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And then down at the bottom, it's off the chart, but 4-16-03 is when you submitted your report; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

MR. SANGER: Okay. Thank you.

I have no further questions.

MR. ZONEN: I have no questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

Thank you. You may step down.

THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor.

MR. ZONEN: We'll call Lieutenant Klapakis to the stand.

THE COURT: When you get to the witness stand, remain standing. Face the clerk and raise your right hand.

JEFF KLAPAKIS

Having been sworn, testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: I do.

THE CLERK: Please be seated. State and spell your name for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Jeff Klapakis. It’s K-l-a, P as in Paul, a-k-i-s.

THE CLERK: Thank you.

MR. ZONEN: May I proceed.

THE COURT: Yes.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ZONEN:

Q. Sir, what is your current occupation.

A. I’m a lieutenant with the Santa Barbara Sheriff’s Office.

Q. What is your responsibilities, your current assignment.

A. I am in charge of the Criminal Investigations Bureau within the North County of Santa Barbara.

Q. We have to admonish everybody that that microphone has to be pretty close to your mouth to be heard anywhere, if you would, please.

A. Okay.

Q. What does that mean. What are your actual assignments and responsibilities. What do you do as part of your job.

A. Any reports of criminal activity are sent to my bureau, and they are sent out to detectives to further investigate them.

Q. And who works under you. Who do you supervise.

A. I supervise sergeants, who then supervise other detectives.

Q. All right. Were you involved in any of the decisions regarding the referrals that came in back in February 2003 regarding Mr. Jackson, specifically involving children of the Arvizo family, as well as the second referral involving his own children.

A. Yes.

Q. What was your involvement in that.

A. I received the referrals and contacted our local office of the Child Protective Services, in hopes of making contact with the Los Angeles office of Child Protective Services, which I believe is called DCFS.

Q. All right. Was this assigned to an investigator.

A. Yes.

Q. And who was the investigator.

A. Detective Flaa.

Q. Do you know when that investigation took place.

A. Yes. It was around the second or third week of February. I believe it was February 18th or the 20th, somewhere in there.

Q. Did you at any time place a telephone call to any agency, child protective agency, specifically in Los Angeles.

A. Well, I first contacted Lompoc, in hopes of getting in touch with Los Angeles.

Q. Why Lompoc.

A. Well, they were our local office. We had worked with them before in similar-type cases. The referrals indicated that the potential person involved in the referral lived in Los Angeles, so I thought that might be the more prudent action.

Q. All right. Let me ask it again. I'm not sure I understand.

Why Lompoc. If the person lived in Los Angeles, why did you contact the Lompoc office as opposed to the Santa Maria office or Santa Barbara office.

A. Well, I thought that they would have contact numbers for them. They may know some people that we could contact. And much like I would call a law enforcement agency, having contact with them, that’s why I chose to go through them first.

Q. All right. And was that before or after you assigned Detective Flaa to this investigation.

A. That was before.

Q. All right. Did you contact Child Protective Services in Los Angeles at all. Did you have any communication with them.

A. Yes, I believe I did. Sometime after the 20th.

Q. Did you at any time instruct them that they should not interview the Arvizo children.

A. I actually made that call to Lompoc CPS and hoped -- because I had not gotten a phone number for L.A. at that point in time. We’re talking about a period of a couple of days.

Q. Okay.

A. And I was -- I believe that was on February 20th.

Q. All right.

A. At about eleven o’clock.

Q. All right. So the question specifically is, did you tell somebody in some child protective organization not to interview the children.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Who was the organization.

A. Lompoc.

Q. Why did you instruct them accordingly.

A. At that point in time, I had discussed it with Detective Flaa and then Sergeant LeGault, and we felt it would be more prudent for us to go down and conduct the interview ourself.

Q. All right. It was in deference to your doing the interview or you having one of your detectives doing the interview.

A. Right.

Q. At some point in time, did you make the determination or did somebody from your office make the determination not to do an interview at all.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And when was that decision made.

A. After Detective Flaa had contacted the Los Angeles office of the DCFS and was able to extract their information on their investigation, that they had closed their investigation.

Q. Were you familiar, or were you made familiar with the information that was furnished to Detective Flaa by the Child Protective Services agency in Los Angeles.

A. Yes, I was.

Q. Did he actually tape-record that conversation.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you listen to that tape-recording.

A. I read the transcript, I believe.

Q. A transcript was prepared at that time.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. Are we still talking back in February and March of 2003.

A. It was March 2003.

Q. All right. So you became aware of that interview in its entirety, the interview between Detective Flaa and Brenda Blackburn of the Department of Child Family Services in Los Angeles.

A. That's correct.

Q. The two different names has plagued us from the beginning of this case, hasn't it.

A. Right.

Q. When was it that you made the determination -- strike that.

Were you the one who made the determination not to pursue an investigation any further.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. When was that decision made.

A. After we had talked with Miss Blackburn, and also after I instructed Detective Flaa to contact the estranged father of the boy.

Q. And his name is.
A. David Arvizo.
Q. All right. At some point in time was this investigation reactivated.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Without getting into the detail of the conversations, what was the event that caused it to be reactivated.
A. I received a phone call from Larry Feldman.
Q. All right. And did that cause you to pursue other investigation at that point.
A. Yes.
Q. Was an investigative team assembled at that time.
A. Yes.
Q. And who was the lead investigator selected at that time.
A. Sergeant Steve Robel.
Q. When was that done, do you recall. The conversation with Larry Feldman.

A. I believe it was late June or early July 2003.
Q. Did Mr. Feldman tell you why he was contacting you.
A. Yes.
Q. And what did he say.
A. He indicated that the young boy and his brother had talked to a Dr. Katz in Los Angeles, and that they had made some --
MR. SANGER: I’m going to object to a narrative, and it’s calling for hearsay.
MR. ZONEN: I’m going to withdraw the question and rephrase it.
THE COURT: I’ll sustain the objection and strike the answer.
MR. SANGER: Thank you.
Q. BY MR. ZONEN: Did you refer him at any time to Child Protective Services - Mr. Feldman.
A. I don’t believe so.

Q. Did he indicate to you that he had contacted Child Protective Services.
MR. SANGER: That would call for hearsay.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q. BY MR. ZONEN: Did he tell you who referred you to him -- who referred him to you.
A. Mr. Sneddon.
MR. ZONEN: Thank you.

I have no further questions.
THE COURT: Cross-examine.

CROSS-EXAMINATION
BY MR. SANGER:
Q. Lieutenant, how are you.
A. Fine, sir.
Q. You originally -- let me withdraw that.
You said you had called the Lompoc CPS, Child Protective Services, right.
A. Yes.
Q. And is that the Child Protective Services office that would have jurisdiction over the Santa Ynez Valley.
A. I believe so.
Q. Okay. Mr. Jackson, Michael Jackson, my client, has a ranch in Santa Ynez Valley; is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And you were aware of that at the time; is that right.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did you discuss with the CPS people in Lompoc doing an investigation of either of the suspected child abuse reports that came from Los Angeles.
A. Yes, I believe we did discuss the referrals.
Q. So there were two referrals, right.

A. Yes.
Q. We’re going to refer to the first one. Not that they have any priority, I suppose. But the first one was a referral in which the reporting party was Carol Lieberman; is that correct.

A. I believe that was the first one.

Q. And you are aware that Carol Lieberman was a psychologist who was getting a lot of time on television around that time; is that correct.

A. I wasn't aware of her prior to receiving the referral.

Q. After you received the referral, did you make that determination, that she had been becoming a television personality over complaints about Michael Jackson.

A. Well, I believe the referral indicated that she planned to have a news conference.

Q. In fact, she did.

A. I'm unaware of that.

Q. She was even alerting everybody that she was going to have -- on a particular date - I think it was a day or two after - she was going to have a news conference, right.

MR. ZONEN: I'm going to object as assuming facts not in evidence and lack of foundation.

MR. SANGER: I'll withdraw it. We can look at the report if that would help.

Q. Okay. The report indicated that actually

Miss Lieberman, the next day, the following day, the day following her report, intended to have a press conference; is that correct.

A. I believe that's what it indicates. I'm not looking at it right now.

Q. Okay. You're welcome to do that. I can show you a copy of that.

A. I believe I have one.

Q. Do you have it.

A. Yes.

Q. Please take a look.

A. Yes, it does say the next day.

Q. All right. All right. And how long have you been a sheriff.

A. 25 years.

Q. All right. And without going into all the detail, you went to the academy.

A. Yes.

Q. Which academy.

A. Allan Hancock.

Q. All right. You got a good education there; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you’ve had a lot of inservice training since then; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you’ve investigated suspected child abuse reports on many occasions in your career as a deputy sheriff and as a detective and eventually on up the ladder; is that correct.

A. Primary aspects of it, yes.

Q. And you’re well aware that the nature of the report, including the who the reporting party is, is a significant factor to evaluate in a suspected child abuse case; is that correct.

A. I believe you take the totality of any circumstances.

Q. But specifically the RP, an RP can have an agenda, right.

A. Yes, they can.

Q. Okay. And in the second report, there’s also reference to Gloria Allred; is that correct.

A. That same report.

Q. The second suspected child abuse report from L.A. DCFS.

A. Are you referring to the one that the reporting party was a Mr. Tash.

Q. That’s correct.

A. Yes. She’s -- she’s mentioned in that.

Q. All right. And you’re aware that Gloria Allred is an L.A. lawyer who spends a lot of time on television, correct.

A. Yes, I’m aware of Miss Allred.

Q. And from your understanding of these reports, none of the reporting parties had any personal knowledge of Michael Jackson or his involvement with his own children or other children; is that correct.

A. Personal knowledge, no.

Q. Okay. Now, do you know if Santa Barbara Child Protective Services, that being evidently the Lompoc CPS office, do you know if they did anything to follow up on an investigation of either one of these reports.

A. I believe that when they received the referral, and I believe it was the first one, they sent it to L.A. DCFS, because the -- the boy lived in Los Angeles.

Q. All right. Now, the first referral, though, was with regard to -- from Carol Lieberman was with regard to Mr. Jackson and his own children; is that correct.

A. I'm sorry, maybe I have that mistaken. It's -- one of them, I think that they made contact with -- with L.A. because -- probably after the second one.

Q. So the first report -- just based on what you were telling Mr. Zonen, the first report would be within their jurisdiction if there was anything there to investigate; is that correct.

A. Santa Barbara County.

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, it would, based on where Mr. Jackson lives.

Q. All right. And if there was any criminal activity related to that first report, that would be within the jurisdiction of the Santa Barbara Sheriff's Department, particularly your office in Santa Maria for the North County; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. All right. Now, I do want to try to clear up one point here.

I think you said that you asked the Lompoc CPS office not to interview Star and Gavin Arvizo.

A. My recollection is, is that I made contact with Lompoc to either give me a number to contact Los Angeles or to pass the request to Los Angeles. But I was advised that I was too late.

Q. Okay. Do you recall speaking directly with Miss Blackburn in Los Angeles and asking her not to interview the children.

A. I'm not -- it's possible that I did talk to Miss Blackburn in person, yes.

Q. Do you recall her telling you, "It's too late. We already interviewed them".

A. I am -- I did receive that information. Who I received it from, I can't tell you right now.

Q. Okay. All right. Now, in your experience as a -- an investigator or detective and eventually, can we say, an administrator, or is that not a good thing to say.

A. That's fair.

Q. So in your experience as a lieutenant and everywhere on the way up, you understood this to be a sensitive case; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you understood -- you understood it to be potentially a big case, significant case, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. When -- when Detective Flaa concluded his investigation, did he inform you that it was his opinion that no further investigation was necessary.

A. I believe that we collaborated on it, discussing it, yes.

Q. So you talked with him.

A. And Sergeant LeGault.

Q. And Sergeant LeGault.

A. Right.

Q. So basically all three of you agreed that no further investigation was necessary in this case.

A. Based on the information that we had received from Miss Blackburn, our assumption of that investigation and as well as our interview of David Arvizo, that was the decision I made, yes.

Q. Just by the way, this may not be significant, but evidently there’s a Sergeant Kooperman.

A. Koopmann.

Q. Koopmann. I do that all the time, I’m sorry. A Sergeant Koopmann who was supposed to sign off on some of these reports in this case, and you signed your name over his typed name. Are you aware of that.

A. Sergeant Koopmanns replaced Sergeant LeGault around the July time period.

Q. I see.

A. He was also on vacation when this began.

Q. All right. Well, let’s go back a little bit, because if I understand your testimony, after this was closed, this case was closed on April the 16th, there’s a report, is that correct, April 16th, two thousand --

A. I don’t have that report with me, but that’s about right.

Q. Okay. And the case was closed, as far as you were concerned, that was it; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. The same case with the same case number was reopened --

A. Yes.

Q. -- in June; is that correct.

A. I believe it was around that time period, right.

Q. And that’s the time that you got a call from Tom Sneddon, Mr. Sneddon, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And he told you he had received a telephone call from Attorney Larry Feldman; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you speak directly with Attorney Larry Feldman yourself.

A. Yes.

Q. Now, at that time in June, and if you need something to refresh your recollection, but I believe it was about June 13th -- does that sound right, or do you need -- or is there something you could look at.

A. I believe that’s possibly correct.

Q. Okay. Sometime around that -- in any event, in June of 2003, can we agree to that.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. June of 2003, you received a call from Mr. Sneddon, eventually talked to Attorney Larry Feldman, and then you reopened the investigation, correct.

A. After speaking with Mr. Feldman, no, I made another phone call before I --

Q. To.

A. Dr. Katz.

Q. To Dr. Katz, okay. So you talked to -- and you were aware that Dr. Katz was a forensic psychologist, correct.

A. A child psychologist, I believe. But --

Q. Were you aware --

A. A psychologist.

Q. Were you aware he’s a forensic psychologist.

A. I believe that -- yes, I believe he was a psychologist, and I believe he specializes in interviewing children, but that’s -- it’s been a long time since I’ve talked to Dr. Katz.

Q. Well, you know what a forensic psychologist is, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Somebody who testifies in court; somebody who helps prepare cases.

A. Yes.

Q. Were you aware that he was a forensic psychologist.

A. Yes.

Q. And you were aware that he had worked with Attorney Feldman in the past, or not.

A. I don’t believe I was aware of that when I talked to Dr. Katz initially. I know that now.

Q. Eventually you found that out, all right. So Attorney Feldman, Dr. Katz, Mr. Sneddon, not in that order, but you have those phone calls, and then you reopen your investigation; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And you use the same case number, correct.

A. I believe we did.

Q. Now, why didn’t you just call Detective Flaa and tell him, “Your case is reopened. New things have come up. Let’s investigate”.

A. Detective Flaa was no longer working for us. He had left our agency.

Q. You believe he left your agency at that time.

A. Well, excuse me. I’m sorry. He had left my bureau and went to work for special operations.

Q. Now, it’s very common when somebody leaves a particular bureau or assignment, if a big case they’re working on reopens, it’s very common to bring that officer back or that detective back to continue with the investigation, is it not.

A. Well, it depends on how -- how much investigation had occurred up to that point.

Q. Is it common or not, sir. It’s common, isn’t it.

A. Well, no.

Q. Never happens. Sometimes happens.

A. Sometimes happens.

Q. All right. And Sergeant LeGault was replaced by Sergeant Robel; is that correct.

A. On this investigation.

Q. Yes. When you reopened it.

A. Well, he wasn’t -- he was made the lead investigator of this agency, of this -- Sergeant Koopmanns was -- basically had replaced Sergeant LeGault.

Q. So you brought a Sergeant in, Sergeant

Robel.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. The prior line-up was you, Sergeant LeGault and Detective Flaa, right.

A. Yes.

Q. And now the line-up was you, Sergeant Koopmanns --

A. Sergeant Koopmanns was not involved in this case.

Q. I’m sorry. He replaced LeGault or he didn’t.

A. He replaced LeGault.

Q. Okay. But he didn’t end up -- other than having his name on some things where you signed over it, he really didn’t get involved in it; is that right.

A. That’s correct. Sometimes there’s an innocuous reason why they’ll put -- I had investigators working for me out of different offices at times, and sometimes they will just put their Sergeant’s name as the person reviewing it, even though in our department any superior can review a report.

Q. Okay. But Koopmann -- I don’t want to spend lot of time on this, but Koopmanns’ name was actually in there as a sergeant reviewing the report, and then you would sign your name over it.

A. If I signed my name over it, it doesn’t mean that Sergeant Koopmanns reviewed the report.

Q. Does that mean you reviewed the report.

A. Yes.

Q. There you go. In any event, now we have you; we still have Sergeant LeGault, or not.

A. No.

Q. No.

A. Are -- you’re talking July ‘03, right.

Q. Yeah, June, July ‘03.

A. No.

Q. Okay. So we had you; then Sergeant Robel.

A. Yes.

Q. And then you had Paul Zelis.

A. Yes.

Q. And Paul Zelis was the detective who really took over Detective Flaa’s role in this, did he not.

A. No, actually I believe Sergeant Robel took over that role.

Q. All right. And Detective Zelis was not as experienced a detective as some of the other people you had working under you was.

A. That’s an accurate description.

Q. He had been a deputy marshal; is that right.

A. He had been a deputy marshal before, yes.

Q. Deputy marshals were the bailiffs for the Municipal Court when we used to have Municipal Courts here.

A. Yes.

Q. And then when we consolidated the courts into Superior Court, the marshals, many of them, became sheriffs; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And that’s how he became a sheriff.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And Detective Zelis was the one who -- we don’t want to go into a lot of detail here, but Detective Zelis was the detective who did a lot of the interviews, is that correct, in this case.

A. He participated in those interviews with Sergeant Robel.

Q. And he’s the one who is the declarant, or the affiant, for the search warrants. He did a big, long, 80-page affidavit to get search warrants.

A. He is the affiant of the search warrant. Of the primary search warrant, I should say.

Q. He was at the search at Neverland.

A. He was one of many, yes.

MR. SANGER: All right. I have no further questions.

MR. ZONEN: Nor do I, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You may step down.

Call your next witness.

MR. SNEDDON: Sergeant Robel, would you take the stand, please.

THE COURT: Sergeant Robel, you're already under oath, so when you get to the witness stand, you may be seated.

SERGEANT ROBEL: Thank you.

STEVE ROBEL

Having been previously sworn, resumed the stand and testified further as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SNEDDON:

Q. Sergeant Robel, you've been previously sworn, and you understand you're still under oath.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Okay. Now, first of all, let's go back a little bit, because we're going to broaden the scope of your testimony just a little bit.

Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury a little bit about your background and preparation for becoming a deputy sheriff.

A. Sure. Approximately 22 years ago, I went to the Ventura academy.

Q. I'm sorry, but we're going to have to tell you what we did all the other kids in the case.

Speak into it, please.

A. Approximately 22 ago I went to the police academy down in Ventura. And it was approximately 14, 15 weeks long. I was then placed in Solvang, Santa Ynez, where I was -- I worked as a deputy on patrol and worked my way up. I was the DARE officer and school resource officer. And then I went on into detectives. And during that time in detectives, I was specializing in sexual assault and child abuse cases.

Q. All right. Let's stop there for just a second.

How long did you actually work in the specialty of child abuse and sexual assault cases for children.

A. Approximately five years.

Q. Now, did you have any special training or preparation for that role as a detective on those kinds of sensitive cases.

A. Yes, I have.

Q. All right. Would you explain that to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, please.

A. Yes, I've had numerous hours of education through forensic interviewing, which was approximately 80 hours. Child abuse and recognition training, which was approximately 40 hours. I ended up actually giving some training courses in forensic interviewing classes, assisting other agencies in that respect.

I've also -- excuse me just for a second. I got to refer to my notes here.

Interviewing -- child abuse interviewing techniques with children. And also an 80-hour sexual assault investigation course.

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, I'm going to object for a moment to the witness interviewing (sic) his notes, and -- I don't think there was a basis for it, but also I don't believe I've seen those notes. If I could have an opportunity to look at them, I would appreciate it.

THE COURT: All right. You may approach the witness.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay.

MR. SANGER: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Your objection was he was looking at notes without --

MR. SANGER: Without an adequate foundation.

THE COURT: Without a foundation. Is that objection still being made after looking at the notes.

MR. SANGER: Well, I'll withdraw it as to that question, but I would in the future make the same objection.

THE COURT: All right. Did we finish that question.

MR. SNEDDON: I believe I did.

Q. Were you finished telling them about your training and expertise in that area.

A. Yes, I am.

Q. Okay. Sergeant Robel, at some point in time were you assigned as the lead investigator into the case against the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson.

A. Yes, I was.

Q. And approximately, if you recall, what time was it that you were assigned that particular responsibility.

A. I want to say I believe it was around the middle -- around the 20th or so of June of 2003.

Q. Now, at that time, who was the person that you were reporting directly to.

A. That was Lieutenant Jeff Klapakis.

Q. The previous witness.

A. Correct.

Q. And was Paul Zelis, Detective Zelis, a part of that particular investigative team.

A. Yes, he was.

Q. And did he work under your supervision.

A. Correct.

Q. Now, at some point did you participate in an interview of the members of the Arvizo family.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, when was the first occasion that you interviewed the Arvizo family.

A. I believe it was on July 7th of 2003.

Q. Now, when I said “members of the Arvizo family,” what -- what individuals within that family do you recall having interviews with.

A. Janet Arvizo, Star Arvizo, Gavin Arvizo, and Davellin Arvizo.

Q. Now, the ladies and gentlemen of the jury have heard testimony previously this morning - actually, I guess you have too, most of the time you were here - about the fact that there was a report that Detective Flaa had obtained about the interview between the Los Angeles social workers and the Arvizo family. Do you recall that.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Now, prior to the time that you interviewed the family in July of 2003, were you familiar with the contents of that report.

A. I was familiar with Detective Flaa’s report. I read that. And also Detective Zelis’s phone review of Dr. Katz.

Q. So you were familiar with both of those before you actually interviewed the family.

A. Correct.

Q. And were you familiar with the fact that as a result of the interview with the Los Angeles social workers back on February 20th of 2003, that your department had conducted an initial investigation.

A. Yes. After reading the report, I did conclude that, yes.

Q. And that it had been closed.

A. Correct.

Q. Now, did you conduct an interview with -- or when did you conduct the first interview that you had with Star Arvizo. Do you recall exactly what date that was.

A. I believe it was Monday, July 7th.

Q. Do you recall where that was.

A. 2003. That was conducted in Santa Barbara County, at our common interview place in Santa Barbara.

Q. So would that be in the south part of the county.

A. That is correct.

Q. Was that interview tape-recorded, or videotape-recorded.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. And was a transcription of that tape-recording made.

A. Yes.

Q. And you’ve had a chance to review both of those.

A. Correct.

Q. Now, with regard to Star Arvizo’s interview - okay. --

A. Yes.

Q. -- during the course of that interview, how many incidents did Star tell you in which he was standing on the stairs that he saw Michael Jackson molest his brother Gavin.

A. Two.

Q. During that interview on July 7th of 2003, did Star make statements to you about describing a third incident that he had seen involving the defendant, Michael Jackson, and his brother Gavin.

A. Yes, he did.

Q. And what did he say in that connection.

A. He told me --

MR. SANGER: Objection. Objection; hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, it’s a prior consistent statement. It’s admissible under the Evidence Code. Counsel has -- I won’t say anything else, but I --

THE COURT: Let me think for a moment.

MR. SNEDDON: Yeah.

THE COURT: Counsel approach, please.

(Discussion held off the record at sidebar.)

THE COURT: All right. The objection is overruled. You may --

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Let’s go back just a second, Sergeant Robel.

You had a videotaped conversation with Star Arvizo on July 7th of 2003, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And in that conversation, Star Arvizo indicated to you that he had seen two incidents while standing on the stairwell where he saw the defendant, Michael Jackson, molest his brother Gavin, correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. Now, during the course of that conversation, did Star Arvizo relate to you a third incident in which he had seen the defendant in this case, Michael Jackson, touch his brother inappropriately.

A. Yes, he did.

Q. All right. Would you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what he told you.

A. Star told me that when he was up in Michael’s bedroom, he was lying on what he described as a couch-type setting, possibly a futon, and he was -- pretended like he was sleeping.

And Michael came up into the bedroom and crawled into bed where his brother Gavin was sleeping. And when he got into bed, he scooted up next to him, Mr. Jackson did, to Gavin, and started moving back and forth.

And Star observed that, and he basically pretended like he was sleeping at that time.

Q. Now, during the time that you were doing these interviews, did you also have an interview with Gavin Arvizo.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And what date did that occur.

A. That was -- that would also have been on Monday, July 7th, 2003.

Q. And would that have been at the same location.

A. Yes, it was.

Q. And during this conversation, who else was present besides you and Gavin.

A. It would have been Detective Zelis.

Q. And with regard to the previous interview with Star, was Detective Zelis present then also.

A. That is correct.

Q. Now, in the conversation that you had with

Gavin Arvizo on the 7th of July of 2003, did Gavin -- excuse me. Sorry, Counsel.

MR. SANGER: That's all right.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Did Gavin Arvizo indicate to you the time frame as to when he thought that he had been molested by the defendant in this case, Mr. Jackson.

A. Yes, he did.

Q. And what did he tell you.

A. He told me it was towards the end of his stay at Neverland.

Q. Now, after that interview on July 7, did you have another interview with Gavin Arvizo.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And when did that occur.

A. I believe that was August 13th of 2003.

Q. And in that interview, did the subject of the timing of when Mr. Jackson molested him come up.

A. Yes, it did.

Q. And what did he indicate to you on that occasion.

A. Again, he stated that it was towards the end of his stay at Neverland.

Q. All right. Let's shift gears here for a second. I need to grab some water.

Okay. In November of 2003, you were part of a number of people who executed a search warrant on Neverland Valley Ranch, correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. And do you remember what date that was.

A. I believe it was November 18th, 2003.

Q. And were you, as the lead investigator, involved in overseeing the preparation of the affidavit in support of the search warrant that was eventually submitted to the Judge to get authorization for that search warrant.

A. Yes, I was.

Q. And in that connection, did you have a recommendation or a desire with regard to how long you thought the search of the ranch would take.

A. Yes, I did.

MR. SANGER: I'm going to object; relevance. His state of mind.

THE COURT: Well, the objection's sustained, because you said "recommendation or a desire."

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. I'll rephrase it. It's compound.

Q. With regard to the length of the time that you thought that the search would take at Neverland Valley Ranch, what was your desire with regard to requesting judicial authorization as to the time frame.

MR. SANGER: I'm going to object again. Relevance.

THE COURT: Overruled. I'm going to -- you know, "desire" is the word that bothers me here. If you had a recommendation, that's what I would like to hear, as opposed to his private desires.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, okay. It's probably a bad choice of words, then.

Q. In your conversations -- let me ask you this: Who was the attorney you were dealing with in the preparation of the affidavit for the search warrant.

A. It would have been Tom Sneddon.

Q. Me.

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. And in the course of working with me on that document, the affidavit in support of the search warrant, did you have a recommendation that you made with regard to the length of time that you wanted to be on the ranch to execute that warrant.

MR. SANGER: Objection. Calls for hearsay and relevance.

THE COURT: Well, what is the relevance, Counsel.

MR. SNEDDON: Judge, the relevance is the amount of people that it took to do it, because --

THE COURT: All right. I’ll overrule the objection.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: What was your -- what was your request and recommendation.

A. I was requesting that we have authorization to be on the ranch for two to three days.

Q. And was that request granted.

A. No, it was not.

Q. Who denied it.

A. You did.

Q. And what did I tell you in that connection.

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, I’m going to object to that. That calls for hearsay. And I’m going to move to strike the prior questions and answers on the ground that this is not relevant.

THE COURT: The objection as to hearsay is sustained.

MR. SNEDDON: All right.

Q. In any case, when the warrant went to the Judge for signature, the warrant provided for how long that you could be on the property.

A. I believe it was approximately 24 hours or till midnight, I believe, of that day.

Q. Midnight of the day you executed it.

A. Correct. I believe it was midnight we had to be out.

Q. What was the impact of the shorter time frame than you requested on the decisions of how the execution -- how the warrant was executed on the ranch that day.

A. Well, it caused us to reevaluate our initial plan and how many personnel that we were going to take onto the ranch, which in turn caused us to bring more personnel in order to get the job done within the parameters of time that we were designated.

Q. Now, do you know an attorney by the name of Jerry Franklin.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Who’s Mr. Franklin.

A. He’s a Senior Deputy D.A. with Santa Barbara County.

Q. Was Mr. Franklin on the ranch that day, the day that the warrant was executed.

A. Yes, he was.

Q. And did you, in your capacity as the lead investigator, have some interactions with Mr. Franklin that day.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And in what connection was that.

A. On two separate occasions, he assisted me in doing an addendum to a search warrant in the Los Angeles area, and also he assisted -- I had him assist Detective Zelis on doing an addendum for a search on a certain or particular item on the ranch.

Q. Do you know how long Mr. Franklin was there that day.

A. I want to say he was approximately there maybe four or five hours, somewhere along that line.

Q. Now, it's been indicated in the beginning of your testimony that I was on the ranch that day; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall how long I was there or when I left.

MR. SANGER: I'm going to object. Lack of foundation.

THE COURT: The answer -- the objection is overruled. But answer "yes" or "no." Do you recall how long he was there.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: How long.

A. I think you left probably around 1:30 or 2:00 in the afternoon.

THE COURT: All right. Let's take our break.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: I don't know if everybody knows, but we had a little longer break this morning, because the Olive Garden read a CNN report that basically said the jurors were starving to death.

(Laughter.)

THE COURT: And they have to thank CNN because Olive Garden sent over a bunch of pizzas, so the jury has been -- they sent out an attack squadron and threatened my life if I wouldn’t let them eat the pizzas, so they’re -- they’ve -- they’re all full, and --

A JUROR: Oh, yeah.

THE COURT: Let me tell you the danger here now. Having been a Judge for many years, this is the best advice I can give anybody on a jury, and that is: Don’t eat too much at lunch.

But today it’s okay.

Counsel.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Sergeant Robel, I think we were at the point that you’re at the ranch, and you’re executing a search warrant on November the 18th, 2003. Okay.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, during the course of the execution of that search warrant, did you personally seize any items that were booked into evidence.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And in what room was that that you did that.

A. It was in Mr. Jackson’s.

Q. Michael Jackson’s.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And what room.

A. His master bedroom.

Q. Would that be downstairs or upstairs.

A. It would be upstairs.

Q. Now, could you just describe to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what process that you used in seizing the evidence and then making sure that it got booked appropriately.

A. We had a designated person downstairs with a laptop computer that was the person that was documenting the items on a property form and giving it an item number, a sheriff’s department item number.

As seizers, we would seize stuff and then we would actually hand-carry it down to him, and then he would actually go on ahead and it would be packaged up and entered into the computer and given an item number.

MR. SNEDDON: All right, Your Honor. I have four more exhibits I'd like to have marked for identification purposes. And I've shown them to counsel. They're Photos 278, a Photo 84, and a Photo 283 and 284.

THE COURT: Thank you.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Okay. Sergeant Robel,

let's do it in this order. I'm going take them back. But with regard to the Photograph 278, do you recognize that.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what it purports to represent.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. All right. And turn over the next one, if you would. Turn that over, if you would.

And the next one is 84. Do you recognize that.

A. I do.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what it purports to represent.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. Would you turn that over.

And with regard to the next item, which is 284, do you recognize that.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what it purports to represent.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. All right. Would you turn that over, please.

And I believe the other one is 283.

A. Yes.

Q. And is that an accurate depiction of what it purports to represent.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. And are these items that you saw during the course of your execution of the search warrant at Neverland Valley Ranch.

A. Yes, they are.

Q. And are items that you seized.

A. Yes, they are.

MR. SNEDDON: I move that these be admitted into evidence.

MR. SANGER: I would object. I would object, Your Honor, on the grounds that there is no foundation, particularly as to the relevance of these particular items to these proceedings.

THE COURT: I haven’t seen the pictures.

MR. SNEDDON: May I come around this way, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SANGER: Should I approach as well.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.

(Discussion held off the record at sidebar.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to give you these back for just a second, and I’m going to ask you a couple more questions, and then we’ll....

Sergeant Robel, with regard to the photograph that’s on the top, which is -- what’s the number on that.

A. 278.

Q. 278. Do you recognize that photograph.

A. I do.

Q. And what does that photograph depict.

A. It’s a cardboard box that’s open, and it has various magazines in it.

Q. Have you ever seen that cardboard box before.

A. Yes, I have.

Q. Where did you see it.

A. In Mr. Jackson’s upstairs portion of his master bedroom, at the base of his bed.

Q. Does that photograph accurately depict the condition of that cardboard box the first time you looked inside of it.

A. Yes, it does.

Q. All right. With regard to the next photograph, which is No. 84 I believe --

A. That’s correct.

Q. -- is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. Now, with regard to Photograph 84, do you recognize that photograph.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And there is displayed in that photograph a magazine on top, correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. And does that photograph accurately depict the location of that photograph -- that magazine the first time you saw it inside that box.

A. Yes, it does.

Q. All right. Turn that one over, if you would.

With regard to -- is that 284.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. With regard to 284, that photograph depicts a book, correct.

A. Yes, it does.

Q. Where was that book the first time you saw it.

A. That was inside the cardboard box.

Q. The one that’s depicted in the Photograph 284 -- in No. 84.

A. That is correct.

Q. And did you seize that item.

A. Yes, I did.

Q. All right. And the next one is 283.

A. Yes.

Q. And with regard to what’s depicted in that photograph, 283, where was that item the first time you saw it.

A. That was also inside the cardboard box.

Q. It's depicted in the Photograph 84 and 278.

A. Correct.

Q. All right.

Your Honor, ask permission at this point to -- that they be admitted and I can question the witness about them.

MR. SANGER: I'd renew my objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I'll sustain the objection.

The -- there's no connection to the present case with the photographs.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm sorry, Your Honor, I didn't hear what you said.

THE COURT: There's no connection to the present case with that material.

MR. SNEDDON: May we approach the bench for a second, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, may I display them with your permission.

THE COURT: Yes. The Court has ruled they are admissible.

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Before I do that, I want to ask you a question. We saw the box in the photograph that is -- well, let me just put the box on.

Your Honor, could we have the port for the Elmo, if you --

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: And Your Honor, I guess I also need to tell the Court that at least one of these photographs has a cover which is maybe sexually explicit, in case there's any persons in the courtroom below the age of 18, I guess, or 21.

THE COURT: I think we've asked any

18-year-olds -- there were some students visiting. We’ve asked them not to come in during this period.

MR. SNEDDON: Thank you, Your Honor.

MR. AUCHINCLOSS: Could we have “Input 4,” Your Honor.

THE BAILIFF: Is the machine on. You need to push the button for the Elmo.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, if I stand on my head, I can see it, I guess.

Q. All right. Sergeant Robel, that’s Photograph Exhibit 278, correct.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. Can you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, where was it when you first saw that box in Mr. Jackson’s bedroom.

A. The box itself was at the base of Mr. Jackson’s bed on the floor.

Q. And is that the condition of the box when you first saw it, or first looked into it.

A. Yes. The top was closed, but I opened it up and that’s what I saw, what’s depicted up there.

Q. Now, let me show you another photograph, which is People’s 84.

Was that magazine -- the one depicted in the front, was that the top magazine in the pile of magazines that you picked up.

A. Can you rephrase that. I’m sorry.

Q. Yeah. Was that one of the magazines you saw in the box.

A. Yes.

Q. Was that the first one you saw.

A. No.

Q. Was there another one on top of that one.

A. Yeah, there were quite a few others on top.

Q. So that was just down inside of it somewhere.

A. That is correct.

Q. Do you remember how many of those -- how many of those magazines you actually took out of there.

A. Before I got to that one, or just all together.

Q. No, eventually.

A. I would say approximately 15 to 20.

Q. Now -- okay. If you can take that one down. And if we could put up 284. I guess I have to give them to you first, don't I. Put 283 up first.

With regard to this particular item, 283, where was it located in the box; do you recall.

A. I don't recall the exact location, but it was inside the cardboard box.

Q. And let's put 284 up there.

In regard to this book, The Chop Suey Club book, do you recognize that.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And where was that when you first saw it.

A. That was also inside the cardboard box.

MR. SNEDDON: Okay. We can have the lights again, Your Honor.

Q. Now, with regard to the items that you've talked about that you took out of that box, the books and the magazines, what did you do with them after you physically removed them from the box.

A. What I did -- what I did was, I put them on top of the bed until I was finished going through the magazines that I thought were within the scope of the warrant, and then after I finished, I took the magazines and the books downstairs and gave them to Detective Padilla.

Q. Okay. And then Detective Padilla was responsible for packaging them up.

A. That is correct.

(Off-the-record discussion at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to hand you an exhibit marked as 279. Do you recognize that exhibit.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And what is it.

A. It’s a layout of Mr. Jackson’s upstairs bedroom.

Q. Does that look -- does that look like the layout as you recall it when you were you were up there on November the 18th.

A. Yes, it does.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’ve indicated to Mr. Sanger that even though there are some measurements on that, that we’re just using this simply to illustrate where the officer found the items for purposes of demonstrative evidence at this point in time only.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SNEDDON: And I would move that that be admitted into evidence at this point, Your Honor.

MR. SANGER: I don’t have any objection for that purpose. The numbers on it that we have just seen, the numbers would not be admitted for the truth of the matter without further foundation. But it can be put up.

MR. SNEDDON: I agree.

THE COURT: All right. It’s admitted for that limited purpose. Do you need the screen, then.

MR. SNEDDON: Please, Your Honor.

Q. Sergeant Robel, you have the exhibit in front of you, and there is a copy of it exhibited to the jury on the Elmo, okay.

Now, let’s talk a little bit about the exhibit. It’s 279, correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. Now, you told us you recognize that. Would you use the laser, please, and show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury approximately where Mr. Jackson’s bedroom would have been. I’m sorry, bed.

A. It would have been right in this area here, up to there, over, right up into here.

Q. So basically in the area where it has “MJ’s Bedroom” written in letters on there.

A. That is correct.

Q. Now, could you show the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where the box that you took the items that you’ve told us about, where that was located when you first saw it.

A. It was right here at the base of the bed on the floor.

Q. You’re indicating -- I’m sorry, go ahead.

A. Just kind of like where that half inch is.

Q. Between the “4” and the “1”.

A. Yeah, right in that area right there.

Q. Okay. Now, on your exhibit that’s in front of you - okay. --

A. Yes.

Q. -- could you please take the pen that we have, and can you please put a little -- just draw a box into the approximate location of where that item 2167 was found.

A. Okay.

Q. And there was a number assigned to the items that you took down to Deputy Padilla, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. An item number. What item number was assigned to those particular things.

A. I want to say 363.

Q. All right. Would you put a “363” on there.

And then at the bottom of that exhibit, would you please sign your name.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: All right. Sergeant Robel, I think you can put that down right now if you want.

And I think we can turn the lights back on, Your Honor.

Let’s leave it, rather than go back and forth. Let’s see if we can finish it.

I have a brown bag that I’ve shown counsel, Your Honor. We had it previously marked as 280 for identification.

MR. SANGER: Could you say the number again. I apologize.

MR. SNEDDON: 280.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.
Q. BY MR. SNEDDON: Sergeant Robel, I'm going to ask you to look inside -- the bag is open. If you would just look inside the contents of 280, if you would, please. Do you recognize that item.

A. Yes, I do.
Q. And where and when -- let's take it one at a time. Where was that item the very first time you saw it.
A. It was inside a nightstand upstairs in Mr. Jackson's bedroom.
Q. And when you saw it, what did you do with it.
A. I seized it.
Q. And was that among one of the items you gave to Deputy Padilla.
A. Yes, it was.
Q. Does that bag that it was in, Exhibit 280, does that have a number on it.
A. Yes.
Q. An item number.
A. Yes, it does.
Q. What is that.
A. 362.
Q. Now, could you please, using your laser, indicate to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where Item 280 was found, or to be more correct, where Exhibit No. 280 was found.
A. There was a night -- there was a nightstand right here, had a drawer in it, and I opened up the drawer and it was found inside the drawer inside the nightstand.

Q. Would you please indicate on your exhibit and just put the item number there so we know which one that is.
That's the approximate location of where it was when you first saw it.
A. That is correct.

Q. All right.

All right. I think I just have a couple more questions, and then we’ll be done.

(Off-the-record discussion held at counsel table.)

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, at this time I’ve shown counsel two clear plastic bags. The first one has been marked 281 for identification purposes. And the second one -- the first one, by the way, has ink at the top and the number “224,” so make sure we don’t get confused.

But the second one is marked as 282 for identification purposes, and it has a black pound figure with a “225” at the top. I’ll show them to the witness. Sorry.

Q. All right. With regard to 281, do you recognize that.

A. Yes. Yes, I do.

Q. All right. What is 281.

A. It is Star Arvizo’s fingerprints and palm prints.

Q. And when and where was the first time you saw those prints.

A. I took those prints on 5-5 of ‘04.

Q. When you say you took those prints, would you describe for the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what you did.

A. I met with Star, and I proceeded to go on ahead and fingerprint him with all ten fingers, and also his palm prints.

Q. And were you -- were you the one that oversaw and directed him in obtaining those prints.

A. Yes, I was.

Q. All right. With regard to 282, do you recognize that item.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And what is that.

A. These are Gavin Arvizo’s finger and palm prints.

Q. And with regard to those particular prints, did you have a role in obtaining those.

A. Yes, I did.
Q. What role was that.
A. I proceeded to do the same thing with Gavin Arvizo as I did with Star and rolled his fingerprints and his palm prints.
Q. Was that done on a different occasion or on the same day.
A. No, that was done on a separate occasion.

Q. What was the date when you obtained Gavin's.
A. That was on 9-14 of '04.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I request that both of those items be admitted into evidence.
THE COURT: They're admitted.
MR. SNEDDON: Madam Clerk, would you help me please. The chart, 279, is that in evidence. Or 280.
THE CLERK: No.
MR. SNEDDON: I move that that be admitted as demonstrative evidence of the officer's testimony, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. It's admitted.
MR. SNEDDON: I believe all of them have been admitted at this point. Thank you. And I have no further questions.
MR. SANGER: Well, wait a second. Except 280 was --
THE CLERK: 280 wasn't received yet.
MR. SNEDDON: I thought --
MR. SANGER: 280 is not the chart.
THE COURT: That's not the chart.
MR. SNEDDON: The chart was 279. And 280 is the note.
THE COURT: Yes.
MR. SNEDDON: Okay. I move that that be admitted.
MR. SANGER: No objection.

THE COURT: All right. 280 is admitted.
MR. SNEDDON: Apologize for that, for the confusion.

CROSS-EXAMINATION
BY MR. SANGER:
Q. Well, let’s start at the end and work backwards. How would that be.
First of all, you roll the prints of Star and Gavin Arvizo, which is what you just told us, right.
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And that’s Exhibit 281, 282, correct.
A. Correct.
Q. Are you a certified fingerprint examiner.
A. No, I’m not.
Q. So you’ve learned to roll prints as a police officer, as a sheriff; is that correct.
A. Correct.
Q. Let’s talk about the -- this was not marked; is that right.
Let’s talk about what you found here, just moving backwards, going through these boxes.
Your Honor, I’m going to put up on the screen, if I may, 278, which has been received, if that’s acceptable.
THE COURT: All right.
MR. SANGER: In fact, I’m going to take it off for one second. I’m sorry. Okay.

Q. All right. This was -- you basically were searching the residence, along with a lot of other officers, and we’ll get to that in a bit, right. Is that correct.
A. Yes.
Q. And you found this box.
A. Correct.
Q. You personally found the box.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know if anybody looked in the box before you got to it.
A. I don’t know that.
Q. All right. In other words, the way this looked is -- I guess we will go in general, here, to set the stage.

The way this worked, I think you told us before, is you had that -- I think what you called a sweep or a protective sweep, or something, of the whole residence when you first arrived there; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. And that was theoretically not a time to be looking in boxes and seizing evidence. It was a time to look in doors and see if people are in there, and sort of see what the interior looked like; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. And then after you completed the sweep of the premises, then various officers were assigned various locations to go actually do searches; is that right.

A. That is correct.

Q. And you said there was some people who are the seizers and some who were the scribes.

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay. Sounds like it could be something from ancient Rome, I suppose.

But the scribes were the officers who were just going to sit there and they were going to write out your sheriff's SH -- what is it. -- 541.

A. 451.

Q. 451. Okay. Sorry. I got it backwards.

Your 451 forms, those are the inventories where you say, "We give it a number, and this is what it is, and this is where it was located"; is that right.

A. That's correct.

Q. And then there were other officers who were looking around, and eventually some of those officers might actually see something and say, "I want to seize this," and they'd actually pick it up, right.

A. Correct.

Q. And then they'd take it over to the scribe and say, "I seized this. This is where it came from," and the scribe would write down on the -- on the 451 form that it was Sergeant Robel that seized it, right.

A. That's correct.

Q. All right. Now, in the course of this, however, there were officers who would be going through the same materials sometimes, going through opening boxes, and yet another officer might come along and be the one that might seize something from that box; is that true.

A. Do you mean in addition to the actual search personnel that --

Q. No, no, the search personnel, the search personnel in the room, somebody might open a box and look through it, and another officer might come back and look at it a second time and say, "I want to seize something out of that box"; is that true.

A. I don't know if that's true or not. That didn't happen in my situation, but --

Q. So -- well, you're telling us you're the first one to look in that box.

A. The box was closed when I opened it up.

Q. All right. Well, that was going to be my next point. So the box was closed.

A. It was closed.

Q. So the photograph is a photograph of the box. Exhibit 278 is a photograph of the box after you opened it up.

A. That is correct.

Q. Was it sealed or was it just folded in.

A. It was folded like you would normally fold a cardboard box, kind of the flaps in between each other to keep it closed.

Q. All right. Now, as the investigator in this case, the lead investigator in this case, you are not aware of any witness who said that they specifically saw any one of these particular items, that being 283, 284 and 84; is that correct.

A. At this present time, no.

Q. Okay. So I just asked one of those bad questions. I said, “Is this correct.” Let me try not to do that.

Based on your investigation, did anybody, any witness, specifically say that they saw any of these items, other than you as the searching officer.

A. To the best of my knowledge, no.

Q. Thank you. Okay. Now, none of these items -- and by “items,” I’m referring 284, 283 and 84. None of these items are per se illegal to possess, are they.

I’ll just put them up quickly.

They’re not contraband.

A. No, those are not illegal to possess, correct.

Q. So when they say “teenaged,” these are magazines that show models or people who are over -- who are 18 or over. However young they may look, that’s -- they’re 18 or over, as far as you can tell, correct.

A. They’re supposed to be, yes.

Q. And those are commercially available. You can go to a store and buy them, correct.

A. As far as I know, yes.

Q. All right. Now, 283 -- I hate to just keep putting these up, but -- but 283 is a collector’s item of some sort, is it not.

A. I really don’t know.

Q. Did you find some nudist magazines when you were looking around that were from the 1930s.

A. Inside that box.

Q. Anywhere.

A. I believe some other people, some other searchers found that.

Q. And you had no witness -- there was no witness that said they were shown that book or saw that book, as far as you know, right.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. Now I’m going to put up 284.

You seized that because it appeared to be a book that came within some concept of adult material; is that right.

A. Correct.

Q. Do you know who Bruce Weber is.

A. I do not.

Q. Now, when you were going through Mr. Jackson’s home, did you see a number of items from notable people that were just lying around, or hanging on the wall, or sitting on a -- I’ll give you some examples if you want. Did you see, for instance, a letter from Steven Spielberg that was just sitting on a table.

A. I did not see that, no.

Q. All right. Did you see a letter from President Bush.

A. I believe I saw that, yes.

Q. Did you see some correspondence from Ronald Reagan.

A. Yes.

Q. Did you see other correspondence from other notable celebrities and politicians and other people.

A. I don’t recall exactly who they were, but he had a lot of various things framed from those particular people, yes.

Q. And some things that weren’t framed, right.

A. The items that I found, that I saw.

Q. That you saw.

A. They were framed.

Q. Okay. Did you notice that -- first of all, how many books do you think there were in Mr. Jackson’s residence, taking the -- taking the places that you searched on the ranch.

I’m not talking about, obviously, anyplace you didn’t search, storage places or elsewhere, but on the ranch.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. Go ahead.

MR. SANGER: Let me withdraw it.

MR. SNEDDON: It's unintelligible, that's what I'm saying.

MR. SANGER: All right. I'll withdraw it.

Q. Taking into account the areas that you went through -- let's back up. What areas did you go through.

A. That I particularly searched.

Q. No, that you went through. You walked through all the areas that were eventually going to be searched; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. And so you went through the main house.

A. Correct.

Q. Went through Mr. Jackson's office.

A. Correct.

Q. You went upstairs from his office into the video library.

A. Correct.

Q. And some other little rooms associated with that, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. You went into the arcade building, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. Any other locations that you went through.

A. The security.

Q. The security office at the end of the office -- or the building that had Mr. Jackson's office in it, correct.

A. The one clear at the end, yes.

Q. Okay. So, as you went through these various locations, there were over 10,000 books, were there not.

A. That's going to be kind of difficult for me to say over 10,000. I would say that there were definitely several hundred, but 10,000, I really couldn't say that for sure. There were quite a few, yes.

Q. Okay. You remember the library.

A. Correct.

Q. And the library had, for the most part, leather-bound books and sets and that sort of thing, correct.

A. Yes, it did.

Q. There were hundreds of books just in that library, were there not.

A. That's correct.

Q. And then the hallway leading to Mr. Jackson's quarters, where he had the first floor and the bedroom upstairs, that hallway had books, bookcases lining one side of the hallway, correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. And there were hundreds of books there, were there not.

A. There were quite a few, yes.

Q. And then when you went into Mr. Jackson's private quarters and you went down the steps into that -- the big living room area, whatever it is, with the big screen T.V., there were quite a number of books stacked up on the floor there, were there not.

A. There were.

Q. And then there was -- there was another bookcase full of books; is that correct.

A. I believe that, yes, you're right.

Q. Okay. And then there were books lying around stacked up in various places, in the bathroom and his -- his bedroom upstairs, quite a number of books stacked up.

A. Correct.

Q. And then upstairs in the house, in between the craft room and Prince Michael's bedroom, Mr. Jackson's son's bedroom, there's a little cove with children's books; is that right.

A. There were books there, yes. I'm not sure if they were children's books, but you're correct.

Q. Quite a number of books there.

A. Right.

Q. Okay. And then in Mr. Jackson’s office, there were books stacked up, for the most part, in various parts of his office; is that correct.

A. Yeah. Mainly around his desk area, yes.

Q. And there was actually a separate room as you would go into the office, into the front office. You turn left, there’s a little hallway, left again, there was a little room that had shelves with hundreds of books; is that correct.

A. Is that where the bathroom is. Is that what you’re referring to.

Q. Just before the bathroom, yes. Talking about his office.

A. Right.

Q. Turn left, a closet, a big closet area with shelves in it with hundreds of books.

A. Correct. Correct.

Q. Okay. And then in the arcade, there was a -- a room with a low door on the second floor, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And in there, there were thousands of books in bookshelves like a bookstore, right.

A. Yeah. It looked like a library, yes.

Q. And there were boxes of books still in boxes, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. Now, you saw all of this on November the 18th, 2003, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. So you don’t know what exactly was there in February or March; is that correct.

A. That’s a true statement.

Q. All right. Now, having talked about all those books, among the books as you went through, did you notice from time to time there might be more than one copy of the same book.

A. Me, no, did not notice that.

Q. Did you notice that it appeared that a publisher or an author had sent books to Mr. Jackson.

A. I am unaware of that.
Q. All right. Now, this particular book, Mr. Weber, who’s up there, Bruce Weber, The Chop Suey Club, were you aware that Mr. Weber sent this to Mr. Jackson unsolicited.
A. No, I’m not.
Q. Were you aware that Mr. Weber was a photographer who had photographed The Jackson 5.
A. No.
Q. Photographed other people, Nelson Mandela and a lot of other people.
A. No.
Q. Inside that very book, there’s an actual photograph of Elizabeth Taylor; is that correct.

A. It’s been a while since I’ve looked at that book, so I couldn’t say for sure.
Q. Okay. And if I didn’t specifically ask you on that, this, there was no witness that said they were shown this book or saw this book, is that correct, other than you and the officer that booked it into evidence.
A. To the best of my knowledge, yes.
Q. All right. So you -- let me have just one second.
You originally got involved in this case by virtue of an assignment by Lieutenant Klapakis; is that correct.
A. Actually, it came higher up than the lieutenant, but he was involved in it, yes.
Q. Did it come directly from Mr. Sneddon.
A. No. He wasn’t involved in that.
Q. You’re aware Mr. Sneddon had talked directly with Lieutenant Klapakis about being assigned to this case; is that correct.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I object. That misstates the evidence.
MR. SANGER: Well, let me withdraw it.
THE COURT: I’ll sustain the objection.
Q. BY MR. SANGER: Somebody -- you’re saying you were assigned -- anyway, whoever assigned you, somebody assigned you; Lieutenant Klapakis or somebody higher up.

A. Correct.

Q. Right.

A. Right.

Q. And what day were you first assigned to the case.

A. To the best of my knowledge, I think it was right around June, between June 15th and June 20th, I'm not exact on the date, 2003.

Q. All right. So at the time you were assigned on June 20th, Detective Zelis had already been assigned to this case; is that correct.

A. That's what I was told, yes.

Q. And so Detective Zelis was already starting to work on the case.

A. To the best of my knowledge, yes.

Q. And then you came in and basically took over the lead investigator responsibilities; is that right.

A. I was initially told that I was coming on to supervise it and to actually conduct the interviews and be a part of that process, yes.

Q. All right. Now, what I'm going to do is, I'm going to give you a timeline. And I'm going to show counsel.

Who's doing this. Oh, Tom. I'm sorry.

With the Court's permission, I'd like to have this piece of paper -- it has a timeline on it.

No content. I'd like to ask that this be marked for identification next in order. And I'd like to approach the witness, if I may.

THE COURT: All right. What number is that.

THE CLERK: That's 5035.

THE COURT: 5035.

Q. Okay. Sergeant, let me go back so they can hear me.

I’ve given you 5035 for identification, which is a timeline.

And if the Court would permit, what I propose to do is just put a blank timeline, same thing, up there --

THE COURT: You may.

MR. SANGER: -- on the screen. So I think we need Input....

Q. Okay. Now, before you start writing on that, which is what I’m going to ask you to do -- close enough -- I’ve given you the same document that’s on the screen; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And what I’m going to ask you to do is write on yours, and if you still have that pointer up there, I’ll ask you at future moments here to refer to the one on the screen so we can see what we’re doing.

But first of all, why don’t you write your name up there where it says “Witness,” so we can remember who did this.

All right. And what I’d like you to do is -- you understand the timeline. It should be pretty --

A. Yes, it’s 2003 and 2004.

Q. Starting with January, February, March, April, May.

A. Correct.

Q. So, just as a point of reference, you understood, from your investigation, the general time frame in which the allegations were made. In other words, the allegations were made about a general time frame; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. Somewhere between February 7th to March the 13th; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay. So could you just make a bracket or a mark on your copy there for that time period that pertains to the allegations that were made against Mr. Jackson.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to interpose an objection that it's vague because there are several counts in this case involving several different allegations, and the time frames are different.

MR. SANGER: We have -- Your Honor, if I may --

MR. SNEDDON: Well, I object to the question, the form of the question.

MR. SANGER: I've asked for the general time period, and I will break it down later.

THE COURT: You're not asking him to make a mark now before you get to a specific charge.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, he did.

THE COURT: Well, I wasn't sure if he was making a general instruction or a specific question.

MR. SANGER: Yeah, I was asking him to put a bracket so that we have a frame of reference on this exhibit as to the general time frame. We will obviously go back --

THE COURT: I'll ask you to do it one at a time so that he knows exactly what you're asking him to put on the diagram.

MR. SANGER: Okay.

Q. Well, let's do it -- because we are going to go through this in more detail, but I want to get the big picture.

There was a time that you were told, and you found from your investigation, that the Arvizo children and Janet Arvizo and Mr. Jackson and others returned to the Neverland Valley Ranch after being in Florida; is that right.

A. That is correct.

Q. And what was that date.

A. I believe it was right around the 6th of February.

Q. 7th perhaps.

A. 7th. Somewhere right in there.

Q. So why don’t you just mark that roughly. Put a little line, and you can put --

A. Do you want me to put “March 7th” there.

Q. Sure. Put a little line and you can write up above what it is.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I think --

Q. BY MR. SANGER: “Arrived.”

MR. SNEDDON: I think he misspoke.

MR. SANGER: Who misspoke.

MR. SNEDDON: I think he said March.

THE WITNESS: No, that’s right. I did.

MR. SANGER: I’m sorry, I meant to say February.

THE WITNESS: It’s February 7th.

MR. SANGER: Did we both say March.

THE WITNESS: I think I did.

MR. SANGER: Okay. Let’s get it right. It’s February 7th.

Q. All right. And then there was a time that you came to understand the Arvizos claimed that they left Neverland Valley Ranch for the last time.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know what date that was.

A. That I believe was March 12th.

Q. March 12th.

A. Okay. And could you mark March 12th.

Q. And then why don’t you just -- I’m sure everybody’s on board, but just so -- in case, from the angle, it’s hard, just point roughly where you are on this timeline.

February 7th through 22.

A. Yeah, February 7th. And then over here would be March the 12th.

Q. All right. There you go.

I’m going to -- I will come back to a more detailed timeline with a different chart that has February and March called out later, but that gives you the parameters.

When do you understand Mr. Feldman and Mr. Katz made contact with the Santa Barbara District Attorney in this case.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. That assumes facts not in evidence. Plus, it’s compound because it has two names in it.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: Okay. Let’s put it this way: It’s your understanding that Mr. Feldman called Mr. Sneddon; is that correct.

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. Okay. Do you know when that occurred, based on your investigation.

A. I want to say it was possibly sometime in June.

Q. Okay. Do you have a report to refresh your recollection that would help you with that. I don’t know if you have the Bates stamps up there or not. Yes, page 25, if you do.

A. No, I don’t have that.

Q. Page two of Detective Zelis’s report.

A. That’s the one I -- yes, it was June 13th, 2003.

Q. All right. So, can you indicate on your chart -- why don’t you just point, so we do it consistently, where that would be, roughly.

A. Right there.

Q. June 13. In between June and July, okay. So why don’t you indicate that on your report -- I mean, on your exhibit. And your understanding was that that same day, June 13th, Detective Zelis actually called Dr. Katz and interviewed Dr. Katz; is that correct.

A. Yes.

Q. All right. So maybe you can make a note on that, “Dr. Katz interviewed.” You can abbreviate so it all fits. Okay. Now, you were involved in all of the interviews that were tape-recorded of the Arvizo family prior to the grand jury testimony; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. What was the first date that you conducted an interview with the Arvizo family. Let’s take the children for right now.

A. That would have been July 7th.
Q. July 7th, 2003.
And so three or four weeks after the Katz interview; is that correct.
A. That is correct.
Q. All right. Why don’t you put that on your chart there.
And what was the next time -- I’ll let you finish that, I’m sorry.
A. Okay.
Q. What was the next time that you interviewed the Arvizo children.
A. That would have been August 13th --
Q. All right.
A. -- 2003.
Q. Put that interview up there. Okay.
A. Okay.
Q. All right. Now, you were aware that Mr. Sneddon had a meeting with the -- with Mrs. Arvizo at some point; is that correct.
MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object to that question. It’s vague as to what point in time, I believe, when he’s dealing with dates in here. It’s vague.
MR. SANGER: I’ll tell you what.
THE COURT: He asked him “at some point.”
MR. SANGER: Yes, then I’ll ask him when, if he knows.

Q. Did Mr. Sneddon have a meeting, a meeting alone with Mrs. Arvizo, sometime before the search warrant.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know what the date of that was.
A. I do not.
Q. Okay. Sometime in early November.
A. It could have been. It was before the search warrant service. I do know that.
Q. All right. We’ll skip that. We’ll come back to that later.

The next significant event I want you to focus on is the actual execution of the search warrant, which was November the 18th, 2003; is that correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And can you list that -- why don’t you point at the map there, just in case, just to show where we are on our trip down the road here.

So now we’re on November the 18th, halfway in between November-December. Okay.

Why don’t you make a notation there. That’s the search warrant.

A. Okay.

Q. The next documented interview with the Arvizo children was when.

A. Do you mean beyond the August 13th.

Q. Yes. You put August 13th up there.

A. Yeah, I already have August 13th.

Q. So what’s the next one. Was it November the 25th.

A. I don’t recall another -- are we talking about a -- an interview with them.

Q. Yes.

A. Oh. No, I -- I do have it here. That’s for the bucchal swabs. I have that. That was November 25th.

Q. Okay. November 25th.

A. Of 2003.

Q. And that was actually tape-recorded, is that correct, an interview.

A. I believe it was, yes.

Q. So can you put “November 25th, 2003.” All right.

A. Okay.

Q. And then when was the next documented interview with the Arvizo children.

A. That I don’t believe I conducted. There was various things that we would contact them in regards to, but as far as an interview, no. I can’t -- I can’t recall.

Q. Was there a tape-recorded interview on January the 19th, 2004.

A. I don’t recall. I don’t have that report. Who’s the author of that. Me. Or --

Q. Well, I have the transcript here, and I’ll have to find the report. But while I’m doing that, or before I do that, let me see if I can refresh your recollection a little bit.

Do you recall a meeting with the Arvizo children during which, or preceding which, they were played the rebuttal video.

A. I do remember that.

Q. And after the rebuttal video was played for them, then you interviewed the various children one by one; is that correct.

A. Yeah, but I was not involved in the interview process of that. I was there, in and out. That would be Detective Zelis that was the author of that report. And he participated with the attorneys.

Q. Okay. And when you say “the attorneys,” who was there.

A. I believe it was Mr. Zonen and Mr. Sneddon.

Q. All right. Mr. Zonen and Mr. Sneddon actually engaged in asking questions and making remarks during those interviews, correct.

A. I do recall, yes.

Q. Okay. All right. So, could you --

A. Mr. Sanger.

Q. Yes.

A. No, it was -- I stand corrected on that. It was Mr. Zonen that was in there conducting that.

Mr. Sneddon was with me outside the room. I mean, we watched the videos together, but then when it came to questioning the kids, we both stepped out, and it was Mr. Zonen and Detective Zelis that handled that.

Q. Okay. Let me see if I can refresh your recollection in that regard.

May I approach.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: I’m showing you a transcript. And you’re welcome to look at the whole thing. The introduction and subsequent pages where there’s some references, does that refresh your recollection that --

A. Yes, it does.

Q. Okay. Was Mr. Sneddon there and did he actually participate in part of the interview.

A. Yes, he did.

Q. All right. Okay. So having said that, can you put on your chart -- let me take the book back.

Thank you.

Put on your chart a reference for this interview, which is January 19, 2004, or series of interviews.

A. Okay.

Q. All right. And then I’ll ask you to do one other thing. You remember the grand jury proceedings in this case; is that correct.

A. I do.

Q. Do you recall the approximate time of the grand jury proceedings.

A. March and April, I think, 2004.

Q. End of March, beginning of April.

A. Yeah, that sounds about right.

Q. Okay. Could you simply make a notation on your chart indicating “grand jury” and just that general time period there.

A. Okay.

Q. Having done all of that, does that fairly and accurately represent the testimony that you’ve given so far about these dates.

A. Yes, it does.

MR. SANGER: Your Honor, I’d move the admission and ask for permission to publish the exhibit.

THE COURT: It’s admitted. You may publish.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.

May I approach and retrieve it.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SNEDDON: Mr. Sanger. Thank you.

MR. SANGER: Yes.

Q. Okay. Can we go through, just really quickly with the pointer there, so you can tell us what you wrote.

A. Okay. On February the 7th, that’s when the family returned back from Miami.

March the 12th, that’s when the Arvizos left the ranch for good.

On June 13th, 2003, we received a call from Attorney Feldman. And then on June 13th, Dr. Katz was interviewed.

And July 7th was the first interview with the Arvizo children.

August 13th was a follow-up interview with the kids.

November 25th is when I met with Star and Gavin for the bucchal swabs.

And November 18th is when we served the search warrant at Neverland.

January 19th, 2004, that’s when the family was interviewed regarding the rebuttal tape.

And then end of March through April of 2004, the grand jury.

Q. Okay. Thank you.

Now, this means that you interviewed -- let me withdraw that.

Were there other times that the children were talked to by law enforcement officers during the period depicted on Exhibit 5035 that were not reduced to reports and were not tape-recorded.

A. There were various times that I would contact them to see how they were doing and things to that effect. But as far as interviews, no.

Q. And based on your training and experience, you would want to record the important and relevant materials, either by way of a written report, or a written report with an actual tape-recording.

A. That is correct.

Q. All right. So, before the search on November 18th -- I wonder if I could borrow -- it really belongs to the prosecution, so I should ask the prosecution if I can borrow their pointer. If I may address directly, Your Honor.

MR. SNEDDON: I don't have it.

MR. SANGER: It's up there.

MR. SNEDDON: Oh, of course.

(Laughter.)

MR. SNEDDON: You're a taxpayer. It belongs to the county.

MR. SANGER: There you go.

MR. SNEDDON: I think you pay your taxes.

MR. SANGER: Now I have to figure out how to use it.

Ahh, that's how you use it. Thank you.

Q. Okay. Now, if we look at -- we have July the 7th is the first set of interviews, right, that are on tape.

A. That's correct.

Q. And then August 13th, right.

A. Correct.

Q. Up to that point, you have not really gathered much in the way of physical evidence in this case; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. November 18th, you told us that you had conducted a search at Neverland Ranch, right.

A. That's correct.

Q. And that's where you had quite a number of officers and you were there all day, correct.

A. Right.

Q. And you've told us some of the things that your department retrieved as a result of this search, correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. There was certainly quite a number of other items that were retrieved, were seized, as a result of that search; is that right.

A. Correct.

Q. In addition to that, two other locations were searched on that same day, on November the 18th, correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. One of the locations was Hamid Moslehi’s house; is that right.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And the other location was the office of Brad Miller.

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. Now, with regard to all of these searches, you were responsible for the briefing of the officers before they went out to do the searches; is that right.

A. I was one of the personnel that was involved in that, yes.

Q. All right. And, of course, as the lead investigator, you knew that all this was going on, right.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. And after the searches were completed, you were eventually briefed on what was retrieved from the various searches; is that right.

THE COURT: Can we turn on the light again or -- are you through with that.

MR. SANGER: We could for a couple minutes. In fact, what I’ll try to do is see if I can avoid coming back to it before the next break.

Q. Okay. So just give us an idea of how much, quantity-wise, was seized from the Neverland Ranch search.

A. Are you taking about the various items, Mr. Sanger. I mean, quantity --

Q. There were --

A. There was -- there was a lot. I mean, there was hundreds, yes, of items that we took.

Q. And of the hundreds of items that you took, you were not able to evaluate all of them in the field; is that correct.

A. Evaluate them to -- their description. Or just to see what -- if they fall within, what, the search warrant.

Q. No. We're not talking about that.

A. Okay. I just -- I didn't understand.

Q. You seized things. That's a legal issue. That's fine. We're here -- I'm not worried about that.

Let's put it this way: When you seize certain items at any search, quite often you have to go back to the office, you have to look at them, evaluate them, try to figure out how they fit into the puzzle. Sometimes, if it's a tape, you got to watch it. If it's a computer, you have to download it and look at it, right.

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay. So the fact that you searched things on November 18th doesn't mean that you necessarily are going to know the contents and significance of everything that you seized as of the end of the day; is that right.

A. That's a true statement, yes.

Q. And with regard to Mr. Moslehi, he was -- his residence was in the Los Angeles area; is that correct.

A. Yeah, San Fernando Valley, I believe.

Q. And the material had been taken from there and brought up to Santa Barbara; is that correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. And then people had to look through it and try to figure out what it was, what it meant.

A. Correct.

Q. And among other things, there were a number of tapes, either videotapes or CDs or some medium, but there was a number of recorded items that were taken from Mr. Moslehi's house; is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you understood that he was a professional videographer; is that right.

A. Correct.
Q. Okay. And so consequently, he had a lot of videos, I suppose, right.
A. Right.
Q. And then Mr. Miller, Brad Miller, was a licensed private investigator; is that correct.
A. That is correct.
Q. Or I should say “is,” I suppose. But at the time he was as well, right.
A. Right.
Q. And in the -- as the lead investigator, you’re aware that what was seized from his office included some video and audio tapes; is that right.
A. That is correct.
Q. All right. So it took some time for the investigators in the case -- well, let me back up just a little bit and withdraw that.
When you do a search like this, you bring a lot of people in to assist who are not going to be permanently on the team investigating the case; is that right.

A. That is correct.
Q. So you may detail people from another division or another unit whose duties have nothing to do with this case or even a case like this; is that right.
A. That’s correct.
Q. And once they do their job, once they’ve completed the detail, they have finished doing the search, they bring the stuff back and book it into your sheriff’s evidence locker, they go on and do something else, right.
A. Correct.
Q. And they may not be involved in the case again unless they’re called in to testify as to what they did, right.
A. Right.
Q. Okay. So you have the scribes and the seizers, and they bring the evidence back, and then it may be that somebody totally different is going to be assigned to actually evaluate it and understand it and figure out how it fits into the case, right.

A. That is correct.

Q. All right.

So I was going to try to get to the break without asking the lights go off one more time, but let's do it, if we can, please.

Thank you, Your Honor.

So, up to this point, November 18th, you were not aware, as of that point, that there had been a tape-recording by Bradley Miller of this family; is that correct.

A. Only -- yeah, you are correct.

Q. And as of November 18th, you were not aware that there had actually been a film made of this family, which later became known as “the rebuttal film”; is that correct.

A. I believe that -- and I'm not -- because I haven't reviewed that statement, but I believe that Mrs. Arvizo was explaining to us in her interview that that had taken place.

Q. Well, we weren't talking about Mrs. Arvizo, because she hasn't testified yet.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object to that. He's asking what the officer was aware of. This isn't a segregation.

MR. SANGER: No, this --

MR. SNEDDON: I apologize.

I object. Assumes facts not in evidence, And it's argumentative.

MR. SANGER: I apologize, because I said something, but I will withdraw the question. How's that.

THE COURT: I'm looking for a break, but -- rephrase your question.

MR. SANGER: Yes, Your Honor.

Q. That's true, I am asking for your awareness, but I was trying to avoid -- I don’t want to get into hearsay that’s not admissible because we haven’t had the people testify yet, okay.

So it’s your belief that Janet Arvizo said something about doing a film.

A. That is correct.

Q. Before November 18th.

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay. None of the children mentioned doing the film before November 18th, though, correct.

A. To the best of my knowledge, that is correct.

Q. And after the search, the searches on November 18th, you eventually -- well, you got November 18th and November 25th all in kind of the same place.

But after the searches on November 18th, you became aware that there were actual copies of videos; is that correct.

A. There were videos that we had seized. Is that what you’re --

Q. Yes. But as of the 25th, you hadn’t actually watched the -- what turned out to be called “the rebuttal video”; is that correct.

A. I -- I can’t say for sure if I did or not, Mr. Sanger, because like I said, I had other guys assigned going through that, because I was doing other things at that point. But I was pulled in to watch different things at various times, but I can’t say for sure when I actually saw the rebuttal film.

Q. All right. But the first time you ever saw the rebuttal film was sometime after November 18th; is that correct.

A. That would be a correct statement, yes.

Q. And then January the 19th, 2004, was the date that you assembled the Arvizo children to watch the video; is that right.

A. That is correct.

Q. And they all watched it together, correct.

A. Yes.

Q. And then you conducted additional interviews of each of the children; is that right.

A. Correct.

THE COURT: All right. We'll take our break.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: All right. You may proceed.

MR. SANGER: Thank you, Your Honor.

Q. All right. We've established this timeline now -- is that on. Yes. We've established the timeline, and let's just start with Davellin. The first time that Davellin said anything to you about the rebuttal video was in the January 19th, 2004, interview, correct.

A. I believe that's correct, yes.

Q. Now, when you had these interviews, this was a pretty big event in the investigation, was it not, the interviews of January 19th.

A. A big event in what respect.

Q. Big event in the respect that you -- you, meaning you and Mr. Sneddon and Mr. Zonen and perhaps other law enforcement officers, had seen the rebuttal video, and you were calling the family in to ask them how they could do that video.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I object. Assumes facts not in evidence.

MR. SANGER: Well, it was compound probably. Let me break it down.

Q. You had seen the video by January 19th, correct.

A. That's correct.

Q. And to your knowledge, had Mr. Sneddon seen the video by January 19th.

A. I don't recall that.

Q. Before he commenced or before you all commenced the interviews with the kids on January 19th, Mr. Sneddon saw the video, correct.

A. I can't answer that. I'm not sure of that.

I know that I -- a portion of that video I did see, because one of my investigators showed it to me on the computer.

Q. All right.

A. I can’t answer for Mr. Sneddon. I believe that was the first time I saw it. I’m not positive, though.

Q. Okay. My question may not have been clear. What I was talking about is, at the very least, he showed the video before you started doing the interview with the kids, correct.

A. Yes, that’s correct.

Q. And when you showed the video to the kids, Mr. Sneddon watched it, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. Mr. Zonen watched it, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. You watched it.

A. Correct.

Q. And were there any other people there. Was Detective Zelis there.

A. Detective Zelis.

Q. He watched it.

A. That’s correct. And I think Lieutenant Klapakis watched it.

Q. All right. Now, the reason for the meeting, as it were, was to ask this family how they could do a rebuttal video like that if they maintained these allegations; is that correct.

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object to that question as argumentative. It’s just -- that’s like testifying.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. SANGER: Do you have the question in mind.

THE WITNESS: Why don’t you repeat your question.

THE COURT: I’ll have the court reporter do it.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: That is incorrect. It was to clarify regarding my previous interview with them, to clarify issues that they were saying on the tape.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: All right. As of the previous interviews, none of the Arvizo children had been asked about the rebuttal video, correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. And none of them had been asked about the Miller interview; is that correct.

A. I believe that’s correct.

Q. In fact, due to whatever factors, you were not able to actually listen to the Miller video until sometime in February, I believe, of 2004; is that correct.

MR. SNEDDON: I think counsel misspoke about a video.

MR. SANGER: What did I say. I said “listen to a video.” I meant “listen to an audiotape,” you’re correct.

May I rephrase.

THE COURT: Rephrase, yes.

MR. SANGER: Towards the end of the day. I didn’t have pizza, but I’m -- maybe because I didn’t, I’m fading here. Okay. Let’s try that again.

Q. The Miller tape, which now we’ve found is an audiotape; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. And that audiotape apparently was made about March the 16th, I believe, is that correct, of 2003.

A. That sounds about right.

Q. So that tape was not found at all by law enforcement before November 18, correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And in other words, when I say “found,” nobody gave you a copy. You didn’t have a copy of it, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And nobody told you about it before November 18th, did they.

A. Yeah. Meaning nobody told me about the interview or about the tape.

Q. That there was a tape-recorded interview with Brad Miller.

A. I cannot say for sure because I haven't gone over my report, my interview with Mrs. Arvizo. But I believe she mentioned something in her interview regarding that.

Q. Your belief right now as you're sitting there --

A. I believe so. I'm not positive, but I believe it was mentioned during that interview.

Q. We'll come back to that. As far as the kids are concerned, the kids never mentioned anything about being tape-recorded.

A. I don't believe they did.

Q. And they were never asked anything about being tape-recorded, were they.

A. That is correct.

Q. Does that help refresh your recollection that you didn't know about it.

A. Right. We didn't know, right.

Q. Now, that tape, that audiotape of Brad Miller doing the interview with the Arvizo family, was seized on November 18th from Brad Miller's office, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. Due to reasons beyond your control, you were not able to actually listen to that tape until sometime in February of 2004; is that correct.

A. I'm not sure of the date, but it was right around that -- it was 2004, somewhere in there.

Q. And it was after the January 19th interview.

A. I believe it was.

Q. All right. So when you interviewed Davellin on January 19th, 2004, you asked her why she said "father," and why they were talking about "father" and "father figure" and all that; is that correct.

A. Okay. You're getting into the interview portion of it, and I -- to the best of my recollection, I don’t recall me being the one that interviewed her regarding that video. That would have been Detective Zelis.

Q. You were in and out of the room.

A. Yes, I was.

Q. Okay. When you were in the room, you don’t recall ever talking about Dieter telling her she had to say that sort of thing.

A. Like I said, I’d have to go on ahead and -- if you have the transcripts to that, to let me recall my memory, that would be great.

Q. I do have the transcripts.

A. I cannot remember what portions that I was in, and a majority of those I was not in.

MR. SANGER: May I approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: The transcript of that particular interview is a few pages. I’ve given you the whole notebook.

A. This has the D.A. and then it has her. It doesn’t have us.

Q. If you -- I’m sorry. What I did - I was going to explain - I gave it to you open to the page that I had it open to.

A. Right.

Q. If you go back, you’ll see where it starts there. And you’re welcome to look at the whole thing.

Either you were there or you weren’t. If you weren’t there, that’s okay. You can just tell me, and we’ll --

A. I don’t recall being in -- sitting in on this particular interview, is what I’m saying. And even with the boys and so forth, because I was out doing other things. I watched the video that day. I did watch that.

Q. I’ll come get it in a second.

You’ve reviewed the transcript that I’ve showed you, of Davellin’s interview of January the 19th, 2004, and it doesn’t refresh your recollection as to anything that might have been said in your presence.

A. It doesn’t.

Q. Okay. All right.

May I approach.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SANGER: Thank you.

Q. As the lead investigator in this case, did you become aware after the January 19th interviews that essentially the three children had an explanation for how they could give that interview that was shown on the rebuttal and still maintain their allegations.

A. That is correct.

Q. And, in essence, they were claiming that Dieter told them to say much of what was said on that tape.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. Well, while we’re on Davellin -- and then we’ll go back to the others and see how far we get with them.

And, Your Honor, if you wanted to hit the lights --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SANGER: -- that would be fine.

Q. With regard to Davellin, you first interviewed her on July 7th, ‘03. We talked about that, right.

A. Correct.

Q. And that was the interview where she gave you a tremendous amount of detail about what happened to her brothers, allegedly, right.

A. “Detail” meaning -- regarding what.

Q. Well, we could go through it.

A. I have transcripts of her interview up here.

Q. All right. Davellin told you some things that she claimed to have observed herself, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And none of those things involved allegations of child molest; is that correct.

A. Right.

Q. That she observed herself.

A. I believe you’re correct, yes.

Q. However, she gave you details as to what allegedly happened to Gavin and allegedly what Star claimed to have seen; is that right.

A. I recall her giving me details regarding drinking alcohol, things to that effect, but not regarding the actual act of molestation, no.

Q. She told you -- well, let’s do it this way.

Your Honor, the bailiff indicated I was supposed to alert if we were going to get into sexually explicit --

THE COURT: No, just the photographs.

MR. SANGER: Just photographs, okay.

Q. She told you -- and I’m talking about July 7th, 2003. She told you that --

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor --

Go ahead. I’m sorry.

MR. SANGER: Let me start again.

Q. I’m talking about the July 7th, 2003, interview. She told you that Gavin and Star told her that Michael Jackson talked to them about masturbation. Is that correct.

A. Okay, that does -- yes.

Q. And she told you that the conversation involved the question of whether or not white stuff came out; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. She told you that Gavin and Star talked about other particular claims like the mannequin incident, right.

A. Correct.

Q. And there are a number of others; is that right. A number of other details.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. And she told you that the way she learned those details is that Gavin would tell her and Star would stand there and listen and agree with what Gavin was saying.

A. I don’t recall that.

Q. Okay. I’ll come back to that in one second.

She also told you that her mother had told her certain things about this; is that correct.

A. Just -- I don’t know what certain things you’re talking about, Mr. Sanger.

Q. Well, for instance, that the mother had told her the story about the urine bottle --

A. Okay. Yes.

Q. -- is that right.

Now, on the other one there, I’m going to refer you to page 24.

A. Okay. I’m there.

Q. Would it refresh your recollection as to what you were told at that time.

A. Do you mean the whole page, is what you’re asking, or --

Q. I’m sorry. If you start at about line 13, or line 11.

A. Yes, it does.

Q. And, in fact, Davellin told you that Gavin and Star told her the stories, correct.

A. Yes. That’s correct.

Q. And that she said, “Yeah, it’s like one tells me and the other one agrees to it.” Is that a quote as to what she said to you at that time.

A. I -- it’s in the transcripts. I don’t recall her saying that, but it’s there, so it must be correct.

Q. Well, I don’t want you to agree with something reluctantly.

A. I mean, I don’t recall her saying that.

Q. Would it help you to listen to the tape to refresh your recollection.

A. That probably would.

Q. All right. Would you be able to do that at the break this evening and come back tomorrow. I don’t want to do it here in court, if we can avoid it.

A. Sure.

Q. Okay. You have a copy of the tape you can listen to.

A. I think I can get a copy of that, sure.

Q. All right. Do you recall her saying -- let me withdraw that. Do you recall Detective Zelis asking her, “So they” -- “So are they together” -- I’m sorry. Let me try it again.

“So are they together when they tell you this.”

And Davellin saying, “Yeah, most of the time.”

Detective Zelis: “Most of the time. Okay.”

Do you recall that, or do you need to listen to the tape to refresh --

A. Well, the interview was quite a while ago, so, I mean, I need to listen to that as well.

Q. This was a transcript that was actually prepared by a certified court reporter --

A. Uh-huh.

Q. -- is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And it was prepared at the request of the sheriff’s department, or the D.A.; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. All right. So you don’t have any reason to believe that the transcript is inaccurate. You just want to be careful and --

A. Correct. That is correct.

Q. All right. Now, do you recall Davellin telling you on -- during this interview of July the 7th, that Gavin was a loving little boy, and that he started acting out after these events.

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Do you recall the next interview on August 13, 2003, where she said Gavin was becoming violent and argumentative as a result of these events.

A. That is correct.

Q. All right. Now, there was an interview --

let me just be sure I’ve got the right one here.

Excuse me.

Did you interview Davellin on November the 25th.

A. No. I believe, to the best of my recollection, it was only the boys.

Q. Only the boys. Okay.

At some point, did Davellin tell you in one of the interviews that she was always by herself at the ranch and she was not allowed to be with her mom.

A. I’d have to review that.

Q. All right. I’ll ask you if you could do that. And I’ll find you the page number for that --

A. Okay.

Q. -- before we leave today.

All right. Let’s take a look at -- at Gavin Arvizo’s. Now, Gavin Arvizo, on August 13, 2003 -- let me withdraw that, before we get to this.

This pertains to the story or the claims about masturbation. You were sitting here when Gavin Arvizo testified on the stand during this trial, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And he said that Michael Jackson told him, “If men don’t masturbate, they get to a level where they can -- might rape a girl.” Do you remember that.

A. I do.

Q. Okay. That was the first time you ever heard Gavin Arvizo attribute that statement to Michael Jackson, was it not, sir.

A. I believe so.

Q. And, in fact, Gavin Arvizo told you on August 13, 2003, that it was his grandmother who told him, “If men don’t do it, men might get to a point where they might go ahead and rape a woman.” Is that correct.

Page 28, if you want to take a look at it.

A. I’d like to do that.

Q. August 13th.

A. Is that 28 you said.
Q. Yes. 28, line 4, starts, “My grandma explained it to me.”
A. Yes.
Q. And you remember him saying that because, in fact, you testified before the grand jury on April 14th that -- of 2004, that Gavin, in fact, told you that his grandmother said that; is that correct, sir.

A. That’s correct.
Q. And, in fact, in the August 13, 2003, interview, Gavin said, “My grandma explained it to me. She told me that -- that you’re -- the only reason -- because like if -- if men don’t do it, men might get to a point where they might go ahead and rape a woman. So instead of having to do that, so they don’t -- so they don’t get wanting to go do that.” Did he say that.
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Now, do you have a recollection of Gavin’s interview of January -- January 19th of 2004.
A. That’s going to fall under the same category as Davellin.
Q. Okay. As far as you know, though, from your investigation, that was the first time -- the January 19, 2004, interview was the first time that the kids were confronted with the rebuttal video and asked to explain why they said what they said.
A. That’s correct.
Q. Did you become aware that Gavin Arvizo in that January 19, 2004 interview said that 99.9 percent of the things on the rebuttal tape were not true.

A. I don’t recall that, but I’d have to review that as well.
Q. And were you in general - and I’ll get off it here - were you, in general, aware that he had said that Dieter told them to say what they said.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I should have objected earlier. I object to the fact that this officer is not established as even in the room when those statements were made. Lack of foundation.

THE COURT: Well, I’ll sustain the objection. More importantly, the question, “in general,” calls for a conclusion on his part.

MR. SANGER: All right.

Q. Well, I’ll just ask you to review that tape as well, or the transcript again, to see if it refreshes your recollection if you were there. If you were, that’s fine. And if you weren’t, that’s okay, too.

Were there inconsistencies -- besides the one we just talked about, were there inconsistencies --

MR. SNEDDON: I’m going to object to that kind of talk from counsel. It’s a conclusion on his part.

MR. SANGER: “That kind of talk”.

I object to the objection as not being proper. Let me withdraw it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: There’s no question there, so go ahead and make a -- do a question.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: You talked about the inconsistency between the statement about masturbation on the stand versus prior statements.

And other than that, were there other inconsistencies in Gavin Arvizo’s statements that he gave over the period of time.

A. Can you direct me to what --

Q. Did you notice that there were any.

A. Both times regarding --

Q. Regarding anything. Other inconsistencies.

You can say “yes” or “no.”

A. I don’t believe so.

Q. All right. On July 7, 2003, Gavin said that he called Michael Jackson at the Universal Hilton, correct.

A. That’s correct.

Q. And in August, he said Michael Jackson called him to invite him over, is that right. Page 18 of the August 13 interview.

A. Yes, down here, that he “thinks he called me.” It’s not a definite, but he says, “I think he called me.” I see that.

Q. It goes on, does it not. He says -- on page 18, when he’s asked why did he meet with Michael at the Hilton, he says, “I just wanted -- because he wanted me to come.”

He says, “Did he call you or did you call him.”

He says, “I think he called me. And then we were talking, and he told me that he was at the Hilton, at the Universal Hilton, and we started talking about me visiting, so I just came to visit.”

A. I see that.

Q. Now --

MR. SNEDDON: Excuse me, Counsel. Will you read the rest of the statement.

MR. SANGER: I can read whatever you want. Let me see here.

MR. SNEDDON: Well, the last four lines of the statement I think --

MR. SANGER: Well, then there’s a question. Or do you want the next -- I don’t have to do this, but I will. All right.

There’s a question: “Did he say, ‘Hey, why don’t you come over and visit’. Is that what he asked.”

Answer: “I don’t remember how it happened. But I remember I came over.”

Okay. The point of this is that Gavin’s current statements in court and his statement on the 7th of July, 2003, were to the effect that he had found out that Michael was at the Hilton and he called him, and Michael Jackson picked up, and that’s how he got ahold of him; isn’t that right.

A. According to his statement, that’s a correct statement.

Q. All right. Now, let’s talk about something a little more substantive here. On January -- I’m sorry. On July 7th, 2003, Gavin said that he was masturbated by Michael Jackson five times or so, did he not.

A. Yes, he did.

Q. And then on 8-13-03, he said he was masturbated five times and he ejaculated all five times, right.

A. Correct.

Q. Now, we’ll hold on to that. And let’s go to another issue.

As far as the timing of the incidents was concerned, you already answered some questions on direct on this. On -- I keep doing that. On July 7th, 2003, Gavin Arvizo said that the masturbation incidents occurred on “one of the last days that I was staying at Neverland.” Correct.

A. I recall it as being towards his last days of staying at Neverland.

Q. Okay.

A. So it was towards -- towards before he left for good, yes. That’s the way I understand it.

Q. All right. If you look at page 30, the question is, “He said one of the last days, like towards the last days I was staying at Neverland”; is that a fair statement.

A. You’re talking about August, correct. The August interview.

Q. No, this is July.

A. Oh.

Q. The first interview.

July 7th, 2003. Page 30.

A. I have it.

Q. Lines 20 and 21.

A. I just read it.

Q. Mr. Sneddon just indicated somebody was confused. I don’t know who he was referring to here, so we’re okay. He said, “In fact, one of the last days, like towards the last days when I was staying at Neverland"; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. Your investigation eventually disclosed that during the last days they stayed at Neverland, there wouldn't have been five occasions when molest could have occurred; is that correct.

A. Can you repeat that.

MR. SANGER: No.

THE COURT: Would you like that read back.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: No. That's not correct.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: All right. Now, in August of -- in the August interview, Gavin told you, on pages 38 to 41 --

A. Okay. I'm there.

Q. He starts out talking about the DCFS interview, correct. And --

A. Just a second. What line are you.

Q. Well, I'm just -- hang on one second. I'm not asking for a quote here. I'm just trying to put it in context.

On page 38, they're talking about the DCFS interview. Put it in context. You're welcome to read the whole thing, too. Whatever you want so you feel comfortable with it.

A. Okay.

Q. And if you read that whole segment, it appears that he is saying that the molest occurred before, started before the DCFS interview.

A. That's not the way I understand that.

Q. Well, because he is saying, is he not, that the purpose of the interview is to -- let me withdraw it.

Let's put it this way: That's not your impression.

A. That's not my impression.

Q. Okay. All right. Let's come back to that.

Now, if you go to the 11-25-03 interview, look at page two and three, he says that the acts that Michael engaged in, Michael Jackson engaged in, occurred both before and after the DCFS interview, right.

A. Well, he initially states that they occurred after the DCFS interview. And then he thought further, and he said some of the acts, that he believes they occurred before and after.

Q. Right. And the investigator asked, “It was both. Are you pretty sure.”

Answer: “Yeah.”

A. Okay.

Q. And then it goes on, “Because I think you said it happened about five times, and what you’re saying is that you’re thinking it happened before and after that.”

Answer: “Yeah.”

“Both times.

“Yeah.

“Okay. Okay. That’s all I need to know.”

Right.

A. Right.

Q. And that pretty much ended the interview. The investigator -- was that you asking those questions.

A. That was me. Yes.

Q. Okay. That was what you were trying to discern in this tape-recorded interview, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. Now, in January -- on January 19, ‘04 - again, you don’t remember the exact interview. And you’re going to review that and see if you recall more of it later - but did you become aware, as the lead investigator in this case, that Gavin Arvizo then told you he wasn’t sure when these events occurred, and that you guys would probably know the dates.

A. I would have to read -- was that said during that interview.

Q. Yes.

A. Okay. I don’t recall that. I’d have to review that as well.

Q. Were you advised that was now an issue.

A. No.

Q. Okay. And you’re aware of his grand jury testimony; is that correct.

A. Portions of it, yes.

Q. And in the grand jury he went back to saying it was after the Calabasas trip from March 2 through March 12th; is that correct.

A. I believe that is correct.

Q. And you determined, did you not, that Michael Jackson was not at the ranch during that entire period of time, did you not.

A. Which period of time are you talking.

Q. From March 2 through March 12th.

A. Yes.

Wait. Wait. I’m sorry. That he was not there or that he was there.

Q. Was he there the entire time, every day. Did you determine whether he was or he wasn’t.

A. Not -- from March 2nd through the 12th.

Q. Yes.

A. There were some -- a couple of days, two or three days, that he was not there.

Q. All right. There were two, three days that you were able to establish he was somewhere else.

A. Showing that he was off the ranch.

Q. Right. Now, let’s take Star -- again, Star did not mention the rebuttal video or the interview by Bradley Miller before the search; is that correct.

A. I don’t believe he did. That is correct.

Q. Star was more detailed in his description of things than Gavin was; is that correct.

A. There were two different acts. I -- he saw things going on and Gavin was actually having it happen to him. So, I mean, I thought that they both described them very clearly.

Q. Okay. Well, there was -- there were conflicts in what they described. For instance, Gavin described his brother as wearing boxers, whereas his brother described that he was wearing pajamas, right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object. It’s vague in terms of what incidents he’s talking about.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SANGER: All right.

Q. Well, when you interviewed -- I’m sorry. When you interviewed Star, he had already been interviewed by Stan Katz; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. And you said, in essence, what Stan Katz had said all of the kids had said to him; is that right.

A. Correct.

Q. When Star described -- on July 7th, Star described walking up the stairs and he described his brother having pajamas on; is that correct.

A. I believe you’re right.

Q. But then he said that he saw that Mr. Jackson had his hand in Gavin’s underwear; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. And you were aware that he had told Stan Katz that the incident occurred while Gavin was wearing boxers.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I’m going to object again with regard to the fact that there are two incidents described by this witness.

MR. SANGER: And I object to a speaking objection, because --

THE COURT: Sustained, both of you.

MR. SANGER: It’s a fair trade-off. Okay.

Q. In Mr. Katz’, or Dr. Katz’s interview, there was reference to a first incident and a second incident, correct.

A. I don’t have -- I don’t believe I have Dr.

Katz' interview with me here.

MR. SNEDDON: I'm going to object. I object.

MR. SANGER: We'll go back to it. We'll just stick with what you have.

Q. So on the first interview -- I mean, on the first incident, the first incident on July 7th, there's discussion of sleeping -- Gavin sleeping in pajamas, but then Michael Jackson reaching into Gavin's underwear, right.

A. Correct.

Q. On August 13, Star says Michael Jackson put his hand into Gavin's boxers; is that correct.

A. I believe that's correct.

Q. And on November 25th, 2003, Gavin said -- I mean, Star said that Gavin was wearing underwear, specifically because Michael Jackson told him to sleep in his underwear, right.

A. I'm looking over it. You're talking about the interview on the 25th, correct.

Q. On November the 25th.

A. With Star.

Q. Yes.

A. Okay.

Q. And he said -- he said that; is that right.

A. Correct.

Q. And then he said that Michael Jackson had his hand in Gavin's underwear, correct.

A. Correct.

Q. And he also said that this incident occurred five days or a week after February 20th; is that right.

A. Are we on the same interview.

Q. Yes.

A. That is correct.

Q. And that this was -- no incident of masturbation occurred before this.

A. Before the --

Q. Before this one that he just described as being five days to a week after February 20.

A. Right.

Q. Okay. Now, in the Stan Katz interview with Paul Zelis, what Paul Zelis told you about his interview with Stan Katz, there was no mention of a second incident of masturbation.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object. It's double -- triple hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. SANGER: Okay.

Q. And on July 7th, Star told you that there was a second incident of masturbation; is that correct.

A. That is correct.

Q. Now, on the 13th, it wasn't clear from the interview as to what incident he was talking about, it wasn't clearly delineated between two incidents; is that right.

MR. SNEDDON: Your Honor, I'm going to object to that, too. That's a statement of counsel testifying.

MR. SANGER: I'm asking the witness who conducted the interview

THE WITNESS: If it was --

THE COURT: Just a moment. I'll overrule the objection. Do you want the question read back.

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

(Record read.)

THE WITNESS: To the best of my knowledge, during that interview, he was -- as I understood it, he was very clear on both incidences that he saw.

Q. BY MR. SANGER: Well, he said that Gavin was wearing boxers during an incident which may or may not be the first or the second incident or both.

A. Okay. So you're --

Q. I'm asking you. Did he say he was wearing boxers. Did he tell you box -- Gavin was wearing anything other than boxers when he described the incidents on August 13th.

A. I believe he said pajamas.

Q. Okay. The second incident he said pajamas.

A. I'm going to look at that.

Q. All right.

A. What page are you on. That's July 7th.

Q. No, this is August 13.

A. What page are you on.

Q. I'm trying to find it for you here.

Your recollection -- what we're looking for -- your recollection is that he talked about wearing pajamas on August 13th for the second incident.

A. Well, I need to look at it.

Q. Okay. I'm looking at page 17.

A. Okay.

Q. It says "boxers," right.

A. Yes, down at the bottom, it does. "His brother's boxers." Are you talking about line 23.

Q. Right. So once again, with Star, you'd have to review the January 19th tape and/or transcript to tell me whether or not you recall what he said specifically about the video.

A. That is correct.

Q. But you do know from your investigation that essentially he said Dieter made them memorize lines and say things like "father" and "humble" and so on; is that correct.

A. To the best of my recollection, yes.

Q. Okay. Just as a follow-up on something here. I had asked you about Mr. Sneddon going down to Los Angeles and interviewing Janet Arvizo, I believe, okay. Your answer was you don't recall that happening or you don't recall when it happened.

A. No, I did recall him going down there. And I don't recall the date that that occurred. And it wasn't for an interview. It was for forms to be signed.

Q. All right. It was sometime before -- before the 18th.

Okay. Now, you've been -- I think you told us you've been a sheriff for a long time, 20-some years, right.

A. Yes. Approximately 22.
Q. And you were not personally -- or were you personally involved in investigating Mr. Jackson anytime prior to the time that you -- you commenced your investigation in -- whenever you told us, June 20 or so.
A. No, that was the first time.
Q. All right. So June 20, you had information that had been obtained from Dr. Katz, and July 7th, you proceed to interview the kids, right.
A. That is correct.
Q. And on that date, you indicated that, “We’re going to try our best to make this case work”; is that correct.
A. Let me refer to that.
Q. You can look at -- it’s in Davellin’s 2238 interview, page 33.
A. Okay. I’m on page 33.
There was quite a bit more where that -- in addition to what I said in regards to that.
Q. Well, we can read the whole thing.
A. Okay. I already read the whole thing.
Q. All right. So you said to Davellin at the -- towards the end of her interview, “Okay. Okay. One thing I wanted to say and emphasize to you is that you guys are doing the right thing here. You know what, I know it’s scary, and I realize -- really realize that you guys are going through a lot and you’ve been through a lot as a family. They’re the ones that have done wrong, not you. And trust me in this, and trust Detective Zelis, we’re law enforcement. We’re going to try our best to make this case work. I can’t guarantee it, where it’s going to go from here, but that’s why we’re interviewing everybody involved. I don’t care how much money they have” - do you want me to keep going. - “who he is, what -- but he’s done wrong. You guys are the victims. Your family is. He is wrong in what he’s done. We’re going to try our best. Can’t guarantee it. We’re going to try our best to bring him to justice.” Did you say that.

A. I definitely said that.

Q. Okay. So that’s not the statement of somebody who has an open mind who’s looking to see whether or not these people are telling the truth, is it.

A. That statement, Mr. Sanger, is what -- through my courses that I’ve had -- and you have victims that are terrified in coming forward to law enforcement. That is to reassure them that they are not the suspects or they are the victims in the case.

And I was reassuring them through that and letting them know that they are doing the right thing, because they were terrified when they came forward. And it took us about two weeks to get them to come forward and up here to be interviewed.

Q. Okay. Now, when you say that the technique that you’re taught is to reassure people that if they’re telling the truth and coming forward and being honest that they have nothing to fear, right. It’s not to tell them that they’re right and somebody else is wrong and you’re going to get them. That’s your -- that’s your version of the speech, isn’t it.

A. That -- my version of the speech is what I just explained.

Q. It is.

A. And they were concerned about coming forward to law enforcement, and they were concerned about whether they were going to make the case or not. And I told them we would try our best.

Q. And from the beginning, you have made a concerted effort to make this case work, have you not.

A. Yep. I did.

Q. All right.

Now, we have three minutes. But Detective Robel does need to look at the materials. And I don’t -- I could ask three minutes of silly questions, but I’ll spare you that, Your Honor. I don’t have another question for him until he does that.

THE COURT: You’re threatening me with silly questions.

MR. SANGER: Yes.

THE COURT: All right. I don’t think you’re bluffing, so we’ll call it.

(Laughter.)

(The proceedings adjourned at 2:30 p.m.)

--o0o--

REPORTER’S CERTIFICATE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

I, MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304, Official Court Reporter, do hereby certify:

That the foregoing pages 2087 through 2241 contain a true and correct transcript of the proceedings had in the within and above-entitled matter as by me taken down in shorthand writing at said proceedings on March 15, 2005, and thereafter reduced to typewriting by computer-aided transcription under my direction.

DATED: Santa Maria, California, March 15, 2005.

MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA
SANTA MARIA BRANCH; COOK STREET DIVISION
DEPARTMENT SM-2 HON. RODNEY S. MELVILLE, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF)
CALIFORNIA,)
Plaintiff,)
-vs-) No. 1133603
MICHAEL JOE JACKSON,)
Defendant.)

REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 2005

8:30 A.M.

(PAGES 2243 THROUGH 2301)

REPORTED MICHELE MATTSON McNEIL, RPR, CRR, CSR #3304
BY: Official Court Reporter

APPEARANCES OF COUNSEL:

For Plaintiff: THOMAS W. SNEDDON, JR.,
District Attorney -and-
RONALD J. ZONEN, Sr. Deputy District Attorney
-and- GORDON AUCHINCLOSS,
Sr. Deputy District Attorney 1112 Santa Barbara Street
Santa Barbara, California 93101

For Defendant: COLLINS, MESEREAU, REDDOCK & YU BY: THOMAS A. MESEREAU, JR., ESQ.
-and- SUSAN C. YU, ESQ.
1875 Century Park East, Suite 700 Los Angeles, California 90067
-and-
SANGER & SWYSEN
BY: ROBERT M. SANGER, ESQ. 233 East Carrillo Street, Suite C
Santa Barbara, California 93101
-and-
OXMAN and JAROSCAK BY: R. BRIAN OXMAN, ESQ.
14126 East Rosecrans Boulevard Santa Fe Springs, California 90670

I N D E X

Note: Mr. Sneddon is listed as “SN” on index.
Mr. Zonen is listed as “Z” on index. Mr. Auchincloss is listed as “A” on index.
Mr. Mesereau is listed as “M” on index. Ms. Yu is listed as “Y” on index.
Mr. Sanger is listed as “SA” on index. Mr. Oxman is listed as “O” on index.

PLAINTIFF’S WITNESSES	DIRECT	CROSS	REDIRECT	RECROSS
ROBEL, Steve	2247-SA	2261-SN	2272-SA (cont’d)
ZELIS, Paul	2286-SN

E X H I B I T S

PLAINTIFF'S NO.	DESCRIPTION	FOR I.D.	IN EVID.
77	Photo of main house - interior view	2297
83	Photo of main house - closeup of magazine	2293	2293
85	Photo of main house - closeup of black briefcase	2290	2290
285	Photograph of items in drawer of nightstand	2294	2294
470	Black suitcase	2288	2290
561	Brown bag containing books	2299
DEFENDANT'S NO.
5036	Timeline from February 1 to March 13	2252

Santa Maria, California
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

8:30 a.m.

THE COURT: Good morning.

COUNSEL AT COUNSEL TABLE: (In unison) Good morning, Your Honor.

THE JURY: (In unison) Good morning.

THE COURT: You may proceed.

MR. SANGER: May I proceed, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. SANGER: Okay. Thank you. I couldn’t hear you. I assume your microphone’s on.

THE COURT: I just turned it on. Can you hear me okay.

MR. SANGER: Yes. Thank you.

